31-1-104. Interest defined. Interest is the compensation allowed by law or fixed by the parties for the use or forbearance or detention of money and includes loan origination fees, points, and prepaid finance charges, as defined in 12 CFR 226.2.

31-1-105. Annual rate. When a rate of interest is prescribed by a law or contract without specifying the period of time by which such rate is to be calculated, it is to be deemed an annual rate.

History: En. Sec. 2584, Civ. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 5210, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 7724, R.C.M. 1921; Cal. Civ. C. Sec. 1916; Field Civ. C. Sec. 970; re-en. Sec. 7724, R.C.M. 1935; R.C.M. 1947, 47-123.

31-1-106. Legal interest. (1) Except as otherwise provided by the Uniform Commercial Code, 31-1-111, and 31-1-112, unless there is an express contract in writing fixing a different rate or a law or ordinance or resolution of a public body fixing a different rate on its obligations, interest is payable on all money at the rate of 10% a year after it becomes due on:

(a) any instrument of writing, except a judgment;

(b) an account stated;

(c) money lent or due on any settlement of accounts from the date on which the balance is ascertained; and

(d) money received for the use of another person and detained from that person.

(2) In the computation of interest for a period of less than 1 year, 365 days constitute a year.

(2) An issuer of a credit card or similar loan advance access device that does not receive a parent's or legal guardian's consent, as required in subsection (1), before issuing the credit card or similar loan advance access device to a minor may not collect in this state from the minor or the minor's parent or guardian any debt incurred by the minor through the use of the credit card or similar loan advance access device.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 21, L. 1997.

31-1-116. Commercial loans — when written agreement required. (1) With respect to a commercial loan, a contract action or a breach of contract action may not be brought against a regulated lender on a promise or commitment that is not in writing where the promise or commitment is to:

(a) lend money or to extend credit;

(b) alter, amend, renew, extend, or otherwise modify an existing promise, commitment, or agreement to lend money or extend credit; or

(c) make a financial accommodation.

(2) For the purposes of this section, "commercial loan" means money loaned or credit extended primarily for commercial or business purposes, in excess of $100,000, and does not include money lent or credit extended for personal, family, or household purposes and also does not include charge or credit card accounts, personal lines of credit, personal overdraft accounts, or other consumer accounts.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 282, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 74-601.

31-1-202. Definitions — scope. (1) Unless the context requires otherwise, in this part, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Cash sale price" means the price stated in a retail installment contract or in a sales slip or other memorandum furnished by a retail seller to a retail buyer under or in connection with a retail charge account agreement for which the seller would have sold or furnished to the buyer and the buyer would have bought or obtained from the seller the goods or services that are the subject matter of the retail installment transaction, if the sale had been a sale for cash. The cash sale price may include any taxes, registration, certificate of title, license, and official fees and cash sale prices for services, if any, and for accessories and their installation and for delivering, servicing, repairing, or improving the goods.

(b) "Conspicuous" means that:

(i) a heading is in capital letters equal to or greater in size than the surrounding text or in contrasting type, font, or color than the surrounding text of the same or lesser size; or

(ii) language in the body of a record or display is in larger type than the surrounding text, is in contrasting type, font, or color than the surrounding text of the same size, or is set off from the surrounding text of the same size by symbols or other marks that call attention to the language.

(c) "Department" means the department of administration provided for in Title 2, chapter 15, part 10.

(d) "Finance charge" means the amount, as limited by 31-1-241, in addition to the principal balance, agreed upon between the buyer and the seller, to be paid by the buyer for the privilege of purchasing goods or services to be paid for by the buyer in one or more deferred installments.

(e) "Goods" means all chattels personal, including motor vehicles and merchandise certificates or coupons exchangeable for chattels personal but not including money, things in action, or dwellings as defined in 15 U.S.C. 1602(w).

(f) "Holder" means:

(i) the retail seller of the goods or services under the retail installment contract or retail charge account agreement or a person who establishes and administers retail charge account agreements with retail buyers;

(ii) the assignee, if the retail installment contract or the retail charge account agreement or the balance in the account under either has been sold or otherwise transferred; or

(iii) any other person entitled to the rights of the retail seller under any retail installment contract or any retail charge account agreement.

(g) "Manufactured structure" means any structure, transportable in one or more sections, designed to be used as a single-family dwelling or commercial building with or without a permanent foundation when connected to the required utilities and includes the plumbing, heating, air-conditioning, and electrical systems contained in the structure.

(h) (i) "Motor vehicle" means any new or used automobile, motorcycle, quadricycle, truck, trailer, semitrailer, truck tractor, and all vehicles with any power, other than muscular power, primarily designed or used to transport persons or property on a public highway.

(ii) The term does not include any vehicle that runs only on rails or tracks or in the air.

(iii) The term does not include a dwelling as defined in 15 U.S.C. 1602(w).

(i) "Official fees" means:

(i) the fees prescribed by law for filing, recording, or otherwise perfecting and releasing or satisfying any title or lien retained or taken by a seller in connection with a retail installment transaction; or

(ii) the premium for insurance in lieu of filing, recording, or otherwise perfecting any title or lien retained or taken by a seller in connection with a retail installment transaction to the extent that the premium does not exceed the fees that would otherwise be payable for filing, recording, or otherwise perfecting and releasing or satisfying any title or lien retained or taken by a seller in connection with a retail installment transaction.

(j) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, and any other group, however organized.

(k) "Principal balance" means the cash sale price of the goods or services that are the subject matter of a retail installment transaction plus the amounts, if any, included in the sale, if a separate identified charge is made and stated in the contract, for insurance and other benefits and official fees, minus the amount of the buyer's downpayment in money or goods.

(l) "Recreational vehicle" means a vehicular type unit that either has its own motor power or is mounted on or drawn by another vehicle and that is primarily designed as temporary living quarters for recreational, camping, or travel use.

(m) "Retail buyer" or "buyer" means a person who buys goods or obtains services from a retail seller in a retail installment transaction and not for the purpose of resale.

(n) "Retail charge account agreement" means an instrument in writing prescribing the terms of retail installment transactions that may be made under it from time to time under which a retail seller gives to a retail buyer the privilege of using a credit card issued by the retail seller or any other person or other credit confirmation or identification for the purpose of purchasing goods or services from the retail seller, from the retail seller and any other person, or from a person licensed or franchised by the retail seller and under the terms of which a finance charge may be computed in relation to the buyer's average daily balance in the account during the billing cycle or the buyer's balance from time to time.

(o) "Retail installment contract" or "contract" means an agreement evidencing a retail installment transaction entered into in this state under which a buyer promises to pay in one or more deferred installments the time sale price of goods or services, or both. The term includes a chattel mortgage, a conditional sales contract, and a contract for the bailment or leasing of goods by which the bailee or lessee contracts to pay as compensation for its use a sum substantially equivalent to or in excess of its value and by which it is agreed that the bailee or lessee is bound to become, or for no further or a merely nominal consideration has the option of becoming, the owner of the goods upon full compliance with the provisions of the contract.

(p) "Retail installment transaction" means a written contract to sell or furnish, or the sale or furnishing of, goods or services by a retail seller to a retail buyer pursuant to a retail charge account agreement or under a retail installment contract.

(q) "Retail seller" or "seller" means a person who sells goods or furnishes services to a retail buyer in a written retail installment contract or written retail installment transaction.

(r) (i) "Sales finance company" means a person engaged, in whole or in part, in the business of purchasing retail installment contracts from one or more sellers. The term includes but is not limited to a bank, trust company, investment company, credit union, or savings and loan association, if engaged in purchasing retail installment contracts.

(ii) The term does not include a person who makes only isolated purchases of retail installment contracts that are not being made in the course of repeated and successive purchases of retail installment contracts from the same seller.

(s) "Services" means work, labor, and services furnished in the delivery, installation, servicing, repair, or improvement of goods.

(t) "Time sale price" means the total of the cash sale price of the goods or services and the amount, if any, included for insurance and other benefits, if a separate identified charge is made for insurance and benefits, and the amounts of the official fees and the finance charge.

(2) (a) This part does not apply to the lending of money by banks or other lending institutions and securing loans by chattel mortgages of goods in the ordinary course of lending by those banks or other lending institutions.

(b) This part applies to the extension of credit by those banks or other lending institutions under retail installment contracts or credit cards issued by those banks or other lending institutions.

(c) This part does not apply to a transaction governed by Title 32, chapter 9, part 1.

31-1-203. Notice and opportunity for hearing — service — penalties — exception. (1) The department shall provide a 14-day written notice of alleged violations of this part and opportunity for an administrative hearing under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act. The notice must be based on reasonable cause to believe that a licensee or any person, whether licensed or not, has:

(a) violated any of the provisions of this part;

(b) failed to comply with the rules or orders promulgated by the department;

(c) furnished false information to the department; or

(d) operated without a required license.

(2) The department may impose a civil penalty not to exceed $1,000 for each violation and may require restitution to buyers and reimbursement of the department's costs in bringing an administrative action.

license that any officer, director, or trustee of a licensed association or corporation, any member or manager of a licensed limited liability company, or any partner of a licensed partnership has acted or failed to act so as to provide cause for suspending, revoking, or conditioning a license. Each licensee is responsible for the acts of the licensee's employees and agents acting within the course and scope of their employment or agency relationship with the licensee.

(4) In addition to other penalties provided by law, any person violating 31-1-231 through 31-1-243, except as the result of an isolated accidental and bona fide error of computation, is barred from recovery of any finance, delinquency, or collection charge on the contract. A person violating 31-1-231 through 31-1-243 as a result of an isolated accidental and bona fide error of computation may not recover or retain any overcharge resulting from the error.

(5) In addition to other penalties provided by law, a violation of this part and a contract made in violation of the finance charge limitations imposed by 31-1-241 is a violation of Title 30, chapter 14, part 1.

(6) All notices, hearing schedules, and orders must be mailed by certified mail to the licensee's Montana address of record with the department or in the case of an unlicensed person to the last address known to the department. For licensees authorized to do business in this state and having no physical business location or address in this state, service of process must be made by certified mail upon the licensee's registered agent of record with the secretary of state, and subsequent hearing schedules and orders must be mailed by certified mail to the licensee's out-of-state address of record with the department.

(2) The department may issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents, papers, books, records, and other evidence before it in any matter over which it has jurisdiction, control, or supervision pertaining to this part. The department may administer oaths and affirmations to a person whose testimony is required.

(3) If a person refuses to obey a subpoena or to give testimony or produce evidence as required by it, a judge of the district court of the county in which the licensed premises are located may, upon application and proof of the refusal, issue a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum for the witness to appear before the department to give testimony and produce evidence as may be required. The clerk of court shall then issue the subpoena, as directed, under the seal of the court, requiring the person to whom it is directed to appear at the time and place designated in it.

(4) If a person served with a subpoena refuses to obey it or to give testimony or produce evidence as required by the subpoena, the department may apply to the judge of the court issuing the subpoena for an arrest warrant for that person, as for a contempt. The judge, upon satisfactory proof of the refusal, shall issue an arrest warrant, directed to any sheriff, constable, or police officer, for the arrest of that person and, upon that person being brought before the judge, proceed to a hearing of the case. The judge may compel:

(a) obedience to the subpoena;
(b) the answering of any question;
(c) the production of any evidence that may be proper; or
(d) the witness to pay the costs of the proceeding.

(5) Failure to comply with the requirements of subsection (4)(a), (4)(b), or (4)(c) is punishable by a fine not exceeding $100 or by imprisonment in the county jail, or both.

(1) A person may not engage in the business of a sales finance company, including the purchase of retail installment contracts that are entered into in this state, without a license as provided in this part, except that a bank, trust company, savings and loan association, or credit union authorized to do business in this state is not required to obtain a license under this part but shall comply with all of the other provisions of this part.

(2) The application for a license must be in writing in the form and submitted in the manner that the department may direct.

(3) The license fee for each calendar year or part of a year is $100 for the applicant's principal place of business and for each additional branch location at which the applicant engages in sales finance company activities concerning retail installment contracts between retail sellers and buyers in this state. A licensee need not maintain a physical place of business within this state.

(4) Except as provided in 31-1-222, upon the submission of a complete license application and the payment of required fees, the department shall issue a license to the applicant to engage in the business of a sales finance company in accordance with the provisions of this part for a period that expires December 31 following the date of the license's issuance. The license is not transferable or assignable. A licensee may not transact any business provided for by this part under any other name.

(5) The department may direct that fees chargeable under subsection (3) be remitted to the department through a nationwide licensing system. The department's portion of fees charged and collected under this chapter must be deposited in the state special revenue fund for the use of the department in its supervision function.

31-1-231. Requirements of retail installment contracts. (1) Each retail installment contract must be in writing, signed by both the buyer and the seller, and completed as to all essential provisions prior to the signing of the contract by the buyer. However, if a retail installment transaction is a sale of goods other than a motor vehicle where title, lien, or other security interest is not retained or taken by the seller, then the retail installment contract is not required to be contained in a single document. In that case, if the contract is contained in more than one document, then one document may be an original document executed by the retail buyer applicable to purchases of goods or services to be made by the retail buyer from time to time, and in that case the document, together with the sales slip, account book, or other written statement relating to each purchase, must set forth all of the information required by this section and constitutes the retail installment contract for each purchase.

(2) The printed portion of the contract, other than instructions for completion, must be in at least 8-point type. The contract must conspicuously disclose the following notice:

"1. Notice to the buyer. Do not sign this contract before you read it or if it contains any blank spaces other than blank spaces for the serial number of the goods or other similar information and the due date of the first installment if the goods have not been delivered to you at the time you sign the contract.

2. You are entitled to an exact copy of the contract bearing your signature.

3. Under the law, you have the right to pay off in advance the full amount due and to obtain a partial refund of the finance charge."

(3) If the contract covers the sale of a motor vehicle, it must also contain a specific statement that is conspicuously disclosed that liability insurance coverage for bodily injury and property damage caused to others is not included if that is the case.

(4) The contract must contain the names of the seller and the buyer, the place of business of the seller, the residence or place of business of the buyer as specified by the buyer, and a description of the goods sold or services furnished or to be furnished and must clearly state and describe any collateral security taken for the buyer's obligation.

(5) The contract must contain the following items:

(a) the cash sale price of the goods or services;

(b) the amount of the buyer's downpayment and whether made in money or goods or partly in money and partly in goods, including a brief description of the goods traded in;

(c) the difference between items in subsections (5)(a) and (5)(b);

(d) the amount, if any, included for insurance and other benefits if a separate charge is made for insurance and other benefits, specifying the types of coverage and benefits;

(e) the amount of official fees;

(f) the principal balance, which is the sum of items in subsections (5)(c) through (5)(e);

(g) the amount of the finance charge;

(h) the total amount of the time balance, stated as one sum in dollars and cents, which is the sum of items in subsections (5)(f) and (5)(g), payable in installments by the buyer to the seller;

(i) the number of installments;

(j) the amount of each installment; and

(k) the due date or period of installments.

(6) The items in subsection (5) need not be stated in the sequence or order set forth, and additional items may be included to explain the computations made in determining the amount to be paid by the buyer.

(7) A retail installment contract may not be signed by any party when it contains blank spaces to be filled in after it has been signed, except that if delivery of the goods is not made at the time of the signing of the contract, the serial number of the goods or similar information and the due date of the first installment may be inserted in the contract after it is signed. The buyer's written acknowledgment, conforming to the requirements of 31-1-232, of delivery of a copy of a contract, in any action or proceeding by or against a holder of the contract without knowledge to the contrary when the holder purchases the contract, must be conclusive proof:

(a) of the delivery;

(b) that the contract when signed did not contain any blank spaces except as provided in this subsection (7); and

(c) of compliance with 31-1-231 through 31-1-236.

(8) If a retail installment transaction is subject to the federal Truth in Lending Act, 15 U.S.C. 1601-1667e, a seller that has complied with all of the requirements of the act must be considered to have satisfied the requirements of subsections (2) through (6) of this section.

(9) A person may not engage in any device or subterfuge intended to evade the requirements of this part, including making loans or assisting another in making loans disguised as personal property sales and leaseback transactions or disguising or assisting another in disguising loan proceeds as cash rebates for the pretextual installment sale of goods or services.

If the contract is mailed, the seller shall retain proof of delivery. Until the seller delivers or mails the contract, a buyer who has not received delivery of the goods or been furnished the services has the right to rescind the agreement and to receive a refund of all payments made and return of all goods traded in to the seller on account of or in contemplation of the contract or, if the goods cannot be returned, the value of the goods. Any acknowledgment by the buyer of personal delivery of a copy of the contract signed by the seller must be conspicuous and, if contained in the contract, must appear directly above the buyer's signature.

31-1-233. Insurance. (1) The amount, if any, included for insurance that may be purchased by the holder of the contract may not exceed the applicable premiums chargeable in accordance with the rates filed with the insurance department of this state when the rates are required by law to be approved by the insurance department.

(2) All insurance purchased by the holder of the contract must be written by an insurance company authorized to do business in this state.

(3) A buyer may be required to provide insurance on the goods at the buyer's own cost for the protection of the seller or holder as well as the buyer, but the insurance is limited to insurance against substantial risk of loss, damage, or destruction of the goods.

(4) Any other insurance may be included in a retail installment transaction at the buyer's expense only if contracted for voluntarily by the buyer.

(5) If insurance for which an identified charge is made insures the life, safety, or health of the buyer or the buyer's interest in goods and is purchased by the holder, the holder shall within 30 days after the execution of the retail installment contract send or cause to be sent to the buyer a policy or policies or certificate or certificates of insurance, written by an insurance company authorized to do business in this state, clearly setting forth:

(a) the amount of the premium;

(b) the kind or kinds of insurance;

(c) the coverages; and

(d) if a policy, all the terms, exceptions, limitations, restrictions, and conditions of the contract or contracts of insurance or, if a certificate, a summary of the terms, exceptions, limitations, restrictions, and conditions.

(6) The holder may not decline existing insurance written by an insurance company authorized to do business in this state, and the buyer has the privilege of purchasing insurance from an insurance producer or broker of the buyer's own selection and of selecting the buyer's insurance company if:

(a) the insurance company is acceptable to the holder, which acceptance may not be unreasonably or arbitrarily withheld; and

(b) the inclusion of the cost of the insurance premium in the retail installment contract when the buyer selects the buyer's insurance producer, broker, or company is optional with the holder.

(7) If any insurance is canceled or the premium adjusted, any refund of the insurance premium received by the holder must be credited to the final maturing installment of the contract except to the extent applied toward payment for a similar insurance protecting the interests of the buyer and the holder or either of them.

31-1-235. Delinquency fee. (1) The holder of a retail installment contract or a retail charge account agreement may collect a delinquency charge on each installment in default for a period not less than 10 days in an amount not to exceed $10 or, alternatively, the holder may calculate a fixed delinquency fee that is expressed as an interest rate not exceeding 15% of each installment in default. The delinquency charge expressed in this subsection as a simple interest rate represents a method of calculating a fixed delinquency charge and is not interest.

(2) This section does not preclude a holder of a retail installment contract or retail charge account agreement from collecting, in addition to the delinquency charge, regularly accruing interest at the current contract rate applicable under the terms of the buyer's and seller's contract, provided the contract was made on simple interest and is not a precomputed contract.

(3) A retail installment contract may provide for the payment of both a delinquency charge as permitted in subsection (1) and attorney fees not exceeding 15% of the amount due and payable under the contract when the contract is referred for collection to an attorney not a salaried employee of the holder of the contract and for court costs and actual and reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with the delinquency.

31-1-236. Notice and receipt of payment. (1) Upon written request from the buyer, the holder of a retail installment contract shall give or forward to the buyer a written statement of the dates and amounts of payments and the total amount unpaid under the contract. A buyer must be given a written receipt for any payment when made in cash.

(2) After payment of all sums for which the buyer is obligated under a contract, the holder shall deliver or mail to the buyer, at the buyer's last-known address, one or more good and sufficient instruments to acknowledge payment in full and shall release all security in the goods or in any collateral security.

31-1-241. Finance charge limitation. (1) The finance charge included in a retail installment contract must be at a rate agreed upon by the retail seller and the buyer, but the finance charge may not exceed 36% per annum.

(2) The finance charge included in a retail charge account agreement must be at a rate agreed upon by the retail seller and the buyer, but the finance charge may not exceed 36% per annum.

(3) The finance charge must be computed from month to month (which need not be a calendar month) or over another regular billing cycle period by using either:

(a) the average daily balance in the account in the billing cycle period; or

(b) the ending balance of the account as of the last day of the billing cycle period less the amount of total purchases charged to the account during that billing cycle.

(4) A seller may change the terms of a revolving charge account whether or not the change is authorized by prior agreement. The seller shall give the buyer written notice of any change at least 45 days before the effective date of the change.

(5) If the retail seller increases the finance charge on a retail charge account agreement, then the increased rate may only be applied to the balance consisting of purchases on other charges incurred on or after the effective date of the increase.

(6) For purposes of determining the balance to which the increased rate applies, all payments may be considered to be applied to the balance existing prior to the change in rate until that balance is paid in full.

(7) If the finance charge determined pursuant to subsection (3) for a monthly period is less than 50 cents, a maximum finance charge not in excess of 50 cents may be charged and collected for the period.

31-1-242. Refunds on prepayment. Notwithstanding any other provision of law or terms of any retail installment contract to the contrary, any buyer may prepay in full, at any time before maturity, the debt of any retail installment contract and upon paying the debt must receive a refund credit for the anticipation of payments on a precomputed contract or for any other unearned fees calculated by use of the actuarial method. The refund amount is the portion of the original finance charge that is applicable to all fully unexpired months in the contract as originally scheduled or, if deferred, as deferred, following the date of prepayment.

The holder of a contract, upon request by the buyer, may extend the scheduled due date of all or any part of any installment or installments or defer payment or payments or renew or restate the unpaid time balance of the contract, the amount of the installments, and the time schedule for the installments and may collect for the extension, deferment, renewal, or restatement a refinance charge. The holder may compute the refinance charge on the unpaid time balance to be extended, deferred, renewed, or restated by adding to the unpaid time balance the cost for any insurance and other benefits incidental to the refinancing plus any accrued delinquency and collection charges, after deducting any refund that may be due the buyer as for a prepayment pursuant to 31-1-242 at the rate of the finance charge specified in 31-1-241. If all unpaid installments are deferred for not more than 2 months, the holder may charge and collect for the deferment an amount equal to the difference between the refund required for prepayment in full under 31-1-242 as of the scheduled due date of the first deferred installment and the refund required for prepayment in full as of 1 month prior to the date, times the number of months in which a scheduled payment is not made.

Wage Brokers

31-1-301. Wage brokers to procure license and give bond. No person, company, corporation, or association may establish or conduct the business of wage broker within the state unless such person, company, corporation, or association procures a license from the proper authorities and executes a bond in such sum as the authorities may require for the faithful carrying out of the provisions of this part and of the ordinances of any town or city in which the business may be carried on.

31-1-401. Interest pawnbrokers may receive — civil enforcement — prohibited activities. (1) A person may not carry on the business of pawnbroker or junk dealer by receiving goods pawned or in pledge for loans at any rate of interest above 10% a year without first obtaining a license. A pawnbroker or junk dealer or the pawnbroker's or junk dealer's employees or agents may not charge a fee of more than 25% of the amount of the loan for a 30-day period. The fee for extending a pawn agreement for 30 days may not exceed 25% of the amount of the loan. For purposes of this section, a fee includes all costs or fees charged, including but not limited to interest, commission, discount, storage, care of property, and purchase option.

(2) The taking, receiving, reserving, or charging of a fee greater than that allowed under subsection (1) is considered a forfeiture of a sum double the amount of the fee for storage or caring that was agreed to be paid.

(3) (a) When a rate or charge greater than that provided for in subsection (1) has been paid, the person by whom it has been paid may recover from the pawnbroker or junk dealer reasonable attorney fees and an amount double the amount of the fee paid.

(b) An action under this subsection (3) must be brought within 2 years after the payment of the fee. Before a suit may be brought, the party bringing suit shall make written demand for return of the fee paid.

(4) Unless licensed as a consumer loan licensee or a deferred deposit loan licensee, a pawnbroker or junk dealer may not:

(a) cash or advance money for a postdated or deferred presentment check in exchange for a fee or finance charge;

(b) use a check, authorization for electronic access, or other method of access to a deposit account, savings account, or other financial or asset account as a condition of or security for an extension of credit;

(c) receive the title to a motor vehicle for the purpose of a pawn transaction or in pledge for a loan; or

(d) engage in any device or subterfuge intended to evade the requirements of this chapter, including assisting a borrower to obtain a loan at a rate of interest prohibited by Montana law, making loans disguised as personal property sales and leaseback transactions, or disguising loan proceeds as cash rebates for the pretextual installment sale of goods or services.

(5) In addition to other penalties provided by law, a violation of subsection (4) is a violation of Title 30, chapter 14, part 1.

Part 5
Retail Sales — Late Payment Charges

Part Cross-References

U.C.C. — sales, Title 30, ch. 2.

31-1-501. Late payment charges — accounts receivable for merchandise sold at retail. (1) Notwithstanding 31-1-106 or 31-1-107, a person who sells goods, as defined in 31-1-202, at retail to a retail buyer who promises to pay for such goods upon presentation of the bill therefor, may charge and collect a late payment charge not greater than 1½% per month on all money due on all accounts from 30 days after the date on which the obligation of the buyer to pay is incurred.

(2) The late payment charge provided in this section may be charged only if at the time the obligation was incurred the seller did not intend to extend any credit beyond 30 days and any late payment of the obligation was unintended.

(3) The provisions of this section do not apply to money due for intangible services, for services regulated by the public service commission, for real property, for health care services, or for retail installment sales contracts or retail charge account agreements regulated under Title 31, chapter 1, part 2.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 222, L. 1981.

31-1-502. Periodic statement to be furnished to debtor. (1) A seller may charge the late payment charge provided for in 31-1-501 only if the seller promptly supplies the buyer with a statement as of the end of each monthly period or other regular period agreed upon by the seller and the buyer in which there is any unpaid balance. The statement must recite the following:

(a) the percentage amount of the late payment charge that will be charged beginning 30 days after the obligation is incurred;

(b) the unpaid balance at the beginning or end of the period;

(c) an identification of any amounts debited to the buyer's account during the period;

(d) the payments made by the buyer to the seller during the period;

(e) the amount of the late payment charge and also the percentage annual simple interest equivalent of the amount; and

(f) a legend to the effect that the buyer may at any time pay the total unpaid balance.

(2) The items need not be stated in the sequence or order set forth in subsection (1). Additional items may be included to explain the computations made in determining the amount to be paid by the buyer.

Part 7
Montana Deferred Deposit Loan Act

31-1-701. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Montana Deferred Deposit Loan Act".
History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 404, L. 1999.

31-1-702. Purpose — rules — fees. (1) The purpose of this part is to protect consumers who enter into short-term, high-rate loans with lenders from abuses that occur in the credit marketplace when the lenders are unregulated.

(2) The department may adopt rules to implement the provisions of this part. The rules may include but are not limited to rules establishing forms and procedures for licensing, rules pertaining to acceptable practices at a business location, rules establishing disclosure requirements, and rules establishing complaint and hearing procedures.

(3) All fees collected pursuant to the provisions of this part must be deposited in the department's special revenue account to be used by the department in carrying out its supervisory functions under this part.

31-1-703. Definitions. For the purposes of this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Account" means any banking, checking, credit union, commercial, savings, savings and loan, brokerage, investment, or other kind of depository account held by a consumer.

(2) "Check" means a negotiable instrument, as defined in 30-3-104, that is drawn on a state or federal bank, credit union, or savings and loan association and is payable on demand at the maturity of a deferred deposit loan.

(3) "Consumer" means a natural person who, singly or jointly with another natural person, enters into a deferred deposit loan.

(4) "Deferred deposit lender" or "licensee" means a person engaged in the business of making deferred deposit loans.

(5) "Deferred deposit loan" means an arrangement, including all representations made by the deferred deposit lender whether express or implied, in which:

(a) a person accepts a check dated on the date on which the check is written and agrees to hold the check for a period of days prior to deposit or presentment;

(b) a person accepts a check dated subsequent to the date on which the check is written and agrees to hold the check for deposit or presentment until the date written on the check; or

(c) a person accepts written authorization from a consumer to electronically deduct from the consumer's account on a specific date the amount of the loan and fees that are authorized under this part.

(6) "Department" means the department of administration.

(7) "Person" means a natural person, sole proprietorship, firm, partnership, corporation, or other entity.
History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 404, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 81, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 71, Ch. 483, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 451, L. 2007.

31-1-704. Scope. (1) This part applies to deferred deposit lenders and to persons who facilitate, enable, or act as a conduit for persons making deferred deposit loans.

(2) This part does not apply to retail sellers who cash checks incidental to or independent of a sale and who do not charge more than $2 a check for the service.

31-1-705. License — application requirements — business locations. (1) A person may not engage in or offer to engage in the business of making deferred deposit loans unless licensed by the department. A license may be granted to a person located within the state or to a person located outside of the state who uses the internet, facsimiles, or third persons to conduct transactions with consumers in this state.

(2) An applicant for a license to engage in the business of making deferred deposit loans shall pay to the department a license application fee of $500. The department may direct that applicants remit fees to the department through a nationwide licensing system.

(3) The application for licensure must be in the form and submitted in the manner that the department directs.

(4) The license year is the calendar year, and all licenses expire on December 31 of each year.

(5) Each licensee shall post a bond in the amount of $10,000 for each location at or from which deferred deposit loan transactions are conducted with consumers in this state. The bond must continue in effect for 2 years after the licensee ceases operation in the state. The bond must be available to pay damages authorized under this part to consumers harmed by any violation of this part and to pay civil penalties, restitution, and costs ordered by the department pursuant to 31-1-712 for any violation of this part.

(6) More than one place of business may not be maintained under the same license. A person shall obtain a license for the person's principal place of business and a separate branch license for each additional place of business or location at or from which deferred deposit loan transactions are conducted with consumers in this state.

31-1-706. License renewal fee. (1) A person licensed under 31-1-705 shall pay an annual license renewal fee of $500 for each license that the person holds under this part.

(2) The department may direct that fees due the department under subsection (1) be remitted to the department through a nationwide licensing system.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 81, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 451, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 277, L. 2013.

31-1-707. Denial of license and license renewal. (1) (a) Except as provided in subsection (1)(b), the department shall deny any new license or refuse to renew any license if:

(i) the applicant does not meet the qualifications stated in this part or in rules adopted pursuant to this part;

(ii) the department finds that the criminal history of any employee of the applicant at the time of application or renewal demonstrates any conviction involving fraud or financial dishonesty or if the department's findings show civil judgments involving fraudulent or dishonest financial dealings;

(iii) the financial responsibility, experience, character, and general fitness of the applicant do not warrant the belief that the business will be operated lawfully and fairly and within the provisions of this part;

(iv) the applicant does not have unencumbered assets of at least $25,000 for each location to be operated by the applicant;

(v) other information that the department considers necessary has not been provided; or

(vi) the applicant makes any material misstatement of fact or any material omission of fact in the application.

(b) A denial is not required pursuant to subsection (1)(a)(ii) if the department finds that the applicant dismissed the employee promptly upon learning of the employee's conviction involving fraud or financial dishonesty or of civil judgments involving fraudulent or dishonest financial dealings by the employee.

(2) The department shall provide written notice to the applicant of the denial or refusal, setting forth in the notice the grounds upon which the denial or refusal is based.

(3) The applicant has the right to a hearing under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act on any denial or refusal to issue a license. The request for a hearing must be made within 14 days of the date of receipt of the written notice of denial or refusal.

(4) An applicant whose application for licensure or renewal has been denied or refused may not reapply for 1 year following the denial or refusal.

31-1-708 and 31-1-709 reserved.

31-1-710. Department authorized to participate in nationwide licensing system for purposes of licensing deferred deposit loan licensees — rulemaking. (1) The department may participate in a nationwide licensing system for licensing purposes under this part and may require deferred deposit loan license applicants to apply for licensure in the manner that the department may direct on applications approved by the nationwide licensing system.

(2) The department may establish rules that are necessary to comply with the nationwide licensing system protocols and procedures pertaining to fees, renewal dates, amending or surrendering a license, and any other activity necessary for participation in the nationwide licensing system.

(3) The department's portion of the licensing fees collected through the nationwide licensing system must be deposited into the department's account in the state special revenue fund for use in the administration of this part.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 277, L. 2013.

31-1-711. Examinations — fee. (1) The department may conduct an examination of each licensee's deferred deposit lending operation to ensure that the licensee is in compliance with the provisions of this part.

(2) (a) A licensee shall pay the department a fee in the amount of $37.50 an hour for each examiner required to conduct an examination.

(b) The department may charge a licensee for no more than three examinations a year under this section.

(3) A licensee shall make available to a department examiner the information required under 31-1-714 or as required by rule.

31-1-712. Notice of violation — administrative hearing — penalties — liability. (1) If the department has probable cause to believe that a licensed or unlicensed person has violated any of the provisions of this part, a rule promulgated under this part, or an order issued by the department or has made a material misrepresentation to the department by act or omission, the department may issue a notice stating the alleged violation to the person.

(2) (a) The notice referred to in subsection (1) must comply with 2-4-601 and must include a statement that the person has an opportunity to request an administrative hearing under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act within 14 days of the date that the department's notice was mailed to the person.

(b) The department shall mail the notice by certified mail to a licensee's address of record with the department or to an unlicensed person at an address for the person known to the department. The department has complied with the service of process upon mailing the notice by certified mail.

(3) If a person served with a notice under subsection (2) admits to or does not contest having violated or is found after an administrative hearing to have violated this part, a rule promulgated under this part, or an order issued by the department or to have made a material misrepresentation to the department by act or omission, the department may impose a civil penalty not to exceed $1,000 for each violation and may issue an order revoking or suspending the right of the person or licensee, directly or through an officer, agent, employee, or representative, to do business in this state as a licensee or to engage in the business of making deferred deposit loans. In addition, the department may order restitution to borrowers and reimbursement for the department's cost in bringing the administrative action. The department's remedies specified in this part are cumulative, except that the remedies in 31-1-724 pertaining to a consumer's private rights of action are not available to the department.

(4) In addition to the penalties in subsection (3), any deferred deposit loan made by an unlicensed person is void, and the unlicensed person may not directly or indirectly collect, receive, or retain any loan principal, interest, fees, or other charges related to the loan.

(5) A revocation, suspension, or surrender of a license does not relieve the licensee from civil or criminal liability for acts committed prior to the revocation, suspension, or surrender of the license.

(6) The department may reinstate any suspended or revoked license if there is not a fact or condition existing at the time of reinstatement that would have justified the department's refusal to originally issue the license. If a license has been suspended or revoked for cause, an application may not be made for the issuance of a new license or the reinstatement of a suspended or revoked license for a period of 6 months from the date of suspension or revocation.

(7) All civil penalties collected pursuant to this section must be deposited in the state general fund.

31-1-713. Department obligations — complaints. (1) The department shall maintain, either directly or indirectly through a nationwide licensing system, a list of licensees that is available to and accessible by interested persons and the general public.

(2) The department shall also establish by rule a procedure under which an aggrieved consumer or any member of the public may file a complaint against a licensee or an unlicensed person.

(3) If the department determines there is probable cause to issue and serve a notice under 31-1-712 to a licensed or unlicensed person against whom a complaint has been filed by a consumer or other member of the public, the department is obligated to provide only the licensee or the unlicensed person with the opportunity to request an administrative hearing.

31-1-714. Information and annual reports. (1) Each licensee shall keep and use books, accounts, and records that will enable the department to determine if the licensee is complying with the provisions of this part and maintain any other records required by the department. The department is authorized to examine the records at any reasonable time. The records must be kept for 2 years following the last entry on a loan and must be kept according to generally accepted accounting procedures that include an examiner being able to review the recordkeeping and reconcile each deferred deposit loan with documentation maintained in the consumer's loan file records.

(2) Each licensee shall submit an annual report with the department on the date and in the form and manner that the department directs regarding the licensee's deferred deposit loan activity with consumers in this state during the preceding calendar year. The report must contain the following information:

(a) the resources, assets, and liabilities of the licensee at the beginning and the end of the period;

(b) the income, expense, gain, loss, and balance sheets;

(c) the total number of deferred deposit loans made in the year ending as of December 31 of the previous year, including:

(i) the number of individual consumers with 12 or fewer new deferred deposit loans; and

(ii) the number of individual consumers with 13 or more new deferred deposit loans;

(d) the average deferred deposit loan amount, average annual interest percentage rate, and average deferred deposit loan term;

(e) the number of deferred deposit loans rescinded;

(f) the total number of deferred deposit loans outstanding as of December 31 of the previous year;

(g) the minimum and maximum amount of checks for which deposits were deferred in the year ending as of December 31 of the previous year;

(h) the total number and dollar amount of returned checks, the total number and dollar amount of checks recovered, and the total number and dollar amount of checks charged off during the year ending as of December 31 of the previous year;

(i) the total number and dollar amount of agreements involving electronic transactions or deductions, the total number and dollar amount of electronic deductions made by the licensee, and the total number and dollar amount of electronic deductions for insufficient funds charged off during the year ending as of December 31 of the previous year; and

(j) verification that the licensee has not used a criminal process or caused a criminal process to be used in the collection of any deferred deposit loans or used any civil process to collect the payment of deferred deposit loans not generally available to creditors to collect on loans in default during the year ending as of December 31 of the previous year.

(3) A report must be executed by an individual representative of the licensee in the manner the department may direct, and the department may require that the report be executed in conformance with any protocols of a nationwide licensing system.

(4) (a) If a licensee conducts another business or is affiliated with other licensees under this part or if any other situation exists under which allocations of expense are necessary, the licensee shall make the allocation according to appropriate and reasonable accounting principles as approved by the department.

(b) Information about any other business conducted on the same premises where deferred deposit loans are made must be provided as required by the department.

(5) Each licensee shall file a copy of the disclosure documents described in 31-1-721 with the department prior to the date of commencement of business at each location, at the time any changes are made to the documents, and annually upon renewal of the license. These documents must be available to interested parties and to the general public through the department.

31-1-715. Loan requirements — right of rescission — arbitration — completion of transaction. (1) A deferred deposit loan may not have a term that exceeds 31 days.

(2) The amount of the deferred deposit loan, exclusive of the fee allowed in 31-1-722(2), may not exceed $300.

(3) The minimum amount of a deferred deposit loan is $50.

(4) The check written by the consumer in a deferred deposit loan must be made payable to the licensee.

(5) (a) The loan agreement must contain a provision that the consumer may rescind the transaction if, by 5 p.m. of the licensee's first business day following the day that the loan was executed, the consumer provides the licensee with cash or certified funds equaling 100% of the amount loaned to the consumer.

(b) A licensee may not charge a consumer any fee or interest if the consumer rescinds the loan as provided in subsection (5)(a).

(c) Except as provided in subsection (5)(a), a consumer does not have a right to rescind the loan unless the licensee agrees to the rescission.

(6) (a) A loan agreement may not contain a mandatory arbitration clause that is oppressive, unconscionable, unfair, or in substantial derogation of a consumer's rights.

(b) A mandatory arbitration clause that complies with the applicable standards of the American arbitration association must be presumed to not violate the provisions of subsection (6)(a).

(7) Only the licensee may make an electronic deduction from the consumer's account. The licensee shall ensure that information obtained from the consumer about the consumer's account remains confidential.

(8) The licensee shall provide the consumer, or each consumer if there is more than one, with a copy of the loan documents described in 31-1-721 upon consummation of the loan.

(9) The holder or assignee of any check written by a consumer in connection with a deferred deposit loan takes the instrument subject to all claims and defenses of the consumer.

(10) A deferred deposit loan transaction is completed when the licensee receives payment in full from the consumer in cash or, if payment is made by check or electronic transfer from the consumer's account, when the check or electronic transfer is debited to the consumer's account by the consumer's financial institution. Once a deferred deposit loan transaction is complete, a licensee may enter into a new deferred deposit loan with the consumer. Deferred deposit loans may not be renewed or extended.

31-1-716 through 31-1-720 reserved.

31-1-721. Required disclosures — loan agreement. (1) Before entering into a deferred deposit loan, the licensee shall deliver to the consumer a pamphlet prepared by or at the direction of the department that:

(a) explains, in simple language, all of the consumer's rights and responsibilities in a deferred deposit loan transaction;

(b) includes a telephone number to the department's office that handles concerns or complaints by consumers; and

(c) informs consumers that the department's office can provide information about whether a lender is licensed and other legally available information.

(2) Licensees shall provide consumers with a written agreement on a form specified or approved by the department that can be kept by the consumer, which must include the following information:

(a) the name, address, and phone number of the licensee making the deferred deposit loan and the initials or other written means of identifying the individual employee who signs the agreement on behalf of the licensee;

(b) the name, address, and phone number of the consumer obtaining the deferred deposit loan;

(c) all disclosures required by the federal Truth in Lending Act, 15 U.S.C. 1601, et seq.;

(d) a clear description of the consumer's payment obligations under the loan; and

(e) in a manner that is more conspicuous than the other information provided in the loan document and that is in at least 14-point bold typeface, a statement that "you cannot be prosecuted in criminal court for collection of this loan". The statement must be located immediately preceding the signature of the consumer.

31-1-722. Prohibited and permitted fees — attorney fees and costs. (1) A licensee may not charge or receive, directly or indirectly, any interest, fees, or charges except those specifically authorized by this section.

(2) A licensee may not charge a fee for making or carrying each deferred deposit loan authorized by this part that exceeds 36% per annum, exclusive of the insufficient funds fees authorized in subsections (3) and (4).

(3) If there are insufficient funds to pay a check on the date of presentment, a licensee may charge a fee, not to exceed $30. Only one fee may be collected pursuant to this subsection with respect to a particular check even if it has been redeposited and returned more than once. A fee charged pursuant to this subsection is a licensee's exclusive charge for late payment. A licensee or any collection agency acting as an agent of a licensee, as a holder in due course of a licensee, or under an agreement with a licensee to collect amounts due or asserted to be due may not collect damages under 27-1-717(3) for an insufficient funds check.

(4) If the loan involves an electronic deduction and there are insufficient funds to deduct on the date on which the payment is due, a licensee may charge a fee, not to exceed $30. Only one fee may be collected pursuant to this subsection with respect to a particular loan even if the licensee has attempted more than once to deduct the amount due from the consumer's account. A fee charged pursuant to this subsection is a licensee's exclusive charge for late payment. A licensee or any collection agency acting as an agent of a licensee, as a holder in due course of a licensee, or under an agreement with a licensee to collect amounts due or asserted to be due may not collect damages under 27-1-717(3) for an electronic deduction for which there are insufficient funds.

(5) If the loan agreement in 31-1-721 requires, reasonable attorney fees and court costs may be awarded to the party in whose favor a final judgment is rendered in any action on a deferred deposit loan entered into pursuant to this part.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 404, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 81, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 221, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 81, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 6, I.M. No. 164, approved Nov. 2, 2010.

31-1-723. Prohibited acts. A licensee making deferred deposit loans may not commit, or have committed on behalf of the licensee, any of the following prohibited acts:

(1) engaging in the business of deferred deposit lending unless the department has first issued a valid license;

(2) threatening to use or using a criminal process in this or any other state to collect on the loan made to a consumer in this state or any civil process to collect the payment of deferred deposit loans not generally available to creditors to collect on loans in default;

(3) altering the date or any other information on a check received from a consumer;

(4) altering or changing the date upon which the licensee and consumer agreed to make any electronic deductions from the consumer's account unless the consumer agrees in writing to the change;

(5) making any false, misleading, or deceptive representation to a financial institution relating to a consumer who has agreed to provide payment for a loan through an electronic deduction;

(6) using any device or agreement that would have the effect of charging or collecting more fees, charges, or interest than those allowed by this part, including but not limited to entering into a different type of transaction or renewing or rolling over a loan with the consumer;

(7) engaging in unfair, deceptive, or fraudulent practices in the making or collection of a deferred deposit loan;

(8) entering into a deferred deposit loan with a consumer that is unconscionable. In determining whether a deferred deposit loan transaction is unconscionable, consideration must be given to, but is not limited to, whether the amount of the loan exceeds 25% of the consumer's monthly net income.

(9) charging to cash a check representing the proceeds of the deferred deposit loan;

(10) charging to perform an electronic deduction or transaction to obtain the proceeds of the deferred deposit loan;

(11) using or attempting to use the check provided by the consumer in a deferred deposit loan as security for purposes of any state or federal law;

(12) using or attempting to use the consumer's authorization to deduct the amount set forth in the loan agreement or any other information obtained from the consumer or the consumer's financial institution for any purpose other than to collect the proceeds of the deferred deposit loan;

(13) accepting payment of the deferred deposit loan through the proceeds of another deferred deposit loan;

(14) entering into a deferred deposit loan with a consumer who has an outstanding deferred deposit loan;

(15) renewing, repaying, refinancing, or consolidating a deferred deposit loan with the proceeds of another deferred deposit loan made to the same consumer. However, a licensee may without charge extend the term of the loan beyond the due date.

(16) accepting any collateral for a deferred deposit loan;

(17) charging any interest, fees, or charges other than those specifically authorized by this part, including but not limited to charges for insurance;

(18) threatening to take any action against a consumer that is prohibited by this part or making any misleading or deceptive statements regarding the deferred deposit loan;

(19) making a misrepresentation of a material fact by an applicant in obtaining or attempting to obtain a license;

(20) including any of the following provisions in the loan agreement required by 31-1-721:

(a) a hold harmless clause;

(b) a confession of judgment clause;

(c) a waiver of the right to a jury trial, if applicable, in any action brought by or against a consumer;

(d) any assignment of or order for payment of wages or other compensation for services;

(e) a provision in which the consumer agrees not to assert any claim or defense arising out of the contract; or

(f) a waiver of any provision of this part.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 404, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 81, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 210, L. 2005; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 451, L. 2007.

31-1-724. Civil remedies. (1) The remedies provided in this section are cumulative and apply to licensees and unlicensed persons to whom this part applies.

(2) Any intentional violation of this part constitutes an unfair or deceptive trade practice.

(3) Any person found to have intentionally violated this part is liable to the consumer for actual and consequential damages, plus statutory damages of $1,000 for each violation, plus costs and attorney fees.

(4) A consumer may sue for injunctive and other appropriate equitable relief to stop a person from violating any provisions of this part.

(5) The consumer may bring a class action suit to enforce this part.

(6) The remedies provided in this section are not intended to be the exclusive remedies available to a consumer for a violation of this part.

31-1-725. Repealed. Sec. 9, Ch. 23, L. 2015.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 404, L. 1999.

31-1-726. Investigations by department — subpoenas — oaths — examination of witnesses and evidence. (1) The department may investigate any matter, upon complaint or otherwise, if it appears that a person has engaged in or offered to engage in any act or practice that is in violation of any provision of this part or any rule adopted or order issued by the department pursuant to this part.

(2) The department may issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents, papers, books, records, and other evidence before it in any matter over which it has jurisdiction, control, or supervision pertaining to this part. The department may administer oaths and affirmations to a person whose testimony is required.

(3) If a person refuses to obey a subpoena or to give testimony or produce evidence as required by the subpoena, a judge of the district court in the county in which the licensed premises or the person's principal place of business is located or where the person resides may, upon application and proof of the refusal, issue a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum for the witness to appear before the department to give testimony and produce evidence as may be required. The clerk of court shall then issue the subpoena, as directed, under the seal of the court, requiring the person to whom it is directed to appear at the time and place designated in the subpoena.

(4) If a person served with a subpoena refuses to obey the subpoena or to give testimony or produce evidence as required by the subpoena, the department may proceed under the contempt provisions of Title 3, chapter 1, part 5.

(5) Failure to comply with a court-ordered subpoena is punishable pursuant to 45-7-309.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 451, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 535, L. 2021.

31-1-727. Cease and desist orders. (1) If the department determines that a person has engaged in or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of any provision of this part or any rule adopted or order issued by the department pursuant to this part, the department may issue an order directing the person to cease and desist from continuing the act or practice after issuance and service of a notice as provided in 31-1-712. The order may apply only to the alleged act or practice constituting a violation of this part.

(2) The department may issue a temporary order pending the hearing that:

(a) remains in effect until 14 days after the hearings examiner issues proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law and a proposed order; or

(b) becomes final if the person to whom notice is issued and served as provided in 31-1-712 does not request a hearing within 14 days after the date on which the notice was sent by certified mail.

(3) A violation of an order issued pursuant to this section is subject to the penalty provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 451, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 23, L. 2015.

31-1-728. Injunctions — receivers. (1) Whenever the department has reason to believe that a person is using, has used, or is about to knowingly use any method, act, or practice that violates any provision of this part or any rule adopted or order issued by the department pursuant to this part, the department, upon determining that proceeding would be in the public interest, may bring an action in the name of the state against the person to restrain by temporary or permanent injunction or temporary restraining order the use of the unlawful method, act, or practice.

(2) The notice for an action pursuant to subsection (1) must state generally the relief sought and be served at least 20 days before the hearing of the action in which the relief sought is a temporary or permanent injunction. The notice for a temporary restraining order is governed by 27-19-315.

(3) An action under this section may be brought in the district court in the county in which a person resides or has the person's principal place of business or in the district court of Lewis and Clark County if the person is not a resident of this state or does not maintain a place of business in this state.

(4) A district court may issue temporary or permanent injunctions or temporary restraining orders to restrain and prevent violations of this part, and an injunction must be issued without bond to the department. If the department is successful in obtaining an injunction or restraining order under this section, the department is entitled to an award of reasonable attorney fees and costs.

(5) In addition to all other means provided by law for the enforcement of a restraining order or injunction, the court in which the action is brought may impound and appoint a receiver for the property and business of the defendant, including books, papers, documents, or records pertaining to the property or business, or as much of the property or business as the court considers reasonably necessary to prevent violations of this part. The receiver, when appointed and qualified, has the powers and duties as to custody, collection, administration, winding up, and liquidation of the property and business that are conferred upon the receiver by the court.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 451, L. 2007.

31-1-729. Violation of specified federal laws — rulemaking authority. (1) A violation of any applicable provision of the Truth in Lending Act, 15 U.S.C. 1601, et seq., the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, 15 U.S.C. 1691, et seq., the Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C. 1681, et seq., the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, 15 U.S.C. 1692, et seq., the Financial Services Modernization Act of 1999 (Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act), 15 U.S.C. 6801, et seq., the USA PATRIOT Act of 2001, as reauthorized, Public Law 107-56, the John Warner National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2007, Public Law 109-364, or any regulation promulgated under those acts is also a violation of this part.

(2) The department shall adopt rules to implement this section.

31-2-203. Certain transfers not affected. The provisions of this part do not prevent a person residing in another state or country from making there, in good faith and without intent to evade the laws of this state, a transfer of property situated within the other state or territory. This part does not affect the power of a person, although insolvent and within this state, to transfer property to a particular creditor for the purpose of paying or securing the whole or a part of a debt owing to the creditor, whether in the person's own right or otherwise.

31-2-209. Assignment — when void. An assignment for the benefit of creditors is void against any creditor of the assignor not assenting to the assignment in the following cases:

(1) if the assignment gives a preference dependent upon any condition or contingency or with any power of revocation reserved;

(2) if the assignment tends to coerce any creditor to release or compromise the creditor's demand;

(3) if the assignment provides for the payment of any claim known by the assignor to be false or fraudulent or for the payment of more upon any claim than is known to be justly due from the assignor;

(4) if the assignment reserves any interest in the assigned property or in any part of the property to the assignor or for the assignor's benefit before all existing debts are paid;

(5) if the assignment confers upon the assignee any power that, if exercised, might prevent or delay the immediate conversion of the assigned property to the purposes of the trust;

(6) if the assignment exempts the assignor from liability for neglect of duty or misconduct.

31-2-210. The instrument of assignment. (1) An assignment for the benefit of creditors must be in writing and subscribed by the assignor or by the assignor's agent authorized by writing.

(2) The assignment must be acknowledged or proved and certified in the mode prescribed by the law on recording transfers of real property and recorded as required by 31-2-215 and 31-2-216, but recording in one county constitutes a compliance with 31-2-215 and 31-2-216.

(3) The assignment must be accompanied by the affidavit of the assignor and assignee that the assignment is made in good faith, for the benefit of the creditors of the assignor, and without any design to hinder, delay, or defraud the creditors.

(4) The assent of the assignee, subscribed and acknowledged by the assignee, must appear in writing contained in or at the end of or endorsed upon the assignment before the assignment is recorded and, if separate from the assignment, must be duly acknowledged.

31-2-213. Inventory required. Within 20 days after an assignment is made for the benefit of creditors, the assignor must make and file, in the manner prescribed by 31-2-215, a full and true inventory showing:

(1) all the creditors of the assignor;

(2) the place of residence of each creditor, if known to the assignor, or if not known, that fact must be stated;

(3) the sum owing to each creditor and the nature of each debt or liability, whether arising on written security, account, or otherwise;

(4) the true consideration of the liability in each case and the place where it arose;

(5) every existing judgment, mortgage, or other security for the payment of any debt or liability of the assignor;

(6) all property of the assignor at the date of the assignment which is exempt by law from execution; and

(7) all of the assignor's property at the date of the assignment, both real and personal, of every kind, not so exempt; the encumbrances existing thereon; all vouchers and securities relating thereto; and the value of such property, according to the best knowledge of the assignor.

31-2-214. Verification of inventory — when assignee required to file — inspection of assignor's books and papers. (1) An affidavit must be made by every person executing an assignment for the benefit of creditors, to be annexed to and filed with the inventory mentioned in 31-2-213, to the effect that the affidavit is in all respects just and true according to the best of the assignor's knowledge and belief.

(2) (a) If the assignor omits, neglects, or refuses to make and deliver the inventory within the required 20 days, the assignee named in the assignment shall, within 30 days after the required date, cause to be made and delivered to the judge of the district court of the county where the assignment is recorded the inventory as described in subsection (1), insofar as the assignee can.

(b) For the purpose of subsection (2)(a), the judge shall, at any time upon the application of the assignee, compel by order the delinquent assignor and any other person to appear before the judge and disclose, upon oath, any knowledge or information the assignor or person may possess necessary to the proper making of the inventory.

(c) The assignee shall verify the inventory made by the assignee to the effect that the inventory is in all respects just and true to the best of the assignee's knowledge and belief.

(3) If the assignee is unable to make and file the inventory within 30 days, the district judge may, upon application upon oath showing the inability, allow the assignee further time as necessary, not exceeding 60 days.

(4) If the assignee fails to make and file the inventory within 30 days or the further time that may be allowed, the district judge shall require, by order, the assignee to appear before the judge and show cause why the assignee should not be removed. Any person interested in the trust estate may apply for the order and demand the removal.

(5) The books and papers of the delinquent assignor must at all times be subject to the inspection and examination of any creditor. The district judge is authorized by order to require the debtor or assignee to allow the inspection or examination. Disobedience to an inspection order is a contempt, and obedience to the order may be enforced by attachment.

(6) The inventory must be filed by the district judge in the office of the clerk of the county in which the assignment is recorded.

(1) Until the inventory and affidavit required by 31-2-213 and 31-2-214 have been made and filed and the assignee has given bond as required by 31-2-219, the assignee for the benefit of creditors has no authority to dispose of the estate or convert it to the purposes of the trust.

(2) However, if the assignor fails to present the inventory within the required 20 days, then the assignee, before the 10 days have elapsed, may apply to the district judge by verified petition for leave to file a provisional bond until the time that the assignor may be able to present the inventory as provided in this section.

(3) The district judge shall, in the case described in 31-2-214, and may also at any time on the petition of one or more creditors showing misconduct or incompetency of the assignee or on petition of the assignee, showing sufficient reason, and after due notice of not less than 5 days to the assignor, assignee, surety, and other persons that the judge may prescribe:

(a) remove or discharge the assignee and appoint one or more assignees in the former assignee's place; and

(b) order an accounting of the assignee removed or discharged.

(4) The district judge may:

(a) enjoin the assignee from interfering with the assignor's estate and make provision by order for the safe custody of the estate; and

(b) enforce obedience to the injunction and orders by attachment.

(5) Upon discharge, upon the former assignee's application, the former assignee's bond must be canceled and discharged.

(6) The new assignee shall give a bond, which must be approved as required.

(7) The district judge has power by order to:

(a) require or allow any inventory or schedule filed to be corrected or amended;

(b) require and compel, from time to time, supplemental inventories or schedules to be made and filed within the time that the judge prescribes; and

(c) enforce obedience to the orders by attachment.

31-2-222. Notices to parties interested in the estate as creditors or otherwise. (1) Parties interested in the estate as creditors or parties otherwise interested, if the judge so directs, shall have at least 10 days' notice by mail to their respective addresses as they appear in the schedule filed by the assignor, or at such other addresses as they shall have filed with the assignee, of:

(a) all proposed sales of property, in bulk;

(b) the filing of the final account of the assignee and of the hearing thereon;

(c) any proposed compromise with creditors.

(2) Such notice may be given as the judge shall direct and must be returnable in court, or before the judge of the court at chambers, in the district.

31-2-223. Duties of assignee. It shall be the duty of the assignee to:

(1) collect and reduce to money the property of the estate and close up the estate as expeditiously as possible;

(2) sell the property of the estate as soon as practicable and sell the accounts and bills receivable when deemed advisable;

(3) furnish such information concerning the estate as may be requested by parties in interest;

(4) keep regular accounts and pay dividends as often as is compatible with the best interests of the estate;

(5) file a final report and account at least 10 days before the hearing thereon.

31-2-224. Power of court. The court has power to:

(1) authorize the business of the assignor to be conducted for a limited period by assignee, if necessary in the best interests of the estate, and allow additional compensation for the services;

(2) reopen estates when it appears they were closed before being fully administered and for that purpose to appoint another assignee who will take title to the property not administered;

(3) direct upon the final settlement of the estate that the assignee pay to the lawful creditors their proportionate dividend, notwithstanding that their claim has not been presented in accordance with the notice sent out by the assignee, provided that 4 months have not elapsed since the first publication of notice to creditors;

(4) approve the final report and discharge the assignee and the assignee's surety from all further liabilities upon matters included in the accounting to creditors appearing and to creditors not having appeared after due citation or not having presented their claims after due advertisement.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 324, L. 1991.

31-2-328. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Affiliate" means:

(a) a person who directly or indirectly owns, controls, or holds with power to vote 20% or more of the outstanding voting securities of the debtor, other than a person who holds the securities:

(i) as a fiduciary or agent without sole discretionary power to vote the securities; or

(ii) solely to secure a debt if the person has not exercised the power to vote;

(b) a corporation 20% or more of whose outstanding voting securities are directly or indirectly owned, controlled, or held with power to vote by the debtor or a person who directly or indirectly owns, controls, or holds with power to vote 20% or more of the outstanding voting securities of the debtor, other than a person who holds the securities:

(i) as a fiduciary or agent without sole power to vote the securities; or

(ii) solely to secure a debt if the person has not exercised the power to vote;

(c) a person whose business is operated by the debtor under a lease or other agreement or a person substantially all of whose assets are controlled by the debtor; or

(d) a person who operates the debtor's business under a lease or other agreement or controls substantially all of the debtor's assets.

(2) "Asset" means property of a debtor, but the term does not include:

(a) property to the extent it is encumbered by a valid lien;

(b) property to the extent it is generally exempt under nonbankruptcy law; or

(c) an interest in property held in tenancy by the entireties to the extent it is not subject to process by a creditor holding a claim against only one tenant.

(3) "Claim" means a right to payment, whether or not the right is reduced to judgment, liquidated, unliquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, legal, equitable, secured, or unsecured.

(4) "Creditor" means a person who has a claim.

(5) "Debt" means liability on a claim.

(6) "Debtor" means a person who is liable on a claim.

(7) "Insider" includes:

(a) if the debtor is an individual:

(i) a relative of the debtor or of a general partner of the debtor;

(ii) a partnership in which the debtor is a general partner;

(iii) a general partner in a partnership described in subsection (7)(a)(ii); or

(iv) a corporation of which the debtor is a director, officer, or person in control;

(b) if the debtor is a corporation:

(i) a director of the debtor;

(ii) an officer of the debtor;

(iii) a person in control of the debtor;

(iv) a partnership in which the debtor is a general partner;

(v) a general partner in a partnership described in subsection (7)(b)(iv); or

(vi) a relative of a general partner, director, officer, or person in control of the debtor;

(c) if the debtor is a partnership:

(i) a general partner in the debtor;

(ii) a relative of a general partner in, a general partner of, or a person in control of the debtor;

(iii) another partnership in which the debtor is a general partner;

(iv) a general partner in a partnership described in subsection (7)(c)(iii); or

(v) a person in control of the debtor;

(d) an affiliate or an insider of an affiliate as if the affiliate were the debtor; and

(e) a managing agent of the debtor.

(8) "Lien" means a charge against or an interest in property to secure payment of a debt or performance of an obligation and includes a security interest created by agreement, a judicial lien obtained by legal or equitable process or proceedings, a common-law lien, or a statutory lien.

(9) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, organization, government or governmental subdivision or agency, business trust, estate, trust, or any other legal or commercial entity.

(10) "Property" means anything that may be the subject of ownership.

(11) "Relative" means:

(a) an individual related by consanguinity within the third degree as determined by the common law;

(b) a spouse or an individual related to a spouse within the third degree as so determined; or

(c) an individual in an adoptive relationship within the third degree.

(12) "Transfer" means every mode, direct or indirect, absolute or conditional, voluntary or involuntary, of disposing of or parting with an asset or an interest in an asset and includes payment of money, release, lease, and creation of a lien or other encumbrance.

(13) "Valid lien" means a lien that is effective against the holder of a judicial lien subsequently obtained by legal or equitable process or proceedings.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 324, L. 1991.

31-2-329. Insolvency. (1) A debtor is insolvent if the sum of the debtor's debts is greater than all of the debtor's property at a fair valuation and the debtor is generally not paying the debtor's debts as they become due.

(2) Property under this section does not include property that has been transferred, concealed, or removed with intent to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors or that has been transferred in a manner making the transfer voidable under this part.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 324, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 1000, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

31-2-330. Value. (1) Value is given for a transfer or an obligation if, in exchange for the transfer or obligation, property is transferred or an antecedent debt is secured or satisfied, but value does not include an unperformed promise made other than in the ordinary course of the promisor's business to furnish support to the debtor or another person.

(2) A transfer is made for present value if the exchange between the debtor and the transferee is intended by them to be contemporaneous and is in fact substantially contemporaneous.

31-2-331 and 31-2-332 reserved.

31-2-333. Transfers fraudulent as to present and future creditors. (1) A transfer made or obligation incurred by a debtor is fraudulent as to a creditor, whether the creditor's claim arose before or after the transfer was made or the obligation was incurred, if the debtor made the transfer or incurred the obligation:

(a) with actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud any creditor of the debtor; or

(b) without receiving a reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the transfer or obligation and the debtor:

(i) was engaged or was about to engage in a business or a transaction for which the remaining assets of the debtor were unreasonably small in relation to the business or transaction; or

(ii) intended to incur, or believed or reasonably should have believed that the debtor would incur, debts beyond the debtor's ability to pay as they became due.

(2) In determining actual intent under subsection (1)(a), consideration may be given, among other factors, to whether:

(a) the transfer or obligation was to an insider;

(b) the debtor retained possession or control of the property transferred after the transfer;

(c) the transfer or obligation was disclosed or concealed;

(d) before the transfer was made or obligation was incurred, the debtor had been sued or threatened with suit;

(e) the transfer was of substantially all the debtor's assets;

(f) the debtor absconded;

(g) the debtor removed or concealed assets;

(h) the value of the consideration received by the debtor was reasonably equivalent to the value of the asset transferred or the amount of the obligation incurred;

(i) the debtor was insolvent or became insolvent shortly after the transfer was made or the obligation was incurred;

(j) the transfer occurred shortly before or shortly after a substantial debt was incurred; or

(k) the debtor transferred the essential assets of the business to a lienor who transferred the assets to an insider of the debtor.

31-2-334. Transfers fraudulent as to present creditors. (1) A transfer made or obligation incurred by a debtor is fraudulent as to a creditor whose claim arose before the transfer was made or the obligation was incurred if the debtor made the transfer or incurred the obligation without receiving a reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the transfer or obligation and the debtor was insolvent at that time or the debtor became insolvent as a result of the transfer or obligation.

(2) A transfer made by a debtor is fraudulent as to a creditor whose claim arose before the transfer was made if the transfer was made to an insider for an antecedent debt, the debtor was insolvent at that time, and the insider had reasonable cause to believe that the debtor was insolvent.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 324, L. 1991.

31-2-335. When transfer made or obligation incurred. For the purposes of this part:

(1) a transfer is made:

(a) with respect to an asset that is real property other than a fixture, but including the interest of a seller or purchaser under a contract for the sale of the asset, when the transfer is so far perfected that a good faith purchaser of the asset from the debtor against whom applicable law permits the transfer to be perfected cannot acquire an interest in the asset that is superior to the interest of the transferee; and

(b) with respect to an asset that is not real property or that is a fixture, when the transfer is so far perfected that a creditor on a simple contract cannot acquire a judicial lien otherwise than under this part that is superior to the interest of the transferee;

(2) if applicable law permits the transfer to be perfected as provided in subsection (1) and the transfer is not perfected before the commencement of an action for relief under this part, the transfer is considered made immediately before the commencement of the action;

(3) if applicable law does not permit the transfer to be perfected as provided in subsection (1), the transfer is considered made when it becomes effective between the debtor and the transferee;

(4) a transfer is not made until the debtor has acquired rights in the asset transferred;

(5) an obligation is incurred:

(a) if oral, when it becomes effective between the parties; or

(b) if evidenced in writing, when the writing executed by the obligor is delivered to or for the benefit of the obligee.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 324, L. 1991.

31-2-336 through 31-2-338 reserved.

31-2-339. Remedies of creditors. (1) In an action for relief against a transfer or obligation under this part, a creditor, subject to the limitations in 31-2-340, may obtain:

(a) avoidance of the transfer or obligation to the extent necessary to satisfy the creditor's claim;

(b) an attachment or other provisional remedy against the asset transferred or other property of the transferee in accordance with the procedure prescribed by Title 27, chapter 18; or

(c) subject to applicable principles of equity and in accordance with applicable rules of civil procedure:

(i) an injunction against further disposition by the debtor or a transferee, or both, of the asset transferred or of other property;

(ii) appointment of a receiver to take charge of the asset transferred or of other property of the transferee; or

(iii) any other relief the circumstances may require.

(2) If a creditor has obtained a judgment on a claim against the debtor, the creditor, if the court so orders, may levy execution on the asset transferred or its proceeds.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 324, L. 1991.

31-2-340. Defenses, liability, and protection of transferee. (1) A transfer or obligation is not voidable under 31-2-333(1)(a) against a person who took in good faith and for a reasonably equivalent value or against any subsequent transferee or obligee.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, to the extent a transfer is voidable in an action by a creditor under 31-2-339(1)(a), the creditor may recover judgment for the value of the asset transferred, as adjusted under subsection (3), or the amount necessary to satisfy the creditor's claim, whichever is less. The judgment may be entered against:

(a) the first transferee of the asset or the person for whose benefit the transfer was made; or

(b) any subsequent transferee other than a good faith transferee who took for value or from any subsequent transferee.

(3) If the judgment under subsection (2) is based upon the value of the asset transferred, the judgment must be for an amount equal to the value of the asset at the time of the transfer, subject to adjustment as the equities may require.

(4) Notwithstanding voidability of a transfer or an obligation under this part, a good faith transferee or obligee is entitled, to the extent of the value given the debtor for the transfer or obligation, to:

(a) a lien on or a right to retain any interest in the asset transferred;

(b) enforcement of any obligation incurred; or

(c) a reduction in the amount of the liability on the judgment.

(5) A transfer is not voidable under 31-2-333(1)(b) or 31-2-334 if the transfer results from:

(a) termination of a lease upon default by the debtor when the termination is pursuant to the lease and applicable law; or

(b) enforcement of a security interest in compliance with Title 30, chapter 9A.

(6) A transfer is not voidable under 31-2-334(2):

(a) to the extent the insider gave new value to or for the benefit of the debtor after the transfer was made, unless the new value was secured by a valid lien;

(b) if made in the ordinary course of business or financial affairs of the debtor and the insider; or

(c) if made pursuant to a good faith effort to rehabilitate the debtor and the transfer secured present value given for that purpose as well as an antecedent debt of the debtor.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 324, L. 1991.

31-2-341. Termination of cause of action. A cause of action with respect to a fraudulent transfer or obligation under this part is terminated unless an action is brought under:

(1) 31-2-333(1)(a) within 4 years after the transfer was made or the obligation was incurred or, if later, within 2 years after the transfer or obligation was or could reasonably have been discovered by the claimant;

(2) 31-2-333(1)(b) or 31-2-334(1) within 4 years after the transfer was made or the obligation was incurred; or

(3) 31-2-334(2) within 2 years after the transfer was made or the obligation was incurred.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 324, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 440, L. 2005.

31-2-342. Supplementary provisions. Part 1
Consumer Reporting Agencies

Unfair trade practices and consumer protection, Title 30, ch. 14.

31-3-101. Purpose. It is the purpose of this part to require that consumer reporting agencies adopt reasonable procedures for meeting the needs of commerce for consumer credit, personnel, insurance, and other information in a manner which is fair and equitable to the consumer, with regard to the confidentiality, accuracy, relevancy, and proper utilization of such information in accordance with the requirements of this part. A further purpose of this part is to guard an individual's right to privacy guaranteed in Article II, section 10, of the Montana constitution.

History: En. 18-501 by Sec. 1, Ch. 547, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 18-501.

31-3-102. Definitions and rules of construction. (1) Definitions and rules of construction set forth in this section are applicable for the purposes of this part.

(2) The term "consumer" means an individual.

(3) (a) The term "consumer report" means any written, oral, or other communication of any information by a consumer reporting agency bearing on a consumer's credit worthiness, credit standing, credit capacity, character, general reputation, personal characteristics, or mode of living that is used or expected to be used or collected in whole or in part for the purpose of serving as a factor in establishing the consumer's eligibility for:

(i) credit or insurance to be used primarily for personal, family, or household purposes;

(ii) employment purposes; or

(iii) other purposes authorized under 31-3-111.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) any report containing information solely as to transactions or experiences between the consumer and the person making the report;

(ii) any authorization or approval of a specific extension of credit, directly or indirectly, by the issuer of a credit card or similar device; or

(iii) any report in which a person who has been requested by a third party to make a specific extension of credit, directly or indirectly, to a consumer conveys the consumer's decision with respect to the request if the third party advises the consumer of the name and address of the person to whom the request was made and that person makes the disclosures to the consumer required under 31-3-131.

(4) The term "consumer reporting agency" means any person that, for monetary fees, dues, or on a cooperative nonprofit basis, regularly engages in whole or in part in the practice of assembling or evaluating consumer credit information or other information on consumers for the purpose of furnishing consumer reports to third parties.

(5) The term "employment purposes", when used in connection with a consumer report, means a report used for the purpose of evaluating a consumer for employment, promotion, reassignment, or retention as an employee.

(6) The term "file", when used in connection with information on any consumer, means all of the information on that consumer recorded and retained by a consumer reporting agency regardless of how the information is stored.

(7) The term "investigative consumer report" means a consumer report or portion of a consumer report in which information on a consumer's character, general reputation, personal characteristics, or mode of living is obtained through personal interviews with neighbors, friends, or associates of the consumer reported on or with others with whom the consumer is acquainted or who may have knowledge concerning any items of information. However, the information may not include specific factual information on a consumer's credit record obtained directly from a creditor of the consumer or from a consumer reporting agency when the information was obtained directly from a creditor of the consumer or from the consumer.

(8) The term "medical information" means information or records obtained, with the consent of the individual to whom it relates, from licensed physicians or medical practitioners, hospitals, clinics, or other medical or medically related facilities.

(9) The term "person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, trust, estate, cooperative, association, government or governmental subdivision or agency, or other entity.

31-3-104 through 31-3-110 reserved.

31-3-111. Permissible purposes of reports. A consumer reporting agency may furnish a consumer report under the following circumstances and no other:

(1) in response to the order of a court having jurisdiction to issue such an order;

(2) in accordance with the written instructions of the consumer to whom it relates;

(3) to a person which it has reason to believe:

(a) intends to use the information in connection with a credit transaction involving the consumer on whom the information is to be furnished and involving the extension of credit to, or review or collection of an account of, the consumer;

(b) intends to use the information for employment purposes;

(c) intends to use the information in connection with the underwriting of insurance involving the consumer;

(d) intends to use the information in connection with a determination of the consumer's eligibility for a license or other benefit granted by a governmental instrumentality required by law to consider an applicant's financial responsibility or status; or

(e) otherwise has a legitimate business need for the information in connection with a business transaction involving the consumer.

History: En. 18-504 by Sec. 4, Ch. 547, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 18-504.

31-3-112. Obsolete information. No consumer reporting agency may make any consumer report containing any of the following items of information:

(1) bankruptcies which, from date of adjudication of the most recent bankruptcy, antedate the report by more than 14 years;

(2) suits and judgments which, from date of entry, antedate the report by more than 7 years or until the governing statute of limitations has expired, whichever is the longer period;

(3) paid tax liens which, from date of payment, antedate the report by more than 7 years;

(4) accounts placed for collection or charged to profit and loss which antedate the report by more than 7 years;

(5) records of arrest, indictment, or conviction of crime which, from date of disposition, release, or parole, antedate the report by more than 7 years;

(6) any other adverse item of information which antedates the report by more than 7 years.

31-3-113. Disclosure of investigative consumer reports. (1) A person may not procure or cause to be prepared or distribute an investigative consumer report on any consumer unless:

(a) it is clearly and accurately disclosed to the consumer that an investigative consumer report, including information as to the consumer's character, general reputation, personal characteristics, and mode of living, whichever are applicable, may be made and the disclosure is made in a writing mailed or otherwise delivered to the consumer not later than 3 days after the date on which the report was first requested and includes a statement informing the consumer of the right to request the additional disclosures provided for under subsection (2); or

(b) the report is to be used for employment purposes for which the consumer applied.

(2) Any person who procures or causes to be prepared an investigative consumer report on any consumer shall, upon written request made by the consumer within a reasonable period of time after the receipt by the person of the disclosure required by subsection (1)(a), make a complete and accurate disclosure of the nature, scope, and substance of the investigation requested. This disclosure must be made in a writing and must be mailed or otherwise delivered to the consumer not later than 5 days after the date on which the request for the disclosure was received from the consumer or the report was first requested, whichever is later.

(3) A person may not be held liable for any violation of subsection (1) or (2) if the person shows by a preponderance of the evidence that at the time of the violation the person maintained reasonable procedures to ensure compliance with subsection (1) or (2).

History: En. 18-506 by Sec. 6, Ch. 547, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 18-506; amd. Sec. 1003, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

Cross-References

31-3-114. Compliance procedures. (1) Every consumer reporting agency shall maintain reasonable procedures designed to avoid violations of 31-3-112 and 31-3-113 and to limit the furnishing of consumer reports to the purposes listed under 31-3-111. These procedures must require that prospective users of the information identify themselves, certify the purposes for which the information is sought, and certify that the information will be used for no other purpose. Every consumer reporting agency shall make a reasonable effort to verify the identity of a new prospective user and the uses certified by the prospective user prior to furnishing the user a consumer report. A consumer reporting agency may not furnish a consumer report to any person if it has reasonable grounds for believing that the consumer report will not be used for a purpose listed in 31-3-111.

(2) Whenever a consumer reporting agency prepares a consumer report, it shall follow reasonable procedures to assure maximum possible accuracy of the information concerning the individual about whom the report relates, and it shall maintain a record of all persons using the information and the source of each piece of information.

(3) When gathering information, a consumer reporting agency shall notify any person who furnishes information that the person is liable to suit if the information is false or furnished with malice or willful intent to injure the consumer.

History: En. 18-507 by Sec. 7, Ch. 547, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 18-507; amd. Sec. 1004, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

31-3-115. Adverse information. (1) Whenever a consumer reporting agency prepares an investigative consumer report, adverse information in the consumer report, other than information that is a matter of public record, may not be included in a subsequent consumer report unless the adverse information has been verified in the process of making the subsequent consumer report.

(2) A consumer reporting agency shall block the reporting of any information in the file of a consumer that the consumer identifies as information that resulted from an alleged identity theft, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 1681c-2.

31-3-116 through 31-3-120 reserved.

31-3-121. Disclosures to governmental agencies. Notwithstanding the provisions of 31-3-111, a consumer reporting agency may furnish identifying information respecting any consumer, limited to the consumer's name, address, former addresses, places of employment, or former places of employment, to a governmental agency.

History: En. 18-509 by Sec. 9, Ch. 547, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 18-509; amd. Sec. 1005, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

31-3-122. Disclosures to consumers. (1) Every consumer reporting agency shall, upon request and proper identification of any consumer, clearly and accurately disclose to the consumer:

(a) the nature and substance of all information (except medical information) in its files on the consumer at the time of the request; and

(b) the sources of the information.

(2) The requirements of subsection (1) respecting the disclosure of sources of information and the recipients of consumer reports furnished prior to July 1, 1975, do not apply to existing consumer reporting agencies except to the extent that the matter involved is contained in the files of the consumer reporting agency on that date.

History: En. 18-510 by Sec. 10, Ch. 547, L. 1975; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 185, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 18-510.

31-3-123. Conditions of disclosure to consumer. (1) A consumer reporting agency shall make the disclosures required under 31-3-122 during normal business hours and on reasonable notice.

(2) The disclosures required under 31-3-122 must be made to the consumer:

(a) in person if the consumer appears in person and furnishes proper identification; or

(b) by telephone if the consumer has made a written request, with proper identification for telephone disclosure, and the toll charge, if any, for the telephone call is prepaid by or charged directly to the consumer.

(3) Any consumer reporting agency shall provide trained personnel to explain to the consumer any information furnished to the consumer pursuant to 31-3-122.

(4) The consumer must be permitted to be accompanied by one other person of the consumer's choosing, who shall furnish reasonable identification. A consumer reporting agency may require the consumer to furnish a written statement granting permission to the consumer reporting agency to discuss the consumer's file in the other person's presence.

History: En. 18-511 by Sec. 11, Ch. 547, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 18-511; amd. Sec. 1006, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

31-3-124. Procedure in case of disputed accuracy. (1) If the completeness or accuracy of any item of information contained in this file is disputed by a consumer and the dispute is directly conveyed to the consumer reporting agency by the consumer, the consumer reporting agency shall within a reasonable period of time reinvestigate and record the current status of that information unless it has reasonable grounds to believe that the dispute by the consumer is frivolous or irrelevant. If after such reinvestigation such information is found to be inaccurate or can no longer be verified, the consumer reporting agency shall promptly delete the information and notify all users, of whom the consumer reporting agency has records, of the information's deletion. The users shall also delete the information.

(2) If the reinvestigation does not resolve the dispute, the consumer may file a brief statement setting forth the nature of the dispute.

(3) Whenever a statement of a dispute is filed, unless there are reasonable grounds to believe that it is frivolous or irrelevant, the consumer reporting agency shall, in any subsequent consumer report containing the information in question, clearly note that it is disputed by the consumer and provide either the consumer's statement or a clear and accurate codification or summary thereof. The consumer reporting agency shall notify the consumer of all users, of whom it has records, who have the disputed information.

31-3-126. Public record information for employment purposes. A consumer reporting agency which furnishes a consumer report for employment purposes and which for that purpose compiles and reports items of information on consumers which are matters of public record and are likely to have an adverse effect upon a consumer's ability to obtain employment shall:

(1) at the time such public record information is reported to the user of such consumer report, notify the consumer of the fact that public record information is being reported by the consumer reporting agency, together with the name and address of the person to whom such information is being reported; or

(2) maintain strict procedures designed to insure that whenever public record information which is likely to have an adverse effect on a consumer's ability to obtain employment is reported it is complete and up-to-date. For purposes of this paragraph, items of public record relating to arrests, indictments, convictions, suits, tax liens, and outstanding judgments shall be considered up-to-date if the current public record status of the item at the time of the report is reported.

31-3-131. Requirements on users of consumer reports. (1) Whenever credit or insurance for personal, family, or household purposes or employment involving a consumer is denied or the charge for the credit or insurance is increased either wholly or partly because of information contained in a consumer report from a consumer reporting agency, the user of the consumer report shall advise the consumer against whom the adverse action has been taken and supply the name and address of the consumer reporting agency making the report.

(2) Whenever credit for personal, family, or household purposes involving a consumer is denied or the charge for the credit is increased either wholly or partly because of information obtained from a person other than a consumer reporting agency bearing upon the consumer's credit worthiness, credit standing, credit capacity, character, general reputation, personal characteristics, or mode of living, the user of the information shall, within a reasonable period of time, upon the consumer's written request for the reasons for the adverse action received within 60 days after the consumer learned of the adverse action, disclose the nature of the information to the consumer. The user of the information shall clearly and accurately disclose to the consumer the right to make the written request at the time the adverse action is communicated to the consumer.

(3) A person may not be held liable for any violation of this section if the person shows by a preponderance of the evidence that at the time of the alleged violation the person maintained reasonable procedures to ensure compliance with the provisions of subsections (1) and (2).

History: En. 18-515 by Sec. 15, Ch. 547, L. 1975; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 185, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 18-515; amd. Sec. 1007, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

31-3-132. Block of information on credit report. (1) Within 30 days after a consumer reporting agency receives from a consumer a complaint of identity theft and documentation as provided in subsection (2), the consumer reporting agency shall permanently block any information that the consumer identifies from the consumer's report that resulted from identity theft as defined in 45-6-332.

(2) To request a block of information on a consumer report, a consumer shall provide a consumer reporting agency with:

(a) a copy of a police report or an identity theft passport as provided in 46-24-220;

(b) the specific description of information that is to be blocked because it was a result of a violation of 45-6-332.

(3) A consumer reporting agency shall notify the person furnishing the information that a police report has been filed and that a block has been requested and shall notify the person of the effective date of the block.

(4) A consumer reporting agency may decline to block information or may rescind any block of information if, in the exercise of good faith and reasonable judgment, the consumer reporting agency believes that:

(a) the information was blocked because of a misrepresentation of fact by the consumer in requesting the block under this section;

(b) the consumer agrees that the blocked information or portions of the blocked information were blocked in error; or

(c) the consumer knowingly obtained possession of goods, services, or money as a result of the transaction for which information was blocked or the consumer should have known that possession of goods, services, or money occurred because of the transaction for which information was blocked.

(5) If a consumer reporting agency declines to block information or rescinds a blocking of information under this section, the consumer reporting agency shall notify the consumer promptly in the same manner as required in 15 U.S.C. 1681i. The prior presence of the blocked information in the consumer reporting agency's file on the consumer is not evidence of whether the consumer knew or should have known that the consumer obtained possession of any goods, services, or money.

(6) In order to facilitate a consumer's right to block information as provided in subsection (1), a law enforcement agency shall provide to the consumer at the consumer's request a copy of a police report filed by the consumer that indicates that the consumer is a victim under 45-6-332.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 195, L. 2007.

31-3-133 through 31-3-140 reserved.

31-3-141. Actions available to consumer. (1) A consumer may bring action in the nature of defamation, invasion of privacy, or negligence with respect to the reporting of information against any person who fails to comply with this part.

(2) A person who fails to delete information or incorporate into a report a consumer's statement of dispute because the person judges the dispute to be frivolous or irrelevant is liable to suit.

(3) A person, other than the department of public health and human services under 40-5-261, who furnishes information to a consumer reporting agency that is false or a person who furnishes the information with malice or willful intent to injure the concerned consumer is liable to suit.

(4) A consumer who disputes the result of a reinvestigation conducted under 31-3-124 of the accuracy of information provided by the department of public health and human services may petition for an administrative hearing pursuant to 40-5-261.

Part 1
Litigation Financing Transparency and Consumer Protection Act

31-4-101. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Litigation Financing Transparency and Consumer Protection Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 360, L. 2023.

31-4-102. Definitions. For the purposes of this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Consumer" means any person who is or may become a plaintiff, claimant, or complainant in conjunction with or in pursuit of a legal claim.

(2) "Entity" means any domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, limited partnership, limited liability company, trust, fund, plan, or any other business, enterprise, association, or organization of any kind or nature.

(3) "Legal claim" means a civil action, administrative proceeding, claim, or cause of action to recover damages or any form of monetary or injunctive relief in this state.

(4) "Legal representative" means an attorney or group of attorneys or law firm or group of law firms engaged to represent a consumer in conjunction with or in pursuit of a legal claim.

(5) (a) "Litigation financer" means any person or group of persons engaged in, or formed, created, or established for the purpose of engaging in, the business of litigation financing or any other business or economic activity in which a person or group of persons receive consideration of any kind in exchange for providing litigation financing.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) a party to the legal claim;

(ii) a legal representative engaged directly, or indirectly through another legal representative, to represent a party in conjunction with or in pursuit of the legal claim; or

(iii) an entity or insurer with a preexisting contractual obligation to indemnify or defend a party to a legal claim.

(6) "Litigation financing" means:

(a) the financing, funding, advancing, or loaning of money to a legal representative or to any person who has or may pursue or assert a legal claim or who is or may become a plaintiff in conjunction with or in pursuit of a legal claim if:

(i) repayment of all or a portion of the amount financed, funded, advanced, or loaned is contingent in any respect on the outcome of a legal claim or group of legal claims;

(ii) repayment is required only if the person prevails in conjunction with or in pursuit of a legal claim; or

(iii) the money or funds for the repayment of any amount of the financing, funding, advance, or loan is derived or sourced, directly or indirectly, from the proceeds of or other consideration realized from a judgment, award, settlement, verdict, or other form of monetary relief the person or legal representative may receive or recover in conjunction with or in pursuit of a legal claim or group of legal claims; or

(b) any agreement or arrangement involving the financing, funding, advancing, or loaning of money to a legal representative if the repayment of all or a portion of the amount financed, funded, advanced, or loaned is contingent on the outcome of any single legal claim or group of legal claims in which the legal representative represents one or more consumers.

(7) (a) "Litigation financing contract" means a written contract in which a person agrees to provide litigation financing to any person in consideration for:

(i) the payment of interest, fees, or other consideration to the person providing the litigation financing; or

(ii) granting or assigning to the person providing the litigation financing a right to receive payment from the value of any proceeds or other consideration realized from any judgment, award, settlement, verdict, or other form of monetary relief any consumer, legal representative, or other person may receive or recover in relation to the legal claim.

(b) The term includes an agreement related to a litigation financing contract.

(c) The term does not include any agreement, contract, or engagement of a legal representative to render legal services to a consumer on a contingency fee basis, including the advancement of legal costs by the legal representative, in which the services or costs are provided to or on behalf of a consumer by the legal representative representing the consumer in the legal claim.

(8) "Person" means an individual or an entity.

(9) "Proprietary information" means any documents, records, or information received by a party in conjunction with or in pursuit of a legal claim that has economic or commercial value in any person's business and is:

(a) designated as proprietary information by a party to the legal claim; or

(b) subject to a court order to protect, seal, or otherwise restrict the disclosure or sharing of the documents, records, or information.

(10) "Regulated lender" has the same meaning as in 31-1-111.

(11) "Secretary" means the secretary of state provided for in Title 2, chapter 15, part 4.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 360, L. 2023; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 413, L. 2025.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 1, Ch. 413, L. 2025. Amendment effective May 5, 2025.

Applicability: Section 15, Ch. 413, L. 2025, provided: "[This act] applies to litigation financing contracts entered into on or after [the effective date of this act]." Effective May 5, 2025.

31-4-103. Registration. (1) A person may not engage in litigation financing in this state unless the person is registered with the secretary of state as a litigation financer pursuant to this part.

(2) If the person registering as a litigation financer is an entity:

(a) the entity must be active and in good standing as reflected in the office of the secretary of state; and

(b) the entity's articles of incorporation, charter, articles of organization, certificate of limited partnership, or other organizational or governing document must contain a statement that the entity has the power to engage in the business of litigation financing and is designated as a litigation financer pursuant to this part.

(3) To register as a litigation financer, a person shall file a registration statement with the secretary of state setting forth the following information:

(a) the legal name of the litigation financer;

(b) the physical street address and mailing address of the litigation financer;

(c) a telephone number or e-mail address through which the litigation financer may be contacted;

(d) the physical street address and mailing address of the licensed financer's registered office and the name of the registered agent at the registered office who is authorized to accept service of process on behalf of the licensed financer; and

(e) any other information the secretary of state considers necessary.

(4) If the person seeking to register as a litigation financer is an entity, the following information must be set forth in the registration statement with respect to each person that, directly or indirectly, owns, controls, holds with the power to vote, or holds proxies representing 5% or more of the voting securities of the litigation financer:

(a) the legal name, physical street address, and mailing address of each person;

(b) if the person is an individual:

(i) the individual's occupation;

(ii) any offices and positions held with the litigation financer during the past 5 years; and

(iii) any conviction of a crime other than misdemeanor traffic violations during the past 10 years;

(c) if the person is an entity:

(i) the nature of the entity's business operations, if any, during the past 5 years or a description of the business intended to be done by the entity and the entity's subsidiaries, if any; and

(ii) a list of all individuals who are or who have been selected to become directors or officers of the entity and each subsidiary of the entity. The list must include for each individual the information required by subsection (2).

(5) A litigation financer subject to registration under this part shall file an amended registration within 30 days whenever the information contained in the most recently filed registration changes or becomes inaccurate or incomplete in any respect.

(6) The secretary of state is authorized to prescribe the forms and the filing fees the secretary of state considers necessary for the purposes of this part.

(7) All documents and information filed with the secretary of state pursuant to this section are public records.

(8) The secretary of state's duty to file documents under this section is ministerial. The secretary of state's filing or refusing to file a document does not create a presumption that:

(a) the document does or does not conform to the requirements of this chapter; or

(b) the information contained in the document is correct or incorrect.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 360, L. 2023.

31-4-104. Litigation financing protections. (1) A litigation financer may not:

(a) pay or offer commissions, referral fees, rebates, or other forms of consideration to any person in exchange for referring a consumer to a litigation financer;

(b) accept any commissions, referral fees, rebates, or other forms of consideration from any person providing any goods or rendering any services to the consumer;

(c) charge a rate of interest that exceeds the rate of interest allowed under 31-1-107;

(d) receive or recover any payment that exceeds 25% of the amount of any judgment, award, settlement, verdict, or other form of monetary relief obtained in the civil action, administrative proceeding, claim, or cause of action that is the subject of the litigation contract;

(e) advertise false or misleading information regarding its products or services;

(f) refer or require any consumer to hire or engage any person providing any goods or rendering any services to the consumer;

(g) fail to promptly deliver a fully completed and signed litigation financing contract to the consumer and the consumer's legal representative;

(h) attempt to secure a remedy or obtain a waiver of any remedy, including but not limited to compensatory, statutory, or punitive damages, that the consumer may or may not be entitled to pursue or recover otherwise;

(i) offer or provide legal advice to the consumer;

(j) assign, including securitizing, a litigation financing contract in whole or in part;

(k) report a consumer to a credit reporting agency if insufficient funds remain to repay the litigation financer in full from the proceeds received from any judgment, award, settlement, verdict, or other form of monetary relief obtained in the civil action, administrative proceeding, claim, or cause of action that is the subject of the litigation financing contract;

(l) make a decision, influence, or direct a decision regarding a legal claim to recover damages including decisions in appointing or changing counsel, choice or use of expert witnesses, litigation strategy, and settlement or other resolution; or

(m) demand, request, receive, or exercise any right to influence, affect, or otherwise make any decision in the handling, conduct, administration, litigation, settlement, or resolution of any civil action, administrative proceeding, claim, or cause of action in which the litigation financer has provided litigation financing. All rights remain solely with the consumer and the consumer's legal representative.

(2) A person who provides any goods or renders any services to the consumer may not have a financial interest in litigation financing and may not receive any commissions, referral fees, rebates, or other forms of consideration from any litigation financer or the litigation financer's employees, owners, or affiliates.

(3) A party, attorney or law firm representing a party, or affiliated attorney or law firm may not disclose or share any information with a litigation financer that is subject to a protective or sealing order from a court.

(4) A party to a legal claim may not disclose to or share with a litigation financer any proprietary information received in the course of or in conjunction with a legal claim.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 2, Ch. 413, L. 2025. Amendment effective May 5, 2025.

Applicability: Section 15, Ch. 413, L. 2025, provided: "[This act] applies to litigation financing contracts entered into on or after [the effective date of this act]." Effective May 5, 2025.

31-4-105 and 31-4-106 reserved.

31-4-107. Litigation financing contract — disclosures. (1) The terms and conditions of a litigation financing contract must be set forth in a fully completed written contract with no terms or conditions omitted. The litigation financing contract must contain all terms and conditions at the time it is signed by any party to the litigation financing contract.

(2) On execution of a litigation financing contract, a litigation financer may not amend the terms or conditions of the litigation financing contract without full disclosure to and the prior written consent of all parties to the litigation financing contract.

(3) A litigation financing contract must set forth the name, physical street address, and mailing address of the litigation financer on page 1 of the litigation financing contract.

(4) A litigation financing contract must contain the following disclosures that constitute material terms and conditions of the litigation financing contract and must be typed in at least 14-point bold font and be placed clearly and conspicuously immediately above the consumer's signature line in the litigation financing contract:

"IMPORTANT DISCLOSURES — PLEASE READ CAREFULLY

1. Right to Cancellation: You may cancel this litigation financing contract without penalty or further obligation within five (5) business days from the date you sign this contract or the date you receive financing from the litigation financer, whichever date is later. You may cancel by sending a notice of cancellation to the litigation financer and returning to the litigation financer any funds received from the litigation financer at the litigation financer's address set forth on page 1 of this contract.

2. The maximum amount the litigation financer may receive or recover from any payment may not exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the amount of any judgment, award, settlement, verdict, or other form of monetary relief obtained in the civil action, administrative proceeding, claim, or cause of action that is the subject of this litigation contract.

3. The litigation financer agrees that it has no right to, and will not demand, request, receive, or exercise any right to, influence, affect, or otherwise make any decision in the handling, conduct, administration, litigation, settlement, or resolution of your civil action, administrative proceeding, claim, or cause of action. All of these rights remain solely with you and your legal representative.

4. If there is no recovery of any money from your civil action, administrative proceeding, claim, or cause of action, or if there is not enough money to satisfy in full the portion assigned to the litigation financer, you will not owe anything in excess of your recovery.

5. You are entitled to a fully completed contract with no terms or conditions omitted prior to signing. Before signing this contract, you should read the contract completely and consult an attorney."

(5) If the consumer is represented by a legal representative in the civil action, administrative proceeding, claim, or cause of action that is the subject of the litigation financing contract, the legal representative shall acknowledge in the contract that the legal representative and the legal representative's employer and employees have not received or paid a referral fee or any other consideration from or to the litigation financer and have no obligation to do so in the future.

(6) If the consumer's legal representative is a party to a litigation financing contract related to the consumer's civil action, administrative proceeding, claim, or cause of action that is the subject of the litigation financing contract, the legal representative shall disclose and deliver the litigation financing contract to the consumer. Following this disclosure and delivery, the consumer shall sign an acknowledgment that the consumer has read and understands the terms and conditions of the litigation financing contract and the consumer must be provided with a copy of the acknowledgment.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 360, L. 2023.

31-4-108. Disclosure and discovery of litigation financing contracts. (1) Except as otherwise stipulated or ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction, a consumer or the consumer's legal representative or a party or a party's legal representative shall, without awaiting a discovery request, disclose and deliver to the following persons the litigation financing contract:

(a) each party to the civil action, administrative proceeding, claim, or cause of action, or to each party's legal representative;

(b) the court, agency, or tribunal in which the civil action, administrative proceeding, claim, or cause of action may be pending; and

(c) any known person, including an insurer, with a preexisting contractual obligation to indemnify or defend a party to the civil action, administrative proceeding, claim, or cause of action.

(2) The disclosure obligation under subsection (1) exists regardless of whether a civil action or an administrative proceeding has commenced.

(3) The disclosure obligation under subsection (1) is a continuing obligation, and within 30 days of entering into a litigation financing contract or amending an existing litigation financing contract, the consumer or the consumer's legal representative or a party or a party's legal representative shall disclose and deliver any new or amended litigation financing contracts.

(4) The existence of the litigation financing contract and all participants or parties to a litigation financing contract are permissible subjects of discovery in any civil action, administrative proceeding, claim, or cause of action to which litigation financing is provided under the litigation financing contract, regardless of whether a civil action or an administrative proceeding has commenced.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 3, Ch. 413, L. 2025. Amendment effective May 5, 2025.

Applicability: Section 15, Ch. 413, L. 2025, provided: "[This act] applies to litigation financing contracts entered into on or after [the effective date of this act]." Effective May 5, 2025.

31-4-109 through 31-4-111 reserved.

31-4-112. Class actions. This part applies to any civil action filed or certified as a class action in which litigation financing is provided. A litigation financer owes a fiduciary duty to all class members or intended beneficiaries of a certified class and shall act in a manner consistent with the litigation financer's fiduciary duty throughout the civil action. In addition to the disclosure requirements set forth in this part, the legal representative of the putative class shall disclose to all parties, putative class members, and the court any legal, financial, or other relationship between the legal representative and the litigation financer. A class member is entitled to receive from the class counsel a true and correct copy of the litigation financing contract on request.

31-4-118. Exemptions. This part does not apply to the following:

(1) a nonprofit entity that is exempt from federal income taxation under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code or a nonprofit entity that provides litigation financing, funding, or money to a legal representative to represent a consumer on a pro bono basis, provided that the nonprofit entity does not receive in consideration for the litigation financing the payment of interest, fees, or other consideration in excess of the amount of attorney fees and litigation expenses incurred in conjunction with or in pursuit of the legal claim;

(2) any litigation financing provided by an entity engaged in commerce or business activity, but only if the entity does not:

(a) charge or collect any interest, fees, or other consideration;

(b) retain or receive any financial interest in the outcome of the legal claim; or

(c) receive any right to recovery or payment from the amount of any judgment, award, settlement, verdict, or other form of monetary relief obtained in conjunction with or in pursuit of the legal claim; or

(3) a regulated lender that does not receive, in consideration for loaning money to any person, a right to receive payment from the value of any proceeds or other consideration realized from any judgment award, settlement, verdict, or other form of monetary relief any person may receive or recover in conjunction with or in pursuit of the legal claim.

31-4-119. Act violation — unenforceable contract. (1) Any violation of this part by the litigation financer renders the litigation financing contract unenforceable by the litigation financer or any successor-in-interest to the litigation financing contract.

(2) If a litigation financer charges a rate of interest that exceeds the rate of interest allowed under 31-1-107, the litigation financer shall be subject to a penalty for usury and an action to recover excessive interest as authorized under 31-1-108.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 360, L. 2023.

31-4-120. Joint and several liability for costs. A litigation financer is jointly and severally liable for any award or order imposing or assessing costs or monetary sanctions against a consumer or a party's legal representative arising from or relating to any civil action, administrative proceeding, claim, or cause of action for which the litigation financer is providing litigation financing.

General Provisions — Definitions

Part Cross-References

Financial institution's responsibility to provide notice when funds become available for withdrawal, 32-1-440.

32-1-101. Short title — application — purpose. (1) Parts 1 through 5 of this chapter may be known as the "Bank Act".

(2) The Bank Act is applicable to:

(a) all corporations and persons specified in 32-1-102;

(b) corporations that subject themselves to the Bank Act; and

(c) persons, partnerships, or corporations who by violating the Bank Act become subject to the penalties provided in the Bank Act.

(3) (a) The purpose of the Bank Act is to provide Montana with a sound system of state-chartered banks by providing for and encouraging the development of state-chartered banks while restricting their activities to the extent necessary to protect the interests of depositors. The purpose includes:

(i) the sound conduct of the business of banks;

(ii) the conservation of bank assets;

(iii) the maintenance of adequate reserves against deposits;

(iv) the opportunity for banks to compete with other businesses, including but not limited to other financial organizations existing under the laws of this state, other states, the United States, and foreign countries;

(v) the opportunity for banks to serve the citizens of this state;

(vi) the opportunity for banks to participate in and promote the economic progress of Montana and the United States;

(vii) the opportunity for the management of banks to exercise business judgment in conducting the affairs of their institutions; and

(viii) modernization and simplification of the law governing banking by providing that banks have all the rights and powers granted corporations, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

(b) The Bank Act does not restrict the activities of banks for the purpose of protecting any person from competition from banks and does not confer any right or cause of action upon any competitor.

(c) The purpose contained in this subsection (3) constitutes the standards to be observed by the commissioner of banking and financial institutions in the exercise of authority under the Bank Act and provides guidelines in the construction and application of the Bank Act.

(4) to act as agent for the investment of money for other persons or corporations and as agents for persons and corporations for the purpose of issuing, registering, transferring, or countersigning the certificates of stock, bonds, or other evidence of debt of any corporation, association, municipality, state, or public authority as may be agreed upon;

(5) except as provided in Title 72, chapter 40, part 1, to accept from and execute trusts for married persons in respect to their individual property, whether real or personal, and act as agents for them in the management of the property and generally to have and exercise powers as are usually had and exercised by trust companies;

(6) except as provided in Title 72, chapter 40, part 1, to act as trustee, assignee, or receiver in all cases where it is lawful for any court of record, officer, corporation, or person to appoint a trustee, assignee, or receiver and to be appointed a trustee, assignee, or receiver and to be appointed, commissioned, and act as administrator of any estate, executor of any last will and testament of any deceased person, and as guardian of the person and estate of any minor or minors or of the estate of any person of unsound mind, spendthrift, habitual drunkard, or other persons disqualified or unable to manage their estates;

(7) to loan money upon unencumbered real estate, collateral, or personal security and execute and issue notes and debentures payable at a future date and to pledge its mortgages upon real estate and other securities as security for the notes and debentures;

(8) to buy and sell:

(a) government, state, county, municipal, and other bonds. The trust company may invest in United States obligations either directly or in the form of securities of or other interests in an open-end or closed-end management type investment company or investment trust registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80a-1 through 80a-64), as amended, if:

(i) the portfolio of the investment company or investment trust is limited to United States government obligations and repurchase agreements fully collateralized by United States government obligations; and

(ii) the investment company or investment trust takes delivery of the collateral for any repurchase agreement, either directly or through an authorized custodian.

(b) all kinds of negotiable, nonnegotiable, and commercial paper, stocks, and other investment securities; and

(c) gold and silver bullion, foreign coins, bills of exchange, and foreign and domestic exchange;

(9) to accept, receive, and hold money on deposit, payable either on time or on demand, with or without interest, as may be agreed upon with the depositors; to take and receive from any individual or corporation on deposit for safekeeping and storage, gold and silver plate, jewelry, stocks, securities, and other valuable and personal property; to collect coupons, interest, and dividends on securities described in this section; and to rent out the use of safes and other receptacles on their premises upon terms and for compensation as may be agreed upon.

32-1-109. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Acquire" means:

(a) the direct or indirect purchase or exchange of stock;

(b) the direct or indirect purchase of assets and liabilities; or

(c) a merger.

(2) "Acquiring party" means the person acquiring control of a bank through the purchase of stock.

(3) "Affiliate" has the meaning given in 12 U.S.C. 1841(k).

(4) "Bank holding company" means a bank holding company or a financial holding company registered under the federal Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended, regardless of where the entity is located or has its headquarters.

(5) "Branch" means:

(a) in the case of a bank, a banking house, other than the main banking house, maintained and operated by a bank doing business in the state and at which deposits are received, checks are paid, or money is lent. The term does not include a satellite terminal as defined in 32-6-103, an interactive teller machine as defined in this section, a loan production office, or the office of an affiliated depository institution acting as an agent under 12 U.S.C. 1828.

(b) in the case of a trust company, any office at which trust services are provided.

(6) "Capital", "capital stock", and "paid-in capital" mean that fund for which certificates of stock are issued to stockholders.

(7) "Consolidate" and "merge" mean the same thing and may be used interchangeably in this chapter.

(8) "Control" means:

(a) ownership of, authority over, or power to vote, directly or indirectly, 25% or more of any class of voting security;

(b) authority in any manner over the election of a majority of directors; or

(c) power to exercise, directly or indirectly, a controlling influence over management and policies.

(9) "Demand deposits" means all deposits, the payment of which can legally be required when demanded.

(10) "Department" means the department of administration provided for in Title 2, chapter 15, part 10.

(11) "Depository institution" means a bank or savings association organized under the laws of a state or the United States.

(12) "Division" means the division of banking and financial institutions of the department.

(13) "Doing business in this state" means located in this state or having a physical branch bank location in this state.

(14) "Headquarters" means the state in which the activities of a bank holding company or a company controlling the bank holding company are principally conducted within the meaning of the federal Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended.

(15) "Insured depository institution" means a bank or savings association in which the deposits are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation.

(16) "Interactive teller machine" means an automated, unstaffed banking facility owned or operated by, or operated exclusively for, a bank that is equipped to enable existing customers to initiate an interactive session with remotely located bank personnel. Customers must also be able to perform core banking transactions at the machine without the involvement of bank personnel and must have the sole discretion to initiate or terminate interactive sessions with bank personnel.

(17) "Loan production office" means a staffed facility, other than a branch, that provides lending-related services to the public, including loan information and applications.

(18) "Located in this state" means:

(a) in the case of a bank, that the bank is either organized under the laws of this state or is a federally chartered bank whose organizational certificate identifies an address in this state as the principal place at which the business of the federally chartered bank is conducted; and

(b) in the case of a bank holding company, that the entity, partnership, or trust is organized under the laws of this state.

(19) "Main banking house" means the designated principal place of business of a bank.

(20) "Net earnings" means the excess of the gross earnings of a bank over expenses and losses chargeable against those earnings during any 1 year.

(21) "Principal shareholder" means a person who directly or indirectly owns or controls, individually or through others, more than 10% of any class of voting stock.

(22) "Profit and loss account" or "profit and loss" means that account carried on the books of the bank into which all earnings accounts and recoveries are closed, thus exhibiting "gross earnings", and against which all loss and other disbursement items are charged, revealing "net earnings", which are then properly closed to "undivided profits accounts" or "undivided profits", out of which dividends are paid and reserves set aside.

(23) "Regional banking organization" means a bank organized in this state that is owned by an entity with consolidated total assets between $10 billion and $50 billion and that has subsidiaries operating in one or more states but not nationwide.

(24) "Savings association" means a savings association or savings bank organized under the laws of the United States or a building and loan association, savings and loan association, or similar entity organized under the laws of a state.

(25) (a) "Service provider" means an individual or person that provides one or more of the following services to a depository institution:

(i) data processing services;

(ii) activities supporting financial services, including but not limited to lending, funds transfer, fiduciary activities, trading activities, and deposit taking;

(iii) internet-related services, including but not limited to web services and electronic bill payments, mobile applications, system and software development and maintenance, and security monitoring; and

(iv) activities related to the business of banking.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) an individual or person that provides telecommunications service, internet access service, internet transport services, voice over internet protocol service, or other internet protocol-enabled service; or

(ii) a general audience internet or communications platform.

(26) "Shell bank" means a bank organized solely for the purpose of, and that does not conduct any banking business prior to, acquiring control of, merging with, or acquiring all or substantially all of the assets of an existing bank or savings association.

(27) "Subsidiary" means a company 25% or more of whose voting shares or equity interests are owned and controlled by a bank.

(28) "Surplus" means a fund paid in or created under this chapter by a bank from its net earnings or undivided profits that, when set apart and designated as surplus, is not available for the payment of dividends and cannot be used for the payment of expenses or losses so long as the bank has undivided profits.

(29) "Tier 1 leverage ratio" means the ratio of tier 1 capital to average total assets as defined in 12 CFR 324.10(b)(4).

(30) "Time deposits" means all deposits, the payment of which cannot legally be required within 7 days.

(31) "Undivided profits" means the credit balance of the profit and loss account of a bank.

32-1-115. Student financial institution defined — obligations of minor — applicability of laws. (1) The term "student financial institution" means a financial institution that:

(a) is located at a school or a location where educational services are provided;

(b) is operated as a financial literacy educational program;

(c) is operated by one or more state-chartered or federally chartered financial institutions, limited to a state or national bank, a state or federal savings and loan association, a trust company, an investment company, or a state or federal credit union;

(d) does not provide services to the general public; and

(e) conducts each program in a manner consistent with safe and sound banking practices and compliant with state law.

(2) To operate a student financial institution, a state-chartered bank, savings and loan association, trust company, investment company, or credit union shall provide written notice to the department.

(3) Establishing a student financial institution does not require a branch application.

(4) With regard to the operation of a student financial institution, the obligations of a minor pertaining to borrowing money, cashing checks, and making deposits have the same force and effect as though they were the obligations of a person over the age of majority.

(5) The provisions of 32-1-102, 32-1-402, 32-3-106, and this section apply to a student financial institution established pursuant to this section, but other provisions of Title 32, chapters 1 through 3, or any other provision of state law that regulates banks, credit unions, other financial institutions, or currency exchanges do not apply.

32-1-207 through 32-1-210 reserved.

32-1-211. Examination and supervision by department — division of banking and financial institutions — commissioner — rulemaking. (1) The department shall:

(a) exercise constant supervision over the books and affairs of all banks and trust companies doing business in this state; and

(b) investigate the methods of operation and conduct of business of the banks and trust companies and their systems of accounting to ascertain whether the methods and systems are in accordance with law and sound banking principles.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3), the department shall:

(a) examine, at least once every 24 months, each bank or trust company and verify the assets and liabilities of each and investigate the character and value of the assets of each as to ascertain with reasonable certainty that the values are correctly carried on the books; and

(b) submit in writing to the examined bank or trust company a report of the examination's findings no later than 60 days after the completion of the examination.

(3) The department may accept as the examination required by subsection (2) the findings or results of an examination of a bank, trust company, or service provider that was made by a federal or a state regulatory agency or insuring agency of the United States authorized to make the examination.

(4) Whenever a depository institution or its subsidiary or the depository institution's affiliate, any of which is subject to examination by the department, causes any of the services listed for a service provider in 32-1-109 to be performed for itself, by contract or otherwise, the performance is subject to regulation and examination by the department to the same extent as if the services were performed by the depository institution itself.

(5) The department may:

(a) enter into joint examination or joint enforcement actions with other bank regulatory agencies having concurrent jurisdiction over a bank, trust company, or service provider;

(b) enter into agreements with any depository institution regulatory agency that has concurrent jurisdiction over a bank, trust company, or service provider to:

(i) engage the services of the agency's examiners at a reasonable rate of compensation; or

(ii) provide the services of the department's examiners to the agency at a reasonable rate of compensation;

(c) disclose to a bank information about a service provider of that bank.

(6) The department may in the performance of its official enforcement duties:

(a) examine under oath any of the officers, directors, agents, clerks, customers, or depositors of a bank or trust company regarding the affairs and business of the bank or trust company; and

(b) issue subpoenas and administer oaths.

(7) In case of a refusal to obey a subpoena issued by the department, the refusal may be reported to the district court of the district in which the bank or trust company is located. The court shall enforce obedience to the subpoena in the manner provided by law for enforcing obedience to the process of the court.

(8) In all matters relating to its official duties, the department has the same power possessed by courts of law to issue subpoenas and have them served and enforced.

(9) All officers, directors, agents, and employees of banks or trust companies doing business under this chapter and all persons having dealings with or knowledge of the affairs or methods of a bank or trust company shall:

(a) at all times afford reasonable facilities for the examinations;

(b) make returns and reports to the department as required by the department;

(c) attend hearings and answer under oath the department's inquiries;

(d) produce and exhibit any books, accounts, documents, and property the department desires to inspect; and

(e) in all things aid the department in the performance of its duty.

(10) There is within the department a division of banking and financial institutions. The head of the division is the commissioner of banking and financial institutions, who shall exercise supervision and control over the activities and employees of the division. The position of commissioner is an exempt position as provided in 2-18-103. The commissioner must be hired by and serve at the pleasure of the director of the department.

(11) The department may adopt rules to implement this section.

History: En. Sec. 71, Ch. 89, L. 1927; re-en. Sec. 6014.75, R.C.M. 1935; amd. Sec. 30, Ch. 431, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 5-901; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 9, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 199, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 395, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 75, L. 2019; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 23, L. 2023.

(2) The commissioner, any deputy commissioner, or any employee of the division, including a bank examiner, may not borrow money from an entity chartered or supervised by the department unless the extension of credit:

(a) is made on substantially the same terms as those prevailing at the time for comparable transactions by the financial institution with persons who are not employed by the division; and

(b) does not involve more than the normal risk of repayment or present other unfavorable features.

(3) For the purposes of this section, the phrase "substantially the same terms" includes interest rates and collateral and credit underwriting procedures that are not less stringent than those prevailing at the time for comparable transactions by the lender as for other borrowers who are not employed by the division.

(4) The department shall adopt rules to implement this section.

32-1-218. Department to make rules. (1) The department may promulgate reasonable rules and orders concerning bookkeeping and accounting by state banks, including the keeping of reasonable credit information, information in connection with assets, or information in connection with charged-off items.

(2) The department may adopt uniform rules to govern the examination and reports of banks and trust companies and prescribe the form in which banks and trust companies report their assets, liabilities, and reserves.

(3) The department may promulgate reasonable rules concerning applications for and determinations on applications for the formation, relocation, closure, and sale of branch banks and applications for the formation, consolidation, and merger of shell banks.

(4) The department may adopt rules, issue orders and declaratory statements, disseminate information, and exercise its discretion to effectuate the purposes, policies, and provisions of this chapter.

32-1-219. Reliance on order — limit on liability. A person acting in good faith reliance upon a rule, order, or declaratory statement issued by the division is not subject to any criminal, civil, or administrative liability for the action if a subsequent decision by a court of competent jurisdiction invalidates the rule, order, or declaratory statement. In the case of an order or declaratory statement that is not of general application, only the person to whom the order or declaratory statement was issued is entitled to rely upon it, unless a third person is dealing with material facts or circumstances that are substantially the same as those upon which the order or declaratory statement was based.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 395, L. 1993.

32-1-220. Access to holding companies and affiliated entities. The division may review the books and affairs of a bank holding company operating under the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956 during the course of a safety and soundness examination of the bank holding company's subsidiary bank to the extent that the records pertain to the operations and financial condition of the subsidiary bank or to the holding company's indebtedness. The authority granted in this section does not authorize the division to regulate or charge assessments to a bank holding company.

32-1-221. Regional banking organizations — department authority. (1) Notwithstanding 32-1-211(2)(b), the department shall submit to a regional banking organization a report of the examination findings no later than 90 days after the completion of the examination.

(2) The department has the same examination authority over the bank holding company of a regional banking organization as the department has over the regional banking organization.

(3) The department may:

(a) participate in examinations of bank holding companies of regional banking organizations with federal financial institution regulatory agencies and one or more state's financial regulatory departments; and

(b) take an enforcement action against the bank holding company of a regional banking organization pursuant to this chapter if the department considers the action to be necessary or appropriate to carry out its responsibilities under this chapter or to ensure compliance with the laws of this state.

(4) Notwithstanding 32-1-322, at least one-third of the board of directors of a regional banking organization must be residents of Montana.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 75, L. 2019.

32-1-222. Loan production office — rulemaking authority. (1) A bank may:

(a) establish and maintain a loan production office only after approval by the department; or

(b) relocate or close a loan production office after giving notice to its customers and the department.

(2) The department may adopt rules to implement this section.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 75, L. 2019; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 23, L. 2023.

32-1-223 through 32-1-230 reserved.

32-1-231. Reports to department. (1) A bank shall make to the department regular call reports at least three times each year according to the form that may be prescribed by the department, verified by oath or affirmation of the president, vice president, or cashier of the bank and attested by the signature of at least two of the directors other than the subscribing officer.

(2) Each call report must exhibit in detail, and under appropriate schedules, the resources and liabilities of the bank at the close of business on any past day specified by the department.

The "past day specified" by the department, under the provisions of this section, must be the day designated by the comptroller of currency of the United States for reports of national banking associations.

(3) The call report must be transmitted to the department within 30 days after the past day specified under subsection (2). A bank's successful and timely electronic transmittal of its call report to the applicable federal banking regulator or authority satisfies the bank's obligation to transmit the report to the department. The original signature page of the bank's call report that complies with subsection (1) must be permanently retained by the bank and available for the department's review. A nondepository trust company that is not insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation shall transmit its call report directly to the department in hard copy or imaged form.

Except for information made public by the federal deposit insurance corporation or other federal banking authority's publicly accessible website, any information contained in the reports and statements, the source documents from which this information is derived, and communications concerning reports and statements are confidential. Except as provided in subsection (1)(b), confidential information may not be disclosed to persons who are not officially associated with the department and may be used by the department only to further its official duties.

(b) The department may exchange information with federal financial institution regulatory agencies and with the financial regulatory departments of other states. The department may furnish reports of its examination findings under 32-1-211, 32-1-215, and 32-1-216 to a federal home loan bank, as defined in the Federal Home Loan Bank Act of 1932, 12 U.S.C. 1422. The department may furnish information to the legislative auditor for use in pursuit of official duties. A prosecuting official may obtain the information by court order.

(2) Any knowledge or information gained or discovered by the department in pursuance of its powers or duties is confidential information of the department. The information may not, except as provided in subsection (1)(b), be disclosed to any person not officially associated with the department. The information must be used by the department only to further its official duties.

(3) An employee or agent of the department who violates this section or willfully makes a false official report as to the condition of a bank must be removed from office and is also guilty of a felony. On conviction, the person shall be fined an amount not exceeding $1,000, imprisoned in a state correctional facility for a term not exceeding 5 years, or both.

32-1-240. Application to organize bank — rulemaking. (1) Any five or more individuals, at least three of whom are residents of the state, may file an application to incorporate a proposed bank. The application must be in the form and contain the information prescribed by the department by rule. A nonrefundable application fee, as set by the department by rule, must accompany the application.

(2) The information must be set forth in the application in sufficient detail to allow the commissioner to determine if the proposed new bank meets the requirements set forth in 32-1-242 and 32-1-244.

(3) The department shall adopt rules to implement 32-1-240 through 32-1-245.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 23, L. 2023.

32-1-241. Authority to require additional investigatory information — fingerprinting. (1) The department may investigate any person named in the application or in other documents submitted for filing. The department may require the person to provide additional information for the department's further inquiry.

(2) For the purpose of further inquiry, the department may require any of the following individuals to submit fingerprints for submission to the federal bureau of investigation and any governmental agency or entity authorized to receive information for a state, national, and international criminal history background check:

(a) any individual required to be named in the application to organize; and

(b) any individual named in the proposed articles of incorporation of the bank or documents submitted for filing as a prospective incorporator, director, president, or officer of the bank.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 23, L. 2023.

32-1-242. Department to review application. (1) The department shall ensure that sufficient information has been submitted to allow the commissioner to determine whether:

(a) the purposes of the proposed bank as stated in the proposed bank's business plan, articles of incorporation, and the application are consistent with the Bank Act;

(b) the character, financial responsibility, and general fitness of the owners and managers of the proposed bank command the confidence of the community in which the proposed bank is to be located and warrant the belief that the business of the proposed corporation will be honestly and efficiently conducted;

(c) the proposed directors and officers are competent to successfully manage a bank;

(d) there is a reasonable assurance of sufficient volume of business for the proposed bank to be economically viable;

(e) the suggested capitalization is adequate for the proposed banking institution's anticipated development and growth within a reasonable period of time;

(f) there is a reasonable public necessity and demand for a new bank at the proposed location or in the area in which the proposed new bank will operate;

(g) the corporate name assumed by the proposed bank, by reason of the use of any one or more of the words "bank", "banker", "banking", "trust", "savings", or "investment" in conjunction with any other word or words, resembles so closely the name of any other bank previously formed under this chapter as to be likely to cause confusion; and

(h) anything else is considered pertinent.

(2) The department may define the standards in subsection (1) by rule.

(3) The department may request additional information as needed to allow an assessment of the standards in 32-1-244 and this section.

(4) An applicant may withdraw an application at any time before the department determines the application is complete.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 23, L. 2023.

32-1-243. Commissioner grants or denies application. (1) When the department determines an application to organize a new bank is complete, the department shall notify the applicant and submit the completed application to the commissioner for a decision.

(2) The commissioner shall review all the submitted materials and the results of the investigation and determine if a preponderance of the evidence shows the standards in 32-1-242 and 32-1-244 and the rules adopted pursuant to 32-1-242 and 32-1-244 have been met. The commissioner may further investigate the applicant, materials, application, and any other factors the commissioner considers relevant.

(3) If the commissioner approves the application, the commissioner shall determine the amount needed for initial capitalization of the institution based on the business plan and application of the proposed institution.

(4) The commissioner shall approve or deny the application within 60 days from receipt of the application unless the commissioner requests more information. If more information is requested, the commissioner shall act within 30 days of the date the additional information has been fully provided.

(5) The commissioner may grant conditional approval of an application and require the applicant to make additional showing or changes in the proposed bank as the commissioner considers advisable.

(6) The applicant may request a hearing on the decision of the commissioner as provided in Title 2, chapter 4, part 6, of the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 23, L. 2023.

32-1-244. Grounds for refusing application to organize. The commissioner may disapprove an application on a finding that any person named in the application to organize or in other documents submitted for filing:

(1) is insolvent, either in the sense that the person's liabilities exceeded the person's assets or that the person cannot meet the person's obligations as they mature, or is in a financial condition in which the person cannot continue in business with safety to the person's customers;

(2) has engaged in dishonest, fraudulent, or illegal practices or conduct in any business or profession;

(3) has willfully or repeatedly violated or failed to comply with any provisions of the Bank Act or any rule or order of the commissioner;

(4) has been convicted of any felony or a misdemeanor, if an essential element of the crime is fraud or dishonesty;

(5) is not qualified to conduct a banking business on the basis of factors such as training, experience, and knowledge of the business;

(6) is permanently or temporarily enjoined by a court of competent jurisdiction from engaging in or continuing any conduct or practice involving any aspect of the banking business or other business that may lawfully be conducted by an insured institution;

(7) is the subject of an order of the commissioner subjecting the person to a civil penalty or removing the person from an office in any entity regulated by the commissioner; or

(8) is the subject of an order directing the person to cease and desist from any fraudulent or unlawful business or banking practice, subjecting the person to a civil penalty, or removing the person from an office in a financial institution or a consumer finance company issued by a state, the comptroller of the currency, the board of governors of the federal reserve system, or any other agency of the federal government or another state with regulatory authority over financial institutions or consumer finance companies.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 23, L. 2023.

32-1-245. Additional requirements after approval of application. Following approval of the application, the incorporators must:

(1) file a signed original of the articles of incorporation with the department for filing with the secretary of state and pay the filing fee;

(2) provide acceptable proof that the capital of the institution has been placed into escrow;

(3) if the bank will accept money on deposit, prove that the bank has federal deposit insurance corporation insurance, or provide satisfactory assurance from the federal deposit insurance corporation that the proposed bank will be accepted for insurance when the applicants comply with certain stated minor requirements imposed by the federal deposit insurance corporation. "Minor requirements" must be of a type and character that the commissioner determines can be promptly complied with by the applicants without serious difficulty.

(4) provide proposed bylaws that comply with Montana law to the department for review and approval.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 23, L. 2023.

32-1-246. Shell bank. The department shall adopt rules providing an application process, processing times, requirements, fees, and criteria for the approval of a shell bank.

32-1-301. Organization and incorporation — articles of incorporation. (1) A person desiring to organize a banking corporation shall make and file articles of incorporation with the department and, on approval by the department, the department may file the articles with the secretary of state as provided in Title 35, chapter 14. The articles of incorporation must set forth:

(a) the information required by 35-14-202(1);

(b) the name of the city or town and county in which the principal office of the corporation is to be located;

(c) the names and places of residence of the initial shareholders and the number of shares subscribed by each;

(d) the number of the board of directors and the names of those initially agreed on; and

(e) the purpose for which the banking corporation is formed, which may be set forth by the use of the general terms defined in this chapter, with reference to each line of business in which the proposed corporation desires to engage.

(2) In addition to provisions required in subsection (1), the articles of incorporation may also contain provisions set forth in 35-14-202(2).

(3) A banking corporation may not adopt or use the name of any other banking corporation or association, and the corporation name must comply with 35-14-401(2) through (4).

(4) A banking corporation may not be organized or incorporated until the articles of incorporation have been submitted to and have been approved by the department and until it has obtained a certificate from the department authorizing the proposed corporation to transact the business specified in the articles of incorporation within this state.

(5) A banking corporation may not amend or restate its articles of incorporation until its articles of amendment or articles of restatement have been submitted to and have been approved by the department and until it has obtained approval from the department authorizing the proposed amendment or restatement.

(6) For banks organized before October 1, 1993, articles of agreement are considered articles of incorporation.

(1) The proposed articles of incorporation must be presented to the department, together with an application in writing in the form prescribed by the department, for a certificate authorizing the proposed corporation to transact the business specified in the articles of incorporation within this state.

(2) On the presentation of the proposed articles of incorporation, together with the application, the department shall ascertain whether the requisite capital of the bank, as required in 32-1-307, has been subscribed and been paid up in cash. The department shall also determine whether the corporation is being formed for any other purpose than the legitimate business contemplated by this chapter. The department shall determine whether the corporate name assumed by the bank, by reason of the use of any one or more of the words "bank", "banker", "banking", "trust", "savings", or "investment" in conjunction with any other word or words, resembles so closely the name of any other bank previously formed under this chapter as to be likely to cause confusion.

(3) The expenses of the department incurred in the examinations and investigations provided for in this chapter for the formation of new banks must be paid by the proposed bank through advance payment of a reasonable nonrefundable application fee that must be determined by the department by rule.

32-1-321. Calling of first meeting — cancellation of certificate. When the formation of the corporation is completed under the provisions of this chapter by the issuance of the certificate of incorporation by the secretary of state, any three such incorporators signing the articles of agreement may call the first meeting of the corporation at such time and place as they may appoint by giving notice thereof by publication in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the principal office for the transaction of business is to be located at least 5 days before the time appointed for such meeting. If all the subscribers to the capital stock unite in a call for such meeting, in writing, no notice is necessary. If the first meeting be not called within 30 days from the date of the certificate of incorporation or if such corporation shall fail to commence the business for which it is incorporated within 90 days from the date of the issuance of the certificate of authorization, the department is authorized to cancel such certificate of authorization.

32-1-322. Board of directors — qualifications, tenure, and vacancies. (1) The affairs of the bank must be managed by a board of directors consisting of no fewer than three persons. At least two-thirds of the board must be residents of Montana. Directors need not be shareholders of the corporation unless required by the articles of incorporation or bylaws. A person who has been convicted of a crime against the banking laws of the United States or of any state may not be elected a director.

(2) (a) As set forth in the bylaws of the institution, the directors may serve a term of multiple years and the terms may be staggered.

(b) The annual meeting must be held before April 15 of each calendar year. If the election is not held on the day fixed for the annual meeting, the corporation is not dissolved, but an election may be held at any other time agreeable to the bylaws of the corporation, and the persons elected shall hold their office until successors are elected and qualified.

(c) Every director shall take and subscribe an oath that the director will diligently and honestly perform the director's duty in the office and that the director will not knowingly violate or permit a violation of any of the provisions of this chapter. The oaths must be made in duplicate. One copy must be transmitted to and filed with the department, and one copy must be kept on file in the office of the bank.

32-1-325. Selection of officers and employees — minutes of meetings. (1) The board of directors of a bank shall hold a meeting at least quarterly.

(2) The board of directors may elect a president, one or more vice-presidents, a cashier or treasurer, one or more assistant cashiers or treasurers, and other officers and employees that they may from time to time consider to be to the best interest of the bank and fix their compensation. The president must be chosen from the board of directors. Each bank shall file a list of the officers and directors of the bank with the department by July 31 of each year.

(3) The board of directors shall keep a correct report of the meetings of the board and of the stockholders. The minutes must disclose the dates of the meetings and the names of the directors or stockholders present. This record of the meetings of the board of directors must be signed, manually or electronically, by the presiding officer and the person responsible for preparing the minutes. The minutes must be read and approved at the following meeting of the board of directors, and the minutes of the following meeting must show that fact. The minutes must be available in the main office of the bank at all times and must be available to the department at the time of its examination of the books. A person who makes a material false entry in the record of the board meetings or who makes a material change or alteration of an entry made in the record is subject to removal pursuant to 32-1-468.

32-1-361. Change from state to national bank. (1) A bank may become a corporation for the purpose of carrying on the business of banking in this state, under the act of congress "to provide a national currency secured by a pledge of United States bonds and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof", approved June 3, 1864, and under Title 52 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, when:

(a) stockholders owning two-thirds of the stock of the bank vote to become a national bank corporation or execute a written consent authorizing its directors to make the certificate required therefor by the laws of the United States; or

(b) a majority of the directors of the bank, authorized in their discretion to make the change, by a vote of the majority decide to become a national bank corporation.

(2) The cashier of the bank shall:

(a) publish notice of the change once a week for 4 consecutive weeks in the newspaper that the directors select;

(b) send a printed notice by mail or otherwise to all nonvoting or dissenting stockholders; and

(c) notify the department that the bank has decided to become a corporation under the laws of the United States.

History: En. Sec. 75, Ch. 89, L. 1927; re-en. Sec. 6014.86, R.C.M. 1935; amd. Sec. 32, Ch. 431, L. 1975; amd. Sec. 17, Ch. 71, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 5-1002; amd. Sec. 22, Ch. 395, L. 1993.

32-1-362. National bank powers extended to state banks. (1) A bank organized under the laws of this state may engage in any activity or business in which the bank could engage if it were operating as a national bank if the power or activity is not expressly prohibited or limited by the laws of this state and:

(a) if the power or activity is clearly authorized to national banks by federal statute, regulations, or interpretive ruling issued or adopted by a federal banking regulator having jurisdiction over national banks; and

(b) upon application to and approval by the department.

(2) The department may adopt rules to govern the application procedure under this section. The department shall act upon an application under this section within 15 days of receipt of the application. The department may, for good cause, extend the time period for processing an application under this section for an additional 15 days. If the department fails to act on the application within 15 days of receipt of the application and does not extend the time period for good cause, the bank may engage in the activity requested without the approval of the department.

32-1-370. Interstate merger of banks — interstate agreements. (1) A bank located in this state that has been in existence at least 5 years may enter into a merger transaction with a bank not located in this state. Prior approval of the department is required if any merger party is a bank organized under the laws of this state.

(2) Upon merger:

(a) each bank merger party merges into the resulting bank and the separate existence of every merger party except the resulting bank ceases;

(b) title to all real, personal, and mixed property owned by each merger party is vested in the resulting bank without reversion or impairment and without the necessity of any instrument of transfer;

(c) the resulting bank has all of the liabilities, duties, and obligations of each merger party, including obligations as fiduciary, personal representative, administrator, trustee, or guardian; and

(d) the resulting bank has all of the rights, powers, and privileges of each merger party, including appointment to the office of personal representative, administrator, trustee, or guardian under any will or other instrument made prior to the merger and in which a merger party was nominated to the office by the maker of the will or other instrument.

(3) Upon merger, a resulting bank that is organized under the laws of this state:

(a) shall designate and operate one of the prior main banking houses of the merger parties as its main banking house and may maintain and continue to operate the main banking houses of each of the other merger parties as a branch bank;

(b) may maintain the branch banks and other offices previously maintained by the merger parties; and

(c) may establish, acquire, or operate additional branch banks at any location where any bank that is a party to the merger could have established, acquired, or operated a branch bank under applicable federal or state law as if that bank had not been a party to the merger.

(4) A resulting bank organized under the laws of this state that intends to establish, acquire, or operate a branch bank under subsection (3)(c) must receive prior approval from the department as provided for in 32-1-372, whether or not the branch bank is to be located within or outside of this state.

(5) A resulting bank organized under federal law or the laws of another state shall simultaneously provide the department with copies of all applications or notices filed with any federal or other state regulatory agency, including applications seeking to establish, acquire, or operate additional branch banks within this state based on circumstances applicable to banks organized under the laws of this state included in subsection (3)(c).

(6) With respect to interstate banking authorized in subsection (1), the department may enter into agreements with other states establishing the division of supervisory responsibilities between the state in which a bank is organized and the state or states in which branch banks may be located.

(7) Upon merger, the resulting bank, including all depository institutions that are affiliates of the resulting bank, may not directly or indirectly control more than 30% of the total amount of deposits of insured depository institutions and credit unions located in this state.

32-1-371. Merger of banks. (1) (a) Any two or more banks doing business in this state may, with the approval of the department if any merger party is a bank organized under the laws of this state, merge into one bank, on terms and conditions lawfully agreed upon by a majority of the board of directors of each bank proposing to merge. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this chapter, a merger under this subsection (1) is governed by Title 35, chapter 1, if the resulting bank is organized under the laws of this state.

(b) A bank organized under the laws of this state may, with the approval of the department in the case of a resulting bank, merge with a savings association located in this state and may, upon the merger, maintain the branch banks and other offices previously maintained by both the bank and the savings association.

(2) Upon merger:

(a) each bank merger party merges into the resulting bank and the separate existence of every merger party except the resulting bank ceases;

(b) title to all real, personal, and mixed property owned by each merger party is vested in the resulting bank without reversion or impairment and without the necessity of any instrument of transfer;

(c) the resulting bank has all of the liabilities, duties, and obligations of each merger party, including obligations as fiduciary, personal representative, administrator, trustee, or guardian; and

(d) the resulting bank has all of the rights, powers, and privileges of each merger party, including appointment to the office of personal representative, administrator, trustee, or guardian under any will or other instrument made prior to the merger and in which a merger party was nominated to the office by the maker of the will or other instrument.

(3) Upon merger, the resulting bank shall designate and operate one of the prior main banking houses of the merging banks as its main banking house and the bank may maintain and continue to operate the main banking houses of each of the other merging banks as a branch bank.

(4) (a) Upon merger, the resulting bank may:

(i) maintain the branch banks and other offices previously maintained by the merging banks; and

(ii) establish, acquire, or operate additional branch banks at any location where any bank involved in the merger could have established, acquired, or operated a branch bank under applicable federal or state law if that bank had not been a party to the merger.

(b) A resulting bank organized under the laws of this state that intends to establish, acquire, or operate a branch bank under subsection (4)(a)(ii) must receive prior approval from the department as provided for in 32-1-372, whether or not the branch bank is to be located within or outside this state.

(c) A resulting bank organized under federal law or the laws of another state shall simultaneously provide the department with copies of all applications or notices filed with any federal or other state regulatory agency seeking to establish, acquire, or operate a branch bank under subsection (4)(a)(ii) within this state.

(5) Upon merger, the resulting bank, including all depository institutions that are affiliates of the resulting bank, may not directly or indirectly control more than 30% of the total amount of deposits of insured depository institutions and credit unions located in this state.

32-1-372. Branch bank. (1) A bank may establish and maintain branch banks, as provided in 32-1-371 and this section. The formation and operation of a branch bank in this state by a bank organized under the laws of this state require the prior approval of the department. A bank organized under the laws of this state may establish, acquire, or operate a branch bank or other office outside this state if approved by the department and if permitted by the laws of the jurisdiction where the branch bank or office is to be located.

(2) A branch bank may but is not required to offer all services and conduct all business authorized to be offered or conducted by the bank.

(3) A bank authorized to do banking business in this state may use a satellite terminal, as defined in 32-6-103, at any location permitted by the Montana Electronic Funds Transfer Act.

(4) A bank may continue to maintain and operate all branch banks and other banking offices in existence or authorized on July 1, 1997, without further consent, authorization, or approval of the department. All offices established and maintained by a bank, other than the main banking house, at which deposits are received, checks are paid, or money is lent must be considered branch banks for all purposes under this title.

(5) A bank located in this state may provide services for other banks located in this state, whether or not those banks are affiliates.

(6) With the prior approval of the appropriate federal regulator and state chartering authority, a bank that is not organized under the laws of this state may establish and operate a de novo branch in this state under the same terms that would apply to a bank organized under the laws of this state seeking approval from the department to establish and operate a de novo branch in this state.

(7) A bank that is not organized under the laws of this state that applies to the appropriate federal regulator and state chartering authority under subsection (6) to establish and operate a de novo interstate branch in Montana shall simultaneously file a copy of the application with the department for notification purposes.

(8) A bank shall notify the department and its customers of any branch bank closure or relocation.

(9) The department may adopt rules to implement this section.

32-1-374. Conversion of national bank to state bank. (1) A national bank may convert to a state bank on the consent in writing of the owners of two-thirds of the capital stock of the bank and with the approval of the department. The stockholders shall make, execute, and acknowledge articles of incorporation as required by the laws of the state of Montana and shall set forth in the articles of incorporation the written consent of the stockholders. When the articles and the department approval are filed as provided by law, the bank is converted under this chapter, and all assets, real and personal, of the national bank are vested in and become the property of the converted state bank, subject to all liabilities of the national bank not liquidated before the conversion.

(2) The cashier of the bank shall:

(a) publish notice of the change once a week for 4 consecutive weeks in the newspaper that the directors select;

(b) send a printed notice by mail or otherwise to all nonvoting or dissenting stockholders; and

(c) notify the department that the bank has decided to become a corporation under the laws of Montana.

32-1-376. Sale of branch bank. Any bank may, with the approval of the department, buy from or sell to another bank, regardless of where either bank is located or doing business, all or substantially all of the business, assets, and liabilities of the selling bank's branch bank or branch banks that are physically located in this state.

32-1-377. Agreement of purchase and sale. (1) The selling and purchasing banks shall enter into an agreement that must contain all the terms and conditions of the sale and that must contain:

(a) proper provision for the assumption, payment, transfer, or retention of all the liabilities of the selling bank as to the branch assets and business sold;

(b) proper provision for the assumption, payment, transfer, or retention of the purchasing bank of all fiduciary obligations of the branch or branch business sold.

(2) The agreement for purchase and sale of a state bank must be authorized and approved by the department. The agreement of purchase and sale of a national bank must be in accordance with the laws applicable to national banks.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 265, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 117, L. 1997.

32-1-378. Bank acquisition or control — notice or application — registration statement — violations — penalties. (1) A person may not acquire control of a bank until 30 days after filing with the department:

(a) a copy of the notice of change of control that is required to be filed with the federal banking regulatory agency; or

(b) a completed application as prescribed by the department in rule.

(2) The notice or application must be filed under oath and contain substantially all of the following information plus any additional information that the department may require as necessary or appropriate in the particular instance for the protection of bank depositors, borrowers, or shareholders and the public interest:

(a) the identity and banking and business experience of each person by whom or on whose behalf acquisition is to be made;

(b) the financial and managerial resources and future prospects of each person involved in the acquisition;

(c) the terms and conditions of any proposed acquisition and how the acquisition is to be made;

(d) the source and the amount of the funds or other consideration used or to be used in making the acquisition, and a description of the transaction and the names of the parties if any part of these funds or other consideration has been or is to be borrowed or otherwise obtained for making the acquisition;

(e) any plan or proposal that any person making the acquisition may have to liquidate the bank, to sell its assets, to merge it with any other bank, or to make any other major change in its business or corporate structure for management;

(f) the identification of any person employed, retained, or to be compensated by the acquiring party, or by any person on its behalf, who makes solicitations or recommendations to shareholders for the purpose of assisting in the acquisition and a brief description of the terms of the employment, retainer, or arrangement for compensation; and

(g) copies of all invitations for tenders or advertisements making a tender offer to shareholders for the purchase of their stock to be used in connection with the proposed acquisition.

(3) When a person, other than an individual or a corporation, is required to file an application under this section, the department may require that the information required by subsections (2)(a), (2)(b), and (2)(f) be provided for each person who has an interest in or controls a person filing an application as provided under this subsection.

(4) When a corporation is required to file an application under this section, the department may require that information required by subsections (2)(a), (2)(b), and (2)(f) be provided for the corporation, each officer and director of the corporation, and each person who is directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of 25% or more of the outstanding voting securities of the corporation.

(5) If any tender offer, request or invitation for tenders, or other agreements to acquire control are proposed to be made by a registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, 15 U.S.C. 77a, et seq., as amended, or in circumstances requiring the disclosure of similar information under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78a, et seq., as amended, the registration statement or application may be filed with the department in lieu of the requirements of this section.

(6) An acquiring party shall also deliver a copy of any notice or application required by this section to the bank proposed to be acquired within 2 days after the notice or application is filed with the department.

(7) A bank or a bank holding company or a subsidiary of the bank or bank holding company may not acquire control of a bank located in this state if the bank, bank holding company, or subsidiary together with its affiliates would directly or indirectly control more than 30% of the total amount of deposits located in Montana of insured depository institutions and credit unions located in this state.

(8) The determination of the limit contained in subsection (7) must be based on public reports filed with the appropriate regulatory agency as of the December 31 preceding the submission to the appropriate federal banking regulatory agency of the application seeking prior approval of the acquisition of control of the bank.

(9) Any acquisition or change in control in violation of this section is void.

(10) Any person who willfully or intentionally violates this section or a rule adopted under this section is subject to a civil penalty of not more than $1,000 for each day the violation continues.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 75, L. 2019.

32-1-379. Bank acquisition or control — disapproval by department — change of officers. (1) The department may disapprove the acquisition of a bank within 30 days after the filing of a complete application pursuant to 32-1-378.

(2) The department may have an extended period, not exceeding an additional 15 days from the period allowed in subsection (1), to disapprove the acquisition if:

(a) the poor financial condition of any acquiring party may jeopardize the financial stability of the bank or may prejudice the interests of the bank depositors, borrowers, or shareholders;

(b) the plan or proposal of the acquiring party to liquidate the bank, sell its assets, merge it with any person, or make any other major change in its business or corporate structure or management is not fair and reasonable to the bank's depositors, borrowers, or stockholders or is not in the public interest;

(c) the banking and business experience and the integrity of any acquiring party that would control the operation of the bank indicate that approval would not be in the interest of the bank's depositors, borrowers, or shareholders;

(d) the information provided by the application is insufficient for the department to make a determination;

(e) there has been insufficient time to verify the information provided and conduct an examination of the qualifications of the acquiring party; or

(f) the acquisition would not be in the public interest.

(3) An acquisition may be made before expiration of the disapproval period if the department issues written notice of intent not to disapprove the action.

(4) (a) The department shall set forth the basis for disapproval of any proposed acquisition in writing and shall provide a copy of the findings and order to the applicants and to the bank involved.

(b) The findings and order may not be disclosed to any other party and may not be subject to public disclosure under 32-1-234 unless either the findings, order, or both are appealed pursuant to the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

(5) Whenever a change in control occurs, each party to the transaction shall notify the department within 10 business days of any changes or replacements of its chief executive officer or any director that occurs in the next 12-month period and provide a statement of the past and present business and professional affiliations of the new chief executive officer or director.

32-1-384. Federal applications — comments. (1) A bank holding company shall file with the department a copy of applications submitted to a federal banking regulatory agency seeking prior approval of the proposed acquisition of a bank holding company located in this state. The acquiring bank holding company shall also file a statement verifying that the acquisition will not result in a violation of the limit in 32-1-378 (7).

(2) The applications and statement are public records, and the department shall allow public inspection of all nonconfidential portions of the applications and statements. The department shall solicit public comment on the applications by promptly publishing notice of the applications in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the bank holding company to be acquired is located. The department shall send the comments to the appropriate federal banking regulatory agency. The department may intervene in or take other action in a federal banking regulatory authority proceeding.

32-1-402. When advertising as bank prohibited — trade names restricted. (1) Except as provided in subsection (3), a person, domestic or foreign, that is not subject to the supervision of the department and not required by the provisions of this chapter to report to it and that has not received a certificate to do a banking business from the department, may not:

(a) except for a student financial institution, as defined in 32-1-115, advertise that the person is receiving or accepting money or savings for deposit, investment, or otherwise and issuing notes or certificates of deposit; or

(b) advertise a sign at the place where the business is transacted having on it an artificial or corporate name or other words indicating that:

(i) the place or office is the place or office of a bank or trust company;
(ii) deposits are received there or payments made on checks; or
(iii) any other form of banking business is transacted there.

(2) The person, domestic or foreign, may not use any sign, logo, or marketing message, in any media, or use any written, printed, electronic, or internet-based instrument or material representation whatever directly or indirectly indicating that the business of the person is that of a bank, savings bank, or trust or investment company.

(3) (a) A Montana state-chartered bank or an out-of-state state-chartered bank that seeks to transact business under a name or title that contains the word "bank", "banker", "banking", "savings bank", "saving", "trust company", or "investment company" may do so only on the approval of the department. This section does not prohibit the use of the word "bank" in the name or title of any bank holding company registered with the board of governors of the federal reserve system pursuant to 12 U.S.C. 1844.

(b) The department may grant a waiver to allow the use of a restricted word listed in subsection (3)(a) to a nonprofit organization if:

(i) the organization is not acting as a financial institution; and
(ii) the name used is not likely to mislead a reasonable individual into thinking that the organization is acting as a financial institution.

(4) A person, domestic or foreign, violating a provision of this section shall forfeit to the state $100 a day for every day or part of a day during which the violation continues.

(5) On suit by the department, the court may issue an injunction restraining the person during pendency of the action and permanently from further using those words in violation of the provisions of this section or from further transacting business in a manner that leads the public to believe that its business is that of a bank, savings bank, or trust or investment company and may enter any other order or decree as equity and justice require.

32-1-420. Investment by trust fiduciary in management investment company or investment trust. (1) In the absence of an express prohibition in a trust instrument, a trust company fiduciary or the trust division of a financial institution, whether organized under state or federal law, may acquire and retain, invest, and reinvest fiduciary funds in the securities of or other interests in an open-end or closed-end management investment company or investment trust registered under 15 U.S.C. 80a-1 through 80a-64.

(2) The investments authorized in subsection (1) may be made even if the fiduciary or an affiliate of the fiduciary is providing services to a management investment company or investment trust and is receiving compensation as an investment adviser or manager, sponsor, broker, distributor, custodian, transfer agent, or registrar or for a similar service. The fiduciary shall disclose to all current income beneficiaries of the trust the rate, formula, and method of compensation for the services provided.

32-1-421. Investment of capital of savings banks. (1) The term "savings bank" as used in this section means any bank organized to do the business specified in 32-1-106.

(2) (a) At least one-half of the paid-in capital of a savings bank and one-half of the whole amount deposited in the savings bank must be invested in bonds or other securities of the United States or any of the states of the United States or any county, city, town, or school district of this state on which interest is regularly payable or federal land bank bonds or loaned on unencumbered real estate worth at least double the amount to be secured.

(b) The remainder may be invested in bonds or securities listed in subsection (2)(a) or in approved personal securities. However, a loan may not be made on personal securities of less than two responsible persons or collateral security to be approved by the directors, and a loan upon personal security may not be made to any person or partnership to an amount exceeding $10,000.

(c) Investments in United States government obligations permitted under subsection (2)(a) or (2)(b) may be made either directly or in the form of securities of or other interests in an open-end or closed-end management type investment company or investment trust registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. 80a-1 through 80a-64, if:

(i) the portfolio of the investment company or investment trust is limited to United States government obligations and repurchase agreements fully collateralized by United States government obligations; and

(ii) the investment company or investment trust takes delivery of the collateral for any repurchase agreement, either directly or through an authorized custodian.

(3) A president, vice president, director, or other officer or employee of a savings bank may not directly or indirectly borrow any of the funds of the bank or of its deposits or in any manner use the funds or deposits in the person's private affairs or business. A director may not receive any pay, salary, or emolument until the interest that the directors have determined to allow depositors has been provided for in accordance with the regulations of the corporation.

(4) The real estate that the corporation may lawfully purchase, hold, and convey is the real estate that is:

(a) necessary for the proper transaction of its business, not exceeding in value $50,000;

(b) mortgaged to it in good faith for money loaned pursuant to this chapter or given as security for money loaned or advanced;

(c) purchased at the sale on judgment or decree obtained or rendered on money loaned or advanced.

(5) Savings banks organized under the provisions of this chapter may not purchase, hold, or convey real estate in any other case or for any other purpose than is specified in subsection (4) and may not buy or sell any personal property, except personal property that may be necessary for the proper transaction of its business or that may have been pledged, mortgaged, or assigned to it to secure money loaned or advanced.

32-1-422. Restriction on investment in corporate stock — rulemaking authority. (1) Except as provided in subsections (2) and (3), a commercial or savings bank may not purchase or invest its capital or surplus or money of its depositors, or any part of its capital or surplus or money of its depositors, in the capital stock of any corporation unless the purchase or acquisition of capital stock is necessary to prevent loss to the bank on a debt previously contracted in good faith. Any capital stock purchased or acquired to prevent the loss must be sold by the bank within 6 months after purchase or acquisition if the capital stock can be sold for the amount of the claim of the bank against it. All capital stock purchased or acquired must be sold for the best price obtainable by the bank within 1 year after purchase or acquisition; however, if the stock is unmarketable, the stock must be charged off as an investment loss, which is equivalent to the stock's sale. A person or corporation violating any provision of this section shall forfeit to the state twice the nominal amount of the stock.

(2) A bank may acquire and hold for the bank's own account:

(a) up to 20% of the bank's capital and surplus in the capital stock of a bank service corporation organized solely for the purpose of providing services to banks;

(b) up to 20% of the bank's capital and surplus in the capital stock of a bankers' bank;

(c) shares of stock of a federal reserve bank and a federal home loan bank, without limitation of amount; and

(d) shares of stock or financial interests in an affiliate or a subsidiary, the business activities of which are limited to those allowed by law for a bank.

(3) A bank may invest any amount up to the limit established by the department of the bank's unimpaired capital and surplus in shares of stock of:

(a) the federal national mortgage association;

(b) the federal home loan mortgage corporation;

(c) the federal agricultural mortgage corporation; and

(d) other corporations created pursuant to acts of congress to meet the agricultural, housing, health, transit, educational, environmental, or similar needs of the nation when the department determines that the investment is in the public interest.

(4) A bank may, upon written application and approval of the department, make an investment in an amount permitted by the department by rule so long as the investment serves primarily to promote the public welfare, including the welfare of low- and moderate-income families and communities in need of jobs, housing, and public services. A bank may also, with the department's approval, purchase interests in an entity that makes investments for similar public welfare purposes.

(5) The department shall adopt rules to implement this section. The rules pertaining to the investments allowed in subsection (4) may be substantially equivalent to or more stringent than the eleventh power provided for in 12 U.S.C. 24 and the policy guidelines on community development issued by the office of the comptroller of the currency.

32-1-423. Real estate that banks may purchase, hold, or convey. (1) (a) Except as provided in subsection (3), a bank organized under the provisions of this chapter may purchase, hold, or convey real estate that:

(i) is for its accommodation in the transaction of its business, but it may not invest an amount exceeding 100% of its paid-up capital and surplus in the lot and building in which the business of the company is or is projected to be carried on, furniture, equipment and fixtures, vaults and safety vaults, and boxes necessary or proper to carry on its banking business if property held for future use as a bank office site is held pursuant to a detailed written business plan formally adopted by the directors of the bank;

(ii) is mortgaged to it in good faith by way of security for loans previously made or money due to the bank;

(iii) is conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business;

(iv) it purchases at sales under judgments, decrees, or mortgages held by the bank.

(b) The detailed written business plan required by subsection (1)(a)(i) must include information outlining the manner in which the acquired real estate will be developed for future use as a bank office site, including but not limited to the costs of projected construction, furniture, and equipment and fixtures. The plan must include sufficient information for the department to determine that the property will be used for a future bank office site.

(2) Real estate acquired in the manner set forth in subsections (1)(a)(iii) and (1)(a)(iv) may not be held longer than 5 years from the date of acquisition, unless special written permission is granted by the department. The real estate must be carried on the books of the bank for an amount not greater than its cost to the bank, including costs of foreclosure and other expenses of acquiring title.

(3) A bank organized under the provisions of this chapter may purchase, hold, or convey real estate that is residential and used for the exclusive purpose of providing housing accommodations for its employees. Residential real estate that is purchased, held, or conveyed as provided in this subsection is not subject to subsections (1) and (2).

32-1-426. Deposit of securities in central depository. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any fiduciary, as defined in 32-1-425, holding securities in its fiduciary capacity, any bank or trust company holding securities as a custodian or managing agent, and any bank or trust company holding securities as custodian for a fiduciary is authorized to deposit or arrange for the deposit of the securities in a clearing corporation, as defined in 30-8-112. When the securities are deposited, certificates representing securities of the same class of the same issuer may be merged and held in bulk in the name of the nominee of the clearing corporation with any other securities deposited in the clearing corporation by any person regardless of the ownership of the securities, and certificates of small denomination may be merged into one or more certificates of larger denomination. The records of the fiduciary and the records of the bank or trust company acting as custodian, as managing agent, or a custodian for a fiduciary must show at all times the name of the party for whose account the securities are deposited. Title to the securities may be transferred by bookkeeping entry on the books of the clearing corporation without physical delivery of certificates representing the securities. A bank or trust company depositing securities pursuant to this section is subject to rules, which in the case of state-chartered institutions, the department and, in the case of national banking associations, the comptroller of the currency, may from time to time adopt. A bank or trust company acting as custodian for a fiduciary shall, on demand of the fiduciary, certify in writing to the fiduciary the securities deposited by the bank or trust company in the clearing corporation for the account of the fiduciary. A fiduciary shall, on demand by any party to a judicial proceeding for the settlement of the fiduciary's account or on demand by the attorney for the party, certify in writing to the party the securities deposited by the fiduciary in the clearing corporation for its account as the fiduciary.

(2) This section applies to any fiduciary holding securities in its fiduciary capacity and to any bank or trust company. holding securities as a custodian, managing agent, or custodian for a fiduciary regardless of the date of the agreement, instrument, or court order by which it is appointed and regardless of whether or not the fiduciary, custodian, managing agent, or custodian for a fiduciary owns capital stock of the clearing corporation.

32-1-427. Fiduciaries — deposit of securities with federal reserve bank. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any bank or trust company when acting as fiduciary as defined in 32-1-425 and any bank or trust company when holding securities as custodian for a fiduciary is authorized to deposit or arrange for the deposit with the federal reserve bank in its district of any securities the principal and interest of which the United States or any department, agency, or instrumentality of the United States has agreed to pay or has guaranteed payment, to be credited to one or more accounts on the books of the federal reserve bank in the name of the bank or trust company, to be designated fiduciary or safekeeping accounts, to which accounts other similar securities may be credited. A bank or trust company depositing securities with a federal reserve bank must be subject to these rules with respect to the making and maintenance of the deposit as, in the case of state-chartered institutions, the department and, in the case of national banking associations, the comptroller of the currency may from time to time adopt. The records of the bank or trust company must at all times show the ownership of the securities held in the account. Ownership of and other interests in the securities credited to the account may be transferred by entries on the books of the federal reserve bank without physical delivery of any securities. A bank or trust company acting as custodian for a fiduciary shall, on demand of the fiduciary, certify in writing to the fiduciary the securities deposited by the bank or trust company with the federal reserve bank for the account of the fiduciary. A fiduciary shall, on demand by any party to its accounting or on demand by the attorney for the party, certify in writing to the party the securities deposited by the fiduciary with the federal reserve bank for its account as the fiduciary.

32-1-432. Limitations on loans — rulemaking. (1) (a) The total loans or extensions of credit to a person, partnership, or corporation by a bank, including loans to a partnership and to the members of the partnership, may not exceed 20% of the amount of the unimpaired capital and surplus of that bank.

(b) The discount of bills of exchange drawn in good faith against actual existing values, the discount of bankers, acceptances of other banks, the discount of commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating it and the obligations of the United States, general obligations of any state or of any political subdivision, or obligations issued under authority of the Federal Farm Loan Act may not be considered as money borrowed.

(c) The limitations imposed on total loans and extensions of credit by this section do not apply to loans and investments secured by obligations of the United States having a current market value of 100% of the amount loaned or invested.

(d) Loans or obligations are not subject under this section to any limitation based upon that unimpaired capital and surplus to the extent that they are secured or covered by guaranties, or by commitments or agreements to take over or to purchase them, made by a federal reserve bank or by the United States or a department, bureau, board, commission, or establishment of the United States, including a corporation wholly owned, directly or indirectly, by the United States.

(2) The combined liabilities of the members of a firm, partnership, or unincorporated association to the loaning bank must be included in the liabilities of the firm, partnership, or unincorporated association. The portion of the liabilities of the firm, partnership, or unincorporated association for which a member individually is legally responsible must be included in the liabilities of the member in determining the limitations imposed by this section. In determining the limitation for loans or extensions of credit to a limited partner of a limited partnership, the portions of the liabilities of the limited partnership for which the limited partner is free from liability must be excluded.

(3) When, in the judgment of the department, the liabilities of a corporation or the combined liabilities of a corporation and one or more of its stockholders to a bank are excessive, it shall require the reduction to the limits and within the time it prescribes.

(4) The limitations of this section do not apply to the extent that the loan or extension of credit is secured by pledged deposits in the lending bank.

(5) The limitations of this section do not apply to a loan of funds or an extension of credit made by a bank to another bank if the term of the loan or extension of credit does not exceed 2 business days.

(6) The limitations of this section do not apply to the extent that a loan is covered by a guaranty or by commitments or agreements to take over or purchase the loan made by an agency or board of the state of Montana authorized by law to provide the guaranties, commitments, or agreements.

(7) (a) A state-chartered bank may be exempted from the limitations of this section by applying to the department for a written waiver stipulating that the bank will be subject to the limitations imposed on national banks under 12 U.S.C. 84 and the regulations of the office of the comptroller of the currency.

(b) A written waiver provided to a state-chartered bank in accordance with subsection (7)(a) may not be changed by the bank or revoked by the department for 2 years from the date of issue or for a different period determined by the department by rule.

(8) The department may adopt rules to carry out the purposes of this section, including rules differentiating between discretionary and nondiscretionary contractual commitments and rules specifying the types of derivative transactions in which a bank may engage and setting safety and soundness standards for engaging in derivative transactions.

(9) For purposes of this section, the terms "loan", "extension of credit", and "obligation" include:

(a) all direct or indirect advances of funds to a person on the basis of an obligation of the person to repay the funds;

(b) a liability of a state-chartered bank to advance funds to or on behalf of a person pursuant to a contractual commitment; and

(c) any credit exposure to a person arising from a derivative transaction, as defined in 12 U.S.C. 84(b)(3).

32-1-452. Dividends, surplus, losses, and bad debts. (1) The directors of a bank may, at certain times and in the manner as the bank's bylaws prescribe, declare, and pay dividends to the stockholders of so much of the net undivided profits of the bank as may be appropriated for that purpose, but every bank shall, before declaring any dividend, carry at least 25% of the bank's net earnings for the period covered by the dividend to the bank's surplus, until the surplus is 50% of the bank's paid-up capital stock. The whole or any part of the surplus may at any time be converted into paid-in capital, but the surplus must be restored as provided in this subsection until the surplus amounts to 50% of the aggregate paid-up capital stock. A larger surplus may be created.

(2) A bank must receive prior approval from the department to pay a dividend if:

(a) the bank is rated lower than a 1 or a 2 using the uniform financial institutions rating system adopted by the federal financial institutions examination council; or

(b) the dividend would reduce the tier 1 leverage ratio below 8%, or the bank has a tier 1 leverage ratio below 8% when the dividend is declared.

(3) The department may require a bank to suspend the payment of any or all dividends until all requirements imposed in writing on the bank by the department have been met.

(4) Losses sustained by a bank in excess of the bank's undivided profits may be charged to and paid from the surplus, but the surplus must be restored in the manner provided in subsection (1) in the amount required by this chapter.

32-1-455. Reserve requirements. (1) A bank, except a reserve bank, shall maintain at all times a reserve of that percentage of its deposit liabilities as required by the appropriate federal regulator.

(2) The department may establish reserve requirements if the federal regulator discontinues reserve requirements.

(3) A bank approved by the department as a reserve bank shall maintain at all times a reserve as the department requires by rule.

(4) A solvent bank of good repute having a full paid-up capital and surplus as the department requires by rule and doing business in this state or any other state may be designated by the department as a reserve agent for Montana banking institutions. The approval or designation may be withdrawn or withheld at any time by the department for cause.

(5) A bank whose reserve drops below the legal requirements shall report the matter to the department immediately and as often as the department asks for a report.

(6) When the reserve of a bank falls below the legal requirements, the bank may not increase its loans or discounts except by discounting or purchasing bills of exchange payable at sight or on demand, and the department shall notify a bank whose reserve may be below the amount required to make good the reserve.

(7) In arriving at deposit liabilities with regard to bank deposits, the net balance of amounts due to and from other banks must be used as the basis for ascertaining the deposit liability to banks against which reserves are carried.

(8) Compliance by member banks with the federal reserve banking laws, rules, and regulations is compliance with the reserve requirements and conditions of this chapter and entitles those federal reserve member banks to the rights and privileges accruing from compliance with this chapter.

32-1-465. Limit on loans to officer, director, or principal shareholder. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), a bank may not extend credit to an officer, director, or principal shareholder unless the extension of credit is in an amount that, when aggregated with the amount of all outstanding extensions of credit by that bank to all officers, directors, or principal shareholders, does not exceed the bank's unimpaired capital and unimpaired surplus.

(2) A bank with deposits of less than $100 million may by resolution of its board of directors increase the general limit in subsection (1) to a limit that does not exceed two times the bank's unimpaired capital and unimpaired surplus if:

(a) the board of directors determines that a higher limit is consistent with prudent, safe, and sound banking practices in light of the bank's experience in lending to officers, directors, and principal shareholders and is necessary to attract or retain directors or to prevent restricting the availability of credit in small communities;

(b) the resolution sets forth the facts and reasoning on which the board of directors bases the finding, including the amount of the bank's lending to officers, directors, and principal shareholders as a percentage of the bank's unimpaired capital and unimpaired surplus as of the date of the resolution;

(c) the bank has submitted the resolution to the department; and

(d) the bank meets or exceeds, on a fully phased-in basis, all applicable capital requirements established by the department.

(a) in any amount to finance the education of the managing officer's children;

(b) in any amount to finance the purchase, construction, maintenance, or improvement of a residence of the managing officer if the extension of credit is secured by a first lien on the residence and the residence is:

(i) owned by the managing officer; or

(ii) expected to be owned by the managing officer after the extension of credit; and

(c) for any other purpose not specified in subsections (1)(a) and (1)(b) if the aggregate amount of loans to that individual under this subsection (1) does not exceed at any one time the greater of 2.5% of the bank's capital and unimpaired surplus or $25,000. However, in no event may the aggregate amount of loans to the individual exceed $100,000.

32-1-492. Definitions — reproduction of bank records — admissibility in evidence — cost recovery. (1) (a) For the purposes of this section, "bank records" includes any document, paper, letter, book, map, photograph, sound or video recording, magnetic tape, electronic-storage medium, or other information- recording medium used in a bank's normal course of business.

(b) (i) For the purposes of this section, "electronic storage" means the recording, storage, retention, maintenance, and reproduction of documents using microfilm, microfiche, data processing, computers, or other electronic process that correctly and legibly stores and reproduces documents.

(ii) A photographic, photostatic, miniature photographic copy, or reproduction of any kind, including electronic or computer-generated data that has been electronically stored and is capable of being converted into written form, must be considered an original record for all purposes and must be treated as an original record in all courts and administrative agencies for the purposes of admissibility in evidence.

(iii) A facsimile, exemplification, or certified copy of any reproduction referred to in subsection (1)(b)(ii) must, for all purposes, be considered a facsimile, exemplification, or certified copy of the original record.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (6), banks are authorized to make, at any time, photographic or photostatic copies or microfilm reproductions of any records or documents, including photographic enlargements and prints of microfilms, to be preserved, stored, used, and employed in carrying on business.

(3) In an action or proceeding in which bank records may be called in question or be demanded of a bank or any officer or employee of a bank, a showing that the records have been destroyed in the regular course of business is a sufficient excuse for the failure to produce the records.

(4) Upon the showing required in subsection (3), secondary evidence of the form, text, and contents of the original records, including photostatic, photographic, or microfilm reproductions, photographic enlargements, and prints of microfilm reproductions, when made in the regular course of business, is admissible in evidence in any court of competent jurisdiction or in any administrative proceeding.

(5) Any photostatic, photographic, or microfilm reproductions, including enlargements of the microfilm reproductions, made in the regular course of business of any original files, records, books, cards, tickets, deposit slips, or memoranda that were in existence on July 1, 1951, are admissible in evidence as proof of the form, text, and content of the originals that were destroyed in the regular course of business.

(6) A bank may, as a condition of providing bank records to a third party in response to a subpoena or to another legal procedure or request, charge and collect the actual costs incurred in locating, reproducing, and providing the bank records.

Dissolution, Closing, and Liquidation

Receivers, Title 27, ch. 20.

32-1-501. Dissolution and disincorporation. Commercial banks, savings banks, trust companies, and investment companies may be dissolved in the manner provided by the laws of this state applicable to the dissolution of other corporations. However, a bank or trust company may, upon a vote of two-thirds of its stockholders at a special meeting called for that purpose in accordance with its bylaws, voluntarily quit business and liquidate upon the payment of its debts, exclusive of liability to stockholders, or upon agreement with all of its creditors to a plan of liquidation. A bank or trust company that wishes to voluntarily liquidate shall apply to the department for permission to liquidate and, in addition to complying with the laws of this state governing the liquidation of corporations, shall comply in all respects with the requirements or rules of the department governing voluntary dissolution. The board of directors of a bank or trust company whose stockholders have voted to place it in voluntary liquidation shall appoint a liquidating agent to wind up the affairs of the bank or trust company. The liquidating agent, on authority of the board of directors, may execute deeds for the transfer of real property and do all things necessary to carry out the proper liquidation of the bank or trust company. Nothing in this section prevents the department from taking charge at any time when in its opinion the interest of creditors or stockholders is not being protected. The decision of the department in these matters is controlling.

32-1-502. Grounds for closing bank. (1) When it appears to the department that:

(a) a bank has willfully violated its charter or a law of this state;

(b) a bank has willfully violated a general rule of the department, made in accordance with law;

(c) the capital of a bank is impaired or for any reason is below the amount required by law and has not been made good after notice, as provided by law, or, without that notice, in the event a majority of the board of directors of the bank notifies the department in writing that the impairment cannot be made good;

(d) a bank cannot meet or has failed to meet its liabilities as they become due in the regular course of business;

(e) a bank's reserve has fallen below the amount required by law and it has failed to make good that reserve within 30 days after being requested to do so by the department or, without that notice, if a majority of the directors, in writing, notifies the department that the reserve cannot be made good within 30 days or if it is continually allowing its reserve to fall below the required amount;

(f) a bank is conducting business in an unsafe and unauthorized manner or is in an unsafe or unsound condition;

(g) a bank refused to submit its papers, books, and concerns to the inspection of the department; or

(h) an officer of a bank has refused to be examined under oath regarding the affairs, business, or concerns of any bank insofar as they relate to solvency or matters having to do with the supervision by the department; then the department may, in its discretion, close the bank and take possession of all the books, records, assets, and business of every description of the bank and hold them and retain possession of them until the bank is authorized by the department to resume business or its affairs are liquidated as provided in this chapter, and it shall do so in cases where a bank comes into its possession voluntarily or in the manner provided by law.

(2) The powers and authority conferred on the department by this section, except in cases of voluntary surrender, are discretionary and not mandatory. As long as the department acts in good faith, the department and its employees and agents may not be held liable civilly or criminally or upon their official bonds for action taken under this section or for any failure to act under it.

When such impairment or insolvency has been made good, such deposits received in trust may be transferred to the general assets of the bank on and by written consent of the department.

(2) In the event such insolvency be not made good, then any and all such trust deposits shall be returned to the depositors making them.

(3) Any officer, director, cashier, manager, member, partner, or managing partner thereof who shall knowingly accept or receive, be accessory to, or permit or connive at the receiving or accepting of such trust deposits, except in the manner hereinbefore set forth in this section, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $10,000 or imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding 5 years or by both fine and imprisonment.

32-1-506. Assessment on capital stock to make good impairment. (1) When the department determines that an impairment of capital exists in a bank, the department may notify the board of directors of the bank by written notice that the impairment exists, stating the amount of the impairment in dollars and percentage of the capital stock. The department may order the board to make good the impairment within 90 days from date of the notice.

(2) The board of directors shall, upon receipt of notice, convene and pass a resolution reciting the receipt of the notice of impairment and calling a special meeting of the stockholders of the bank in the manner provided in their bylaws.

(3) The stockholders at the meeting shall pass a resolution reciting the facts of receipt of notice from the department, notice of impairment, and notice of meeting and assessing themselves by assessing the stock of record. Payment of the assessment must be made within the time limit specified by the department in the notice of impairment.

(4) If there is any stock remaining on which the assessment is not paid as provided in this section, the stock or a part of the stock that is necessary to pay the assessment must be sold by the board of directors, acting through the cashier or secretary of the bank, at public or private sale, as appears best for all concerned, not less than 30 days after the day fixed for payment of assessment.

(5) Notice of the time and place of the sale must be given by common courier with tracking capability to the stockholders by the board through the bank's cashier or secretary at least 14 days prior to the sale.

(6) A sale of stock as provided in this section causes an absolute cancellation of the outstanding certificate or certificates evidencing the stock sold and makes them void in the hands of the stockholder or the stockholder's assigns or pledgees.

(7) The bank shall issue a new certificate:

(a) to the purchaser for the number of shares purchased; and

(b) to the stockholder of record. The new certificate must be delivered to the purchaser, stockholder, or any pledgee or assignee of the stock for the remaining shares, if any.

(8) The record of the original certificate sold must be marked canceled on the records of the bank, and that record is prima facie evidence of the regularity of the proceedings for the sale of the stock.

(9) If a bank fails to make good its capital impairment on demand of the department, as provided in this section, the department may immediately take charge of that bank and proceed to liquidate it as in the case of insolvency.

(10) If the stock does not sell for enough to pay the assessment that is owed, the board of directors may sue in the name of the corporation to collect the deficiency from the stockholder of record whose stock has been sold for the assessment.

(1) Upon taking the assets and business of a bank into its possession, the department is authorized to collect all money due to the bank and to do other acts necessary to conserve the bank's assets and business. The department shall proceed to liquidate the affairs of the bank.

(2) The department may, except as limited by the terms of this chapter, do any acts necessary or desirable for the protection of the property and assets of the bank, the speedy and economical liquidation of the assets and affairs of the bank, the payment of creditors, or the reopening and resumption of business when that is practicable or desirable.

(3) The department may institute, in its own name or in the name of the bank, legal proceedings it considers expedient for the purposes of subsection (1).

(4) (a) By applying to the district court of the county in which the bank is located or to the judge of that court, the department may obtain an order to sell, compromise, or compound any bad or doubtful debt or claim and to sell and dispose of any assets. The sale may be made to stockholders, officers, directors, or others interested in the bank on consent of the court.

(b) In the court proceedings the bank must be made a party by notice issued on order of the court or judge, in place of summons, and served upon an officer of the bank if there is an officer in the county.

(5) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, subsection (4) does not apply.

32-1-516. Recourse of aggrieved bank — injunction. (1) A bank aggrieved by the action of the department in taking possession of its assets or closing its doors may, within 14 days after possession has been taken, apply to the district court of the county in which its principal place of business is located, or to the judge of that court in chambers, to enjoin further proceedings by the department.

(2) The court or the judge in chambers, after notifying the department to appear at a specified time and place to show cause why further proceedings should not be enjoined and after hearing the allegations and proofs of the parties and determining facts, may on the merits dismiss the application or enjoin the department from further proceeding and direct it to surrender the business and assets of the bank.

(3) The application for injunction may be heard at any time after 5 days' notice from the time of service on the department, in the discretion of the court, or at any time prior to then by the consent of the department.

(4) Application shall be made on the verified complaint of the bank, in the form used in civil actions, and a copy of the complaint shall be served on the department with the order to show cause.

(5) The department shall, at least 2 days before the time set for hearing, file with the court and serve upon counsel for plaintiff an answer to the complaint, also in the form used in civil actions. Any questions raised by motion in other actions may be raised in the answer.

(6) On the issues raised by the complaint and answer, the court or the judge at chambers, at the time fixed for showing cause, shall try the matter on the merits by hearing the allegations and proofs of the parties and shall enter judgment, as in the trial of other civil actions.

(7) If the department makes no appearance in the time allowed, the court shall enter its default and proceed to hear the proofs of the plaintiff as in civil actions under similar circumstances and enter judgment accordingly. The judgment entered either after hearing on the merits or by default is a final judgment.

(8) During the pendency of litigation the department shall take that action in relation to the assets of the bank which is necessary to conserve them.

(2) If a claim is rejected or an order of priority allowed lower than that claimed, notice must be given the claimant personally or by common courier with tracking capability and an affidavit of the service of the notice, which is prima facie evidence of service, must be filed in the office of the department.

(3) The action of the department is final unless an action is brought by the claimant against the bank in the district court of the county in which the bank is located within 90 days after service. An appeal from the department's allowance may also be taken by any party in interest by serving notice on the department, stating the grounds of objection and filing an action in that court within 30 days after allowance.

(4) Within 5 days after the notice, the department shall file in the court and serve on the appellant a copy of the claim and its reasons for allowance.

(5) The court shall, after 5 days' notice of time and place of hearing on the issues raised, hear the proof of the parties and enter judgment reversing, affirming, or modifying the department's action.

(6) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, the provisions of subsections (1) through (5) do not apply and notice to creditors must be given pursuant to federal law.

32-1-534. Claims — order of payment — priorities. (1) Except as otherwise provided by the Uniform Commercial Code, the order of payment of the debts of a bank liquidated by the department is as follows:

(a) the expense of liquidation, including compensation of agents, employees, and attorneys;

(b) all funds of any other bank in process of liquidation by the department and placed on deposit by the department;

(c) all funds held by the bank in trust;

(d) debts due depositors or holders of cashier's checks, certified checks, and drafts on correspondent banks, including protest fees paid by them on valid checks or drafts presented after closing of the bank, pro rata. All deposit balances of other banks or trust companies and all deposits of public funds of every kind (except those actually placed on special deposit under the statutes providing for deposit), including those of the United States, the state of Montana, and every county, district, municipality, political subdivision, or public corporation of this state, whether secured or unsecured or whether deposited in violation of law or otherwise, are included within the terms of this subsection (1)(d) and take the same priority as debts due any other depositor. Accrued interest on savings accounts, certificates of deposit, or other interest-bearing contracts, up to the time of the closing of the bank, is considered as part of the debt due.

(e) interest on the classes of claims contained in subsections (1)(a) through (1)(d) without regard to the priority computed from the date of closing of the bank at the rate of 7% a year;

(f) unliquidated claims for damages and similar claims, including claims of stockholders for amounts claimed to have been voluntarily advanced to the bank or paid in by way of special or voluntary or other assessments.

(2) The department may, in its discretion, without regard to the priorities fixed in subsections (1)(c) through (1)(f) or in preference to the payment of any claims of creditors within these subsections, pay off and discharge any lien, claim, or charge against the assets or property of the bank in its hands and pay those sums it considers necessary for the preservation, maintenance, conservation, and protection of those assets and property and property on which the bank has liens by mortgage or otherwise. The department may create a fund or retain, in preference to the claim of any creditors in subsections (1)(c) through (1)(f), money for those purposes.

(3) Collateral that has been put up or pledged as security for the payment of bills payable by a bank or loans or discounts that have been outstanding as rediscounts of a bank prior to the closing of it is not available to the other creditors of the bank in whole or in part until the bills payable or rediscounts have been retired, after which offsets as provided in this section must be allowed.

(4) Deposits of a person, firm, or corporation in a bank that is in the possession of the department may be offset against any indebtedness (subject to the conditions of subsection (3)), except assessments on stock, due to the bank from that person, firm, or corporation. All dividends when declared in favor of a creditor of the bank may be applied, in the discretion of the department, in satisfaction of the indebtedness, if any, due the bank from the creditor.

32-1-535. Claims — partial payments — assignments. (1) The department need not await the expiration of the time allowed for filing claims, as fixed in the notice to the creditors, for the payment of dividends. The department may, if under the circumstances of the particular case it considers it expedient and safe, at any time after taking possession of the bank and prior to the expiration of the period fixed for filing of claims and if it has on hand in cash sufficient funds in excess of the expenses of liquidation, make pro rata distribution to any class of creditors entitled to distribution in the order of priority fixed in this chapter. The department shall make a payment to the creditors as they appear on the books and records of the bank and after determining the priority and basing its apportionment on the amount shown to be due by the books and records.

(2) At any time after the expiration of the date fixed for the presentation of claims against the bank and from time to time after that date when, in its discretion, there are sufficient funds available, the department shall, after making proper provisions for the payment of expenses of liquidation, declare and pay dividends to all creditors of the bank pro rata in the order of their priority. If, after the time fixed for presentation of claims against the bank has expired, it appears that a person, prior to the expiration of the period or at any other time, has been paid more than the pro rata amount due the person as compared with the amounts paid to other creditors, nothing more may be paid to that creditor until the payment made to other creditors places them on equal footing.

(3) In calculating dividends, all disputed claims and deposits must be taken into account and the amount of dividends upon the disputed claims or deposits must be held by the department until the validity of those claims or deposits has been finally determined.

(4) Claims against a bank in process of liquidation may be assigned in whole or in part subject to the approval of the department. Assignments of claims are binding upon the department only after they have been filed and allowed by the department and are subject to the payment of the assignor's liabilities to the bank. An assignment must be made by filing written notice, signed by the original claimant, with the department or person in charge of the bank. Assigned claims may not be offset against obligations due the bank. A check or draft drawn against a bank closed or taken possession of by the department, whether issued before or after closing, may not be recognized as a claim against the bank or as an assignment of any amount, whether protested or not protested.

32-1-537. Disposition of unclaimed funds. (1) The department shall certify to the state treasurer a complete list of funds remaining with it that are uncalled for and that have been left with it in its official capacity in trust for depositors in and creditors of a liquidated bank after they have been held by it for 6 months from the date of the final liquidation of the institution. Along with this certificate, the department shall transmit to the state treasurer the funds, with accumulated interest on them, that it has held in trust for 6 months. A copy of the certificate must also be filed with the state auditor, who shall make a record of it.

(2) The state treasurer shall deposit the funds and interest in the general fund.

(3) A depositor or creditor of a liquidated bank who has not been paid the amount standing to the person's credit as certified to the state treasurer may apply to the department for the amount due. The depositor or creditor shall make an affidavit and offer proof of identity and of the amount due. When satisfied as to the correctness of the claim and of the identity of the person, the department shall forward it to the state treasurer who shall audit the claim and, if found correct, certify the claim to the department. If the department approves the claim, it shall pay the claim to the depositor or creditor.

32-1-538. Disposition of assets remaining after payment of claims. (1) Except as provided in subsection (4), when the department has paid to each depositor and creditor of the bank whose claims have been approved and allowed as provided in this chapter the amount due on them or made satisfactory adjustment of them and has made provisions for unclaimed and unpaid deposits and disputed claims and deposits and has paid all the expenses of liquidation, it shall file a report of its administration of the trust with the clerk of the district court of the county in which the bank is located. If there are remaining assets on hand, the department may apply to the judge of that court for an order authorizing it to surrender the remaining assets, together with all the stationery, correspondence, books, and records kept by the bank while it was a going concern, to the directors of the bank in office at the time of closing it, as trustees for stockholders, or to some other person, if any, designated as trustee by a majority of the stockholders. The report and petition must be set for hearing upon notice that the court may direct. Upon hearing and approval of the report and account and the surrender of the assets as directed, the department is discharged from all further liability or responsibility in connection with the assets and affairs of the bank. The court may, if requested, require the trustees to give bond in an amount the court may fix, conditioned for the faithful performance of their duties. The trustee or trustees shall complete the liquidation of any remaining assets and may sell and dispose of real and personal property as rapidly as possible and shall distribute the proceeds among the stockholders as their rights may appear or dispose of the proceeds in some other manner as the stockholders by majority action direct. The court may upon request of a majority of the stockholders order the department to close up the trust as provided in subsection (2).

(2) If the assets of the bank are insufficient for making payments in full to the depositors and creditors of the bank, then, when the department has liquidated all available assets and disbursed them as provided by law, the department shall file a final report of its liquidation of the bank with the clerk of court of the county in which the bank is located. Upon notice that the court may order, the report must be set for hearing before the court and, if found correct and all funds accounted for, the court shall approve it. The department may at the same time and in the report make application to the district court of the county in which the bank is located for an order directing the closing of the trust, and upon entry of the order closing the trust, the department is discharged from all further liability or responsibility in connection with the assets and affairs of the bank. The charter of the bank must be forfeited and all the stationery, correspondence, books, and records kept by the bank while it was a going concern and considered by the department to be of no value may be destroyed. However, correspondence or records may not be destroyed until 10 years after the date the bank ceased to be a going concern.

(3) On application for orders as provided in this section, the bank must be made a party by notice issued on order of the court or judge and served in a manner the court directs and applications authorized by this section may be heard at any time upon not less than 5 days' posted or served notice of the hearing.

(4) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, the reporting and district court approval requirements of subsections (1) through (3) do not apply.

32-1-551. Liquidating officer's powers and duties. (1) Except as provided in subsection (3), after taking possession of a bank for the purpose of liquidation, the liquidating officer may as soon as the officer ascertains that the assets of the bank will be insufficient to pay its debts and liabilities, proceed to collect and enforce the stockholders' liability. For that purpose, the officer may institute and maintain in the officer's own name as liquidating officer appropriate suits or actions in any state or federal court of competent jurisdiction. The liquidating officer may receive and receipt for money received on account of stockholders' liability, and any money paid to the liquidating officer by a stockholder in whole or partial satisfaction of the stockholder's liability is not considered paid voluntarily but gives the stockholder the same protection to the extent of the amount paid as if the payments were made after suit by a creditor or the liquidating officer. The liquidating officer may, with the consent of the court having jurisdiction of the liquidation, compromise, settle, and compound claims for stockholders' liability, and the settlements and compromises when approved by the court are legal and binding upon all parties concerned, including creditors.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2)(b), all sums collected by a liquidating officer on account of stockholders' liability, either received from voluntary payments or collected by suits, settlements, or compromises, must be distributed to the creditors of the bank according to their several rights in the same proportion as the amount of a given claim of a creditor bears to the amount of the claims of all creditors and without regard to the rank or class or character of claims and without diminution.

(b) The liquidating officer may deduct from amounts collected the court costs or attorney fees (the attorney fees to be allowed for not more than 10% of the amount collected, provided that the 10% allowed for attorney fees may not apply to collections that are made outside of the state of Montana) and other expenses incurred by the officer in the prosecution of any action for collection.

(3) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, the reporting and district court approval requirements of subsections (1) and (2) do not apply.

(1) For the purpose of this section the term "liquidating officer" includes every person legally empowered to liquidate the business and affairs of a state bank, whether the liquidation is by the department or its deputies and agents. The term also includes all receivers of state banks qualified to liquidate a state bank under any law of this state.

(2) The liquidating officer of a bank may decide when the assets of a failed bank are not sufficient to pay the debts, contracts, engagements, and liabilities and may determine the time when and the court where necessary legal proceedings are conducted, subject to the general provisions of law governing venue and place of trial.

(3) The provisions of 32-1-551 through 32-1-553 do not impose liability on a stockholder of a bank that is a member of the federal deposit insurance corporation.

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2), the department shall, within 90 days after taking charge of an insolvent bank, file with the district court having jurisdiction a complete inventory of all of the property and assets of the insolvent bank, such as furniture, fixtures, real estate, mortgages, bonds, and notes, secured and unsecured. The department shall every 6 months, or more often if required by the court, file with the court a report showing the status of the liquidation of the bank, the assets that have been liquidated and collected, the amounts and manner of payments made to creditors, the manner in which claims have been handled, and the assets on hand. The report must contain other information the court requires, so that the court and the public may be apprised of the condition of the bank and the manner in which it is being liquidated with respect to the collection and sale of assets belonging to the bank and the manner in which claims are being paid. The report and account must be set for hearing upon the notice the court may require and, if found to be correct, be approved by the court.

(2) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, subsection (1) does not apply.

32-1-561. Definitions. As used in 32-1-562 through 32-1-565, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Bank" includes commercial banks, savings banks, trust companies, any person or association of persons lawfully carrying on the business of banking, whether incorporated or not, and, to the extent that the provisions of 32-1-562 through 32-1-565 are not inconsistent with and do not infringe on paramount federal law, also includes national banks.

(2) "Emergency" means any condition or occurrence which may interfere physically with the conduct of normal business operations at any of the offices of a bank or which poses an imminent or existing threat to the safety or security of persons or property or both. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, an emergency may arise as a result of any of the following:

(a) fire;
(b) flood;
(c) earthquake;
(d) hurricanes;
(e) wind, rain, or snowstorms;
(f) labor disputes and strikes;
(g) power failures;
(h) transportation failures;
(i) interruption of communication or internet facilities;
(j) shortages of fuel, housing, food, transportation, or labor;
(k) robbery or attempted robbery;
(l) actual or threatened enemy attack;
(m) epidemics or other catastrophes;
(n) riots, civil commotions, and other acts of lawlessness or violence, actual or threatened;
(o) cyberattacks or ransomware attacks.

(3) "Office" means any place at which a bank transacts its business or conducts operations related to its business.

(4) "Officer" means the person or persons designated by the board of directors, board of trustees, or other governing body of a bank to act for the bank in carrying out the provisions of 32-1-562 through 32-1-565 or, in the absence of a designation or of the officer or officers designated, the president or any other officer currently in charge of the bank or of the office or offices involved.

32-1-562. Power of department. When the department is of the opinion that an emergency exists or is impending in this state or in any part of this state, it may, by proclamation, authorize banks located in the affected area to close any of their offices. In addition, if the department is of the opinion that an emergency exists or is impending which affects or may affect a particular bank or banks, or a particular office or offices thereof, but not banks located in the area generally, it may authorize the particular bank or banks or office or offices so affected to close. The office or offices so closed shall remain closed until the department proclaims that the emergency has ended or until such earlier time as the officers of the bank determine that one or more offices theretofore closed because of the emergency should reopen and, in either event, for such further time thereafter as may reasonably be required to reopen.

32-1-563. Powers of officers. (1) When the officers of a bank are of the opinion that an emergency exists or is impending that affects or may affect any of a bank's offices, they may, in the reasonable and proper exercise of their discretion, determine to not open any of those offices on any banking day or, if having opened, to close any of those offices during the continuation of the emergency, even if the department has not issued and does not issue a proclamation of emergency. An office closed as such must remain closed until the officers determine that the emergency has ended and for a further time thereafter as may reasonably be required to reopen.

(2) The officers of a bank may close any of the bank's offices on any day:

(a) designated by proclamation of the president of the United States or the governor of this state as a day of mourning, rejoicing, or other special observance;

(b) that the federal reserve bank of Minneapolis is not open for business; or

(c) with the permission of the department to commemorate or memorialize a special day, event, or individual.

Trust Code, Title 72, ch. 38.

32-1-704. Accounting for trust funds. Unless ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction, the bank or trust company operating such common trust funds is not required to render a court accounting with regard to such funds, but it may, by application to the district court, secure approval of such an accounting on such conditions as the court may establish.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 64, L. 1955; R.C.M. 1947, 5-1402.

32-1-705. Construction. This part shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 64, L. 1955; R.C.M. 1947, 5-1403.

32-1-706. Common trust funds established. Each common trust fund established hereunder is a separate and distinct entity from the fiduciary relationships participating in the fund. No fiduciary, in administering a participating fiduciary relationship, may be required to make any apportionment or allocation between the principal and income of such relationship different from that made for the common trust fund. No such participating fiduciary relationship or person having an interest in the relationship may have or be considered to have any ownership in any particular property of the common trust fund; but each participating fiduciary relationship shall have a proportionate undivided interest in the fund and its income; and the ownership of all property of the common trust fund shall be in the trustee of the fund.

32-1-901. Definitions. For purposes of this part, the following definitions shall apply:

(1) "Board member" means a member of the board of directors of the institution.

(2) "Cease and desist order which has become final" and "order which has become final" mean a cease and desist order or an order issued by the director with the consent of the institution or the board member, officer, or other person concerned, with respect to which:

(a) a timely petition for review of the action of the director has not been filed in a district court as specified in 32-1-908(2); or

(b) the action of the court in which a petition for review has been filed is not subject to further review by the courts of the state.

(3) "Director" means the director of the department of administration.

(4) "Institution" means a commercial bank, savings bank, trust company, or investment company chartered under Title 32, chapter 1.

(5) "Violation" includes without limitation any action, alone or with others, causing, counseling, aiding, or abetting a violation.

32-1-902. Notice of charges — hearing — cease and desist order — effective date. (1) If the director has reasonable cause to believe that any institution is engaging or has engaged or is about to engage in an unsafe or unsound practice in conducting the business of such institution or is violating, has violated, or is about to violate a law or rule, the director may issue and serve upon the institution a notice of charges in respect thereof. The notice shall contain a statement of the facts constituting the alleged unsafe or unsound practice or violation and shall fix a time and place at which a hearing will be held to determine whether an order to cease and desist therefrom should issue against the institution.

(2) The hearing may not be earlier than 30 days or later than 60 days after service of the notice unless an earlier or a later date is set by the director at the request of the institution. Unless the institution appears at the hearing by a duly authorized representative, it shall be considered to have consented to the issuance of the cease and desist order. In the event of such consent or if upon the record made at any such hearing the director finds that any unsafe or unsound practice or violation specified in the notice of charges has been established by the preponderance of the evidence, the director may issue and serve upon the institution an order to cease and desist from any such practice or violation. By provisions which may be mandatory or otherwise, the order may require the institution and its board members, officers, employees, and agents to cease and desist from such practice or violation and to take affirmative action to correct the conditions resulting from any such practice or violation.

32-1-903. Informal conferences — time for application. Within 15 days after service of the notice of charges, either the institution or department may request an informal conference to discuss the charges and the possible disposition of the charges without a formal hearing process. The conference must be carried out in accordance with the provisions of 2-4-603. Upon a proper showing, the director may withdraw charges and proceedings for a cease and desist order.

32-1-904. Temporary cease and desist order — grounds for issuance — effective date — injunctive relief. (1) Whenever the director determines that any violation or threatened violation or any unsafe or unsound practice specified in the notice of charges served upon the institution pursuant to 32-1-902(1) or the continuation thereof is likely to cause insolvency or substantial dissipation of assets or earnings of the institution or is likely to otherwise seriously prejudice the interests of its depositors, the director may issue a temporary order requiring the institution to cease and desist from the violation or practice. The order must contain a statement of the facts constituting the alleged violation or unsafe or unsound practice. The order is effective upon service of the order upon the institution and unless set aside, limited, or suspended by a court in proceedings authorized by subsection (2) remains effective and enforceable until the completion of the administrative proceedings pursuant to the notice of charges, until the director dismisses the charges specified in the notice, or until a cease and desist order that is issued against the institution after the hearing becomes effective.

(2) Within 14 days after the institution has been served with a temporary cease and desist order, the institution may apply to the district court for the county in which the home office of the institution is located for an injunction setting aside, limiting, or suspending the enforcement, operation, or effectiveness of the order pending the completion of the administrative proceedings held pursuant to the notice of charges served upon the institution under 32-1-902(1). The court has jurisdiction to issue the injunction.

32-1-905. Notice of intention to remove board member or officer or to prohibit participation — suspension. (1) The director may serve upon a board member or officer of an institution a written notice of intention to remove the member or officer from office whenever the director has reasonable cause to believe that:

(a) the board member or officer has:

(i) committed any violation of law involving dishonesty or breach of trust;

(ii) violated a cease and desist order that has become final;

(iii) engaged or participated in any unsafe or unsound practice in connection with the institution; or

(iv) committed or engaged in any act, omission, or practice that constitutes a breach of the member's or officer's fiduciary duty as a board member or officer of the institution; and

(b) the institution has suffered or will probably suffer substantial financial loss or other damage or the interest of its depositors could be seriously prejudiced by reason of the violation, practice, or breach of fiduciary duty involving personal dishonesty on the part of the board member or officer.

(2) Whenever in the opinion of the director any board member or officer of an institution has, by conduct or practice with respect to another institution or business organization that has resulted in substantial financial loss or other damage to that institution or business organization, evidenced the member's or officer's personal disability and unfitness to continue as a board member or officer of the institution and whenever the director has reasonable cause to believe that any other person participating in the conduct of the affairs of an institution has, by conduct or practice with respect to the institution, another institution, or other business organization that has resulted in substantial financial loss or other damage to the institution or business organization, evidenced the person's personal disability and unfitness to participate in the conduct of the affairs of the institution, the director may serve upon the board member, officer, or other person a written notice of intention to remove the person from office or to prohibit the person's further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution.

(3) A notice of intention to remove a board member, officer, or other person from office or to prohibit the member's, officer's, or person's participation in the conduct of the affairs of an institution must contain a statement of the facts constituting grounds for the removal or prohibition and must fix a time and place at which a hearing will be held on the removal or prohibition. The hearing must be held not earlier than 30 days or later than 60 days after the date of service of the notice unless an earlier or later date is set by the director at the request of the board member, officer, or other person and for good cause shown.

(4) Unless the board member, officer, or other person appears at the hearing in person or by a duly authorized representative, the member, officer, or person must be considered to have consented to the issuance of an order of removal or prohibition. In the event of consent or if upon the record made at the hearing the director finds that any of the grounds specified in the notice have been established by the preponderance of the evidence, the director may issue orders of suspension, removal from office, or prohibition from participation in the conduct of the affairs of the institution as the director considers appropriate. The order becomes effective 30 days after service upon the institution and the board member, officer, or other person concerned, except in the case of an order issued upon consent, which becomes effective at the time specified in the order. The order remains effective and enforceable until it is stayed, modified, terminated, or set aside by action of the director or a reviewing court.

32-1-907. Suspension or prohibition effective upon service — stay. (1) With respect to any board member or officer of an institution or any other person to whom notice is sent pursuant to 32-1-905, if the director considers it necessary for the protection of the institution or the interests of its depositors that the board member, officer, or other person be suspended from office or prohibited from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution, the director may serve upon the board member, officer, or other person a written notice suspending the member, officer, or person from office or prohibiting the member, officer, or person from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution. The notice must contain a statement of the facts constituting grounds for the order and must fix a time, not later than 14 days from the date of the service of the notice, at which a hearing will be held to afford the board member, officer, or other person the opportunity to respond. The suspension or prohibition is effective upon service of the notice and unless stayed by a court in proceedings authorized by subsection (2) remains in effect until the completion of the administrative proceedings pursuant to the notice served under 32-1-904, until the time that the director dismisses the charges specified in the notice, or until the order of removal or prohibition that is issued against the board member, officer, or other person becomes effective. Copies of the notice must also be served upon the institution of which the person is a director or officer or in the conduct of whose affairs the person has participated.

(2) Within 14 days after the hearing provided for in subsection (1), the board member, officer, or other person may apply to the district court for the county in which the home office of the institution is located for a stay of the suspension or prohibition pending the completion of the administrative proceedings pursuant to the notice served upon the board member, officer, or other person under 32-1-904. The court has jurisdiction to stay the suspension or prohibition.

32-1-908. Felony charges — suspension or prohibition. (1) Whenever any board member or officer of an institution or other person participating in the conduct of the affairs of an institution is charged in any information, indictment, warrant, or complaint authorized by a county, state, or federal authority with the commission of or participation in a felony involving dishonesty or breach of trust, the director by written notice served upon the board member, officer, or other person may suspend that individual from office or prohibit that individual from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution. Suspension is effective upon service upon the individual. The notice must contain a statement of the facts constituting grounds for the order and must fix a place and time, not later than 14 days from the date of the notice, at which a hearing will be held to afford the board member, officer, or other person the opportunity to respond. A copy of the notice must also be served upon the institution. The suspension or prohibition remains in effect until the information, indictment, warrant, or complaint is finally disposed of or until terminated by the director.

(2) Within 14 days after the hearing provided for in subsection (1), the board member, officer, or other person may apply to the district court for the county in which the home office of the institution is located for a stay of the suspension or prohibition pending the completion of the criminal proceedings initiated by the information, indictment, warrant, or complaint. The court has jurisdiction to stay the suspension or prohibition.

(3) If a judgment of conviction with respect to the offense is entered against the board member, officer, or other person and at the time that the judgment is not subject to further appellate review, the director may issue and serve upon the board member, officer, or other person an order removing that individual from office or prohibiting that individual from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution except with the consent of the director. A copy of the order must also be served upon the institution, and upon receipt the board member or officer ceases to be a board member or officer of the institution. A finding of not guilty or other disposition of the charge does not preclude the director from instituting proceedings to suspend or remove the board member, officer, or other person from office or to prohibit further participation in the affairs of the institution pursuant to 32-1-905 or 32-1-906.

32-1-909. Board of directors — lack of quorum — temporary board members. If at any time because of the suspension or removal of one or more board members pursuant to this part the board of directors of an institution has less than a quorum of board members not so suspended or removed, all powers and functions vested in or exercisable by the board shall vest in and be exercisable by the board members not so suspended or removed until such time as there is a quorum of the board members. If all of the board members have been suspended or removed, the director shall appoint persons to serve temporarily as board members, pending the termination of the suspensions or removals or until such time as their successors are duly elected and take office.

32-1-910. Hearings — decision — review, modification, termination or stay of orders. (1) A hearing provided for in this part must be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Montana Administrative Procedure Act. The hearing must be private unless the director, after fully considering the views of the party afforded the hearing, determines that a public hearing is necessary to protect the public interest. After the hearing and within 90 days after the director has notified the parties that the case has been submitted for final decision, the director shall render a decision, which must include findings of fact upon which the decision is based, and shall issue and serve upon each party to the proceeding an order consistent with the provisions of this section.

(2) Any party to the hearing or any person required by an order issued under this part to cease and desist from any of the violations or practices stated in the order or any person suspended, removed, or prohibited from participation in the conduct of the affairs of an institution may obtain a review of any order, other than a consent order. The review must be pursuant to the Montana Administrative Procedure Act. Unless a petition for review is timely filed as provided in the Montana Administrative Procedure Act, the director, at any time, upon notice and in a manner that the director considers proper, may modify, terminate, or set aside the order. Upon the timely filing of a petition for review, the director may modify, terminate, or set aside the order with the permission of the court.

32-1-1001. Definition of foreign trust company. (1) For the purposes of this part, the term "foreign trust company" includes each banking and trust association or corporation organized under the laws of any state other than Montana that has the power to act as trustee, guardian, or conservator and each national banking association that maintains its principal office in any state other than Montana that has been granted permission by the comptroller of the currency to act in a fiduciary capacity under the provisions of 12 U.S.C. 92a, as amended.

(2) A foreign trust company acting pursuant to this part is not a foreign corporation regulated by 32-1-402.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 290, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 15, L. 2005.

32-1-1002. Appointment of foreign trust companies. (1) A foreign trust company from a state offering reciprocity, as provided in subsection (2), may accept an appointment and act as:

(a) the trustee of any trust created by will, indenture, or other instrument by a person residing in this state, a corporation with its principal offices in this state, or a political entity located in this state;

(b) a guardian or conservator of the person, estate, or both person and estate of any resident of this state;

(c) an executor of the will or administrator of the estate of a decedent who was a resident of the state in which the foreign trust company maintains its principal office at the time of death, in ancillary probate proceedings in this state; and

(d) a guardian or conservator in ancillary proceedings in this state with respect to the property of a resident of the state in which the foreign trust company maintains its principal office.

(2) A foreign trust company may accept appointments in this state if banking or trust associations or corporations organized under the laws of this state or national banking associations that maintain their principal offices in this state are permitted to act as trustees, guardians, or conservators in the state in which the foreign trust company maintains its principal office.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 290, L. 1993.

32-1-1003. Designation of attorney for service of process. Before accepting an appointment or acting as a trustee, guardian, or conservator, a foreign trust company shall appoint the secretary of state as its attorney for the service of all legal process in any action or proceedings involving any acts or defaults by it as trustee, guardian, or conservator. The appointment is irrevocable. Service upon the secretary of state as attorney is as valid and binding as if personal service were made upon the foreign trust company.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 290, L. 1993.

32-1-1004. Service of process. Service of process under this part may be made by delivering a copy of the papers to be served to the secretary of state personally or by filing a copy in the secretary of state's office, accompanied by one additional copy for each foreign trust company to be served. The secretary of state shall, no later than the business day following the date of service, mail to each served foreign trust company, by certified mail, a copy of papers that were served. The copies must be mailed to the address shown for each foreign trust company in the records of the office of the secretary of state.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 290, L. 1993.

32-1-1005. Bond. Before accepting an appointment or acting as a trustee, guardian, or conservator, a foreign trust company shall file a bond with a court of competent jurisdiction in an amount that the court directs, with sufficient sureties, conditioned on the faithful discharge of its duties as trustee, guardian, or conservator. A foreign trust company is not required to file a bond with respect to a trust, other than a trust created by a will, if the trust instrument requests or directs that a bond is not required of the trustee.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 290, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 139, Ch. 42, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 80, Ch. 483, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 122, L. 2013; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 12, L. 2015.

32-1-1006. Rights and duties. A foreign trust company acting as trustee, guardian, or conservator has the rights, authority, and duties that a natural person resident in this state duly acting as trustee, guardian, or conservator has under the laws of this state.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 290, L. 1993.

32-1-1007. Solicitation of business. A foreign trust company may conduct business in Montana only in accordance with rules adopted by the department.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 290, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 81, Ch. 483, L. 2001.

Part 15

Financial Institutions — Preventing Financial Exploitation

32-1-1501. Definitions. For the purposes of this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Covered agency" means any of the following:

(a) a federal, state, or local law enforcement agency; or

(b) the department of public health and human services as provided in 2-15-2201 or its local affiliate.

(2) "Covered financial institution" means any bank, credit union, savings bank, savings and loan association, or trust company operating in Montana.

(3) "Financial exploitation" means:

(a) the unreasonable use of a vulnerable adult or of a power of attorney, trust, conservatorship, guardianship, or fiduciary relationship with regard to a vulnerable adult in order to obtain control of or to divert to the advantage of another the ownership, use, benefit, or possession of or interest in the vulnerable adult's money, assets, rights, credit accounts, or property by means of deception, duress, menace, fraud, undue influence, or intimidation with the intent or result of permanently depriving the vulnerable adult of the ownership, use, benefit, or possession of or interest in the vulnerable adult's money, assets, rights, credit accounts, or property;

(b) an act taken by a person who has the trust and confidence of a vulnerable adult to obtain control of or to divert to the advantage of another the ownership, use, benefit, or possession of or interest in the vulnerable adult's money, assets, rights, credit accounts, or property by means of deception, duress, menace, fraud, undue influence, or intimidation with the intent or result of permanently depriving the vulnerable adult of the ownership, use, benefit, or possession of or interest in the vulnerable adult's money, assets, rights, credit accounts, or property; or

(c) the unreasonable use of a vulnerable adult or of a power of attorney, trust, conservatorship, guardianship, or fiduciary relationship with regard to a vulnerable adult done in the course of an offer or sale of insurance or securities in order to obtain control of or to divert to the advantage of another the ownership, use, benefit, or possession of the vulnerable adult's money, assets, rights, credit accounts, or property by means of deception, duress, menace, fraud, undue influence, or intimidation with the intent or result of permanently depriving the vulnerable adult of the ownership, use, benefit, or possession of the person's money, assets, rights, credit accounts, or property.

(4) "Transaction" means any of the following as applicable to services provided by a covered financial institution:

(a) a transfer or request to transfer or disburse funds or assets in an account;

(b) a request to initiate a wire transfer, initiate an automated clearinghouse transfer, or issue a money order, cashier's check, or official check;

(c) a request to negotiate a check or other negotiable instrument;

(d) a request to change the ownership of, or access to, an account;

(e) a request to sell or transfer securities or other assets, or a request to affix a medallion stamp or provide any form of guarantee or endorsement in connection with an attempt to sell or transfer securities or other assets, if the person selling or transferring the securities or assets is not required to register under 30-10-201;

(f) a request for a loan, extension of credit, or draw on a line of credit;

(g) a request to encumber any movable or immovable property; and

(h) a request to designate or change the designation of beneficiaries to receive any property, benefit, or contract right for a vulnerable adult at death.

(5) "Vulnerable adult" has the meaning provided in 52-3-803.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 241, L. 2019; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 12, L. 2023.

32-1-1502. Notices. (1) A covered financial institution may notify any covered agency if the covered financial institution believes that the financial exploitation of a vulnerable adult is occurring, has or may have occurred, is being attempted, or has been or may have been attempted.

(2) A covered financial institution may notify any third party reasonably associated with a vulnerable adult if the covered financial institution believes that the financial exploitation of a vulnerable adult is occurring, has or may have occurred, is being attempted, or has been or may have been attempted. A third party reasonably associated with a vulnerable adult includes but is not limited to the following:

(a) a parent, spouse, adult child, sibling, or other known family member or close associate of a vulnerable adult;

(b) an authorized contact provided by a vulnerable adult to the covered financial institution;

(c) a co-owner, additional authorized signatory, or beneficiary on a vulnerable adult's account; and

(d) an attorney-in-fact, trustee, conservator, guardian, or other fiduciary who has been selected by the vulnerable adult, a court, a governmental agency, or a third party to manage some or all of the financial affairs of the vulnerable adult.

(3) A covered financial institution may choose not to notify any third party reasonably associated with a vulnerable adult of suspected financial exploitation of the vulnerable adult if the covered financial institution believes the third party is, may be, or may have been engaged in the financial exploitation of the vulnerable adult.

(4) A covered financial institution shall make a reasonable effort, at least annually, to notify the appropriate employees of the covered financial institution of their ability to report potential financial exploitation of a vulnerable adult to personnel within the covered financial institution.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 241, L. 2019; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 12, L. 2023.

32-1-1503. Delaying transactions. (1) A covered financial institution may, but is not required to, delay completion or execution of a transaction involving an account of a vulnerable adult, an account on which a vulnerable adult is a beneficiary, an account in which the vulnerable adult has a financial interest, or an account of a person suspected of perpetrating financial exploitation if either of the following conditions apply:

(a) the covered financial institution reasonably believes that the requested transaction may result in financial exploitation of a vulnerable adult; or

(b) a covered agency provides information demonstrating to the financial institution that it is reasonable to believe that financial exploitation is occurring, has or may have occurred, is being attempted, or has been or may have been attempted.

(2) If a covered financial institution delays a transaction pursuant to subsection (1), the covered financial institution shall, no later than 2 business days after the transaction is delayed, send written notification of the delay and the reason for the delay to all parties authorized to transact business on the account for which the covered financial institution has contact information unless any party is reasonably believed to have engaged in attempted financial exploitation of the vulnerable adult. The notification described in this subsection may be provided by electronic means.

(3) If a covered financial institution delays a transaction pursuant to subsection (1), the covered financial institution may provide notification of the delay, the reason for the delay, and any additional information about the transaction to any covered agency.

(4) Except as ordered by a court, a covered financial institution is not required to delay a transaction when provided with information by a covered agency alleging that financial exploitation is occurring, has or may have occurred, is being attempted, or has been or may have been attempted but may use its discretion to determine whether to delay a transaction based on the information available to the covered financial institution.

(5) Except as provided in subsection (6), any delay of a transaction as authorized pursuant to this section expires or is terminated when the earliest of either of the following circumstances occur:

(a) the covered financial institution reasonably determines that the transaction will not result in financial exploitation of a vulnerable adult; or

(b) 15 business days pass from the date on which the covered financial institution first initiated the delay of the transaction.

(6) (a) A covered financial institution may extend the delay provided for in subsection (5) upon receiving a request to extend the delay from any covered agency, in which case the delay expires or is terminated no later than 25 business days from the date on which the covered financial institution first initiated the delay of the transaction.

(b) A court of competent jurisdiction may enter an order extending or shortening a delay or providing other relief based on the petition of the covered financial institution, any covered agency, or other interested party.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 241, L. 2019; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 12, L. 2023.

32-1-1504. Immunity. (1) (a) A covered financial institution and its directors, officers, employees, attorneys, accountants, agents, and other representatives have no duty to act pursuant to this part or otherwise to protect a vulnerable adult from financial exploitation by a third person.

(b) A covered financial institution and its directors, officers, employees, attorneys, accountants, agents, and other representatives are immune from all criminal, civil, and administrative liability for not taking action pursuant to this part.

(c) A covered financial institution and its directors, officers, employees, attorneys, accountants, agents, or other representatives who choose to act pursuant to the authority granted in this part are immune from all criminal, civil, and administrative liability for any act taken pursuant to this part unless the act of the financial institution or its representatives was done in bad faith and caused pecuniary loss to a vulnerable adult who was suspected of being a victim of financial exploitation.

(2) The immunity provided for in this section may not extend to any individual in a case when the individual is a principal, a conspirator, or an accessory after the fact to a criminal offense involving the financial exploitation of a vulnerable adult.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 241, L. 2019; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 12, L. 2023.

Part 6
General Provisions

32-2-601. Short title — application — purpose. (1) This chapter may be cited as the "Mutual Savings and Loan Association Act".

(2) A corporation that has been incorporated for the purpose of encouraging home ownership and thrift and making substantially all of its loans in qualified thrift investments is known in this chapter as a state mutual association of the department, which shall enforce all laws with respect to it.

(3) This chapter applies to:

(a) all mutual associations specified in 32-2-602;

(b) corporations that subject themselves to This chapter; and

(c) persons, partnerships, or corporations who by violating this chapter become subject to the penalties provided in this chapter.

(4) The purpose of this chapter is to provide the state with a sound system of state-chartered mutual associations by providing for and encouraging the development of state-chartered mutual associations while restricting their activities to the extent necessary to protect the interest of depositors. The purpose includes:

(a) the sound conduct of the business of mutual associations;

(b) the conservation of mutual association assets;

(c) the maintenance of adequate reserves against deposits;

(d) the opportunity for mutual associations to compete with other businesses, including but not limited to other financial organizations existing under the laws of this state, other states, the United States, and foreign countries;

(e) the opportunity for mutual associations to serve the citizens of this state;

(f) the opportunity for mutual associations to participate in and promote the economic progress of Montana and the United States; and

(g) the opportunity for the management of mutual associations to exercise business judgment in conducting the affairs of their institutions.

(5) A corporation operated for the purpose of encouraging home ownership and thrift and making substantially all of its loans in qualified thrift investments is known as a mutual association and is under the supervision of the department, which shall enforce all laws with respect to it.

(6) The mutual associations have continual succession and must be organized under the provisions of this chapter.

(7) This chapter does not restrict the activities of mutual associations for the purpose of protecting any person from competition from financial organizations and does not confer any right or cause of action on any competitor.

(8) This section constitutes the standard to be observed by the commissioner of banking and financial institutions in the exercise of authority under this chapter and provides guidelines in the construction and application of this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-602. General applicability. It is unlawful for any corporation, partnership, firm, or individual to engage in or transact business as a mutual association, as defined in 32-2-603, except by means of a corporation organized for that purpose.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-603. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Capital" means, with respect to a mutual association:

(a) retained earnings; or

(b) at the discretion of the commissioner, any other form of capital, subject to any applicable federal and state laws.

(2) "Commissioner" means the commissioner of banking and financial institutions as provided in 32-1-211.

(3) "Department" means the department of administration provided for in 2-15-1001.

(4) "Deposit" has the meaning provided in 12 C.F.R. 204.2, as amended. The term includes demand deposits, which includes all deposits, the payment of which may legally be required when demanded.

(5) "Division" means the division of banking and financial institutions of the department.

(6) "Federal savings association" means a federal savings and loan association or a federal savings bank doing business under authority granted by the office of the comptroller of the currency or the former office of thrift supervision.

(7) "Institution-affiliated party" means:

(a) any director, officer, or employee of or agent for a mutual association;

(b) any other person who has filed or is required to file a change-in-control notice pursuant to this chapter;

(c) any consultant, joint venture partner, or other person as determined by the commissioner who participates in the conduct of the affairs of an insured depository institution; and

(d) any independent contractor, including any attorney, appraiser, or accountant, who knowingly or recklessly participates in any violation of any law or rule, any breach of fiduciary duty, or any unsafe or unsound practice that caused or is likely to cause more than a minimal financial loss to or a significant adverse effect on the mutual association.

(8) "Insured depository institution" means a bank or savings association in which the deposits are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation.

(9) "Member" means all holders of the mutual association's savings, demand, including other authorized members on accounts.

(10) "Mutual association" means any corporation that has been incorporated to conduct the business of receiving money on deposit from its members and making substantially all of its loans on one-to-four family real estate mortgage security. The term includes a savings and loan association formed without authority to issue stock.

(11) "Portfolio assets" has the same meaning as provided in 12 U.S.C. 1467a, as amended.

(12) "Qualified thrift investments" has the same meaning as provided in 12 U.S.C. 1467a, as amended.

(13) "Savings association" or "savings and loan association" means a savings association or savings bank organized under the laws of the United States or a building and loan association, savings and loan association, or similar entity organized under the laws of a state. "Savings association" also includes a state mutual association that elects to operate as a savings and loan association under this chapter.

(14) (a) "Service provider" means an entity that provides one or more of the following services to a mutual association:

(i) data processing services;

(ii) activities supporting financial services, including but not limited to lending, funds transfer, fiduciary activities, trading activities, and deposit taking;

(iii) internet-related services, including but not limited to web services and electronic bill payments, mobile applications, system and software development and maintenance, and security monitoring; and

(iv) activities related to the business of mutual associations.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) an entity that provides telecommunications service, internet access service, internet transport services, voice-over internet protocol service, or other internet protocol-enabled service; or

(ii) a general audience or communications platform.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-604 through 32-2-606 reserved.

32-2-607. Notice of violation — administrative hearing — penalties — liability. (1) If the department has reasonable cause to believe that a person has violated this chapter, a rule promulgated under this chapter, or an order issued by the department or has made a material misrepresentation to the department by act or omission, the department may issue an administrative notice stating the alleged violation to the person.

(2) The Montana Administrative Procedure Act's provisions for contested cases and judicial review of contested cases apply to civil violations of this chapter.

(3) Any mutual association that maintains procedures reasonably adapted to avoid any inadvertent and unintentional error and, as a result of such an error, fails to submit or publish any report or information required by this chapter within the period of time specified by this chapter, or submits or publishes any false or misleading report or information, or inadvertently transmits or publishes any report that is minimally late is subject to a penalty of not more than $500 for each day during which the failure continues or the false or misleading information is not corrected. The mutual association has the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that an error was inadvertent and unintentional and that a report was inadvertently transmitted or published late.

(4) Any mutual association that fails to submit or publish any report or information required within the period of time specified by this chapter or submits or publishes any false or misleading report or information in a manner not described in subsection (3) is subject to a penalty of not more than $5,000 for each day during which the failure continues or the false or misleading information is not corrected.

(5) If any mutual association knowingly or with reckless disregard for the accuracy of any information or report described in subsection (4) submits or publishes any false or misleading report or information, the division may assess a penalty of not more than $10,000 for each day during which the failure continues or the false or misleading information is not corrected.

(6) The department's remedies specified in this chapter are cumulative.

(7) All civil penalties collected pursuant to this section must be deposited in the special revenue account for use by the department in its supervision of mutual associations.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-608. Criminal liabilities. (1) A person who knowingly and purposefully violates any provision of this chapter or any rule or order under this chapter shall upon conviction be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than 10 years, or both. However, if the person has been previously convicted of a felony in any way involving financial institutions, the person shall be imprisoned for not less than 1 year.

(2) The commissioner may refer evidence that may be available concerning violations of this chapter or of any rule or order under this chapter to the attorney general or the proper prosecuting attorney, who may in the prosecutor's discretion, with or without a reference, institute the appropriate criminal proceedings under this chapter.

(3) The provisions of this chapter do not limit the power of the state to punish any person for any conduct that constitutes a crime.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

Part 7
Department Responsibility

32-2-701. Examination and supervision by department — duties — rulemaking. (1) The department shall:

(a) exercise constant supervision over the books and affairs of all mutual associations doing business in this state; and

(b) investigate the methods of operation and conduct of business of the mutual associations and their systems of accounting to ascertain whether the methods and systems are in accordance with law and sound principles of mutual associations.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3), the department shall:

(a) examine, at least once every 24 months, each mutual association and verify the assets and liabilities of each and investigate the character and value of the assets of each to ascertain with reasonable certainty that the values are correctly carried on the books; and

(b) submit in writing to the examined mutual association a report of the examination's findings no later than 60 days after the completion of the examination.

(3) The department may accept as the examination required by subsection (2) the findings or results of an examination of a mutual association that was made by a federal or state regulatory agency or insuring agency of the United States authorized to make the examination.

(4) Whenever a mutual association is subject to examination by the department that causes any of the services listed for a service provider in 32-2-603 to be performed by itself, by contract or otherwise, the performance is subject to regulation and examination by the department to the same extent as if the services were performed by the mutual association itself.

(5) The department may:

(a) enter into joint examination or joint enforcement actions with other regulatory agencies having concurrent jurisdiction over a mutual association or service provider;

(b) enter into agreements with any depository institution regulatory agency that has concurrent jurisdiction over a mutual association or service provider to:

(i) engage the services of the agency's examiners at a reasonable rate of compensation; or

(ii) provide the services of the department's examiners to the agency at a reasonable rate of compensation; and

(c) disclose to a mutual association information about a service provider of the mutual association.

(6) The department may in the performance of its official enforcement duties:

(a) examine under oath any of the officers, directors, agents, clerks, customers, or depositors of a mutual association regarding the affairs and business of the mutual association; and

(b) issue subpoenas and administer oaths.

(7) In the case of a refusal to obey a subpoena issued by the department, the refusal may be reported to the district court of the district in which the mutual association is located. The court shall enforce obedience to the subpoena in the manner provided by law for enforcing obedience to the process of the court.

(8) In all matters relating to its official duties, the department has the same power possessed by courts of law to issue subpoenas and have them served and enforced.

(9) All officers, directors, agents, and employees of mutual associations doing business under this chapter and all persons having dealings with or knowledge of the affairs or methods of a mutual association shall:

(a) at all times afford reasonable facilities for examinations;

(b) provide responses and reports to the department as required by the department;

(c) attend hearings and answer under oath the department's inquiries;

(d) produce and exhibit any books, accounts, documents, and property the department desires to inspect; and

(e) in all things aid the department in the performance of its duties.

(10) The provisions of 32-1-212 apply to this chapter.

(11) The department may adopt rules to implement this section.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-702. Payments by mutual associations. Each mutual association under the supervision of the department shall pay to the department fees set by the department by rule to recover all of the costs of administering the program for supervision of mutual associations. The department may amend the rule setting the fees on or before June 1 and December 1 of each year. The funds collected must be deposited in the state special revenue fund for the use of the department in its supervision of mutual associations.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-703. Examination — request of directors. If requested in writing, upon the authority of a majority of the board of directors of any mutual association to make an examination of the mutual association, the department shall do so.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-704. Department rulemaking. (1) The department may promulgate reasonable rules and orders concerning bookkeeping and accounting by state mutual associations, including the keeping of reasonable credit information, information in connection with assets, or information in connection with charged-off items.

(2) The department may adopt uniform rules to govern the examination and reports of mutual associations and prescribe the form in which mutual associations report their assets, liabilities, and reserves.

(3) The department may promulgate reasonable rules concerning applications for and determinations on applications for the formation, relocation, closure, and sale of branch mutual associations.

(4) The department may adopt rules, issue orders and declaratory statements, disseminate information, and exercise its discretion to effectuate the purposes, policies, and provisions of this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-705. Reliance on order — limit on liability. (1) A person acting in good faith reliance on a rule, order, or declaratory statement issued by the division is not subject to any criminal, civil, or administrative liability for the action if a subsequent decision by a court of competent jurisdiction invalidates the rule, order, or declaratory statement.

(2) In the case of an order or declaratory statement that is not of general application, only the person to whom the order or declaratory statement was issued is entitled to rely on it unless a third person is dealing with material facts or circumstances that are substantially the same as those on which the order or declaratory statement was based.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-706. Reports to department. (1) A mutual association shall make to the department regular call reports at least four times each year according to the form that may be prescribed by the department, verified by oath or affirmation of the president, vice president, or cashier of the mutual association, and attested by the signature of at least two of the directors other than the subscribing officer.

(2) Each call report must exhibit in detail and under appropriate schedules the resources and liabilities of the mutual association at the close of business on any past day specified by the department. The past day specified by the department, under the provisions of this section, must be the day designated by the comptroller of the currency of the United States for reports of national banking associations.

(3) The call report must be transmitted to the department within 30 days after the past day specified under subsection (2). A mutual association's successful and timely electronic transmittal of its call report to the applicable federal regulatory authority satisfies the mutual association's obligation to transmit the report to the department. The original signature page of the mutual association's call report that complies with subsection (1) must be permanently retained by the mutual association and available for the department's review.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-707. Special reports to department. In addition to the information obtained from the call report required by 32-2-706, the department may also require a mutual association to furnish a special report in writing, verified as required by 32-2-706, if in its judgment the special report is necessary to inform it fully of the actual financial condition and affairs of the mutual association.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-708 and 32-2-709 reserved.

32-2-710. Confidentiality — penalties. (1) (a) Reports and statement under 32-2-701, 32-2-703, and 32-2-707 are confidential. Except for information made public by the federal deposit insurance corporation or another federal mutual association authority's publicly accessible website, any information contained in the reports and statements is confidential. Except as provided in subsection (1)(b), confidential information may not be disclosed to persons who are not officially associated with the department and must be used by the department only to further its official duties.

(b) The department may exchange information with federal financial institution regulatory agencies and with the financial regulatory departments of other states. The department may furnish reports of its examination findings under 32-2-701 and 32-2-703 to a federal home loan bank, as defined in the Federal Home Loan Bank Act of 1932, 12 U.S.C. 1422. The department may furnish information to the legislative auditor for use in pursuit of official duties. A prosecuting official may obtain the information by court order.

(2) Any knowledge or information gained or discovered by the department in pursuance of its powers or duties is confidential information of the department. The information may not, except as provided in subsection (1)(b), be disclosed to any person not officially associated with the department. The information must be used by the department only to further its official duties.

(3) An employee or agent of the department who violates this section or willfully makes a false official report as to the condition of a mutual association must be removed from office and is guilty of a felony. Upon conviction, the person shall be fined an amount not exceeding $1,000, be imprisoned in a state correctional facility for a term not exceeding 5 years, or both.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-711. Prohibited practices. (1) It is unlawful for any person to knowingly and purposefully:

(a) make any material false statement of facts, statement of accounts, or report to the department; or

(b) make any false entries in the books of the mutual association.

(2) It is unlawful for any person to knowingly exhibit false documents with the intent to deceive any person authorized to examine a mutual association.

(3) Violations of this section are punishable as provided in 32-2-608.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

Part 8
Formation and Reorganization

32-2-801. Formation. (1) Five or more individuals who are residents of this state may, with the approval of the commissioner, incorporate a mutual association.

(2) The persons proposing to incorporate a mutual association shall apply for approval to incorporate by submitting the application in a form prescribed by the commissioner, which must be under oath and include all of the following plus any additional information that the department may require by rule as necessary or appropriate in the particular instance for the protection of depositors, borrowers, or members and the public interest:

(a) the proposed articles of incorporation and bylaws set forth in 32-2-805 through 32-2-807;

(b) an application for reservation of a name in accordance with 35-14-402, if reservation is desired by the incorporators and has not been previously filed; and

(c) information to demonstrate the proposed mutual association will satisfy the following requirements:

(i) a persuasive showing that there is a reasonable public necessity and demand for a new mutual association at the proposed location;

(ii) that the mutual association will be managed by persons of good moral character and financial integrity who have sufficient management experience to ensure that the mutual association will be operated safely and soundly;

(iii) a persuasive showing that the new mutual association will have sufficient volume of business to ensure solvency and that establishment of the new mutual association organized under the laws of this state will be in the public interest;

(iv) the proposed minimum amount of initial capital contribution to be deposited, which must be set by the commissioner;

(v) an application fee, which must be set by the department by rule; and

(vi) Any other information the commissioner requires by rule or in a specific application.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-802. Notice of acceptance of application. If the department determines that a completed application has been received, it shall issue a notice of acceptance of application to the applicant.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-803. Notice of proposed incorporation. (1) (a) Within 10 days after receipt from the department of a notice of acceptance of an application, the applicant shall publish notice of the proposed incorporation in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the mutual association's initial main office is to be located. The applicant shall publish the notice once a week for 2 weeks and furnish a certified copy of the affidavit of publication to the department.

(b) The notice shall specify the name of the proposed mutual association, its location, the amount of the proposed capital, the names of the incorporators, the address of the commissioner, and the date by which comments on the application must be filed with the commissioner, which is 30 days after the date of the first publication of the notice.

(2) If any comments on the application are filed with the commissioner within the 30-day period prescribed in subsection (1), the commissioner shall determine whether the comments are relevant to the requirements for incorporation of the mutual association and, if so, investigate the comments in the manner the commissioner considers appropriate.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-804. Department investigation. (1) The department may gather all available information relative to an application. The department may also make, or cause to be made, any investigations of any individual associated with the applicant as may be warranted under the circumstances, including a full background check and credit check.

(2) The department may use any administrative procedure necessary, including the taking of depositions, discovery, subpoenas, and the production of documents, to investigate an application. The Montana Administrative Procedure Act applies.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-805. Articles of incorporation. (1) A mutual association's articles of incorporation must contain the following:

(a) the information required by 35-14-202(1);

(b) the name of the city or town and county within the state in which the principal office of the corporation is to be located;

(c) the names and business addresses of the initial incorporators;

(d) the number of the board of directors and the names of those agreed on for the first year; and

(e) the purpose for which the mutual association is formed, which may be set forth by the use of the general terms defined in this chapter, with reference to each line of business in which the proposed corporation desires to engage.

(2) A mutual association may not adopt or use the name of any other mutual association, and the corporation name must comply with 35-14-401(2) through (4) and 32-1-402.

(3) A mutual association may not be organized or incorporated until the articles of incorporation have been reviewed and approved by the department and until the mutual association has obtained a certificate from the department authorizing the proposed corporation to transact the business specified in the articles of incorporation within this state.

(4) A mutual association may not amend or restate its articles of incorporation until its articles of amendment or restatement have been reviewed and approved by the department. A mutual association shall make a true copy of its articles of incorporation and bylaws and all related amendments available to account holders at all times in each office of the mutual association and shall on request and payment of a reasonable copying fee deliver to any account holders a copy of the articles of incorporation and bylaws and related amendments.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-806. Incorporation. The proposed articles of incorporation must be presented to the department, together with an application in writing in the form prescribed by the department, for a certificate authorizing the proposed corporation to transact the business specified in the articles of incorporation within this state.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-807. Bylaws. (1) The bylaws must be in conformity with the provisions of this chapter and must be open to inspection by the members at the principal place of business during regular business hours.

(2) The bylaws, among other things, must provide for:

(a) the character and method of conducting the business of the mutual association, with rules governing the addition of members and the amount of the membership fee;

(b) the annual meeting of the members;

(c) the annual election and qualification of directors and the term or period during which the directors shall serve;

(d) the appointment of officers;

(e) the adoption, ratification, and amendment of the bylaws, which may be made either by the members or by the board of directors;

(f) the method of voting at the annual meeting; and

(g) the periodic investigation of the business and condition of the mutual association.

(3) The bylaws and any change or amendment of the bylaws are not effective until first reviewed and approved by the department, and a mutual association may not commence the transaction of business until after the bylaws have been reviewed and approved by the department.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-808. Capital. (1) The capital of a mutual association must be an amount determined by the commissioner based on the amount and character of the anticipated business of the mutual association and the safety of prospective depositors.

(2) As used in this section, "capital" means the initial funding required to organize a mutual association.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-809. Review of application. (1) The commissioner shall examine all of the facts connected with the application to determine if all of the requirements of law are met, including but not limited to the following:

(a) the proposed articles of incorporation and bylaws, application for reservation of name, applicable fees, and other items required meet the requirements of this chapter;

(b) the population and economic characteristics of the area to be served afford reasonable promise of adequate support for the proposed mutual association;

(c) the competence, experience, character and fitness, financial resources, and integrity of the proposed directors and officers are to command the confidence of the community and warrant the belief that the business of the proposed mutual association will be honestly and efficiently conducted;

(d) the capital of the proposed mutual association is adequate in relation to the amount and character of the anticipated business of the association and the safety of prospective depositors;

(e) the commissioner is satisfied, based on the investigation conducted pursuant to 32-2-804 and any other facts within the knowledge of the commissioner, that the mutual association is otherwise entitled to commence business; and

(f) the commissioner has received from the federal deposit insurance corporation written confirmation that it has approved the mutual association's application to become an insured state savings association as defined in section 3(h) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, 12 U.S.C. 1813(h), as amended, or the mutual association has received satisfactory assurance from the federal deposit insurance corporation that the proposed mutual association will be accepted for insurance if the incorporators comply with certain slated minor requirements imposed by the federal deposit insurance corporation. The minor requirements must be of a type and character that the commissioner determines can be promptly complied with by the incorporators without serious difficulties.

(2) Within 180 days following the date of acceptance of the application, the commissioner shall approve or disapprove the application of the proposed mutual association on the basis of the examination. In giving approval, the commissioner may impose conditions to be met prior to the issuance of a certificate of authority to commence business under this chapter.

(3) If the commissioner approves the application, the commissioner shall notify the applicant of the approval and proceed with the steps to complete the application.

(4) If the commissioner denies the application, the denial must be in writing in the form of findings of fact and conclusions of law and order. The applicant may file an administrative appeal pursuant to the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

(5) The findings and order may not be disclosed to any other party and may not be subject to public disclosure under 32-2-710 unless the findings of fact and the conclusions of law and order are appealed pursuant to the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-810. Certificate of authority to commence business. (1) A mutual association organized under this chapter may not accept deposits, incur indebtedness, or transact any business other than business that is incidental to its organization until it receives a certificate of authority to commence business issued by the commissioner.

(2) A mutual association organized under this chapter may not commence business until the capital required in its permission to organize has been deposited to the credit of the financial institution in a depository designated by the directors. When the required capital is deposited, a complete list of the capital depositors, with the name, address, occupation, and amount of capital deposited by each, must be filed with the commissioner, and the list must be verified by the president and secretary of the mutual association.

(3) When the mutual association has completed all steps necessary to begin business, the association shall file a report with the commissioner certifying that it has done everything required by the commissioner before it can be authorized to commence business.

(4) Upon receipt of the report referred to in subsection (3), the commissioner shall examine the affairs of the mutual association and determine whether the mutual association has complied with all of the requirements necessary to entitle it to engage in business.

(5) All transactions conducted by a person in violation of this section are void.

History: En. Sec. 25, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-811. Failure to commence business. (1) Any mutual association that fails to commence business as a financial institution within 1 year after receiving a certificate of authorization forfeits that certificate and shall cease all activities. The commissioner shall certify to the secretary of state that the certificate of authority has been forfeited so that the mutual association's articles of incorporation may be terminated by the secretary of state.

(2) On forfeiture, the contributors of initial capital deposits of the mutual association are entitled to the return of any amounts they have paid to the institution, and all expenses incurred in the organization must be borne by the original organizers who were named in the application for permission to organize.

History: En. Sec. 26, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-812 through 32-2-815 reserved.

32-2-816. Conversion from federal mutual savings and loan association — state mutual savings and loan association. (1) Any federal mutual savings and loan association organized and existing under the laws and regulations of the United States and duly authorized to operate and actually operating in Montana may convert into a Montana mutual savings and loan association operating under the provisions of this chapter, with the same force and effect as though originally incorporated under the provisions of this chapter, by complying with the rules and regulations of the federal regulatory authority and also by following the procedure set forth in subsection (2).

(2) (a) The federal mutual association shall submit a plan of conversion to the commissioner. When the plan, either with or without amendment, has been approved by the commissioner, it must be submitted to the members of the mutual association as provided in subsection (2)(b).

(b) A meeting of the members must be held on not less than 30 days' notice to each member. Notice of the meeting must be mailed to each member, postage prepaid, to the last-known address of the member shown on the books of the mutual association.

(c) At the meeting of the members of the mutual association, the members may by affirmative vote of a majority of members present, in person or by proxy, resolve to convert the federal mutual association to a state mutual association. A copy of the minutes of the meeting of the members, certified by an appropriate officer of the mutual association, must be filed with the commissioner, accompanied by a conversion fee, which must be set by the department by rule.

(d) Within 30 days after the approval of the proceedings by the commissioner, the mutual association shall file with the commissioner a copy of the proposed articles of incorporation and proposed bylaws of the mutual association. The proposed articles of incorporation and bylaws must conform to the provisions of the laws of this state.

(e) Upon receipt of the proposed articles of incorporation and bylaws, the commissioner shall make a careful examination and investigation of the facts connected with the conversion of the mutual association, including an examination of its affairs generally and a determination of its assets and liabilities. If it appears that the mutual association, if converted, would lawfully be entitled to conduct business as a state mutual association pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, the commissioner shall issue a final approval to the mutual association.

(f) The mutual association shall finalize the articles of incorporation and bylaws and, upon payment of the filing fees by the mutual association, the division shall file the certificate of authority and articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. Upon issuance and recordation of the certificate of authority and articles of incorporation, the mutual association shall file them with the appropriate federal regulatory authority. Upon the filing, the mutual association ceases to be a federal association and is converted to a state mutual association.

(g) (i) Upon conversion, all of the property of the federal mutual association, including all of its rights, title, and interest in and to all property of any kind whether real, personal, or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest, and asset of any conceivable value or benefit then existing, belonging, or pertaining to it, or that would insure to it, must immediately by act of law and without any conveyance or transfer and without any further act or deed be vested in and become the property of the state mutual association, which shall have, hold, and enjoy the same in its own right as fully and to the same extent as if the same was possessed, held, or enjoyed by the federal savings association.

(ii) The state mutual association is deemed to be a continuation of the entity and the identity of the federal mutual association, operating under and pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, and all rights, obligations, and relations of the federal savings association to or in respect to any person, estate, or creditor, depositor, trustee, or beneficiary of any trust, and to or in respect to any executorship or trusteeship or other trust or fiduciary function, must remain unimpaired. The state mutual association shall by operation of this section succeed to all the rights, obligations, relations, and trusts, and the associated duties and liabilities, and shall execute and perform each and every right, obligation, trust, and relation in the same manner as if the state mutual association had itself assumed the trust or relation, including the related obligations and liabilities.

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-817. Conversion into federal savings and loan association. (1) Any mutual association eligible to become a federal savings and loan association may convert itself into a federal savings and loan association by following the procedure in subsection (2).

(2) (a) At any regular meeting or special meeting of the members of the mutual association called to consider the action and held in accordance with the laws governing the mutual association, the members, by an affirmative vote of the majority, in person or by proxy, may declare by resolution the determination to convert the state mutual association into a federal savings and loan association.

(b) A copy of the minutes of the meeting of the members verified by the affidavit of the president or vice president and the secretary of the meeting must be filed with the department within 10 days after the meeting. The verified copy of the minutes of the meeting when filed is presumptive evidence of the holding of and action of the meeting.

(c) Within a reasonable time and without any unnecessary delay after the adjournment of the meeting of the members, the mutual association shall take any action necessary to make it a federal savings and loan association. Within 10 days after receipt of the federal charter, the charter must be filed with the department. Upon filing, the mutual association ceases to be a state mutual association and is thereafter a federal savings and loan association.

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-818. Requirements of state mutual association. A mutual association must have its qualified thrift investments:

(1) equal or exceed 50% of its portfolio assets; and

(2) continue to equal or exceed 50% of its assets on a monthly average basis in 9 out of every 12 months.

History: En. Sec. 29, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-819. Directors — meetings — officers. (1) Within 30 days after the corporate existence of a mutual association begins, the directors of the mutual association shall hold an organizational meeting and shall elect officers pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and the bylaws of the mutual association. At the organizational meeting, the directors shall take other action that is appropriate for beginning the transaction of business by the mutual association. The department may extend, by order, the time within which the organizational meeting must be held.

(2) The incorporators of the mutual association shall serve as directors until the first meeting of the members to be held at the time provided for by this chapter or until their successors are elected and qualified, after which the directors will be elected by the members of the mutual association in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and the bylaws of the mutual association.

(3) The directors, unless otherwise provided by the bylaws of the mutual association, shall elect or appoint all officers of the mutual association. The directors, when appointed or elected, shall file with the department their oath of office, as provided in election or appointment of mutual association directors. Meetings of the board of directors must be held at least once each month.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-820. Board of directors — qualifications, tenure, and vacancies. (1) The affairs of the mutual association must be managed by a board of directors consisting of no fewer than three persons. At least two-thirds of the board must be residents of this state. Directors need not be members of the corporation unless required by the articles of incorporation or bylaws. A person who has been convicted of a felony may not be elected a director.

(2) (a) The directors must be elected for a term of 1 year at the annual meeting of the members. The annual meeting must be held before April 15 of each calendar year. If the election is not held on the day fixed for the annual meeting, the corporation is not dissolved, but an election may be held at any other time agreeable to the bylaws of the corporation, and the persons elected will hold their office until successors are elected and qualified.

(b) Every director shall take and subscribe an oath that the director will diligently and honestly perform the director's duty in the office and that the director will not knowingly violate or permit a violation of any of the provisions of this chapter. The oaths must be made in duplicate. One copy must be transmitted to and filed with the department, and one copy must be kept on file in the office of the mutual association.

History: En. Sec. 31, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-821. Selection of officers and employees — minutes of meetings. (1) The board of directors of a mutual association shall hold a meeting at least quarterly.

(2) The board of directors may elect a president, one or more vice presidents, a cashier, one or more assistant cashiers, and other officers and employees that the board may from time to time consider to be in the best interest of the mutual association, and the board shall fix their compensation. The president must be chosen from the board of directors.

(3) (a) The board of directors shall keep a correct report of the meetings of the board and of the members. This record of the meetings of the board of directors must be signed, manually or electronically, by the presiding officer and the person responsible for preparing the minutes.

(b) The minutes must be read and approved at the following meeting of the board of directors, and the minutes of the following meeting must show that fact.

(c) A person who makes a material false entry in the record of the board meetings or who makes a material change or alteration of an entry made in the record is subject to removal pursuant to 32-2-936.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-822. Members — proxies. (1) A depositor of a mutual association is a voting member and has an ownership interest in the mutual association as may be provided in the terms and conditions set forth in the articles of incorporation and bylaws of the mutual association.

(2) The bylaws of a mutual association may provide that all borrowers from the mutual association are members and, if so, must provide for their rights and privileges.

(3) Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, a proxy granted by a depositor to the officers and directors of a mutual association expires on the date specified in the proxy. If no date is specified, the authority granted by the proxy is perpetual.

(4) The written proxy appointment is separate and distinct from any deposit agreement, any loan agreement, or any other agreement, statement, document, or disclosure provided by a mutual association to a depositor.

(5) At least once every year, the board of directors of a mutual association shall, by resolution, cause the secretary of the mutual association to mail to every member of the mutual association a blank form of proxy, and the member may withdraw a former proxy and substitute a new proxy for the former proxy. A proxy continues in force and is binding on the member until the proxy is revoked or another proxy is substituted.

History: En. Sec. 33, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-823. Right of examination by member. A member of a mutual association incorporated under the laws of this state who is not a director may not inspect the books and records of the mutual association showing its transactions with a customer. A member may inspect the books and records of the mutual association as provided in 35-14-1602.

History: En. Sec. 34, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-824. Federal savings association powers extended to state mutual associations. (1) A mutual association organized under the laws of this state may engage in any activity or business in which the mutual association could engage if it were operating as a federal savings association if the power or activity is not expressly prohibited or limited by the laws of this state and:

(a) if the power or activity is clearly authorized to federal savings associations by federal statute, regulations, or interpretive ruling issued or adopted by a federal banking regulator having jurisdiction over federal savings associations; and

(b) upon application to and approval by the department.

(2) The department may adopt rules to govern the application procedure under this section. The department shall act on an application under this section within 15 days after receipt of the application. The department may, for good cause, extend the time period for processing an application under this section for an additional 15 days. If the department fails to act on the application within 15 days after receipt of the application and does not extend the time period for good cause, the state mutual association may engage in the activity requested without the approval of the department.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-825. Surrender of charter by state mutual association. (1) Any mutual association that will become a corporation for carrying on the business of a mutual association under the laws of the United States ceases to be a corporation under the laws of this state.

(2) The members of the board of directors last in office when the corporation became a corporation under the laws of the United States continues to be the board of directors of the corporation, with power to take all necessary measures to carry out and perfect the organization by signing the articles of association and the organization certificate and adopting the regulations as may be just and proper and not inconsistent with the acts of congress.

(3) A change from a state mutual association to a federal savings association may not release the mutual association from its obligations to pay and discharge all of the liabilities created by law or incurred by the mutual association before becoming a federal savings association or any tax imposed by the laws of this state up to the date of the mutual association becoming a federal savings association, in proportion to the time that has elapsed since the next preceding payment.

History: En. Sec. 36, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-826. Membership in federal home loan bank. (1) A mutual association may be a member of the federal home loan bank of this federal reserve banking district as far as may be compatible with the constitution of this state and the laws of the United States.

(2) The department, on request of any federal home loan bank, shall furnish that bank any information it may have relative to the finances, manner of business, methods of bookkeeping, and any other information relating to a mutual association that is a member of, seeking to become a member of, a borrower from, or seeking to become a borrower from a federal home loan bank.

History: En. Sec. 37, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-827. Merger of mutual associations. (1) (a) Any mutual association doing business in this state that has been in business for at least 5 years may, with the approval of the department if any merger party is a mutual association organized under the laws of this state, merge into one mutual association on terms and conditions lawfully agreed on by a majority of the board of directors of each mutual association proposing to merge. After the directors agree to a plan of merger and the department approves the plan of merger, the majority of the members of the merging mutual association must approve the proposed merger.

(b) Except as otherwise expressly provided in this chapter, a merger under this subsection (1) is governed by Title 35, chapter 14, if the resulting mutual association is organized under the laws of this state.

(2) Upon merger:

(a) each mutual association merging party merges into the resulting mutual association and the separate existence of every merging party except the resulting mutual association ceases;

(b) title to all real, personal, and mixed property owned by each merging party is vested in the resulting mutual association without reversion or impairment and without the necessity of any instrument of transfer;

(c) the resulting mutual association has all of the liabilities, duties, and obligations of each merger party, including obligations as fiduciary, personal representative, administrator, trustee, or guardian; and

(d) the resulting mutual association has all of the rights, powers, and privileges of each merger party, including appointment to the office of personal representative, administrator, trustee, or guardian under any will or other instrument made prior to the merger and in which a merger party was nominated to the office by the maker of the will or other investment.

(3) Upon merger, the resulting mutual association shall designate and operate one of the prior main offices of the merging mutual associations as its main mutual association office and the resulting mutual association may maintain and continue to operate the main office of each of the other merging mutual associations as a branch.

(4) (a) Upon merger, the resulting mutual association may:

(i) maintain the branches and other offices previously maintained by the merging mutual associations; and

(ii) establish, acquire, or operate additional branches of mutual associations at any location where any mutual association involved in the merger could have established, acquired, or operated a branch under applicable federal or state law if that mutual association had not been a party to the merger.

(b) A resulting mutual association organized under the laws of this state that intends to establish, acquire, or operate a branch under subsection (4)(a)(ii) must receive prior approval from the department as provided for in 32-2-828, whether or not the branch is to be located within or outside this state.

32-2-828. Branches. (1) A mutual association may establish and maintain branches as provided in 32-2-827 and this section. The formation and operation of a branch in this state by a mutual association organized under the laws of this state require the prior approval of the department. A mutual association organized under the laws of this state may establish, acquire, or operate a branch or loan production office outside of this state if approved by the department and if permitted by the laws of the jurisdiction where the branch or office is to be located.

(2) A branch may offer all services and conduct all business authorized to be offered or conducted by the mutual association.

(3) A mutual association authorized to do mutual association business in this state may use a satellite terminal, as defined in 32-6-103, at any location permitted by the Montana Electronic Funds Transfer Act.

(4) A mutual association located in this state may provide services for other mutual associations located in this state, whether or not those mutual associations are affiliates.

(5) With the prior approval of the appropriate federal regulator and state chartering authority, a mutual association that is not organized under the laws of this state may establish and operate a de novo branch in this state under the same terms that would apply to a mutual association organized under the laws of this state seeking approval from the department to establish and operate a de novo branch in this state.

History: En. Sec. 39, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-829. Sale of branch. Any mutual association may, with the approval of the department, buy from or sell to another mutual association, regardless of where either mutual association is located or doing business, all or substantially all of the business, assets, and liabilities of the selling mutual association's branch or branches that are physically located in this state.

History: En. Sec. 40, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-830. Loan production office — rulemaking. (1) A mutual association may:

(a) establish and maintain a loan production office only after giving notice to the department; or

(b) relocate or close a loan production office after giving notice to its customers and the department.

(2) The department may adopt rules to implement this section.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-831. Agreement of purchase and sale. (1) The selling and purchasing mutual associations shall enter into an agreement that must contain:

(a) all of the terms and conditions of the sale;

(b) proper provision for the assumption, payment, transfer, or retention of all of the liabilities of the selling mutual association as to the branch assets and business sold; and

(c) proper provision for the assumption, payment, transfer, or retention of the purchasing mutual association of all fiduciary obligations of the branch or branch business sold.

(2) The agreement for purchase and sale of a state mutual association must be authorized and approved by the department. The agreement of purchase and sale of a national savings association must be in accordance with the laws applicable to national savings associations.

History: En. Sec. 41, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

Part 9
Operation and Regulation

32-2-901. Mutual association advertising before issuance of charter. It is unlawful for any individual, firm, or corporation to advertise, publish, or otherwise promulgate that it is engaged in the mutual association business without first having obtained authority from the department. Any person who violates this section is subject to the penalties in 32-2-607(5).

History: En. Sec. 42, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-902. Prohibitions on advertising as mutual association — trade names restricted. (1) Except as provided in subsection (4), a person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation, either domestic or foreign, that is not subject to the supervision of the department and not required by the provisions of this chapter to report to the department and that has not received a certificate to do business as a mutual association from the department may not:

(a) except as for a student financial institution, as defined in 32-1-115, advertise that the person or entity is receiving or accepting money or savings for deposit, investment, or otherwise and issuing notes or certificates of deposit; or

(b) use an office sign at the place where the business is transacted that has on it an artificial or corporate name or other words indicating that:

(i) the place or office is the place or office of a mutual association;

(ii) deposits are received there or payments made on checks; or

(iii) any other form of mutual association business is transacted there.

(2) The person, firm, company, or corporation, domestic or foreign, may not use or circulate letterheads, billheads, blank notes, blank receipts, certificates, circulars, or any written or printed or partly written and partly printed papers that contain an artificial or corporate name or other words indicating that the business is the business of a mutual association.

(3) The person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation or any agent of a foreign corporation not having an established place of business in this state may not solicit or receive deposits or transact business in the manner of a mutual association or in a manner that leads the public to believe that its business is that of a mutual association.

(4) (a) A person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation, domestic or foreign, except for a student financial institution, as defined in 32-1-115, that is not subject to the supervision of the department and not required by the provisions of this chapter to report to the department and that has not received from the department a certificate to do a mutual association business may not transact business under a name or title that contains the words "mutual savings and loan association", "savings and loan association", "savings and loan", "mutual association", "mutual savings association", "building and loan", or "building and loan association", unless the department has granted a waiver.

(b) The department may grant a waiver to allow the use of a restricted word listed in subsection (4)(a) to a nonprofit organization if:

(i) the organization is not acting as a financial institution; and

(ii) the name used is not likely to mislead a reasonable individual into thinking that the organization is acting as a financial institution.

(5) A person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation, domestic or foreign, violating a provision of this section shall forfeit to the state $500 a day for every day or part of a day during which the violation continues.

(6) Upon suit by the department, the court may issue an injunction restraining the person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation during pendency of the action and permanently from further using those words in violation of the provisions of this section or from further transacting business in a manner that leads the public to believe that its business is that of a mutual association and may enter any other order or decree as equity and justice require.

History: En. Sec. 43, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-903. Penalty for transacting business without certificate. (1) A person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation, domestic or foreign, advertising that the person or entity is receiving or accepting money or savings for deposit, investment, or otherwise and issuing notes or certificates of deposit for them or advertising that the person or entity is transacting the business of a mutual association or making use of an office sign at the place where the business is transacted, having on it an artificial or corporate name or other words indicating that the place or office is the place or office of a mutual association, or that deposits are received there or payments made on check or that interest is paid on deposits or that certificates of deposit, with or without interest, are being issued or that any other form of mutual association business is transacted, and a person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation, domestic or foreign, using or circulating any letterheads, billheads, blank notes, blank receipts, certificates, or circulars or any written or printed or partly written and partly printed paper whatever, having on it an artificial or corporate name or advertising that the business is the business of a mutual association, must have the proper capital set aside for the purpose of transacting that business and must have received form the department, as provided in this chapter, a certificate to do a mutual association business.

(2) A person who violates any provision of this section is subject to the penalties set forth in 32-2-607(5).

(3) Upon action brought by the department, the court may issue an injunction restraining a person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation from further violating any provision of this section and may enter a further order or decree as equality and justice require.

(4) A person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation doing any of the things or transacting any of the business defined in this section shall transact that business according to the provisions of this chapter, and the department may examine the accounts, books, papers, cash, and credits of that person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation, domestic or foreign, in order to ascertain whether that person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation has violated or is violating any provisions of this section.

History: En. Sec. 44, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-904. Mutual associations — powers and duties. (1) A mutual association may:

(a) act as fiscal agent for and receive deposits from the federal government, this state, or any agency or political subdivision of the federal government or this state;

(b) sue and be sued, complain, and defend in any court of law or equity;

(c) have a corporate seal, affixed by imprint, facsimile, or otherwise;

(d) appoint officers and agents as its business requires and allow them suitable compensation;

(e) adopt bylaws not inconsistent with the laws of Montana and the rules adopted under the laws of Montana;

(f) raise capital, which must be unlimited, by accepting payments on savings, demand, or other accounts, as are authorized by statute and rule, and the holders of the accounts or other accounts must, to the extent as may be provided by such rules and regulations, be members of the association and must have the voting rights and other rights as are provided;

(g) issue notes, bonds, debentures or other obligations, or securities, provided by or under any provision of state statute as from time to time is in effect;

(i) borrow money without limitation and pledge and otherwise encumber any of its assets to secure its debts;

(j) lend and otherwise invest its funds as authorized by statute and rules;

(k) wind up and dissolve, merge, consolidate, convert, or reorganize;

(l) purchase, hold, and convey real estate and personal property consistent with its objectives, purposes, and powers;

(m) mortgage or lease any real estate and personal property and take the property by gift, devise, or bequest; and

(n) exercise all powers conferred by law.

(2) In addition to the powers listed in subsection (1), the mutual association may have power to do all things reasonably incident to the accomplishment of its express objects and the performance of its express powers.

History: En. Sec. 45, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-905. Extent that assets may be pledged. No mutual association, mutual association employee, or mutual association officer, except as otherwise authorized by law, may pledge or hypothecate as collateral security for money borrowed its assets in a ratio exceeding 1½ times the amount borrowed, except as otherwise authorized in writing by the department.

History: En. Sec. 46, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-906. Issuance of capital certificates. A mutual association may issue mutual capital certificates as allowed by federal law.

History: En. Sec. 47, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-907. No certificate of deposit to be issued for borrowed money. A mutual association may not issue its certificate of deposit for the purpose of borrowing money or make partial payments on any certificate of deposit.

History: En. Sec. 48, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-908. Investments of financial institutions. (1) Notwithstanding other provisions of the law, it is lawful for a mutual association operating under the laws of this state to invest the funds or money in its custody or possession, eligible for investment, in:

(a) debentures issued by the federal housing administrator and in obligations of national mortgage associations; and

(b) United States government obligations, either directly or in the form of securities of or other interests in an open-end or closed-end management type investment company or investment trust registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. 80a-1 through 80a-64, as amended, if:

(i) the portfolio of the investment company or investment trust is limited to United States government obligations and repurchase agreements fully collateralized by United States government obligations; and

(ii) the investment company or investment trust takes delivery of the collateral for any repurchase agreement, either directly or through an authorized custodian.

(2) The department shall publish a list of the permissible type of investments in United States government obligations as provided in subsection (1).

History: En. Sec. 49, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-909. Insurance activities — exemption — rulemaking. (1) A mutual association may:

(a) except for title insurance, sell insurance of all types, including annuities, credit life insurance, and disability insurance; and

(b) act as an insurance producer, adjuster, consultant, or administrator as defined in Title 33, chapter 17.

(2) A mutual association that engages in insurance activities authorized in subsection (1) is subject to the provisions of Title 33.

(3) A mutual association may, upon application to and approval by the department pursuant to 32-2-824, offer debt cancellation and suspension programs. Debt cancellation or suspension programs offered pursuant to this subsection are not insurance products subject to the provisions of Title 33. The department shall adopt rules to implement this subsection that must be substantially equivalent to or more stringent than federal laws, regulations, and regulatory guidelines that are applicable to debt cancellation or suspension programs offered by federal savings associations.

History: En. Sec. 50, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-910. Authority of state mutual associations to make real estate loans — borrower insurance requirements. (1) A state mutual association has the same authority to make loans on real estate that is given by acts of congress or the federal reserve system to federal savings associations.

(2) A mutual association that is subject to this section may not require a borrower, as a condition of obtaining or maintaining a loan secured by real property, to provide insurance on improvements to real property in an amount that exceeds the reasonable replacement value of the improvements.

History: En. Sec. 51, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-911. Investment in certain securities — rulemaking. (1) A mutual association may purchase, sell, underwrite, and hold investment securities that are obligations in the form of bonds, notes, or debentures, as provided in rules adopted by the department. In addition, unless limited by the department by rule, a mutual association may purchase, sell, underwrite, and hold those investment securities that are derivative transactions that federal savings associations are expressly authorized to purchase, sell, underwrite, and hold. A mutual association may hold without limit investment securities that are general obligations of the United States, obligations that are guaranteed fully as to principal and interest by the United States, or general obligations of any state.

(2) The department may adopt rules to implement this section.

History: En. Sec. 52, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-912. Mutual associations authorized to obtain insurance and make loans when approved by federal housing administrator. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the law of this state restricting the amount of any loan in relation to the value of the real estate or restricting the term of any such loan or restricting the rate of such loan, it is lawful for any mutual association that has been approved as a mortgagee by the federal housing administrator to obtain insurance and to make loans secured by real estate as the federal housing administrator insures or makes a commitment to insure.

History: En. Sec. 53, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-913. Federal housing securities eligible collateral. If collateral must or may be furnished by any state mutual association as security for the deposit of any funds and the collateral must or may be deposited with any official of the state pursuant to state law, mortgages insured and debentures issued by the federal housing administrator are considered eligible collateral for these purposes.

History: En. Sec. 54, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-914. Acceptance and issuance of drafts — rulemaking. (1) A mutual association organized and existing under state law may accept for payment at a future date drafts drawn on it by its customers authorizing the holders of the drafts to draw drafts on it or its correspondents at sight or on time of the total amount of drafts accepted for any one person, firm, or corporation that does not at any one time exceed 20% of the capital of the accepting or issuing financial institution.

(2) The department may adopt rules to implement this section.

History: En. Sec. 55, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-915. Mutual association's responsibility to provide notice when funds become available for withdrawal. (1) A mutual association shall provide clear and conspicuous written notice of the time periods and exceptions to the periods concerning when funds become available for withdrawal as of right on deposit by check or similar instrument in the customer's deposit account. The notice must state the cutoff hour, if any, fixed by the mutual association after which an item is treated as being received at the opening of the next business day.

(2) This notice must be:

(a) provided to a potential customer prior to opening a deposit account; and

(b) posted in a conspicuous manner at each financial institution, automated teller machine location, and other device that accepts deposits.

(3) A deposit slip, envelope, or any other printed form furnished by the mutual association for use in connection with deposits must contain the following notice, printed in a conspicuous manner: "Your deposit may not be available for immediate withdrawal. Consult posted notices for further information."

History: En. Sec. 56, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-916. Certified checks. (1) Whenever a check drawn on a mutual association is certified by any officer or employee of the mutual association, the amount of the check must be immediately charged against the account of the person, firm, or corporation drawing the check.

(2) It is unlawful for an officer or employee of a mutual association to certify a check drawn on the mutual association, unless at the time the check is certified the person, firm, or corporation drawing the check has on deposit with the mutual association an amount of money subject to the payment of the check equal to the amount specified in the check.

(3) An officer or employee who willfully violates the provisions of this section, reports to any device, or receives any fictitious obligation, directly or indirectly, in order to evade the provisions of this section is subject to the penalties set forth in 32-2-607(5).

History: En. Sec. 57, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-917. Deposit in name of minor. Whenever a deposit is made in a mutual association by or in the name of a minor, the deposit must be held for the exclusive right and benefit of the minor and free from the control or lien of all other persons, except creditors, and must be paid, with any interest due, to the person in whose name the deposit was made. The receipt of the minor is a sufficient release or discharge for the deposit to the mutual association.

History: En. Sec. 58, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-918. Demand or time deposits. Demand deposits, within the meaning of this chapter, comprise all deposits payable within 7 days and all savings accounts and certificates of deposit that are subject to not less than 7 days' notice before payment.

History: En. Sec. 59, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-919. Safe deposit department. A mutual association may conduct a safe deposit department. The liability of any mutual association for the safekeeping and protection of the contents of safety deposit boxes is determined by the contract endorsed on the receipt delivered to the renter of a box at the time of the rental. However, the obligation of the mutual association is limited to the exercise of ordinary diligence and care to protect the contents of the box from loss or damage by fire, theft, or other causes.

History: En. Sec. 60, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-920. Giving security for deposit prohibited — exceptions. (1) It is unlawful for a mutual association to pledge, mortgage, or hypothecate to a depositor any of its real or personal property as security for a deposit, and any pledge, mortgage, or hypothecation made in violation of this section is unenforceable.

(2) This section does not apply to deposits of the money of the United States, public funds deposited in accordance with the provision of a depository act of this state or the United States, or bankruptcy estate funds or deposits, including deposits of receivers or trustees in bankruptcy, deposited under the discretion and supervision of a court of record of Montana or of the United States.

History: En. Sec. 61, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-921. Payments to foreign administrator. A mutual association doing business in this state may pay any money remaining to the credit of a deceased depositor or deliver any personal property in its possession belonging to the deceased depositor to an administrator or executor of the depositor duly appointed and qualified in another state, provided that no demand has been previously made by an administrator or executor appointed in any county of this state and the payment discharges the mutual association to make the same from its liability on account of the deposit.

History: En. Sec. 62, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-922. Calculation of profits. Interest or commissions unpaid, although due or accrued, on debts owing to any mutual association may not be included in calculation of its profits, unless the mutual association keeps its books on a complete accrual basis. A mutual association that keeps it books on a complete accrual basis shall show on its books accrued interest receivable on notes, bonds, and other investments, unless the accrued interest is past due, and shall carry on its books accrued interest, taxes, and expenses payable.

History: En. Sec. 63, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-923. Past-due and doubtful paper. A savings association carrying any bad debt or a debt of doubtful value as an asset shall, upon the request or demand of the department, collect the debt, put in in good bankable condition, or charge it out of its books.

History: En. Sec. 64, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-924. Reserve requirements. (1) A mutual association shall maintain at all times a reserve of that percentage of its deposit liabilities as required by the appropriate federal regulator.

(2) The department may establish reserve requirements if the federal regulator discontinues reserve requirements.

(3) A mutual association whose reserve drops below the legal requirements shall report the matter to the department immediately and as often as the department asks for a report.

(4) When the reserve of a mutual association falls below the legal requirements, the mutual association may not increase its loans or discounts except by discounting or purchasing bill of exchange payable at sight or on demand, and the department shall notify a mutual association whose reserve is below the amount required to make good the reserve.

(5) In arriving at deposit liabilities with regard to mutual association deposits, the net balance of amounts due to and from other financial institutions must be used as the basis for ascertaining the deposit liability to mutual associations against which reserves are carried.

History: En. Sec. 65, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-925. Limitations on loans — rulemaking. (1) The total loans or extensions of credit to a person, partnership, or corporation by a mutual association, including loans to a partnership and to the members of the partnership, may not exceed 15% of the mutual association's capital, plus an additional 10% of the mutual association's capital, if the amount that exceeds the mutual association's 15% general limit is fully secured by readily marketable collateral, as defined in 12 C.F.R. 32.2(v). To qualify for the additional 10% limit, the mutual association must perfect a security interest in the collateral under applicable law and the collateral must have a current market value at all times of at least 100% of the amount of the loan or extension of credit that exceeds the mutual association's 15% general limit.

(2) To the extent specified in regulations of the office of the comptroller of the currency, a mutual association may invest in, sell, or otherwise deal in the following loans and other investments without percentage of assets limitation:

(a) account loans — loans on the security of its savings accounts and loans specifically related to transaction accounts;

(b) residential real property loans — loans on the security of liens on residential real property;

(c) United States government securities — investments in obligations of, or fully guaranteed as to principal interest by, the United States;

(d) federal home loan bank and federal national mortgage — investments in the stock or bonds of a federal home loan bank or in the stock of the federal national mortgage association;

(e) federal home loan mortgage corporation instruments — investments in mortgages, obligations, or other securities that are or have been sold by the federal home loan mortgage corporation pursuant to section 305 or 306 of the federal home loan mortgage corporation act; and

(f) other government securities — investments in obligations, participations, securities, or other instruments issued by or fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by the federal national mortgage association, the student loan marketing association, the government national mortgage association, or any agency of the United States. A savings association may issue and sell securities that are guaranteed pursuant to section 306(g) of the National Housing Act.

(3) The commissioner may adopt rules to implement this section.

History: En. Sec. 66, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-926 through 32-2-929 reserved.

32-2-930. Bonding of employees. (1) The board of directors of a mutual association shall require bonding for all officers and employees of the mutual association whose duty includes the handling of money, notes, bonds, credits, and cash items and whose duties include bookkeeping or the making of entries in relation to the business of the mutual association and its customers.

(2) The board of directors shall, by order entered on the minute books of the board, designate the officers and employees to be bonded and the amount of bonds to be given. Action related to the personnel, the amount of bonds, and the surety company or sureties is subject to approval by the department, and the bonds must be in a form provided or approved by the department.

(3) The bonds must be approved by the president of the mutual association, and the president's or executive officer's action must be reported to the board of directors.

(4) All bonds required by this section must be kept in the custody of the mutual association subject to inspection by examiners from the department. However, as far as possible, they may not be placed in the custody of the officer or employee for whom the bond is given.

History: En. Sec. 67, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-931. Persons previously convicted — rulemaking. (1) Unless the commissioner provides written consent:

(a) a person who has been convicted of a criminal offense involving dishonesty or a breach of trust or money laundering or who has agreed to enter into a pretrial diversion or similar program in connection with a prosecution for such an offense may not:

(i) become or continue as an institution-affiliated party with respect to any mutual association;

(ii) own or control, directly or indirectly, any mutual association; or

(iii) otherwise participate, directly or indirectly, in the conduct of the affairs of any mutual association; and

(b) a mutual association may not permit any person referred to in subsection (1)(a) to engage in any conduct or continue any relationship prohibited under subsection (1)(a).

(2) A person who knowingly violates subsection (1)(a) is subject to the penalties in 32-2-607(5).

(3) The commissioner may adopt rules to implement this section.

History: En. Sec. 68, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-932. Sale of securities by officer to mutual association. (1) A director, officer, or employee of a mutual association may not, directly or indirectly, for the person's account, for the person, or as the partner or agent of others sell or transfer or cause to be sold or transferred to the mutual association of which the person is a director or officer any note or bond secured by any mortgage or trust deed on real estate or any contract arising from the sale of real estate, in which the director, officer, or employee is personally or financially interested, without a vote of the majority of the board of the mutual association, duly noted on the minutes of the meeting at which the transaction is decided on. The minutes must be signed by a majority of the board.

(2) Any director, officer, or employee of any mutual association who knowingly violates or consents to the violation of this provision is subject to the penalties in 32-2-607(5).

History: En. Sec. 69, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-933. Real estate that mutual associations may purchase, hold, or convey. (1) A mutual association organized under the provisions of this chapter may purchase, hold, or convey real estate that:

(a) is for its accommodation in the transaction of its business, but the mutual association may not invest an amount exceeding 100% of its paid-up capital in the lot and building in which the business of the company is or is projected to be carried on, furniture, equipment and fixtures, vaults and safety vaults, and boxes necessary or proper to carry on its mutual association business if property held for future use as a mutual association office site is held pursuant to a detailed written business plan formally adopted by the directors of the mutual association;

(b) is mortgaged to in good faith by way of security for loans previously made or money due to the mutual association;

(c) is conveyed to the mutual association in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business; or

(d) it purchases at sales under judgments, decrees, or mortgages held by the mutual association.

(2) The detailed written business plan required by subsection (1)(a) must include information outlining the manner in which the acquired real estate will be developed for future use as a mutual association office site, including but not limited to the costs of projected construction, furniture, and equipment and fixtures.

History: En. Sec. 70, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-934. Purchase of obligation of mutual association by officer. A director, officer, agent, or other employee of a mutual association may not, directly or indirectly for the person's own benefit, purchase, sell, or be interested in the purchase or sale of any obligation of the mutual association or of any assets of the mutual association for a sum less than the amount that appears on the face of the obligation or obligations purchased or sold. A person violating the provisions of this section shall, in addition to the general penalties of this chapter, forfeit to the state twice the nominal amount or face value of the obligations or assets purchased or sold.

History: En. Sec. 71, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-935. Fraud by director, officer, agent, or employee. A director, executive officer, agent, or employee of a mutual association is guilty of a felony if that person:

(1) knowingly receives or takes possession of any mutual association property, except in payment for a just demand, and with intent to defraud:

(a) fails to make or fails to cause or direct to be made a full and true entry of the receipt or possession in its books and account; or

(b) concurs in failing to make any material entry in its books and account;

(2) knowingly concurs in making or publishing any written report, exhibit, or statement of its affairs or pecuniary condition containing any material statement that is false; or

(3) having the custody of control of its books, willfully refuses or neglects to make a proper entry in the books of that mutual association as required by law, to exhibit the books, or to allow the books to be inspected and extracts to be taken from them by the department.

History: En. Sec. 72, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-936. Removal of directors, officers, or employees — hearing. (1) A director, officer, or employee of a mutual association who is found by the department, after examination, to be negligent, dishonest, reckless, or incompetent or to have violated 32-2-821, 32-2-935, 32-2-938, or 32-2-939 must be removed from office by the board of directors of the mutual association on the written order of the department. If the directors neglect or refuse to remove the director, officer, or employee and any losses accrue to the mutual association by reason of the negligence, dishonesty, recklessness, or incompetency of the director, officer, or employee, the written order of the department is conclusive evidence of the negligence of the failure of the directors to act as provided in this section in any action brought against the board of directors by a depositor or creditor for recovery of losses.

(2) If the board of directors refuses to remove the director, officer, or employee in response to an order of the department, the board of directors may file a request for hearing pursuant to the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

History: En. Sec. 73, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-937. Penalty for unlawful hypothecation of property received. An officer or employee of a mutual association doing business in this state who, except in the manner authorized by law or the contract of the parties, pledges or in any way alienates any notes, stocks, bonds, mortgages, securities, or any other property coming into the officer's or employee's hands or into the possession of the mutual association as collateral, for safekeeping or in any other manner, and to which the mutual association has not acquitted full title, is guilty of theft and upon conviction must be punished as for other felonies.

History: En. Sec. 74, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-938. Concealing actions from directors. An officer or employee of a mutual association who intentionally conceals from the directors of the association, or from a committee of the mutual association when the directors have delegated authority, any discount or loan made by the corporation or from its assets between the regular meetings of its board of directors or committee, the purchase of any security, the sale of any of its securities, or any guarantee, repurchase agreement, or any other agreement through which the corporation is obligated, during the same period, is subject to the penalties set forth in 32-2-607(5).

History: En. Sec. 75, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-939. Theft of funds by directors, officers, or employees. A director, officer, or employee of a mutual association who fraudulently appropriates or abstracts or misapplies any of the money, funds, credits, or property of the mutual association when owned by it or held in trust or who issues or puts forth any certificate of deposit, draws any order or bill of exchange, makes any acceptance, assigns any note, bond, draft, bill of exchange, mortgage, judgment, or decree with intent to injure or defraud the mutual association or any person or corporation or to deceive any officer of the mutual association, or any other person, or anyone appointed to examine the affairs of the mutual association or any other person who with like intent aids or abets any director, officer, or employee in the violation of this section is guilty of theft and upon conviction shall be imprisoned in the state prison for a period not to exceed 20 years or be fined an amount not to exceed $50,000, or both.

History: En. Sec. 76, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-940. False statement to obtain loan. A person who makes a statement, knowing it to be false, for the purpose of obtaining for that person or for any other person, firm, corporation, or association a loan of money from a mutual association or for the purpose of gaining an extension of time for the payment of any debt due the mutual association shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than 1 year, or both.

History: En. Sec. 77, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-941. Mutual association holidays. In addition to emergency closings authorized by 32-2-1030 through 32-2-1034, a mutual association in the state may remain closed and refrain from doing business on those legal holidays designated in 1-1-216.

History: En. Sec. 78, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-942. Transaction on holiday. No law of this state may affect the validity of, or render void or voidable, the payment, certification, or acceptance of a check or other negotiable instrument or any other transaction by a mutual association in this state because it was done or performed during any time other than regular banking hours or on a legal holiday. A mutual association in this state, which by law or custom is entitled to close at 12 noon on any Saturday or for the whole or part of any legal holiday, may not be compelled to remain open for transaction of business or to perform any of the acts or transactions in this section on any Saturday after 12 noon or any legal holiday except at its option.

History: En. Sec. 79, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-943. Closing on Saturdays authorized — Saturday treated as holiday. A mutual association and a federal savings association incorporated or organized under the laws of the United States or a federal reserve bank may, at its election, remain closed and refrain from the transaction of business on Saturdays. Any Saturday on which a mutual association remains closed is, with respect to the mutual association, a holiday and not a business day. Any act authorized, required, or permitted to be performed on a Saturday at or by or with respect to a mutual association, including any federal savings association or federal reserve bank, may be performed on the next succeeding business days, and no liability or loss of any rights of any kind will result from such closing on Saturday or from the nonopening of any mutual association for the transaction of business on any Saturday under the authority of 32-2-943 through 32-2-945.

History: En. Sec. 80, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-944. Mutual association hours and business days. A mutual association may provide for its business hours or business days by giving reasonable notice to the public and providing a copy of the notice to the department.

History: En. Sec. 81, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-945. Interest payable at mutual association on Saturday — how paid. When, by the terms of any note or obligation, interest is payable to a mutual association on any Saturday on which a mutual association is closed pursuant to the authority of 32-2-943 through 32-2-945, interest payable to the mutual association on that Saturday may be paid in the amount due on that Saturday on the next succeeding business day with the same effect as if paid to the mutual association on Saturday.

History: En. Sec. 82, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-946 through 32-2-949 reserved.

32-2-950. Destruction of records — rulemaking. (1) Mutual associations are required to preserve or keep their records of customer accounts for at least 8 years after January 1 of the year following the time that the records are made. However, records showing unpaid balances in favor of depositors of a mutual association may not be destroyed. Liability may not accrue against a mutual association destroying any records, except records for which destruction is forbidden by this section, after the expiration of the time provided in this section.

(2) The department shall adopt rules providing for retention schedules for mutual association records other than those records listed in subsection (1).

History: En. Sec. 83, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-951. Definitions — reproductions of mutual association records — admissibility in evidence — cost recovery. (1) For the purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Electronic storage" or "electronically stored" means the recording, storage, retention, maintenance, and reproduction of documents using microfiche, data processing, computers, or other electronic process that correctly and legibly stores and reproduces documents.

(b) "Mutual association records" includes any document, paper, letter, book, map, photograph, sound or video recording, magnetic tape, electronic storage medium, or other information-recording medium used in a mutual association's normal course of business.

(2) (a) A photographic, photostatic, miniature photographic copy, or reproduction of any kind, including electronic or computer-generated data that has been electronically stored and is capable of being converted into written form, must be considered an original record for all purposes and must be treated as an original record in all courts and administrative agencies for the purposes of admissibility in evidence.

(b) A facsimile, exemplification, or certified copy of any reproduction referred to in subsection (2)(a) must, for all purposes, be considered a facsimile, exemplification, or certified copy of the original record.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (7), mutual associations are authorized to make, at any time, photographic or photostatic copies or microfilm reproductions of any records or documents, including photographic enlargements and prints of microfilms, to be preserved, stored, used, and employed in carrying out business.

(4) In an action or proceeding in which mutual association records may be called in question or be demanded of a mutual association or any officer or employee of a mutual association, a showing that the records have been destroyed in the regular course of business is a sufficient excuse for the failure to produce the records.

(5) Upon the showing required in subsection (4), secondary evidence of the form, text, and contents of the original records, including photostatic, photographic, or microfilm reproductions, photographic enlargements, and prints of microfilm reproductions, when made in the regular course of business, is admissible in evidence in any court of competent jurisdiction or in any administrative proceeding.

(6) Any photostatic, photographic, or microfilm reproductions, including enlargements of the microfilm reproductions, made in the regular course of business of any original files, records, books, cards, tickets, deposit slips, or memoranda that were in existence on July 1, 1951, are admissible in evidence as proof of the form, text, and content of the originals that were destroyed in the regular course of business.

(7) A mutual association may, as a condition of providing mutual association records to a third party in response to a subpoena or another legal procedure or request, charge and collect the actual costs incurred in locating, reproducing, and providing the mutual association records.

History: En. Sec. 84, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-952. Admissibility of copies in evidence — exception when original available. Any photostatic, photographic, or microfilm reproductions, including enlargements, of any original records or files of a mutual association, whether in the form of an entry or entries in a book or any other form of record, are admissible in evidence in any court of competent jurisdiction in proof of an act, transaction, occurrence, or event if shown to be made in the regular course of business of the mutual association. Nothing in 32-2-950 through 32-2-954 may be construed to authorize the use of secondary evidence in administrative or court proceedings if original records are in existence and available for use in accord with the rules of evidence.

History: En. Sec. 85, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-953. Destruction or reproduction. Destruction in the regular course of business includes destruction at any time after making reproductions. Reproductions made in the regular course of business include reproductions made at any time prior to the destruction of the original, in each case, if done in good faith and without intent to defraud.

History: En. Sec. 86, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-954. Application. The provisions of 32-2-950 through 32-2-954 are applicable to all records in existence on February 23, 1951, and to all records originating after that date and apply to all mutual associations organized under the laws of the state and to all federal savings associations located in the state, as far as applicable to the federal savings associations.

History: En. Sec. 87, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

Part 10

Dissolution, Closing, and Liquidation

32-2-1001. Dissolution and disincorporation. (1) Mutual associations may be dissolved in the manner provided by the laws of this state applicable to the dissolution of other corporations. However, a mutual association may, on a vote of two-thirds of its members at a special meeting called for that purpose in accordance with its bylaws, voluntarily quit business and liquidate upon the payment of its debts or upon agreement with all of its creditors to a plan of liquidation.

(2) A mutual association that wishes to voluntarily liquidate shall apply to the department for permission to liquidate and, in addition to complying with the laws of this state governing the liquidation of corporations, shall comply in all respects with the requirements or rules of the department governing voluntary dissolution.

(3) The board of directors of a mutual association whose members have voted to place it in voluntary liquidation shall appoint a liquidating agent to wind up the affairs of the mutual association. The liquidating agent, on authority of the board of directors, may execute deeds for the transfer of real property and do all things necessary to carry out the proper liquidation of the mutual association.

(4) Nothing in this section prevents the department from taking charge at any time when in its opinion the interest of creditors is not being protected. The decision of the department in these matters is controlling.

History: En. Sec. 88, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1002. Grounds for closing mutual association. (1) If it appears to the department that any of the following situations have occurred, the department may, in its discretion, close the mutual association and take possession of all of the books, records, assets, and business of every description of the mutual association and hold and retain possession of them until the mutual association is authorized by the department to resume business or until its affairs are liquidated as provided in this chapter, and it shall do so in cases in which a mutual association comes into its possession voluntarily or in the manner provided by law. The situations are as follows:

(a) a mutual association has willfully violated its charter or a law of this state;

(b) a mutual association has willfully violated a general rule of the department, made in accordance with law;

(c) the capital of a mutual association is impaired or for any reason is below the amount required by state or federal law and has not been made good after notice, as provided by law, or, without that notice, in the event a majority of the board of directors of the mutual association notifies the department in writing that the impairment cannot be made good;

(d) a mutual association cannot meet or has failed to meet its liabilities as they become due in the regular course of business;

(e) a mutual association's reserve has fallen below the amount required by state or federal law and it has failed to make good that reserve within 30 days after being requested to do so by the department, without that notice, if a majority of the directors, in writing, notifies the department that the reserve cannot be made good within 30 days or if is continually allowing its reserve to fall below the required amount;

(f) a mutual association is conducting business in an unsafe and unauthorized manner or is in an unsafe and unsound condition;

(g) a mutual association has refused to submit its papers, books, and concerns to the inspection of the department; or

(h) an officer of a mutual association has refused to be examined under oath regarding the affairs, business, or concerns of any mutual association as they relate to solvency or matters having to do with the supervision by the department.

(2) The powers and authority conferred on the department by this section, except in cases of voluntary surrender, are discretionary and not mandatory. As long as the department acts in good faith, the department and its employees and agents may not be held liable civilly or criminally or on their official bonds for action taken under this section or for any failure to act under it.

History: En. Sec. 89, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1003. When mutual association insolvent. A mutual association is insolvent within the meaning of this chapter when its capital is absorbed in losses and the remaining assets are not sufficient to pay and discharge its contracts, debts, and engagements.

History: En. Sec. 90, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1004. Deposits in insolvent mutual associations. (1) Except as otherwise provided by the Uniform Commercial Code, whenever a mutual association is insolvent in the manner set forth in this chapter, the mutual association may not accept or receive on deposit any money, financial bills or notes, United States treasury notes or currency, or other notes, bills, or drafts circulating as money or currency or transact any other business in connection with its operations, except as trustee for the depositors and parties transacting business with them, and it shall keep all such deposits of money, bills or notes, United States treasury notes or currency, or other notes, bills, or drafts circulating as money or currency separate and apart from the general assets of the mutual association from and after the date of the accrual of the insolvency. When the impairment or insolvency has been made good, the deposits received in trust may be transferred to the general assets of the mutual association on and by written consent of the department.

(2) If the insolvency is not made good, then all trust deposits must be returned to the depositors making them.

(3) An officer, director, cashier, manager, member, partner, or managing partner who knowingly accepts or receives, is accessory to, or permits or connives at the receiving or accepting of the trust deposits, except in the manner set forth in this section, is guilty of a felony and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $10,000 or imprisonment in the state prison for a term not exceeding 5 years, or both.

History: En. Sec. 91, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1005. Penalty for receiving deposits when insolvent or for making false statement. (1) Any officer, agent, or clerk of a mutual association, knowing the mutual association to be insolvent, who receives money, bank bills, notes of the United States, or currency or other bills or drafts circulating as money or currency, except in the manner set forth in 32-2-1004, who subscribes or makes any false statements or entries in the books of the mutual association, who knowingly subscribes or exhibits any false paper with the intent to deceive any person authorized to examine as to the condition of the mutual association, or who willfully subscribes or makes false reports is subject to the penalties set forth in 32-2-607(5).

(2) Any person or the members of any partnership or mutual association who willfully or knowingly receive deposits, money, or commercial papers circulating as money, when the person, partnership, or mutual association is insolvent, or who subscribe or make any false statement or entries in the books of any such mutual association, who knowingly subscribe or exhibit any false papers with the intention of deceiving any person authorized to examine the condition of any mutual association provided for in this chapter, or who willfully subscribe or make false reports to the department are subject to the penalties set forth in 32-2-607(5).

History: En. Sec. 92, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1006. Power of closed mutual associations to borrow money from governmental agencies. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), after applying to and obtaining the approval of the department and the district court of the county in which the mutual association is located, the liquidating agents of closed mutual associations may borrow money from an agency of the federal government on behalf of mutual associations closed and in liquidation. As security for the loan, the liquidating agent may pledge or mortgage assets and properties for the purpose of paying depositors or creditors in part or in full.

(2) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, the reporting and district court approval requirements of subsection (1) do not apply.

History: En. Sec. 93, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1007. Corporate existence — cessation. (1) The charters and the corporate existence of mutual associations cease automatically and become nonexistent upon the completion of liquidation of the affairs of the mutual association, whether accomplished voluntarily or through a legal process.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a mutual association's affairs are considered liquidated and completed when all of its property of every kind has been sold or applied toward the payment of its obligations and the corporation is left without property in existence or in reasonable expectancy.

History: En. Sec. 94, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1008. Taxes on mutual associations that have ceased to do business. Whenever a mutual association ceases to do business as a mutual association, taxes may not be levied or collected in accordance with the laws governing the assessment of mutual associations but its property must be assessed in accordance with the laws governing the assessment of similar property of private corporations.

History: En. Sec. 95, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1009. Penalty for maliciously declaring mutual association insolvent. If, as a result of malice or for personal gain, an employee or agent of the department declares a mutual association insolvent, the employee or agent forfeits the employee's or agent's office.

History: En. Sec. 96, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1010. Resumption after closing. After the department has taken possession of a mutual association, it may permit the mutual association to resume business following conditions approved by the department.

History: En. Sec. 97, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1011. Powers of department on closing mutual association — court proceedings. (1) After taking the assets and business of a mutual association into its possession, the department is authorized to collect all money due to the mutual association and to do other acts necessary to conserve the mutual association's assets and business. The department shall proceed to liquidate the affairs of the mutual association.

(2) The department may, except as limited by the terms of this chapter, do any acts necessary or desirable for the protection of the property and assets of the mutual association, the speedy and economical liquidation of the assets and affairs of the mutual association, the payment of creditors, or the reopening and resumption of business when that is practicable or desirable.

(3) The department may institute, in its own name or in the name of the mutual association, legal proceedings it considers expedient for the purposes of subsection (1).

(4) (a) By applying to the district court of the county in which the mutual association is located or to the judge of that court, the department may obtain an order to sell, compromise, or compound any bad or doubtful debt or claim and to sell and dispose of any assets. The sale may be made to officers, directors, or others interested in the mutual association on the consent of the court.

(b) In the court proceedings, the mutual association must be made a party by notice issued on order of the court or judge, in place of summons, and served on an officer of the mutual association if there is an officer in the county.

(5) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, subsection (4) does not apply.

History: En. Sec. 98, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1012. Recourse of aggrieved mutual association — injunction. (1) A mutual association aggrieved by the action of the department in taking possession of its assets or closing its doors may, within 14 days after possession has been taken, apply to the district court of the county in which its principal office of business is located to enjoin further proceedings by the department.

(2) The court, after notifying the department to appear at a specified time and place to show cause why further proceedings should not be enjoined and after hearing the allegations and proofs of the parties and determining facts, may on the merits dismiss the application or enjoin the department from further proceeding and direct it to surrender the business and assets of the mutual association.

(3) The application for injunction may be heard at any time after 5 days' notice from the time of service on the department, in the discretion of the court, or at any time prior to that time by the consent of the department.

(4) Application must be made on the verified complaint of the mutual association, in the form used in civil actions, and a copy of the complaint must be served on the department with the order to show cause.

(5) The department shall, at least 2 days before the time set for hearing, file with the court and serve on counsel for the plaintiff an answer to the complaint, also in the form used in civil actions. Any questions raised by motion in other actions may be raised in the answer.

(6) On the issues raised by the complaint and answer, the court, at the time fixed for showing cause, shall try the matter on the merits by hearing the allegations and proofs of the parties and shall enter judgment, as in the trial of other civil actions.

(7) If the department makes no appearance in the time allowed, the court shall enter its default and proceed to hear the proofs of the plaintiff as in civil actions under similar circumstances and enter judgment accordingly. The judgment entered either after hearing on the merits or by default is a final judgment.

(8) During the pendency of litigation, the department shall take action in relation to the assets of the mutual association necessary to conserve them.

History: En. Sec. 99, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1013. Department may retain mutual association employees — liquidating agent's salary and expenses. (1) The department may retain those officers or employees of the mutual association that it considers necessary. It shall require from the agent appointed by it and from those assistants who have charge of any of the assets of the mutual association that security for the faithful discharge of their duties as it considers proper.

(2) The salary of a liquidating agent and necessary clerical assistance and other expenses incurred by a liquidating agent must be borne equally and ratably by the mutual association or mutual associations in process of liquidation under the agent's charge in proportion to the total amount of resources of each of the mutual associations. The funds for those expenses must be raised by assessing each mutual association in ratio set forth in this section and paying those expenses directly to the persons entitled to them, without depositing any of the funds in the state treasury.

History: En. Sec. 100, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1014. Compensation of agents and attorneys. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), after notice to the mutual association and subject to approval by a district court judge of the county in which the mutual association is located, the compensation of the agents, attorneys, expert accountants, and other assistants appointed by the department and all expenses of liquidation and distribution of a mutual association whose assets and business have been taken possession of by the department must be fixed by the department. The department shall, on written request of the judge, supply semiannual statements showing the condition of the mutual association in the process of liquidation. Except in cases of emergency, the compensation paid to attorneys and expert accountants must be fixed and approved before services are rendered.

The compensation must be paid out of the funds of the mutual association in the hands of the department and are a proper charge and lien on the assets of the mutual association.

(2) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, the reporting and district court approval requirements in subsection (1) do not apply.

History: En. Sec. 101, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1015. Notice to creditors of insolvent mutual association. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), the department shall give notice by advertisement once a week for 2 successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the town or city where the mutual association is located, if there is one, or in another newspaper that is published in the state and designated by the department. The notice must call on all persons who have claims against the mutual association to present them to the department or its authorized agent at a place specified in the notice and to make sworn proof, in a form to be fixed by the department, within the time specified in the notice, not less than 90 days after the date of the first publication. A copy of the notice must be mailed to all persons whose names appear as creditors on the books of the mutual association.

(2) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, the provisions of subsection (1) do not apply and notice to creditors must be given pursuant to federal law.

History: En. Sec. 102, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1016. Claims — allowance and rejection. (1) Except as provided in subsection (6), the department may reject or allow all claims in whole or in part and on each claim allowed shall designate the order of its priority.

(2) If a claim is rejected or an order of priority allowed lower than that claimed, notice must be given the claimant personally or by common courier with tracking capability and an affidavit of the service of the notice, which is prima facie evidence of service, must be filed in the office of the department.

(3) The action of the department is final unless an action is brought by the claimant against the mutual association in the district court of the county in which the mutual association is located within 90 days after service. An appeal from the department's allowance may also be taken by any party in interest by serving notice on the department, stating the grounds of objection and filing an action in that court within 30 days after allowance.

(4) Within 5 days after the notice, the department shall file in the court and serve on the appellant a copy of the claim and its reasons for allowance.

(5) The court shall, after 5 days' notice of time and place of hearing on the issues raised, hear the proof of the parties and enter judgment reversing, affirming, or modifying the department's action.

(6) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, the provisions of subsections (1) through (5) do not apply and notice to creditors must be given pursuant to federal law.

History: En. Sec. 103, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1017. Payment of claims. (1) Claims presented to the department prior to the expiration of the time fixed in the notice to creditors and allowed by it must be paid in the order of the priority fixed in this chapter.

(2) Those claims filed after that expiration and within 1 year of that expiration are entitled, after they have been allowed by the department, to share in the distribution of the assets of the mutual association only to the extent of the assets undistributed in the hands of the department and available for the payment of claims of their order of priority at the time claims are filed.

(3) All claims filed after the expiration of 1 year following the date fixed in the notice to creditors as the time for presentation of claims are not entitled to be allowed or paid unless all other creditors' claims of any kind have been fully paid and a surplus remains in the hands of the department and then only from that surplus.

(4) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, the times fixed in subsections (1) through (3) do not apply and claims must be filed in accordance with times fixed pursuant to federal law.

History: En. Sec. 104, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1018. Claims — order of payment — priorities. (1) Except as otherwise provided by the Uniform Commercial Code, the order of payment of the debts of a mutual association liquidated by the department is as follows:

(a) the expense of liquidation, including compensation of agents, employees, and attorneys;

(b) all funds of any other mutual association in the process of liquidation by the department and placed on deposit by the department;

(c) all funds held by the mutual association in trust;

(d) debts due depositors or holders of cashier's checks, certified checks, and drafts on correspondent financial institutions or mutual associations, including protest fees paid by them on valid checks or drafts presented after closing of the mutual association, pro rata. All deposit balances of other financial institutions, mutual associations, or trust companies and all deposits of public funds of every kind except those actually placed on special deposit under the statutes providing for deposit, including those of the United States, this state, and every county, district, municipality, political subdivision, or public corporation of this state, whether secured or unsecured and whether deposited in violation of law or otherwise, are included within the terms of this subsection (1)(d) and take the same priority as debts due any other depositor. Accrued interest on savings accounts, certificates of deposit, or other interest-bearing contracts, up to the time of the closing of the mutual association, is considered as part of the debt due.

(e) interest on the classes of claims contained in subsections (1)(a) through (1)(d) without regard to the priority computed from the date of closing of the mutual association in accordance with the provisions of 25-9-205; and

(f) unliquidated claims for damages and similar claims.

(2) The department may, in its discretion, without regard to the priorities fixed in subsections (1)(c) through (1)(f) or in preference to the payment of any claims of creditors within those subsections, pay off and discharge any lien, claim, or charge against the assets or property of the mutual association in its hands and pay those sums it considers necessary for the preservation, maintenance, conservation, and protection of those assets and property and property on which the mutual association has liens by mortgage or otherwise. The department may create a fund or retain, in preference to the claim of any creditors in subsections (1)(c) through (1)(f), money for those purposes.

(3) Collateral that has been put up or pledged as security for the payment of bills payable by a mutual association or loans or discounts that have been outstanding as rediscounts of a mutual association prior to the closing of it is not available to the other creditors of the mutual association in whole or in part until the bills payable or rediscounts have been retired, after which offsets as provided in this section must be allowed.

(4) Deposits of a person, firm, or corporation in a mutual association that is in the possession of the department may be offset against any indebtedness subject to subsection (3).

History: En. Sec. 105, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1019. Claims — partial payments — assignments. (1) At any time after taking possession of the mutual association and prior to the expiration of the period fixed for filing of claims, and if under the circumstances of the particular case it considers it expedient and safe and if it has on hand in cash sufficient funds in excess of the expenses of liquidation, the department may make pro rata distribution to any class of creditors entitled to distribution in the order of priority fixed in this chapter. The department shall make a payment to the creditors as they appear on the books and records of the mutual association and after determining the priority and basing its apportionment on the amount shown to be due by the books and records.

(2) At any time after the expiration of the date fixed for the presentation of claims against the mutual association and from time to time after that date when, in its discretion, there are sufficient funds available, the department shall, after making proper provisions for the payment of expenses of liquidation, declare and make payments to all creditors of the mutual association pro rata in the order of their priority. If, after the time fixed for presentation of claims against the mutual association has expired, it appears that a person, prior to the expiration of the period or at any other time, has been paid more than the pro rata amount due the person as compared with the amounts paid to other creditors, nothing more may be paid to that creditor until the payment made to other creditors places them on equal footing.

(3) Claims against a mutual association in process of liquidation may be assigned in whole or in part subject to the approval of the department. Assignments of claims are binding on the department only after they have been filed and allowed by the department and are subject to the payment of the assignor's liabilities to the mutual association. An assignment must be made by filing written notice, signed by the original claimant, with the department or person in charge of the mutual association. Assigned claims may not be offset against obligations due the mutual association. A check or draft drawn against a mutual association closed or taken possession of by the department, whether issued before or after closing, may not be recognized as a claim against the mutual association or as an assignment of any amount, whether protested or not protested.

History: En. Sec. 106, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1020. Deposit of funds in department's hands. All funds in the hands of the department belonging to a mutual association in process of liquidation must be deposited in the department's name in those financial institutions in the state and designated by it and subject to its checks. Those funds must be preferred and protected as provided in this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 107, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1021. Disposition of unclaimed funds. (1) The department shall certify to the state treasurer a complete list of funds remaining with the department that are uncalled for and that have been left with it in its official capacity in trust for depositors in and creditors of a liquidated mutual association after the funds have been held by the department for 6 months from the date of the final liquidation of the institution. Along with this certificate, the department shall transmit to the state treasurer the funds, with accumulated interest on them, that it has held in trust for 6 months. A copy of the certificate must also be filed with the state auditor, who shall make a record of it.

(2) The state treasurer shall deposit the funds and interest in the general fund.

(3) A depositor or creditor of a liquidated mutual association who has not been paid the amount standing to the person's credit as certified to the state treasurer may apply to the department for the amount due. The depositor or creditor shall make an affidavit and offer proof of identity and of the amount due. When satisfied as to the correctness of the claim and of the identity of the person, the department shall forward it to the state treasurer, who shall audit the claim and, if the claim is found to be correct, certify the claim to the department. If the department approves the claim, it shall pay the claim to the depositor or creditor.

History: En. Sec. 108, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1022. Disposition of assets remaining after payment of claims. (1) (a) Except as provided in subsection (4), when the department has paid to each depositor and creditor of the mutual association whose claims have been approved and allowed as provided in this chapter the amount due on them or made satisfactory adjustment of them and has made provisions for unclaimed and unpaid deposits and disputed claims and deposits and has paid all the expenses of liquidation, it shall file a report of its administration of the trust with the clerk of the district court of the county in which the mutual association is located.

(b) If there are remaining assets on hand, the department may apply to the judge of the district court for an order authorizing it to surrender the remaining assets, together with all the stationery, correspondence, books, and records kept by the mutual association while it was a going concern, to the directors of the mutual association in office at the time of closing it, as trustees for members, or to some other person, if any, designated as trustee by a majority of the members. The report and petition must be set for hearing on notice that the court may direct.

(c) Upon hearing and approval of the report and account and the surrender of the assets as directed, the department is discharged from all further liability or responsibility in connection with the assets and affairs of the mutual association. The court may, if requested, require the trustees to give bond in an amount the court may fix, conditioned for the faithful performance of their duties.

(d) The trustee or trustees shall complete the liquidation of any remaining assets and may sell and dispose of real and personal property as rapidly as possible and shall distribute the proceeds among the members as their rights may appear or dispose of the proceeds in some other manner as the members by majority action direct.

(e) On request of a majority of the members, the court may order the department to close up the trust as provided in subsection (2).

(2) (a) If the assets of the mutual association are insufficient for making payments in full to the depositors and creditors of the mutual association, then, when the department has liquidated all available assets and disbursed them as provided by law, the department shall file a final report of its liquidation of the mutual association with the clerk of court of the county in which the mutual association is located. On notice that the court may order, the report must be set for hearing before the court and, if the report is found correct and all funds accounted for, the court shall approve it.

(b) The department may at the same time and in the report make application to the district court of the county in which the mutual association is located for an order directing the closing of the trust, and upon entry of the order closing the trust, the department is discharged from all further liability or responsibility in connection with the assets and affairs of the mutual association. The charter of the mutual association must be forfeited, and all of the stationery, correspondence, books, and records kept by the mutual association while it was a going concern and considered by the department to be of no value may be destroyed. However, correspondence or records may not be destroyed until 10 years after the date the mutual association ceases to be a going concern.

(3) On application for orders as provided in this section, the mutual association must be made a party by notice issued on order of the court or judge and served in a manner the court directs, and applications authorized by this section may be heard at any time on not less than 5 days' posted or served notice of the hearing.

(4) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, the reporting and district court approval requirements of subsections (1) through (3) do not apply.

History: En. Sec. 109, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1023. Further duties of liquidating officer. (1) The liquidating officer of a mutual association may decide when the assets of a failed mutual association are not sufficient to pay the debts, contracts, engagements, and liabilities and may determine the time when and the court where necessary legal proceedings are conducted, subject to the general provisions of law governing venue and place of trial.

(2) For the purposes of this section, the term "liquidating officer" includes any person legally empowered to liquidate the business and affairs of a state mutual association, whether the liquidation is by the department or by its deputies and agents. The term also includes all receivers of state mutual associations qualified to liquidate a state mutual association under state law.

History: En. Sec. 110, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1024. Department to file inventory — report required — exception. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), the department shall, within 90 days after taking charge of an insolvent mutual association, file with the district court having jurisdiction a complete inventory of all of the property and assets of the insolvent mutual association, such as furniture, fixtures, real estate, mortgages, bonds, and notes, secured and unsecured.

(2) The department shall every 6 months, or more often if required by the court, file with the court a report showing the status of the liquidation of the mutual association, the assets that have been liquidated and collected, the amounts and manner of payments made to creditors, the manner in which claims have been handled, and the assets on hand. The report must contain other information the court requires, so that the court and the public may be apprised of the condition of the mutual association and the manner in which it is being liquidated with respect to the collection and sale of assets belonging to the mutual association and the manner in which claims are being paid. The report and account must be set for hearing on the notice the court may require and, if found to be correct, must be approved by the court.

History: En. Sec. 111, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1025 through 32-2-1029 reserved.

32-2-1030. Definitions. As used in 32-2-1030 through 32-2-1034, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Emergency" means any condition or occurrence that may interfere physically with the conduct of normal business operations at any of the offices of a mutual association or that poses an imminent or existing threat to the safety or security of persons or property or both. Situations that an emergency may arise as a result of include but are not limited to:

(a) fire;
(b) flood;
(c) earthquake;
(d) hurricanes;
(e) wind, rain, or snowstorms;
(f) labor disputes or strikes;
(g) power failures;
(h) transportation failures;
(i) interruption of communication facilities;
(j) shortages of fuel, housing, food, transportation, or labor;
(k) robbery or attempted robbery;
(l) actual or threatened enemy attack;
(m) epidemics or other catastrophes; or
(n) riots, civil commotions, and other acts of lawlessness or violence, actual or threatened.

(2) "Mutual association" includes state mutual associations, any person or association of persons lawfully carrying on the business of mutual associations, whether incorporated or not, and, to the extent that the provisions of 32-2-1031 through 32-2-1034 are not inconsistent with and do not infringe on paramount federal law, also includes federal savings associations.

(3) "Office" means any place at which a mutual association transacts its business or conducts operations related to its business.

(4) "Officer" means a person or persons designated by the board of directors, board of trustees, or other governing body of a mutual association to act for the mutual association in carrying out the provisions of 32-2-1031 through 32-2-1034 or, in the absence of a designation or of the officer or officers designated, the president or any other officer currently in charge of the mutual association or of the office or offices involved.

History: En. Sec. 112, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1031. Power of department. When the department feels that an emergency exists or is impending in this state or in any part of this state, it may, by proclamation, authorize mutual associations located in the affected area to close any of their offices. In addition, if the department is of the opinion that an emergency exists or is impending that affects or may affect a particular mutual association or mutual associations, or a particular office or offices of a particular mutual association, but not mutual associations located in the area generally, it may authorize the particular mutual association or mutual associations or office or offices so affected to close. The closed office or offices must remain closed until the department proclaims that the emergency has ended or until an earlier time that the officers of the mutual association determine that one or more of the closed offices should reopen and, in either event, for the amount of time afterward as may reasonably be required for them to reopen.

History: En. Sec. 113, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1032. Powers of officers. (1) When the officers of a mutual association feel that an emergency exists or is impending that affects or may affect any of a mutual association's offices, they may, in the reasonable and proper exercise of their discretion, determine not to open any of those offices on any business day or, if the offices have opened, to close any of those offices during the continuation of the emergency, even if the department has not issued and does not issue a proclamation of emergency. An office closed in this way shall remain closed until the officers determine that the emergency has ended and for a further time afterward as may reasonably be required for them to reopen. However, an office may not remain closed for more than 48 consecutive hours, excluding other legal holidays, without requesting the approval of the department.

(2) The officers of a mutual association may close any of the mutual association's offices on any day:

(a) designated by proclamation of the president of the United States or the governor of this state as a day of mourning, rejoicing, or other special observance; or

(b) that the federal reserve bank of Minneapolis is not open for business.

History: En. Sec. 114, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1033. Notice of mutual association closing. A mutual association closing an office under authority granted under 32-2-1032 shall give to the department as prompt notice of its action as conditions will permit and by any means available. In the case of a federal savings association, the notice must be given to the comptroller of the currency.

History: En. Sec. 115, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1034. Effect of closing. (1) A day on which a mutual association or any of its offices is closed during any part of its normal mutual association hours under 32-2-1031 and 32-2-1032 with respect to that mutual association or, if not all of its offices are closed, then with respect to the office or offices that are closed is a legal holiday for all purposes with respect to any mutual association business. No liability or loss of rights of any kind on the part of a mutual association, or a director, officer, or employee of the mutual association, may accrue or result by virtue of a closing authorized by 32-2-1031 and 32-2-1032.

(2) The provisions of 32-2-1030 through 32-2-1034 are in addition to any other law of this state or of the United States authorizing the closing of a mutual association or excusing the delay by a mutual association in the performance of its duties and obligations because of emergencies or conditions beyond the mutual association's control or otherwise.

History: En. Sec. 116, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

Part 11
Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

32-2-1101. Definition of savings institution. As used in this part, the term "savings institution" means a mutual association that is organized under the laws of this state.

History: En. Sec. 117, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1102. Savings institutions empowered to receive federal deposit insurance corporation aid. (1) A savings institution may, on the authority of its board of directors or a majority of the board, enter into the contracts, incur the obligations, and generally perform any acts necessary or appropriate in order to take advantage of any memberships, loans, subscriptions, contracts, grants, rights, or privileges available to savings institutions or to their depositors, creditors, conservators, or liquidators by virtue of the provisions of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act that establish the federal deposit insurance corporation and provide for the insurance of deposits or of any other act or resolution of congress to aid, regulate, or safeguard savings institutions and their depositors.

(2) A savings institution may subscribe for and acquire stock, debentures, bonds, or other types of securities of the federal deposit insurance corporation and may comply with the lawful rules and requirements from time to time adopted by that corporation.

History: En. Sec. 118, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1103. Appointment of corporation as agent in liquidation. If a savings institution whose deposits are in any extent insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation created by the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, 12 U.S.C. 1811 through 1831, is closed on account of the savings institution's inability to meet the demands of its creditors, the department may appoint the corporation agent, without bond, to assist the department or act for it in the liquidation of that savings institution.

History: En. Sec. 119, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1104. Subrogation of corporation. Whenever any savings institution has been closed as provided in 32-2-1103 and the federal deposit insurance corporation pays or makes available for payment the insured deposit liabilities of the closed savings institution, the federal deposit and insurance corporation, whether or not it has been appointed agent of the department in the liquidation of the closed savings institution, must be and become subrogated by operation of law to all rights against the closed savings institution of each owner of a claim for deposit to the extent necessary to enable the federal deposit insurance corporation, under federal law, to make insurance payments available to depositors of closed insured savings institutions.

History: En. Sec. 120, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1105. Examinations by corporation. (1) The department may accept, in its discretion, in place of any examination authorized by the laws of this state to be conducted of a savings institution by the department, the examination made of the savings institution within a reasonable period by the federal deposit insurance corporation if a signed copy of the examination is furnished to the department.

(2) The department may also, in its discretion, accept a report relative to the condition of a savings institution obtained by the corporation within a reasonable period, in place of a report authorized by the laws of this state to be required of the savings institution by the department, if a copy of the report is furnished to the department.

(3) The department may, in its discretion, disclose to the corporation, or an official or examiner of the corporation, any information possessed by the department with reference to the conditions or affairs of an insured savings institution. The department may furnish to the corporation or to an official examiner of the corporation a copy or copies of any examinations made of those savings institutions and of any reports made by them.

History: En. Sec. 121, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1106. Closed savings institutions empowered to borrow from corporation. (1) If a savings institution is closed on account of the savings institution's inability to meet the demands of its depositors, by action of the department, by action of its directors, or in the event of its insolvency or suspension, the department or the department's agent may borrow from the corporation and furnish any of the assets of the savings institution to the corporation as security for a loan from the corporation. The department may sell to the corporation any part or all of the assets of the savings institution.

(2) The provisions of this section do not limit the power of a savings institution or the department to pledge or sell assets in accordance with any existing law.

History: En. Sec. 122, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

Part 12
Removal of Directors or Officers

32-2-1201. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Board member" means a member of the board of directors of the institution.

(2) "Cease and desist order that has become final" means a cease and desist order or an order with respect to which:

(a) a timely petition for review of the action has not been filed; or

(b) the action of the court in which a petition for review has been filed is not subject to further review by the courts of the state.

(3) "Institution" means a state mutual association.

(4) "Violation" includes without limitation any action, alone or with others, that causes, counsels, aids, or abets a violation.

History: En. Sec. 123, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1202. Notice of charges — hearing — cease and desist order — effective date. (1) If the department has reasonable cause to believe that any institution is engaging, has engaged, or is about to engage in an unsafe or unsound practice in conducting the business of the institution or is violating, has violated, or is about to violate a law or rule, the department may issue and serve on the institution a notice of charges. The notice must contain a statement of the facts constituting the alleged unsafe or unsound practice or violation and must fix a time and place at which an administrative hearing pursuant to Title 2, chapter 4, part 6, will be held to determine whether an order to cease and desist should be issued against the institution.

(2) The hearing may not be earlier than 30 days or later than 60 days after service of the notice unless an earlier or a later date is set by the hearings examiner at the request of the institution. Unless the institution appears at the hearing by a duly authorized representative, it is considered to have consented to the issuance of the cease and desist order. In the event of consent or if upon the record made at any such hearing the hearings examiner finds that any unsafe or unsound practice or violation specified in the notice of charges has been established by the preponderance of the evidence, the commissioner may issue and serve on the institution an order to cease and desist from the practice or violation. By provisions that may be mandatory or otherwise, the order may require the institution and its board members, officers, employees, and agents to cease and desist from the practice or violation and to take affirmative action to correct the conditions resulting from the practice or violation.

(3) A cease and desist order becomes effective at the expiration of 30 days after the service of the order on the institution, except in the case of an order issued on consent, which is effective at the time specified. The cease and desist order remains effective and enforceable, except to the extent it is stayed, modified, terminated, or set aside by the action of the commissioner or a reviewing court.

History: En. Sec. 124, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1203. Informal conferences — time for application. Within 15 days after service of the notice of charges, either the institution or the department may request an informal conference to discuss the charges and the possible disposition of the charges without a formal hearing process. The conference must be carried out in accordance with the provisions of 2-4-603. Upon a proper showing, the department may withdraw charges and proceedings for a cease and desist order.

History: En. Sec. 125, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1204. Temporary cease and desist order — grounds for issuance — effective date — injunctive relief. (1) (a) Whenever the department determines that any violation or threatened violation or any unsafe or unsound practice specified in the notice of charges served on the institution pursuant to 32-2-1202(1) or the continuation is likely to cause insolvency or substantial dissipation of assets or earnings of the institution or is likely to otherwise seriously prejudice the interests of its depositors, the department may issue a temporary order requiring the institution to cease and desist from the violation or practice.

(b) The order must contain a statement of the facts constituting the alleged violation or unsafe or unsound practice.

(c) The order is effective upon service of the order on the institution and, unless set aside, limited, or suspended by a court in proceedings authorized by subsection (2), remains effective and enforceable until the completion of the administrative proceedings pursuant to the notice of charges, until the department dismisses the charges specified in the notice, or until a cease and desist order that is issued against the institution after the hearing becomes effective.

(2) Within 14 days after the institution has been served with a temporary cease and desist order, the institution may apply to the district court for the county in which the home office of the institution is located for an injunction setting aside, limiting, or suspending the enforcement, operation, or effectiveness of the order pending the completion of the administrative proceedings held pursuant to the notice of charges served on the institution under 32-2-1202(1). The court has jurisdiction to issue the injunction.

History: En. Sec. 126, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1205. Notice of intention to remove board member or officer — prohibiting participation — suspension. (1) The department may serve on a board member or officer of an institution a written notice of intention to remove the member or officer from office whenever the department has reasonable cause to believe that:

(a) the board member or officer has:

(i) committed any violation of law involving dishonesty or breach of trust;

(ii) violated a cease and desist order that has become final;

(iii) engaged or participated in any unsafe or unsound practice in connection with the institution; or

(iv) committed or engaged in any act, omission, or practice that constitutes a breach of the member's or officer's fiduciary duty as a board member or officer of the institution; and

(b) the institution has suffered or will likely suffer substantial financial loss or other damage or the interest of its depositors could be seriously prejudiced by reason of the violation, practice, or breach of fiduciary duty involving personal dishonesty on the part of the board member or officer.

(2) The department may serve on a board member, officer, or other person of an institution a written notice of intention to remove the individual from office or to prohibit the individual's further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution if:

(a) in the opinion of the department, the board member or officer has, by conduct or practice with respect to another institution or business organization that has resulted in substantial financial loss or other damage to that institution or business organization, evidenced the member's or officer's personal disability and unfitness to continue as a board member or officer of the institution; or

(b) the department has reasonable cause to believe that any other person participating in the conduct of the affairs of the institution has, by conduct or practice with respect to the institution, another institution, or other business organization that has resulted in substantial financial loss or other damage to the institution or business organization, evidenced the person's personal disability and unfitness to participate in the conduct of the affairs of the institution.

(3) A notice of intention to remove a board member, officer, or other person from office or to prohibit the individual's participation in the conduct of the affairs of an institution must contain a statement of the facts constituting grounds for the removal or prohibition and must fix a time and place at which a hearing will be held on the removal or prohibition. The hearing must be held not earlier than 30 days or later than 60 days after the date of service of the notice, unless an earlier or later date is set by the hearings examiner at the request of the individual and for good cause shown.

(4) Unless the board member, officer, or other person appears at the hearing in person or by a duly authorized representative, the individual must be considered to have consented to the issuance of an order of removal or prohibition. In the event of consent or if on the record made at the hearing the hearings examiner finds that any of the grounds specified in the notice have been established by a preponderance of the evidence, the commissioner may issue orders of suspension, removal from office, or prohibition from participation in the conduct of the affairs of the institution, as the commissioner considers appropriate. The order becomes effective 30 days after service on the institution and the individual concerned, except in the case of an order issued on consent, which becomes effective at the time specified in the order. The order remains effective and enforceable until it is stayed, modified, terminated, or set aside by action of a reviewing court.

History: En. Sec. 127, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1206. Informal conferences — time for application. Within 15 days after service of the notice of charges sent pursuant to 32-2-1205, the board member, officer, or other person may request an informal conference to discuss the charges and the possible disposition of the charges without a formal hearing process. The conference must be carried out in accordance with 2-4-603. Upon a proper showing, the department may withdraw charges and proceedings for a cease and desist order.

History: En. Sec. 128, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1207. Suspension or prohibition effective on service — stay. (1) (a) With respect to any board member, officer, or other person of an institution to whom notice is sent pursuant to 32-2-1205, if the department considers it necessary for the protection of the institution or the interests of its depositors that the individual be suspended from office or prohibited from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution, the department may serve on the individual a written notice suspending the individual from office or prohibiting the individual from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution.

(b) The notice must contain a statement of the facts constituting grounds for the order and must fix a time, not later than 14 days from the date of the service of the notice, at which a hearing will be held to afford the individual the opportunity to respond.

(c) The suspension or prohibition is effective on service of the notice, and unless stayed by a court in proceedings authorized by subsection (2), remains in effect until:

(i) the completion of the administrative proceedings pursuant to the notice served under 32-2-1204;

(ii) the department dismisses the charges specified in the notice; or

(iii) the order of removal or prohibition that is issued against the board member, officer, or other person becomes effective.

(d) Copies of the notice must also be served on the institution of which the individual is a director or officer or in the conduct of whose affairs the individual has participated.

(2) Within 14 days after the hearing provided for in subsection (1), the board member, officer, or other person may apply to the district court for the county in which the home office of the institution is located for a stay of the suspension or prohibition pending the completion of the administrative proceedings pursuant to the notice served on the individual under 32-2-1204. The court has jurisdiction to stay the suspension or prohibition.

History: En. Sec. 129, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1208. Felony charges — suspension or prohibition. (1) (a) If a board member, officer, or other person participating in the conduct of the affairs of an institution is charged in any information, indictment, warrant, or complaint authorized by a county, state, or federal authority with the commission of or participation in a felony involving dishonesty or breach of trust, the department by written notice served on the individual may suspend that individual from office or prohibit that individual from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution. Suspension is effective upon service on the individual.

(b) The notice must contain a statement of the facts constituting grounds for the order and must fix a place and time, not later than 14 days from the date of the notice, at which a hearing will be held to afford the individual the opportunity to respond. A copy of the notice must also be served on the institution.

(c) The suspension or prohibition remains in effect until the information, indictment, warrant, or complaint is finally disposed of or until terminated by the commissioner.

(2) Within 14 days after the hearing provided for in subsection (1), the board member, officer, or other person may apply to the district court for the county in which the home office of the institution is located for a stay of the suspension or prohibition pending the completion of the criminal proceedings initiated by the information, indictment, warrant, or complaint. The court has jurisdiction to stay the suspension or prohibition.

(3) (a) If a judgment of conviction with respect to the offense is entered against the board member, officer, or other person and at the time that the judgment is not subject to further appellate review, the department may issue and serve on the individual an order removing that individual from office or prohibiting that individual from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution except with the consent of the commissioner. A copy of the order must also be served on the institution, and upon receipt the board member or officer, if applicable, ceases to be a board member or officer of the institution.

(b) A finding of not guilty or other disposition of the charge does not preclude the department from instituting proceedings to suspend or remove the individual from office or to prohibit further participation in the affairs of the institution pursuant to 32-2-1205 and 32-2-1206.

History: En. Sec. 130, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1209 through 32-2-1212 reserved.

32-2-1213. Board of directors — lack of quorum — temporary board members. (1) If at any time because of the suspension or removal of one or more board members pursuant to this part the board of directors of an institution has less than a quorum of board members not suspended or removed, all powers and functions vested in or exercisable by the board vest in and are exercisable by the board members not suspended or removed until a time when there is a quorum of the board members.

(2) If all of the board members have been suspended or removed, the commissioner shall appoint persons to serve temporarily as board members, pending the termination of the suspensions or removals or until a time when their successors are duly elected and take office.

History: En. Sec. 131, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1214. Hearings — decision — review, modification, termination, or stay of orders. (1) A hearing provided for in this part must be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Montana Administrative Procedure Act. The hearing must be private unless the commissioner, after fully considering the views of the party afforded the hearing, determines that a public hearing is necessary to protect the public interest. Within 90 days after the case has been submitted for final decision, the hearings examiner shall render a decision, which must include findings of fact on which the decision is based. The commissioner shall comply with 2-4-623 and issue and serve on each party to the proceeding an order consistent with the provisions of this section.

(2) (a) Any party to the hearing or any person required by an order issued under this part to cease and desist from any of the violations or practices stated in the order or any person suspended, removed, or prohibited from participation in the conduct of the affairs of an institution may obtain a review of any order, other than a consent order. The review must be pursuant to the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

(b) Unless a petition for review is timely filed as provided in the Montana Administrative Procedure Act, the commissioner, at any time, on notice and in a manner that the commissioner considers proper, may modify, terminate, or set aside the order. Upon the timely filing of a petition for review, the commissioner may modify, terminate, or set aside the order with the permission of the court.

History: En. Sec. 132, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1215. Notices and orders — manner of service — copies to federal authorities. Any service required or authorized to be made by the department pursuant to this part must be made on individual board members and officers by personal service and may be made on institutions by registered or certified mail or common courier with tracking capability or in any manner reasonably calculated to give actual notice as the department by rule or otherwise may provide. Copies of any notice or order served by the commissioner pursuant to the provisions of this part on any institution or any board member, officer, or other person participating in the conduct of the institution's affairs may also be sent to the appropriate federal supervisory authorities.

History: En. Sec. 133, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1216. Enforcement of notices or orders. The commissioner may apply to the district court of the county in which the home office of the institution is located or to the district court for Lewis and Clark County for the enforcement of any effective and outstanding notice or order issued under this part. The court has jurisdiction to require compliance.

History: En. Sec. 134, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

32-2-1217. Violation of notice or final order — penalties. Any present or former board member or officer of an institution or any other person against whom an outstanding and effective notice or final order has been served pursuant to 32-2-1205, 32-2-1207, or 32-2-1208 is subject to the penalties in 32-2-607(5) if the individual:

(1) participates in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution;

(2) directly or indirectly solicits, procures, transfers, or attempts to transfer votes or attempts to vote any proxies, consents, or authorizations in respect to any voting rights in the institution; or

(3) without the prior written approval of the commissioner, votes for a board member or serves as a board member, officer, or employee of the institution.

History: En. Sec. 135, Ch. 431, L. 2021.

Montana Uniform Transfers to Minors Act, Title 72, ch. 26.

Part 1
General Provisions

32-3-101. Short title. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Montana Credit Union Act".

History: En. 14-601 by Sec. 1, Ch. 38, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 14-601.

32-3-102. Purposes — definitions. (1) The purposes of a credit union are to:

(a) encourage thrift among its members;

(b) create a source of credit at a fair and reasonable rate of interest; and

(c) provide an opportunity for the credit union's members to use and control their own money in order to improve their economic and social condition.

(2) For the purposes of this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Credit union" means a cooperative, nonprofit association incorporated under the laws of this state pursuant to this chapter for the purposes described in subsection (1).

(b) "Immediate family" means a spouse, a child, a sibling, a parent, a grandparent, or a grandchild and includes stepparents, stepchildren, stepsiblings, and adoptive relationships.

(c) "Membership shares" means a fee paid to the credit union to be a member. The fee is held by the credit union and may be invested by the credit union. The fee must be set in the bylaws of the credit union.

(d) "Official" means a member of the board of directors, supervisory committee, or credit committee of the credit union and includes individuals elected by the board of directors to serve as executive officers described in 32-3-408.

(e) "Shares" means a balance of funds, minus membership shares, held by a credit union and established in accordance with standards specified by the credit union. The term includes general references to shares as well as share accounts, share certificates, share draft accounts, custodial accounts, individual retirement accounts, payable on death accounts, trust accounts, money market accounts, share checking accounts, and business share accounts.

History: En. 14-602 by Sec. 2, Ch. 38, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 14-602; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 317, L. 2015.

32-3-103. Use of name exclusive. (1) The name of any credit union organized under this chapter must include the phrase "credit union". A credit union may not adopt a name either identical to the name of any other credit union doing business in this state or so similar as to be misleading or to cause confusion.

(2) A person, other than a credit union organized under the provisions of this chapter or of any other credit union act or an organization or corporation whose membership or ownership is primarily limited to credit unions or credit union organizations, may not use a name or title containing the words "credit union" or any derivation of the words "credit union", and the person may not represent that the person is a credit union and may not conduct business as a credit union.

(3) A person who violates a provision of this section shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than 1 year, or both, and may be permanently enjoined from further violation of the provisions of this section.

History: En. 14-606 by Sec. 6, Ch. 38, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 14-606; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 237, L. 2003.

32-3-104. Office facilities. (1) A credit union may change its place of business within this state upon written notice to the department of administration.

(2) A credit union may share office space with one or more credit unions and contract with any person or corporation to provide facilities or personnel.

(3) A credit union may maintain, upon prior written notice to the department, additional offices at locations other than its principal place of business if the purpose of maintaining the additional offices is to furnish service to its members.

(4) The department shall approve any additional office unless a compelling reason for disapproval is found by the department. Competition with other financial institutions is not a sufficiently compelling reason for disapproval.

(5) If the department disapproves an additional office, the credit union must be afforded an opportunity for a hearing according to Title 2, chapter 4, part 6. The purpose of the hearing is to determine whether a compelling reason exists for disapproval of the additional office.

32-3-201. Department of administration. (1) The department of administration shall administer the laws of this state relating to credit unions. The department may appoint or employ special assistants, deputies, examiners, or other employees that are necessary for the purpose of administering or enforcing this chapter.

(2) The department may adopt rules for the administration of this chapter and may establish chartering, supervisory, and examination fees. Fees collected must be deposited in the state special revenue fund for the use of the department in its supervision function.

(3) The department shall adopt rules prescribing the minimum amount of surety bond coverage and casualty, liability, and fire insurance required of credit unions in relation to their assets or to the money and other personal property involved or their exposure to risk.

(4) The department may enter into agreements with other states establishing the division of supervisory responsibilities between the state in which a credit union is organized and the state or states in which the credit union's branches may be located.

32-3-203. Examinations. (1) The department of administration shall examine or cause to be examined each credit union on a schedule determined by the department. Each credit union and all of its officers and agents shall give representatives of the department full access to all books, papers, securities, records, and other sources of information under their control. For the purpose of the examination, the representatives may subpoena witnesses, administer oaths, compel the giving of testimony, and require the submission of documents.

(2) A report of the examination must be forwarded to the executive officer of each credit union promptly after completion. The report must contain comments relative to the management of the affairs of the credit union and also as to the general condition of its assets. Within 60 days after the receipt of the report, the directors and committee members shall meet to consider matters contained in the report.

(3) In lieu of making an examination of a credit union, the department may accept an audit report of the condition of the credit union made by an auditor approved by the department. The cost of the audit must be borne by the credit union.

32-3-204. Records. (1) A credit union shall maintain all books, records, accounting systems, and procedures in accordance with rules that the department of administration prescribes. In prescribing rules, the department shall consider the relative size of a credit union and its reasonable capability of compliance.

(2) A credit union is not liable for destroying records after the expiration of the record retention time prescribed by the department.

(3) A photostatic or photographic copy or reproduction of any kind, including electronic or computer-generated data that has been electronically stored and is capable of being converted into written form, of any credit union records is admissible as evidence of transactions with the credit union.

History: En. 14-612 by Sec. 12, Ch. 38, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 14-612; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 25, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 221(1), Ch. 483, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 237, L. 2003.

32-3-205. Cease and desist orders — suspension — involuntary liquidation. (1) The department of administration may issue cease and desist orders after having determined, from competent and substantial evidence, that a credit union:

(a) is engaged or is about to engage in an unsafe or unsound practice; or

(b) is violating or has violated a material provision of any law, rule, or condition imposed in writing by the department or any written agreement made with the department.

(2) (a) The department may suspend from office and prohibit from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of a credit union any director, officer, or committee member who has committed any violation of a law, rule, or cease and desist order, who has engaged in or participated in any unsafe or unsound practice in connection with the credit union, or who has committed or engaged in any act, omission, or practice that constitutes a breach of that person's fiduciary duty as a director, officer, or committee member when the department has determined that:

(i) the action of the director, officer, or committee member has resulted or will likely result in substantial financial loss or other damage;

(ii) the interests of the credit union's members have been or may be prejudiced by the action of the director, officer, or committee member;

(iii) the director, officer, or committee member has received financial gain or other benefit as a result of the action; or

(iv) the action of the director, officer, or committee member involves personal dishonesty or demonstrates unfitness to serve as a director, officer, or committee member.

(b) A director, officer, or committee member suspended from office pursuant to subsection (2)(a) may request a hearing under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

(3) (a) If it appears that a credit union is bankrupt or insolvent or that it has willfully violated this chapter or is operating in an unsafe or unsound manner, the department may issue an order temporarily suspending the credit union's operations for not less than 30 or more than 60 days. The board of directors must be given notice by certified mail of the suspension. The notice must include a list of the reasons for the suspension and a list of the specific violations of this chapter.

(b) Upon receipt of a suspension notice, the credit union shall cease all operations, except those authorized by the department, or the department may appoint a conservator to operate the credit union during the period of suspension. The board of directors shall file with the department a reply to the suspension notice and present a plan of proposed corrective actions if it desires to continue operations. The board may request that the credit union be declared insolvent and a liquidating agent be appointed.

(c) Upon receipt from the suspended credit union of evidence that the conditions causing the order of suspension have been corrected or upon acceptance of a plan of proposed corrective actions, the department may revoke the suspension notice and permit the credit union to resume normal operations.

(d) If the department, after issuing a notice of suspension, rejects the credit union's plan to continue operations, the board may request an administrative hearing.

(4) If, within the suspension period, the credit union fails to answer the suspension notice or request a hearing or if after a hearing, the department continues to reject the credit union's plan to continue operations, the department may:

(a) permit the credit union to operate under a conservator until conditions requiring suspension are remedied;

(b) involuntarily merge the credit union in accordance with the provisions of 32-3-212; or

(c) revoke the credit union's charter, appoint a liquidating agent, and liquidate the credit union.

(5) The department may not involuntarily merge or involuntarily liquidate a credit union prior to the suspension procedures outlined in this section. A credit union may petition the appropriate court to stay the department's suspension, involuntary merger, or involuntary liquidation order.

(6) In the event of liquidation of a credit union, the assets of the credit union or the proceeds from the disposition of the credit union's assets must be applied and distributed in the following sequence:

(a) to secured creditors up to the value of their secured collateral;

(b) for the costs and expenses of liquidation;

(c) for wages due employees of the credit union;

(d) for taxes owed to any government unit;

(e) for any debts owed the United States;

(f) to general creditors and to secured creditors to the extent that their claims exceed the value of their collateral; and

(g) to shareholders of the credit union to the extent of their uninsured shares.

32-3-206. Authorized activities of credit unions. Upon written application to the department of administration, a credit union may engage in any activity in which a credit union could engage if it were operating as a federal chartered credit union at the time the authority is granted. The activities include but are not limited to the power to do any act and to own, possess, and carry as assets property including stocks, bonds, or other debentures that, at the time the authority is granted, are authorized under federal laws and regulations for transactions by federal credit unions and are not subject to any restrictions contained elsewhere in Montana law. However, the department may not charter a credit union not having a common bond of membership as defined in 32-3-304. The department shall approve an activity if it finds that the activity fosters competitive equality between state and federal credit unions and prevents adverse effects on members of state-chartered credit unions. If the department disapproves an activity, the credit union must be given an opportunity for a hearing pursuant to Title 2, chapter 4, part 6, to determine whether a compelling reason exists for denying approval of the activity for which the credit union applied.

32-3-207. Confidentiality — penalties. (1) (a) Any report of examination issued under 32-3-203, any report made by a credit union under 32-3-202, and any other credit union documentation maintained by the department of administration, other than those reports that are required to be published, must be considered confidential information. Except as provided in subsection (1)(b), confidential information may not be imparted to persons who are not officially associated with the department, and the information contained in the reports and statements may be used by the department only in the furtherance of its official duties.

(b) The department may exchange information with federal credit union regulatory agencies, with a federal reserve bank, and with the financial regulatory departments of other states. The department may furnish reports of its examination findings under 32-3-203 to a federal home loan bank, as defined in the Federal Home Loan Bank Act of 1932, 12 U.S.C. 1422. The department may furnish information to the legislative auditor for use in pursuit of official duties. A prosecuting official may obtain the information by court order.

(2) Any knowledge or information gained or discovered by the department in pursuance of its powers or duties is confidential information of the department. The information may not, except as provided in subsection (1)(b), be imparted to any person not officially associated with the department. The information may be used by the department only in the furtherance of its official duties.

(3) An employee or agent of the department who violates this section or willfully makes a false official report as to the condition of a credit union is guilty of a felony and must be removed from office. Upon conviction, the person shall be fined an amount not exceeding $1,000, be imprisoned in a state correctional facility for a term not exceeding 5 years, or both.

32-3-208 through 32-3-210 reserved.

32-3-211. Conservatorship. (1) In conjunction with a suspension order or if the department of administration's examination has been obstructed or impeded, the department may appoint itself or appoint any other competent person as conservator to immediately take possession and control of the business and assets of a credit union. The conservator, representing the best interest of the credit union members, must be vested with the full power of management of the credit union.

(2) Not later than 15 days after the date on which the conservator takes possession and control of the business and assets of a credit union pursuant to subsection (1), the credit union may apply to the appropriate court for an order requiring the department to show cause why the department or the designated conservator should not be enjoined from continuing possession and control.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (2), the conservator may maintain possession and control of the business and assets of the credit union and may operate the credit union until:

(a) the department permits the credit union's officials to continue business subject to any terms and conditions the department imposes; or

(b) the credit union is involuntarily merged or involuntarily liquidated in accordance with the provisions of 32-3-205.

(4) The department may appoint any agents considered necessary to assist the conservator in carrying out the duties of the conservator under this section.

(5) All expenses incurred by the conservator in exercising the authority of that office under this section with respect to a credit union must be paid out of the assets of the credit union, except that the department may waive all or a part of the expenses.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 237, L. 2003.

32-3-212. Involuntary merger. The department of administration may initiate the involuntary merger of a credit union that is insolvent or in danger of insolvency with any other credit union or may authorize a credit union to purchase any of the assets of or assume any of the liabilities of any other credit union that is insolvent or in danger of insolvency if the department is satisfied that:

(1) an emergency requiring expeditious action exists with respect to a credit union that is insolvent or in danger of insolvency;

(2) other alternatives are not reasonably available; and

(3) the public interest would best be served by approval of the merger, purchase, or assumption.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 237, L. 2003.

32-3-213 and 32-3-214 reserved.

32-3-215. Out-of-state credit unions. (1) A credit union chartered under the laws of another state or territory of the United States may conduct business as a credit union in this state with the approval of the department of administration, provided that credit unions incorporated under this chapter are allowed to do business in the other state or territory under conditions similar to these provisions.

(2) Before granting approval to do business in this state, the department must find that an out-of-state credit union:

(a) is a credit union organized under laws similar to this chapter;

(b) is financially solvent;

(c) has account insurance comparable to that required for credit unions incorporated under this chapter;

(d) is examined and supervised by a regulatory agency of the state in which it is organized; and

(e) needs to conduct business in this state to adequately serve its members in this state.

(3) An out-of-state credit union may not conduct business in this state unless it:

(a) complies with the consumer protection statutes and rules applicable to credit unions incorporated under this chapter;

(b) agrees to furnish the department with a copy of the examination report conducted by its regulatory agency or to submit to an examination by the department; and

(c) designates and maintains an agent for the service of process in this state.

(4) The department may revoke the approval of an out-of-state credit union conducting business in this state if the department finds that:

(a) the credit union no longer meets the requirements of subsection (2);

(b) the credit union has violated the laws of this state or lawful rules or orders issued by the department;

(c) the credit union has engaged in a pattern of unsafe or unsound credit union practices;

(d) continued operation by the credit union is likely to have a substantially adverse impact on the financial, economic, or other interests of residents of this state; or

(e) the credit union is prohibited from operating in its own home state.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 237, L. 2003.

32-3-216. Conducting business outside this state. (1) A credit union chartered under this chapter may conduct business outside of this state in other states or territories where it is permitted to conduct business as a credit union, under conditions substantially similar to the provisions of this chapter.

(2) If another state or territory's credit union laws or regulations allow credit unions operating in that state or territory to exercise additional powers not allowed in this state, the credit union conducting business outside this state may request permission from the department of administration to exercise those additional powers while operating in that state.

(3) Upon request for approval to exercise a power not allowed in this state, submitted by certified mail, return receipt requested, the department shall respond with a determination in not more than 60 days. For good cause shown within the 60-day period, the department may extend the response period for an additional 30 days. If a response is not received within 60 days or 90 days, as applicable, the requesting credit union may exercise the power.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 237, L. 2003.

Part 3
Organization, Membership, and Dissolution

32-3-301. Organization procedure. (1) Any seven or more residents of this state who are of legal age and who have a common bond, as described in 32-3-304, may organize a credit union and become charter members of the credit union by complying with this section.

(2) The subscribers shall execute articles of incorporation that conform to the applicable Montana corporation law and shall agree to the terms of the articles. The articles must state:

(a) the name, which must include the words "credit union" and which must conform with the provisions of 32-3-103, and the location where the proposed credit union is to have its principal place of business;

(b) that the existence of the credit union is perpetual;

(c) the par value of the shares of the credit union, which must be in $5 multiples of not less than $5 or more than $50;

(d) that the credit union is organized under this chapter for the purposes set forth in the articles;

(e) the names and addresses of the subscribers to the articles of incorporation and the value of shares subscribed to by each, which may be not less than $5; and

(f) that the credit union may exercise incidental powers that are necessary or requisite to enable it to carry on effectively the business for which it is incorporated and those powers that are inherent in the credit union as a legal entity.

(3) The subscribers shall prepare and adopt bylaws for the general government of the credit union, consistent with this chapter, and forward the bylaws as provided in subsection (5).

(4) The subscribers shall select at least five qualified persons who agree to serve on the board of directors and at least three qualified persons who agree to serve on the supervisory committee. A signed agreement to serve in these capacities until the first annual meeting or until the election of their successors, whichever is later, must be executed by the parties. This agreement must be submitted to the department of administration.

(5) (a) The subscribers shall forward the articles of incorporation and the bylaws to the department. The department may issue a certificate of approval if the articles and the bylaws are in conformity with this chapter and if the department is satisfied that the proposed operation is favorable to the success of the credit union and that the standing of the proposed organizers gives assurance that the credit union's affairs will be properly administered. The department shall return to the applicants or their representatives an approved copy of the bylaws and the articles, which must be preserved in the permanent files of the credit union, or provide a written reason if the application is denied.

(b) The articles of incorporation must be filed with the secretary of state who, upon payment of the fees for filing the articles, shall issue a certificate of incorporation.

(6) The subscribers for a credit union charter may not transact any business until formal approval of the charter has been received.

(7) If the department denies a certificate of approval, the subscribers may request a hearing under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act, Title 2, chapter 4.

32-3-303. Amendments. (1) The articles of incorporation or the bylaws may be amended as provided in the bylaws. Amendments to the articles of incorporation or bylaws must be submitted, by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the department of administration, which shall approve or disapprove the amendments within 60 days.

(2) Amendments become effective upon:

(a) approval in writing by the department, for which a fee may not be charged; and

(b) in the case of articles of incorporation, filing with the secretary of state.

(3) If the department does not approve or disapprove the amendments within the 60-day period, the amendments must be considered approved, except that the department may extend the approval period for an additional 30 days for good cause as stated in a written notice given to the credit union within the original 60-day period.

32-3-310. Meetings of members. (1) The annual meeting and any special meetings of the members of the credit union must be held at the time, place, and in the manner indicated by the bylaws.

(2) At all meetings a member has only one vote, irrespective of the member's shareholdings. A member may not vote by proxy, but a member may vote by absentee ballot or mail ballot if the bylaws of the credit union so provide.

(3) A society, association, partnership, or corporation having membership in the credit union may be represented and have its vote cast by one of its members or shareholders, provided that the person has been fully authorized by the organization's governing body.

(4) The board of directors may establish a minimum age, not greater than 18 years of age, as a qualification of eligibility to vote at meetings of the members or to hold office, or both.

32-3-321. Liquidation. (1) A credit union may elect to dissolve voluntarily and liquidate its affairs in the manner prescribed in this section.

(2) The board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending the credit union be dissolved voluntarily and directing that the question of liquidation be submitted to the members.

(3) Within 14 days after the board of directors decides to submit the question of liquidation to the members, the presiding officer of the board shall notify the department of administration in writing, setting forth the reasons for the proposed action and a plan for liquidation. Within 14 days after the members act on the question of liquidation, the presiding officer of the board shall notify the department in writing as to whether or not the members approved the proposed liquidation.

(4) Depending on the credit union's circumstances, a proposed liquidation plan may or may not require the suspension of payment on shares, withdrawal of shares, transfer of shares to loans and interest, investments of any kind, loans, or other similar financial transactions. On approval of the proposal by the members, all business transactions must be permanently discontinued. Necessary expenses of operation must continue to be paid on authorization of the liquidating agent or committee during the period of liquidation.

(5) For a credit union to enter voluntary liquidation, approval by a majority of the members in writing or by a two-thirds majority of the members present at a regular or special meeting of the members is required. If authorization for liquidation is to be obtained at a meeting of the members, notice in writing must be given to each member at least 14 days prior to the meeting.

(6) If liquidation is approved, the board of directors shall appoint a liquidating agent or committee for the purpose of conserving and collecting assets, closing the affairs of the credit union, and distributing the assets as required by this chapter.

(7) A liquidating credit union shall continue in existence for the purpose of discharging its debts, collecting and distributing its assets, and doing all acts required in order to wind up its business. The liquidating credit union may sue and be sued for the purpose of enforcing debts and obligations until its affairs are fully adjusted.

(8) The liquidating agent or committee shall distribute the assets of the credit union or the proceeds of any disposition of the assets in the sequence described in 32-3-205(6).

(9) As soon as the liquidating agent or committee determines that all assets from which there is a reasonable expectancy of realization have been liquidated and distributed as set forth in this section, the liquidating agent or committee shall execute a certificate of dissolution on a form prescribed by the department. The form, together with all pertinent records of the liquidating credit union, must be filed with the department and the secretary of state. Upon filing with both entities, the credit union is dissolved.

(10) If the department determines that the liquidating agent or committee has failed to make reasonable progress in the liquidating of the credit union's affairs and distribution of its assets or has violated a provision of this chapter, the department may issue a cease and desist order against the liquidating agent or committee and appoint a new liquidating agent to complete the liquidation under the department's direction and control. The department shall fill any vacancy caused by the resignation, death, illness, removal, desertion, or incapacity to function of the liquidating agent.

32-3-322. Merger. (1) Any credit union may, with the approval of the department of administration, merge with another credit union under the existing charter of the other credit union, pursuant to any plan agreed upon by the majority of the board of directors of each credit union joining in the merger and approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the voting members of the merging credit union.

(2) After agreement by each board of directors and approval by the members of the merging credit union, the president and secretary of the credit union shall execute a certificate of merger, which must set forth all of the following:

(a) the time and place of the meeting of each board of directors at which the plan was agreed upon;

(b) the vote in favor of the adoption of the plan;

(c) a copy of the resolution or other action by which the plan was agreed upon;

(d) the time and place of the meeting of the members at which the plan agreed upon was approved; and

(e) the vote by which the plan was approved by the members.

(3) The certificate and a copy of the agreed-upon plan of merger must be forwarded to the department, certified by the department, and returned to both credit unions within 30 days. A copy of the certificate of merger, the certified plan, and the articles of merger must be filed with the secretary of state by the surviving credit union.

(4) Upon return of the certificate from the department, all property rights and members' interest of the merged credit union vest in the surviving credit union without deed, endorsement, or other instrument of transfer, and all debts, obligations, and liabilities of the merged credit union are considered to have been assumed by the surviving credit union under whose charter the merger was effected. The rights and privileges of the members of the merged credit union remain intact.

(5) This section must be construed, whenever possible, to permit a credit union chartered under any other law to merge with one chartered under this chapter or to permit one chartered under this chapter to merge with one chartered under any other law.

(1) The credit union must be directed by a board, consisting of an odd number of at least five directors, to be elected at the annual membership meeting by and from the members. All members of the board shall hold office for terms that the bylaws provide.

(2) The board of directors shall appoint a supervisory committee of at least three members during the organizational meeting. Subsequent appointments must be within 30 days after each annual meeting of the members for terms that the bylaws provide. The bylaws may provide that the board of directors of the credit union serves as the supervisory committee. The duties and powers of the supervisory committee must be established by the department of administration by rule.

(3) The bylaws must provide for either:

(a) a credit committee, to be either appointed by the board of directors or elected by the members; or

(b) a credit manager, to be appointed by the board of directors.

(4) If the bylaws provide for a credit committee, the committee must consist of an odd number of at least three members, who shall serve for terms that the bylaws provide. The bylaws must specify the number of members of the credit committee and the number of credit committee members needed for a quorum.

(2) Unless specifically prohibited by the bylaws, directors and members of the supervisory committee or credit committee may participate in and act at any meeting of the board or the supervisory or credit committee through the use of communications equipment that enables all persons participating in the meeting to communicate with each other. Participation in the meeting in this manner constitutes attendance.

(3) Unless specifically prohibited by the bylaws, any action required by this chapter to be taken at a meeting of the board of directors or a committee or any other action that may be taken at a meeting of the board of directors or a committee may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing setting forth the action taken is signed by all the directors of the board or the committee members entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter of the action taken. The written consents must be evidenced by one or more written approvals, each of which sets forth the action taken and bears the signature of one or more board directors or committee members. All the approvals evidencing the consent must be delivered to the secretary to be filed in the corporate records of the credit union. The action taken is effective when all the directors or committee members have approved the consent unless the consent specifies a different effective date. A consent signed by all the directors or committee members has the same effect as a unanimous vote and may be stated as a unanimous vote in any document filed with the department under this chapter.

32-3-422. Duties of directors — rulemaking. (1) General duties of directors include but are not limited to:

(a) acting in good faith, in a manner the directors reasonably believe to be in the best interests of the credit union's membership, with the care, including reasonable inquiry, that an ordinarily prudent director in a like position would exercise under similar circumstances;

(b) administering the affairs of the credit union fairly and impartially; and

(c) having, or achieving within 6 months after appointment or election, a working knowledge of:

(i) basic finance and accounting practices and principles, including the ability to read and understand the credit union's balance sheet and income statement and the ability to ask substantive questions of management and auditors commensurate with the size and complexity of the credit union's operations; and

(ii) the primary types of significant risks associated with credit union operations and a general knowledge of managing risks.

(2) Nondelegable duties of directors pertaining to the general direction and control of the credit union include:

(a) (i) determining the maximum number and classes of shares;

(ii) setting the par value of the shares of the credit union; and

(iii) limiting the number of shares that may be owned by a member, which must apply equally to all members;

(b) declaring dividends on shares in the manner and form provided in the bylaws;

(c) establishing a detailed written policy concerning interest refunds to members based on credit union income. The interest refunds must be in proportion to the interest paid by members on classes of loans during a fixed period that must coincide with the credit union's dividend period.

(d) approving an annual operating budget for the credit union;

(e) authorizing the employment of and fixing the compensation, if any, of the general manager;

(f) suspending or removing a member of the credit committee or supervisory committee for failure to perform duties. If the credit committee or supervisory committee is elected by the membership of the credit union under its bylaws and 32-3-403, the board of directors shall appoint a member to fill a vacancy created under this subsection (2)(f) to serve until election and qualification of the successor by the members at the next annual meeting of the membership or at a special meeting called for that purpose.

(g) borrowing money to carry on the functions of the credit union;

(h) fixing, from time to time, the maximum amount of credit that may be extended or the maximum amount that may be loaned to any one member within the limits of 32-3-603;

(i) lending money to members and establishing, by loan class or type of credit extension, a detailed written policy containing standards and conditions for approving credit applications, identifying acceptable loan purposes, establishing loan underwriting standards, and establishing maximum maturities, terms of repayment or amortization of loans, and standards pertaining to collections and charge-offs;

(j) approving the charge-off of credit union losses;

(k) terminating or suspending memberships and expelling members following a procedure that is fair and reasonable;

(l) designating persons or management positions authorized to execute or certify documents or records other than deposit account transactions on the credit union's behalf;

(m) designating a depository or depositories for the funds of the credit union and designating the persons or positions authorized to execute the credit union's deposit account transactions;

(n) authorizing the conveyance of property;

(o) appointing any special committees considered necessary;

(p) purchasing a blanket fidelity bond to protect the credit union against losses caused by occurrences covered by the bond such as fraud, dishonesty, forgery, theft, misappropriation, misapplication, or unfaithful performance of duty by a director, officer, employee, member of a duly appointed committee, or other agent of the credit union;

(q) performing other duties as the members occasionally direct; and

(r) performing or authorizing any action not inconsistent with this chapter and not specifically reserved by the bylaws for the members.

(3) A credit union's directors shall adopt written policies that include standards, conditions, and controls governing the following operational functions, any of which may be delegated to an appointed committee or qualified person to be executed consistent with the policies:

(a) acting on applications for membership and making a written record of the basis for each approval or denial of membership. The notification to an applicant of the decision made by an appointed membership committee or qualified person must include notice of the opportunity to appeal an adverse decision to the board of directors and must state the procedure and time period for commencing an appeal.

(b) investing surplus funds; and

(c) determining, from time to time, the interest rate or rates to be charged on loans and extensions of credit, consistent with credit union safety and soundness principles, by classes of loans, loan sizes, terms or maturities of loans, reference indexes, and other factors the board of directors considers appropriate.

(4) The department of administration may adopt rules necessary to implement this section.

Part 5
Shares and Accounts

32-3-501. Shares. (1) The capital of a credit union consists of the payments by the members on shares.

(2) Shares may be subscribed to, paid for, and transferred in a manner as the bylaws prescribe.

(3) A certificate need not be issued to denote ownership of a share in a credit union.

(4) This chapter does not restrict or prohibit the issuance of shares in any type of account described in Title 72, chapter 6, part 2. However, the party, the beneficiary, or the agent of an account may not vote, obtain loans, hold office, or be required to pay an entrance or membership fee unless the party, beneficiary, or agent is a member of the credit union.

32-3-505. Joint accounts. (1) A member may designate any person or persons to hold shares and thrift club accounts with the member in joint tenancy with the right of survivorship, as a tenant in common, or under any other form of multiple-party account ownership permitted by law and allowed by the credit union. A joint tenant, unless a member in the joint tenant's own right, may not be permitted to vote, obtain loans, or hold office or be required to pay an entrance or membership fee. If a credit union allows more than one joint owner to seek credit union membership through a joint account, the joint account must contain a membership share for each joint owner seeking membership.

(2) Payment of part or all of a joint account to any of the joint owners, to the extent of the payment, discharges the liability to all joint owners.

Corporate Credit Unions

32-3-801. Organization. A corporate credit union may be organized and operated under this chapter and is subject to all provisions not inconsistent with this part. The credit union shall use the term "corporate" in its official name.

History: En. 14-668 by Sec. 68, Ch. 38, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 14-668; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 66, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 43, Ch. 18, L. 1995.

32-3-802. Purpose — membership. (1) A corporate credit union must be operated primarily for the purpose of serving other credit unions.

(2) Membership in a corporate credit union must include credit unions organized and operating under this chapter or under any other credit union law.

(3) Membership may also include:

(a) officers, directors, committee members, and employees of credit unions; or

(b) organizations and associations of those persons or organizations enumerated in subsections (2) and (3)(a).

(4) The membership of a corporate credit union may not include more than seven natural persons as described in subsection (3)(a).

History: En. 14-669 by Sec. 69, Ch. 38, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 14-669; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 66, L. 1993.

32-3-803. Voting representative — conflict of interest. (1) Each credit union that is a member of a corporate credit union may designate one person to be its voting representative in the corporate credit union. The person must be designated by the board of directors of the member credit union. The voting representative is eligible to hold office in the corporate credit union as if the person were a member of the corporate credit union.

(2) (a) A director, committee member, officer, agent, or employee may not in any manner participate in the deliberation or determination of any question affecting that person's personal pecuniary interest.

(b) A director, officer, agent, or employee may not in any manner participate in the determination of any matter material in amount, as defined by rule by the department, affecting the pecuniary interest of any corporation, partnership, or association, other than the corporate credit union, in which that person has a direct or indirect interest, except for matters involving payment of dividends to the membership.

(3) The department shall adopt rules implementing this section in substantial conformance with Title 12, part 704, Code of Federal Regulations.

History: En. 14-670 by Sec. 70, Ch. 38, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 14-670; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 66, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 140, Ch. 42, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 365, L. 1997.

32-3-804. Additional rights and powers — department rules. (1) Except as limited by this part and rules adopted pursuant to this part, a corporate credit union has all of the rights and powers of any other credit union organized under this chapter and the additional rights and powers specified in this part.

(2) A corporate credit union may, as permitted by rules of the department, make loans to other credit unions and provide correspondent services and other financial services to other credit unions.

(3) A corporate credit union may, as permitted by rules of the department, invest in and grant loans to associations of credit unions, central funds of credit unions, or organizations chartered to provide service to credit unions.

(4) A corporate credit union may, as permitted by rules of the department, borrow and accept money from any source and issue notes or debentures.

(5) A corporate credit union may, as permitted by rules of the department, make reasonable and prudent investments.

(6) The department shall adopt rules governing corporate credit union loans, borrowing, investments, strategic planning, funds management, capital goals, and services. The rules must be in substantial conformance with Title 12, part 704, Code of Federal Regulations.

(7) A corporate credit union may issue membership capital accounts as provided in 32-3-805.

(8) A corporate credit union may issue paid-in capital and nonmember paid-in capital as provided in 32-3-810.

(9) A corporate credit union with corporate shareholdings equal to or in excess of 95% of its total assets may, by vote of its board of directors, elect exemption of insurance on share accounts under the provisions of Title II of the Federal Credit Union Act.

32-3-805. Membership capital accounts. (1) A corporate credit union may issue membership capital accounts to members that are available to cover losses that exceed reserves and undivided earnings and paid-in capital.

(2) (a) For purposes of this section, "membership capital account" means a share, deposit, term certificate, adjusted balance, or other account that:

(i) is established, at a minimum, as a 3-year notice account;

(ii) is limited to members;

(iii) is not subject to share insurance coverage by the national credit union share insurance fund or other deposit insurers; and

(iv) in the event of liquidation of the corporate credit union, is payable only after satisfaction of all liabilities of the liquidation estate, including uninsured obligations to shareholders and the national credit union share insurance fund.

(b) Upon written notice of intent to withdraw membership capital, the balance of the account will be frozen with no annual adjustment until the conclusion of the notice period, except in the case of a credit union that is placed into liquidation, is purchased and assumed, or is merged.

(c) Upon notification of intent to withdraw, the amount of the account on notice that may be considered membership capital is reduced by a constant monthly amortization that ensures that the recognition of membership capital is fully amortized at the end of the notice period.

(d) The full balance of a membership capital account that has been placed on notice, not just the remaining nonamortized portion, is available to absorb losses in excess of reserves and undivided earnings and of paid-in capital until the funds are released by the corporate credit union at the conclusion of the notice period.

(3) A membership capital account may not be used to pledge borrowings.

(4) Corporate credit unions that issue membership capital accounts shall disclose the terms and conditions of the account when it is opened and at least annually thereafter.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 66, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 365, L. 1997.

32-3-806. Fixed assets — department rules. (1) A corporate credit union may not invest in fixed assets if the aggregate of those investments would exceed 15% of capital, unless the credit union receives prior written approval from the department and the national credit union administration board.

(2) The department shall adopt rules for the administration of subsection (1) and for governing ownership of fixed assets by a corporate credit union. The rules must be in substantial conformance with Title 12, part 704, Code of Federal Regulations.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 66, L. 1993.

32-3-808. Annual audit. (1) The supervisory committee of a corporate credit union shall require an annual opinion audit to be made by an independent, licensed certified public accountant and shall submit the audit report to the board of directors. A summary of the audit report must be submitted to the membership at the next annual meeting.

(2) The auditor's workpapers must be made available for review by state and federal regulatory examiners during any examination conducted by the examiners.

(3) A copy of the audit report and reportable conditions letter, otherwise known as the management letter, must be submitted to the department and the national credit union administration within 30 days after receipt by the board of directors.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 66, L. 1993.

32-3-809. Contracts and written agreements. Services, facilities, personnel, or equipment shared with any party must be supported by a written contract or agreement that specifies the duties and responsibilities of each party and that fully supports and documents the allocation of service fees and expenses.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 66, L. 1993.

32-3-810. Paid-in capital defined — authorized. (1) "Paid-in capital" means accounts or other interests of a corporate credit union that:

(a) may not exceed reserves and undivided earnings;

(b) may include both member paid-in capital and nonmember paid-in capital;

(c) are available to cover losses that exceed reserves and undivided earnings;

(d) are not insured by the national credit union share insurance fund (NCUSIF) or other share or deposit insurers;

(e) are callable only at the option of the corporate credit union and only if the corporate credit union meets its minimum level of required capital after the funds are called; and

(f) in the event of liquidation of the corporate credit union, are payable only after satisfaction of all liabilities of the liquidation estate, including uninsured share obligations to the shareholders, the NCUSIF, and membership capital holders.

(2) (a) A corporate credit union may issue paid-in capital to its members.

(b) Member paid-in capital must have an initial maturity of 20 years.

(c) A corporate credit union may not condition membership, services or prices for services on a member's ownership of paid-in capital.

(d) When a paid-in capital instrument has a remaining maturity of 5 years, the amount of the instrument that may be considered paid-in capital for the purposes of this part is reduced by a constant monthly amortization that ensures the recognition of paid-in capital is fully amortized when the instrument has a remaining maturity of 3 years.

(e) The terms and conditions of any member paid-in capital instrument must be disclosed to the recorded owner of the instrument at the time the instrument is created and at least annually thereafter.

(3) A corporate credit union may issue nonmember paid-in capital accounts. However, the corporate credit union may only issue the accounts after approval by the department and the national credit union administration (NCUA), and following an evaluation by the NCUA of the strategic purpose and financial impact of issuing the accounts, the corporate credit union's financial condition and management capabilities, the maturity and capital amortization schedules of the paid-in capital instrument; and the participation, voting, acceleration, redemption, or other rights of the holder.

32-3-1003. Penalty for false statements or entries to books and records. (1) The department of administration may impose a fine not exceeding $50,000 on a director, an executive officer, an agent, or an employee of a credit union who willfully and knowingly:

(a) makes or subscribes a false statement of facts, statement of account, or report; or

(b) makes a false entry in the books of the credit union or knowingly subscribes or exhibits false papers with the intent to deceive a person authorized to examine the credit union.

(2) The fines must be deposited in the general fund.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 480, L. 2019.

32-3-1004. Penalty for fraud by director, executive officer, agent, or employee. (1) The department of administration may impose the penalty described in subsection (2) if a director, an executive officer, an agent, or an employee of a credit union:

(a) (i) knowingly receives or takes possession of any credit union property, except in payment for a just demand; and

(ii) with the intent to defraud fails to make or to cause or direct to be made a full and true entry of the receipt or possession in its books and accounts or concurs in failing to make a material entry in its books and account;

(b) knowingly concurs in making or publishing a written report, exhibit, or statement of its affairs or pecuniary condition containing any material statement that is false; or

(c) having the custody or control of the credit union's books, willfully refuses or neglects to make a proper entry in the credit union's books as required by law, to exhibit the books, or to allow the books to be inspected and allow extracts to be taken from the books by the department.

(2) An individual who is found guilty or pleads guilty to a charge under subsection (1) may be imprisoned in a state correctional facility for a term not exceeding 5 years or be fined by the department an amount not to exceed $10,000, or both.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 480, L. 2019.

32-3-1005. Theft of funds. (1) The following conditions are considered theft for which the offender, upon conviction, is to be imprisoned in a state correctional facility for a term not exceeding 20 years and fined by the department of administration an amount not to exceed $50,000:

(a) fraudulent appropriation, misapplication, or theft of the money, funds, credits, or property of a credit union, whether owned by the credit union or held in trust;

(b) fraudulent issuance or putting forth of a share certificate;

(c) fraudulent drawing of an order or bill of exchange;

(d) fraudulent acceptance or assignment of a note, bond, draft, bill of exchange, mortgage, judgment, or decree with intent to injure or defraud the credit union; or

(e) fraudulent attempt to deceive an officer of the credit union or anyone appointed to examine the affairs of the credit union.

(2) This section applies to a credit union director, officer, or employee or any person who with like intent aids or abets any individual listed under this subsection (2) in the actions listed in subsection (1).

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 480, L. 2019.

32-3-1006 and 32-3-1007 reserved.

32-3-1008. Concealing actions from directors. (1) An officer or employee of a credit union who intentionally conceals from the directors or a committee of the directors any of the actions under subsection (2) may be charged with a misdemeanor, and upon being found guilty or pleading guilty is subject for each offense to a term of not more than 12 months in the county jail or a fine by the department of administration of not more than $500, or both.

(2) The following actions intentionally concealed from the directors are violations of this chapter:

(a) providing a discount, an extension of credit, or a loan made on behalf of the credit union; or

(b) purchasing a security, selling any of the credit union's securities, or making any guarantee, repurchase agreement, or other agreement obligating the credit union.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 480, L. 2019.

32-3-1009. False statement to obtain or extend loan. An individual may be fined by the department of administration not more than $1,000 for each false statement made:

(1) to obtain for the individual or for another person, a firm, a corporation, or an association a loan of money from a credit union;

(2) to gain an extension of time for the payment of a debt owed to the credit union; or

(3) to extend credit to a customer.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 480, L. 2019.

32-3-1010 through 32-3-1012 reserved.

32-3-1013. Removal of directors, officers, employees — hearing. (1) A director, an officer, or an employee of a credit union who is found by the department of administration, after examination, to be negligent, dishonest, reckless, or incompetent or to have violated the provisions of this part must be removed from office by the supervisory committee of the credit union on the written order of the department.

(2) If the directors neglect or refuse to remove the director, officer, or employee and any losses accrue to the credit union by reason of the negligence, dishonesty, recklessness, or incompetency of the director, officer, or employee, the department's written order is conclusive evidence of the negligence of the directors' failure to act as required in subsection (1) in any action brought against the board of directors by a member of the credit union for recovery of losses.

(3) If the supervisory committee refuses to remove the director, officer, or employee on order of the department, the supervisory committee may file a request for hearing pursuant to the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

Part 2
Organization

32-4-201. Incorporators — general powers — capital stock — articles of incorporation. Nine or more persons, a majority of whom must be residents of this state, who desire to create a development corporation under the provisions of this chapter for the purpose of promoting, developing, and advancing the prosperity and economic welfare of the state and, to that end, to exercise the powers and privileges provided in this part may be incorporated in the following manner:

(1) The persons shall, by articles of incorporation filed in the manner prescribed in Title 35, set forth:

(a) the name of the corporation, which must include the words "Development Corporation of Montana";

(b) the location of the principal office of the corporation, but the corporation may have offices in other places within the state as fixed by the board of directors;

(c) the purposes for which the corporation is founded, which must include the following:

(i) to elect, appoint, and employ officers, agents, and employees;

(ii) to make contracts and incur liabilities for any of the purposes of the corporation, provided that the corporation may not incur any secondary liability by way of guaranty or endorsement of obligations of any person, firm, corporation, joint-stock company, association, or trust or in any other manner;

(iii) to borrow money from members, nonmember persons, firms, or corporations and state, federal, county, or municipal agencies or authorities for any of the purposes of the corporation;

(iv) to issue for the purposes of the corporation its bonds, debentures, convertible debentures, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness, whether secured or unsecured, and to secure the indebtedness by mortgage, pledge, deed of trust, or other lien on its property, franchises, rights, and privileges of every kind and nature or any part or interest in its property, franchises, rights, and privilege, without securing stockholder or member approval. However, a loan to the corporation may not be secured in any manner unless all outstanding loans to the corporation are secured equally and ratably in proportion to the unpaid balance of the loans and in the same manner.

(v) to make loans to any person, firm, corporation, joint-stock company, association, or trust and establish and regulate the terms and conditions with respect to any loans and the charges for interest and service connected with the loans. However, the corporation may not approve any application for a loan unless the person applying for the loan shows that the person has applied for the loan through ordinary banking channels and that the loan has been refused by at least one bank or other financial institution.

(vi) to participate with any authorized private lending agency or city, county, state, or federal governmental lending agencies in the making of loans;

(vii) to purchase, receive, hold, lease, or otherwise acquire, except by condemnation, and to sell, convey, transfer, lease, or otherwise dispose of real and personal property, together with rights and privileges that may be incidental and appurtenant to the property and the use of the property, including but not restricted to any real or personal property acquired by the corporation from time to time in the satisfaction of debts or enforcement of obligations;

(viii) to acquire the goodwill, business, rights, real and personal property, and other assets or any part or interest in the assets of any persons, firms, corporations, joint-stock companies, associations, or trusts and to assume, undertake, or pay the obligations, debts, and liabilities of any person, firm, corporation, joint-stock company, association, or trust;

(ix) to acquire improved or unimproved real estate for the purpose of constructing industrial plants or other business establishments or for the purpose of disposing of real estate to others for the construction of industrial plants or other business establishments;

(x) to acquire, construct or reconstruct, alter, repair, maintain, operate, sell, convey, transfer, lease, or otherwise dispose of industrial plants or business establishments;

(xi) to acquire, subscribe for, own, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of the stock, shares, bonds, debentures, notes, or other securities and evidences of interest in or indebtedness of any person, firm, corporation, joint-stock company, association, or trust and while the owner or holder of interest for indebtedness to exercise all the rights, powers, and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote;

(xii) to mortgage, pledge, or otherwise encumber any property, right, or thing of value, acquired pursuant to the powers contained in subsections (1)(c)(vii) through (1)(c)(xi), as security for the payment of any part of the purchase price of the property, right, or thing of value;

(xiii) to cooperate with and avail itself of the facilities of the department of commerce and any similar governmental agency and to cooperate with, assist, and otherwise encourage organizations in the various communities of the state in the promotion, assistance, and development of the business prosperity and economic welfare of the communities or of this state or of any part of the state;

(xiv) to accept gifts, donations, bequests, devises, or grants from any person, corporation, association, or governmental agency or authority, whether state, federal, county, or municipal;

(xv) to do all acts and things necessary or convenient to carry out the powers expressly granted in this chapter;

(d) the amount of total authorized capital stock and the number of shares in which it is divided, the par value of each share, the amount of capital stock with which it will commence business and, if there is more than one class of stock, a description of the different classes, and the names and post-office addresses of the subscribers of stock and the number of shares subscribed by each. The aggregate of the subscription must be the amount of capital with which the corporation will commence business.

(2) The articles of incorporation may also contain any provision consistent with the laws of this state for the regulation of the affairs of the corporation or creating, defining, limiting, and regulating its powers. The articles of incorporation must be in accordance with the provisions of Title 35, so far as they are consistent with this chapter.

Upon issuance of the certificate, the persons signing the articles, their associates, and their successors and assigns become a body politic and corporate, by the name specified in the articles of incorporation, subject to amendment and dissolution as provided in this chapter. The incorporators have the authority to and shall perform the acts and things as required by the provisions of this chapter, as set forth in 32-4-201.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 128, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 15-2604; amd. Sec. 1050, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

32-4-204. Effect of failure to commence business. If a corporation organized pursuant to this chapter shall fail to begin business within 5 years from the effective date of its articles of incorporation, then said articles shall become null and void.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 128, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 15-2616.

32-4-205. Amendment of articles of incorporation. (1) The articles of incorporation may be amended by vote of the stockholders of the corporation, and the amendments require approval by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the stockholders, provided:

(a) that an amendment that is inconsistent with the general purposes expressed in this chapter or that eliminates or curtails the obligation of the corporation to make reports as provided in 32-4-306 may not be made without amendment of this chapter; and

(b) that an amendment of the articles of incorporation that increases the obligation of a member to make loans to the corporation, makes any change in the principal amount, interest rate, maturity date, or in the security or credit position of any outstanding loan of a member to the corporation, or affects a member's right to withdraw from membership as provided in 32-4-303 may not be made without the consent of each member affected by the amendment.

(2) Within 30 days after any meeting at which amendment of the articles of incorporation has been adopted, articles of amendment signed and sworn to by the president, treasurer, and a majority of the directors, setting forth the amendment and the due adoption of the amendment, must so far as consistent with this chapter be submitted, as prescribed in Title 35, to the secretary of state who shall examine the articles. If the secretary of state finds that the articles conform to the requirements of this chapter, the secretary of state shall so certify and endorse approval on the amended articles. Upon certification and approval, the amended articles of incorporation must be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and an amendment may not take effect until the amended articles of incorporation have been filed as provided in this subsection.

32-4-206. Board of directors. (1) The business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed and conducted by a board of directors, a president and treasurer, and other officers and agents as the corporation by its bylaws shall authorize.

(2) The board of directors shall consist of a number, not less than nine, as determined in the first instance by the incorporators and thereafter annually by the stockholders of the corporation, provided that any state, county, or municipal agency or authority that has made a grant or loan to the corporation shall have at least one seat on the board of directors and additional seats representative of its proportional investment in the corporation.

(3) The directors need not be stockholders in the corporation.

(4) The board of directors may exercise all the powers of the corporation except as are conferred by law or by the bylaws of the corporation upon the stockholders and shall choose and appoint all the agents and officers of the corporation and fill all vacancies in the office of director.

(5) The board of directors shall be elected in the first instance by the incorporators and thereafter at each annual meeting of the corporation or, if no annual meeting is held in any year at the time fixed by the bylaws, at a special meeting held in lieu of the annual meeting. At each annual meeting or at each special meeting held in lieu of the annual meeting, the stockholders shall elect the directors. The directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of the corporation or special meeting held in lieu of the annual meeting after their election and until their successors are elected and qualified, unless sooner removed in accordance with the provisions of the bylaws.

(6) Directors and officers are not responsible for losses unless the losses were occasioned by the willful misconduct of the directors and officers.

32-4-207. First meeting of corporation. (1) The first meeting of the corporation shall be called by a notice signed by three or more of the incorporators, stating the time, place, and purpose of the meeting, a copy of which notice shall be mailed or delivered to each incorporator at least 5 days before the day appointed for the meeting. Said first meeting may be held without such notice upon agreement in writing to that effect signed by all the incorporators. There shall be recorded in the minutes of the meeting a copy of said notice or of such unanimous agreement of the incorporators.

(2) At such first meeting the incorporators shall organize by the choice by ballot of a temporary clerk, by the adoption of bylaws, by the election by ballot of directors, and by action upon such other matters within the powers of the corporation as the incorporators may see fit. The temporary clerk shall be sworn and shall make and attest a record of the proceedings. Five of the incorporators shall be a quorum for the transaction of business.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 128, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 15-2608.

32-4-208. Stock ownership and limitations. Notwithstanding any rule at common law or any provision of any general or special law or any provision in their respective charters, agreements of association, articles of organization, or trust indentures:

(1) all persons, domestic corporations organized for the purpose of carrying on business within this state, including without implied limitation any public utility companies and insurance and casualty companies and foreign corporations licensed to do business in the state, and trusts are hereby authorized to acquire, purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of any bonds, securities, or other evidences of indebtedness created by, or the shares of the capital stock of, the corporation and, while owners of said stock, to exercise all the rights, powers, and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote thereon, all without the approval of any regulatory authority of the state;

(2) all financial institutions are hereby authorized to become members of the corporation by making loans to the corporation as provided herein;

(3) a financial institution which does not become a member of the corporation shall not be permitted to acquire any share of the capital stock of the corporation;

(4) each financial institution which becomes a member of the corporation is hereby authorized to acquire, purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of any bonds, securities, or other evidences of indebtedness created by, or the shares of the capital stock of, the corporation and, while owners of said stock, to exercise all the rights, powers, and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote thereon, all without the approval of any regulatory authority of the state.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 128, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 15-2609; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 91, L. 1987.

Part 3
Operation and Regulation

32-4-301. Powers of stockholders. (1) The stockholders of the corporation have the following powers of the corporation:

(a) to determine the number of and elect directors as provided in 32-4-206;

(b) to make, amend, and repeal bylaws;

(c) to amend the articles of incorporation as provided in 32-4-205;

(d) to exercise other powers of the corporation as may be conferred on the stockholders by the bylaws.

(2) As to all matters requiring action by the stockholders of the corporation and except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the matters require the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes to which the stockholders present or represented at the meeting are entitled.

(3) Each stockholder has one vote, in person or by proxy, for each share of capital stock held by the stockholder.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 128, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 15-2607; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 91, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1052, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

32-4-302. Membership — limitation and apportionment of loans by members. Any financial institution may request membership in the corporation by making application to the board of directors on such form and in such manner as said board of directors may require, and membership shall become effective upon acceptance of such application by the board. The application for membership will specify the loan limit which shall be subject to call of the corporation, but in no case shall the amount so specified exceed the limit provided for in this chapter. Each member of the corporation shall make loans to the corporation as and when called upon by it to do so on such terms and other conditions as shall be approved from time to time by the board of directors, subject to the following conditions:

(1) All loan limits shall be established at the thousand-dollar amount nearest the amount computed in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(2) No loan to the corporation shall be made if immediately thereafter the total amount of the obligations of the corporation to its members would exceed 10 times the amount then paid in on the outstanding capital stock of the corporation.

(3) The total amount outstanding on loans to the corporation made by any member at any one time, when added to the amount of the investment in the capital stock of the corporation then held by such member, shall not exceed:

(a) 20% of the total amount then outstanding on loans to the corporation by all members, including in said total amount outstanding amounts validly called for loan but not yet loaned;

(b) the following limit, to be determined on the basis of the member's balance sheet at the close of its 1982 fiscal year and then redetermined periodically with the concurrence of the member:

(i) 3% of the capital and surplus of commercial banks and trust companies;

(ii) 1/4 of 1% of the total outstanding loans made by a building and loan association;

(iii) 2% of the capital and unassigned surplus of stock insurance companies; and

(iv) such comparable limits as may be approved by the board of directors of the corporation for other financial institutions.

(4) The board of directors, on the request of any financial institution applying for membership and with the approval of one-half of the members that are the same type of financial institution as the applicant, may authorize a different loan limit than that set forth in subsection (3)(b).

(5) Subject to subsection (3)(a) of this section, each call made by the corporation shall be prorated among the members of the corporation in substantially the same proportion that the adjusted loan limit of each member bears to the aggregate of the adjusted loan limits of all members. The adjusted loan limit of a member shall be the amount of such member's loan limit, reduced by the balance of outstanding loans made by such member to the corporation and the investment in capital stock of the corporation held by such member at the time of such call.

(6) All loans to the corporation by a member shall be evidenced by bonds, debentures, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness of the corporation, which shall be freely transferable at all times and which shall bear interest at a rate of not less than 1/4 of 1% in excess of the rate of interest determined by the board of directors to be the prime rate prevailing at the time.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 128, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 15-2610; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 320, L. 1983; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 90, L. 1985.

32-4-304. Surplus. Each year the corporation shall set apart as earned surplus not less than 10% of its net earnings for the preceding fiscal year until such surplus shall be equal in value to 50% of the amount paid in on the capital stock then outstanding. Whenever the amount of surplus established herein shall become impaired, it shall be built up again to the required amount in the manner provided for its original accumulation. Net earnings and surplus shall be determined by the board of directors, after providing for such reserves as said directors deem desirable, and the directors' determination made in good faith shall be conclusive on all persons.

32-4-305. Deposit of funds. (1) The corporation shall not deposit any of its funds in any banking institution unless such institution has been designated as a depository by a vote of a majority of the directors present at an authorized meeting of the board of directors, exclusive of any director who is an officer or director of the depository so designated.

(2) The corporation shall not receive money on deposit.

32-5-102. Definitions. For the purposes of this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Balloon payment" means any repayment option in which the borrower is required to repay the entire amount of any outstanding balance as of a specific date or at the end of a specified term and the aggregate amount of the required minimum periodic payments would not fully amortize the outstanding balance by the specific date or at the end of the loan term.

(2) (a) "Consumer loan" means credit offered or extended to an individual primarily for personal, family, or household purposes, including loans for personal, family, or household purposes that are not primarily secured by a mortgage, deed of trust, trust indenture, or other security interest in real estate.

(b) Consumer loans do not include:

(i) deferred deposit loans provided for in Title 31, chapter 1, part 7; or

(ii) residential mortgage loans as defined in 32-9-103.

(3) "Department" means the department of administration provided for in Title 2, chapter 15, part 10.

(4) "Interest" means the compensation allowed by this chapter for the use, forbearance, or detention of money.

(5) "License" means a license provided for by this chapter.

(6) "Licensee" means the person holding a license.

(7) "Person" means individuals, partnerships, associations, corporations, and all legal entities.

(2) A licensee may sell its business and assets to a bank, building and loan association, savings and loan association, trust company, credit union, credit association, development credit corporation, other licensee, financial holding company, or bank holding company organized pursuant to state or federal statutory authority and subject to supervision, control, or regulation by an agency of the state of Montana or an agency of the federal government. All contracts for loans and all other contracts entered into by the licensee pursuant to the provisions of this chapter that are sold and transferred to an acquiring organization continue to be governed by the provisions of this chapter.

(3) The provisions of subsection (1) apply to any person who seeks to evade its applications by any device, subterfuge, or pretense.

(4) Any loan made or collected in violation of subsection (1) by a person other than a licensee or a person exempt under subsection (5) is void, and the person does not have the right to collect, receive, or retain any principal, interest, fees, or other charges.

(5) The following are not required to comply with the provisions of this chapter:

(a) a bank, building and loan association, savings and loan association, trust company, or credit union; or

(b) a person who:

(i) makes fewer than four consumer loans a year with the person's own funds;

(ii) does not represent that the person is a licensee; and

(iii) complies with the provisions of Title 31, chapter 1, part 1.

Licensure Requirements

32-5-201. License and renewal application fees. (1) (a) Each place of business operated under this chapter must be licensed. Licenses are nontransferable and nonassignable. The same person may obtain an additional license for each business location upon compliance with this chapter.

(b) Applications for a license or renewal must be in the form and submitted in the manner prescribed by the department.

(c) A licensee may move the licensee's place of business from one place to another upon advance notice to the department in the manner the department directs.

(d) The license application fee and license renewal fee are $500 and are nonrefundable. The license year is the calendar year. All consumer loan licenses issued under this chapter expire on December 31.

(2) The department's share of all licensing and examination fees collected pursuant to this chapter must be deposited into the state special revenue fund for the use of the department in its supervision function.

(3) The department may direct that fees charged under subsection (1)(d) be remitted to the department through a nationwide licensing system.

32-5-202. Issuance or denial of license or license renewal. (1) Upon submission of a completed application and payment of all required fees, a license or renewal must be issued if the department determines that:

(a) the character and general fitness of the applicant warrant the belief that the business will be operated lawfully and fairly within the provisions of this chapter;

(b) the applicant has not had a financial services license revoked by a regulatory agency in any jurisdiction;

(c) there are no outstanding civil judgments against the applicant for fraud in relation to providing consumer financial services; and

(d) the application does not contain material misstatements of fact or material omissions of fact.

(2) The department may enter an order denying the license or license renewal application subject to issuance and service of notice and opportunity for an administrative hearing as provided in 32-5-207(2).

A licensee may conduct the business of making consumer loans under this chapter within any office, room, or place of business in which any other business for which a license under this chapter is not required is solicited or engaged in or in association or conjunction with the business. "Other business" may include making loans not primarily for personal, family, or household purposes, unless the department finds, after a hearing, that the other business is of a nature that the conduct tends to conceal evasion of this chapter or of the rules made under this chapter. If the department finds concealment or evasion, it shall order the licensee in writing to desist from the conduct.

32-5-207. Notice of violation — administrative hearing — penalties — liability. (1) If the department has probable cause to believe that a licensed or unlicensed person has violated this chapter, a rule promulgated under this chapter, or an order issued by the department or has made a material misrepresentation to the department by act or omission, the department may issue a notice stating the alleged violation to the person.

(2) (a) The notice referred to in subsection (1) must comply with 2-4-601 and must include a statement that the person has an opportunity to request an administrative hearing under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act within 14 days of the date that the department's notice was mailed to the person.

(b) The department's notice must be sent by certified mail to a licensee's address of record with the department or to an unlicensed person at an address for the person known to the department.

(c) The department has complied with the service of process upon mailing the notice by certified mail as provided in subsection (2)(b).

(3) If a person served with a notice under this section admits to or does not contest having violated or is found after an administrative hearing to have violated a provision of this chapter, a rule promulgated under this chapter, or an order issued by the department or to have made a material misrepresentation to the department by act or omission, the department may impose a civil penalty of not more than $1,000 for each violation and may order restitution to borrowers and reimbursement of the department's costs in bringing an administrative action. The department may suspend or revoke the right of a person or licensee, directly or through an officer, agent, employee, or representative, to operate as a licensee or to engage in the business of making consumer loans.

(4) The department's remedies specified in this chapter are cumulative.

(5) A revocation or suspension of a license does not relieve the licensee from civil, administrative, or criminal liability for acts committed prior to the revocation or suspension of the license.

(6) All civil penalties collected pursuant to this section must be deposited in the state general fund.

Part 3
Operation of Business — Restrictions and Requirements

32-5-301. Fees charged to consumers. (1) A licensee may contract for and receive interest on the principal amount of any loan. The interest, excluding the fees authorized in subsections (3) and (4), may not exceed 36% a year.

(2) The following third-party fees may be financed at the borrower's option and included in the principal amount of any loan:

(a) the actual fees paid to a public official or agency of the state for filing, recording, or releasing any instrument securing the loan;

(b) the premium for insurance in lieu of filing or recording any instrument securing the loan to the extent that the premium does not exceed the fees that would otherwise be payable for filing, recording, or releasing any instrument securing the loan;

(c) the premium for any credit insurance;

(d) bona fide fees or charges related to real estate security paid to third parties;

(e) fees or premiums for title examination, title insurance, or similar purposes, including survey;

(f) fees for preparation of a deed, settlement statement, or other documents;

(g) fees for notarizing deeds and other documents;

(h) appraisal fees;

(i) fees for credit reports; and

(j) fees paid to a trustee for release of a trust deed.

(3) (a) If provided for in the contract, a licensee may grant a deferral at any time. A deferral postpones the scheduled due date of the earliest unpaid installment and all subsequent installments as originally scheduled or as previously deferred for a period equal to the agreed-upon deferral period. The deferral period is that period during which an installment is not scheduled to be paid by reason of the deferral.

(b) A licensee may charge an additional fee for each deferral. The fee charged may be the greater of $15 or 5% of the amount currently due, not to exceed $50.

(c) Other fees may not be charged by the lender for any deferrals granted by the lender.

(4) If provided for in the contract, a licensee may charge a fee for any amount past due, whether as a result of a default under the original contract terms or of a default under the terms of an extension agreement. The fee charged may be the greater of $15 or 5% of the amount past due, not to exceed $50. The fee charged for any past-due amount may be charged only once. Other fees may not be charged for any default of the contract by the borrower.

(5) At the borrower's option, a licensee may finance and include in the principal amount of any loan a guaranteed asset protection waiver provided under the Guaranteed Asset Protection Waiver Act as provided in Title 30, chapter 14, part 22.

(6) (a) No other fees or charges may be directly or indirectly contracted for or received by any licensee except those specifically authorized by this chapter. A licensee may not divide into separate parts any contract made for the purpose of or with the effect of obtaining fees in excess of those authorized by this chapter. In addition to other remedies and penalties provided for in this chapter, if any amount in excess of the fees permitted by this chapter is charged, contracted for, or received, the licensee shall forfeit to the borrower a sum that is double the amount that is in excess of the fees authorized by this chapter.

(b) This section does not apply to fees for services rendered in connection with a loan after the loan has been consummated and if the borrower's participation in the services is strictly voluntary.

32-5-302. Installment and balloon payments. (1) Except as provided in subsection (4), if the loan contract requires installment payments, the contract must provide that principal and interest be payable at approximately equal periodic intervals, except that payment dates may be omitted to accommodate borrowers with seasonal incomes.

(2) An installment contracted for may not be substantially larger than any preceding installment. If a loan contract provides for monthly installment payments, the first installment must be payable at any time within 45 days of the date of the making of the loan.

(3) A licensee may not enter into any loan contract in which a borrower agrees to pay principal or interest in one lump sum unless the payment is due not less than 45 days from the date of the making of the loan and not more than 1 year from the date of the making of the loan.

(4) Loans with a balloon payment are permissible so long as all installment payments cover at least the interest that has accrued since the previous installment payment.

32-5-303. Borrower to receive copy of contract or statement of contents. (1) At the time a loan is made, there must be delivered to the borrower or borrowers the disclosures required by the federal Consumer Credit Protection Act and the federal Truth in Lending Act, 15 U.S.C. 1601, et seq., and a copy of the loan contract or a written statement showing in clear and distinct terms:

(a) the name and address of the lender and of one of the borrowers or a maker of the loan;

(b) the date of the loan contract;

(c) the description or schedule of payments;

(d) the principal amount of the loan excluding interest;

(e) the rate and amount of interest as provided in the contract;

(f) the amount collected or paid out for each kind of insurance, if any;

(g) the amount collected or paid out for filing and other fees as allowed in this chapter;

(h) the collateral or security for the loan including all other accommodation or other joint makers or comakers; and

(i) that the borrower may prepay the loan in whole or in part without penalty at any time during a licensee's regular business hours.

(2) Compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Truth in Lending Act, 15 U.S.C. 1601, et seq., does not constitute authorization to enlarge or modify the interest or the fees that may be charged under 32-5-301.

32-5-304. Receipts — return of note. Every licensee shall:

(1) give to the borrower a plain, dated, and complete receipt for every payment made in cash on account of any loan at the time the payment is made;

(2) endorse indelibly on a loan ledger or card or maintain a record by reliable electronic means of the amount and date of each payment made by the borrower; and

(3) upon repayment of the loan in full, mark indelibly every obligation and security signed by the borrower with the word "paid" or "canceled" or otherwise memorialize satisfaction of the obligation and release any mortgage, restore any pledge, and cancel and return to the borrower any note and any assignment given to the licensee within 10 days after the repayment. Reconveyance of a deed of trust must be in accordance with 71-1-307 through 71-1-309. The canceled note and canceled assignment or other instrument clearly identifying the note or assignment and stating that it has been paid in full must be mailed to the borrower at the borrower's last-known address unless returned to the borrower in person.

(4) maintain records in accordance with 32-5-307.

32-5-305. Confessions of judgment — incomplete instruments forbidden. A licensee may not:

(1) take any confession of judgment from the borrower or any power of attorney running to the licensee or to any third person to confess judgment for the borrower or to appear for the borrower in a judicial proceeding, except that this subsection does not prohibit a borrower from personally and voluntarily confessing judgment after the borrower's loan is in default;

(2) take any note or promise to pay that does not disclose the amount of the loan, a schedule of payments or a description of the schedule of payments, and the agreed interest and fees to be charged. The note or promise may not contain blanks that are left to be filled in after execution. The disclosures required by this subsection are not required on a certificate of title to a motor vehicle, on a policy or certificate of insurance, or on customary powers in connection with bonds or stocks that may be pledged as collateral.

(3) take any instrument in which blanks are left to be filled in after the loan is made.

32-5-306. Insurance — real property security — definitions. (1) Except as provided in this section, insurance may not be written by a licensee or employee, affiliate, or associate of the licensee in connection with any loan.

(2) Insurance permitted under the provisions of this section must be obtained through an insurance company authorized to conduct business in Montana by a licensed insurance producer or agency of this state. Premiums may not exceed those fixed by law or current applicable manual rates. Insurance written as authorized by this section may contain a mortgagee clause or other appropriate provisions to protect the insurable interest of the licensee.

(3) (a) When the principal amount of the loan exceeds $300 exclusive of the portion of the loan attributable to insurance premiums and fees, the licensee may require a borrower to insure property offered as security against any substantial risk of loss, damage, or destruction for an amount not to exceed the reasonable value of the property insured or the amount of the loan, whichever is smaller, and for the customary term approximating the term of the loan contract. It is optional with the borrower to obtain insurance in an amount greater than the amount of the loan or for a longer term.

(b) A lender may not require a borrower, as a condition of obtaining or maintaining a loan secured by real property, to provide insurance on improvements to real property in an amount that exceeds the reasonable replacement value of the improvements.

(4) Subject to the laws of this state, credit life insurance, credit disability insurance, and loss of income insurance may be provided at the expense of the borrower and may be provided by a licensee upon the request of the borrower when the principal amount of the loan exceeds $300, exclusive of the portion of the loan attributable to insurance premiums and fees.

(5) The insurance authorized by this section may be sold, obtained, or provided by or through a licensee, and the premium or identifiable fee for the insurance may be included in the principal amount of the loan. However, a licensee may not require a borrower to purchase insurance from the licensee or from any particular insurance producer, broker, or insurance company as a condition precedent for obtaining a loan. Any gain or advantage to the licensee or any employee, affiliate, or associate of the licensee from the sale, provision, or obtaining of insurance as authorized by this section may not be considered to be a violation of this chapter.

(6) A licensee may not require insurance under this section until any existing insurance of the same type has expired or has been canceled.

(7) As used in this section:

(a) "borrower" means a mortgagor, grantor of a deed of trust, or other debtor;

(b) "improvement to real property" means a fixture, building, or other structure attached to real property and intended as a permanent addition to the real property; and

(c) "lender" means a mortgagee, beneficiary of a deed of trust, or other creditor who holds a mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument that encumbers real property as security for the repayment of a debt.

(1) Subject to the limitations in subsection (2), wage assignments, which include salary, wages, commissions, and other compensation for services, are permitted and any loan made subject to a wage assignment must be considered a loan secured by the wage assignment. The amount by which the assignment exceeds the amount of the consideration actually paid, for the purposes of regulation under this chapter, may not be considered interest on the loan and must be credited to the borrower. Transactions subject to the provisions of this section are governed by and are subject to the provisions of this chapter.

(2) Any assignment to a licensee or for the benefit of a licensee of salary, wages, commissions, or other compensation for services may not exceed 10% of the salary, wages, commissions, or other compensation owing at the time of the notice to the debtor's employer or that is subsequently owed. An assignment is not valid unless it is in writing and is signed in person by the borrower or if the borrower is married is signed in person by both husband and wife, provided that written assent of a spouse is not required when husband and wife have been and are living separate and apart when the assignment is made. Notice of the assignment must be given to the debtor's employer only if the debtor defaults in payment of the whole or some part of the loan for which the assignment is security. The notice must be served on the employer or a managing agent of the employer, must be verified by the licensee or the licensee's agent, and must include:

(a) a correct copy of the assignment;

(b) a statement of the amount of the loan and the amount due and unpaid; and

(c) a copy of this section.

(3) The acceptance and honoring of any assignment must be at the option of the employer.

Part 4
Enforcement

32-5-401. Department — powers and duties — adoption of rules. (1) All powers and duties of regulation and supervision conferred by this chapter are vested in the department. The department shall adopt rules necessary to carry out the intent and purposes of this chapter.

(2) All rules adopted under this chapter are binding on all persons and enforceable by the department as provided in this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 283, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 111, Ch. 431, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 47-203; amd. Sec. 15, Ch. 372, L. 2007.

32-5-402. Investigations by department — subpoenas — oaths — examination of witnesses and evidence. (1) The department may at any time investigate any transaction with borrowers and may examine the books, accounts, and records to discover violations of this chapter by:

(a) a licensee; or

(b) a person who the department has reason to believe is violating or is about to violate this chapter.

(2) The department or the department's authorized representatives must be given free access to the offices and places of business and files of all licensees. The department may investigate any matter, upon complaint or otherwise, if it appears that a person has engaged in or offered to engage in any act or practice that is in violation of any provision of this chapter or any rule adopted or order issued by the department pursuant to this chapter.

(3) The department may issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents, papers, books, records, and other evidence before it in any matter over which it has jurisdiction, control, or supervision pertaining to this chapter. The department may administer oaths and affirmations to a person whose testimony is required.

(4) If a person refuses to obey a subpoena or to give testimony or produce evidence as required by the subpoena, a judge of the district court in the county in which the licensed premises are located or in the district court of Lewis and Clark County if no licensed premises are maintained in the state may, upon application and proof of the refusal, issue a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum for the witness to appear before the department to give testimony and produce evidence as may be required. The clerk of court shall then issue the subpoena, as directed, under the seal of the court, requiring the person to whom it is directed to appear at the time and place designated in the subpoena.

(5) If a person served with a subpoena refuses to obey the subpoena or to give testimony or produce evidence as required by the subpoena, the department may proceed under the contempt provisions of Title 3, chapter 1, part 5.

(6) Failure to comply with the requirements of a court-ordered subpoena is punishable pursuant to 45-7-309.

32-5-403. Examinations — cost. (1) The department may examine the books, accounts, and records of every licensee insofar as they relate to transactions with borrowers under this chapter.

(2) The expenses of the department incurred in the examination of the books, accounts, and records of the licensees must be charged at a rate established by the department by rule. The amount charged must be established to recover all of the costs of the department's supervision program. Each licensee must be billed by the department for the amount charged to the licensee pursuant to this section. If the charge is not paid within 30 days after the mailing of the bill, the license of the licensee may be suspended or revoked.

32-5-405. Injunctions — receivers. (1) Whenever the department has reasonable cause to believe that a person is violating or is threatening to violate any provision of this chapter, the department may, in addition to all actions provided for in this chapter and without prejudice to those actions, bring an action in the name of the state against the person to restrain by temporary or permanent injunction or temporary restraining order the use of the unlawful method, act, or practice.

(2) The notice for an action pursuant to subsection (1) must state generally the relief sought and must be served at least 20 days before the hearing of the action in which the relief sought is a temporary or permanent injunction. The notice for a temporary restraining order is governed by 27-19-315.

(3) An action under this section may be brought in the district court in the county in which a person resides or has the person's principal place of business or in the district court of Lewis and Clark County if the person is not a resident of this state or does not maintain a place of business in this state.

(4) A district court may issue temporary or permanent injunctions or temporary restraining orders to restrain and prevent violations of this chapter, and an injunction must be issued without bond to the department.

(5) In addition to all other means provided by law for the enforcement of a restraining order or injunction, the court in which the action is brought may impound and appoint a receiver for the property and business of the defendant, including books, papers, documents, and records pertaining to the property or business or as much of the property or business as the court considers reasonably necessary to prevent violations of this chapter. The receiver, when appointed and qualified, has the powers and duties as to custody, collection, administration, winding up, and liquidation of the property and business that are conferred upon the receiver by the court.

32-5-408. Cease and desist orders. (1) If the department determines that a person has engaged in or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of any provision of this chapter or any rule adopted or order issued by the department pursuant to this chapter, the department may issue an order directing the person to cease and desist from continuing the act or practice after issuance and service of a notice and opportunity for an administrative hearing as provided in 32-5-207. The order may apply only to the alleged act or practice constituting a violation of this chapter.

(2) The department may issue a temporary order pending the hearing that:

(a) remains in effect until 14 days after the hearings examiner issues proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law and a proposed order; or

(b) becomes final if the person to whom notice is issued and served does not request a hearing within 14 days after the date on which the notice was sent by certified mail as provided in 32-5-207.

(3) A violation of an order issued pursuant to this section is subject to the penalty provisions of this chapter.

32-6-101. Short title. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Montana Electronic Funds Transfer Act".

History: En. 5-1701 by Sec. 1, Ch. 503, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 5-1701.

32-6-102. Electronic funds transfer systems — applicability. (1) The legislature has determined that electronic funds transfer systems are technologies offered by all types of financial depository institutions. These technologies provide the consumer with both convenience and efficiency in making financial transactions. Regulation E of the federal Electronic Fund

Transfer Act, 15 U.S.C. 1693, et seq., addresses many of the consumer issues relating to these systems. This chapter applies to financial institutions chartered under the United States Code or Title 32, chapter 1, parts 1 through 5, to the extent that those laws permit.

(2) Financial institutions that are subject to and in compliance with Regulation E of the federal Electronic Fund Transfer Act must be considered to be in compliance with the provisions of this chapter.

32-6-103. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Customer", in relation to a financial institution, means a holder of a demand or time account or a membership share in the institution or a person who is a borrower or a mortgagor; in relation to a merchant, it means a purchaser of goods or services.

(2) "Department" means the department of administration.

(3) (a) "Electronic funds transfer" means any transfer of funds, other than a transaction originated by check, draft, or similar paper instrument that is initiated through an electronic terminal, telephone, computer, or magnetic tape for the purpose of ordering, instructing, or authorizing a financial institution to debit or credit an account. The term includes but is not limited to point-of-sale transfers, automated teller machine transfers, interactive teller machine transfers, direct deposits or withdrawals of funds, and transfers initiated by telephone. It also includes a transfer resulting from a debit card transaction, including a transaction that does not involve an electronic terminal at the time of the transaction.

(b) The term does not include payments made by check, draft, or similar paper instrument at an electronic terminal.

(4) "Electronic terminal" means an electronic device, other than a telephone operated by a consumer, through which a consumer may initiate an electronic funds transfer. The term includes but is not limited to point-of-sale terminals, automated teller machines, interactive teller machines, and cash dispensing machines.

(5) "Financial institution" means a bank chartered under chapter 1 of this title, a bank chartered under the National Banking Acts in Title 12 of the United States Code, a building and loan association chartered under chapter 2 of this title, a savings and loan association chartered under the Home Owners' Loan Act in Title 12 of the United States Code, a credit union chartered under chapter 3 of this title, or a credit union chartered under the Federal Credit Union Act in Title 12 of the United States Code. For purposes of this chapter only, a consumer loan company licensed under chapter 5 is considered a financial institution.

(6) "Merchant" means a natural person, corporation, partnership, or association engaged in buying and selling goods or services, except that a financial institution is not a merchant.

(7) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business organization.

(8) "Premises" means those locations where, by applicable law, financial institutions are authorized to maintain a principal place of business and other offices for the conduct of their respective businesses.

(9) (a) "Satellite terminal" means any machine or device that is located off the premises of a financial institution and that a financial institution or its customers may use to carry out electronic funds transfers.

(b) The term includes:

(i) an automated teller machine, which means a satellite terminal to make electronic funds transfers, that is located off the premises of financial institutions, operated by customers of financial institutions without assistance, and activated by a unique identification device and personal identification number;

(ii) an interactive teller machine as defined in 32-1-109; and

(iii) a point-of-sale terminal, which means a satellite terminal located on the premises of a merchant, operated by a customer, a merchant, or the merchant's employees solely to debit or credit a customer's deposit or share account in a financial institution and solely to credit or debit the merchant's account commensurately for transactions in goods or services. A point-of-sale terminal need not be activated by a unique personal identification device. A merchant has the option, if the necessary computer capability exists at a reasonable cost, of selling goods or services by point-of-sale terminals with the electronic funds transfer taking effect at the time of the transaction or at a stated time after the transaction.

(c) The definition of satellite terminal does not include and nothing in this chapter may be construed to apply to:

(i) an automated teller machine or interactive teller machine located on the premises of a financial institution;

(ii) an automated clearinghouse or any equivalent system designed to transfer funds between financial institutions; or

(iii) a point-of-sale terminal that is used by a merchant in the merchant's business only and does not provide access to a financial institution.

(10) "Unique identification device" means a magnetic encoded plastic card or equivalent device that contains either a number or a dollar balance, or both, that is unique to a customer and that is issued by a financial institution, merchant, or other person.

32-6-104. Consumer information — charge for use of electronic terminal. (1) A financial institution or its affiliate engaging in electronic funds transfers with its customers shall, prior to authorizing a customer to make electronic funds transfers, provide the customer with an itemized statement clearly setting forth, without limitation:

(a) the specific transactions that may be performed through satellite terminals;

(b) the charges, if any, for individual transactions made through a satellite terminal;

(c) minimum balance requirements, if any;

(d) the liability of the various parties for unauthorized transactions made by electronic funds transfer, with special emphasis upon the liability when the customer makes a personal identification number readily available for discovery in connection with theft or loss of the unique identification device and upon the importance of immediate notification to the institution of theft or loss;

(e) the legal status of receipts issued from a satellite terminal;

(f) the right of the customer to a description of transactions performed by satellite terminal on any periodic statement of account furnished the customer;

(g) the right of the customer to seek correction of an error that the customer believes has been made in the customer's account by electronic funds transfer;

(h) instructions in maintaining customer records and reconciling balances and in the importance of retaining receipts of electronic funds transfers; and

(i) the economic significance of having no "float" time and no stop-payment authority.

(2) The customer shall sign a statement acknowledging acceptance of these terms and conditions and give the statement to the financial institution. A copy of the statement, countersigned by an officer of the financial institution, must be provided to the customer. In addition, the information set forth in subsection (1)(d) must be specifically acknowledged by the customer. The customer shall verify acknowledgment by signing the customer's initials immediately adjacent to the information provided.

(3) (a) The owner of an electronic terminal may impose a surcharge for the use of its electronic terminal. The owner of an electronic terminal that elects to impose a surcharge for the use of its electronic terminal shall clearly advise the user of the electronic terminal, by a conspicuous disclosure on the terminal or through a message displayed on the electronic terminal screen, of the exact amount of the surcharge. The user must then be provided the option either to cancel the transaction, without incurring the surcharge, or to complete the transaction subject to the surcharge.

(b) An agreement by a financial institution to share or operate electronic terminals may not prohibit, limit, or restrict the right of the financial institution to charge a customer any fees allowed by state or federal law or to require a financial institution to waive any other rights or obligations it has under the laws of this state.

(4) A merchant or person other than a financial institution that issues a unique identification device to its customers for use at a point-of-sale terminal and that provides to the holders of the unique identification device a disclosure that satisfies the initial disclosures of terms and conditions under Regulation E of the federal Electronic Fund Transfer Act is considered to be in compliance with the disclosure requirements of this section.

32-6-105. Protection of privacy. (1) No information relating to any transaction by electronic funds transfer, or application therefor, between a financial institution and its customer or prospective customer may be disclosed by the financial institution to any person or government entity without:

(a) the consent of the customer; or

(b) a subpoena issued by a court of record directing the financial institution to disclose such information to the person or government entity.

(2) Compliance with such subpoena relieves a financial institution and its employees of liability to a customer or other person for such disclosure.

(3) This section does not prevent:

(a) the examination of financial institutions by duly authorized regulatory authority or the transfer of information by a financial institution to a clearinghouse which administers transactions between financial institutions; or

(b) the access by a party to a transaction to information relating to a specific transaction.

32-6-106. Unauthorized disclosure of electronic funds transfer records. (1) A person commits the offense of unauthorized disclosure of electronic funds transfer records if the person has lawful access to the records by virtue of office or employment and:

(a) permits another, who lacks lawful access to the records, to inspect, copy, or read the records; or

(b) transfers the records to another who lacks lawful access to the records.

(2) A person convicted of the offense of unauthorized disclosure of electronic funds transfer records shall be imprisoned in the state prison for any term not to exceed 1 year, be fined not more than $5,000, or be punished by both imprisonment and fine.

32-6-301. Records of electronic funds transfers. (1) A satellite terminal must be operated to produce a humanly readable record of any transaction and to provide a copy of this record to the person initiating the transaction as soon as the transaction is complete.

(2) The receipt provided to the person initiating an electronic funds transfer is admissible as evidence in any legal proceeding and constitutes prima facie proof of the transaction that it records.

(3) (a) A financial institution shall provide each of its customers using electronic funds transfer services with a periodic account statement containing a brief description of all electronic funds transfers sufficient to enable the customer to identify any transaction and relate the transaction to the receipt provided under subsection (1).

(b) The periodic account statement description of automated teller machine transactions must include a specific geographic location where each transaction occurred.

(c) When a periodic account statement includes both electronic funds transfers and other transactions, all electronic funds transfers must be identified as such and be furnished in compliance with this subsection (3).

32-6-302. Verification of statement — procedure for discrepancies. (1) If, upon receipt of a periodic statement of account, a customer of a financial institution believes the statement contains an error with respect to an electronic funds transfer, the customer shall notify the institution within 60 days after the day the institution delivered the statement. In this notification, the customer must be identified and shall set forth the foundation of the customer's belief regarding the error.

(2) Within 10 days after a customer has notified a financial institution of a possible error under subsection (1), the institution shall either:

(a) correct the account in question, giving the customer a description of the correction and if the correction is not in the exact amount of the alleged error, the description must explain the difference; or

(b) after investigating the matter, give the customer an explanation of the reasons the institution believes the statement to be correct. If requested in writing by the customer, a written explanation, documented by the institution's record of the transaction in question, must be furnished to the customer.

(3) A financial institution receiving notice under subsection (1) may not close the account concerning which the dispute exists or restrict transactions in the account affecting the portion not in dispute until it complies with subsection (2). A financial institution that has once complied with subsection (2) with respect to an alleged error is not required to respond under subsection (2) to repeated allegations of the same error.

32-6-303. Unauthorized transactions — liability. (1) A customer whose account is debited by an electronic funds transfer without the customer's authorization is not liable for the amount of the transaction, and the amount must be recredited to the customer's account as provided under 32-6-302 unless:

(a) the financial institution has provided the customer with a unique identification device for initiating electronic funds transfer requests and transactions are made as a result of the theft or loss of that device, in which case the customer is liable for the first $50 of any consequent transactions made prior to the time the financial institution is notified of the loss or theft; or

(b) the financial institution has provided the customer with a unique identification device for initiating, in conjunction with a personal identification number separate from the device, electronic funds transfer requests and the customer attaches the personal identification number to the device by writing or otherwise or in any way makes the number readily available for discovery in connection with the theft or loss of the device and transactions are made as a result of the theft or loss of the device, in which case the customer is liable for one-half the value of all consequent transactions made until the financial institution is notified of the theft or loss.

(2) A customer who willingly gives the customer's unique identification device and personal identification number to another is presumed to have authorized any electronic funds transfers requested by the other person.

(3) A merchant who makes electronic funds transfer services available on the merchant's premises is liable for the amount of an unauthorized electronic funds transfer requested from the premises only if the merchant:

(a) or the merchant's agent is negligent in requiring a user of electronic funds transfer services to furnish adequate self-identification;

(b) fails to retain a physical record of the transaction for 1 year following the transaction; or

(c) breaches the warranty required by subsection (4).

(4) A merchant operating a point-of-sale terminal shall warrant to the financial institution or the department that an order for an electronic funds transfer emanating from the terminal is part of a commercial transaction in which the customer receives goods or services of commensurate value.

(5) The liability for any unauthorized or erroneous electronic funds transfer that does not fall upon a customer or a merchant under this section falls upon the financial institution that carries out the transfer.

Part 1
Regulation of Escrow Businesses

32-7-101. Title and purpose. (1) This part must be known and may be cited as the "Regulation of Escrow Businesses Act".

(2) It is the intent of the legislature that the escrow industry be supervised and regulated by the department of administration in order to protect the citizens of the state and to provide that the business practices of the escrow industry are fair and orderly among the members of the escrow industry, with due regard to the ultimate consumers in this important area of property protection.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 651, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 102, Ch. 483, L. 2001.

32-7-102. Definitions. As used in this part, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Department" means the department of administration as provided for in Title 2, chapter 15, part 10.

(2) "Escrow" means any transaction in which one person, for the purpose of effecting the sale, transfer, encumbrance, or lease of real or personal property to another person or for the purpose of making payments under any encumbrance of the property, delivers any written instrument, money, evidence, title to real or personal property, or other thing of value to a third person to be held by that third person until the happening of a specified event or the performance of a prescribed condition, when the instrument, money, evidence, title, or thing of value is to be delivered by the third person to a grantee, grantor, promisee, promisor, obligee, obligor, bailee, or bailor or to any agents or employees pursuant to the written escrow instructions.

(3) "Escrow business" means a commercial activity characterized by the regular and continuous carrying on of escrow transactions.

(4) "Licensee" means a person holding a valid license under this part as an escrow business.

(5) "Person" means an individual, cooperative, association, company, firm, partnership, corporation, or other legal entity.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 651, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 103, Ch. 483, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 216, L. 2013.

32-7-103. Exemptions. (1) The provisions of this part do not apply to the following:

(a) a person licensed by this state pursuant to Title 37, chapter 61, as an attorney at law who is not actively engaged in the escrow business;

(b) a person licensed by this state pursuant to Title 37, chapter 50, as a public accountant who is not actively engaged in the escrow business;

(c) a person whose principal business is that of preparing abstracts or making searches of title that are used as a basis for the issuance of any title insurance policy by a company doing business under the laws of this state relating to insurance companies and the person is regulated by the commissioner of insurance;

(d) a person licensed pursuant to Title 32, chapter 9, part 1, as a mortgage broker, mortgage lender, or mortgage servicer, except that a licensed mortgage broker, mortgage lender, or mortgage servicer that provides escrow services in relation to contracts, agreements, or transactions besides residential mortgage loan agreements also must be licensed under this part as an escrow business;

(e) a financial institution, as defined in 32-6-103, that has its escrow accounts regularly audited or examined. The financial institution shall supply a copy of the most recently prepared audit or examination to the department upon the department's request.

(f) except as provided in subsection (2), any broker licensed by the Montana board of realty regulation if the broker is performing an act in the course of or incidental to a single real estate transaction for which a real estate license is required;

(g) any person furnishing escrow services under the order of a court; and

(h) a loan closer if the loan closer:

(i) is employed by an exempt financial institution; or

(ii) is an independent contractor acting only as a courier and who does not take possession of the funds for deposit or subsequent disbursement.

(2) A trust account of a broker licensed by the Montana board of realty regulation is not an escrow account within the meaning of this part.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 651, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 1057, Ch. 56, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 317, L. 2011; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 216, L. 2013.

32-7-104. Exemption or exception — burden of proof. In any proceeding under this part, the burden of proving an exemption or exception from a definition is upon the person claiming it.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 651, L. 1989.

32-7-105 through 32-7-107 reserved.

32-7-108. Department — powers and duties. (1) The department shall exercise general supervision and control over persons doing escrow business in this state.

(2) In addition to the other duties imposed upon the department by law, the department shall:

(a) adopt reasonable rules necessary to effectuate the purposes of this part;

(b) conduct examinations and investigations that may be necessary to determine whether a person has engaged or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of any provisions of this part;

(c) conduct examinations, investigations, and hearings necessary and proper for the efficient administration of this part; and

(d) establish fees commensurate with the costs of issuing the license and examining an escrow business.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 651, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 1058, Ch. 56, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 216, L. 2013.

Cross-References

Rule defined, 2-4-102.
Adoption and publication of rules, Title 2, ch. 4, part 3.

32-7-109. Application for license — bond — issuance. (1) A person must be licensed pursuant to this part before engaging in an escrow business.

(2) An application for a license must be in the form and submitted in the manner prescribed by the department.

(3) At the time of submitting an application for a license, the applicant shall file with the department a bond in an amount to be set by the department by rule. The bond must be issued by a surety company holding a certificate of authority from the Montana state auditor. The bond must be conditioned on the applicant conducting the escrow business in accordance with the requirements of law. All bonds must be renewed annually.

(4) The department shall grant and issue an escrow business license if:

(a) the department has received the bond and application; and

(b) the applicant has complied with all the application requirements of this part, including any protocols of a nationwide licensing system in which the department participates, and any rules promulgated under this part.

(5) An escrow business shall immediately notify the department of any material change in the information contained in the application.

32-7-110. Fees. (1) (a) An applicant for licensure shall pay an initial license fee of $350. The annual license renewal fee is $100. The department may direct that fees charged by the department under this section be remitted to the department through a nationwide licensing system as provided in 32-7-112.

(b) The license year for an escrow business license is January 1 through December 31 and all licenses expire annually on December 31.

(c) A licensee may be charged an examination fee based on the actual costs of the examination.

(2) The department's portion of license fees and all examination fees must be deposited with the state treasurer to the credit of the state special revenue fund for use by the department in its licensure and examination functions under this part.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 651, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 65, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 216, L. 2013.

Cross-References

32-7-111. Transferability. An escrow business license is not transferable or assignable. The provisions of this section apply to the change of ownership of a legal entity licensed as an escrow business under this part if the change of ownership involves a change of control in the entity. For purposes of this section, "change of control" means the transfer of 25% or more of the ownership interests in the entity.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 651, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 216, L. 2013.

32-7-112. Department authority to utilize nationwide licensing system for licensing escrow businesses. (1) The department may participate in a nationwide licensing system for licensing purposes under this part and may require escrow businesses to apply for licensure, in the manner that the department may direct, on application forms approved by the nationwide licensing system.

(2) The department may establish rules that are necessary to comply with the nationwide licensing system protocols and procedures pertaining to fees, renewal dates, amending or surrendering a license, and any other activity necessary for participation in the nationwide licensing system.

(3) The department's portion of the licensing fees collected by the nationwide licensing system must be deposited into the department's account in the state special revenue fund for use in the administration of this part.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 216, L. 2013.

32-7-113 and 32-7-114 reserved.

32-7-115. Maintenance of records. (1) A licensee shall establish and maintain the books, accounts, and records necessary to enable the department at any time to determine whether the escrow transactions performed by the licensee comply with the provisions of this part. The books, accounts, and records must be maintained in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and good business practice.

(2) A licensee shall establish and maintain the following records concerning general accounts:

(a) a general record reflecting the assets, liabilities, capital, income, and expense of the business, maintained in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles;

(b) a cash receipt and disbursement journal; and

(c) a reconciliation of monthly statements to the general record.

(3) The records referred to in subsections (1) and (2) must be reconciled at least once each month with the bank statements reflecting each escrow account.

(4) A licensee shall preserve for at least 3 years after the close of any escrow:

(a) all bank statements reflecting each escrow account and records of monthly reconciliations of the statements to the general record;

(b) all canceled checks drawn on each escrow account;

(c) any additional records reflecting banking transactions regarding each escrow account, including copies of all receipts for funds transferred from other accounts into each escrow account;

(d) all statements of account;

(e) all escrow instructions and amendments to them; and

(f) all additional records pertinent to each escrow transaction.

(5) A licensee shall file annually with the department by a date set by the department by rule a statement of the licensee's financial condition as of December 31 of the preceding calendar year and its transactions and escrow activities during that preceding calendar year concerning consumers in this state. The financial statement must be reviewed by an independent public accountant every odd-numbered year and must be in a form and contain the information that the department requires.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 651, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 216, L. 2013; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 32, L. 2019.

32-7-116. Statement of account. A licensee shall provide a full statement of an escrow account established under an escrow agreement within 14 days of a written request made by a party to the escrow agreement. The statement must state:

(1) credits to principal;

(2) interest earned for the period; and

(3) other information requested.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 651, L. 1989.

32-7-117. Deposit of funds required — disbursement. (1) All money deposited in an escrow to be delivered upon the close of the escrow or upon any other contingency must be deposited with a financial institution, as defined in 32-6-103, doing business in this state and must be kept separate, distinct, and apart from funds belonging to the escrow business. The funds, when deposited, must be designated as "escrow accounts" or given some other appropriate designation indicating that the funds are not the funds of the escrow business.

(2) A person may not knowingly keep or cause to be kept any funds or money with a financial institution, as defined in 32-6-103, under the heading of "escrow accounts" or any other name designating the funds or money as belonging to the clients of any escrow business, except actual escrow funds deposited with the escrow business.

(3) Escrow funds are not subject to execution or attachment on any claim against the escrow business.

(4) Any interest received on funds deposited with an escrow business in connection with any escrow that is deposited in an authorized depository must be paid over to the depositing party to the escrow account and may not be transferred to an account of the escrow business. This section does not limit or restrain the right of the depositing party to contract with respect to the interest received on the deposits by an independent agreement.

(5) An escrow business may not disburse funds from any escrow account until cash, items, or drafts in an amount sufficient to fund any disbursements from the account have been received and deposited in the account and are available for withdrawal from the account as a matter of right. If sufficient funds are available for withdrawal from the account as a matter of right, required disbursements must be made within 5 business days of the receipt of sufficient funds. For the purposes of this subsection (5), the following definitions apply:

(a) "Available for withdrawal from the account as a matter of right" means that the bank or savings and loan association in which an item has been deposited considers the item available for withdrawal as a matter of right and that a final settlement will occur in writing with respect to that item.

(b) "Item" means any check, including a cashier's check, negotiable order of withdrawal, share draft, traveler's check, or money order.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 651, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 65, L. 2003.

32-7-118 through 32-7-120 reserved.

32-7-121. Unauthorized business practices — penalty. Unauthorized business practices of escrow businesses include but are not limited to the following:

(1) issuing, circulating, making use of, or publishing, by any means of communication, an advertisement indicating that a person is in the escrow business if that person is not a licensed escrow business;

(2) soliciting or accepting an escrow instruction or amended or supplemental escrow instruction containing any blank to be filled in after the signing or initialing of the escrow instruction or permitting any person to make any addition to, deletion from, or alteration of an escrow instruction or amended or supplemental escrow instruction unless the addition, deletion, or alteration is signed or initialed by the affected party who signed or initialed the escrow instruction or amended or supplemental escrow instruction prior to the addition, deletion, or alteration;

(3) failing to carry out the escrow transactions pursuant to the written escrow instructions unless amended by the written agreement of all parties to the escrow agreement or their assigns;

(4) accepting any escrow transaction that requires or has required the prepayment, deduction, or withholding of any sum to cover payments on the indebtedness or any prior encumbrance if the payments are not due and payable to the mortgagee or obligee at the time the escrow is established. However, payments may be made on property taxes for the current year or for the next annual premium on hazard insurance.

(5) refusing to allow parties to an escrow transaction or designated agents of those parties access to the records of the escrow transaction; and

(6) failing to promptly distribute funds pursuant to escrow instructions.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 651, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 216, L. 2013.

32-7-122. Investigations by department — desist order — injunctions or other actions. (1) The department may investigate, upon complaint or otherwise, if it appears that:

(a) an escrow business is conducting its business in an unsafe and injurious manner or in violation of this part or any rule promulgated pursuant to this part; or

(b) a person is engaging in the escrow business without being licensed under the provisions of this part.

(2) (a) If it appears to the department, upon sufficient grounds or evidence satisfactory to the department, that an escrow business has engaged in or is about to engage in unlicensed activity or any act or practice in violation of this part or any rule or order issued pursuant to this part or that the assets or capital of any escrow business or company are impaired or the licensee's affairs are in an unsafe condition, the department may summarily order the escrow business to cease and desist from the act or practice or the department may apply to the district court of Lewis and Clark County to enjoin the act or practice and to enforce compliance with this part or for any other appropriate equitable relief.

(b) Upon a proper showing, the court may:

(i) grant a temporary restraining order, followed by a preliminary injunction and a permanent injunction;

(ii) appoint a receiver for the defendant or defendant's assets;

(iii) cancel the licensee's license; and

(iv) order other equitable remedies the court considers necessary and appropriate.

(3) The court may not require the department to post a bond.

32-7-123. Subpoenas — oaths — examinations of witness and evidence. (1) In the conduct of any examination, investigation, or hearing, the department may:

(a) compel the attendance of any person or obtain any documents by subpoena;

(b) administer oaths;

(c) examine any person under oath concerning the business and conduct of affairs of any person subject to the provisions of this part; and

(d) require the production of any books, records, or papers relevant to the inquiry.

(2) If a person refuses to obey a subpoena issued to the department, the district court of Lewis and Clark County or other district court having proper venue, upon application by the department, may order the person to produce documentary evidence or to give evidence relating to the matter under investigation or in question. If a person fails to obey the order of the court, the person may be punished by the court as contempt of court.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 651, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 216, L. 2013.

32-7-124. Hearings — penalties. (1) The department may impose a civil penalty not to exceed $1,000 for each violation if the department finds, after providing a 14-day written notice of alleged violations and opportunity for administrative hearing, that any person, any licensee, or any officer, agent, employee, or representative of the person or licensee, whether licensed or unlicensed, has:

(a) violated any of the provisions of this part;

(b) failed to comply with the rules or orders promulgated by the department;

(c) failed or refused to make required reports to the department;

(d) furnished false information to the department; or

(e) operated without a required license.

(2) The department may issue an order requiring restitution to parties and reimbursement of the department's costs of bringing an administrative action. In addition, the department may issue an order revoking, conditioning, or suspending the right of the licensee, directly or through another, to engage in escrow business activities in this state.

(3) All hearing schedules and orders must be mailed to the person or licensee by certified mail to the address for which the license was issued or, in the case of an unlicensed business, to the last-known address of record.

(4) For purposes of this part, the department is considered to have complied with the requirements of law concerning service of process by sending by common courier with tracking capability any notice required under this part, postage prepaid and addressed to:

(a) the last-known address of the licensee's registered agent for service of process on file with the department;

(b) the last-known address of the licensee on file with the department for an in-state licensee; or

(c) the last-known address of an unlicensed person.

(5) In a judicial action, suit, or proceeding arising under this part or any administrative rule adopted pursuant to this part between the department and a licensee who does not maintain a physical office in this state, venue is in the district court of Lewis and Clark County.

(6) The provisions of the Montana Administrative Procedure Act, Title 2, chapter 4, part 6, apply to a contested case brought under this part.

Part 1
Montana Mortgage Act

Part Compiler's Comments

Contingent Suspension: Section 37, Chapter 321, Laws of 2009, provided: "If the secretary of housing and urban development determines by guideline, interpretation, or rule that any part of [this act] [amending or enacting 32-9-101, 32-9-102, 32-9-103, 32-9-104, 32-9-105, 32-9-106, 32-9-107, 32-9-109, 32-9-110, 32-9-112, 32-9-113, 32-9-114 (repealed), 32-9-116, 32-9-117, 32-9-118, 32-9-120, 32-9-121, 32-9-122, 32-9-123, 32-9-124, 32-9-125 (repealed), 32-9-126, 32-9-127 (repealed), 32-9-128, 32-9-129, 32-9-130, 32-9-133, 32-9-145, 32-9-148, 32-9-150, 32-9-151, 32-9-155, and 32-9-160] is out of compliance with the Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act, Public Law 110-289, the operation and effect of that part is suspended." Section 32, Ch. 125, L. 2013, amended sec. 37, Ch. 321, L. 2009, to provide that the director of the consumer financial protection bureau rather than the secretary of housing and urban development shall make the determination.

32-9-101. Short title and purpose. (1) This part may be cited as the "Montana Mortgage Act".

(2) The legislature recognizes that buying or financing a home is one of the largest, most complicated, and vitally important decisions facing consumers in Montana. Therefore, the legislature finds it desirable to license certain persons in the residential mortgage industry that are outside of the traditional banking industry and that have a direct involvement in consumers' financial welfare, including mortgage brokers, mortgage lenders, mortgage servicers, and mortgage loan originators, to promote honesty, education, and professionalism, to ensure the availability and diversity of residential mortgage funding, and to protect Montana consumers and the stability of Montana's economy.

(3) The legislature finds that it is necessary to implement the federal Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act of 2008 and, together with the residential mortgage industry, recognizes the importance of statewide participation in the NMLS. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-102. License requirement — registration. (1) Unless exempt under 32-9-104, a person may not regularly engage in the business of a mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan originator with respect to any residential mortgage loan unless licensed or registered under the provisions of this part through the NMLS.

(2) A mortgage broker or mortgage lender may not employ or contract with any person required to be licensed under this part if the person is not licensed. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-103. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Administrative or clerical tasks" mean the receipt, collection, and distribution of information common for the processing or underwriting of a loan in the mortgage industry, without performing any analysis of the information, and communication with a consumer to obtain information necessary for the processing or underwriting of a residential mortgage loan.

(2) "Advertising" means a commercial message in any medium, including social media and software, that promotes, either directly or indirectly, a residential mortgage loan transaction.

(3) "Application" means a request, in any form, for an offer of residential mortgage loan terms or a response to a solicitation of an offer of residential mortgage loan terms and includes the information about the borrower that is customary or necessary in a decision on whether to make such an offer.

(4) "Approved education course" means any course approved by the NMLS.

(5) "Approved test provider" means any test provider approved by the NMLS.

(6) "Bona fide not-for-profit entity" means an entity that:

(a) maintains tax-exempt status under section 501(c)(3) or 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 501(c)(3) or 501(c)(4);

(b) promotes affordable housing or provides homeownership education or similar services;

(c) conducts its activities in a manner that serves public or charitable purposes, rather than commercial purposes;

(d) receives funding and revenue and charges fees in a manner that does not create incentives for the entity or its employees to act other than in the best interests of its clients;

(e) compensates employees in a manner that does not create incentives for employees to act other than in the best interests of clients;

(f) provides to or identifies for the borrower residential mortgage loans with terms that are favorable to the borrower and comparable to mortgage loans and housing assistance provided under government housing assistance programs. For purposes of this subsection (6)(f), for residential mortgage loans to have terms that are favorable to the borrower, the department shall determine that the terms are consistent with loan origination in a public or charitable context, rather than a commercial context.

(g) is either certified by the U.S. department of housing and urban development or has received a community housing development organization designation as defined in 24 CFR 92.2.

(7) "Bona fide third party" means a person that provides services relative to the origination of a residential mortgage loan. The term includes but is not limited to real estate appraisers and credit reporting agencies.

(8) "Borrower" means a person seeking a residential mortgage loan or an obligor on a residential mortgage loan.

(9) (a) "Branch office" means a location at which a licensee conducts business other than a licensee's principal place of business.

(b) The location is considered a branch office if:

(i) the address of the location appears on business cards, stationery, or advertising used by the entity;

(ii) the entity's name or advertising suggests that mortgages are made at the location;

(iii) the location is held out to the public as a licensee's place of business due to the actions of an employee or independent contractor of the entity; or

(iv) the location is controlled directly or indirectly by the entity.

(c) A mortgage loan originator working from a remote location is not a branch office if the requirements of 32-9-122 and 32-9-173 are fully met.

(10) (a) "Clerical or support duties" includes:

(i) the receipt, collection, distribution, and analysis of information common for the processing or underwriting of a residential mortgage loan; and

(ii) communicating with a consumer to obtain the information necessary for the processing or underwriting of a residential mortgage loan to the extent that the communication does not include offering or negotiating loan rates or terms or counseling consumers about residential mortgage loan rates or terms.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) taking a residential mortgage loan application; or

(ii) offering or negotiating the terms of a residential mortgage loan.

(11) "Commercial context" means that an individual who acts as a mortgage loan originator does so for the purpose of obtaining profit for an entity or individual for which the individual acts, including a sole proprietorship or other entity that includes only the individual, rather than exclusively for public, charitable, or family purposes.

(12) "Confidential supervisory information" means:

(a) reports of examination, inspection, and visitation; nonpublic operating, condition, and compliance reports; supervisory letters; or similar documents, and any information contained in, derived from, used to create, or related to the documents;

(b) any documents, materials, or records, including reports of examination, prepared by, or on behalf of, or for the use of the department or any state or federal financial services regulatory agency in the exercise of supervisory authority over a supervised entity, and any information derived from or used to prepare the documents, materials, or records;

(c) any communications between the department and a supervised entity or a state or federal financial services regulatory agency related to the department's supervision of the entity;

(d) any information received or generated by the department pursuant to 32-9-130;

(e) confidential criminal justice information, as defined in 44-5-103;

(f) personal information protected by an individual privacy interest; and

(g) information that is exempt from disclosure pursuant to 12 U.S.C. 5111.

(13) (a) "Control" means the power, directly or indirectly, to direct the management or policies of an entity, whether through ownership of securities, by contract, or otherwise.

(b) A person is presumed to control an entity if that person:

(i) is a director, general partner, or executive officer or is an individual that occupies a similar position or performs a similar function;

(ii) directly or indirectly has the right to vote 10% or more of a class of a voting security or has the power to sell or direct the sale of 10% or more of a class of voting securities;

(iii) in the case of a limited liability company, is a managing member; or

(iv) in the case of a partnership, has the right to receive upon dissolution or has contributed 10% or more of the capital.

(14) "Department" means the department of administration provided for in 2-15-1001, acting through its division of banking and financial institutions.

(15) "Depository institution" has the meaning provided in section 3 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, 12 U.S.C. 1813(c), and includes any credit union.

(16) "Designated manager" means a mortgage loan originator with at least 3 years of experience as a mortgage loan originator or registered mortgage loan originator who is designated by an entity as the individual responsible for the operation of a particular location that is under the designated manager's full management, supervision, and control.

(17) "Dwelling" has the meaning provided in 15 U.S.C. 1602(w).

(18) "Entity" means a business organization, including a sole proprietorship.

(19) "Escrow account" means a depository account with a financial institution that provides deposit insurance and that is separate and distinct from any personal, business, or other account of the mortgage lender or mortgage servicer and is maintained solely for the holding and payment of escrow funds.

(20) "Escrow funds" means funds entrusted to a mortgage lender or mortgage servicer by a borrower for payment of taxes, insurance, or other payments to be made in connection with the servicing of a loan.

(21) "Expungement" means a court-ordered process that involves the destruction of documentation related to past arrests and convictions.

(22) "Federal banking agency" means the board of governors of the federal reserve system, the comptroller of the currency, the national credit union administration, or the federal deposit insurance corporation.

(23) "Housing finance agency" includes the Montana board of housing provided for in 2-15-1814.

(24) "Independent contractor" means an individual who performs duties other than at the direction of and subject to the supervision and instruction of another individual who is licensed and registered in accordance with this part or who is not required to be licensed in accordance with 32-9-104(1)(b), (1)(d), or (1)(g).

(25) "Independent contractor entity" means an entity that offers or provides clerical or support duties for another person.

(26) "Individual" means a natural person.

(27) "Licensee" means a person authorized pursuant to this part to engage in activities regulated by this part. The term does not include an individual who is a registered mortgage loan originator.

(28) "Loan commitment" means a statement transmitted in writing or electronically by a mortgage lender setting forth the terms and conditions upon which the mortgage lender is willing to make a particular residential mortgage loan to a particular borrower.

(29) (a) "Loan processor or underwriter" means an individual who, with respect to the origination of a residential mortgage loan, performs clerical or support duties as an employee at the direction of and subject to the supervision of a licensed mortgage loan originator or registered mortgage loan originator.

(b) For the purposes of subsection (29)(a), "origination of a residential mortgage loan" means all activities related to a residential mortgage loan from the taking of a residential mortgage loan application through the completion of all required loan closing documents and funding of the residential mortgage loan.

(30) "Mortgage" means a consensual interest in real property located in Montana, including improvements, securing a debt evidenced by a mortgage, trust indenture, deed of trust, or other lien on real property.

(31) (a) "Mortgage broker" means an entity that obtains, attempts to obtain, or assists in obtaining a mortgage loan for a borrower from a mortgage lender in return for consideration or in anticipation of consideration or holds itself out as being able to assist a person in obtaining a mortgage loan.

(b) For purposes of this subsection (31), attempting to obtain or assisting in obtaining a mortgage loan includes referring a borrower to a mortgage lender or mortgage broker, soliciting or offering to solicit a mortgage loan on behalf of a borrower, or negotiating or offering to negotiate the terms or conditions of a mortgage loan with a mortgage lender on behalf of a borrower.

(32) "Mortgage lender" means an entity that closes a residential mortgage loan, advances funds, offers to advance funds, commits to advancing funds for a mortgage loan applicant, or holds itself out as being able to perform any of those functions.

(33) (a) "Mortgage loan originator" means an individual who for compensation or gain or in the expectation of compensation or gain:

(i) takes a residential mortgage loan application; or

(ii) offers or negotiates terms of a residential mortgage loan.

(b) The term includes an individual who represents to the public that the individual can or will perform the services described in subsection (33)(a).

(c) The term does not include an individual:

(i) engaged solely as a loan processor or underwriter, except as provided in 32-9-135; or

(ii) involved solely in extensions of credit relating to timeshare plans, as that term is defined in 11 U.S.C. 101(53D).

(34) "Mortgage servicer" means an entity that:

(a) for forward mortgages:

(i) engages, for compensation or gain from another or on its own behalf, in the business of receiving any scheduled periodic payment from a borrower pursuant to the terms of a residential mortgage loan, residential mortgage servicing documents, or a residential mortgage servicing contract;

(ii) meets the definition of servicer in 12 U.S.C. 2605(i)(2) with respect to residential mortgage loans; or

(iii) holds out to the public that the entity is able to comply with subsection (34)(a)(i) or (34)(a)(ii);

(b) for a home equity conversion mortgage or a reverse mortgage, makes or holds out to the public that the entity can make a payment to the borrower.

(35) "Nationwide mortgage licensing system and registry" or "NMLS" means a licensing system developed and maintained by the conference of state bank supervisors and the American association of residential mortgage regulators for the registration and licensing of persons providing nondepository financial services.

(36) "Nontraditional mortgage product" means any mortgage product other than a 30-year, fixed-rate mortgage.

(37) "Person" means an individual, sole proprietorship, corporation, company, limited liability company, partnership, limited liability partnership, trust, or association.

(38) "Real estate brokerage activities" means activities that involve offering or providing real estate brokerage services to the public, including:

(a) acting as a real estate salesperson or real estate broker for a buyer, seller, lessor, or lessee of real property;

(b) bringing together parties interested in the sale, purchase, lease, rental, or exchange of real property;

(c) negotiating, on behalf of any party, any portion of a contract relating to the sale, purchase, lease, rental, or exchange of real property other than in connection with providing financing with respect to the transaction;

(d) engaging in any activity for which a person is required to be licensed as a real estate salesperson or real estate broker under Montana law; or

(e) offering to engage in any activity or act in any capacity described in subsections (38)(a) through (38)(d).

(39) "Registered mortgage loan originator" means an individual who:

(a) meets the definition of mortgage loan originator and is an employee of:

(i) a depository institution;

(ii) a subsidiary that is wholly owned and controlled by a depository institution and regulated by a federal banking agency; or

(iii) an institution regulated by the farm credit administration; and

(b) is registered with and maintains a unique identifier through the NMLS.

(40) "Regularly engage" means that a person:

(a) has engaged in the business of a mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan originator on more than five residential mortgage loans in the previous calendar year or expects to engage in the business of a mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan originator on more than five residential mortgage loans in the current calendar year; or

(b) has served as the prospective source of financing or performed other phases of loan originations on more than five residential mortgage loans in the previous calendar year or expects to serve as the prospective source of financing or perform some other phases of loan origination on more than five residential mortgage loans in the current calendar year.

(41) "Residential mortgage loan" means a loan primarily for personal, family, or household use secured by a mortgage, deed of trust, or other equivalent consensual security interest on a dwelling or on residential real estate located in Montana.

(42) "Residential real estate" means any real property located in the state of Montana upon which is constructed a dwelling or upon which a dwelling is intended to be built within a 2-year period, subject to 24 CFR 3500.5(b)(4). The borrower's intent to construct a dwelling is presumed unless the borrower has submitted a written, signed statement to the contrary.

(43) "Responsible individual" means a Montana-licensed mortgage loan originator with at least 1½ years of experience as a mortgage loan originator or registered mortgage loan originator who is designated by an independent contractor entity as the individual responsible for the operation of a particular location that is under the responsible individual's full management, supervision, and control.

(44) (a) "Service provider" means a person who performs activities relating to the business of mortgage origination, lending, or servicing on behalf of a licensee.

(b) Activities relating to the business of mortgage origination, lending, or servicing include:

(i) providing data processing services;

(ii) performing activities in the support of residential mortgage origination, lending, or servicing; and

(iii) providing internet-related services, including web services, processing electronic borrower payments, developing and maintaining mobile applications, system and software development and maintenance, and security monitoring.

(c) Activities relating to the business of mortgage origination, lending, or servicing do not include providing an interactive computer service or a general audience internet or communications platform, except to the extent that the service or platform is specially designed or adapted for the business of mortgage origination, lending, or servicing.

(d) Activities relating to the business of mortgage origination, lending, or servicing performed by a mortgage loan originator, lender, or servicer on its own behalf or as part of mortgage loan originating, lending, or servicing are considered mortgage loan originating, lending, or servicing.

(45) "Ultimate equity owner" means an individual who, directly or indirectly, owns or controls an ownership interest in a corporation, a foreign corporation, an alien business organization, or any other form of business organization, regardless of whether the individual owns or controls an ownership interest, individually or in any combination, through one or more persons or one or more proxies, powers of attorney, nominees, corporations, associations, partnerships, trusts, joint-stock companies, or other entities or devices.

(46) "Unique identifier" means a number or other identifier assigned by protocols established by the NMLS. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-104. Exemptions — proof of exemption. (1) The provisions of this part do not apply to:

(a) an entity that is an agency of the federal, state, tribal, or local government;

(b) an individual who is an employee of a federal, state, tribal, local government, or housing finance agency acting as a loan originator only pursuant to the individual's official duties as an employee of the federal, state, tribal, local government, or housing finance agency;

(c) an entity described in 32-9-103(39)(a)(i) through (39)(a)(iii);

(d) a registered mortgage loan originator when acting for an entity described in 32-9-103(39)(a)(i) through (39)(a)(iii);

(e) an individual who performs only administrative or clerical tasks at the direction of and subject to the supervision and instruction of an individual who:

(i) is a licensed and registered mortgage loan originator pursuant to this part; or

(ii) is not required to be licensed in accordance with subsection (1)(b), (1)(d), or (1)(g);

(f) an entity that is a bona fide not-for-profit entity;

(g) an employee of a bona fide not-for-profit entity who acts as a loan originator only with respect to work duties for the bona fide not-for-profit entity and who acts as a loan originator only with respect to residential mortgage loans with terms that are favorable to the borrower, or acts as a servicer with respect to work duties for the bona fide not-for-profit entity;

(h) a person that performs only real estate brokerage activities and is licensed or registered pursuant to 37-51-301 unless the person is compensated by a mortgage broker, a mortgage lender, or a mortgage loan originator or an agent of the mortgage broker, mortgage lender, or mortgage loan originator;

(i) a person regulated by the commissioner of insurance if that person's principal business is that of preparing abstracts or making searches of titles that are used as a basis for the issuance of any title insurance policy by a company doing business under the laws of this state relating to insurance companies;

(j) a Montana-licensed attorney performing activities that fall within the definition of a mortgage loan originator if the activities are:

(i) considered by the Montana supreme court to be part of the authorized practice of law within this state;

(ii) carried out within an attorney-client relationship; and

(iii) accomplished by the attorney in compliance with all applicable laws, rules, and standards; or

(k) an individual who is an employee of a retailer of manufactured or modular homes if the employee is performing only administrative or clerical tasks in connection with the sale or lease of a manufactured or modular home and if the individual receives no compensation or other gain from a mortgage lender or a mortgage broker for the performance of the administrative or clerical tasks.

(2) (a) To qualify for an exemption under subsection (1)(f), an entity shall certify, on a form prescribed by the department, that it is a bona fide not-for-profit entity and shall provide additional documentation as required by the department by rule. To maintain this exemption, the entity shall file the prescribed certification and accompanying documentation by December 31 of each year.

(b) In determining whether an entity is a bona fide not-for-profit entity, the department may rely on its receipt and review of:

(i) reports filed with federal, state, tribal, local government, or housing finance agencies and authorities; or

(ii) reports and attestations prescribed by the department.

(3) The burden of proving an exemption under this section is on the person claiming the exemption. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-105. Nationwide mortgage licensing system for mortgage brokers, mortgage lenders, mortgage servicers, and mortgage loan originators. (1) The department may participate in the NMLS and shall require mortgage brokers, mortgage lenders, mortgage servicers, and mortgage loan originators to apply for state licensure on applications approved by the NMLS.

(2) The department may establish requirements through rulemaking as necessary to comply with the NMLS, including requirements:

(a) for payment of nonrefundable fees to apply for, maintain, and renew licenses through the NMLS;

(b) for renewal or reporting dates; and

(c) pertaining to any other activity necessary for participation in the NMLS.

(3) The department's portion of the licensing fees collected by the NMLS under this section must be deposited in the department's account in the state special revenue fund to be used for administering this part. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-106. Simultaneous licensure. An entity may be simultaneously licensed as a mortgage lender, a mortgage servicer, and a mortgage broker if the entity meets all requirements for licensure for each license type. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 321, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 317, L. 2011.

32-9-107. Prelicensing education requirements for mortgage loan originators. (1) An individual seeking a mortgage loan originator's license shall complete at least 20 hours of approved education courses, which must include at least:

(a) 3 hours of training on federal law and regulations;

(b) 3 hours of training in ethics, including instruction on fraud, consumer protection, and fair lending issues; and

(c) 2 hours of training related to lending standards for the nontraditional mortgage product marketplace.

(2) In addition to the training required in subsections (1)(a), (1)(b), and (1)(c), the department may require by rule that applicants complete additional hours of training that are specific to Montana residential mortgage statutes and rules.

(3) The prelicensing education courses that comply with the requirements of subsection (1) and that are approved by the NMLS for any other state must be accepted with respect to the completion of prelicensing education requirements in Montana. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 516, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 498, L. 2007.

32-9-109. Experience requirements. (1) An individual may not act as a designated manager without a minimum of 3 years of experience working as a mortgage loan originator or in a related field.

(2) An individual may not act as a responsible individual without a minimum of 1½ years of experience working as a mortgage loan originator or in a related field.

(3) The department shall by rule establish what constitutes work in a related field. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-110. Examination requirements for mortgage loan originators. (1) An individual seeking a mortgage loan originator's license shall submit to an examination.

(2) In order to meet the examination requirement referred to in subsection (1), an individual shall pass, in accordance with the standards established under this section, a qualified written exam developed by the NMLS that is administered by an approved test provider.

(3) A written examination may not be treated as a qualified written examination for purposes of this section unless the exam adequately measures the applicant's knowledge and comprehension in appropriate subject areas, including but not limited to:

(a) ethics;

(b) federal and state laws and regulations pertaining to mortgage origination; and

(c) federal and state laws and regulations pertaining to fraud, consumer protection, the nontraditional mortgage product marketplace, and fair lending issues.

(4) An individual may not be considered to have passed a qualified examination unless the individual achieves an exam score of at least 75%.

(5) An individual may retake a test three consecutive times with each consecutive test being taken at least 30 days after the previous testing date.

(6) An individual who fails three consecutive tests may not take the test for at least 6 months from the date of failing the third test.

(7) A licensed mortgage loan originator who fails to maintain a valid license for a period of 5 years shall retake the test. The 5-year period may not take into account any time during which the person is a registered mortgage loan originator. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 516, L. 2003.

32-9-112. Application for mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, and mortgage loan originator license — renewals. (1) An applicant under this part shall apply for a state license or renewal of a license on the forms prescribed by the NMLS. The department shall use the NMLS forms and policies for all licensing actions.

(2) The department may establish relationships or contracts with the NMLS or other entities designated by the NMLS to collect and maintain records and process transaction fees or other fees related to licensees or other persons subject to this part.

(3) An applicant for a license or license renewal shall furnish information to the NMLS concerning the applicant's identity, including but not limited to:

(a) fingerprints for submission to the federal bureau of investigation and any governmental agency or entity authorized to receive information for a state, national, and international criminal history background check; and

(b) personal history and experience in a form prescribed by the NMLS, including submission of authorization for the NMLS and the department to obtain:

(i) an independent credit report from a consumer reporting agency described in section 603(p) of the Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C. 1681a(p); and

(ii) information related to administrative, civil, or criminal findings by a governmental jurisdiction.

(4) For the purposes of this section and to reduce the points of contact that the federal bureau of investigation may have to maintain for purposes of subsection (3), the department may use the NMLS as a channeling agent for requesting information from and distributing information to the United States department of justice or other governmental agencies.

(5) For the purposes of this section and to reduce the points of contact that the department may have to maintain for purposes of subsection (3), the department may use the NMLS as a channeling agent for requesting and distributing information to and from any source directed by the department. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-116. Employment of mortgage loan originator. (1) A mortgage loan originator may transact business for only one employing mortgage broker or one employing mortgage lender licensed in accordance with the provisions of this part.

(2) If the employment of a mortgage loan originator is terminated, the sponsoring mortgage broker or mortgage lender shall remove sponsorship of the mortgage loan originator on the NMLS within 5 business days of the termination. The mortgage loan originator's license must be placed in "Approved-Inactive" status until the license is sponsored by a mortgage broker or mortgage lender. If at the end of the next renewal period the license is not sponsored by a mortgage broker or mortgage lender, it must be automatically placed in "Terminated-Expired" status for failure to renew. The removal of sponsorship of the license of any mortgage loan originator extinguishes the right of the mortgage loan originator to engage in any residential mortgage loan origination activity until NMLS procedures have been followed to sponsor the license. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-117. Fees — disposition of fees — rulemaking. (1) (a) Application fees are:

(i) mortgage broker, $500;

(ii) mortgage broker branch, $250;

(iii) mortgage lender or mortgage servicer, $750;

(iv) mortgage lender branch or mortgage servicer branch, $250; and

(v) mortgage loan originator, $400.

(b) A mortgage broker entity owned by a Montana-licensed mortgage loan originator shall pay a license application fee of $100.

(2) All application fees must be paid through the NMLS and are not refundable.

(3) The department shall by rule establish the fees for renewal applications and reinstatement of expired licenses. The fees set by the department must be commensurate with the costs of the program.

(4) The department's portion of the fees collected under this section must be deposited in the department's state special revenue fund to be used by the department in administering the provisions of this part. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-118. Continuing education requirements for mortgage loan originators. (1) All mortgage loan originators shall complete and submit to the NMLS evidence of at least 8 hours of continuing education every year at the time they submit their license renewal applications. The 8 hours of continuing education must be obtained in approved education courses.

(2) The 8 hours of education must include at least:

(a) 3 hours of training on federal laws and regulations;

(b) 2 hours of training in ethics, including instruction on fraud prevention, consumer protection, and fair lending issues; and

(c) 2 hours of training related to lending standards for the nontraditional mortgage product marketplace.

(3) A person who has successfully completed the education requirements that comply with the requirements of subsections (1) and (2) and that are approved by the NMLS for any other state must be given credit toward completion of continuing education requirements in Montana.

(4) Except as provided in subsection (6), a licensed mortgage loan originator may receive credit for a continuing education course only in the year in which the course is taken and may not take the same approved course in the same or successive years to meet the annual requirements for continuing education.

(5) A licensed mortgage loan originator who is an approved instructor of an approved continuing education course may receive credit for the licensed mortgage loan originator's own annual continuing education requirement at the rate of 2 hours credit for every 1 hour taught.

(6) A licensed mortgage loan originator who subsequently becomes unlicensed shall complete the continuing education requirements for the last year in which the license was held prior to issuance of a new or renewed license. The continuing education requirements of this subsection are not subject to the provision of subsection (4) that credit may be given only in the year a course is taken. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-119. Repealed. Sec. 34, Ch. 321, L. 2009.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 498, L. 2007.

32-9-120. Denial of mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan originator license application or license renewal. (1) The department may not issue or renew any mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan originator license if any of the following facts are found during the application procedure:

(a) the applicant has ever had a mortgage loan originator license or an equivalent license revoked in any governmental jurisdiction. A subsequent formal vacation of a revocation means that the revocation may not be considered a revocation. The department may by order vacate a revocation of a license and enter an appropriate order.

(b) the applicant has been convicted of or pleaded guilty or nolo contendere to a felony in a domestic, foreign, or military court during the 7-year period preceding the date of the application for licensing or renewal or at any time preceding the date of application if the felony involved an act of fraud, dishonesty, a breach of trust, or money laundering. The pardon or expungement of a conviction is not a conviction for the purposes of this subsection (1)(b). When determining the eligibility of the applicant for licensure under subsection (1)(c) or this subsection (1)(b), the department may consider the underlying crime, facts, or circumstances of a pardoned or expunged felony conviction.

(c) the applicant has failed to demonstrate financial responsibility, character, and general fitness to command the confidence of the community and to warrant a determination that the mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan originator will operate honestly, fairly, and efficiently within the purposes of this section;

(d) the applicant has not provided and maintained the surety bond as required pursuant to 32-9-123;

(e) the applicant has not completed the prelicensing education requirement described in 32-9-107;

(f) the applicant has not passed a written test that meets the test requirements described in 32-9-110;

(g) the applicant made a material misstatement of fact or material omission of fact in the application;

(h) the applicant has failed to meet the mortgage servicer capital requirements provided in 32-9-206;

(i) the applicant has failed to meet the minimum mortgage lender net worth requirements provided in 32-9-172; or

(j) the applicant has been found to have violated:

(i) any rule of conduct for persons taking the mortgage loan originator national or state test under the federal Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act; or

(ii) the nationwide multistate licensing system industry terms of use as they pertain to enrolling, scheduling, or taking the mortgage loan originator national or state test under the Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act.

(2) The department may consider an application abandoned if an applicant fails to provide or respond to a request for additional information within the time period specified by the department by rule.

(3) For purposes of subsection (1)(b), a pardoned or expunged felony conviction does not necessitate denial of the license application. The department may consider the underlying crime, facts, or circumstances of a pardoned or expunged felony conviction when determining the eligibility of an applicant for licensure under subsection (1)(b) or (1)(c). Whether a particular crime is classified as a felony must be determined by the law of the jurisdiction in which an individual is convicted. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-121. Records maintenance. (1) Licensees shall maintain books, accounts, records, and copies of residential mortgage loan files and escrow account records that are necessary to enable the department to determine whether a licensee is in compliance with the applicable laws and rules. The materials must be maintained in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and good business practices. Whenever a licensee's usual business location is outside of this state the licensee shall, at its election, either maintain its books and records at a location in this state or reimburse the department for expenses incurred, including but not limited to staff time, transportation, food, and lodging expenses, relating to an examination or investigation under this part.

(2) A mortgage broker, mortgage lender, or mortgage servicer shall maintain a residential mortgage file for a minimum of 5 years from the date of the last activity pertaining to the file. A mortgage broker, mortgage lender, or mortgage servicer shall maintain trust account or escrow account records for a minimum of 5 years.

(3) An entity that ceases operation as a licensee under the provisions of this part shall:

(a) 30 days prior to the discontinuance of business, notify the department of the physical location where required records will be preserved; and

(b) designate a custodian of records and notify the department of the name, physical address, electronic mail address, and telephone number of the custodian of records. The custodian of records shall preserve records required under this part and allow the department access for examination and investigation purposes upon request of the department.

(4) The department shall adopt rules to control the maintenance, storage, transfer, and destruction of records after a licensee ceases operation. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-122. Designated manager and branch office license requirements. (1) A mortgage broker, mortgage lender, or mortgage servicer shall apply for a license for a main office and for every branch office through the NMLS and maintain a unique identifier. All locations must be within the United States or a territory, including Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

(2) A mortgage broker or mortgage lender shall designate to the NMLS an individual who is licensed as a mortgage loan originator as the designated manager of the entity. The designated manager is responsible for the mortgage origination activity conducted by all mortgage loan originators, employees, independent contractors, and agents assigned to the entity.

(3) A designated manager must have 3 years of experience as either a mortgage loan originator or a registered mortgage loan originator.

(4) A designated manager is responsible for the operation of the entity at all physical and remote locations under the designated manager's full charge, supervision, and control.

(5) A mortgage broker or mortgage lender is responsible for the conduct of its employees, including for violations of federal or state laws, rules, or regulations.

(6) A designated manager is responsible for conduct that violates federal or state laws, rules, or regulations by the designated manager and each employee of the mortgage broker or mortgage lender.

(7) If the designated manager ceases to act in that capacity, within 15 days the mortgage broker or mortgage lender shall designate another individual licensed as a mortgage loan originator as designated manager and shall submit information to the NMLS establishing that the subsequent designated manager complies with the provisions of this part.

(8) If the employment of a designated manager is terminated, the mortgage broker or mortgage lender shall remove the sponsorship of the designated manager on the NMLS within 5 business days of the termination.

(9) A mortgage servicer is responsible for the acts and omissions of its employees, agents, and independent contractors acting in the course and scope of their employment, agency, or contract. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-123. Surety bond requirement — notice of legal action. (1) (a) A mortgage loan originator must be covered by a surety bond in accordance with this section. If a mortgage loan originator is an employee of a licensed mortgage lender or mortgage broker, the surety bond of the licensed mortgage lender or mortgage broker may be used in lieu of a mortgage loan originator's surety bond.

(b) The bond must run to the state of Montana as obligee and must run first to the benefit of the borrower and then to the benefit of the state and any person who suffers loss by reason of the obligor's or its loan originator's violation of any provision of this part or rules adopted under this part. The department shall use the proceeds of the surety bonds to reimburse borrowers, the department, or bona fide third parties who successfully demonstrate a financial loss because of an act of a mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan originator that violates any provision of this part.

(2) (a) An entity licensed as a mortgage broker, mortgage lender, and mortgage servicer is required to maintain one surety bond for each entity license.

(b) The amount of the required surety bond must be calculated by combining the annual loan production amounts for all persons originating residential mortgage loans and for all business locations of the mortgage broker or mortgage lender and must be in the following amount:

(i) $25,000 for a combined annual loan production that does not exceed $50 million a year;

(ii) $50,000 for annual loan production of more than $50 million but not exceeding $100 million a year; or

(iii) $100,000 for annual loan production of more than $100 million a year.

(c) The amount of the required surety bond for a mortgage servicer must be calculated on the mortgage servicer's total unpaid principal balance of residential mortgage loans as of December 31. The amount of the surety bond must be in the following amount:

(i) $75,000 for an unpaid principal balance that does not exceed $25 million a year;

(ii) $150,000 for an unpaid principal balance of more than $25 million but not exceeding $100 million a year;

(iii) $250,000 for an unpaid principal balance of more than $100 million but not exceeding $500 million a year; or

(iv) $350,000 for an unpaid principal balance of more than $500 million a year.

(3) A mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan originator shall give notice to the department through the NMLS within 15 days of the mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan originator obtaining knowledge of the initiation of an investigation or the entry of a judgment in a criminal or civil action. The notice must be given if the investigation or the legal action is in any state and involves a mortgage broker, a mortgage lender, a mortgage servicer, a mortgage loan originator, or anyone having an ownership interest in a mortgage broker entity, mortgage lender entity, or mortgage servicer entity. In the case of a legal action, the notice must include a copy of the criminal or civil judgment.

(4) (a) An obligor shall give written notice to the department through the NMLS of any action that may be brought against it by any creditor or borrower when the action:

(i) is brought under this part;

(ii) involves a claim against the bond filed with the department for the purposes of compliance with this section; or

(iii) involves a claim for damages in excess of $20,000 for a mortgage broker or mortgage loan originator or $200,000 for a mortgage lender or mortgage servicer.

(b) An obligor shall give written notice to the department through the NMLS of any judgment that may be entered against it by any creditor or any borrower or prospective borrower.

(c) The written notice must provide details sufficient to identify the action or judgment and must be submitted within 30 days after the commencement of any action or within 30 days after the entry of any judgment.

(5) A corporate surety shall, within 10 days after it pays any claim or judgment to any claimant, give written notice to the department of the payment with details sufficient to identify the claimant and the claim or judgment paid. Whenever the principal sum of a required bond is reduced by one or more recoveries or payments on the bond, the obligor shall furnish a new or additional bond so that the total or aggregate principal sum of the bond or bonds equals the sum required under this section or the obligor shall furnish an endorsement duly executed by the corporate surety reinstating the bond to the required principal sum.

(6) A bond filed with the department or with the NMLS for the purpose of compliance with this section may not be canceled by the obligor or the corporate surety except upon written notice to the department through the NMLS. The cancellation may not take effect until 30 days after receipt by the department of the notice. The cancellation is effective only with respect to any occurrence after the effective date of the cancellation. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-124. Prohibitions — required disclosure. (1) A mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan originator may not do any of the following:

(a) retain original documents owned by the borrower and submitted in connection with the loan application;

(b) directly or indirectly employ any scheme to defraud or mislead a borrower, a mortgage broker, a mortgage lender, a mortgage servicer, or any other person;

(c) make any misrepresentation or deceptive statement in connection with a residential mortgage loan, including but not limited to interest rates, points, costs at closing, or other financing terms or conditions;

(d) fail to pay a bona fide third party within 30 days after recording of the loan closing documents or within 90 days after completion of the bona fide third-party service, whichever is earlier, unless otherwise agreed by the parties;

(e) accept any fees or compensation in excess of those allowed by state or federal law;

(f) sign a borrower's application or related documents on behalf of or in lieu of another mortgage broker, mortgage lender, or mortgage loan originator;

(g) assist or aid and abet any person in the conduct of business under this part without a valid license as required under this part;

(h) conduct any business covered by the provisions of the Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act, Title V of the Housing and Economic Recovery Act of 2008, Public Law 110-289, without holding a valid license as required under this part;

(i) fail to comply with this part or rules promulgated under this part or fail to comply with any other state or federal laws, including the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to those laws, applicable to any business authorized by or conducted under this part;

(j) fail to account for or deliver to any person any funds, documents, or other thing of value obtained in connection with a mortgage loan that the mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan originator is not entitled to retain under the circumstances;

(k) refuse to permit an investigation or examination of the mortgage broker's, mortgage lender's, mortgage servicer's, or mortgage loan originator's books and records or refuse to comply with a department subpoena or subpoena duces tecum;

(l) knowingly withhold, abstract, remove, mutilate, destroy, alter, or keep secret any books, records, computer records, or other information from the department; or

(m) negligently make any false statement or knowingly and willfully make any omission of material fact in connection with any information or reports filed with a government agency or the NMLS or in connection with any investigation conducted by the department or another governmental agency.

(2) Within 3 business days of taking an application, the mortgage loan originator working for a mortgage broker, in addition to other disclosures required by this part and other state and federal laws, shall provide to the borrower a written disclosure as prescribed by the department by rule.

(3) A mortgage broker or mortgage lender may not accept any fees or compensation that were not disclosed as required by state or federal law.

(4) A mortgage broker or mortgage lender may not charge or receive, directly or indirectly, fees for assisting a borrower in obtaining a mortgage until all of the services that the mortgage broker or mortgage lender has agreed to perform for the borrower are completed.

(5) A mortgage broker or mortgage lender may not charge or receive an amount in excess of the amount allowed by federal law. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-126. Revocation, suspension, conditioning, and reinstatement of licenses. (1) The department, upon giving a mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan originator licensee 14 days' written notice, which includes a statement of the grounds for the proposed suspension, conditioning, or revocation, and informing the licensee that the licensee has the right to be heard at an administrative hearing if requested by the licensee, may suspend, condition, or revoke a license if it finds that the licensee has violated any provision of this part or any rule adopted under this part.

(2) The license of a licensee that refuses to make documents and records relating to the operation of the licensee available upon request by the department must be summarily suspended.

(3) A revocation, suspension, or surrender of a license does not relieve the licensee from civil or criminal liability for acts committed prior to the revocation, suspension, or surrender of the license.

(4) The department may reinstate any suspended license if the suspended licensee has complied with all the reinstatement conditions set forth at the time the license was suspended and if the licensee is otherwise qualified to have the license reinstated.

(5) The department may by order vacate a revocation of a license and enter an appropriate order.

(6) The department may refuse to accept a licensee's offer to surrender a license under the following circumstances:

(a) a final order has been issued in an enforcement action and the licensee has not fully complied with the order regardless of whether compliance is yet due;

(b) the licensee has violated or is under investigation for a suspected violation of this part or any rule adopted under this part;

(c) there is an enforcement action or complaint pending against the licensee; or

(d) the licensee has not made arrangements satisfactory to the department regarding loans in process at the time of the offer of surrender.

(7) A revocation, suspension, or surrender of a license does not impair or affect the obligation of a preexisting lawful contract between the licensee and any person, including a borrower.

(8) In the event of a revoked, suspended, or surrendered mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan originator license, fees may not be refunded by the department. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 321, L. 2009.

32-9-128. Registration and registered agent of foreign entities — service of process — venue. (1) A foreign mortgage broker, mortgage lender, or mortgage servicer shall register to do business in this state as a foreign corporation, limited liability company, limited liability partnership, or limited partnership with the secretary of state.

(2) A foreign mortgage broker, mortgage lender, or mortgage servicer shall provide the name and address of its registered agent for service of process to the department in order to be licensed in this state and shall notify the department in writing within 5 days of a change in the licensee's registered agent's name or address.

(3) For purposes of this part, the department is considered to have complied with the requirements of law concerning service of process upon sending by common courier with tracking capability any notice required or permitted to a licensee under this part, postage prepaid and addressed to the last-known address of the licensee's registered agent for service of process on file with the department, the last-known address of the licensee on file with the department for an in-state licensee, or in the case of an unlicensed person, the last-known address of the person.

(4) In a judicial action, suit, or proceeding arising under this part or any administrative rule adopted pursuant to this part between the department and a licensee who does not maintain a physical office in this state, venue must be exclusively in Lewis and Clark County. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-129. Loan processors and underwriters. A person engaging in loan processor or underwriter activities may not represent to the public, through advertising or other means of communication, that the person can or will perform any of the activities of a mortgage loan originator. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-130. Department authority — rulemaking. (1) The department shall adopt rules necessary to carry out the intent and purposes of this part. The rules adopted are binding on all licensees and enforceable as provided under this part.

(2) The rules must address:

(a) revocation or suspension of licenses for cause;

(b) investigation of applicants, licensees, and unlicensed persons alleged to have violated a provision of this part and handling of complaints made by any person in connection with any business transacted by a licensee;

(c) (i) ensuring that all persons are informed of their right to contest a decision by the department under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act; and

(ii) holding contested case hearings pursuant to the Montana Administrative Procedure Act and issuing cease and desist orders, orders of restitution, and orders for the recovery of administrative costs; and

(d) establishing fees for license renewals.

(3) The department may adopt rules defining supervisory requirements for designated managers.

(4) The department may seek a writ or order restraining or enjoining, temporarily or permanently, any act or practice violating any provision of this part.

(5) (a) For the purposes of investigating violations or complaints arising under this part or for the purposes of examination, the department may review, investigate, or examine any licensee, service provider, or person subject to this part as often as necessary in order to carry out the purposes of this part.

(b) The commissioner of banking and financial institutions may direct, subpoena, or order the attendance of and may examine under oath any person whose testimony may be required about the subject matter of any examination or investigation and may direct, subpoena, or order the person to produce books, accounts, records, files, and any other documents the commissioner of banking and financial institutions considers relevant to the inquiry.

(6) Each licensee, service provider, or person subject to this part shall make available to the department upon request the documents and records relating to the operations of the licensee or person. The department may access the documents and records and may interview the officers, principals, mortgage loan originators, employees, independent contractors, service providers, agents, or customers of the licensee or person concerning the business of the licensee or person or any other person having knowledge that the department considers relevant.

(7) (a) The department may conduct investigations and examinations for the purposes of initial licensing, license renewal, license suspension, license conditioning, license revocation, or license termination or to determine compliance with this part.

(b) The department has the authority to access, receive, and use any books, accounts, records, files, documents, information, or evidence, including but not limited to:

(i) criminal, civil, and administrative history information, including confidential criminal justice information as defined in 44-5-103;

(ii) personal history and experience information, including independent credit reports obtained from a consumer reporting agency described in section 603(p) of the Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C. 1681, et seq.; and

(iii) any other documents, information, or evidence the department considers relevant to an inquiry or investigation regardless of the location, possession, control, or custody of the documents, information, or evidence.

(8) (a) The total cost for any examination or investigation of a service provider or unlicensed entity must be in accordance with fees determined by the department by rule pursuant to this section and may include expenses for necessary travel outside the state for the purposes of conducting the examination or investigation. The fees set by the department must be commensurate with the cost of the examination or investigation of the entity. All fees collected under this section must be deposited in the department's account in the state special revenue fund to be used by the department to cover the department's cost of conducting examinations and investigations.

(b) The cost of an examination or investigation must be paid by the unlicensed person or service provider within 30 days after the date of the invoice. A person may not be licensed until the cost of examination or investigation is paid.

(9) (a) The department may:

(i) exchange information with federal and state regulatory agencies, the attorney general, the attorney general's consumer protection office, and the legislative auditor;

(ii) exchange information other than confidential information with the mortgage asset research institute, inc., and other similar organizations; and

(iii) refer any matter to the appropriate law enforcement agency for prosecution of a violation of this part.

(b) To carry out the purposes of this section, the department may:

(i) enter into agreements or relationships with other government officials or regulatory associations to improve efficiencies and reduce the regulatory burden by sharing resources, adopting standardized or uniform methods or procedures, and sharing documents, records, information, or evidence obtained under this part, including agreements to maintain the confidentiality of information under laws, rules, or evidentiary privileges of another state, the federal government, or this state;

(ii) retain attorneys, accountants, or other professionals and specialists as examiners, auditors, or investigators to conduct or assist in the conduct of examinations or investigations;

(iii) use, hire, contract, or employ public or privately available analytical systems, methods, or software to examine or investigate the licensee or person subject to this part;

(iv) accept and rely on examination or investigation reports by other government officials, within or outside of this state, without the loss of any privileges or confidentiality protection afforded by state or federal laws, rules, or evidentiary privileges that cover those reports;

(v) accept audit reports made by an independent certified public accountant for the licensee or person subject to this part if the examination or investigation covers at least in part the same general subject matter as the audit report and may incorporate the audit report in the report of the examination, report of the investigation, or other writing of the department under this part; and

(vi) assess against the unlicensed person or service provider subject to this part the costs incurred by the department in conducting the examination or investigation.

(c) Except as provided in 32-9-160 and subsection (9)(a)(i) of this section, the department shall treat all confidential criminal justice information as confidential unless otherwise required by law.

(10) Pursuant to section 1508(d) of the Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act, Title V of the Housing and Economic Recovery Act of 2008, Public Law 110-289, the department is authorized to:

(a) supervise and enforce the provisions of this part, including the suspension, termination, revocation, or nonrenewal of a license for violation of state or federal law;

(b) participate in the NMLS;

(c) ensure that all mortgage broker, mortgage lender, and mortgage loan originator applicants under this part apply for state licensure and pay any required nonrefundable fees to and maintain a valid unique identifier issued by the NMLS; and

(d) regularly report violations of state or federal law and enforcement actions to the NMLS. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-132. Injunctions — receivers. (1) Whenever the department has reasonable cause to believe that any person is violating or is threatening to violate this part or a rule adopted under this part, the department may, in addition to all actions provided for in this part and without prejudice to those actions, seek an order requiring the person to desist or to refrain from the violation.

(2) An action may be brought by the department in the district court of the first judicial district, Lewis and Clark County, to enjoin the person from engaging in or continuing the violation or from doing any act or acts in furtherance of the violation. In any action, a preliminary or final injunction may be ordered as considered proper.

(3) In addition to all other means provided by law for the enforcement of a restraining order or injunction, the court in which the action is brought may impound and appoint a receiver for the property and business of the defendant, including books, papers, documents, or records pertaining to the property or business, or as much of the property or business as the court considers reasonably necessary to prevent violations of this part. The receiver, when appointed and qualified, has the powers and duties as to custody, collection, administration, winding up, and liquidation of the property and business that are conferred upon the receiver by the court.

32-9-133. Penalties — restitution. (1) If the department finds, after providing a 14-day written notice that includes a statement of alleged violations and a hearing or an opportunity for hearing, as provided in the Montana Administrative Procedure Act, that any person, licensee, service provider, or officer, agent, employee, or representative of the person or licensee, whether licensed or unlicensed, has violated any of the provisions of this part, has failed to comply with the rules, instructions, or orders promulgated by the department, has failed or refused to make required reports to the department, has furnished false information to the department, or has operated without a required license, the department may impose a civil penalty not to exceed $5,000 for the first violation and not to exceed $10,000 for each subsequent violation.

(2) The department may issue an order:

(a) requiring restitution;

(b) requiring reimbursement of the department's cost in bringing the administrative action; and

(c) revoking, conditioning, or suspending the right of the person or licensee, directly or through a service provider, officer, agent, employee, or representative, to do business in this state as a licensee or to engage in the mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan origination business.

(3) Any person who directly or indirectly controls an entity liable under subsection (1), any partner, officer, director, or person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions of the entity, and any person who participates or materially aids in the violation is liable jointly and severally with and to the same extent as the person committing the violation. In addition, each person committing the violation or aiding in the violation is jointly and severally liable if the person committing the violation or aiding in the violation knew or in the exercise of reasonable care should have known of the existence of the facts by reason of which the liability is alleged to exist. There must be contribution between or among the severally liable persons.

(4) The fines must be deposited in the department's account in the state special revenue fund and used to administer the provisions of this part. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-134. License renewal — rulemaking. (1) All persons licensed under this part are required to renew their licenses by December 31 of each year.

(2) A renewal application for a mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, or mortgage loan originator must demonstrate that:

(a) the licensee continues to meet the standards for licensure under this part;

(b) a mortgage loan originator has satisfied annual continuing education requirements pursuant to 32-9-118; and

(c) the licensee has paid all required fees for renewal of the license, all outstanding examination fees and investigation fees, and any civil penalties.

(3) Any license not renewed by December 31 expires on December 31. The department may adopt rules regarding requirements for renewal applications and the procedures for the reinstatement of expired licenses consistent with the standards established by the NMLS.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 125, L. 2013.

32-9-135. Independent contractor entity — responsible individual — loan processor or underwriter. (1) An independent contractor entity may not offer or engage in clerical or support duties with respect to any dwelling or residential real estate in this state unless the independent contractor entity obtains and maintains a valid mortgage broker license through the NMLS.

(2) An independent contractor entity shall apply for a mortgage broker license through the NMLS for its main office and for every branch office where clerical or support duties are conducted.

(3) An independent contractor entity shall designate a responsible individual for each main office and each branch office. The responsible individual must be an employee of the independent contractor entity.

(4) The responsible individual is responsible for the operation of the business at the responsible individual's place of employment under the responsible individual's full charge, supervision, and control.

(5) An independent contractor entity is responsible for the conduct and omissions of its employees, agents, and independent contractors, including for violations of federal or state laws, rules, or regulations.

(6) A responsible individual is responsible for conduct that violates federal or state laws, rules, or regulations. The responsible individual's responsibility includes conduct by the responsible individual and each employee and agent of the independent contractor entity at the location that the responsible individual manages.

(7) If the responsible individual ceases to act in that capacity, the independent contractor entity shall within 15 days designate as responsible individual another individual who is a licensed or registered mortgage loan originator and shall submit information to the NMLS establishing that the subsequent responsible individual is in compliance with the provisions of this part.

(8) If the employment of a responsible individual is terminated, the independent contractor entity shall remove the sponsorship of the responsible individual on the NMLS within 5 business days of the termination.

(9) An individual who is employed by an independent contractor entity and who performs only clerical or support duties and does so at the direction of and subject to the supervision and instruction of a responsible individual is not required to be licensed under this part.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 24, L. 2015.

32-9-136 through 32-9-140 reserved.

32-9-141. Investigations by department — subpoenas — oaths — examination of witnesses and evidence. (1) For the purposes of this part, the department or the department's authorized representatives must be given free access to the offices and places of business and files of all licensees and their service providers. The department may investigate any matter, upon complaint or otherwise, if it appears that a person has engaged in or offered to engage in any act or practice that is in violation of any provision of this part or any rule adopted or order issued by the department pursuant to this part.

(2) The department may issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents, papers, books, records, and other evidence before it in any matter over which it has jurisdiction, control, or supervision pertaining to this part. The department may administer oaths and affirmations to a person whose testimony is required.

(3) If a person refuses to obey a subpoena or to give testimony or produce evidence as required by the subpoena, a judge of the district court of Lewis and Clark County or the county in which the licensed premises are located may, upon application and proof of the refusal, issue a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum for the witness to appear before the department to give testimony and produce evidence as may be required. The clerk of court shall then issue the subpoena, as directed, under the seal of the court, requiring the person to whom it is directed to appear at the time and place designated in the subpoena.

(4) If a person served with a subpoena refuses to obey the subpoena or to give testimony or produce evidence as required by the subpoena, the department may proceed under the contempt provisions of Title 3, chapter 1, part 5.

(5) Failure to comply with the requirements of a court-ordered subpoena is punishable pursuant to 45-7-309.

32-9-142. Cease and desist orders. (1) If it appears to the department that a person has engaged in or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of any provision of this part or any rule adopted or order issued by the department pursuant to this part, the department may issue an order directing the person to cease and desist from continuing the act or practice after reasonable notice and opportunity for a hearing. The order may apply only to the alleged act or practice constituting a violation of this chapter. The department may issue a temporary order pending the hearing that:

(a) remains in effect until 10 days after the hearings examiner issues proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law and a proposed order; or

(b) becomes final if the person to whom notice is addressed does not request a hearing within 10 days after receipt of the notice.

(2) A violation of an order issued pursuant to this section is subject to the penalty provisions of this part.

32-9-145. Escrow fund. (1) An escrow fund authorized for any purpose by a mortgage loan contract is subject to applicable state and federal requirements. Money received from a borrower by a mortgage lender or mortgage servicer licensed under this part must be considered as held in trust immediately upon receipt. The mortgage lender or mortgage servicer shall place escrow funds in a depository institution prior to the end of the third business day following their receipt.

(2) An escrow fund account must be a separate account established to hold only borrowers' funds. The account must be designated and maintained for the benefit of borrowers. Escrow funds may not be commingled with any other funds.

(3) Escrow funds must be kept in the segregated account until disbursement. Money maintained in an escrow fund account is exempt from execution, attachment, or garnishment.

(4) A licensee may not encumber the corpus of an escrow fund account or commingle other operating funds with account funds.

(5) An escrow fund account may be used only for:

(a) a payment authorized by the borrower or the mortgage loan contract or required by federal or state law;

(b) a refund to the borrower;

(c) transfer to a depository institution;

(d) transfer to the appropriate mortgage lender or mortgage servicer in the case of a transfer of servicing;

(e) a purpose authorized by the mortgage loan contract; or

(f) purposes of complying with an order issued by the commissioner or a court.

(6) Accounting for escrow funds must be performed in compliance with the aggregate accounting rules established in regulation X, 24 CFR 3500, and in compliance with 71-1-115. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 321, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 32, Ch. 317, L. 2011.

32-9-146 and 32-9-147 reserved.

32-9-148. Disclosure of mortgage costs by mortgage lender. (1) A mortgage lender shall disclose the terms of the loan to the borrower in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the federal Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act of 1974, 12 U.S.C. 2601, et seq., the federal Truth in Lending Act, 15 U.S.C. 1601, et seq., and any regulations promulgated under those acts.

(2) A mortgage lender shall disclose the terms of any prepayment penalty on the mortgage loan, including the amount of the prepayment penalty or the formula for calculating the prepayment penalty. A mortgage lender shall comply with federal laws and rules regarding prepayment penalties.

(3) A licensed mortgage lender may not require a borrower to pay any fees or charges prior to the mortgage loan closing, except:

(a) charges to be incurred by the mortgage lender on behalf of the borrower for services from third parties necessary to process the application, such as credit reports and appraisals;

(b) an application fee;

(c) an interest rate lock-in fee if the borrower is provided an interest rate lock-in agreement, the terms of which must include but are not limited to:

(i) the expiration date of the interest rate lock-in agreement;

(ii) the principal amount of the mortgage loan, the term of the mortgage loan, and identification of the residential real estate;

(iii) the initial interest rate and the discount points to be paid; and

(iv) the amounts and payment terms of the interest rate lock-in, along with a statement as to whether the fee is refundable and the terms and conditions necessary to obtain a refund; and

(d) a loan commitment fee, upon approval of the mortgage loan application, if the borrower is provided with a loan commitment in writing that is signed by the mortgage lender and the borrower and the terms include the terms and conditions of the mortgage loan as well as the terms and conditions of the loan commitment, including but not limited to:

(i) the time period during which the loan commitment is irrevocable and may be accepted by the borrower, which may not be less than 7 calendar days from the date of the loan commitment or the date of mailing, whichever is later;

(ii) the amount and payment terms of the loan commitment fee, along with a statement as to whether the fee is refundable and the terms and conditions necessary to obtain a refund;

(iii) the expiration date of the loan commitment;

(iv) conditions precedent to closing; and

(v) the terms and conditions, if any, for obtaining a refund of fees for third-party services or arranging for the transfer of third-party service work products to another mortgage lender.

(4) Any amount collected under subsection (3) in excess of the actual costs must be returned to the borrower within 60 days after rejection, withdrawal, or closing.

(5) (a) Except as provided in subsection (5)(b), fees or charges collected pursuant to this section, other than fees for third-party services collected pursuant to subsection (3)(a), must be refunded if a valid loan commitment is not produced or if closing does not occur.

(b) Applicable fees may be retained by the licensee in accordance with the terms of the loan commitment upon the licensee's ability to demonstrate any of the following:

(i) the borrower withdraws the mortgage loan application after the lender has issued a loan commitment on the same terms and conditions disclosed to the borrower on the most recent good faith estimate;

(ii) the borrower has made a material misrepresentation or omission on the mortgage loan application; or

(iii) the borrower has failed to provide documentation necessary to the processing or closing of the mortgage loan application and closing does not occur without fault of the lender. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 321, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 33, Ch. 317, L. 2011.

32-9-149. Use of name — advertising. (1) A licensee engaged in a business regulated by this part may not operate under a name other than the name licensed by the department.

(2) A licensee may not:

(a) advertise that an applicant has unqualified access to credit without disclosing that material limitations on the availability of credit may exist, such as the percentage required as a down payment, that a higher interest rate or points could be required, or that restrictions as to the maximum principal amount of the mortgage loan offered could apply;

(b) advertise a mortgage loan with a prevailing interest rate indicated in the advertisement unless the advertisement specifically states that the interest rate could change or not be available at the time of commitment or closing;

(c) advertise mortgage loans, including interest rates, margins, discounts, points, fees, commissions, or other material information, including material limitations on the mortgage loans, unless the licensee is able to make or broker the offered mortgage loans to a reasonable number of qualified applicants;

(d) engage in false, deceptive, or misleading advertising; or

(e) falsely advertise or misuse names in violation of 18 U.S.C. 709.

(3) The department may adopt rules to define false, deceptive, or misleading advertising.

(4) In any printed, published, e-mail, or internet advertisement for the provision of services, the following information must be included:

(a) a name and unique identifier for a mortgage loan originator advertising as an individual; or

(b) the name and unique identifier only of the licensed entity when the licensed entity is advertising on its own behalf or as an entity with one or more mortgage loan originators listed.

(5) The department may adopt rules to establish requirements for licensee advertising using the internet or any electronic format.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 125, L. 2013; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 65, L. 2019.

32-9-150. Unique identifier for mortgage brokers, mortgage lenders, mortgage servicers, mortgage loan originators, and registered mortgage loan originators. (1) Each licensed mortgage broker, mortgage lender, mortgage servicer, and mortgage loan originator shall post the mortgage broker's, mortgage lender's, mortgage servicer's, or mortgage loan originator's unique identifier in a conspicuous place within the office where the licensee principally transacts business.

(2) The department shall provide a link to the consumer access portion of the NMLS on the department's website. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 321, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 35, Ch. 317, L. 2011; amd. Sec. 25, Ch. 125, L. 2013.

32-9-151. Mortgage call reports. (1) Each licensee shall submit to the NMLS reports of condition, which must be in the form and must contain information that the NMLS may require.

(2) Each mortgage loan originator shall ensure that all residential mortgage loans that close as a result of the mortgage loan originator's loan origination activities are included in the report of condition submitted to the NMLS. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

History: En. Sec. 29, Ch. 321, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 36, Ch. 317, L. 2011; amd. Sec. 26, Ch. 125, L. 2013.

32-9-152. Electronic record as original document. Any document or record that is required to be signed and that is filed in this state as an electronic record through the NMLS and any other electronic record filed through the NMLS must be considered a valid original document upon reproduction to paper form by the department.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 125, L. 2013.

32-9-153 and 32-9-154 reserved.

32-9-155. Nationwide mortgage licensing system information challenge process. The department shall establish a process under which mortgage brokers, mortgage lenders, mortgage servicers, and mortgage loan originators may challenge information entered into the NMLS by the department. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 321, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 27, Ch. 125, L. 2013.

32-9-156 through 32-9-159 reserved.

32-9-160. Confidentiality. (1) (a) Except as otherwise provided in section 1512 of the Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act, Title V of the Housing and Economic Recovery Act of 2008, Public Law 110-289, the requirements under federal law, the Montana constitution, or Montana law regarding the privacy or confidentiality of any information or material provided to the NMLS and any privilege arising under federal or state law, including the rules of a federal or state court, pertaining to the information or material continue to apply to the information or material after the information or material has been disclosed to the NMLS.

(b) Confidential supervisory information and material may be shared with all state and federal financial services regulatory agencies and with the board of governors of the federal reserve system without the loss of confidentiality protections or the loss of privilege provided by federal law, the Montana constitution, or Montana law.

(2) The department may disclose to a licensee information about a service provider of the licensee.

(3) The department may enter into agreements or sharing arrangements with other governmental agencies, the conference of state bank supervisors, the American association of residential mortgage regulators, or associations representing governmental agencies as established by rule of the department.

(4) Information or material subject to confidentiality or a privilege under subsection (1) is not subject to:

(a) disclosure under a federal or state law governing disclosure to the public of information held by an officer or an agency of the federal government or the respective state; or

(b) subpoena, discovery, or admission into evidence in any private civil action or administrative process unless, with respect to any privilege held by the NMLS concerning the information or material, the person to whom the information or material pertains waives, in whole or in part, that privilege.

(5) Montana law relating to the disclosure of confidential supervisory information or information or material described in subsection (1) that is inconsistent with subsection (1) is superseded by the requirements of section 1512 of the Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act, Title V of the Housing and Economic Recovery Act of 2008, Public Law 110-289.

(6) Confidential supervisory information is not subject to public inspection, subpoena, or discovery.

(7) This section does not apply to information or material relating to the employment history of and publicly adjudicated disciplinary and enforcement actions against mortgage brokers, mortgage lenders, mortgage servicers, and mortgage loan originators included in the NMLS that is available for public access. (See part compiler's comment regarding contingent suspension.)

32-9-161 through 32-9-164 reserved.

32-9-165. Types of licenses. (1) The four types of licenses under this part are mortgage broker licenses, mortgage lender licenses, mortgage servicer licenses, and mortgage loan originator licenses.

(2) A mortgage broker license may be issued to an entity that meets the requirements of 32-9-112, 32-9-113, 32-9-116, 32-9-117, 32-9-122, and 32-9-123 and employs at least one Montana-licensed mortgage loan originator.

(3) A mortgage lender license may be issued to an entity that meets the requirements of 32-9-112, 32-9-113, 32-9-116, 32-9-117, 32-9-122, and 32-9-123 and employs at least one Montana-licensed mortgage loan originator.

(4) A mortgage servicer license may be issued to an entity that meets the requirements of 32-9-112, 32-9-113, 32-9-117, and 32-9-123.

(5) A mortgage loan originator license may be issued to an individual who meets the requirements of 32-9-107, 32-9-109, 32-9-110, 32-9-112, 32-9-116, and 32-9-117 and is sponsored by a Montana-licensed mortgage broker or mortgage lender.

(6) A de novo inactive license may be issued to a mortgage loan originator that has met all the requirements for licensure except sponsorship.

(7) A de novo inactive license may be issued to an entity that has met all the requirements for licensure except employment of at least one Montana-licensed mortgage loan originator.

(8) Business may not be conducted under a de novo inactive license.

(9) A Montana-licensed entity may have one or more branch offices if the entity meets the requirements of 32-9-122 and has paid the fee required under 32-9-117.

(10) Licenses under this part may not be assigned or transferred.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 317, L. 2011; amd. Sec. 29, Ch. 125, L. 2013.

32-9-166. Reports. (1) A licensee shall file a written report with the department through the NMLS within 30 business days of any material change to the information provided in a licensee's application.

(2) A licensee shall file a written report with the department within 1 business day after the licensee has reason to know of the occurrence of any of the following:

(a) the filing of a petition by or against the licensee under the United States Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C. 101, et seq., for bankruptcy or reorganization;

(b) the filing of a petition by or against the licensee for receivership, the commencement of any other judicial or administrative proceeding for the licensee's dissolution or reorganization, or the making of a general assignment for the benefit of the licensee's creditors;

(c) the licensee's decision to cease doing business for any reason;

(d) the commencement of a proceeding to revoke or suspend the licensee's license in a state in which the licensee engages in business or is licensed;

(e) the cancellation or other impairment of the licensee's or an exempt company's bond; or

(f) a felony conviction of the licensee, employee of a licensee, or control person of a licensee.

(3) A licensee shall file a written report with the department through the NMLS within 15 business days after the licensee has reason to know of the occurrence of any of the following:

(a) fraud, theft, or conversion by a borrower against the licensee;

(b) fraud, theft, or conversion by a licensee;

(c) fraud, theft, or conversion by an employee or independent contractor of a licensee;

(d) violation of a provision of 32-9-124;

(e) the discharge of any employee or termination of an independent contractor for dishonest or fraudulent acts;

(f) any administrative, civil, or criminal action initiated against the licensee or any of its control persons by any government entity; or

(g) a cybersecurity incident that affects the licensee's ability to do business or involves access or potential access to a customer's personal information.

(4) (a) In the absence of malice, fraud, or bad faith, a person may not be subjected to civil liability arising from the filing of a complaint with the department or furnishing of other information required by this section or required by the department under the authority granted in this section.

(b) In the absence of malice, fraud, or bad faith, a civil cause of action of any nature may not be brought against a person for any information:

(i) relating to suspected prohibited acts and furnished to or received from law enforcement officials, their agents, or employees or furnished to or received from other regulatory or licensing authorities;

(ii) furnished to or received from other persons subject to the provisions of this part; or

(iii) furnished in complaints filed with the department.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 317, L. 2011; amd. Sec. 14, Ch. 24, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 14, Ch. 4, L. 2023.

32-9-167. Change of control. (1) Without the prior approval of the department, it is unlawful for an action to be taken that results in a change of control of an entity licensed under this part. Prior to a change of control of a licensed entity, a person seeking to acquire control shall apply for an amendment to the license or a new license as required by the NMLS and pay all applicable fees.

(2) The department shall approve or disapprove the application for an amendment or new license in accordance with the provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 317, L. 2011; amd. Sec. 30, Ch. 125, L. 2013.

32-9-168. Mortgage lender prohibitions. A mortgage lender may not:

(1) cause or require a borrower to obtain property insurance coverage in an amount that exceeds the replacement cost of the improvements as established by the property insurer;

(2) disburse the mortgage loan proceeds to a closing agent in any form other than, as applicable:

(a) direct deposit to a borrower's account;

(b) wire transfer;

(c) bank or certified check;

(d) attorney's check drawn on a trust account; or

(e) other form as specifically authorized by applicable law;

(3) disburse the proceeds of a mortgage loan without sufficient collected funds on hand at the time of the disbursement in the account upon which the funds are drawn;

(4) fail to disburse funds in accordance with a loan commitment to make a mortgage loan that was accepted by the borrower;

(5) fail to take the actions required to effect a release of the lender's security interest in the property as described in 71-1-212;

(6) advertise that a mortgage applicant will have unqualified access to credit without disclosing what material limitations on the availability of credit exist, such as the percentage of downpayment required, that a higher rate or points could be required, or that restrictions as to the maximum principal amount of the mortgage loan offered could apply;

(7) advertise a mortgage loan for which a prevailing rate is indicated in the advertisement unless the advertisement specifically states that the expressed rate could change or not be available at commitment or closing;

(8) advertise mortgage loans, including rates, margins, discounts, points, fees, commissions, or other material information, including material limitations on mortgage loans, unless the person is able to make advertised mortgage loans to a reasonable number of qualified applicants; or

(9) falsely advertise or misuse names in violation of 18 U.S.C. 709 or 32-1-402.

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 317, L. 2011.

32-9-169. Mortgage servicer prohibitions. A mortgage servicer may not:

(1) fail to comply with the mortgage loan servicing transfer, escrow account administration, or borrower inquiry response requirements imposed by the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act of 1974, 12 U.S.C. 2601, et seq., and regulations adopted under that act;

(2) fail to comply with applicable state and federal laws, rules, and regulations related to mortgage servicing;

(3) fail to provide written notice to a borrower upon taking action to place hazard, homeowner's, or flood insurance on the mortgaged property or to place the insurance when the mortgage servicer knows or has reason to know that there is insurance in effect;

(4) place hazard, homeowner's, or flood insurance on a mortgaged property for an amount that exceeds either the value of the insurable improvements or the last-known coverage amount of insurance;

(5) fail to provide to the borrower a refund of unearned premiums paid by a borrower or charged to the borrower for hazard, homeowner's, or flood insurance placed by a mortgage lender or mortgage servicer if the borrower provides reasonable proof that the borrower has obtained coverage so that the forced placement is no longer necessary and the property is insured. If the borrower provides reasonable proof within 12 months of the placement that no lapse in coverage occurred so that the forced placement was not necessary, the mortgage servicer shall refund the entire premium.

(6) fail to make all payments from any escrow account held for the borrower for insurance, taxes, and other charges with respect to the property in a timely manner so as to ensure that late penalties are not assessed or other negative consequences do not result regardless of whether the loan is delinquent unless there are not sufficient funds in the account to cover the payments and the mortgage servicer has a reasonable basis to believe that recovery of the funds will not be possible.

32-9-170. Mortgage servicer duties. In addition to any duties imposed by federal law or regulations or the common law, a mortgage servicer shall:

(1) safeguard and account for any money handled for the borrower;

(2) follow reasonable and lawful instructions from the borrower;

(3) act with reasonable skill, care, and diligence;

(4) comply with the servicing standards set by the department by rule;

(5) file with the department a complete, current schedule of the ranges of costs and fees the mortgage servicer charges borrowers for servicing-related activities with the mortgage servicer's application and with any supplemental filings made as often as the schedule of costs and fees is amended;

(6) file with the department upon request a report in a form and format set forth by the department by rule detailing the mortgage servicer's activities in this state;

(7) at the time the mortgage servicer accepts assignment of servicing rights for a mortgage loan, disclose any notice required under federal law or regulation; and

(8) in the event of a delinquency or other act of default on the part of the borrower, act in good faith to inform the borrower of the facts concerning the loan and the nature and extent of the delinquency or default and, if the borrower replies, negotiate with the borrower, subject to the mortgage servicer's duties and obligations under the mortgage servicing contract, if any, to attempt a resolution or workout pertaining to the delinquency or default.

32-9-171. Repealed. Sec. 15, Ch. 4, L. 2023.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 65, L. 2019.

32-9-172. Mortgage lender net worth requirement. (1) A mortgage lender shall continuously maintain the minimum net worth required by this section.

(2) A mortgage lender must have a minimum net worth of $250,000 and submit evidence that establishes compliance with this section. Evidence of net worth must include submission of recent financial statements accompanied by a written statement by an independent certified public accountant attesting that the accountant has reviewed the financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

(3) If the net worth of a mortgage lender falls below the minimum net worth set forth in subsection (2), the licensee shall provide a plan, subject to approval of the department, to increase the licensee's net worth to an amount in conformance with this section. Submission of a plan under this section must be made within 30 business days of service of a notice from the department that the licensee is not in compliance with subsection (2). A plan that is not timely submitted or that is not approved by the department may result in denial of the application, issuance of a cease and desist order, license suspension, or license revocation.

(4) Maintenance of the minimum net worth specified under this section is a requirement for continued licensure. Failure to meet or maintain the minimum net worth standards under this part may constitute grounds for the denial of an application, issuance of a cease and desist order, license suspension, or license revocation.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 65, L. 2019.

32-9-173. Requirements for remote work. (1) Mortgage business may be conducted at a remote work location if:

(a) the licensed mortgage entity's employees and independent contractors do not meet with the public at an unlicensed personal residence;

(b) no physical or electronic business records are maintained at the remote location;

(c) the licensed mortgage entity has written policies and procedures for working remotely and the entity supervises and enforces the policies and procedures;

(d) no signage or advertising of the entity or the mortgage loan originator is displayed at any remote work location;

(e) the licensed mortgage entity maintains the computer system and customer information in accordance with the entity's information technology security plan and all state and federal laws;

(f) any device used to engage in mortgage business has appropriate security, encryption, and device management controls to ensure the security and confidentiality of customer information as required by rules and regulations adopted by the department;

(g) the licensed mortgage entity's employees and independent contractors take reasonable precautions to protect confidential information in accordance with state and federal laws;

(h) the NMLS record of a mortgage loan originator that works remotely designates a properly licensed location as the mortgage loan originator's official workstation and a designated manager as a supervisor; and

(i) the licensed mortgage entity annually reviews and certifies that the employees and independent contractors engaged in mortgage business at a remote location meet the requirements of this section. Upon request, a licensee shall provide written documentation of the licensee's review to the department.

(2) If the commissioner determines that the licensee does not provide reasonable and adequate supervision of the employee, the commissioner shall notify the licensee in writing and within 5 business days of receiving the notice the licensee shall terminate the employee's eligibility to work remotely as provided under this section.

(3) The department shall adopt rules to implement this section.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 4, L. 2023.

Part 2
Nonbank Mortgage Servicers

32-9-201. Definitions. As used in this part, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Allowable assets for liquidity" means those assets that may be used to satisfy the liquidity requirements in this part, including unrestricted cash and cash equivalents and unencumbered investment grade assets held for sale or trade.

(2) "Corporate governance" means the structure of an institution and how it is managed, including the corporate rules, policies, processes, and practices used to oversee and manage the institution.

(3) "Covered institution" means a nonbank servicer:

(a) with servicing portfolios of 2,000 or more 1- to 4-unit residential mortgage loans serviced or subserviced for others, excluding whole loans owned, and loans being interim serviced prior to sale as of the most recent calendar year end, reported in the NMLS mortgage call report; and

(b) that operates in two or more states, districts, or territories of the United States either currently or as of the prior calendar year end.

(4) "Department" means the department of administration provided for in 2-15-1001, acting through its division of banking and financial institutions.

(5) "External audit" means the formal report prepared by an independent certified public accountant expressing an opinion on whether the financial statements are presented fairly in all material aspects in accordance with the applicable financial reporting framework, and is inclusive of an evaluation of the adequacy of a company's internal control structure.

(6) "GSE" means government-sponsored enterprises, the federal national mortgage association, or the federal home loan mortgage corporation.

(7) "Interim serviced prior to sale" means the activity of collecting a limited number of contractual mortgage payments immediately after origination on loans held for sale but prior to the loans being sold into the secondary market.

(8) "Internal audit" means the internal activity of performing independent, objective assurance and consulting to evaluate and improve the effectiveness of company operations, risk management, internal controls, and governance processes.

(9) "Licensee" has the same meaning as provided in 32-9-103.

(10) "Mortgage" has the same meaning as provided in 32-9-103.

(11) "Mortgage call report" means the quarterly or annual report of residential real estate loan origination, servicing, and financial information completed by companies licensed in NMLS.

(12) "Mortgage servicing rights" means the contractual right to service residential mortgage loans on behalf of the owner of the associated mortgage in exchange for specified compensation in accordance with the servicing contract.

(13) "Mortgage servicing rights investor" means entities that invest in and own mortgage servicing rights and rely on subservicers to administer the loans on their behalf.

(14) "Mortgage-backed security" means financial instruments, often debt securities, collateralized by residential mortgages.

(15) "Operating liquidity" means the funds necessary to perform normal business operations, such as payment of rent, salaries, interest expense, and other typical expenses associated with operating the entity.

(16) "Residential mortgage loan" means a loan primarily for personal, family, or household use secured by a mortgage, deed of trust, or other equivalent consensual security interest on a dwelling or on residential real estate located in Montana.

(17) "Residential mortgage loans serviced" means the specific portfolio or portfolios of residential mortgage loans for which a licensee is contractually responsible to the owner or owners of the mortgage loans for the defined servicing activities.

(18) "Reverse mortgage" means a loan collateralized by real estate, typically made to borrowers over 55 years of age, that does not require contractual monthly payments and is typically repaid upon the death of the borrower through the sale of the home or refinance by the heirs.

(19) "Risk management" means the policies and procedures designed to identify, measure, monitor, and mitigate risk sufficient for the level of sophistication of the servicer.

(20) "Servicer" means the entity performing the routine administration of residential mortgage loans on behalf of the owner or owners of the related mortgages under the terms of a servicing contract.

(21) "Servicing liquidity" or "liquidity" means the financial resources necessary to manage liquidity risk arising from servicing functions required in acquiring and financing mortgage servicing rights, hedging costs, including margin calls, associated with the mortgage servicing rights asset and financing facilities, and advances or costs of advance financing for principal, interest, taxes, insurance, and any other servicing related advances.

(22) "Subservicer" means the entity performing the routine administration of residential mortgage loans as agent of a servicer or under the terms of a subservicing contract.

(23) "Subservicing for others" means the contractual activities performed by subservicers on behalf of a servicer or mortgage servicing rights investor.

(24) "Unencumbered investment grade assets held for sale or trade" means agency mortgage-backed securities, obligations of GSEs, and U.S. treasury obligations.

(25) "Whole loans" mean those loans for which a mortgage and the underlying credit risk is owned and held on balance sheet of the entity with all ownership rights.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 4, L. 2023.

32-9-202. Applicability — exclusions. (1) This part is applicable to covered institutions. For entities within a holding company or affiliated group of companies, applicability is at the covered institution level.

(2) The following exclusions apply:

(a) This part does not apply to not-for-profit servicers or housing finance agencies.

(b) Section 32-9-206 does not apply to servicers solely owning or conducting reverse mortgage servicing, or the reverse mortgage portfolio administered by covered institutions or the whole loan portion of portfolios.

(c) A servicer with 25 or fewer loans, a servicer that is wholly owned and controlled by one or more depository institutions regulated by a state or federal banking agency, or a servicer that is also licensed as an escrow business may apply to the department to waive or adjust one or more of the financial condition requirements in 32-9-206. In considering such a request, the department shall consider whether the servicer has a positive net worth and adequate operating reserves.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 4, L. 2023.

32-9-203 through 32-9-205 reserved.

32-9-206. Financial condition of servicers. (1) A covered institution shall maintain capital and liquidity in compliance with this section.

(2) For the purposes of complying with the capital and liquidity requirements of this section, all financial data must be determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

(3) A covered institution that meets the federal housing finance agency eligibility requirements for enterprise single-family seller/servicers for capital, net worth ratio, and liquidity, regardless of whether the servicer is approved for GSE servicing, meets the requirements of subsections (1) and (2).

(4) Covered institutions shall maintain written policies and procedures implementing the capital and servicing liquidity requirements as set by the department by rule.

(5) Covered institutions shall maintain sufficient allowable assets for liquidity, in addition to the amounts required for servicing liquidity, to cover normal business operations.

(6) Covered institutions shall have in place sound cash management and business operating plans as set by the department by rule.

(7) Covered institutions shall develop, establish, and implement plans, policies, and procedures for maintaining operating liquidity sufficient for the ongoing needs of the institution. The department shall set further requirements for operating liquidity by rule.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 4, L. 2023.

32-9-207. Corporate governance of servicers. Covered institutions shall establish and maintain corporate governance standards as set by the department by rule. The standards must include internal and external audits and risk management.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 4, L. 2023.

32-9-208. Authority of department regarding servicers. (1) If risk is determined by a formal review of a specific covered institution to be extremely high, the department may order or direct the institution to satisfy additional conditions necessary to ensure that the institution will continue to operate in a safe and sound manner and be able to continue to service loans in compliance with state and federal law and regulation.

(2) If risk is determined by a formal review of a specific covered institution or institutions to be extremely low, the department may provide notice to the institution or institutions that all or part of this part is not applicable to those covered institutions.

(3) Whenever economic, environmental, or societal events are determined to be of such severity to warrant a temporary suspension of all or certain sections of this part, the department may provide public notice by proclamation of a temporary suspension.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 4, L. 2023.

32-9-209. Rulemaking. The department shall adopt rules necessary to carry out the intent and purposes of this part. In adopting rules under this part, the department shall use the final model state regulatory prudential standards for nonbank mortgage servicers in effect at the time of rulemaking as published by the conference of state bank supervisors.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 4, L. 2023.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-1-101. Short title. This title constitutes the "Montana Insurance Code".
History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2601; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 77, L. 1979.

33-1-102. Compliance required — exceptions — health service corporations — health maintenance organizations — governmental insurance programs — service contracts. (1) A person may not transact a business of insurance in Montana or a business relative to a subject resident, located, or to be performed in Montana without complying with the applicable provisions of this code.

(2) The provisions of this code do not apply with respect to:

(a) domestic farm mutual insurers as identified in chapter 4, except as stated in chapter 4;

(b) domestic benevolent associations as identified in chapter 6, except as stated in chapter 6;

(c) fraternal benefit societies, except as stated in chapter 7; and

(d) direct agreements between a health care provider or health care facility as defined in 50-12-102 and a patient for the provision of an experimental treatment or services related to the provision of an experimental treatment.

(3) This code applies to health service corporations as prescribed in 33-30-102. The existence of the corporations is governed by Title 35, chapter 2, and related sections of the Montana Code Annotated.

(4) This code does not apply to health maintenance organizations to the extent that the existence and operations of those organizations are governed by chapter 31.

(5) This code does not apply to workers' compensation insurance programs provided for in Title 39, chapter 71, part 21, and related sections.

(6) The department of public health and human services may limit the amount, scope, and duration of services for programs established under Title 53 that are provided under contract by entities subject to this title. The department of public health and human services may establish more restrictive eligibility requirements and fewer services than may be required by this title.

(7) This code does not apply to the state employee group insurance program established in Title 2, chapter 18, part 8, or the Montana university system group benefits plans established in Title 20, chapter 25, part 13.

(8) This code does not apply to insurance funded through the state self-insurance reserve fund provided for in 2-9-202.

(9) (a) Except as otherwise provided in Title 33, chapters 22 and 28, this code does not apply to any arrangement, plan, or interlocal agreement between political subdivisions of this state in which the political subdivisions undertake to separately or jointly indemnify one another by way of a pooling, joint retention, deductible, or self-insurance plan.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in Title 33, chapter 22, this code does not apply to any arrangement, plan, or interlocal agreement between political subdivisions of this state or any arrangement, plan, or program of a single political subdivision of this state in which the political subdivision provides to its officers, elected officials, or employees disability insurance or life insurance through a self-funded program.

(10) This code does not apply to the marketing of, sale of, offering for sale of, issuance of, making of, proposal to make, and administration of a service contract governed by Title 30, chapter 14, part 13.

(11) (a) Subject to 33-18-201 and 33-18-242, this code does not apply to insurance for ambulance services sold by a county, city, or town or to insurance sold by a third party if the county, city, or town is liable for the financial risk under the contract with the third party as provided in 7-34-103.

(b) If the financial risk for ambulance service insurance is with an entity other than the county, city, or town, the entity is subject to the provisions of this code.

(12) This code does not apply to the self-insured student health plan established in Title 20, chapter 25, part 14.

(13) Except as provided in 33-2-2212, this code does not apply to private air ambulance services that are in compliance with 50-6-320 and that solicit membership subscriptions, accept membership applications, charge membership fees, and provide air ambulance services to subscription members and designated members of their households.

(14) This code does not apply to guaranteed asset protection waivers that are governed by Title 30, chapter 14, part 22, or to vehicle theft protection products or vehicle theft protection product warranties that are governed by Title 30, chapter 14, part 13.

(15) This code does not apply to direct patient care agreements established pursuant to 50-4-107.

(16) This code does not apply to a health care sharing ministry that meets the requirements of 50-4-111.

(17) This code does not apply to a regulatory sandbox waiver, except as otherwise specified by the commissioner or as provided in 33-2-2501. (Subsection (17) terminates July 30, 2029—sec. 5, Ch. 546, L. 2023.)

33-1-110. Limitations of provider agreements. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a provider who has entered into a provider agreement with a person as defined in 33-1-202 is not required to provide a discount or accept payment at the rate agreed to in the provider agreement for health care services that are provided to an insured individual if the payment for the services is made directly or indirectly or is otherwise required to be made:

(a) under casualty insurance as described in 33-1-206; or

(b) under property insurance as described in 33-1-210.

(2) Insurance payments made to a provider of health care services under subsection (1) must be paid according to the terms of the applicable policy or in accordance with any written agreement or contract existing between the provider and the insurer or a person contractually engaged by the insurer to perform services or an insurance function for the insurer. This section does not prohibit negotiations regarding the amount of the billed charges or a reasonable request for additional information or documents in order to evaluate the claim.

(3) An insurer making payment on a claim under a disability insurance policy, member contract, health benefit plan, group health plan, blanket disability insurance policy as defined in 33-22-601, or other medical coverage shall credit toward satisfaction of the insured's deductible, copayment, or coinsurance, if any, any payment made by a casualty or property insurer but only if the payment to be credited is applied to a covered medical expense under the terms of the applicable health policy.

(4) The provisions of this section apply regardless of whether the insured may be considered a third-party beneficiary of the provider agreement.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 420, L. 2013.

33-1-111. Eligibility requirements of health insurance issuers. (1) As a condition of doing business in the state of Montana, a health insurance issuer, a multiple employer welfare arrangement, a third-party administrator, a health maintenance organization, a pharmacy benefit manager, a health services corporation, or any other party that by statute, contract, or agreement is legally responsible for payment of a claim for a health care item or service shall:

(a) upon request, provide to the department of public health and human services eligibility information for individuals who are eligible for or receiving medicaid, including but not limited to:

(i) data to determine during what period the medicaid recipient or medicaid-eligible individual or the spouse or dependents of the recipient or eligible individual may be or may have been covered by any of the entities listed in this section; and

(ii) data regarding the nature of the coverage that is or was provided, including but not limited to the name, address, and identifying information of the entity providing coverage;

(b) respond to any inquiry from the department of public health and human services regarding a claim for payment for any health care item or service submitted not later than 3 years after the date the item or service was provided;

(c) accept the department of public health and human services' right of recovery and the assignment from the medicaid recipient to the department of public health and human services of any right of an individual or other entity to payment from any of the entities listed in this section for an item or service for which medicaid has paid; and

(d) agree not to deny a claim submitted by the department of public health and human services solely on the basis of the date of submission of the claim, the type or format of the claim form, the failure to obtain prior authorization for the item or service pursuant to the third party payer's rules, or a failure to present proper documentation at the point of sale that is the basis of the claim if:

(i) the claim is submitted by the department of public health and human services within the 3-year period beginning on the date on which the service or item was provided; and

(ii) any action by the department of public health and human services to enforce its rights with respect to the claim is commenced within 6 years after the department submitted the claim.

(2) This section may not be construed to:

(a) require that a third party pay any claim by the department of public health and human services for services or items that are not covered under the applicable health care plan;

(b) require that any third-party administrator, fiscal intermediary, or other contractor pay a claim by the department of public health and human services from its own funds unless the entity also bears the financial obligation for the claim under the applicable plan documents;

(c) impose any liability on an entity to pay claims that the entity does not otherwise bear; or

(d) negate any right of indemnification against a plan sponsor or other entity with ultimate liability for health care claims by a third-party administrator, fiscal intermediary, or other contractor that pays the claims.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 249, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 53, Ch. 2, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 138, L. 2025.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 1, Ch. 138, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-1-112 through 33-1-114 reserved.

33-1-115. Operation of state fund as authorized insurer — issuance of certificate of authority — exceptions — use of calendar year — risk-based capital — reporting requirements. (1) The state fund provided for in 39-71-2313 is an authorized insurer and, except as provided in this section, is subject to the provisions in Title 33 that are generally applicable to authorized workers' compensation insurers in this state and the provisions of Title 39, chapter 71, part 23.

(2) (a) The commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority to the state fund to write workers' compensation insurance coverages, as provided in 39-71-2316, and except as otherwise provided in this section the requirements of Title 33, chapter 2, part 1, do not apply. The certificate of authority must be continuously renewed by the commissioner.

(b) The state fund shall pay the annual fee under 33-2-708, provide the surplus funds required under 33-2-109 and 33-2-110, and provide to the commissioner the available documentation and information that is provided by other insurers when applying for a certificate of authority under 33-2-115.

(c) The state fund is subject to the reporting requirements under 33-2-705 but is not subject to the tax on net premiums.

(3) (a) The state fund, as the guaranteed market for workers' compensation insurance for employers pursuant to 39-71-2313, is not subject to:

(i) formation requirements of an insurer under Title 33, chapter 3;

(ii) revocation or suspension of its certificate of authority under any provision of Title 33 or any order or any provision that requires forfeiture of the state fund's obligation to insure employers as required in 39-71-2313;

(iii) liquidation or dissolution under Title 33;

(iv) participation in the guaranty association provided for in Title 33, chapter 10;

(v) 33-12-104; or

(vi) any assessment of punitive or exemplary damages.

(b) The state fund is subject to 33-16-1023, except as provided in 39-71-2316(1)(e), (1)(f), and (1)(g).

(4) The state fund shall complete financial reporting and accounting on a calendar year basis.

(5) (a) If the state fund's risk-based capital falls below the company action level RBC as defined in 33-2-1902, the commissioner shall issue a report to the governor, the state fund board of directors, and to the legislature in accordance with 5-11-210. If the legislature is not in session, the report must go to the economic affairs interim committee in accordance with 5-11-210 and to the legislative auditor. The report must provide a description of the RBC measurement, the regulatory implications of the state fund falling below the RBC criteria, and the state fund's corrective action plan. If the commissioner is reporting on a regulatory action level RBC event, the report must include the state fund's corrective action plan, results of any examination or analysis by the commissioner, and any corrective orders issued by the commissioner.

(b) If the state fund fails to comply with any lawful order of the commissioner, the commissioner may initiate supervision proceedings under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13, against state fund. If the state fund fails to comply with the commissioner's lawful supervision order under this subsection (5)(b), the commissioner may institute rehabilitation proceedings under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13, only if the commissioner is petitioning for rehabilitation based on the grounds provided in 33-2-1321(1) or (2).

(6) The state fund shall annually transfer funds to the commissioner, out of its surplus, for all necessary staffing and related expenses for a full-time attorney licensed to practice law in Montana and a full-time examiner qualified by education, training, experience, and high professional competence to examine the state fund pursuant to Title 33, chapter 1, part 4, and this section. The attorney and examiner must be employees of the commissioner.

(7) For the purposes of this section, the term "guaranteed market" has the definition provided in 39-71-2312.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 320, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 65, Ch. 261, L. 2021.

33-1-209. Marine protection and indemnity and wet marine insurance. (1) Marine and transportation insurance means insurance against loss of or damage to:

(a) vessels, craft, aircraft, vehicles, goods, freights, cargoes, merchandise, effects, disbursements, profits, money, securities, choses in action, evidences of debt, valuable papers, bottomry, respondentia, and any interest therein, with respect to risks and perils, including war risks, marine builder's risks, and personal property floater risks, of navigation and transportation or while being assembled, packed, crated, baled, compressed, or similarly prepared for shipment, while awaiting shipment, or during any delays, storage, transshipment, or reshipment;

(b) person or property in connection with marine, transit, or transportation insurance, including liability for loss or damage to either person or property incident to the construction, repair, operation, maintenance, or use of the subject matter of the insurance, but not including life insurance, surety bonds, or insurance against bodily injury arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of an automobile;

(c) jewels, jewelry, or precious metals, whether in the course of transportation or otherwise; and

(d) bridges; tunnels; and other instrumentalities of transportation and communication, excluding buildings and their furnishings, fixed contents, and supplies held in storage (unless fire, tornado, sprinkler leakage, hail, explosion, earthquake, riot, or civil commotion are the only hazards to be covered); piers; wharves; docks; slips; and other aids to navigation and transportation, including drydocks, marina railways, and dams and appurtenant facilities for the control of waterways.

(2) Marine protection and indemnity insurance means insurance against liability of the insured for loss, damage, or expense incident to ownership, operation, charter, maintenance, use, repair, or construction of any vessel, craft, or instrumentality for use in ocean or inland waterways. The term includes insurance against the liability of the insured for personal injury, illness, death, or loss or damage of the property of another person.

(3) For the purposes of this code, wet marine and transportation insurance is that part of marine insurance that includes only:

(a) insurance upon vessels, crafts, and hulls and of interests in or relating to the vessels, crafts, and hulls;

(b) insurance of marine builders' risks, marine war risks, and contracts of marine protection and indemnity insurance;

(c) insurance of freights and disbursements pertaining to a subject of insurance subject to this subsection; and

(d) insurance of personal property and interests in the personal property, in the course of exportation from or importation into any country and in the course of transportation coastwise or on inland waters, including transportation by land, water, or air from point of origin to final destination, with respect to risks or perils of navigation, transit, or transportation or while being prepared for or awaiting shipment or during any delays, storage, transshipment, or reshipment incident to preparation or shipment.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-222. Purpose. (1) The purpose of 33-1-221 through 33-1-229 is to describe the kinds of risks and coverages which may be classified or identified under state insurance laws as marine, inland marine, or transportation insurance, but 33-1-221 through 33-1-229 do not include all of the kinds of risks and coverages which may be written, classified, or identified under marine, inland marine, or transportation insuring powers. Sections 33-1-221 through 33-1-229 may not be construed to mean that the kinds of risks and coverages described herein are solely marine, inland marine, or transportation insurance in all instances.

(2) Sections 33-1-221 through 33-1-229 may not be construed to restrict or limit in any way the exercise of any insuring powers granted under charters and licenses whether used separately, in combination, or otherwise.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-223. Imports. Imports may be covered by marine, inland marine, and transportation policies subject to the following conditions:

(1) Imports are covered wherever they are located, without restriction as to time, provided the coverage of the issuing companies includes hazards of transportation.

(2) Property is an import and the proper subject of marine, inland marine, or transportation insurance as long as the property remains segregated in such a way that it can be identified and has not become incorporated into and mixed with the general mass of property in the United States; property ceases to be an import and the proper subject of marine, inland marine, or transportation insurance when it has been:

(a) sold and delivered by the importer, factor, or consignee;

(b) removed from its place of storage and placed on sale as part of an importer's stock in trade at a point of sale or distribution; or

(c) delivered for manufacture, processing, or change in form to premises of the importer or another, to be used for such purposes.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-224. Exports. Exports may be covered by marine, inland marine, and transportation policies subject to the following conditions:

(1) Exports are covered wherever they are located, without restriction as to time, provided the coverage of the issuing companies includes hazards of transportation.

(2) Property is an export and the proper subject of marine, inland marine, or transportation insurance when designated or while being prepared for export and remains an export unless diverted for domestic trade. If the property is diverted for domestic trade, the provisions of 33-1-225 apply. This section does not apply to long-established methods of insuring certain commodities such as cotton.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-225. Domestic shipments. Domestic shipments may be covered by marine, inland marine, and transportation policies subject to the following conditions:

(1) Domestic shipments on consignment for sale, distribution, exhibit, trial, approval, or auction may be covered while in transit, while in the custody of others, and while being returned, except that the policy may not cover property while it is on premises owned, leased, or operated by the consignor.

(2) Domestic shipments not on consignment may be covered if the coverage of the issuing companies includes hazards of transportation beginning and ending within the United States. Such shipments are not covered at the manufacturing premises or after arrival at premises owned, leased, or operated by the assured or the purchaser.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-226. Instrumentalities of transportation and commerce. Bridges, tunnels, and other instrumentalities of transportation and communication (excluding buildings and improvements, furniture, furnishings, fixed contents, and supplies held in storage) may be covered by marine, inland marine, and transportation policies. This category includes:

(1) bridges, tunnels, and other similar instrumentalities, including auxiliary facilities and equipment attendant thereto;

(2) piers, wharves, docks, slips, drydocks, and marine railways;

(3) pipelines, including on-line propulsion, regulating, and other equipment appurtenant to such pipelines but excluding all property at manufacturing, producing, refining, converting, treating, or conditioning plants;

(4) power transmission, telephone, and telegraph lines, excluding all property at generating, converting, or transforming stations, substations, and exchanges;

(5) radio and television communication equipment in use as such, including towers and antennas with auxiliary equipment, and appurtenant electrical operating and control apparatus; and

(6) outdoor cranes, loading bridges, and similar equipment used to load, unload, and transport.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-227. Personal property. Risks generally covered by personal property floaters covering individuals or items of personal property may be covered by marine, inland marine, and transportation policies. This category includes:

(1) personal effects floater policies;

(2) personal property floaters;

(3) government service floaters;

(4) personal fur floaters;

(5) personal jewelry floaters;

(6) wedding present floaters for a period not exceeding 90 days after the date of the wedding;

(7) silverware floaters;

(8) fine arts floaters covering paintings, etchings, pictures, tapestries, art glass windows, and other bona fide works of art of rarity, historical value, or artistic merit;

(9) stamp and coin floaters;

(10) musical instrument floaters. For purposes of this section, radios, televisions, record players, and combinations thereof are not musical instruments.

(11) mobile articles, machinery, and equipment floaters (excluding motor vehicles designed for highway use and motor homes, trailers, and semitrailers except when hauled by tractors not designed for highway use) covering identified property of a mobile or floating nature pertaining to or usual to a household. Such policies shall not cover furniture and fixtures not customarily used away from premises where such property is usually kept.

(12) installment sales and leased property policies covering property pertaining to a household and sold under conditional contract of sale, partial payment contract, or installment sales contract or leased but excluding motor vehicles designed for highway use. Such policies must cover property in transit but shall not extend beyond the termination of the seller's or lessor's interest; and

(13) live animal floaters.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-228. Commercial property. Risks generally covered by commercial property floaters covering property pertaining to a business, profession, or occupation may be covered by marine, inland marine, and transportation policies. This category includes:

(1) radium floaters;

(2) physicians' and surgeons' instrument floaters. The policies may include coverage of furniture, fixtures, and tenant assured's interest in the improvements of buildings that are located in that portion of the premises occupied by the assured in the practice of the assured's profession.

(3) pattern and die floaters;

(4) theatrical floaters, excluding buildings and improvements, furniture, and fixtures that do not travel with theatrical troupes;

(5) film floaters, including a builders' risk during the production and coverage on completed negatives, positives, and sound records;

(6) salesperson's samples floaters;

(7) exhibition policies on property while it is on exhibition and in transit to or from exhibitions;

(8) live animal floaters;

(9) builders' risks and installation risks policies covering the interest of owner, seller, or contractor against loss or damage to machinery, equipment, building materials, or supplies being used with and during the course of installation, testing, building, renovating, or repairing. These policies may cover property at points or places where work is being performed, while in transit, and during temporary storage or deposit of property designated for an awaiting specific installation, building, renovating, or repairing. The coverage is limited to builders' risks or installation risks when perils in addition to fire and extended coverage are to be insured. If written for the account of the owner, the coverage ceases upon completion of work and acceptance of the work, or if written for the account of a seller or contractor, the coverage terminates when the interest of the seller or contractor terminates.

(10) mobile articles, machinery, and equipment floaters, excluding motor vehicles designed for highway use and motor homes, trailers, and semitrailers except when hauled by tractors not designed for highway use, and snowplows constructed exclusively for highway use, covering identified property of a mobile or floating nature, not on sale or consignment or in the course of manufacture, that has come into custody or control of parties who intend to use the property for which it was manufactured or created. The policies may not cover furniture and fixtures not customarily used away from premises where the property is usually kept.

(11) property in transit to or from and in the custody of bailees, not owned, controlled, or operated by the bailor, but the policies may not cover the bailee's property at the bailee's premises;

(12) installment sales and leased property policies covering property sold under conditional contract of sale, partial payment contract or installment sales contract or leased, but excluding motor vehicles designed for highway use. These policies must cover property in transit but may not extend beyond the termination of the seller's or lessor's interest. This subsection does not include machinery and equipment under certain "lease-back" contracts.

(13) garment contracts' floaters;

(14) furriers' or fur storers' customer's policies, which are policies under which certificates or receipts are issued by furriers or fur storers, covering specified articles that are the property of customers;

(15) accounts receivable policies and valuable papers and records policies;

(16) floor plan policies, covering property for sale while in possession of dealers under a floor plan or any similar plan under which the dealer borrows money from a bank or lending institution to pay the manufacturer if:

(a) the merchandise is specifically identifiable as encumbered to the bank or lending institution;

(b) the dealer's right to sell or otherwise dispose of the merchandise is conditioned upon its being released from encumbrance by the bank or lending institution; and

(c) the policies cover property in transit and do not extend beyond the termination of the dealer's interest;

(17) sign and street clock policies, including neon signs, automatic or mechanical signs, and street clocks, while in use as intended;

(18) fine arts policies covering paintings, etchings, pictures, tapestries, art glass windows, and other bona fide works of art of rarity, historical value, or artistic merit, for account of museums, galleries, universities, businesses, municipalities, and other similar interests;

(19) policies covering personal property, which may include coverage of money in locked safes or vaults on the assured's premises and may also include coverage of furniture, fixtures, tools, machinery, patterns, molds, dies, and a tenant insured's interest in improvements of buildings, which when sold to the ultimate purchaser may be covered specifically by the owner under inland marine policies, including:

(a) musical instrument dealers' policies, covering property consisting principally of musical instruments and their accessories, but radios, televisions, record players, and combinations of them are not musical instruments for the purposes of this subsection;

(b) camera dealers' policies covering property consisting principally of cameras and their accessories;

(c) furrier dealers' policies covering property consisting principally of furs and fur garments;

(d) equipment dealers' policies covering mobile equipment consisting of binders, reapers, tractors, harvesters, harrows, tedders, and other similar agricultural equipment and accessories for the equipment and covering construction equipment consisting of bulldozers, road scrapers, tractors, compressors, pneumatic tools, and similar equipment and accessories for the equipment, but excluding motor vehicles designed for highway use;

33-1-303. Deputies and assistants — employment, compensation, and termination. (1) The commissioner shall appoint a chief deputy insurance commissioner who is in charge of the insurance department under the direction and control of the commissioner.

(2) The commissioner may appoint additional deputy insurance commissioners for the purposes that the commissioner designates.

(3) The commissioner may employ a competent insurance actuary to perform actuarial duties, if any, of the department, to take charge of or assist in the examination of insurers, and to perform other duties assigned to the commissioner.

(4) The commissioner may appoint or employ examiners to conduct or assist in examinations of insurers and others provided for under the code. Examiners must be competent, because of experience or special education or training, to fulfill the responsibilities of an insurance examiner.

(5) The commissioner shall appoint or employ insurance protection analysts for the purpose of ensuring that insurers and their representatives comply with market regulations provided by law.

(6) The commissioner may appoint and employ a field investigator whose primary duty it is, as directed by the commissioner, to make investigations in this state of violations or claimed violations of this code.

(7) The commissioner may appoint a chief clerk for the insurance department and employ other assistants and clerks as may be necessary to assist the commissioner properly to discharge the duties imposed under this code.

(8) The commissioner may at any time terminate the appointment, designation, or employment of any deputy, actuary, chief clerk, or other employee.

(9) The commissioner may from time to time contract for and procure, on a fee or part-time basis, or both, actuarial, technical, or other professional services as the commissioner may require for the discharge of duties.

(10) The compensation of the commissioner's personal staff, as defined in Title 2, chapter 18, part 1, shall be as fixed by the commissioner but in the aggregate may not exceed current funds appropriated by the legislature to the insurance department or otherwise currently available for the purpose.

33-1-311. General powers and duties. (1) The commissioner shall enforce the applicable provisions of the laws of this state and shall execute the duties imposed on the commissioner by the laws of this state.

(2) The commissioner has the powers and authority expressly conferred upon the commissioner by or reasonably implied from the provisions of the laws of this state.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in 33-39-101, the commissioner shall administer the department to ensure that the interests of insurance consumers are protected.

(4) The commissioner may conduct examinations and investigations of insurance matters, in addition to examinations and investigations expressly authorized, as the commissioner considers proper, to determine whether any person has violated any provision of the laws of this state or to secure information useful in the lawful administration of any provision. The cost of additional examinations and investigations must be borne by the state.

(5) The commissioner shall maintain as confidential any information or document received from:

(a) the national association of insurance commissioners; or

(b) another state agency, an insurance department from another state, a federal agency, the interstate insurance product regulation commission, or a foreign government that treats the same information or document as confidential. The commissioner may provide information or documents, including information or documents that are confidential, to another state agency, the national association of insurance commissioners, a state or federal law enforcement agency, a federal agency, the interstate insurance product regulation commission, a foreign government, or an insurance department in another state if the recipient agrees to maintain the confidentiality of the information or documents.

(6) The department is a criminal justice agency as defined in 44-5-103.

33-1-314. Orders and notices. (1) Orders and notices of the commissioner are not effective unless in writing, signed by the commissioner or by the commissioner's authority.

(2) Each order must state its effective date and must concisely state:

(a) its intent or purpose;

(b) the grounds on which the order is based;

(c) the provisions of this code pursuant to the action taken or proposed to be taken, but failure to designate a particular provision does not deprive the commissioner of the right to rely on a particular provision.

(3) The commissioner may effect service of process of an order or notice by mailing it, postage prepaid, addressed to the person affected by the order or notice, to the person's principal place of business as recorded in the commissioner's office. The commissioner's order is effective when mailed. If the commissioner does not have a record of the person's principal place of business, the commissioner may effect service of process of an order or notice upon a person by mailing it, postage prepaid, to the address as listed on the person's driver's license, as ascertained by the commissioner through the motor vehicle division of the department of justice, or, if a partnership, corporation, or similar entity, as ascertained from documentation filed in the office of the secretary of state.

(4) The commissioner may have a person served pursuant to Rule 4(c)(2)(C), (c)(2)(D), and (d) through (s) of the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2711; amd. Sec. 16, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-1-315. Witnesses — production of records — subpoena — failure to respond. (1) With respect to the subject of any examination or investigation being conducted by the commissioner, or the commissioner's designee if general written authority has been given the designee by the commissioner, the commissioner or the designee may subpoena witnesses and administer oaths or affirmations and examine any individual under oath and may require and compel the production of records, books, papers, contracts, and other documents by attachments, if necessary. Subpoenas of witnesses must be served in the same manner as if issued from a district court.

(2) If in connection with an examination of an insurer the commissioner or the commissioner's designee desires to examine an officer, director, or manager who is outside this state, the commissioner or the commissioner's designee may conduct and enforce by all appropriate and available means any examination under oath in any other state or territory of the United States in which the officer, director, or manager is located, to the full extent permitted by the laws of that state or territory.

(3) If a witness fails to obey a subpoena to appear before the commissioner or the commissioner's designee or refuses to testify or answer any material question or to produce records, books, papers, contracts, or documents when required to do so, the commissioner or the commissioner's designee shall institute proceedings in the district court to compel obedience to the subpoena or other order or to punish the witness for neglect or refusal to obey the summons or other order.

(4) Witness fees and mileage, if claimed, must be allowed on the same basis as for testimony in a district court. Witness fees, mileage, and the actual expenses necessarily incurred in securing attendance of witnesses and their testimony must be itemized and paid by the person being examined if the person is found to have been in violation of the law as to the matter with respect to which the witnesses were subpoenaed.

(5) A person who knowingly fails to attend, answer, and produce records, documents, or other evidence requested by the commissioner or the commissioner's designee, who knowingly fails to give full and truthful information or to answer in writing to any material inquiry of the commissioner or the commissioner's designee relative to the subject of an examination, investigation, or hearing, or who knowingly fails to appear and testify under oath before the commissioner or the commissioner's designee is subject to the provisions of 33-1-317 and 33-1-318.

33-1-316. Testimony compelled — immunity from prosecution. (1) A person may not be excused from attending and testifying or producing any evidence in any examination or investigation conducted by or under authority of the commissioner on the ground that the person's testimony or the evidence required may tend to incriminate or subject the person to a penalty or forfeiture. However, testimony or evidence compelled following a claim of privilege against self-incrimination or any information directly or indirectly derived from compelled testimony or evidence may not be used against the person in a criminal prosecution.

(2) The commissioner may grant immunity from prosecution for or on account of any act, occurrence, transaction, matter, or other thing concerning which a person testifies if the commissioner determines that the ends of justice would be served by granting the additional immunity.

(3) Immunity does not extend to prosecution or punishment for false statements by the person that are contained in testimony or evidence given under this part.

33-1-317. Penalty imposed by commissioner. The commissioner may, after having conducted a hearing pursuant to 33-1-701, impose a fine not to exceed the sum of $25,000 upon a person found to have violated a provision of this code or regulation promulgated by the commissioner, except that the fine imposed upon insurance producers or adjusters may not exceed $5,000 per violation. The fine is in addition to all other penalties imposed by the laws of this state and must be collected by the commissioner in the name of the state of Montana. Imposition of a fine under this section is an order from which an appeal may be taken, pursuant to the provisions of 33-1-711.

33-1-318. Injunctions and other remedies. (1) Whenever it appears to the commissioner that a person has engaged in or is about to engage in an act or practice constituting a violation of 33-1-501, 33-1-1302, 33-14-201, chapters 2, 16 through 18, and 30 of this title, part 13 of chapter 20 of this title, part 4 of chapter 25 of this title, part 1 of chapter 38 of this title, or any rule or order issued under this code, the commissioner may:

(a) issue an order directing the person to cease and desist from continuing the act or practice after reasonable notice and opportunity for a hearing;

(b) issue a temporary cease and desist order that must remain in effect until 10 days after the hearing is held. If the commissioner issues a temporary cease and desist order, the respondent has 15 days from receipt of the order to make a written request for a hearing on the allegations contained in the order. The hearing must be held within 20 days of the commissioner's receipt of the hearing request unless the time is extended by agreement of the parties. If the respondent does not request a hearing within 15 days of receipt of the order and the commissioner does not order a hearing, the order becomes final.

(c) without the issuance of a cease and desist order, bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction to enjoin the acts or practices and to enforce compliance with this code or any rule or order issued under this code. Upon a proper showing, a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or writ of mandamus must be granted and a receiver or conservator may be appointed for the defendant or the defendant's assets. The commissioner may not be required to post a bond.

(2) If a hearing is held on a cease and desist order, both parties have 20 days from the date the hearing is concluded or from the date a transcript of the hearing is filed, if one is requested, to submit proposed findings of fact, conclusions of law, orders, and supporting briefs to the hearings examiner. The parties have an additional 10 days within which to submit comments on the opposing party's proposed findings of fact, conclusions of law, orders, and briefs. A final order must be issued within 30 days of the submission of the comments.

(3) The commissioner may, after giving reasonable notice and an opportunity for a hearing under this section, impose a fine not to exceed $5,000 for each violation upon a person found to have engaged in an act or practice constituting a violation of a provision of this code or any rule or order issued under this code. The fine is in addition to all other penalties imposed by the laws of this state and must be collected by the commissioner in the name of the state of Montana and deposited in the general fund. Imposition of a fine under this subsection is an order from which an appeal may be taken pursuant to 33-1-711. If a person fails to pay a fine referred to in this subsection, the amount of the fine is a lien upon all of the assets and property of that person in this state and may be recovered by suit by the commissioner and deposited in the general fund. Failure of the person to pay a fine also constitutes a forfeiture of the right to do business in this state under this code.

Part 4
Examinations by Department

33-1-401. Examination of insurers. (1) The commissioner shall examine the affairs, transactions, accounts, records, and assets of each authorized insurer as often as the commissioner considers advisable. The commissioner shall examine each authorized insurer not less frequently than every 5 years.

(2) The commissioner shall in like manner examine each insurer applying for an initial certificate of authority to do business in this state.

(3) In lieu of making an examination under this part of any foreign or alien insurer licensed in this state, the commissioner may accept an examination report on the company prepared by the insurance department for the company's state of domicile or port-of-entry state until January 1, 1994. After January 1, 1994, the reports may only be accepted if:

(a) the insurance department was at the time of the examination accredited under the national association of insurance commissioners' financial regulation standards and accreditation program; or

(b) the examination is performed under the supervision of an accredited state insurance department or with the participation of one or more examiners who are employed by such an accredited state insurance department and who, after a review of the examination workpapers and report, state under oath that the examination was performed in a manner consistent with the standards and procedures required by their insurance department.

(4) For purposes of completing an examination of any company under this part, the commissioner may examine or investigate any person or the business of any person, insofar as the examination or investigation is, in the sole discretion of the commissioner, necessary or material to the examination of the company.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2713; amd. Sec. 39, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-1-402. Examination of insurance producers, managers, and promoters. For the purpose of ascertaining compliance with this code, the commissioner may, as often as the commissioner considers advisable, examine the accounts, records, documents, and transactions pertaining to or affecting its insurance affairs or proposed insurance affairs of:

(1) an insurance producer, surplus lines insurance producer, general insurance producer, adjuster, or public adjuster;

(2) a person having a contract under which the person enjoys in fact the exclusive or dominant right to manage or control an insurer;

(3) a person holding the shares of voting stock or policyholder proxies of a domestic insurer, for the purpose of controlling the management of the domestic insurer, as voting trustee or otherwise;

(4) a person engaged in or proposing to be engaged in or assisting in the promotion or formation of a domestic insurer or insurance holding corporation or corporation to finance a domestic insurer or the production of its business.

33-1-404 through 33-1-407 reserved.

33-1-408. Conduct of examinations — records — correction of accounts — appraisals. (1) Upon determining that an examination should be conducted, the commissioner or the commissioner's designee shall issue an examination warrant appointing one or more examiners to perform the examination and instructing them as to the scope of the examination. In conducting the examination, an examiner shall observe the guidelines and procedures set forth in the examiners' handbook adopted by the NAIC. The commissioner may also employ other guidelines or procedures as the commissioner considers appropriate.

(2) Every company or person from whom information is sought and its officers, directors, employees, and agents shall provide to the examiners appointed under subsection (1) timely, convenient, and free access at all reasonable hours to all books, records, accounts, papers, documents, and any or all computer or other recordings relating to the property, assets, business, and affairs of the company being examined, including but not limited to access at its offices. The officers, directors, employees, and agents of the company or person shall facilitate the examination and aid in the examination so far as it is in their power to do so. The refusal of any company, by its officers, directors, employees, or agents, to submit to examination or to comply with any reasonable written request of the examiners is grounds for suspension, refusal, or nonrenewal of any license or authority held by the company to engage in an insurance or other business subject to the commissioner's jurisdiction. A proceeding for suspension, revocation, or refusal of any license or authority must be conducted pursuant to 33-1-318 and 33-1-701.

(3) The commissioner or any examiner has the power to issue subpoenas, administer oaths, and examine under oath any person concerning any matter pertinent to the examination. Upon the failure or refusal of a person to obey a subpoena, the commissioner may petition a court of competent jurisdiction and, upon proper showing, the court may enter an order compelling the witness to appear and testify or to produce documentary evidence. Failure to obey the court order is punishable as contempt of court.

(4) When making an examination under this part, the commissioner may retain attorneys, appraisers, independent actuaries, independent certified public accountants, or other professionals and specialists as examiners. The cost of retaining the personnel must be borne by the company that is the subject of the examination.

(5) This part may not be construed to limit the commissioner's authority to terminate or suspend any examination in order to pursue other legal or regulatory action pursuant to this title. Findings of fact and conclusions made pursuant to an examination are prima facie evidence in any legal or regulatory action.

(6) This part may not be construed to limit the commissioner's authority to use and, if appropriate, to make public any final or preliminary examination report, any examiner or company workpapers or other documents, or any other information discovered or developed during the course of any examination in the furtherance of any legal or regulatory action that the commissioner may consider appropriate.

33-1-409. Examination reports — hearings — confidentiality — publication. (1) All examination reports must be composed only of facts appearing upon the books, records, or other documents of the company, its agents, or other persons examined or as ascertained from the testimony of its officers or agents or other persons examined concerning its affairs. The report must contain the conclusions and recommendations that the examiners find reasonably warranted from the facts.

(2) Not later than 60 days following completion of the examination, the examiner in charge shall file with the department a verified written report of examination under oath. Upon receipt of the verified report, the department shall transmit the report to the company examined, together with a notice that gives the company examined a reasonable opportunity, but not more than 30 days, to make a written submission or rebuttal with respect to any matters contained in the examination report.

(3) Within 30 days of the end of the period allowed for the receipt of written submissions or rebuttals, the commissioner shall fully consider and review the report, together with any written submissions or rebuttals and any relevant portions of the examiner's workpapers and enter an order:

(a) adopting the examination report as filed or with modification or corrections. If the examination report reveals that the company is operating in violation of any law, regulation, or prior order of the commissioner, the commissioner may order the company to take any action the commissioner considers necessary and appropriate to cure the violation.

(b) rejecting the examination report with directions to the examiners to reopen the examination for purposes of obtaining additional data, documentation, information, or testimony and of refiling pursuant to subsection (2); or

(c) calling for an investigatory hearing with no less than 20 days' notice to the company for purposes of obtaining additional data, documentation, information, and testimony.

(4) (a) All orders entered pursuant to subsection (3)(a) must be accompanied by findings and conclusions resulting from the commissioner's consideration and review of the examination report, relevant examiner workpapers, and any written submissions or rebuttals. An order must be considered a final administrative decision and may be appealed pursuant to Title 33, chapter 1, part 7, and must be served upon the company by certified mail, together with a copy of the adopted examination report. Within 30 days of the issuance of the adopted report, the company shall file affidavits executed by each of its directors stating under oath that they have received a copy of the adopted report and related orders.

(b) (i) A hearing conducted under subsection (3)(c) by the commissioner or an authorized representative must be conducted as a nonadversarial, confidential, investigatory proceeding as necessary for the resolution of any inconsistencies, discrepancies, or disputed issues apparent upon the face of the filed examination report or raised by or as a result of the commissioner's review of relevant workpapers or by the written submission or rebuttal of the company. Within 20 days of the conclusion of the hearing, the commissioner shall enter an order pursuant to subsection (3)(a).

(ii) The commissioner may not appoint an examiner as an authorized representative to conduct the hearing. The hearing must proceed expeditiously with discovery by the company limited to the examiner's workpapers that tend to substantiate any assertions set forth in any written submission or rebuttal. The commissioner or the commissioner's representative may issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses or the production of documents considered relevant to the investigation, whether under the control of the department, the company, or other persons. The documents produced must be included in the record, and testimony taken by the commissioner or the commissioner's representative must be under oath and preserved for the record. This section does not require the department to disclose any information or records that would indicate or show the existence or content of an investigation or activity of a criminal justice agency.

(iii) The hearing must proceed with the commissioner or the commissioner's representative posing questions to the persons subpoenaed. The company and the department may present testimony relevant to the investigation. Cross-examination may be conducted only by the commissioner or the commissioner's representative. The company and the department must be permitted to make closing statements and may be represented by counsel of their choice.

(5) (a) Upon the adoption of the examination report under subsection (3)(a), the commissioner shall continue to hold the content of the examination report as private and confidential information for a period of 30 days, except to the extent provided in subsection (2). After 30 days, the commissioner shall open the report for public inspection as long as a court of competent jurisdiction has not stayed its publication.

(b) This title does not prevent and may not be construed as prohibiting the commissioner from disclosing the content of an examination report or preliminary examination report, the results of an examination, or any matter relating to a report or results to the insurance department of this state or of any other state or country, to law enforcement officials of this state or of any other state, or to an agency of the federal government at any time as long as the agency or office receiving the report or matters relating to the report agrees in writing to hold it in a manner consistent with this part.

(c) If the commissioner determines that regulatory action is appropriate as a result of an examination, the commissioner may initiate any proceedings or actions as provided by law.

(6) (a) Working papers must be given confidential treatment, are not subject to subpoena, are not discoverable or admissible as evidence in any private action, and may not be made public by the commissioner or any other person except to the extent provided in 33-1-311(5) and subsection (5) of this section. Persons given access to working papers shall agree, prior to receiving the information, to treat the information in the manner required by this section unless prior written consent has been obtained from the company to which the working papers pertain.

(b) For purposes of subsection (6)(a), "working papers" means:

(i) all papers and copies created, produced, obtained by, or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person in the course of an examination or analysis by the commissioner;

(ii) confidential criminal justice information, as defined in 44-5-103;
(iii) personal information protected by an individual privacy interest; and
(iv) specifically identified trade secrets, as defined in 30-14-402, that have been obtained by or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person in the course of an examination made under this part for which there are reasonable grounds of privilege that are asserted by the party claiming the privilege.

33-1-410. Conflict of interest. (1) An examiner may not be appointed by the commissioner if the examiner, either directly or indirectly, has a conflict of interest with, is affiliated with the management of, or owns a pecuniary interest in any person subject to examination under this part. This section may not be construed to automatically preclude an examiner from being:
(a) a policyholder or claimant under an insurance policy;
(b) a grantor of a mortgage or similar instrument on the examiner's residence to a regulated entity if done under customary terms and in the ordinary course of business;
(c) an investment owner in shares of regulated diversified investment companies; or
(d) a settlor or beneficiary of a blind trust into which any otherwise impermissible holdings have been placed.

(2) Notwithstanding the requirements of this section, the commissioner may retain from time to time, on an individual basis, qualified actuaries, certified public accountants, or other individuals who are independently practicing their professions, even though the persons may from time to time be similarly employed or retained by persons subject to examination under this part.

History: En. Sec. 33, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-1-411. Destruction of records — hindrance of examination — penalty. A director, officer, agent, or employee of a company who for the purpose of hindering any examination conducted pursuant to this part destroys any books, records, or documents required to be kept by law shall be punished by a fine as provided in 33-1-317. After notice and hearing in accordance with Title 33, chapter 1, part 7, the commissioner may revoke the certificate of authority of the company.

33-1-413. Examination expense — lien. (1) Upon presentation of a detailed account of charges and expenses by the commissioner or pursuant to the commissioner's written authorization, each person examined, other than examinations pursuant to 33-1-402, shall pay the actual travel expenses, a reasonable living expense allowance, and a per diem as compensation of examiners as necessarily incurred on account of the examination, all at reasonable rates as established or adopted by the commissioner. An account may be presented periodically during the course of the examination or at the termination of the examination as the commissioner considers proper. A person may not pay and an examiner may not accept any additional emolument on account of an examination.

(2) The commissioner shall pay to the state treasurer to the credit of the state special revenue fund all money received pursuant to subsection (1).

(3) If a person fails to pay the charges and expenses, as referred to in subsection (1), the charges and expenses must be paid out of the funds of the commissioner in the same manner as other disbursements of the funds. The amount paid is a first lien upon all of the assets and property in this state of the person and may be recovered by suit by the attorney general on behalf of the state of Montana and restored to the appropriate fund.

Approval of Forms

Part Cross-References

Motor club service companies — approval of service contract forms, 61-12-308.

33-1-501. Filing of forms — approval — review of disapproval or withdrawal of approval — application. (1) (a) An insurance policy or annuity contract form, certificate, enrollment form, application form, printed rider or endorsement form, or form of renewal certificate may not be delivered or issued for delivery in Montana unless the form and, for the purposes of disability insurance, an outline of coverage as required by 33-22-244 and 33-22-521 have been filed with and approved by the commissioner and, if required, the regulatory official of the state of domicile of the insurer or the interstate insurance product regulation commission provided for in 33-39-101. This provision does not apply to surety bonds or policies, riders, endorsements, or forms of unique character designed for and used with relation to insurance upon a particular subject or that relate to the manner of distribution of benefits or to the reservation of rights and benefits under life or disability insurance policies and are used at the request of the individual policyholder, contract holder, or certificate holder. Forms for use in property, marine, other than ocean marine and foreign trade coverages, casualty, and surety insurance coverages may be filed by a rating organization on behalf of its members and subscribers or by a member or subscriber on its own behalf.

(b) A filing required by subsection (1)(a) must be submitted by an officer of the insurer with a certification in a form prescribed by the commissioner. The certification must state that to the best of the officer's knowledge and belief, the policy, contract form, certificate, enrollment form, application form, printed rider or endorsement form, or form of renewal certificate complies with the applicable provisions of Title 33.

(c) The approval of an insurance policy or annuity contract form, certificate, enrollment form, application form, or other related insurance form by the state of domicile may be waived by the commissioner if the commissioner considers the requirements of subsection (1)(a) unnecessary for the protection of Montana insurance consumers. If the requirement is waived, an insurer shall notify the commissioner in writing within 10 days of disapproval, denial, or withdrawal of approval of a form by the state of domicile.

(2) (a) The filing must be made not less than 60 days before delivery and must be delivered by hand or sent by certified mail with a return receipt requested. The commissioner's office shall mark a filing with the date of receipt by the commissioner's office.

(b) (i) If after 60 days from the date of receipt by the commissioner's office the commissioner has not approved or disapproved the form by a notice pursuant to the provisions in subsection (4), the form is considered approved for all purposes, subject to subsection (2)(c).

(ii) The running of the 60-day period is tolled for a period commencing on the date that the commissioner notifies the insurer of problems or questions and requests additional information from the insurer concerning a form filed pursuant to subsection (1)(a) and ending on the date that the insurer submits its response to the commissioner.

(iii) For purposes of tolling the 60-day period as provided in subsection (2)(b)(ii), the commissioner's request notification may be made electronically.

(c) In a letter separate from the original filing and delivered by hand or sent by certified mail with return receipt requested, the insurer shall notify the commissioner, at least 10 days before the use of the form in the market, that the insurer believes that:

(i) the form has been or will be considered approved; and

(ii) the insurer will begin marketing the form in Montana.

(d) The commissioner's office shall mark a letter received pursuant to subsection (2)(c) with the date of receipt by the commissioner's office.

(3) Approval of a form by the commissioner constitutes a waiver of any unexpired portion of the waiting period.

(4) The commissioner may at any time, after notice and for cause shown, withdraw any approval. Notice by the commissioner disapproving a form or withdrawing a previous approval must state the grounds for disapproval or withdrawal in sufficient detail to inform the insurer of the specific reason or reasons for and the legal authority supporting the disapproval or withdrawal of approval in whole or in part. The disapproval or withdrawal of approval does not take effect unless it is issued after the commissioner has reviewed the form and provided notice to the person who filed the form pursuant to 33-1-314 and this subsection.

(5) After the date of the insurer's receipt of notice of disapproval or withdrawal of approval by the commissioner, the insurer may not deliver the form or issue the form for delivery in Montana.

(6) The insurer may request a hearing, as provided for in 33-1-701, for unresolved disputes regarding a disapproval or a withdrawal of approval.

(7) The commissioner may exempt from the requirements of this section, for so long as the commissioner considers proper, an insurance document, form, or type of document or form to which, in the commissioner's opinion, this section may not practicably be applied or the filing and approval of which are not desirable or necessary for the protection of the public.

(8) This section applies to a form used by a domestic insurer for delivery in a jurisdiction outside Montana if the insurance supervisory official of the jurisdiction informs the commissioner that the form is not subject to approval or disapproval by the official and upon the commissioner's order requiring the form to be submitted to the commissioner for the purpose. The same standards apply to these forms as apply to forms for domestic use.

(9) Section 33-1-502 and this section do not apply to:

(a) reinsurance;

(b) policies or contracts not issued for delivery in Montana or delivered in Montana, except as provided in subsection (8);

(c) ocean marine and foreign trade insurances.

(10) Except as provided in chapter 21, group certificates that are delivered or issued for delivery in Montana for group insurance policies effectuated and delivered outside Montana but covering persons resident in Montana must be filed with the commissioner. The certificates must meet the minimum provisions mandated by Montana if Montana law prevails over conflicting provisions of other state law.

33-1-502. Grounds for disapproval. The commissioner shall disapprove any form filed under 33-1-501 or withdraw any previous approval of a form only if the form:

(1) is in any respect in violation of or does not comply with the laws of this state;

(2) contains or incorporates by reference, where the incorporation is otherwise permissible, any inconsistent, ambiguous, or misleading clauses or exceptions and conditions that deceptively affect the risk purported to be assumed in the general coverage of the contract, including a provision in a casualty insurance form permitting defense costs within limits, except as permitted by the commissioner;

(3) has any title, heading, or other indication of its provisions that is misleading;

33-1-604. Service of process — domestic insurer. (1) Service of process against a domestic insurer must be made pursuant to 35-7-113 or in any other manner permitted by law.

(2) Service of process against a domestic reciprocal insurer must be on the attorney-in-fact or in any other manner permitted by law.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 60, L. 2019.

33-1-605. Service of process — foreign or alien insurer — appointment of registered agent. (1) A foreign or alien insurer that transacts any business in this state must have a registered agent upon whom any legal process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon a company must be served. The agent must be a person who either resides or maintains a business address in this state.

(2) The written appointment of an agent must be provided to the commissioner in a form prescribed by the commissioner, and must, at minimum, include a consent to service of process and the official name and address of the agent and the insurer represented.

(3) The commissioner shall keep a record of the foreign and alien insurers transacting business in Montana and the name and address of their registered agents. This record must be made public in a readily accessible form prescribed by the commissioner.

(4) Service by certified mail to a registered agent listed for an insurer constitutes service of legal process upon that insurer.

(5) An insurer may revoke the appointment of an agent by filing with the commissioner a written appointment of another agent and a statement that the appointment of the former agent is revoked. The authority of the agent whose appointment has been revoked terminates 30 days after the notice is received by the commissioner.

(6) When a foreign or alien insurer ceases to do business in this state, the agent last designated by or acting for the insurer is deemed to continue as agent for it unless a new agent is appointed. Service by certified mail upon any such agent constitutes service of legal process upon the insurer.

(7) This section does not limit or affect the right to serve any process, notice, or demand upon an insurer in any other manner permitted by law.

(8) When legal process is served pursuant to this section, the insurer must appear, answer, or plead within 30 days, exclusive of the date of mailing, after the date of the certified mailing or be subject to the laws of this state regarding default judgment.

(9) For the purposes of this section:

(a) "certified mail" means a method of sending by common carrier with tracking capability; and

(b) "legal process" means a summons and complaint.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 60, L. 2019; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-1-606. Service of process by commissioner. (1) If a registered agent cannot be found for a foreign or alien insurer doing business in this state, if the agent of record is no longer at the agent's listed address, if the insurer has failed to maintain an agent as required by 33-1-605, or for other good cause shown for which a person's rights may be adversely affected by inability to serve an insurer, a person desiring to serve legal process, notice, or demand may initiate service on the commissioner by providing to the commissioner all of the following:

(a) an affidavit stating that one of the conditions in subsection (1) exists and stating the most recent address of the insurer that the person, after diligent search, has been able to ascertain;

(b) two copies of the document to be served on the insurer; and

(c) a filing fee of $50.

(2) If the requirements of subsection (1) have been met, the commissioner shall promptly serve the legal process, notice, or demand by certified mail to the foreign or alien insurer at its principal office as shown in the commissioner's records. Service by the commissioner upon the insurer by certified mail constitutes service of legal process on that insurer. The commissioner shall maintain a record of each process, notice, or demand the commissioner serves under this section.

(3) When legal process is served pursuant to this section, the insurer must appear, answer, or plead within 30 days, exclusive of the date of mailing, after the date of the certified mailing or be subject to the laws of this state regarding default judgment.

(4) For purposes of this section:

(a) "certified mail" means a method of sending by common carrier with tracking capability; and

(b) "legal process" means a summons and complaint.

Delivery, effectuation, or solicitation of any insurance contract, by mail or otherwise, within this state by an unauthorized insurer or the performance within this state of any other service or transaction connected with the insurance by or on behalf of the insurer must be considered to constitute an appointment by the insurer of the commissioner and the commissioner's successors in office as its attorney, upon whom may be served all lawful process issued within this state in any action or proceeding against the insurer arising out of any contract or transaction and must be considered to signify the insurer's agreement that any service of process has the same legal effect and validity as personal service of process upon it in this state.

History: En. Sec. 179, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3404; amd. Sec. 1068, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-1-613. Service of process — criteria mandating designation of commissioner. (1) Service of process upon any insurer pursuant to 33-1-612 must be made by delivering to and leaving with the commissioner or some person in apparent charge of the commissioner's office two copies of the process and the payment to the commissioner of the same fee as provided in 33-1-606. The commissioner shall mail by certified mail one of the copies of the process to the defendant at its principal place of business last known to the commissioner and shall keep a record of any process served upon the commissioner. The service of process is sufficient if notice of the service and a copy of the process are sent within 10 days by certified mail by the plaintiff's attorney to the defendant at its last-known principal place of business and the defendant's receipt or receipt issued by the post office with which the letter is registered, showing the name of the sender of the letter and the name and address of the person to whom the letter is addressed, and the affidavit of the plaintiff's attorney showing a compliance with this section are filed with the clerk of the court in which the action is pending on or before the date the defendant is required to appear or within further time that the court may allow.

(2) Service of process in any action, suit, or proceeding must in addition to the manner provided in subsection (1) be valid if:

(a) served upon any person within this state who in this state on behalf of the insurer is:

(i) soliciting insurance;

(ii) making any contract of insurance or issuing or delivering any policies or written contracts of insurance; or

(iii) collecting or receiving any premium for insurance;

(b) a copy of the process is sent within 10 days by certified mail by the plaintiff's attorney to the defendant at the last-known principal place of business of the defendant; and

(c) the defendant's receipt or the receipt issued by the post office with which the letter is registered, showing the name of the sender of the letter and the name and address of the person to whom the letter is addressed, and the affidavit of the plaintiff's attorney showing a compliance with this section are filed with the clerk of the court in which the action is pending on or before the date the defendant is required to appear or within further time that the court may allow.

(3) A plaintiff or complainant may not be entitled to a judgment by default under this section until the expiration of 30 days from the date of the filing of the affidavit of compliance.

(4) This section does not limit or abridge the right to serve any process, notice, or demand upon any insurer in any other manner now or later permitted by law.

(1) surplus lines insurance lawfully effectuated under part 3, chapter 2;

(2) reinsurance; or

(3) any action or proceeding against an unauthorized insurer arising out of:

(a) wet marine and transportation insurance;

(b) insurance on or with respect to subjects located, resident, or to be performed wholly outside this state or on or with respect to vehicles or aircraft owned and principally garaged outside this state;

(c) insurance on property or operations of railroads engaged in interstate commerce; or

(d) insurance on aircraft or cargo of such aircraft or against liability, other than employer's liability, arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of such aircraft, where the policy or contract contains a provision designating the commissioner as its attorney for the acceptance of service of lawful process in any action or proceeding instituted by or on behalf of an insured or beneficiary arising out of any such policy or where the insurer enters a general appearance in any such action.

33-1-615. Defense of action by unauthorized insurer. (1) Before an unauthorized insurer shall file or cause to be filed any pleading in any action or proceeding instituted against it under 33-1-612 and 33-1-613, such insurer shall:

(a) procure a certificate of authority to transact insurance in this state; or

(b) deposit with the clerk of the court in which such action or proceeding is pending cash or securities or file with such clerk a bond with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the court, in an amount to be fixed by the court sufficient to secure the payment of any final judgment which may be rendered in such action. The court may in its discretion make an order dispensing with such deposit or bond where the insurer makes a showing satisfactory to the court that it maintains in a state of the United States funds or securities, in trust or otherwise, sufficient and available to satisfy any final judgment which may be entered in such action or proceeding and that the insurer will pay any final judgment entered therein without requiring suit to be brought on such judgment in the state where such funds or securities are located.

(2) The court in any action or proceeding in which service is made in the manner provided in 33-1-613 may, in its discretion, order such postponement as may be necessary to afford the defendant reasonable opportunity to comply with the provisions of subsection (1) above and to defend such action.

(3) Nothing in subsection (1) above is to be construed to prevent an unauthorized insurer from filing a motion to quash or to set aside the service of any process made in the manner provided in 33-1-613 hereof, on the ground either:

(a) that such unauthorized insurer has not done any of the acts enumerated in 33-1-612; or

(b) that the person on whom service was made pursuant to 33-1-613(2) was not doing any of the acts therein enumerated.

History: En. Sec. 182, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3407.

33-1-616. Attorney's fee. In any action against an unauthorized insurer under this Unauthorized Insurers Process Act, if the insurer has failed for 30 days after demand prior to the commencement of the action to make payment in accordance with the terms of the insurance contract and it appears to the court that such refusal was vexatious and without reasonable cause, the court may allow to the plaintiff a reasonable attorney's fee and include such fee in any judgment that may be rendered in such action. The fee shall not exceed one-third of the amount which the court or jury finds the plaintiff is entitled to recover against the insurer, but in no event shall such fee be less than $100. Failure of an insurer to defend any such action shall be deemed prima facie evidence that its failure to make payment was vexatious and without reasonable cause.

Part 8
Interference With Medical Communications

33-1-801. Definitions. As used in this part, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Enrollee" means the individual to whom a health care service is provided or will be provided under a health plan.

(2) "Health care provider" or "provider" means a health care professional or facility.

(3) "Health carrier" means an entity that is subject to the insurance laws and rules of this state and that contracts, offers to contract, or enters into an agreement to provide, deliver, arrange for, pay for, or reimburse any of the costs of health care services. The term includes a disability insurer, health maintenance organization, or a health service corporation or other entity providing a health benefit plan.

(4) "Health plan" or "health benefit plan" means a policy, contract, certificate, or agreement entered into, offered, or issued by a health carrier to provide, deliver, arrange for, pay for, or reimburse any of the costs of health care services.

(5) "Managed care organization" means an entity that manages, owns, contracts with, or employs health care providers to provide health care services under a health plan. The term includes a health maintenance organization, as defined in 33-31-102, and an entity that does not itself provide health plans.

(6) "Medical communication" means:

(a) a communication made by a health care provider to an enrollee or to the guardian or other legal representative of an enrollee receiving health care services from the provider:

(i) concerning the mental or physical health care needs or treatment of the enrollee and the provisions, terms, or requirements of the health plan or another health plan relating to the needs or treatment of the enrollee; and

(ii) including a communication concerning:

(A) a test, consultation, or treatment option and a risk or benefit associated with the test, consultation, or option;

(B) variation among health care providers and health care facilities, as defined in 50-5-101, in experience, quality of health care services, or health outcomes;

(C) the basis or standard for the decision of the enrollee's health carrier or managed care organization to authorize or deny a health care service;

(D) the process used by the enrollee's health carrier or managed care organization to determine whether to authorize or deny a health care service; or

(E) a financial incentive or disincentive provided by the enrollee's health carrier or managed care organization to a health care provider to authorize or deny a health care service;

(b) a communication made by a health care provider to another health care provider, an employee or contractor of the enrollee's managed care organization, or an employee of the health carrier advocating a particular method of treatment on behalf of an enrollee.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 527, L. 1997.

33-1-802. Gag clauses and other action affecting medical communications prohibited — exceptions. (1) A health carrier or managed care organization may not by an oral or written contract, by an oral or written direction or requirement, or by a financial inducement or penalty prohibit a provider from making or interfere with a provider making a medical communication to an enrollee. A contract, direction, requirement, or financial inducement or penalty violating this subsection is void.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to:

(a) an oral or written contract, direction, requirement, or financial inducement or penalty prohibiting a provider from disclosing a trade secret, as defined in 30-14-402, to the same extent as other employees or contractors of the health carrier or managed care organization are prohibited from disclosing the trade secret;

(b) an oral or written contract, direction, requirement, or financial inducement or penalty prohibiting a health care provider from referring an enrollee to another health plan or managed care organization in which the provider making the referral has a direct financial interest; and

(c) the terms of an oral or written contract mutually agreed upon by a health carrier or managed care organization and a provider requiring the provider to participate in and cooperate with all programs, policies, and procedures implemented by the health carrier or managed care organization to ensure, review, or improve the quality of health care.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 527, L. 1997.

33-1-803. Sanction because of medical communication prohibited. A health carrier or managed care organization may not take any of the following actions with regard to a health care provider because the provider made a medical communication to an enrollee or to the guardian or legal representative of the enrollee:

(1) terminate an agreement between the health carrier or managed care organization and the health care provider to provide health care services;

(2) reduce compensation to the provider;

(3) demote the provider in regard to relative seniority within the managed care organization;

(4) transfer the provider to other duties within the managed care organization;

(5) deny the provider admitting or other privileges; or

(6) take other action against the provider in retaliation for a medical communication made by the provider to an enrollee.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 527, L. 1997.

33-1-804. Civil penalty — civil action for collection of penalty. (1) A health carrier or a managed care organization violating 33-1-802 or 33-1-803 is subject to a civil penalty, as provided in 33-1-317, for each violation. Each day of violation constitutes a separate violation for the purposes of this section.

(2) In addition to other enforcement methods provided by law, the commissioner may bring a civil action in the district court in the county in which the violation occurred to collect the civil penalty provided for in subsection (1) from a person violating a provision of this part.

If the violation occurred in more than one county, any county in which the violation occurred is a proper venue for a civil action. An amount collected by the commissioner pursuant to this section must be deposited in the general fund.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 497, L. 1983.

33-1-1113. Examination. A person or entity which is unable to show under 33-1-1111 that it is subject to the jurisdiction of another agency of this or another state or a subdivision thereof or the federal government must submit to an examination by the commissioner to determine the organization and solvency of the person or entity and to determine whether or not such person or entity complies with the applicable provisions of this code.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 497, L. 1983.

33-1-1114. Disclosure. (1) A production agency or administrator that advertises, sells, transacts, or administers the coverage in this state described in 33-1-1102 and that is required to submit to an examination by the insurance commissioner under 33-1-1113 shall, if such coverage is not fully insured or otherwise fully covered by an admitted life or disability insurer or nonprofit health service corporation, advise every purchaser, prospective purchaser, and covered person of such lack of insurance or other coverage.

(2) An administrator that advertises or administers the coverage in this state described in 33-1-1102 and is required to submit to an examination by the commissioner under 33-1-1113 shall advise any production agency of the elements of the coverage, including the amount of "stop-loss" insurance in effect.

Part 12
Insurance Fraud Protection

33-1-1201. Short title — purpose. (1) This part may be cited as the "Insurance Fraud Protection Act".

(2) The purpose of this part is to facilitate the detection of insurance fraud and reduce the occurrence of insurance fraud through the development of fraud prevention programs, improved investigative and prosecutorial services, and increased consumer awareness.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 237, L. 1995.

33-1-1202. Administrative or civil insurance fraud. A person commits the act of administrative or civil insurance fraud when the person:

(1) for the purpose of obtaining any money or benefit, presents or causes to be presented to any insurer, purported insurer, producer, or administrator, as defined in 33-17-102, any written or oral statement, including computer-generated documents, containing false, incomplete, or misleading information concerning any fact or thing material to, as part of, or in support of a claim for payment or other benefit pursuant to an insurance policy;

(2) assists, abets, solicits, or conspires with another to prepare or make any written or oral statement containing false, incomplete, or misleading information concerning any fact that is intended to be presented to any insurer or purported insurer or in connection with, material to, or in support of any claim for payment or other benefit pursuant to an insurance policy or contract;

(3) presents or causes to be presented to or by an insurer, purported insurer, producer, or administrator, as defined in 33-17-102, a materially false or altered application of insurance;

(4) accepts premium money knowing that coverage will not be provided;

(5) as a health care provider, submits a false or altered bill or report of physical condition to an insurer;

(6) offers or accepts a direct or indirect inducement to file a false statement of claim with the intent of deceiving an insurer; or

(7) presents or causes to be presented counterfeit insurance documents to any person.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 237, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 380, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 169, L. 2013; amd. Sec. 14, Ch. 396, L. 2017.

33-1-1203. Powers and duties of commissioner — confidentiality of documents. (1) The commissioner may:

(a) initiate independent inquiries and conduct independent investigations when the commissioner has reason to believe that insurance fraud may be, has been, or is currently being committed;

(b) respond to notice or complaints generated by federal, state, county, and local law enforcement officers, other entities with law enforcement responsibilities, or governmental agencies or units;

(c) review and respond to notices or reports of insurance fraud submitted by any person, select the incidents of suspected fraud that in the commissioner's judgment require further and more detailed investigation, and conduct the investigations;

(d) conduct independent examinations of insurance fraud to determine the extent of insurance fraud, deceit, or intentional misrepresentation;

(e) after investigation, report any meritorious alleged violation of the law to the appropriate prosecuting authority or licensing agencies; and

(f) assemble evidence, prepare charges, and prosecute, if requested, or otherwise assist any prosecuting authority that has jurisdiction, including the attorney general.

(2) Papers, records, documents, reports, materials, or other evidence relative to the subject of an insurance fraud investigation must remain confidential and must be treated as confidential criminal justice information as defined in 44-5-103. Evidence procured pursuant to this section may not be disseminated, except as provided in 44-5-303.

(3) The commissioner shall notify the person who or the entity that has given notice of an alleged insurance fraud pursuant to 33-1-1205(2) of receipt of the notice by the commissioner and of the disposition of the notice and any resulting investigation.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 237, L. 1995.

33-1-1204. Cooperation with law enforcement, licensing authorities, and other fraud agencies. (1) The commissioner shall cooperate with law enforcement authorities and all other authorized agencies and related insurance and professional licensing boards of this and other states. As used in this section, the term "authorized agencies" means:

(a) the attorney general of the state of Montana;

(b) the prosecuting attorney responsible for prosecution;

(c) the department of insurance of other jurisdictions;

(d) the United States attorney's office when that office is charged with investigation of the fraud; or

(e) the federal bureau of investigation or any other federal agency charged with investigation of the fraud.

(2) The commissioner shall cooperate to the extent allowed by law with insurance fraud investigators, related organizations of this and other states, and insurance commissioners of other states.

(3) If the commissioner determines that sufficient evidence of the commission of an act of insurance fraud exists, the commissioner shall inform the appropriate prosecuting authority and professional licensing boards.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 237, L. 1995.

33-1-1205. Duties of authorized insurers, adjusters, administrators, consultants, and producers — notice exception. (1) Each insurer, independent adjuster, independent administrator, independent consultant, and independent producer shall cooperate fully with the commissioner with respect to the provisions of this part.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (4), an insurer, an officer, or an employee of the insurer, an independent adjuster, an independent administrator, an independent consultant, or an independent producer who has reason to believe that an insurance fraud has been or is being committed shall provide notice of the alleged insurance fraud to the commissioner within 60 days. A producer of an insurer who has reason to believe that an insurance fraud has been or is being committed shall report the alleged fraud to the insurer within 60 days of discovery of the alleged insurance fraud. The insurer shall review the report. If the insurer determines that there is reasonable likelihood that fraud has occurred, the insurer shall forward the report to the commissioner within 30 days of receipt of the report.

(3) Notice to the commissioner by an insurer who has reason to believe that an insurance fraud has been committed in connection with an insurance claim, application, or policy tolls any applicable time period, for the commissioner, in any applicable insurance statute or related insurance regulation, or any applicable provisions of Title 33, chapter 1, part 15, and tolls any time period arising under 33-18-232 or 33-18-242 regarding unfair claims settlement practices.

(4) Notice of an alleged insurance fraud involving an insurance claim or application submitted to the state compensation insurance fund or a policy issued by the state compensation insurance fund must be made within 60 days to the fraud detection and prevention unit established pursuant to 39-71-211.

33-1-1206. Persons not connected with insurance industry — reward fund. (1) Any person who has knowledge of or who believes that an act of insurance fraud is being or has been committed may provide the commissioner with a report or information pertinent to the knowledge and belief and may provide additional information that the commissioner requests.

(2) The commissioner, in cooperation with authorized insurers, producers, and other interested parties, may establish a fund to reward persons who are not connected with the insurance industry and who provide information or furnish evidence leading to the arrest and conviction of persons responsible for insurance fraud. Participation in the fund must be purely voluntary. The books and records of the fund must be open and subject to review by the legislative auditor.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 237, L. 1995.

33-1-1207 through 33-1-1209 reserved.

33-1-1210. Immunity from liability. (1) In the absence of malice, an insurer, an officer, employee, or producer of the insurer, an independent adjuster, an administrator, a consultant, or any private person is not subject to civil liability for filing reports, providing information, or otherwise cooperating with an investigation or examination of insurance fraud conducted by the commissioner.

(2) A person listed in subsection (1) receives immunity if the person:

(a) cooperates with, furnishes evidence to, or provides information regarding any suspected insurance fraud to the commissioner, the national association of insurance commissioners, any nonprofit organization established to detect and prevent insurance fraud, or other insurer or producer; or

(b) complies with an order issued by a court of competent jurisdiction acting in response to a request by the commissioner to furnish evidence or provide testimony.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 237, L. 1995.

33-1-1211. Administrative or civil penalties. (1) If, after a hearing conducted under 33-1-701, the commissioner determines that a person has committed administrative or civil insurance fraud, the commissioner may:

(a) impose any penalty provided for in 33-1-317; or

(b) require the person to pay the costs of the proceeding.

(2) In addition to any other penalties, the commissioner shall require a person who commits administrative or civil insurance fraud to make restitution to the insurer or to any other person for all financial loss sustained as a result of the insurance fraud.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 237, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 16, Ch. 396, L. 2017.

Part 13
Insurer Insurance Fraud Protection

33-1-1301. Insurance, viatical settlement, medical care discount card, pharmacy discount card, and securities fraud education and prevention program — definitions. (1) The commissioner may:

(a) establish an insurance, viatical settlement, medical care discount card, pharmacy discount card, and securities fraud education and prevention program; and

(b) conduct investigations of insurance, viatical settlement, medical care discount card, pharmacy discount card, and securities fraud.

(2) As used in this part:

(a) "medical care discount card" and "pharmacy discount card" have the meanings provided in 33-38-102; and

(b) "viatical settlement broker", "viatical settlement contract", and "viatical settlement provider" have the meanings provided in 33-20-1302.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 390, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 456, L. 2005; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 272, L. 2009.

33-1-1302. Insurance, viatical settlement, medical care discount card, and pharmacy discount card administrative or civil fraud — insurer. (1) A person commits the act of insurance, viatical settlement, medical care discount card, or pharmacy discount card fraud when:

(a) in the course of offering or selling insurance, a medical care discount card, or a pharmacy discount card, the person misrepresents a material fact, known to the person to be untrue or made with reckless indifference as to whether it is true, with the intention of causing another person to rely upon the misrepresentation to that relying person's detriment; or

(b) with respect to a viatical settlement, the person violates the provisions of 33-1-1304.

(2) A person commits the act of insurance fraud or viatical settlement fraud by engaging in any transaction, act, practice, course of business, or course of dealing that involves a violation of insurable interest laws.

(3) The commissioner may, after having conducted a hearing pursuant to 33-1-701, impose the penalties provided for in 33-1-317 for a violation of 33-1-1304 or this section. Failure to pay a fine under this section results in a lien upon the assets and property of the person as provided in 33-1-318(3).

(4) In addition to any penalty provided for in 33-1-317, the commissioner may require a person regulated under this title who commits insurance, viatical settlement, medical care discount card, or pharmacy discount card fraud to make full restitution to the victim for all financial losses sustained as a result of the fraud with interest of 10% a year from the date of the fraud plus any costs and reasonable attorney fees, less the amount of any income, refund, or other benefit received by the victim from the insurance, viatical settlement, medical care discount card, or pharmacy discount card.

(5) The commissioner may require a person who commits a violation of this part to make full restitution to any person who may have sustained any losses as a result of the fraud with interest from the date of the loss plus any costs and reasonable attorney fees. The interest rate must be calculated as of the date of the order pursuant to 25-9-205.

(6) An insurer, insurance producer, or other person who sustained any losses and who was awarded restitution may bring suit to recover those sums, including any attorney fees, interest at the rate provided in 25-9-205, and costs incurred in obtaining a judgment.

(7) Failure of a person to pay any amount ordered under this section constitutes a forfeiture of the right to do business in this state.

33-1-1303. Reporting requirements. (1) An insurer, insurance producer, or other person who has reason to believe that insurance, viatical settlement, medical care discount card, or pharmacy discount card fraud has occurred shall report the suspected fraud to the commissioner or to the insurance producer's or other person's insurer within 60 days of discovery of the occurrence. An insurer shall review a report given to the insurer, and if the insurer determines that there is a reasonable likelihood that fraud has occurred the insurer shall forward the report to the commissioner within 30 days of receipt.

(2) In the absence of malice, an insurer, insurance producer, or other person may not be subjected to civil liability for reporting or providing information or otherwise cooperating with an investigation of insurance, viatical settlement, medical care discount card, or pharmacy discount card fraud.

33-1-1304. Viatical settlement fraud. Viatical settlement fraud consists of but is not limited to the following committed by a person or the person's agents or employees:

(1) acts or omissions by any person who, knowingly and with intent to defraud, for the purpose of depriving another of property or for pecuniary gain, engages in or permits the person's employees or agents to engage in acts that include but are not limited to:

(a) presenting, causing to be presented, or preparing with knowledge and belief that it will be presented to or by a viatical settlement provider, viatical settlement broker, premium finance lender, life insurer, life insurance producer, or any other person false material information; or

(b) concealing material information as part of, in support of, or concerning a fact material to one or more of the following:

(i) an application for the issuance of a viatical settlement contract or life insurance policy;

(ii) the underwriting of a viatical settlement contract or life insurance policy;

(iii) a claim for payment or benefit pursuant to a viatical settlement contract or life insurance policy;

(iv) premiums paid on a life insurance policy;

(v) payments and changes in ownership or beneficiary made in accordance with the terms of a viatical settlement contract or life insurance policy;

(vi) the reinstatement or conversion of a life insurance policy;

(vii) the solicitation, offer to enter into, or effectuation of a viatical settlement contract or life insurance policy;

(viii) the issuance of written evidence of viatical settlement contracts or life insurance; or

(ix) any application for, the existence of, or any payments related to a loan secured directly or indirectly by any interest in a life insurance policy.

(2) employing any device, scheme, or artifice to defraud in the business of viatical settlements;

(3) removing, concealing, altering, destroying, or sequestering from the commissioner the assets or records of a licensee or other person engaged in the business of viatical settlements;

(4) misrepresenting or concealing the financial condition of a licensee, financing entity, insurer, or other person;

(5) transacting the business of viatical settlements in violation of laws requiring a license, certificate of authority, or other legal authority for the transaction of the business of viatical settlements;

(6) filing with the commissioner or the chief insurance regulatory official of another jurisdiction a document containing false information or otherwise concealing information about a material fact;

(7) engaging in embezzlement, theft, misappropriation, or conversion of money, funds, premiums, credits, or other property of a viatical settlement provider, viatical settlement broker, insurer, insured, policy owner, or any other person engaged in the business of viatical settlements or life insurance;

(8) knowingly and with intent to defraud entering into, brokering, or otherwise dealing in a viatical settlement contract the subject of which is a life insurance policy that was obtained by presenting false information concerning any fact material to the policy or by concealing, for the purpose of misleading another, information concerning any fact material to the policy if the policy owner or the owner's agent intended to defraud the issuer of the policy;

(9) attempting to commit or to assist, aid, or abet in the commission of or conspiring to commit the acts or omissions specified in this section; or

(10) misrepresenting the state of residence of a policy owner to be a state or jurisdiction that does not have a law substantially similar to Montana's Viatical Settlement Act, Title 33, chapter 20, part 13, or this part for the purpose of evading or avoiding the provisions of Montana law.

Part 14
Property and Casualty Actuarial Opinion Act

33-1-1401. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Property and Casualty Actuarial Opinion Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 50, L. 2009.

33-1-1402. Actuarial opinion of reserves and supporting documentation — definition. (1) Every property and casualty insurer doing business in this state, unless otherwise exempted by its domiciliary commissioner, shall annually submit the opinion of an appointed actuary entitled "Statement of Actuarial Opinion". The insurer shall file this opinion in accordance with the appropriate NAIC property and casualty annual statement instructions.

(2) (a) Every property and casualty resident domestic insurer that is required to submit a statement of actuarial opinion shall annually submit an actuarial opinion summary written by the insurer's appointed actuary. This actuarial opinion summary must be filed in accordance with the appropriate NAIC property and casualty annual statement instructions and is considered to be a document supporting the actuarial opinion required in subsection (1).

(b) A foreign or alien authorized insurer shall provide to the commissioner the actuarial opinion summary upon request.

(3) (a) An actuarial report and its underlying work papers as required by the appropriate NAIC property and casualty annual statement instructions must be prepared to support each actuarial opinion.

(b) If the insurer fails to provide a supporting actuarial report or work papers at the request of the commissioner or the commissioner determines that the supporting actuarial report or work papers provided by the insurer are otherwise unacceptable to the commissioner, the commissioner may engage a qualified actuary at the expense of the insurer to review the opinion and basis for the opinion and prepare a supporting actuarial report or work papers.

(4) The appointed actuary is not liable for damages to any person, other than the insurer and the commissioner, for any act, error, omission, decision, or conduct with respect to the actuary's opinion except in cases of fraud or willful misconduct on the part of the appointed actuary.

(5) For the purposes of this part, "actuarial report" means a document or presentation prepared as a formal means of conveying the actuary's professional conclusions and recommendations and communicating the methods and procedures used to reach the conclusions and recommendations, including any supporting documents.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 50, L. 2009.

33-1-1403. Confidentiality. (1) The statement of actuarial opinion must be provided with the annual statement in accordance with the appropriate NAIC property and casualty annual statement instructions and is a public record within the meaning of 2-6-1002.

(2) (a) Actuarial reports, work papers, and actuarial opinion summaries retained by the commissioner are trade secrets and are privileged. The materials must be given confidential treatment, are not subject to subpoena, and are not subject to discovery, and the materials are not admissible in evidence in any private civil litigation.

(b) Subsection (2)(a) does not limit the commissioner's authority to release the documents to the actuarial board for counseling and discipline if the material is required for the board's professional disciplinary proceedings and if the board establishes procedures satisfactory to the commissioner to preserve the confidentiality of the documents.

(3) This section does not limit the commissioner's authority to use the actuarial reports, work papers, actuarial opinion summaries, or other information in furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as part of the commissioner's official duties.

(4) The commissioner and any person who receives actuarial reports, work papers, actuarial opinion summaries, or other information while acting under the authority of the commissioner may not testify in any private civil action concerning the documents or information subject to the provisions of subsection (2).

(5) To assist in the performance of the commissioner's duties, the commissioner may provide and receive documents and information pursuant to 33-1-311.

(6) A waiver of privilege or claim of confidentiality in the actuarial reports, work papers, or actuarial opinion summaries does not result from disclosure to the commissioner under this section or result from the exchange of documents and information authorized in subsections (2)(b) and (5).

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 50, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 52, Ch. 348, L. 2015.

Part 15
Insurance Fraud Penalties

33-1-1501. No limitation on prosecutions. Nothing in this part limits the prosecution of any conduct defined as an offense in Title 45.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 396, L. 2017.

33-1-1502. Application of criminal law and procedure. (1) Unless a rule or statute specifically states otherwise, the provisions of Titles 45 and 46 apply to the enforcement of the offenses provided for in this part.

(2) In any prosecution for the offenses provided for and charged under this part, for the purposes of and in addition to the provisions of 46-2-101 and 46-3-110, offenses are deemed to have been committed in any of the following locations:

(a) the county or judicial district in which the purported loss, damage, or accident occurs;

(b) the county or judicial district in which the insurance policy provides coverage or, in the case of motor vehicle insurance, where the vehicle is garaged; or

(c) the county or judicial district in which money or other insurance proceeds were received for the fraudulent act.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 396, L. 2017; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-1-1503. Statute of limitations. (1) A prosecution for a felony stated in this part must be commenced within 5 years after it was committed.

(2) A prosecution for a misdemeanor stated in this part must be commenced within 3 years after it was committed.

(3) An offense is committed either when every element occurs or, when the offense is based upon a continuing course of conduct, at the time when the course of conduct is terminated. Time starts to run on the day after the offense is committed.

(4) A prosecution is commenced either when an indictment is found or an information or complaint is filed.

Part 1
Authorization of Insurers

33-2-101. Certificate of authority required. (1) Except as expressly otherwise provided in this code, a person acting as an insurer and an insurer transacting insurance in this state must have a subsisting certificate of authority issued by the commissioner.

(2) An insurer that has or maintains in Montana any office, representative, or facility for the solicitation or servicing of any kind of insurance in any other state must be authorized to transact the same kind of insurance in this state.

History: En. Sec. 46, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2801; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 562, L. 2005; amd. Sec. 18, Ch. 396, L. 2017.

33-2-102. Exceptions to certificate of authority requirement. A certificate of authority shall not be required of an insurer, not otherwise authorized in this state, as to the following transactions:

(1) transactions relative to its policies lawfully written in Montana or liquidation of assets and liabilities of the insurer (other than collection of new premiums), all as resulting from its former authorized operations in Montana;

(2) transactions relative thereto subsequent to issuance of a policy covering only subjects of insurance not resident, located, or expressly to be performed in Montana at time of issuance, and which coverage was lawfully solicited, written, and delivered outside Montana;

(3) transactions pursuant to surplus lines coverages lawfully written pursuant to part 3 of this chapter;

(4) reinsurance, except as to domestic reinsurers.

33-2-106. General eligibility of insurers. (1) To qualify for and hold authority to transact insurance in this state, an insurer must be otherwise in compliance with this code and with its charter powers and must be an incorporated stock insurer, an incorporated mutual insurer, or a reciprocal insurer, all of the same general type as may hereafter be formed as a domestic insurer under this code.

(2) No foreign insurer shall be authorized to transact insurance in Montana which does not maintain reserves as required by part 5 of this chapter applicable to the kind or kinds of insurance transacted by such insurer, wherever transacted in the United States, or which transacts business anywhere in the United States on the assessment plan, stipulated premium plan, or any similar plan.

(3) No foreign insurer which is directly or indirectly owned or controlled in whole or in substantial part by any government or governmental agency shall be authorized to transact insurance in Montana unless it was so owned and first so authorized prior to January 1, 1957. Membership or subscribership in a mutual or reciprocal insurer by virtue of being a policyholder thereof, ownership of stock or other security which does not have voting rights with respect to the management of the insurer, or supervision of an insurer by public authority shall not be deemed to be an ownership or control of the insurer for the purposes of this provision.

33-2-107. Name — dissimilar. (1) No insurer shall be authorized to transact insurance in this state which has or uses a name so similar to that of another insurer already so authorized as likely to mislead the public.

(2) No life insurer shall be authorized which has or uses a name deceptively similar to that of another insurer authorized to transact insurance in this state within the preceding 10 years if life insurance policies originally issued by such other insurer are still outstanding in this state.

(3) No insurer shall be so authorized which has or uses a name which tends to deceive or mislead as to the type of organization of the insurer.

(4) In case of conflict of names between two insurers or a conflict otherwise prohibited under the foregoing subsections of this section, the commissioner may permit or require the more recently authorized insurer to use in Montana such supplementation or modification of its name or such business name as may reasonably be necessary to avoid such conflict.

History: En. Sec. 50, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2805.

33-2-108. Combinations of insuring powers. (1) Except as provided in subsections (2), (3), and (4) and 33-25-213, an insurer which otherwise qualifies therefor may be authorized to transact any one kind or combination of kinds of insurance as defined in 33-1-205 through 33-1-212.

(2) A life insurer may also grant annuities but shall not be authorized to transact any other kind of insurance other than disability, except that if the insurer is otherwise qualified therefor, the commissioner shall continue to so authorize any life insurer which, immediately prior to January 1, 1961, was lawfully authorized to transact in this state a kind or kinds of insurance in addition to life and disability.

(3) A reciprocal insurer shall not transact life insurance.

(4) A title insurer shall be a stock insurer.

History: En. Sec. 51, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2806; amd. Sec. 16, Ch. 519, L. 1985.

33-2-109. Capital or surplus funds required. (1) To qualify for authority to transact any one kind of insurance, as defined in 33-1-205 through 33-1-212, or combinations of kinds of insurance as shown below, an insurer shall possess and maintain unimpaired paid-in capital stock, if a stock insurer, or surplus, if a mutual or foreign reciprocal insurer, in an amount not less than is applicable under the schedules below and shall possess when first authorized to transact insurance any additional funds as surplus as required under 33-2-110:

(a) Kind or kinds of insurance	Minimum capital or surplus required
Life	$200,000
Disability	200,000
Life and disability	300,000
Credit life and disability	50,000
Property	400,000
Marine	400,000
Casualty
All lines, except workers' compensation	400,000
All lines, including workers' compensation	600,000
Surety	500,000
Title	200,000
Multiple lines, two or more of property, marine, casualty, or surety	800,000

(b) For insurers licensed on or after October 1, 1999:

Kind or kinds of insurance	Minimum capital or surplus required
Life	$600,000
Disability	500,000
Life and disability	750,000
Credit life and disability	150,000
Property	500,000
Marine	500,000

All lines, except workers' compensation	500,000
All lines, including workers' compensation	750,000
Surety	500,000
Title	500,000
Multiple lines, two or more of property, marine, casualty, or surety	1,000,000

(2) Surplus requirements for qualification to transact one or more kinds of insurance for domestic mutual insurers are governed by Title 33, chapter 3, and surplus requirements for domestic reciprocal insurers are governed by Title 33, chapter 5.

(3) Capital and surplus requirements must be based upon all the kinds of insurance actually transacted or to be transacted by the insurer in any areas in which it operates, whether or not only a portion of the kinds are to be transacted in this state.

(4) A life insurer may also grant annuities without additional capital or additional surplus.

(5) For a credit life and disability insurer that is not a resident domestic insurer as defined in 33-1-201 and 33-1-202, the capital or surplus required by this section is an amount equal to four times the minimum capital or surplus required for credit life and disability pursuant to subsection (1).

History: En. Sec. 52, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 319, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2807(part); amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 303, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 202, L. 1983; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 472, L. 1999.

33-2-110. Special surplus required. In addition to the minimum paid-in capital stock (stock insurers) or minimum surplus (mutual and reciprocal insurers) required by 33-2-109, special surplus shall be possessed by insurers as follows:

(1) All stock insurers and mutual and foreign reciprocal insurers which have actively transacted insurance in their state of domicile as an authorized insurer for less than 5 years or, if an alien insurer, have transacted insurance as an authorized insurer in at least one state of the United States for less than 5 years when first authorized to transact insurance in this state shall have a surplus or additional surplus equal to not less than 100% of the paid-in capital stock (if a stock insurer) or surplus (if a mutual or foreign reciprocal) otherwise required under 33-2-109 for the kinds of insurance to be transacted.

(2) Insurers that have actively transacted insurance as authorized insurers in one or more states of the United States for more than 5 years shall possess, when first authorized in this state, surplus or additional surplus equal to not less than 50% of the paid-in capital stock (if a stock insurer) or surplus (if a mutual or foreign reciprocal insurer) otherwise required under 33-2-109.

(3) Insurers authorized to transact multiple lines of insurance in this state shall at all times have and maintain surplus of not less than $100,000, in addition to the capital (if a stock insurer) or surplus (if a mutual or foreign reciprocal insurer) required by 33-2-109. The amount of such surplus shall be included within the surplus required of newly authorized insurers pursuant to subsections (1) and (2) of this section.

History: En. Sec. 53, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2808; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 303, L. 1981.

33-2-111. Deposit requirement. (1) An insurer may not be authorized to transact insurance in this state unless it makes and maintains in trust in this state through the commissioner for the protection of all its policyholders or of all its policyholders and creditors a deposit of cash or securities eligible for deposit under 33-2-603 in an amount not less than the minimum paid-in capital stock, if a stock insurer, or minimum surplus, if a mutual or reciprocal insurer, other than special surplus, required to be maintained for authority to transact the kinds of insurance to be transacted, except as to:

(a) title insurers, the deposit must be in the amount of $100,000;

(b) foreign insurers, in lieu of the deposit or part of the deposit in this state, the commissioner shall accept the certificate in proper form of the public official having supervision over insurers in any other state to the effect that a like deposit or part of a deposit by the insurer is being maintained in public custody in that state in trust for the purpose, among other reasonable purposes of protection of policyholders or creditors, or both, of the protection of all its policyholders or creditors, or both, in Montana;

(c) alien insurers, in lieu of the deposit or part of the deposit in this state, the commissioner shall accept evidence satisfactory to the commissioner that the insurer maintains within the United States by way of trust deposits with public depositaries or in trust institutions approved by the commissioner assets available for discharge of its United States insurance obligations. The assets must be in an amount not less than the outstanding liabilities of the insurer arising out of its insurance transactions in the United States, together with the larger of the following sums:

(i) the largest deposit required by this code to be made by foreign insurers transacting like kinds of insurance; or

(ii) $300,000.

(2) Deposits of foreign or alien insurers in another state must be in cash or securities, or both, of substantially the same quality as those eligible for deposit in this state under 33-2-603.

(3) Deposits of reserves by domestic life insurers must be made as provided in 33-2-416.

(4) Deposits made in this state are subject to the provisions of part 6 of this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 54, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2809; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 238, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1070, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-112. Management qualifications and affiliations. The commissioner may not grant or continue authority to transact insurance in this state as to any insurer the principal management personnel of which is found by the commissioner to be untrustworthy or not of good character or so lacking in insurance company managerial experience as to make the proposed operation hazardous to the insurance-buying public or to its stockholders or that the commissioner has good reason to believe is affiliated directly or indirectly through ownership, control, management, reinsurance transactions, or other insurance or business relations with any person or persons whose business operations, to the detriment of insurers, stockholders, or creditors, are or have been marked by manipulation of assets, accounts, or reinsurance or by bad faith.

History: En. Sec. 55, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2810; amd. Sec. 1071, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-113 and 33-2-114 reserved.

33-2-115. Application for certificate of authority. To apply for an original certificate of authority, an insurer shall file with the commissioner its application accompanied by the applicable fees as specified in 33-2-708, showing its name, location of its home office or principal office in the United States, if an alien insurer, kinds of insurance to be transacted, date of organization or incorporation, form of organization, state or country of domicile, and any additional information that the commissioner may reasonably require. The application must be accompanied by the following documents, as applicable:

(1) if a foreign insurer, a copy of its corporate charter or articles of incorporation, with all amendments, certified by the public officer with whom the originals are on file in the state or country of domicile;

(2) if a mutual insurer, a copy of its bylaws as amended, certified by its secretary or other officer having custody of the bylaws;

(3) if a reciprocal insurer, copies of the power of attorney of its attorney-in-fact and of its subscribers' agreement, if any, certified by its attorney-in-fact;

(4) a copy of its financial statement as of the preceding December 31, sworn to by at least two executive officers of the insurer or certified by the public insurance supervisory official of the insurer's state of domicile or of entry into the United States;

(5) a copy of report of last examination, if any, made of the insurer, certified by the insurance supervisory official of its state of domicile or of entry into the United States;

(6) if a foreign or alien insurer, appointment of a registered agent to receive service of legal process pursuant to 33-1-605;

(7) if a foreign or alien insurer, a certificate of the public official having supervision of insurance in its state or country of domicile or state of entry into the United States, showing that it is authorized to transact the kinds of insurance proposed to be transacted in this state;

(8) if an alien insurer, a copy of the appointment and authority of its United States manager, certified by its officer having custody of its records;

(9) if a foreign insurer, certificate as to deposit if to be tendered pursuant to 33-2-111;

(10) if a domestic insurer, specimen copies of policies proposed to be offered in this state, together with premiums or premium rates applicable, or a declaration that the rates as applicable will be those promulgated by designated rating organizations authorized to file the rates in this state on behalf of the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 56, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2811; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 380, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 60, L. 2019.

33-2-116. Issuance or refusal of certificate of authority — state ownership of certificate. (1) If upon completion of an insurer's application for a certificate of authority the commissioner finds that the insurer has met the requirements for a certificate of authority under this code, the commissioner shall issue to the insurer a proper certificate of authority.

If the commissioner does not find that the insurer is entitled to a certificate of authority, the commissioner shall issue an order refusing to issue a certificate. The commissioner shall act upon an application for a certificate of authority within 180 days after its completion.

(2) The certificate, if issued, must specify the kind or kinds of insurance the insurer is authorized to transact in Montana. At the insurer's request, the commissioner may issue a certificate of authority limited to particular types of insurance or insurance coverages within the scope of a kind of insurance as defined in 33-1-205 through 33-1-212.

(3) Although issued to the insurer, the certificate of authority is at all times the property of the state of Montana. Upon any expiration or termination of the certificate of authority, the insurer shall promptly destroy the certificate.

33-2-117. Renewal, expiration, reinstatement, and amendment of certificate of authority. (1) A certificate of authority issued or renewed under this code must continue in force as long as the insurer is entitled under this code and until suspended, revoked, or otherwise terminated. A certificate is subject to renewal by the insurer each year by payment on or prior to March 1 of the fee provided for in 33-2-708.

(2) If not continued by the insurer, the certificate of authority expires at midnight on May 31 following failure of the insurer to continue it in force. The commissioner shall promptly notify the insurer of its failure to pay the fee that can result in the expiration of its certificate of authority.

(3) The commissioner may reinstate a certificate of authority that the insurer has inadvertently permitted to expire after the insurer cures any failures resulting in expiration and upon payment of a fee of $100 for reinstatement. Otherwise, the insurer may be granted another certificate of authority only after filing an application and meeting all other requirements for an original certificate of authority in this state.

(4) The commissioner may amend a certificate of authority at any time to accord with changes in the insurer's charter of insuring powers.

History: En. Sec. 58, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2813; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 139, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 379, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 316, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 63, L. 2015.

33-2-118. Mandatory revocation or suspension of certificate of authority. (1) The commissioner shall suspend or revoke an insurer's certificate of authority if:

(a) such action is required by any provision of this code;

(b) the insurer no longer meets the requirements for the authority originally granted, on account of deficiency of assets or otherwise; or

(c) the insurer's authority to transact insurance is suspended or revoked by its state of domicile, or state of entry into the United States if an alien insurer.

(2) Except in cases of insolvency or impairment of required capital or surplus or suspension or revocation by another state as referred to in subsection (1)(c) above, the commissioner shall give the insurer at least 15 days' notice in advance of any such suspension or revocation under this section.

History: En. Sec. 59, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2814.

Cross-References

33-2-119. Suspension or revocation for violations and special grounds. (1) The commissioner may suspend or revoke an insurer's certificate of authority if, after a hearing, the commissioner finds that the insurer has:

(a) violated any lawful order of the commissioner or any provision of this code other than those for which suspension or revocation is mandatory;

(b) reinsured more than 90% of its risks resident, located, or to be performed in Montana, in another insurer. In considering suspension or revocation, the commissioner shall consider all relevant factors, including whether:

(i) after the reinsurance transaction all parties will be in compliance with Montana law; and

(ii) the transaction will substantially reduce protection and service to Montana policyholders.

(2) The commissioner shall, after a hearing, suspend or revoke an insurer's certificate of authority if the commissioner finds that the insurer:

(a) is in unsound condition or in a condition or using methods or practices in the conduct of its business that render its further transaction of insurance in Montana injurious or hazardous to its policyholders or to the public;

(b) has refused to be examined or to produce its accounts, records, and files for examination or if any of its officers have refused to give information with respect to its affairs, when required by the commissioner;

(c) has failed to pay any final judgment rendered against it in Montana within 30 days after the judgment became final;

(d) with such frequency as to indicate its general business practice in Montana, has without just cause refused to pay a proper claim arising under its policies, whether the claim is in favor of an insured or is in favor of a third person with respect to the liability of an insured to the third person, or without just cause compels the insured or claimant to accept less than the amount due the claimant or to employ attorneys or to bring suit against the insurer or insured to secure full payment or settlement of the claims;

(e) is affiliated with and under the same general management or interlocking directorate or ownership as another insurer that transacts direct insurance in Montana without having a certificate of authority, except as permitted as to a surplus lines insurer under part 3 of this chapter.

(3) The commissioner may, without advance notice or a hearing, immediately suspend the certificate of authority of any insurer as to which proceedings for receivership, conservatorship, rehabilitation, or other delinquency proceedings have been commenced in any state.

33-2-120. Notice of suspension or revocation — effect upon producer's authority. (1) Upon suspending or revoking an insurer's certificate of authority, the commissioner shall give notice to the insurer and to its insurance producers in this state of record in the commissioner's office.

(2) The suspension or revocation must automatically suspend or revoke, as the case may be, the authority of all insurance producers to act as insurance producers of the insurer in this state, and the commissioner shall state that requirement in the notice to insurance producers provided for in subsection (1).

(3) The commissioner may also publish notice of revocation in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in this state.

History: En. Sec. 61, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2816; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 1073, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-121. Duration of suspension — insurer's obligations — reinstatement. (1) Suspension of an insurer's certificate of authority must be for a period fixed by the commissioner in the order of suspension and must continue until rescinded or otherwise removed by the commissioner. During the suspension, the commissioner may shorten the period by further order.

(2) During the period of the suspension the insurer shall file its annual statement and pay fees, licenses, and taxes as required under this code as if the certificate had continued in full force.

(3) If within the period of suspension the certificate of authority has not been terminated, the insurer's certificate of authority may be reinstated if the commissioner finds that the causes of the suspension have been removed or that the insurer is otherwise in compliance with the requirements of this code.

(4) Upon reinstatement of the insurer's certificate of authority, the authority of its insurance producers in this state to represent the insurer is reinstated.

(5) The commissioner shall forthwith notify both the insurer and its insurance producers in this state, as shown by the commissioner's records, of the reinstatement.

33-2-122. Rights and duties of foreign insurer. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a foreign insurer which has a certificate of authority under this chapter shall, until its certificate is revoked or withdrawn, enjoy the same but no greater rights and privileges as a domestic insurer and shall be subject to the same duties, restrictions, penalties, and liabilities imposed upon a domestic insurer of like character.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 345, L. 1987.

33-2-123 through 33-2-125 reserved.

33-2-126. Admission as domestic insurer — conversion to foreign insurer. (1) An insurer organized under the laws of any other state and admitted to do business in this state for the purposes of writing insurance may become a domestic insurer by complying with all of the laws relative to the organization and licensing of a domestic insurer of the same type, and designating its principal place of business in this state. An insurer complying with this subsection is entitled to a certificate of redomestication and a certificate of authority to transact business in this state, is subject to the authority and jurisdiction of this state, and has the same rights and obligations as other domestic insurers.

(2) A domestic insurer may, upon approval of the commissioner, transfer its domicile to any other state in which it is admitted to transact insurance. If the insurer is otherwise qualified, the commissioner shall approve a proposed transfer unless the commissioner determines a transfer is not in the interest of the policyholders of this state. Upon a transfer, the insurer ceases to be a domestic insurer.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 132, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 316, L. 1999.

33-2-127. Effects of transfer of domicile. The certificate of authority, producers' appointments and licenses, policy forms, rates, and other items that the commissioner allows that are in existence at the time an insurer admitted to transact insurance in this state transfers its corporate domicile to this or any other state continue in effect upon transfer if the insurer remains qualified to transact insurance in this state. All rates and outstanding policies of a transferring insurer remain in effect, and policies need not be endorsed as to the new name of the company or its domicile unless required by the commissioner. A transferring insurer either shall file new policy forms for use in this state with the commissioner on or before the effective date of the transfer or may use existing policy forms with the appropriate endorsements as allowed by the commissioner. A transferring insurer shall notify the commissioner of the proposed transfer and shall promptly file any resulting amendments to corporate documents required to be filed with the commissioner.

State of Entry — Trusteed Assets of Alien Insurers

Part Cross-References

Annual report — alien insurers — additional requirements, 33-2-701.

33-2-201. Scope of part. This part applies to all alien insurers using Montana as a state of entry to transact insurance in the United States.

History: En. Sec. 599, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5201.

33-2-202. Required deposit of assets. (1) An alien insurer may use Montana as a state of entry to transact insurance in the United States by making and maintaining in this state a deposit of assets in trust with a solvent bank or trust company approved by the commissioner.

(2) The deposit, together with other trust deposits of the insurer held in the United States for the same purpose, must be in amount not less than the deposits required of an alien insurer under 33-2-111(1) and must consist of cash and securities of the same character and diversification as those eligible for the investment of the funds of domestic insurers under chapter 12.

(3) A deposit under this section may be referred to as "trusteed assets".

History: En. Sec. 600, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5202; amd. Sec. 37, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-2-203. Existing trusts. All trusts of trusteed assets created before January 1, 1961, and existing on that date shall be continued under the instruments creating them unless inconsistent with the provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 601, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5203.

33-2-204. Purpose and duration. The deposit required by 33-2-202 shall be for the benefit, security, and protection of the policyholders or policyholders and creditors of the insurer in the United States. It shall be maintained as long as there is outstanding any liability of the insurer arising out of its insurance transactions in the United States.

History: En. Sec. 602, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5204.

33-2-205. Trust agreement — approval. (1) The deposit referred to in 33-2-202 must be made under a written trust agreement between the insurer and the trustee, consistent with the provisions of this part, and must be authenticated in the form and manner that the commissioner may designate or approve.

(2) The agreement may not be effective until filed with and approved in writing by the commissioner. The commissioner may not approve any trust agreement found by the commissioner not to be in compliance with law or the terms of which do not in fact provide reasonably adequate protection for the insurer's policyholders or creditors, or both, in the United States.

History: En. Sec. 603, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5205; amd. Sec. 1076, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

(1) A trust agreement under this part must provide, in substance, that withdrawals of trusteed assets may not be made by the insurer or permitted by the trustee without the written authorization or approval of the commissioner in advance of the withdrawal, except as follows:

(a) any or all income, earnings, dividends, or interest accumulations of the trusteed assets may be paid over to the United States manager of the insurer upon request of the insurer or the manager;

(b) for substitution, coincidentally with a withdrawal, of other securities or assets of value at least equal in amount to those being withdrawn if the substituted securities or assets are eligible for investment of the funds of domestic insurers under chapter 12, if the withdrawal is requested in writing by the insurer's United States manager pursuant to general or specific written authority previously given or delegated by the insurer's board of directors or other similar governing body and a copy of the authority has been filed with the trustee;

(c) for the purpose of making deposits required by law in any state in which the insurer is or becomes an authorized insurer, for the protection of the insurer's policyholders or policyholders and creditors in such state or in the United States, if a withdrawal does not reduce the insurer's deposit in this state to an amount less than the minimum deposit required under 33-2-111(1)(c)(i) and (1)(c)(ii). The trustee shall transfer any assets withdrawn and in the amount required to be deposited in the other state direct to the depositary required to receive the deposit in the other state, as certified in writing by the public official having supervision of insurance in the other state.

(d) for the purpose of transferring the trusteed assets to an official liquidator, conservator, or rehabilitator pursuant to the order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

(2) The commissioner shall authorize or approve withdrawal of only the assets that are in excess of the amount of assets required to be held in trust under 33-2-202 or as may otherwise be consistent with the provisions of this part.

(3) If at any time the insurer becomes insolvent or if its assets held in the United States are less in amount than as required under 33-2-111(1)(c), the commissioner shall in writing order the trustee to suspend the right of the insurer or any other person to withdraw assets as authorized under subsections (1)(a), (1)(b), and (1)(c), and the trustee shall comply with the order and until the further order of the commissioner.

Part 3

Authorization of Surplus Lines Insurers, Insurance Producers, and Insurance

33-2-301. Short title — purpose — definitions. (1) This part constitutes and may be referred to as "The Surplus Lines Insurance Law".

(2) The purpose of this part is to:

(a) protect persons seeking insurance in this state;

(b) permit surplus lines insurance to be placed with reputable and financially sound unauthorized insurers and, except with a domestic surplus lines insurer, to be exported from this state pursuant to this part;

(c) establish a system of regulation that will permit orderly access to surplus lines insurance in this state and encourage unauthorized insurers to provide new and innovative types of insurance to consumers in this state; and

(d) protect revenues of this state.

(3) As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Affiliated" means that a person directly or indirectly controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with the insured.

(b) "Affiliated group" means any group of persons that are affiliated.

(c) "Approved risk list" means the list approved by the commissioner of the kinds of insurance presumed unobtainable from authorized insurers when Montana is the home state of the insured.

(d) "Authorized insurer" means an insurer authorized pursuant to 33-2-101 to transact insurance in this state.

(e) (i) "Business entity" means a corporation, a limited liability company, an association, a partnership, a limited liability partnership, or other legal entity.

(ii) The term does not include an individual.

(f) "Control", including the terms "controlled by" and "under common control with", means that:

(i) the person directly or indirectly or acting through one or more other persons owns, controls, or has the power to vote 25% or more of any class of voting securities of a business entity; or

(ii) the person controls in any manner the election of a majority of the directors or trustees of a business entity.

(g) (i) "Disability income insurance" has the meaning provided in 33-1-235 for:

(A) individuals employed in professional sports or the entertainment industry; or

(B) a business entity insuring a principal to cover liability or provide assurance for the business entity's loans or contracts.

(ii) Disability income insurance sold on the surplus lines market must be unavailable from or limited by an authorized insurer.

(h) "Eligible surplus lines insurer" means an unauthorized insurer that is eligible to issue surplus lines insurance under 33-2-307.

(i) "Exempt commercial purchaser" has the meaning provided in 33-2-318.

(j) "Export" means to place surplus lines insurance with an unauthorized insurer.

(k) "Home state" means, with respect to an insured:

(i) the state in which the insured maintains its principal place of business or, in the case of an individual, the individual's principal residence;

(ii) if 100% of the insured risk is located outside the state referred to in subsection (3)(k)(i), the state with the greatest allocated percentage of the insured's taxable premium for that surplus lines insurance contract;

(iii) if more than one insured from an affiliated group are named insureds on a single surplus lines insurance contract, the home state as determined under subsection (3)(k)(i) or (3)(k)(ii) for the member of the affiliated group that has the largest percentage of premium attributed to it under the surplus lines insurance contract; or

(iv) if a group policyholder pays 100% of the premium from its own funds, the home state of the group policyholder as determined under subsection (3)(k)(i) or, if a group policyholder does not pay 100% of the premiums from its own funds, the home state of the group member as determined under subsection (3)(k)(i).

(l) "Independently procured insurance" means surplus lines insurance procured directly by an insured from an eligible surplus lines insurer.

(m) "Multistate risk" means a risk covered by an unauthorized insurer with insured exposures in more than one state.

(n) "Natural disaster multiperil insurance" means any combination of flood, earthquake, and landslide insurance that may be sold as surplus lines insurance.

(o) "Principal place of business" means the state where the insured business maintains its headquarters and where the insured's high-level officers direct, control, and coordinate the business activities of the insured.

(p) "Principal residence" means the state where an individual insured resides for the greatest number of days during a calendar year or, if the insured's principal residence is located outside of any state, the state to which the greatest percentage of the insured's taxable premium for that insurance contract is located.

(q) "Producing insurance producer" means a Montana-licensed property and casualty insurance producer dealing directly with a person seeking insurance.

(r) "Qualified risk manager" has the meaning provided in 33-2-319.

(s) "Single-state risk" means a risk covered by an unauthorized insurer with exposures in only one state.

(t) "State" means any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, the Virgin Islands, and American Samoa.

(u) (i) "Surplus lines insurance" means any property, casualty, or inland marine insurance permitted in a state to be placed directly or through a surplus lines insurance producer with an unauthorized insurer eligible to accept the insurance. The term includes independently procured insurance.

(ii) The term does not include the kinds of insurance exempted under 33-2-317.

(v) "Surplus lines insurance producer" means an individual or business entity licensed under 33-2-305 to place surplus lines insurance on risks resident, located, or to be performed in this state with unauthorized insurers eligible to accept the insurance.

(w) "Unauthorized insurer" means, with respect to a state, an insurer not authorized to transact the business of insurance in the state. The term includes an insurance exchange authorized under the laws of another state. The term does not include a risk retention group, as that term is defined in the Liability Risk Retention Act of 1986, 15 U.S.C. 3901(a)(4).

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 10, Ch. 8, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-2-302. Home state exclusive authority — conditions precedent to sale of surplus lines insurance. (1) Pursuant to the Nonadmitted and Reinsurance Reform Act of 2010, Title V, subtitle B, of Public Law 111-203, the transaction of surplus lines insurance is subject to the statutory and regulatory requirements of the home state of the insured, regardless of whether a multistate risk is covered. If, at the time of the surplus lines insurance transaction, the home state:

(a) is Montana, the surplus lines insurance transaction is subject to the applicable statutory and regulatory requirements in Montana; or

(b) is not Montana, the Montana statutory and regulatory requirements regarding the surplus lines insurance transaction are preempted by the statutory and regulatory requirements of the home state.

(2) When Montana is the home state at the time of the surplus lines insurance transaction, the following apply:

(a) A producing insurance producer may request a surplus lines insurance producer to place or a surplus lines insurance producer may place a contract of insurance with an unauthorized insurer if:

(i) the insurer is an eligible surplus lines insurer;

(ii) the line of insurance or the full amount of the line of insurance cannot be obtained from authorized insurers or, in the case of a renewal, the line of insurance has not become available from an authorized insurer, as evidenced by one of the following:

(A) the producing insurance producer making a diligent effort to place the business with a minimum of three insurers authorized and actually transacting that line of business in this state. If fewer than three insurers are authorized and actually transacting the line of business in this state, diligent effort must be met by searching this lesser market.

(B) the appearance on the current approved risk list of the kind of insurance being sought; or

(C) the insurance is natural disaster multiperil insurance; and

(iii) all other requirements of this part are met.

(b) A producing insurance producer is not required to satisfy the search requirements in subsection (2)(a)(ii) if:

(i) the premium rate quoted by an authorized insurer is at least 10% higher than the premium rate quoted by an unauthorized insurer;

(ii) the unauthorized insurer is eligible under 33-2-307; and

(iii) the unauthorized insurer or the surplus lines insurance producer that placed the contract of insurance with the unauthorized insurer has provided the insured with disclosure information in a form and content approved by the commissioner.

(c) A producing insurance producer is not required to satisfy the search requirements in subsection (2)(a)(ii) if:

(i) the insured is an exempt commercial purchaser;

(ii) the producing insurance producer placing the coverage has disclosed to the exempt commercial purchaser that the insurance may or may not be available from an authorized insurer that may provide greater protection with more regulatory oversight; and

(iii) the exempt commercial purchaser has subsequently requested in writing to the producing insurance producer that the coverage be placed with the surplus lines insurer.

33-2-303. Filing and endorsement of contract — submission form. (1) Each insurance contract, cover note, or certificate of insurance procured and delivered as surplus lines insurance under this part, along with a submission form prescribed by the commissioner by rule, must be filed with:

(a) the commissioner if Montana is the home state of the insured and:

(i) the coverage is for a single-state risk; or

(ii) the commissioner has not entered an agreement pursuant to 33-2-323 for multistate risks;

(b) the clearinghouse, established pursuant to 33-2-323, if in operation and if the commissioner has entered an agreement pursuant to 33-2-323 for multistate risks.

(2) The commissioner shall establish by rule a submission form for reporting surplus lines transactions. The commissioner may establish different submission forms for insureds that independently procured insurance, surplus lines insurance producers, single-state risks, and multistate risks. The submission form for surplus lines insurance producers must include:

(a) information regarding the producing producer's diligent efforts to place the coverage with authorized insurers and the results of the efforts; and

(b) the producing insurance producer's affirmation that the producer has expressly advised the insured prior to placing the insurance that:

(i) the surplus lines insurer with whom the insurance is placed is not authorized in this state and is not subject to the same supervision as an authorized insurer; and

(ii) in the event of the insolvency of the surplus lines insurer, the property and casualty guaranty fund of the state will not pay losses under the surplus lines coverage.

(3) A submission form filed under this section is subject to public inspection.

(4) The commissioner may establish by rule an endorsement to be made on each insurance contract, cover note, or certificate of insurance procured and delivered as surplus lines insurance by a surplus lines insurance producer under this part advising the insured that the coverage is issued by an unauthorized insurer that is not covered by the property and casualty guaranty fund of this state if the unauthorized insurer becomes insolvent. The surplus lines insurance producer shall properly fill in and sign the endorsement.

33-2-305. Licensing of surplus lines insurance producer — license fee. (1) If Montana is the home state of the insured, the person placing a contract of surplus lines insurance with an unauthorized insurer must possess a current surplus lines insurance producer's license issued by the commissioner.

(2) The commissioner shall issue licenses to persons to act as surplus lines insurance producers on either a resident or nonresident basis. To be eligible for a resident surplus lines insurance producer license, the person must hold a current property and casualty insurance producer license.

(3) Persons applying for a resident surplus lines insurance producer license shall:

(a) remit to the commissioner the fee prescribed by 33-2-708; and

(b) submit to the commissioner a completed license application in a form and manner approved by the commissioner.

(4) Persons applying for a nonresident surplus lines insurance producer license shall comply with 33-17-401.

(5) The licensee shall renew the license on a form prescribed by the commissioner. The commissioner may establish rules for biennial renewal of the license. A license lapses if not renewed.

(6) A business entity is eligible to be licensed as a surplus lines insurance producer if:

(a) the business entity license lists the individuals within the business entity who have satisfied the requirements of this part to become surplus lines insurance producers; and

(b) only those individuals listed on the business entity license transact surplus lines insurance.

(7) This section may not be construed to require agents, producers, or brokers acting as intermediaries between a surplus lines insurance producer and an unauthorized insurer under this part to hold a valid Montana surplus lines insurance producer's license.

(8) This section may not be construed to require a surplus lines insurance producer license for independently procured insurance.

(9) The commissioner may participate in the national association of insurance commissioners' producer licensing database regarding surplus lines insurance producer licensing.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 11, Ch. 8, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-2-307. Requirements for eligible surplus lines insurers — list of eligible surplus lines insurers. (1) If an unauthorized insurer is domiciled in any state, a surplus lines insurance producer may not place insurance with that unauthorized insurer unless, at the time of placement, the unauthorized insurer:

(a) is authorized to issue the same kind of property or casualty insurance in its domiciliary jurisdiction; and

(b) maintains capital and surplus or its equivalent under the laws of its state of domicile, which equals the greater of:

(i) the minimum capital and surplus requirements of 33-2-109 and 33-2-110; or

(ii) $15 million. An insurer possessing less than $15 million capital and surplus may satisfy the requirements of this subsection upon an affirmative finding of acceptability by the commissioner. The commissioner's finding must be based on factors that include:

(A) the quality of management, capital, and surplus of a parent company;

(B) company underwriting profit and investment income trends;

(C) market availability; and

(D) company record and reputation within the industry.

(2) The commissioner may not make an affirmative finding of acceptability when the surplus lines insurer's capital and surplus is less than $4.5 million.

(3) If an unauthorized insurer is an alien insurer, a surplus lines insurance producer may not place insurance with that unauthorized insurer unless, at the time of placement, the unauthorized insurer appears on the national association of insurance commissioners' Quarterly Listing of Alien Insurers.

(4) A list of eligible surplus lines insurers must be published at least semiannually by the commissioner for a range of risks, including disability income insurance. This subsection does not require the commissioner to place or maintain the name of any unauthorized insurer on the list of eligible surplus lines insurers. An action may not lie against the commissioner or an employee of the commissioner for anything said in issuing the list of eligible surplus lines insurers referred to in this subsection.

(5) As used in this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Capital", as used in the financial requirements of this section, means funds invested in for stocks or other evidences of ownership.

(b) "Surplus", as used in the financial requirements of this section, means funds over and above liabilities and capital of the insurer for the protection of policyholders.

33-2-308. Evidence of insurance — changes. (1) Upon placing surplus lines insurance, the surplus lines insurance producer shall promptly issue or deliver to the insured or the producing insurance producer evidence of the insurance, consisting either of the policy as issued by the insurer or, if the policy is not then available, a cover note or certificate of insurance signed or countersigned by the insurance producer. The cover note or certificate must show the subject, coverage, conditions, and term of the insurance, the premium charged and taxes collected from the insured, and the name and address of the insurer. If a direct risk is assumed by more than one insurer, the cover note or certificate must state the name and address and proportion of the entire direct risk assumed by each insurer.

(2) If after the issuance and delivery of any cover note or certificate there is a change as to the identity of the insurers or the proportion of the direct risk assumed by the insurer as stated in the original cover note or certificate or in any other material respect as to the insurance coverage evidenced by the cover note or certificate, the surplus lines insurance producer shall promptly issue or deliver to the insured a substitute cover note or certificate accurately showing the current status of the coverage and the insurers responsible under the coverage.

(3) If a policy issued by the insurer is not available upon placement of the insurance and the surplus lines insurance producer has issued and delivered a cover note or certificate as provided in subsection (2), upon request by the insured, the surplus lines insurance producer shall as soon as reasonably possible procure from the insurer its policy evidencing the insurance and deliver the policy to the insured in replacement of the cover note or certificate previously issued.

(4) A surplus lines insurance producer may not issue or deliver an evidence of insurance or purport to insure or represent that insurance will be or has been written by an eligible surplus lines insurer unless the surplus lines insurance producer has authority from the insurer to cause the risk to be insured or has received information from the insurer in the regular course of business that the insurance has been granted.

History: En. Sec. 192, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3417; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 537, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 285, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 1081, Ch. 56, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 20, Ch. 396, L. 2017.

33-2-309. Liability of insurer as to losses and unearned premiums. (1) As to a surplus lines risk that has been assumed by an unauthorized insurer pursuant to The Surplus Lines Insurance Law and if the premium on the surplus lines risk has been received by the surplus lines insurance producer who placed the insurance, in all questions arising under the coverage as between the insurer and the insured, the insurer is considered to have received the premium due to it for the coverage. The insurer is liable to the insured for losses covered by the insurance and for unearned premiums that may become payable to the insured upon cancellation of the insurance, whether or not in fact the surplus lines insurance producer is indebted to the insurer with respect to the insurance or for any other cause. This provision does not affect rights as between the insurer and the surplus lines insurance producer.

(2) A payment of premium to a surplus lines insurance producer acting for a person other than individually in negotiating, continuing, or reviewing a policy of insurance under this part is considered to be payment to the insurer, notwithstanding any conditions or stipulations that may be inserted in the policy or contract.

(3) Each unauthorized insurer assuming a surplus lines direct risk under The Surplus Lines Insurance Law is considered to have subjected itself to the terms of this section.

History: En. Sec. 193, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3418; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 537, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 285, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 1082, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-310. Records — tax and fee statement. (1) Each surplus lines insurance producer shall keep a separate record and account of all business transacted under the producer's license, including a copy of each daily report, if any, or of each policy, certificate of insurance, cover note, or other evidence of insurance issued or delivered by the producer. The records must be available for examination by the commissioner at any reasonable time within 5 years after the issuance of the surplus lines insurance to which it relates.

(2) By the reporting date established by the commissioner by rule, the surplus lines insurance producer shall file with the commissioner or with the clearinghouse if requested by the commissioner a tax and fee statement for the preceding reporting period. The commissioner shall establish by rule the content and form of the tax and fee statement that must include but is not limited to:

(a) name and principal residence of the insured or the address at which the insured maintains its principal place of business;

(b) a brief and general description of the risk or exposure insured and where located;

(c) name and home office address of each insurer providing the surplus lines insurance;

(d) amount of each surplus lines insurance policy, the premium rate, and the gross premium charged for the policy;

(e) date and term of the policy;

(f) amount of premium returned on each policy canceled or not taken;

(g) amount of tax and other sums to be collected from the insured;

(h) identity of the producing insurance producer; and

(i) additional information that the commissioner may reasonably require.

(3) If Montana is the home state of the insured, an insured that has independently procured insurance shall report the surplus lines insurance transaction to the commissioner or the clearinghouse if requested by the commissioner in a manner and format prescribed by the commissioner. The insured is responsible for payment of the taxes, stamping fees, and clearinghouse processing fees associated with the surplus lines insurance transaction and is subject to the penalties under this part for failure to timely pay the taxes and fees.

33-2-311. Tax on surplus lines insurance. (1) Except as provided in 33-2-323, when this state is the home state of the insured, the surplus lines insurance producer shall collect from the insured and pay to the commissioner a tax on premiums collected for surplus lines insurance transacted in this state. The amount of premiums collected and the tax rate must be computed in the same manner as provided in 33-2-705 as to premiums of authorized insurers, except that amounts collected from the insured specifically for applicable state and federal taxes in excess of the premium otherwise required, or fees imposed by the surplus lines insurance producer pursuant to 33-2-320, are not considered to be part of the premium for the purposes of the computation. Upon filing of the tax and fee statement referred to in 33-2-310, the surplus lines insurance producer shall pay to the commissioner the amount of tax owing as to surplus lines insurance business transacted by the surplus lines insurance producer during the preceding reporting period as well as the stamping fee on the premium payable by the insured regardless of whether the coverage includes risks or exposures partially located or to be performed in another state.

(2) Except as provided in 33-2-323, if this state is not the home state of the insured, the commissioner may not collect any tax or stamping fee regardless of whether the coverage includes risks or exposures partially located or to be performed in this state.

(3) The commissioner by rule shall establish procedures that provide for the collection and payment of premium taxes, as well as the reporting of premium tax and surplus lines insurance transaction data, in accordance with the provisions of the Nonadmitted and Reinsurance Reform Act of 2010, Title V, subtitle B, of Public Law 111-203, for payment of taxes on this state's portion of risks covered by surplus lines insurance policies transacted outside this state that cover risks with exposures both in this state and outside this state.

33-2-312. Penalty for failure to file statement, pay tax, or pay stamping fee. (1) A surplus lines insurance producer or an insured that independently procured insurance that fails to file the tax and fee statement as required under 33-2-310 or to pay the taxes as required under 33-2-311 is liable for a penalty of up to $25 for each day of delinquency, commencing 30 calendar days after the due date established by the commissioner by rule. The tax and penalty may be recovered in an action instituted by the commissioner in the name of the state in any court of competent jurisdiction with the attorney general representing the commissioner. The penalty when collected, unless collected by a justice's court, must be paid to the commissioner, forwarded to the state treasurer, and placed to the credit of the general fund. The surplus lines insurance producer's license is also subject to revocation as provided in 33-2-313.

(2) If a surplus lines insurance producer or an insured that independently procured insurance does not pay the stamping fee provided for in 33-2-321, the commissioner may impose a penalty of 25% of the stamping fee due plus 1.5% a month from the time of delinquency until the stamping fee is paid.

33-2-313. Revocation or suspension of license. (1) The commissioner shall revoke or suspend any surplus lines insurance producer's license, together with any license as an insurance producer:

(a) if the insurance producer fails to file a tax and fee statement or to remit the tax and fee as required by law;

(b) if the insurance producer fails to keep the records or to allow the commissioner to examine the records, as required by law;

(c) if the insurance producer falsifies the submission form required by 33-2-310;

(d) if the insurance producer closes the surplus lines insurance producer office for a period of more than 30 business days, unless the commissioner grants permission otherwise;

(e) if the insurance producer violates any provision of this part; or

(f) for any of the causes for which an insurance producer's license may be revoked.

(2) The procedures provided by 33-17-1001 for the suspension, revocation, or refusal to license or renew a license or for imposing a fine on an insurance producer or applicant apply to the suspension, revocation, or refusal to license or renew a license or to imposing a fine on a surplus lines insurance producer or applicant.

(3) An insurance producer whose license has been revoked or suspended may not again be licensed within 1 year after revocation or suspension or until the insurance producer pays all penalties and delinquent taxes that are owed.

33-2-318. Exempt commercial purchaser defined. (1) An exempt commercial purchaser means an individual or business entity who at the time of placement:

(a) employs or retains a qualified risk manager to negotiate insurance coverage;

(b) has paid aggregate nationwide commercial property and casualty insurance premiums in excess of $100,000 in the immediately preceding 12 months; and

(c) meets at least one of the following criteria:

(i) possesses a net worth in excess of $20 million, as that amount may be adjusted pursuant to subsection (2);

(ii) generates annual revenue in excess of $50 million, as that amount may be adjusted pursuant to subsection (2);

(iii) employs more than 500 full-time or full-time equivalent employees per individual insured or is a member of an affiliated group employing more than 1,000 employees in the aggregate;

(iv) is a not-for-profit organization or a public entity generating annual budgeted expenditures of at least $30 million, as that amount may be adjusted pursuant to subsection (2); or

(v) is a municipality with a population in excess of 50,000 persons.

(2) Effective January 1, 2015, and on every 5th subsequent January 1, the amounts in subsections (1)(c)(i), (1)(c)(ii), and (1)(c)(iv) must be adjusted to reflect the percentage of change for that 5-year period in the consumer price index for all urban consumers published by the bureau of labor statistics of the United States department of labor.

33-2-319. Qualified risk manager defined. (1) A qualified risk manager means a person who:

(a) is an employee of or a third-party consultant retained by the commercial policyholder;

(b) provides skilled services in loss prevention, loss reduction, or risk and insurance coverage analysis and purchases of insurance; and

(c) has the qualifications specified in subsection (2).

(2) To be a qualified risk manager, a person must have:

(a) (i) a bachelor's degree or higher from an accredited college or university in risk management, business administration, finance, economics, or any other field determined by the commissioner to demonstrate minimum competence in risk management; and

(ii) (A) 3 years of experience in risk financing, claims administration, loss prevention, risk and insurance analysis, or purchasing commercial lines of insurance; or

(B) one of the following designations:

(I) a designation as a chartered property and casualty underwriter (CPCU) issued by the American institute for CPCU/insurance institute of America;

(II) a designation as an associate in risk management issued by the American institute for CPCU/insurance institute of America;

(III) a designation as certified risk manager issued by the national alliance for insurance education and research;

(IV) a designation as a risk and insurance management society fellow issued by the global risk management institute;

(V) any other designation, certification, or license determined by the commissioner to demonstrate minimum competency in risk management;

(b) (i) at least 7 years of experience in risk financing, claims administration, loss prevention, risk and insurance coverage analysis, or purchasing commercial lines of insurance; and

(ii) any one of the designations specified in subsection (2)(a)(ii)(B);

(c) at least 10 years of experience in risk financing, claims administration, loss prevention, risk and insurance coverage analysis, or purchasing commercial lines of insurance; or

(d) a graduate degree from an accredited college or university in risk management, business administration, finance, economics, or any other field determined by the commissioner to demonstrate minimum competence in risk management.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 350, L. 2011.

33-2-320. Surplus lines insurance producer fee. (1) A surplus lines insurance producer may collect a flat fee per policy for business placed in the surplus lines insurance market. The fee may not exceed:

(a) $50 for a personal lines insurance policy; or

(b) $100 for a commercial lines insurance policy.

(2) The fees allowed under this section are not considered part of the premium charged to the insured and do not fall within the definition of premium provided in 33-15-102.

(3) The fees allowed under this section apply only to surplus lines insurance producers transacting surplus lines insurance business.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 223, L. 2015.

33-2-321. Stamping fee and clearinghouse processing fee. (1) The commissioner may collect a stamping fee not to exceed 1% of the premium payable for surplus lines insurance transacted in this state. The commissioner shall establish the stamping fee by rule commensurate with the expenses of regulating surplus lines. The stamping fee must be placed in a state special revenue account to the credit of the commissioner's office and used for the expenses of the commissioner's office in regulating surplus lines insurance.

(2) If the commissioner has entered an agreement with a clearinghouse as authorized pursuant to 33-2-323 to process multistate risks and allocate and distribute taxes and fees collected, the clearinghouse may collect a processing fee from the surplus lines insurance producer or the insured that independently procured insurance. The processing fee may be a flat fee per submission, a percentage of the premium payable for surplus lines insurance, or a combination of a flat fee and a percentage of premium payable. When a percentage of premium payable is used in calculating the processing fee, the charge may not exceed 1% of the premium payable for surplus lines insurance. The commissioner shall establish the processing fee by rule to be commensurate with the clearinghouse's charges to process multistate risks and allocate and distribute taxes and fees collected to the participating states.

(3) If applicable, the surplus lines insurance producer shall collect the stamping fee and clearinghouse processing fee from the insured in addition to the premium payable for the insurance contract and any taxes and fees.

33-2-323. Authorization for agreements with other state regarding multistate risks. (1) Following negotiated rulemaking under Title 2, chapter 5, the commissioner may enter into a cooperative or reciprocal agreement with other states, individually or collectively, for the purposes of collecting, allocating, and disbursing premium taxes and fees attributable to multistate risks. The allocation methodology of any agreement must be based upon readily available data, with simplicity and uniformity for the surplus lines insurance producer as a material consideration. Any agreement regarding multistate risks may require that a single, blended tax rate be used.

(2) An agreement entered into under this section must provide for:

(a) uniform eligibility standards for unauthorized insurers;

(b) uniform methods for reporting surplus lines insurance transactions and sharing information between the parties to the agreement based upon readily available data;

(c) uniform methods for allocating and reporting surplus lines insurance risk classifications based upon readily available data;

(d) uniform procedures for the collection, allocation, and distribution of taxes and fees attributable to the multistate risks;

(e) uniform disclosures to policyholders regarding the reporting and collection of premium taxes on multistate risks;

(f) an allocation methodology and resulting collection of premium tax revenue, less costs of administration and collection, that generate premium tax revenue not less than the premium tax revenue collected under 33-2-311;

(g) minimizing the data collection and reporting burden on insureds and surplus lines insurance producers;

(h) a withdrawal process that minimizes instability among the participating states and the surplus lines and insurance industries;

(i) regulatory provisions that provide certainty regarding compliance to all persons having an interest in surplus lines insurance transactions, including but not limited to insureds, regulators, surplus lines insurance producers, other insurance producers, and surplus lines insurers; and

(j) continued collection of premium taxes under 33-2-311 until the collection infrastructure under the agreement is fully operational and the provisions of the agreement are fully implemented.

(3) If the commissioner has entered into an agreement under subsection (1) for multistate risks and the agreement provides that each participating state develop a single, blended tax rate for multistate risks:

(a) the provisions of 50-3-109 are not applicable to the collection of premium taxes;

(b) the single, blended tax rate must be 3.3% on premiums and must be computed in the manner provided in 33-2-705(1) as to premiums of authorized insurers, except that amounts collected from the insured specifically for applicable state and federal taxes and in excess of the premium otherwise required are not considered to be part of the premium for the purposes of the computation; and

(c) the 3.3% tax collected must be distributed as follows:

(i) 2.75% must be considered premium taxes as provided in 33-2-705 and paid to the state general fund; and

(ii) 0.55% must be considered fire premium taxes as provided in 50-3-109 and paid to the state general fund.

(4) If a single-state risk is involved and Montana is the home state of the insured, the surplus lines transaction must be submitted to the commissioner and the commissioner shall collect the tax at the same rate and in the same manner as provided in 33-2-705.

(5) If the commissioner has entered into a cooperative or reciprocal agreement under subsection (1), the commissioner may contract with the designated clearinghouse to process multistate risks and allocate and distribute taxes and fees collected.

(6) As used in this section, "readily available data" means Montana-specific data, if any, used to rate a surplus lines insurance policy.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 350, L. 2011.

33-2-324. Insurance presumed unobtainable from authorized insurers. At least annually, the commissioner shall make available a list of the kinds of insurance that are presumed to be unobtainable from authorized insurers, known as the approved risk list.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-2-325. Designation as a domestic surplus lines insurer — requirements — scope of business activity permitted. (1) A domestic insurer possessing minimum capital and surplus of at least $15 million, pursuant to a resolution by its board of directors and on the written approval of the commissioner, may be designated as a domestic surplus lines insurer. A domestic surplus lines insurer must be considered an unauthorized insurer only for the purposes of writing surplus lines insurance coverage pursuant to the requirements of this section.

(2) A domestic surplus lines insurer shall only write surplus lines insurance in this state procured pursuant to the requirements of this title. A domestic surplus lines insurer may write surplus lines insurance in any other jurisdiction in which the insurer is eligible to write surplus lines insurance if the domestic surplus lines insurer complies with any requirements of that jurisdiction.

(3) Insurance written by a domestic surplus lines insurer is subject to the tax on premiums required by 33-2-311 and is exempt from the tax on premiums required by 33-2-705.

(4) A domestic surplus lines insurer must be considered a nonadmitted insurer as referenced in 15 U.S.C. 8206 with respect to surplus lines insurance issued in this state.

(5) Surplus lines insurance policies issued in this state by a domestic surplus lines insurer are not subject to the protection or other provisions of the Montana Insurance Guaranty Association Act, Title 33, chapter 10, part 1.

(6) Surplus lines insurance policies issued in this state by a domestic surplus lines insurer are not subject to and are exempt from all statutory requirements relating to insurance rating and rating plans, policy forms, and policy cancellation and nonrenewal in the same manner and to the same extent as a surplus lines insurer domiciled in another state.

Part 4
Standard Valuation

33-2-401. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Standard Valuation Act".

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 370, L. 2015.

33-2-402. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

(1) "Accident and health insurance" means contracts that incorporate morbidity risk and provide protection against economic loss resulting from accident, sickness, or medical conditions.

(2) "Appointed actuary" means a qualified actuary who is appointed in accordance with the valuation manual to prepare an actuarial opinion required by this part.

(3) "Deposit-type contract" means a contract that does not incorporate mortality or morbidity risks.

(4) "Insurer" means an entity that:

(a) has written, issued, or reinsured life insurance contracts, accident and health insurance contracts, or deposit-type contracts in Montana and has at least one of the named contracts in force or on claim; or

(b) has written, issued, or reinsured life insurance contracts, accident and health insurance contracts, or deposit-type contracts in any state and is required to hold a certificate of authority to write life insurance, accident and health insurance, or deposit-type contracts in Montana.

(5) "Life insurance" means contracts that incorporate mortality risk, including annuity and pure endowment contracts.

(6) "NAIC" means the national association of insurance commissioners.

(7) (a) "Policyholder behavior" means any action taken by a policyholder, a contract holder, or any other person with the right to elect options, such as the action that a certificate holder may take under a policy or a contract subject to this part. The actions include but are not limited to allowing a policy or contract to lapse, making a premium payment or loan, or making benefit elections prescribed by the policy or contract. Other actions may be identified by rule.

(b) The term does not include events of mortality or morbidity that result in benefits prescribed in their essential aspects by the terms of the policy or contract.

(8) "Principle-based valuation" means a reserve valuation that uses one or more methods or one or more assumptions determined by the insurer. A principle-based valuation must comply with the provisions of 33-2-404.

(9) "Qualified actuary" means an individual who is qualified to sign the applicable statement of actuarial opinion in accordance with the American academy of actuaries qualification standards and meets the requirements specified in the valuation manual.

(10) "Tail risk" means a risk that occurs either when the frequency of low-probability events is higher than expected under a normal probability distribution or when there are observed events of very significant size or magnitude.

(11) "Valuation manual" means the valuation manual adopted by the NAIC in accordance with its model law regarding standard valuation and adopted by the commissioner by rule.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 370, L. 2015.

33-2-403. Valuation for policies. (1) For policies issued on or after the operative date of the valuation manual, the standard prescribed in the valuation manual is the minimum standard of valuation required under 33-2-407, except as provided in subsection (6) or (8) of this section.

(2) The operative date of the valuation manual is January 1 of the first calendar year following the first July 1 as of which all of the following have occurred:

(a) the valuation manual has been adopted by the NAIC by an affirmative vote of at least 42 members or three-fourths of the members voting, whichever is greater;

(b) the standard valuation law as amended by the NAIC in 2009, or legislation including substantially similar terms and provisions, has been enacted by states representing greater than 75% of the direct premiums written as reported in the following annual statements submitted for 2008: life, accident and health, health, and fraternal annual statements;

(c) the standard valuation law as amended by the NAIC in 2009, or legislation including substantially similar terms and provisions, has been enacted by at least 42 of the following 55 jurisdictions: the 50 states of the United States, American Samoa, the American Virgin Islands, the District of Columbia, Guam, and Puerto Rico; and

(d) the commissioner has adopted by rule the valuation manual.

(3) Unless a change in the valuation manual specifies a later effective date, changes to the valuation manual are effective on January 1 following the date when all of the following have occurred:

(a) the change in the valuation manual has been adopted by an affirmative vote representing:

(i) at least three-fourths of the members of the NAIC voting but not less than a majority of the total membership; and

(ii) members of the NAIC representing jurisdictions totaling more than 75% of the direct premiums written as reported in the following annual statements most recently available prior to the vote in subsection (3)(a)(i): life, accident and health, health, and fraternal annual statements; and

(b) the change to the valuation manual is adopted by the commissioner by rule.

(4) The valuation manual adopted by the commissioner must specify all of the following:

(a) minimum valuation standards for and definitions of the policies or contracts subject to 33-2-407(2). The minimum valuation standards include:

(i) the commissioner's reserve valuation method for life insurance contracts, other than annuity contracts, subject to 33-2-404;

(ii) the commissioner's annuity reserve valuation method for annuity contracts subject to 33-2-407(2); and

(iii) minimum reserves for all other policies or contracts subject to 33-2-404(2).

(b) a description of the policies or contracts or types of policies or contracts that are subject to the requirements of a principle-based valuation in 33-2-404(1) and the minimum valuation standards consistent with those requirements;

(c) for policies and contracts subject to a principle-based valuation:

(i) requirements for the format of reports to the commissioner under 33-2-404(3)(c), which must include information necessary to determine if the valuation is appropriate and in compliance with this part;

(ii) prescribed assumptions for risks over which the company does not have significant control or influence; and

(iii) procedures for corporate governance and oversight of the actuarial function as well as a process for appropriate waiver or modification of the corporate governance procedures.

(d) for policies not subject to a principle-based valuation under 33-2-404, the minimum valuation standard must either:

(i) be consistent with the minimum standard of valuation prior to the operative date of the valuation manual as determined in subsections (1) and (2) or as amended as provided in subsection (3); or

(ii) develop reserves that quantify the benefits and guarantees as well as the funding associated with the contracts and their risks at a level of conservatism that reflects conditions that include unfavorable events that have a reasonable probability of occurring; and

(e) other components in the valuation manual that the commissioner considers necessary for the smooth operation of policies or contracts under this part. These may include but are not limited to reserve methodologies, models for measuring risk, generation of economic scenarios, assumptions, margins, use of company experience, risk measurement, disclosure, certifications, reports, actuarial opinions and memoranda, transition rules, and internal controls.

(5) The commissioner shall specify by rule the data and form of the data required under 33-2-405 and to whom the data must be submitted as well as any other requirements including data analysis and reporting of analysis.

(6) In the absence of a specific valuation requirement or if a specific valuation requirement in the valuation manual is not, in the opinion of the commissioner, in compliance with this part, the company shall, with respect to the requirements named as out of compliance with this part, comply with minimum standard valuations prescribed by the commissioner by rule.

(7) The commissioner may engage a qualified actuary, at the expense of the company, to perform an actuarial examination of the company and comment on the appropriateness of any reserve assumption or method used by the company or to review and comment on a company's compliance with any requirement in this part. The commissioner may rely on the opinion, regarding provisions contained in this part, of a qualified actuary engaged by the insurance regulator of another state, district, or territory of the United States. As used in this subsection, the term "engage" includes employment and contracting.

(8) The commissioner may require a company to change any assumption or method that in the opinion of the commissioner is necessary in order to comply with the requirements of the valuation manual or of this part.

(9) A company shall adjust its reserves as required by the commissioner.

(10) The commissioner may take disciplinary action for violations of this section as provided in 33-1-317.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 370, L. 2015.

33-2-404. Principle-based valuation. (1) A company domiciled in Montana shall establish reserves using a principle-based valuation that meets the conditions for policies or contracts in this section and as specified in the valuation manual.

(2) The principle-based valuation at a minimum must:

(a) quantify the benefits and guarantees as well as the funding associated with the contracts and their risks at a level of conservatism that reflects conditions that include unfavorable events that have a reasonable probability of occurring during the lifetime of the contracts. The principle-based valuation method must reflect conditions appropriately adverse to quantify the tail risk for policies and contracts with significant tail risk.

(b) incorporate assumptions, risk analysis methods, and financial models and management techniques that are consistent with but not necessarily identical to those used within the company's overall risk assessment process. This process must recognize potential differences in financial reporting structures and any prescribed assumptions or methods.

(c) incorporate assumptions derived:

(i) as prescribed in the valuation manual; or

(ii) if not prescribed in the valuation manual, using:

(A) the company's available experience to the extent the experience is relevant and statistically credible; or

(B) other relevant and statistically credible experience whenever the company's own data is not available, relevant, or statistically credible; and

(d) provide margins for uncertainty, including adverse deviation and estimation error to the extent that the greater the uncertainty, the larger the margin and resulting reserve.

(3) A company using principle-based valuation for one or more policies or contracts subject to this section and as specified in the valuation manual shall:

(a) establish procedures for corporate governance and oversight of the actuarial valuation function consistent with those described in the valuation manual;

(b) provide to the commissioner and its board of directors an annual certification of the effectiveness of the internal controls with respect to the principle-based valuation. These internal controls must be designed to ensure that all material risks inherent in the liabilities and associated assets subject to the principle-based valuation are included in the valuation and are performed in accordance with the valuation manual. The certification must be based on controls in place as of the end of the preceding calendar year.

(c) develop a principle-based valuation report that complies with standards prescribed in the valuation manual. This report must be filed with the commissioner upon the commissioner's request. A report under this subsection (3)(c) is required after the commissioner has adopted rules as provided in 33-2-418.

(4) A principle-based valuation may include a prescribed formulaic reserve component.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 370, L. 2015.

33-2-405. Experience reporting. A company shall submit mortality, morbidity, policyholder behavior, expense experience, and other data as prescribed by the commissioner and in accordance with the valuation manual.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 370, L. 2015.

33-2-406. Confidentiality — definitions. (1) Except as provided in subsection (9), a company's confidential information is confidential information as provided in 2-6-1002 and privileged, is not subject to subpoena or discovery, and is not admissible in evidence in any private civil action.

(2) The commissioner may use the confidential information to further any regulatory or legal action brought against the company as a part of the commissioner's official duties.

(3) Neither the commissioner nor any person who receives confidential information while acting under the authority of the commissioner may be required or permitted to testify in any private civil action concerning a company's confidential information.

(4) Subject to the conditions in subsection (4)(c), the commissioner may, to assist in the performance of the commissioner's duties, share:

(a) confidential information with other state, federal, and international regulatory agencies and with the NAIC and its affiliates and subsidiaries upon agreement that the confidential information will be kept confidential; and

(b) only confidential information as defined in subsections (10)(a)(i)(A) and (10)(a)(i)(D) with:

(i) the actuarial board for counseling and discipline or its successor upon a request that states the confidential information is required for use in professional disciplinary proceedings; and

(ii) state, federal, and international law enforcement officials; and

(c) the information under this subsection (4) only if the recipient of the information has the legal authority to agree, and the recipient has agreed, to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the documents, materials, data, and other information in the same manner and to the same extent as required for the commissioner.

(5) (a) The commissioner may receive documents, materials, data, and other information, including otherwise confidential and privileged documents, materials, data, and other information, from:

(i) the NAIC and its affiliates and subsidiaries;

(ii) regulatory or law enforcement officials of other foreign or domestic jurisdictions; and

(iii) the actuarial board for counseling and discipline or its successor.

(b) The commissioner shall maintain as confidential or privileged any documents, materials, data, or other information received from the entities listed in subsection (5)(a) with notice or the understanding that the documents, materials, data, or other information is confidential or privileged under the laws of the jurisdiction that is the source of the documents, materials, data, or other information.

(6) The commissioner may enter into agreements governing the sharing and use of confidential information consistent with this section.

(7) A disclosure to the commissioner under this section or a sharing of confidential information authorized in this section does not constitute a waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality for the confidential information.

(8) A privilege established under the law of any state or jurisdiction that is substantially similar to the privilege established under this section must be recognized and enforced in any proceeding in this state, including any court proceedings.

(9) The confidential information defined in subsections (10)(a)(i)(A) and (10)(a)(i)(D) may:

(a) be subject to subpoena for the purpose of defending an action seeking damages from the appointed actuary submitting the related memorandum in support of an opinion submitted under 33-2-407 or a principle-based valuation report developed pursuant to 33-2-404(3)(c) by reason of an action required by this part;

(b) be otherwise released by the commissioner with the written consent of the company; or

(c) no longer be confidential for all portions after any portion of a memorandum in support of an opinion submitted under 33-2-407 or a principle-based valuation report developed under 33-2-404(3)(c) is cited by the company in its marketing or is publicly volunteered to or before a governmental agency other than a state insurance department or is released by the company to the news media.

(10) As used in this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) (i) "Confidential information" means:

(A) a memorandum in support of an opinion submitted under 33-2-407 and any other documents, materials, and other information, including but not limited to all working papers or copies of the working papers that were created, produced, or obtained by the commissioner or by any other person in connection with the memorandum or disclosed to the commissioner or to any other person in connection with the memorandum;

(B) subject to the provisions of subsection (10)(a)(ii)(A), all documents, materials, and other information in the course of an examination made under 33-2-403(7), including but not limited to all working papers and copies of the working papers that were created, produced, or obtained by the commissioner or by any other person in connection with the examination or disclosed to the commissioner or to any other person in connection with the examination;

(C) any reports, documents, materials, or other information developed by a company in support of or in connection with an annual certification by the company under 33-2-404(3)(b) evaluating the effectiveness of the company's internal controls with respect to a principle-based valuation and any other documents, materials, and other information, including but not limited to working papers and copies of the working papers created, produced, or obtained by the commissioner or by any other person in connection with the reports, documents, materials, and other information disclosed to the commissioner or to any other person in connection with those reports, documents, materials, and other information;

(D) any principle-based valuation report developed under 33-2-404(3)(c) and any other documents, materials, and other information, including but not limited to all working papers and copies of working papers created, produced, or obtained by the commissioner or any other person in connection with the principle-based valuation report or disclosed to the commissioner or to any other person in connection with the report; and

(E) any experience data and any other documents, materials, data, and other information, including but not limited to all working papers and copies of working papers created or produced in connection with the experience data. The information under this subsection (10)(a)(i)(E) includes any potential company-identifying or personally identifiable information that is provided to or obtained by the commissioner or any other person in connection with the documents, materials, data, and other information described in this subsection (10)(a)(i)(E), including but not limited to working papers and copies of working papers created, produced, or obtained by the commissioner or any other person or disclosed to the commissioner or to any other person.

(ii) The term does not include:

(A) an examination report or other material prepared in connection with an examination made under 33-2-403(7) to the extent that the examination report or other material prepared in connection with the examination would not have been held private and confidential if prepared under 33-1-401; or

(B) any portion of confidential information that has been cited by the insurer in its marketing, provided to any governmental agency other than a state insurance department, released by the insurer to the news media, or otherwise made public by the insurer in any way.

(b) "Experience data" means any documents, materials, data, and other information submitted by a company under 33-2-405.

(c) "NAIC" means the national association of insurance commissioners and its employees, agents, consultants, and contractors.

(d) "Regulatory agency" includes the agency's employees, agents, consultants, and contractors.

33-2-407. Standard valuation of reserve liabilities law. (1) The commissioner shall annually value or cause to be valued the reserve liabilities (reserves) for all outstanding life insurance policies and annuity and pure endowment contracts of every life insurer doing business in this state issued on or before the operative date of the valuation manual. In calculating the reserves under this subsection, the commissioner may use group methods and approximate averages for fractions of a year or otherwise.

(2) The commissioner shall annually value or cause to be valued the reserve liabilities for all outstanding life insurance contracts, annuities, and pure endowment contracts, accident and health contracts, and deposit-type contracts of every company issued after the operative date of the valuation manual in accordance with the valuation manual.

(3) In lieu of the valuation of the reserves required in this section of any foreign or alien insurer, the commissioner may accept any valuation made or caused to be made by the insurance supervisory official of any state or other jurisdiction when the valuation complies with the minimum standard provided in this part.

(4) Any insurer that has adopted any standard of valuation producing greater aggregate reserves than those calculated according to the minimum standards provided in this part may, with the approval of the commissioner, adopt any lower standard of valuation but not lower than the minimum in this section. For the purposes of this section, the holding of additional reserves previously determined by an appointed actuary to be necessary to render the opinion required in subsections (5) and (6) may not be considered to be the adoption of a higher standard of valuation.

(5) (a) Each life insurer doing business in this state prior to the operative date of the valuation manual shall annually submit the opinion of a qualified actuary as to whether the reserves and related actuarial items held in support of the policies and contracts specified by the commissioner by rule are computed appropriately, are based on assumptions that satisfy contractual provisions, are consistent with prior reported amounts, and comply with applicable laws of this state. The commissioner by rule shall define the specifics of this opinion and add any other items considered necessary to its scope.

(b) Each life insurer, except as exempted by or pursuant to regulation, shall also annually include in the opinion required by subsection (5)(a) an opinion of the same qualified actuary as to whether the reserves and related actuarial items held in support of the policies and contracts specified by the commissioner by rule make adequate provision for the insurer's obligations under the policies and contracts, including but not limited to the benefits under and expenses associated with the policies and contracts. In developing the opinion, the qualified actuary shall consider the assets held by the insurer with respect to the reserves and related actuarial items, including but not limited to the investment earnings on the assets and the considerations anticipated to be received and retained under the policies and contracts.

(c) The commissioner may provide by rule for a transition period for establishing any higher reserves that the qualified actuary may consider necessary in order to render the opinion required by this subsection (5).

(d) Each opinion required by this subsection (5) must be governed by the following provisions:

(i) A memorandum, in form and substance acceptable to the commissioner as specified by rule, must be prepared to support each actuarial opinion.

(ii) If the insurer fails to provide a supporting memorandum at the request of the commissioner within a period specified by rule or if the commissioner determines that the supporting memorandum provided by the insurer fails to meet the standards prescribed by the rules or is otherwise unacceptable to the commissioner, the commissioner may engage a qualified actuary at the expense of the insurer to review the opinion and the basis for the opinion and to prepare any supporting memorandum as is required by the commissioner.

(iii) The opinion must be submitted with the annual statement reflecting the valuation of the reserve liabilities for each year ending on or after December 31, 1996.

(iv) The opinion must apply to all business in force, including individual and group health insurance plans, in form and substance acceptable to the commissioner as specified by rule.

(v) The opinion must be based on standards adopted from time to time by the actuarial standards board and on additional standards as the commissioner may prescribe by rule.

(vi) In the case of an opinion required to be submitted by a foreign or alien insurer, the commissioner may accept the opinion filed by that insurer with the insurance supervisory official of another state if the commissioner determines that the opinion reasonably meets the requirements applicable to a company domiciled in this state.

(vii) Except in cases of fraud or willful misconduct, the qualified actuary is not liable for damages to any person, other than the insurer and the commissioner, for any act, error, omission, decision, or conduct with respect to the actuary's opinion.

(viii) Disciplinary action by the commissioner against the insurer or the qualified actuary must be defined in rules by the commissioner.

(6) (a) After the operative date of the valuation manual, each life insurer doing business in this state shall annually submit the opinion of a qualified actuary regarding whether the reserves and related actuarial items held in support of the policies and contracts specified by the commissioner by rule are:

(i) computed appropriately;

(ii) based on assumptions that satisfy contractual provisions;

(iii) consistent with prior reported amounts; and

(iv) in compliance with the applicable laws of this state.

(b) After the operative date of the valuation manual, each life insurer doing business in this state shall also annually include in the opinion required in subsection (6)(a) an opinion by the same qualified actuary on whether the reserves and related actuarial items held in support of the policies and contracts specified in the valuation manual make adequate provision for the company's obligations under the policies and contracts, including but not limited to the benefits under and expenses associated with the policies and contracts. The opinion required in this subsection (6)(b) must consider the reserves and related actuarial items in light of the assets held by the company with respect to those reserves and related actuarial items, including but not limited to the investment earnings on the assets and the considerations anticipated to be received and retained under the policies and contracts.

(c) A qualified actuary shall prepare a memorandum in support of each actuarial opinion under this subsection (6). The memorandum must be in the form and substance specified in the valuation manual and as provided by the commissioner.

(d) The opinion under this subsection (6):

(i) must be submitted with the annual statement reflecting the valuation of the reserve liabilities for each year ending on or after the operative date of the valuation manual;

(ii) must apply to all policies and contracts subject to this subsection (6) and to other actuarial liabilities identified in the valuation manual; and

(iii) must be based on the actuarial standards board's standards and any additional standards prescribed in the valuation manual.

(e) If the insurer fails to provide a supporting memorandum at the request of the commissioner within a period specified in the valuation manual or if the commissioner determines that the supporting memorandum provided by the insurer fails to meet the standards prescribed by the valuation manual or is otherwise unacceptable to the commissioner, the commissioner may engage a qualified actuary at the expense of the insurer to review the opinion and the basis for the opinion and prepare the supporting memorandum required by the commissioner.

(f) For an opinion required to be submitted by a foreign or alien insurer, the commissioner may accept the opinion filed by that insurer with the insurance supervisory official of another state if the commissioner determines that the opinion reasonably meets the requirements applicable to an insurer domiciled in this state.

(g) (i) Except as provided in subsection (6)(g)(iii), the appointed actuary is not liable for damages to any person other than the insurer and the commissioner for any act, error, omission, decision, or conduct with respect to the appointed actuary's opinion.

(ii) The provisions of subsection (6)(g)(i) do not apply in cases of fraud or willful misconduct.

(h) The commissioner shall define by rule any disciplinary action that may be taken by the commissioner against the insurer or the appointed actuary.

33-2-408. Contracts prior to the operative date of 33-20-213 — valuation. (1) This section shall apply to only those policies and contracts issued prior to the operative date of 33-20-213.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in 33-2-410 for group annuity and pure endowment contracts, the minimum standard of valuation on all policies of domestic life insurers issued prior to January 1, 1922, shall be the American experience table of mortality and interest at 3½% per annum, with preliminary term insurance for the first policy year, and for policies of such insurers issued subsequent to December 31, 1921, shall be the American experience table of mortality with interest at 3½% per annum, with preliminary term insurance for the first policy year, except as follows: If the premium charged for term insurance under a limited payment life preliminary term policy providing for the payment of all premiums thereon in less than 20 years from the date of the policy or under an endowment preliminary term policy exceeds that charged for life insurance under 20-payment life preliminary term policies of the same insurer, the reserve thereon at the end of any year, including the first, shall not be less than the reserve on a 20-payment life preliminary term policy issued in the same year and at the same age, together with an amount which shall be equivalent to the accumulation of a net level premium reserve sufficient to provide for a pure endowment at the end of the premium payment period equal to the difference between the value at the end of such period of such a 20-payment life preliminary term policy and the full net level premium reserve at such time of such a limited payment life or endowment policy.

(3) Reserves for all such policies and contracts may be calculated, at the option of the insurer, according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for all such policies and contracts than the minimum reserves required by this section.

33-2-409. Contracts on or after operative date of 33-20-213 and prior to operative date of valuation manual — valuation. (1) This section applies to only those policies and contracts issued prior to the date of adoption of the valuation manual, which is the operative date for the valuation manual, and on or after the operative date of 33-20-213, except as otherwise provided in 33-2-410 for group annuity and pure endowment contracts issued prior to that date.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in 33-2-410, 33-2-411, and 33-2-417(2), the minimum standard for the valuation of all the policies and contracts issued prior to October 1, 1995, is the standard provided by the laws in effect prior to October 1, 1995. Except as otherwise provided in 33-2-410, 33-2-411, and 33-2-417(2), the minimum standard for the valuation of all policies and contracts issued prior to the operative date of the valuation manual, as provided in subsection (1) of this section, is the commissioner's reserve valuation methods defined in 33-2-411, 33-2-412(3) and (4), and 33-2-417, 5% interest for group annuity and pure endowment contracts, and 3½% interest for all other policies and contracts or, in the case of life insurance policies and contracts other than annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after March 17, 1973, 4% interest for all other policies issued prior to July 1, 1979, 5½% interest for single-premium life insurance policies, and 4½% interest for all other policies issued on or after July 1, 1979, and the following tables:

(a) for all ordinary policies of life insurance issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in the policies:

(i) the 1941 commissioners standard ordinary mortality table for policies issued prior to the operative date of 33-20-206, as amended, and the 1958 commissioners standard ordinary mortality table for policies issued on or after that operative date but prior to January 1, 1989, except that for any category of the policies issued on female risks, modified net premiums and present values, referred to in 33-2-411 and 33-2-412, may be calculated, at the option of the insurer, with the approval of the commissioner, according to an age younger than the actual age of the insured;

(ii) for policies issued prior to the operative date of the valuation manual but on or after January 1, 1989:

(A) the 1980 commissioners standard ordinary mortality table;

(B) at the election of the insurer for any one or more specified policies of life insurance, the 1980 commissioners standard ordinary mortality table with 10-year select mortality factors; or

(C) any ordinary mortality table adopted after 2001 by the national association of insurance commissioners that is approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for policies;

(iii) for policies issued on or after January 1, 2005, and before January 1, 2009, at the election of the insurer for any one or more specified policies of life insurance, the 2001 commissioners standard ordinary mortality table; or

(iv) for policies issued prior to the operative date of the valuation manual but on or after January 1, 2009, the 2001 commissioners standard ordinary mortality table;

(b) for all industrial life insurance policies issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in the policies, the 1941 standard industrial mortality table for policies issued prior to the operative date of 33-20-207 and, for policies issued on or after that operative date, the 1961 commissioners standard industrial mortality table or any industrial mortality table adopted after 1980 by the national association of insurance commissioners that is approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for the policies;

(c) for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in the policies, the 1937 standard annuity mortality table or, at the option of the insurer, the annuity mortality table for 1949, ultimate, or any modification of either of these tables approved by the commissioner;

(d) for group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in the policies, the group annuity mortality table for 1951, any modification of the table approved by the commissioner, or, at the option of the insurer, any of the tables or modifications of tables specified for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts;

(e) (i) for total and permanent disability benefits in or supplementary to ordinary policies or contracts:

(A) for policies or contracts issued on or after January 1, 1966, the tables of period 2 disablement rates and the 1930 to 1950 termination rates of the 1952 disability study of the society of actuaries, with due regard to the type of benefit, or any tables of disablement rates and termination rates adopted after 1980 by the national association of insurance commissioners that are approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for the policies;

(B) for policies or contracts issued on or after January 1, 1961, and prior to January 1, 1966, either the tables or, at the option of the insurer, the class 3 disability table (1926); and

(C) for policies issued prior to January 1, 1961, the class 3 disability table (1926);

(ii) any table must, for active lives, be combined with a mortality table permitted for calculating the reserves for life insurance policies;

(f) (i) for accidental death benefits in or supplementary to policies:

(A) for policies issued on or after January 1, 1966, the 1959 accidental death benefits table or any accidental death benefits table adopted after 1980 by the national association of insurance commissioners that is approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for the policies;

(B) for policies issued on or after January 1, 1961, and prior to January 1, 1966, a table referenced in subsection (2)(f)(i)(A) or, at the option of the insurer, the intercompany double indemnity mortality table; and

(C) for policies issued prior to January 1, 1961, the intercompany double indemnity mortality table;

(ii) either table must be combined with a mortality table permitted for calculating the reserves for life insurance policies;

(g) for group life insurance, life insurance issued on the substandard basis, and other special benefits, the tables approved by the commissioner.

33-2-410. Individual and group annuity and pure endowment contracts — valuation. (1) Except as provided in 33-2-413, the minimum standard for the valuation of all individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after the operative date of this section, as defined herein, and for all annuities and pure endowments purchased on or after that operative date under group annuity and pure endowment contracts is the commissioner's reserve valuation methods defined in 33-2-411 and the following tables and interest rates:

(a) for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued prior to July 1, 1979, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts, the 1971 individual annuity mortality table or any modification of this table approved by the commissioner and 6% interest for single-premium immediate annuity contracts and 4% interest for all other individual annuity and pure endowment contracts;

(b) for individual single-premium immediate annuity contracts issued on or after July 1, 1979, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts, the 1971 individual annuity mortality table or any individual annuity mortality table adopted after 1980 by the national association of insurance commissioners that is approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such contracts or any modification of such tables approved by the commissioner and 7½% interest;

(c) for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after July 1, 1979, other than single-premium immediate annuity contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts, the 1971 individual annuity mortality table or any individual annuity mortality table adopted after 1980 by the national association of insurance commissioners that is approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such contracts or any modification of such tables approved by the commissioner and 5½% interest for single-premium deferred annuity and pure endowment contracts and 4½% interest for all other such individual annuity and pure endowment contracts;

(d) for all annuities and pure endowments purchased prior to July 1, 1979, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits purchased under such contracts, the 1971 group annuity mortality table or any modification of the table approved by the commissioner and 6% interest;

(e) for all annuities and pure endowments purchased on or after July 1, 1979, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits purchased under such contracts, the 1971 group annuity mortality table or any group annuity mortality table adopted after 1980 by the national association of insurance commissioners that is approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such annuities and pure endowments or any modification of such tables approved by the commissioner and 7½% interest.

(2) After March 17, 1973, any insurer may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of subsection (1) after a specified date before January 1, 1979, which shall be the operative date of subsection (1) for such insurer. An insurer may elect a different operative date for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts from that elected for group annuity and pure endowment contracts. If an insurer makes no such election, the operative date of this section for such insurer shall be January 1, 1979.

33-2-411. Commissioner's reserve valuation method. (1) Except as otherwise provided in 33-2-412(3) and (4), 33-2-417(2), and subsection (4) of this section, reserves according to the commissioner's reserve valuation method, for the life insurance and endowment benefits of policies providing for a uniform amount of insurance and requiring the payment of uniform premiums, must be the excess, if any, of the present value, at the date of valuation, of future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policies, over the then present value of any future modified net premiums. The modified net premiums for any policy must be the uniform percentage of the respective contract premiums for the benefits that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all modified net premiums must be equal to the sum of the then present value of the benefits provided for by the policy and the excess of subsection (1)(a) over subsection (1)(b), as follows:

(a) a net level annual premium equal to the present value, at the date of issue, of benefits provided for after the first policy year, divided by the present value, at the date of issue of an annuity of one per annum payable on the first and each subsequent anniversary of the policy on which a premium falls due. However, the net level annual premium may not exceed the net level annual premium on the 19-year premium whole life plan for insurance of the same amount at an age 1 year higher than the age at issue of the policy.

(b) a net 1-year term premium for benefits provided for in the first policy year.

(2) (a) For each life insurance policy issued on or after January 1, 1987, for which the contract premium in the first policy year exceeds that of the second year, for which a comparable additional benefit is not provided in the first year for the excess, and that provides an endowment benefit, a cash surrender value, or a combination of both in an amount greater than the excess premium, the reserve according to the commissioner's reserve valuation method, as of any policy anniversary occurring on or before the assumed ending date as the first policy anniversary on which the sum of any endowment benefit and any cash surrender value then available is greater than the excess premium, is, except as otherwise provided in 33-2-412, the greater of the reserve as of the policy anniversary calculated as described in subsection (1) or the reserve as of the policy anniversary calculated as described in subsection (1) with the following exceptions:

(i) the value defined in subsection (1)(a) is reduced by 15% of the amount of the excess first-year premium;

(ii) all present values of benefits and premiums are determined without reference to premiums or benefits provided for in the policy after the assumed ending date;

(iii) the policy is assumed to mature on the assumed ending date as an endowment; and

(iv) the cash surrender value provided on the assumed ending date is considered an endowment benefit.

(b) In making the comparisons in subsection (2)(a), the mortality and interest bases stated in 33-2-409 and 33-2-413 must be used.

(3) Reserves according to the commissioner's reserve valuation method for the following must be calculated by a method consistent with the principles of this section, except that any extra premiums charged because of impairments or special hazards must be disregarded in the determination of modified net premiums:

(a) life insurance policies providing for a varying amount of insurance or requiring the payment of varying premiums;

(b) group annuity and pure endowment contracts purchased under a retirement plan or plan of deferred compensation, established or maintained by an employer, including a partnership or sole proprietorship, or by an employee organization, or by both, other than a plan providing individual retirement accounts or individual retirement annuities under section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended;

(c) disability and accidental death benefits in all policies and contracts; and

(d) all other benefits, except life insurance and endowment benefits in life insurance policies and benefits provided by all other annuity and pure endowment contracts.

(4) (a) Subsection (4)(b) applies to any annuity and pure endowment contracts other than group annuity and pure endowment contracts purchased under a retirement plan or plan of deferred compensation established or maintained by an employer, including a partnership or sole proprietorship, or by an employee organization, or by both, other than a plan providing individual retirement accounts or individual retirement annuities under section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended.

(b) Reserves according to the commissioner's annuity reserve method for benefits under annuity or pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in the contracts, must be the greatest of the respective excesses of the present values, at the date of valuation, of the future guaranteed benefits, including guaranteed nonforfeiture benefits, provided for by the contracts at the end of each respective contract year, over the present value, at the date of valuation, of any future valuation considerations derived from future gross considerations required by the terms of the contract that become payable prior to the end of the respective contract year. The future guaranteed benefits must be determined by using the mortality table, if any, and the interest rate or rates specified in the contracts for determining guaranteed benefits. The valuation considerations are the portions of the respective gross considerations applied under the terms of the contracts to determine nonforfeiture values.

(c) The commissioner's reserve valuation method provided by this section is subject to the provisions of the valuation manual as adopted by the commissioner.

33-2-412. Limits — options — minimum reserves. (1) (a) An insurer's aggregate reserves for all life insurance policies, excluding disability and accidental death benefits issued on or after October 1, 1995, and prior to adoption of the valuation manual by the commissioner by rule may not be less than the aggregate reserves calculated in accordance with the methods set forth in 33-2-411, 33-2-417(2), subsection (3) of this section, and the mortality table or tables and rate or rates of interest used in calculating nonforfeiture benefits for the policies.

(b) After the operative date of the valuation manual, the reserve valuation methods determined by the commissioner under 33-2-411(4)(c) must be used in conjunction with the provisions of this section.

(2) Reserves for all policies and contracts issued prior to October 1, 1995, may be calculated, at the option of the insurer, according to standards that produce greater aggregate reserves for those policies and contracts than the minimum reserves required by the laws in effect immediately prior to October 1, 1995. Reserves for any category of policies, contracts, or benefits as established by the commissioner, issued on or after October 1, 1995, may be calculated at the option of the insurer according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for a category than those calculated according to the minimum standard provided in this section, but the rate or rates of interest used for policies and contracts, other than annuity and pure endowment contracts, may not be higher than the corresponding rate or rates of interest used in calculating any nonforfeiture benefits provided for a category.

(3) If in any contract year the gross premium charged by any life insurer on any policy or contract is less than the valuation net premium for the policy or contract calculated by the method used in calculating the reserve on the policy or contract but using the minimum valuation standards of mortality and rate of interest, the minimum reserve required for the policy or contract must be the greater of either the reserve calculated according to the mortality table, rate of interest, and method actually used for the policy or contract or the reserve calculated by the method actually used for the policy or contract but using the minimum standards of mortality and rate of interest and replacing the valuation net premium by the actual gross premium in each contract year for which the valuation net premium exceeds the actual gross premium. The minimum valuation standards of mortality and rate of interest referred to in this section are those standards stated in 33-2-410 and 33-2-413.

(4) For every life insurance policy issued after December 30, 1986, for which the gross premium in the first policy year exceeds that of the second year, for which a comparable additional benefit is not provided in the first year for an excess, and that provides an endowment benefit, a cash surrender value, or a combination of both in an amount greater than the excess premium, subsections (1) through (3) of this section must be applied as if the method actually used in calculating the reserve for the policy were the method described in 33-2-411(1). The minimum reserve at each policy anniversary of the policy must be the greater of the minimum reserve calculated in accordance with 33-2-411 and the minimum reserve calculated in accordance with this section.

33-2-413. Interest rates — determination of minimum standard valuation. (1) For policies issued prior to the operative date of the valuation manual, the calendar year statutory valuation interest rates as established in this section must be used in determining the minimum standard for the valuation of:

(a) all life insurance policies issued in a particular calendar year on or after January 1, 1989;

(b) all individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued in a particular calendar year on or after January 1, 1984;

(c) all annuities and pure endowments purchased in a particular calendar year on or after January 1, 1984, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts; and

(d) the net increase, if any, in a particular calendar year after January 1, 1984, in amounts held under guaranteed interest contracts.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3), the calendar year statutory valuation interest rates are determined as follows and the results rounded to the nearer 1/4 of 1%, when R_1 is the lesser of R and .09, R_2 is the greater of R and .09, R is the reference interest rate established in 33-2-415, and W is the weighting factor established in 33-2-414:

(a) for life insurance:

$\text{Interest rate} = .03 + W(R_1 - .03) + (W/2)(R_2 - .09)$;

(b) for single-premium immediate annuities and for annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with cash settlement options and from guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options:

$\text{Interest rate} = .03 + W(R - .03)$;

(c) for other annuities with:

(i) cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, valued on an issue year basis, except as stated in subsection (2)(b), the formula for life insurance stated in subsection (2)(a) applies to annuities and guaranteed interest contracts with guarantee durations in excess of 10 years and the formula for single-premium immediate annuities stated in subsection (2)(b) applies to annuities and guaranteed interest contracts with guarantee durations of 10 years or less;

(ii) no cash settlement options and for guaranteed interest contracts with no cash settlement options, the formula for single-premium immediate annuities stated in subsection (2)(b) applies; and

(iii) cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options valued on a change-in-fund basis, the formula for single-premium immediate annuities stated in subsection (2)(b) applies.

(3) If the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for any life insurance policies issued in any calendar year differs from the corresponding actual rate for similar policies issued in the immediately preceding calendar year by less than 1/2 of 1%, the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for such life insurance policies is equal to the corresponding actual rate for the immediately preceding calendar year. For purposes of this subsection, the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for life insurance policies issued in a calendar year must be determined for 1980 (using the reference interest rate defined for 1979) and must be determined for each subsequent calendar year regardless of when 33-20-208 becomes operative.

33-2-414. Interest rate weighting factor. (1) The weighting factors referred to in the formulas stated in 33-2-413 are as follows:

(a) (i) for life insurance:

Guarantee Duration in Years	Weighting Factors
10 or less	.50
More than 10 but not more than 20	.45
More than 20	.35

(ii) for life insurance, the guarantee duration is the maximum number of years the life insurance can remain in force on a basis guaranteed in the policy or under options to convert to plans of life insurance with premium rates or nonforfeiture values, or both, that are guaranteed in the original policy;

(b) .80 for single premium immediate annuities and for annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options;

(c) for other annuities and for guaranteed interest contracts, except as stated in subsection (1)(b), according to the guarantee duration established in subsections (1)(c)(i) through (1)(c)(iii) and the rules and definitions established in subsections (2) through (4):

(i) for annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on an issue year basis:

Guarantee Duration in Years	Weighting Factor for Plan Type
	A	B	C
5 or less	.80	.60	.50
More than 5 but not more than 10	.75	.60	.50
More than 10 but not more than 20	.65	.50	.45
More than 20	.45	.35	.35

	Plan Type
(ii)	A	B	C
for annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on a change-in-fund basis, the factors shown in subsection (1)(c)(i) increased by:	.15	.25	.05

	Plan Type
	A	B	C
(iii) for annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on an issue year basis, other than those without cash settlement options, that do not guarantee interest on considerations received more than 1 year after issue or purchase and for annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on a change-in-fund basis that do not guarantee interest rates on considerations received more than 12 months beyond the valuation date, the factors set forth in subsection (1)(c)(i) or derived in subsection (1)(c)(ii) increased by:	.05	.05	.05

(2) For other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, the guarantee duration is the number of years for which the contract guarantees interest rates in excess of the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for life insurance policies with guarantee duration in excess of 20 years. For other annuities without cash settlement options and for guaranteed interest contracts without cash settlement options, the guarantee duration is the number of years from the date of issue or date of purchase to the date annuity benefits are scheduled to commence.

(3) Plan types used in subsection (1)(c) are:

(a) Plan Type A—No withdrawal is permitted or at any time policyholder may withdraw funds only:

(i) with an adjustment to reflect changes in interest rates or asset values since receipt of the funds by the insurance company;

(ii) without an adjustment but in installments over 5 years or more; or

(iii) as an immediate life annuity.

(b) Plan Type B—

(i) Before expiration of the interest rate guarantee, no withdrawal is permitted or a policyholder may withdraw funds only:

(A) with an adjustment to reflect changes in interest rates or asset values since receipt of the funds by the insurance company;

(B) without an adjustment but in installments over 5 years or more.

(ii) At the end of the interest rate guarantee, funds may be withdrawn without an adjustment in a single sum or installments over less than 5 years.

(c) Plan Type C—A policyholder may withdraw funds before expiration of the interest rate guarantee in a single sum or installments over less than 5 years either:

(i) without adjustment to reflect changes in interest rates or asset values since receipt of the funds by the insurance company; or

(ii) subject only to a fixed surrender charge stipulated in the contract as a percentage of the fund.

(4) (a) An insurer may elect to value guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options and annuities with cash settlement options on either an issue year basis or on a change-in-fund basis. Guaranteed interest contracts without cash settlement options and other annuities without cash settlement options must be valued on an issue year basis.

(b) As used in subsection (4):

(i) issue year basis of valuation is a valuation basis under which the interest rate used to determine the minimum valuation standard for the entire duration of the annuity or guaranteed interest contract is the calendar year valuation interest rate for the year of issue or year of purchase of the annuity or guaranteed interest contract; and

(ii) change-in-fund basis of valuation is a valuation basis under which the interest rate used to determine the minimum valuation standard applicable to each change in the fund held under the annuity or guaranteed interest contract is the calendar year valuation interest rate for the year of the change in the fund.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 520, L. 1983; amd. Sec. 17, Ch. 379, L. 1995; Sec. 33-2-528, MCA 2013; redes. 33-2-414 by Sec. 40, Ch. 370, L. 2015.

33-2-415. Reference interest rate. (1) The reference interest rate referred to in the formulas in 33-2-413 is:

(a) for all life insurance, the lesser of the average over a period of 36 months and the average over a period of 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year next preceding the year of issue, of Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds;

(b) for single-premium immediate annuities and for annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, the average over a period of 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds;

(c) for other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options valued on a year-of-issue basis, except as stated in subsection (1)(b), with guarantee duration in excess of 10 years, the lesser of the average over a period of 36 months and the average over a period of 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds;

(d) for other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options valued on a year-of-issue basis, except as stated in subsection (1)(b), with guarantee duration of 10 years or less, the average over a period of 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds;

(e) for other annuities without cash settlement options and for guaranteed interest contracts without cash settlement options, the average over a period of 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds; or

(f) for other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options valued on a change-in-fund basis, except as stated in subsection (1)(b), the average over a period of 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year of the change in the fund, of Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds.

(2) If Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds is no longer published by Moody's investors service, inc., or if the national association of insurance commissioners determines that Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds, as published by Moody's investors service, inc., is no longer appropriate for the determination of the reference interest rate, then an alternative method for determination of the reference interest rate adopted by the national association of insurance commissioners and approved by rule promulgated by the commissioner may be substituted.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 520, L. 1983; amd. Sec. 18, Ch. 379, L. 1995; Sec. 33-2-529, MCA 2013; redes. 33-2-415 by Sec. 40, Ch. 370, L. 2015.

33-2-416. Deposit of reserves — domestic life insurers. (1) Domestic life insurers shall deposit and maintain on deposit, in securities and assets, with depositaries and subject to conditions as provided for in part 6 of this chapter, an amount not less than the reserves on its outstanding life insurance policies and annuity contracts, as valued under 33-2-407 through 33-2-412, minus policy loans.

(2) Annually on or before April 1, the insurer shall deposit any additional securities or assets required under subsection (1) and related to the increase of the reserves, minus policy loans, during the preceding calendar year, as determined from the insurer's annual statement as at December 31 of the preceding year.

(3) A domestic stock life insurer may credit toward the deposit the amount of any other deposit of the insurer held under part 6 of this chapter for the protection of its policyholders or of its policyholders and creditors.

(4) Deposits of the reserves of a domestic life insurer under this section must consist of securities and assets acquired and valued in accordance with chapter 12 and part 5 of this chapter.

(5) Real estate mortgage loans and chattel mortgage loans may be made a part of the deposit by filing a verified statement of the loans with the commissioner. The statement is subject to audit at all times by the commissioner. Nonnegotiable securities deposited with the commissioner must be accompanied by transfer powers in due form. If the insurer uses real estate acquired under 33-12-207 as a deposit, then a deed of trust, mortgage, or other instrument sufficient to convey a security interest in the real estate, in a form acceptable to the commissioner, must be completed in due form and recorded prior to being deposited with the commissioner.

(6) If default occurs in the payment of interest or principal of any deposited security and the default continues for a period of 120 days, the commissioner may declare the security no longer eligible for deposit under this section.

33-2-417. Reserve calculation — indeterminate premium plans — minimum standards for disability plans and accident and health plans. (1) In the case of a plan of life insurance that provides for future premium determination, the amounts of which are to be determined by the insurer based on then estimates of future experience, or in the case of a plan of life insurance or annuity that is of a nature that the minimum reserves cannot be determined by the methods described in 33-2-411 and 33-2-412(3), the reserves that are held under the plan must:

(a) be appropriate in relation to the benefits and the pattern of premiums for that plan; and

(b) be computed by a method that is consistent with the principles of 33-2-407 through 33-2-415.

(2) The commissioner may promulgate a rule containing the minimum standards applicable to the valuation of disability plans issued prior to the operative date of the valuation manual. For accident and health insurance contracts issued on or after the operative date of the valuation manual and after the applicable effective date provided in 33-2-403, the minimum standard of valuation prescribed by the valuation manual must be used.

Part 5
Assets and Liabilities — Reserves

33-2-501. Assets allowed. In any determination of the financial condition of an insurer, there must be allowed as assets only assets that are owned by the insurer and that consist of:

(1) cash in the possession of the insurer or in transit under its control and including the true balance of any deposit in a solvent bank or trust company;

(2) investments, securities, properties, and loans acquired or held in accordance with this code and in connection therewith the following items:

(a) interest due or accrued on any bond or evidence of indebtedness which is not in default and which is not valued on a basis including accrued interest;

(b) declared and unpaid dividends on stock and shares unless the amount has otherwise been allowed as an asset;

(c) interest due or accrued upon a collateral loan in an amount not to exceed 1 year's interest on the loan;

(d) interest due or accrued on deposits in solvent banks and trust companies and interest due or accrued on other assets, if the interest is in the judgment of the commissioner a collectible asset;

(e) interest due or accrued on a mortgage loan in an amount not exceeding in any event the amount, if any, of the excess of the value of the property less delinquent taxes on the property over the unpaid principal. Interest accrued for a period in excess of 18 months may not be allowed as an asset.

(f) rent due or accrued on real property if the rent is not in arrears for more than 3 months and rent more than 3 months in arrears if the payment of the rent is adequately secured by property held in the name of the tenant and conveyed to the insurer as collateral;

(g) the unaccrued portion of taxes paid prior to the due date on real property;

(3) premium notes, policy loans, and other policy assets and liens on policies and certificates of life insurance and annuity contracts and accrued interest, in an amount not exceeding the legal reserve and other policy liabilities carried on each individual policy;

(4) the net amount of uncollected and deferred premiums and annuity considerations in the case of a life insurer;

(5) premiums in the course of collection, other than for life insurance, not more than 3 months past due, less commissions payable on the premiums. The limitation in this subsection does not apply to premiums payable directly or indirectly by the United States government or by any of its instrumentalities.

(6) installment premiums other than life insurance premiums to the extent of the unearned premium reserve carried on the policy to which premiums apply;

(7) notes and like written obligations not past due, taken for premiums other than life insurance premiums, on policies permitted to be issued on that basis, to the extent of the unearned premium reserves carried on the policies;

(8) the full amount of reinsurance recoverable by a ceding insurer from a solvent reinsurer and which reinsurance is authorized under chapter 2, part 12;

(9) amounts receivable by an assuming insurer representing funds withheld by a solvent ceding insurer under a reinsurance treaty;

(10) deposits or equities recoverable from underwriting associations, syndicates, and reinsurance funds or from any suspended banking institution, to the extent considered by the commissioner available for the payment of losses and claims and at values to be determined by the commissioner;

(11) electronic data processing equipment if the cost of the equipment is amortized in full over a period of not to exceed 8 calendar years. However, the amount of the asset allowed may not exceed 1% of the total of the other allowable assets of the insurer.

(12) all assets, whether or not consistent with the provisions of this section, as may be allowed pursuant to the annual statement form approved by the commissioner for the kinds of insurance to be reported upon in the annual statement;

(13) other assets, not inconsistent with the provisions of this section, considered by the commissioner to be available for the payment of losses and claims, at values to be determined by the commissioner.

33-2-502. Assets expressly not allowed. In addition to assets impliedly excluded by the provisions of 33-2-501, the following expressly may not be allowed as assets in any determination of the financial condition of an insurer:

(1) goodwill, trade names, and other like intangible assets;

(2) advances to officers, other than policy loans, whether secured or not, and advances to employees, insurance producers, and other persons on personal security only;

(3) stock issued and owned by the insurer, any equity in the stock issued by the insurer, loans secured by the stock issued by the insurer, or any proportionate interest in the stock acquired or held through the ownership by the insurer of an interest in another firm, corporation, or business unit;

(4) furniture, fixtures (other than electronic data processing machines authorized under 33-2-501(11)), furnishings, safes, vehicles, libraries, stationery, literature, and supplies, except:

(a) in the case of title insurers, materials and plants that the insurer is expressly authorized to invest in under 33-25-211; and

(b) in the case of any insurer, personal property that the insurer is permitted to hold pursuant to chapter 12, that is acquired through foreclosure of chattel mortgages acquired pursuant to 33-12-207 or 33-12-307, or that is reasonably necessary for the maintenance and operation of real estate lawfully acquired and held by the insurer other than real estate used by it for home office, branch office, and similar purposes;

(5) the amount, if any, by which the aggregate book value of investments as carried in the ledger assets of the insurer exceeds the aggregate value of the investments as determined under this title; and

(6) prepaid expenses.

33-2-504 through 33-2-510 reserved.

33-2-511. Liabilities chargeable against assets. In any determination of the financial condition of an insurer, capital stock and liabilities to be charged against its assets shall include:

(1) the amount of its capital stock outstanding, if any;

(2) the amount, estimated consistent with the provisions of this code, necessary to pay all of its unpaid losses and claims incurred on or prior to the date of statement, whether reported or unreported, together with the expenses of adjustment or settlement thereof;

(3) with reference to life and disability insurance and annuity contracts:

(a) the amount of reserves on life insurance policies and annuity contracts in force, valued according to the tables of mortality, rates of interest, and methods adopted pursuant to this code which are applicable thereto;

(b) reserves for disability benefits, for both active and disabled lives;

(c) reserves for accidental death benefits;

(d) any additional reserves which may be required by the commissioner, consistent with practice formulated or approved by the national association of insurance commissioners, on account of such insurance;

(4) with reference to insurance other than specified in subsection (3) of this section and other than title insurance, the amount of reserves equal to the unearned portions of the gross premiums charged on policies in force, computed in accordance with this part;

(5) taxes, expenses, and other obligations due or accrued at the date of the statement.

History: En. Sec. 85, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3004.

33-2-512. Unearned premium reserve for property, casualty, and surety. (1) As to insurance against loss or damage to property, except as provided in 33-2-513, and as to all general casualty insurance and surety insurance, every insurer shall maintain an unearned premium reserve on all policies in force.

(2) The commissioner may require that such reserves shall be equal to the unearned portions of the gross premiums in force after deducting applicable reinsurance in solvent insurers as computed on each respective risk from the policy's date of issue. If the commissioner does not so require, the portions of the gross premium in force, less applicable reinsurance in solvent insurers, to be held as an unearned premium reserve, shall be computed according to the following table:

Term for Which Policy Was Written	Reserve for Unearned Premium
1 year or less	1/2
2 years	1st year 3/4
	2nd year 1/4
3 years	1st year 5/6
	2nd year 1/2

	3rd year	1/6
4 years	1st year	7/8
	2nd year	5/8
	3rd year	3/8
	4th year	1/8
5 years	1st year	9/10
	2nd year	7/10
	3rd year	1/2
	4th year	3/10
	5th year	1/10
Over 5 years	pro rata

(3) In lieu of computation according to the foregoing table, the insurer at its option may compute all of such reserves on a monthly or more frequent pro rata basis.

(4) After adopting a method for computing such reserve, an insurer shall not change methods without approval of the commissioner.

(5) This section does not apply to title insurance.

History: En. Sec. 89, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3008.

33-2-516. Inadequate reserves — increase required. If loss experience shows that an insurer's loss reserves, however computed or estimated, are inadequate, the commissioner shall require the insurer to maintain loss reserves in such increased amount as is needed to make them adequate.

History: En. Sec. 90, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3009.

33-2-517. Title insurance reserves. (1) In addition to an adequate reserve as to outstanding losses as required under 33-2-511, a title insurer shall maintain a guaranty fund or unearned premium reserve of not less than an amount computed as follows:

(a) Ten percent of the total amount of the risk premiums written in the calendar year for title insurance contracts must be assigned originally to the reserve.

(b) During each of the 20 years next following the year in which the title insurance contract was issued, the reserve applicable to the contract must be reduced by 5% of the original amount of the reserve.

(2) The reserve sums required by subsection (1) for unearned premiums on contracts of title insurance must at all times and for all purposes be considered and constitute unearned portions of the original premiums and must be held in trust for the benefit of policyholders.

(3) The reduction of the unearned premium reserve required by subsection (1)(b) must be made for all title insurance contracts issued after December 31, 1958, with respect to which 10% of the risk premiums have been assigned to the reserve pursuant to subsection (1)(a). If the insurer has not reduced the amount of its unearned premium reserves pursuant to subsection (1)(b) for a previous year or years, the insurer shall make the reduction for the prior year or years in its next accounting year.

33-2-518. Loss and loss expense reserves for property and casualty insurance. (1) (a) In determining the financial condition of a property and casualty insurer for the purpose of applying the provisions of this chapter and in any financial statement or report of an insurer, loss reserves and loss expense reserves at least equal to the amounts required under the provisions of this section must be included in the insurer's liabilities. The date from which the determination, statement, or report is made is, for the purpose of this part, the date of determination.

(b) Accepted actuarial standards as adopted by the actuarial standards board must be taken into consideration for the purpose of determining the loss reserves and loss expense reserves.

(2) Except as provided in subsections (3) and (4), the reserves for all outstanding losses and loss expenses must include the following:

(a) the aggregate estimated amounts due or to become due on account of all known losses, claims, and loss expenses incurred but not paid, including the estimated liability on any notice received by the insurer of the occurrence of any event that may result in a loss; and

(b) the aggregate amounts of liability for all losses and loss expenses incurred for which notice has not been received, estimated in accordance with the insurer's prior experience, if any, or otherwise in accordance with Montana industry experience, or countrywide industry experience if this state's experience is not credible, for similar contracts of insurance. The estimated liabilities for losses under all bonds, policies, or contracts of fidelity insurance may not be less than 10% of the net premiums in force, and the estimated liabilities for all of those losses under all the insurer's surety contracts may not be less than 5% of the net premiums in force.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (4), tabular reserves for outstanding losses under policies of workers' compensation insurance may be actuarially calculated for both indemnity and medical payments. The loss adjustment expenses are not eligible for discounting. Tabular reserves are those reserves that are:

(a) calculated using discounts determined with reference to actuarial tables, which incorporate mortality, interest, not to exceed 4%, remarriage, and other contingencies applied to a reasonably determinable payment stream associated with lifetime benefit cases; or

(b) annuities certain, such as those arising from structured settlements.

(4) Whenever, in the judgment of the commissioner, the loss and loss expense reserves of any property and casualty insurer doing business in this state, calculated in accordance with the provisions of this section, are inadequate or excessive, the commissioner may prescribe any other method that will produce adequate and reasonable reserves.

(5) The excess, if any, of statutory reserves over statement reserves must be calculated in accordance with the annual statement instructions adopted by the national association of insurance commissioners.

33-2-603. Securities eligible for deposit. (1) All deposits required under 33-2-111 for authority to transact insurance in this state must consist of certificates of deposit or the following securities:

(a) United States or Canadian government bonds, notes, warrants, or other evidences of indebtedness that are direct obligations of the United States or of Canada or for which the full faith and credit of the United States or of Canada is pledged for the payment of principal and interest;

(b) state, county, municipal, and school bonds or other evidences of indebtedness that are general obligations of or are secured by a pledge of specific revenue of a state or of a province of Canada or of any of the counties, incorporated cities or towns, school districts, or other taxing districts in a state or province; and

(c) revenue bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness of any state or province, political subdivision of a state or province or agency or instrumentality of a state or province that are payable from revenue or earnings specifically pledged for the payment of the principal and interest on the obligations and for the payment of which a lawful sinking fund or reserve fund has been established and is being maintained.

(2) All other deposits of a domestic insurer held in this state pursuant to the laws of another state, province, or country must be comprised of assets of the kinds described in subsection (1) and of additional kind or kinds of securities required or permitted by the laws of the state, province, or country except common stocks, mortgages of any kind, and real estate.

(3) Deposits of the reserves of a domestic life insurer must consist of securities and assets as provided under 33-2-416.

(4) Deposits of foreign insurers made in this state under the retaliatory law, 33-2-709, must consist of assets that are required by the commissioner pursuant to 33-2-709.

History: En. Sec. 134, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3203; amd. Sec. 42, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-2-604. Depositary or custodian. (1) Deposits made in this state under this code must be made through the office of the commissioner or under custodial arrangements as required or approved by the commissioner consistent with the purposes of the deposit. The deposit must be made with a bank or trust company located in the state of Montana and selected by the insurer with the commissioner's approval. The commissioner may, with good cause, withhold or withdraw approval.

(2) For convenience purposes, in the buying, selling, and exchange of securities comprising its deposit and in the collection of interest and other income currently accruing on the securities, the insurer may, with the commissioner's advance written approval, deposit the securities under custodial arrangements with an established bank or trust company located outside this state. Any receipts representing the securities that are issued by an out-of-state custodian bank or trust company are subject to the requirements of subsection (1).

(3) The form and terms of all depositary or custodial agreements must be as prescribed or approved by the commissioner, consistent with the applicable provisions of this code.

(4) The compensation and expenses of the depositary or custodian must be borne by the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 135, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3204; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 169, L. 2013.

33-2-612. Duration and release of deposit. (1) Every deposit made in this state by an insurer pursuant to this code, including assets and securities held in another state under custodial arrangements permitted by 33-2-604(2), must be held as long as there is outstanding any liability of the insurer as to which the deposit was required, or if a deposit was required under the retaliatory law, 33-2-709, the deposit must be held for as long as the basis of the retaliation exists.

(2) Upon the request of a domestic insurer, the commissioner shall return to the insurer the whole or any portion of the assets and securities of the insurer held on deposit when the commissioner is satisfied that the assets and securities to be returned are not subject to liability and are not required to be held by any provision of law or purposes of the original deposit. If the insurer has reinsured all its outstanding risks in another insurer or insurers authorized to transact insurance in this state, then the commissioner shall deliver the assets and securities to the insurer or insurers assuming the risks upon:

(a) written notice to the commissioner by the domestic insurer that the assets and securities have been assigned, transferred, and set over to the reinsuring insurer or insurers, accompanied by a verified copy of the assignment, transfer, or conveyance; and

(b) in the case of deposits of the reserves of domestic life insurers under 33-2-416, proof satisfactory to the commissioner that the reinsuring insurer or insurers have deposited or will deposit and will maintain on deposit in public custody through the insurance supervisory official of its state of domicile assets and securities of like quality in an amount not less than the reserves of the policies and contracts reinsured, in addition to any other deposit of the insurer required or permitted by law, and, unless the insurer is required to deposit and maintain on deposit all of its reserves, that the deposit of the reserves will be deposited and held on deposit for the special benefit and protection of the holders of the life insurance policies and annuity contracts reinsured.

(3) The commissioner shall return to a foreign insurer any deposit made in this state by the insurer when the insurer has ceased transacting insurance in this state or in the United States, and the insurer is not subject to any liability in this state on account of which the deposit was held.

(4) If the insurer is subject to delinquency proceedings, as defined in part 13 of this chapter, upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction, the commissioner shall yield the assets and securities held on deposit to the receiver, conservator, rehabilitator, or liquidator of the insurer or to any other properly designated official or officials who succeed to the management and control of the insurer's assets.

(5) A release of deposited assets may not be made except upon application to and the written order of the commissioner. The commissioner does not have personal liability for release of any deposit or part of a deposit made in good faith.

33-2-701. Annual statement — revocation or fine for failure to file — penalty for perjury. (1) Each authorized insurer shall annually on or before March 1 file with the commissioner a full and true statement of the authorized insurer's financial condition, transactions, and affairs as of the preceding December 31. The statement must be:

(a) in the general form and context as is required or not disapproved by the commissioner, as is in current use for similar reports to states in general with respect to the type of insurer and kinds of insurance to be reported upon, and as supplemented for additional information required by the commissioner;

(b) completed in accordance with the annual statement instructions and the Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual of the national association of insurance commissioners;

(c) accompanied by an actuarial opinion attesting to the adequacy of the insurer's reserves;

(d) verified by the oath of the insurer's president or vice president and secretary or, if a reciprocal insurer, by the oath of the attorney-in-fact or its like officers if a corporation. The commissioner may waive the verification under oath.

(2) (a) Each domestic insurer shall file electronic versions of the domestic insurer's annual and quarterly financial statements with the national association of insurance commissioners. The date for submission of the annual statement electronic filing is March 1. The dates for the submission of the quarterly statement electronic filings are as follows:

(i) the first quarter filing is due May 15;
(ii) the second quarter filing is due August 15; and
(iii) the third quarter filing is due November 15.

(b) The commissioner may exempt insurers that operate only in Montana from these filing requirements.

(3) The statement of an alien insurer must relate only to its transactions and affairs in the United States unless the commissioner requires otherwise. If the commissioner requires a statement as to an alien insurer's affairs throughout the world, the insurer shall file the statement with the commissioner as soon as reasonably possible. The statement must be verified by the insurer's United States manager or other authorized officer.

(4) The commissioner may refuse to accept the fee for renewal of the insurer's certificate of authority, as provided in 33-2-117, or may suspend or revoke the certificate of authority of any insurer failing to file the insurer's annual statement when due or within an extension of time that the commissioner may grant.

(5) A director, officer, agent, or employee of a company who subscribes to, makes, or concurs in making or publishing an annual statement or any other statement required by law knowing that the statement contains any material statement that is false shall be punished by a fine of not more than $25,000 for each violation.

(6) The commissioner may impose a fine not to exceed $100 a day for each day after March 1 that an insurer fails to file the annual statement referred to in subsection (1). The fine may not exceed a maximum of $1,000.

33-2-705. Report on premiums and other consideration — tax. (1) Each authorized insurer and each formerly authorized insurer with respect to premiums received while an authorized insurer in this state shall file with the commissioner, on or before March 1 each year, a report in a form prescribed by the commissioner showing total direct premium income, including policy, membership, and other fees, premiums paid by application of dividends, refunds, savings, savings coupons, and similar returns or credits to payment of premiums for new or additional or extended or renewed insurance, charges for payment of premium in installments, and all other consideration for insurance from all kinds and classes of insurance, whether designated as a premium or otherwise, received by a life insurer or written by an insurer other than a life insurer during the preceding calendar year on account of policies covering property, subjects, or risks located, resident, or to be performed in Montana, with proper proportionate allocation of premium as to property, subjects, or risks in Montana insured under policies or contracts covering property, subjects, or risks located or resident in more than one state, after deducting from the total direct premium income applicable cancellations, returned premiums, the unabsorbed portion of any deposit premium, the amount of reduction in or refund of premiums allowed to industrial life policyholders for payment of premiums direct to an office of the insurer, all policy dividends, refunds, savings, savings coupons, and other similar returns paid or credited to policyholders with respect to the policies. As to title insurance, "premium" includes the total charge for the insurance. A deduction may not be made of the cash surrender values of policies. Considerations received on annuity contracts may not be included in total direct premium income and are not subject to tax.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsections (2)(b) and (2)(c), coincident with the filing of the tax report referred to in subsection (1) and subject to 33-2-709, each insurer shall pay to the commissioner a tax on the net premiums computed at the rate of 2.75%.

(b) All casualty insurers issuing policies of legal professional liability insurance pursuant to 33-1-206 shall pay to the commissioner a tax on the net premiums derived from legal professional liability insurance computed at a rate of 0.75%.

(c) A dormant captive insurer that has a valid certificate of dormancy shall pay to the commissioner an annual dormancy tax of $1,000 as provided in 33-28-401.

(3) That portion of the tax paid under this section by an insurer on account of premiums received for fire insurance must be separately specified in the report required by the commissioner for apportionment as provided by law. When insurance against fire is included with insurance of property against other perils at an undivided premium, the insurer shall make a reasonable allocation from the entire premium to the fire portion of the coverage as must be stated in the report and as may be approved or accepted by the commissioner.

(4) With respect to authorized insurers, the premium tax provided by this section or the annual dormancy tax under 33-28-401 must be payment in full and in lieu of all other demands for any and all state, county, city, district, municipal, and school taxes, licenses, fees, and excises of whatever kind or character, excepting only those prescribed by this code, taxes on real and tangible personal property located in this state, and taxes payable under 50-3-109.

(5) The commissioner may suspend or revoke the certificate of authority of any insurer that fails to pay its taxes as required under this section.

(6) In addition to the penalty provided for in subsection (5), the commissioner may impose on an insurer who fails to pay the tax required under this section a fine of $100 plus interest on the delinquent amount at the annual interest rate of 12%.

(7) The commissioner may by rule provide a quarterly schedule for payment of portions of the premium tax under this section during the year in which tax liability is accrued.

33-2-709. Retaliatory fees, taxes, and other obligations. (1) When by or pursuant to the laws of any other state or foreign country any taxes, licenses, and other fees, in the aggregate, and any fines, penalties, deposit requirements, or other material obligations, prohibitions, or restrictions are or would be imposed upon Montana insurers or upon the insurance producers or representatives of such insurers which are in excess of such taxes, licenses, and other fees, in the aggregate, or which are in excess of the fines, penalties, deposit requirements, or other obligations, prohibitions, or restrictions directly imposed upon similar insurers or upon the insurance producers or representatives of such insurers of such other state or country under the statutes of this state, so long as such laws of such other state or country continue in force or are so applied, the same taxes, licenses, and other fees, in the aggregate, or fines, penalties, or deposit requirements or other material obligations, prohibitions, or restrictions of whatever kind shall be imposed by the commissioner upon the insurers or upon the insurance producers or representatives of such insurers of such other state or country doing business or seeking to do business in Montana. Any tax, license, or other fee or other obligation imposed by any city, county, or other political subdivision or agency of such other state or country on Montana insurers or their insurance producers or representatives shall be deemed to be imposed by such state or country within the meaning of this section.

(2) This section shall not apply as to any fees in conjunction with the licensing of insurance producers, personal income taxes, ad valorem taxes on real or personal property, or special purpose obligations or assessments imposed by another state or by an agency of this state other than the department in connection with particular kinds of insurance other than property insurance, except that deductions from premium taxes or other taxes otherwise payable allowed on account of real estate or personal property taxes paid shall be taken into consideration by the commissioner in determining the propriety and extent of retaliatory action under this section.

(3) (a) For the purposes of this section the domicile of an alien insurer, other than insurers formed under the laws of Canada, shall be that state designated by the insurer in writing filed with the commissioner at time of admission to this state or within 6 months after January 1, 1961, whichever date is the later, and may be any one of the following states:

(i) that in which the insurer was first authorized to transact insurance;

(ii) that in which is located the insurer's principal place of business in the United States;

(iii) that in which is held the larger deposit of trusteed assets of the insurer for the protection of its policyholders and creditors in the United States.

(b) If the insurer makes no such designation, its domicile shall be deemed to be that state in which is located its principal place of business in the United States.

33-2-713. Group disability policy exemption. The fee required in 33-2-712 does not apply to blanket group disability insurance as defined in Title 33, chapter 22, part 6, where the total premium charged per person is less than $10 a year. For these policies, the fee is to be assessed on the basis of the number of blanket group policyholders in Montana.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 554, L. 1987.

33-2-714. Health service corporation fee. (1) An authorized health service corporation as defined in 33-30-101 shall file with the commissioner, on or before March 1 of each year, a report in a format prescribed by the commissioner showing the total direct premium income during the preceding calendar year from all sources after deducting from the income applicable cancellations, returned premiums, or the amount of reduction in or refund of premiums.

(2) At the time the report is filed, and subject to 33-2-709, the health service corporation shall pay a fee to the commissioner on net premium income computed at the rate of 1%.

(3) If a health service corporation fails to pay the fee required under this section, the commissioner may:

(a) suspend or revoke the certificate of authority for the health service corporation; and

(b) impose a fine of $100 plus interest on the delinquent amount at an annual interest rate of 12%.

(4) The commissioner may provide by rule a quarterly schedule for the payment of the fee.

(5) The commissioner shall deposit money collected from the fee into the Montana HELP Act special revenue account provided for in 53-6-1315.

(6) The fee required under this section applies to a formerly authorized health service corporation if the corporation received premiums during the preceding calendar year while doing business as an authorized health service corporation in this state.

Part 11

Affiliation and Merger — Holding Company Systems — Own Risk and Solvency Assessment

33-2-1101. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply unless the context requires otherwise:

(1) An "affiliate" of or person "affiliated" with a specific person is a person that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls or is controlled by or is under common control with the person specified.

(2) "Control", including the terms "controlling", "controlled by", and "under common control with", means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person. This power may be evidenced through the ownership of voting securities, by contract other than a commercial contract for goods or nonmanagement services, or otherwise, unless the power is the result of an official position with or corporate office held by the person. Control is presumed to exist if any person directly or indirectly owns, controls, holds with the power to vote, or holds proxies representing 10% or more of the voting securities of any other person. This presumption may be rebutted by a showing made in the manner provided by 33-2-1112 that control does not exist in fact. The commissioner may determine, after furnishing all persons in interest notice and opportunity to be heard and making specific findings of fact to support such determination, that control exists in fact, notwithstanding the absence of a presumption to that effect.

(3) "Enterprise risk" means any activity, circumstance, event, or series of events involving one or more affiliates of an insurer that, if not remedied promptly, is likely to have a material adverse effect on the financial condition or liquidity of the insurer or its insurance holding company system as a whole. The term includes but is not limited to anything that would cause the insurer's risk-based capital to fall into a company action level, as provided in 33-2-1904, or that would cause the insurer to be in hazardous financial condition as determined by the commissioner pursuant to 33-2-1321.

(4) "Groupwide supervisor" means the regulatory official authorized to engage in conducting and coordinating groupwide supervision activities who is determined or acknowledged by the commissioner under 33-2-1140 to have sufficient significant contacts with the internationally active insurance group.

(5) "Group capital calculation instructions" means the group capital calculation instructions as adopted by the NAIC and as amended by the NAIC from time to time in accordance with the procedures adopted by the NAIC.

(6) "Insurance holding company system" means two or more affiliated persons, one or more of which is an insurer.

(7) "Insurer" has the meaning provided in 33-1-201, except that the term does not include agencies, authorities, or instrumentalities of the United States, its possessions and territories, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, or a state or political subdivision of a state.

(8) "Internationally active insurance group" means an insurance holding company system that includes an insurer registered under 33-2-1111 and meets the following criteria:

(a) premiums are written in at least three countries;

(b) the percentage of gross premiums written outside the United States is at least 10% of the insurance holding company system's total gross written premiums; and

(c) based on a 3-year rolling average, the total assets of the insurance holding company system are at least $50 billion or the total gross written premiums of the insurance holding company system are at least $10 billion.

(9) "NAIC" means the national association of insurance commissioners.

(10) "NAIC liquidity stress test framework" means a separate NAIC publication that includes a history of the NAIC's development of regulatory liquidity stress testing, the scope criteria applicable for a specific data year, and the liquidity stress test instructions and reporting templates for a specific data year, the scope criteria, instructions, and reporting template as adopted by the NAIC and as amended by the NAIC from time to time in accordance with the procedures adopted by the NAIC.

(11) (a) "Person" means an individual, a corporation, a partnership, an association, a joint-stock company, a trust, an unincorporated organization, any similar entity, or any combination of the foregoing acting in concert.

(b) The term does not include any securities broker performing no more than the usual and customary broker's function.

(12) The "scope criteria", as detailed in the NAIC liquidity stress test framework, are the designated exposure bases along with minimum magnitudes thereof for the specified data year, used to establish a preliminary list of insurers considered scoped into the NAIC liquidity stress test framework for that data year.

(13) A "securityholder" of a specified person is one who owns any security of that person, including common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and any other security convertible into or evidencing the right to acquire any of the foregoing.

(14) A "subsidiary" of a specified person is an affiliate controlled by that person directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries.

(15) "Voting security" means any security convertible into or evidencing a right to acquire a voting security.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 64, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5509(part); amd. Sec. 23, Ch. 370, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 344, L. 2021.

33-2-1102. Authorization of subsidiaries. Any domestic insurer, either by itself or in cooperation with one or more persons, may organize or acquire one or more subsidiaries engaged in the following kinds of business:

(1) any kind of insurance business authorized by the jurisdiction in which it is incorporated;

(2) acting as an insurance broker or as an insurance producer for its parent or for any of its parent's insurer subsidiaries;

(3) investing, reinvesting, or trading in securities for its own account, that of its parent, any subsidiary of its parent, or any affiliate or subsidiary;

(4) management of any investment company subject to or registered pursuant to the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, including related sales and services;

(5) acting as a broker-dealer subject to or registered pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended;

(6) rendering investment advice to governments, government agencies, corporations, or other organizations or groups;

(7) rendering other services related to the operations of an insurance business, including but not limited to actuarial, loss prevention, safety engineering, data processing, accounting, claims, appraisal, and collection services;

(8) ownership and management of assets which the parent corporation could itself own or manage;

(9) acting as administrative agent for a governmental instrumentality which is performing an insurance function;

(10) financing of insurance premiums, insurance producers, and other forms of consumer financing;

(11) any other business activity determined by the commissioner to be reasonable ancillary to an insurance business;

(12) owning a corporation or corporations engaged or organized to engage exclusively in one or more of the businesses specified in this section.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 64, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5510(a); amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-2-1103. Additional investment authority — exemption from other investment restrictions — determination of qualification — divestiture. (1) In addition to investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities permitted under this part, a domestic insurer may also:

(a) invest, in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries, amounts which do not exceed the lesser of 10% of the insurer's assets or 50% of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, provided that after the investments the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs. In calculating the amount of the investments, there must be included total net money or other consideration expended and obligations assumed in the acquisition or formation of a subsidiary, including all organizational expenses and contributions to capital and surplus of the subsidiary, whether or not represented by the purchase of capital stock or issuance of other securities, and all amounts expended in acquiring additional common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities and all contributions to the capital or surplus of a subsidiary subsequent to its acquisition or formation.

(b) if the insurer's total liabilities, as calculated for national association of insurance commissioners annual statement purposes, are less than 10% of assets, invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries, provided that after the investment the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, considering the investment as if it were a disallowed asset, will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs;

(c) invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries, provided that each subsidiary agrees to limit its investments in any asset so that the investments will not cause the amount of the total investment of the insurer to exceed any of the investment limitations specified in this section. The total investment of the insurer must include:

(i) any direct investment by the insurer in an asset;

(ii) the insurer's proportionate share of any investment in an asset by any subsidiary of the insurer, which is calculated by multiplying the amount of the subsidiary's investment by the percentage of the insurer's ownership of such subsidiary.

(d) with the approval of the commissioner, invest a greater amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, or other securities of one or more subsidiaries, provided that after the investment, the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

(2) Investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, or other securities of subsidiaries made pursuant to subsection (1) are not subject to any of the otherwise applicable restrictions or prohibitions contained in this part applicable to such investments of insurers.

(3) Whether any investment pursuant to subsection (1) meets the applicable requirements thereof is to be determined immediately after the investment is made, taking into account the then outstanding principal balance on all previous investments in debt obligations and the value of all previous investments in equity securities as of the date they were made.

(4) If an insurer ceases to control a subsidiary, it shall dispose of any investment therein made pursuant to this section within 3 years from the time of the cessation of control or within such further time as the commissioner may prescribe, unless at any time after the investment is made, the investment meets the requirements for investment under any other section of this part and the insurer has notified the commissioner thereof.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 64, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5510(b) thru (e); amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 198, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 142, Ch. 575, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 620, L. 1989.

33-2-1104. Acquisition or divestiture of control of or merger with domestic insurer — filing requisites. (1) (a) A person other than the issuer may not make a tender offer for or a request or invitation for tenders of or enter into any agreement to exchange securities for, seek to acquire, or acquire, in the open market or otherwise, any voting security of a domestic insurer if, after the consummation of the transaction, the person would, directly or indirectly or by conversion or by exercise of any right to acquire, be in control of the insurer.

(b) A person may not enter into an agreement to merge with or otherwise to acquire control of a domestic insurer unless, at the time any offer, request, or invitation is made or any agreement is entered into or prior to the acquisition of the securities if an offer or agreement is not involved, the person has filed with the commissioner and has sent to the insurer, and the insurer has sent to its shareholders, a statement as provided in subsection (3) containing the information required by this section and the offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition has been approved by the commissioner in the manner prescribed in this section.

(2) (a) A controlling person of a domestic insurer seeking to divest its controlling interest in the domestic insurer in any manner shall file a statement as provided in subsection (3) with the commissioner for approval of its proposed divestiture at least 30 days prior to the cessation of control.

(b) The information in the notice must remain confidential until the conclusion of the transaction unless the commissioner, at the commissioner's discretion, determines confidential treatment will interfere with enforcement of this section.

(3) The statement to be filed with the commissioner must be made under oath or affirmation and must contain the following:

(a) the name and address of each person by whom or on whose behalf the merger or other acquisition of control referred to in subsection (1) is to be effected, who is called the "acquiring party":

(i) if the person is an individual, the principal occupation and all offices and positions held during the past 5 years and any conviction of crimes other than minor traffic violations during the past 10 years;

(ii) if the person is not an individual:

(A) a report of the nature of its business operations during the past 5 years or for a lesser period that the person and any predecessors have been in existence;

(B) an informative description of the business intended to be done by the person and the person's subsidiaries; and

(C) a list of all individuals who are or who have been selected to become directors or executive officers of the person or who perform or will perform functions appropriate to the positions. The list must include for each individual the information required by subsection (3)(a)(i).

(b) the source, nature, and amount of the consideration used or to be used in effecting the merger or other acquisition of control, a description of any transaction in which funds were or are to be obtained for any purpose, and the identity of persons furnishing the consideration, provided that when a source of consideration is a loan made in the lender's ordinary course of business, the identity of the lender must remain confidential if the person filing the statement requests;

(c) fully audited financial information as to the earnings and financial condition of each acquiring party for the preceding 5 fiscal years of each acquiring party, or for a lesser period that the acquiring party and any predecessors have been in existence, and similar unaudited information as of a date not earlier than 90 days prior to the filing of the statement;

(d) any plans or proposals that each acquiring party may have to liquidate the insurer, to sell its assets or merge or consolidate it with any person, or to make any other material change in its business or corporate structure or management;

(e) the number of shares of any security referred to in subsection (1) that each acquiring party proposes to acquire and the terms of the offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition referred to in subsection (1) and a statement as to the method by which the fairness of the proposal was arrived at;

(f) the amount of each class of any security referred to in subsection (1) that is beneficially owned or concerning which there is a right to acquire beneficial ownership by each acquiring party;

(g) a full description of any contracts, arrangements, or understandings with respect to any security referred to in subsection (1) in which any acquiring party is involved, including but not limited to transfer of any of the securities, joint ventures, loan or option arrangements, puts or calls, guarantees of loans, guarantees against loss or guarantees of profits, division of losses or profits, or the giving or withholding of proxies. The description must identify the persons with whom the contracts, arrangements, or understandings have been entered into.

(h) a description of the purchase of any security referred to in subsection (1) by an acquiring party during the 12 calendar months preceding the filing of the statement, including the dates of purchase, names of the purchasers, and consideration paid or agreed to be paid for the security;

(i) a description of any recommendations to purchase any security referred to in subsection (1) during the 12 calendar months preceding the filing of the statement made by any acquiring party or by anyone based upon interviews or at the suggestion of the acquiring party;

(j) copies of all tender offers for, requests or invitations for tenders of, exchange offers for, and agreements to acquire or exchange any securities referred to in subsection (1) and, if distributed, of additional soliciting material relating to the offers or agreements;

(k) the terms of any agreement, contract, or understanding made with any broker-dealer as to solicitation of securities referred to in subsection (1) for tender and the amount of any fees, commissions, or other compensation to be paid to broker-dealers with regard to the solicitation;

(l) an agreement by which the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection (1) agrees to provide the annual enterprise risk report for as long as control exists;

(m) an acknowledgment by the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection (1) that the person and all affiliates within its control in the insurance holding company system agree to provide information to the commissioner upon request if the commissioner determines the information is necessary to evaluate enterprise risk to the insurer; and

(n) additional information that the commissioner may by rule prescribe as necessary or appropriate for the protection of policyholders and securityholders of the insurer or in the public interest.

(4) If the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection (1) is a partnership, limited partnership, syndicate, or other group, the commissioner may require that the information called for by subsection (3) must be given with respect to each partner of the partnership or limited partnership, each member of the syndicate or group, and each person who controls the partner or member. If any partner, member, or person is a corporation or the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection (1) is a corporation, the commissioner may require that the information required by subsection (3) be given with respect to the corporation, each officer and director of the corporation, and each person who is directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of more than 10% of the outstanding voting securities of the corporation.

(5) If any material change occurs in the facts set forth in the statement filed with the commissioner and sent to the insurer pursuant to this section, an amendment describing the change, together with copies of all documents and other material relevant to the change, must be filed with the commissioner and sent to the insurer within 2 business days after the person learns of the change. The insurer shall send the amendment to its shareholders.

(6) If any offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition referred to in subsection (1) is proposed to be made by means of a registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 or in circumstances requiring the disclosure of similar information under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or under a state law requiring similar registration or disclosure, the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection (1) may use the documents in furnishing the information called for by that statement.

(7) As used in this section:

(a) "domestic insurer" includes any person controlling a domestic insurer unless the person, as determined by the commissioner, is either directly or through its affiliates primarily engaged in a business other than the business of insurance;

(b) "person" does not include a securities broker holding, in the usual and customary broker's function, less than 20% of the voting securities of an insurance company or of any person who controls an insurance company.

33-2-1105. Approval by commissioner — hearings — notice. (1) The commissioner shall approve any merger or other acquisition or divestiture of control referred to in 33-2-1104 unless, after a public hearing, the commissioner finds that:

(a) after the change of control, the domestic insurer referred to in 33-2-1104 would not be able to satisfy the requirements for the issuance of a license to write the line or lines of insurance for which the domestic insurer is presently licensed;

(b) the effect of the merger or other acquisition of control would be substantially to lessen competition in insurance in this state or tend to create a monopoly;

(c) the financial condition of any acquiring party might jeopardize the financial stability of the insurer or prejudice the interest of the insurer's policyholders or the interests of any remaining securityholders who are unaffiliated with the acquiring party;

(d) the terms of the offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition referred to in 33-2-1104 are unfair and unreasonable to the securityholders of the insurer;

(e) the plans or proposals that the acquiring party has to liquidate the insurer, to sell its assets or consolidate or merge it with any person, or to make any other material change in its business or corporate structure or management are unfair and unreasonable to policyholders of the insurer and not in the public interest;

(f) the competence, experience, and integrity of those persons who would control the operation of the insurer are of the nature that the change in control would not be in the interest of policyholders of the insurer and of the public; or

(g) the acquisition is likely to be hazardous or prejudicial to the insurance-buying public.

(2) The public hearing referred to in subsection (1) must be held within 30 days after the statement required by 33-2-1104(1) is filed, and at least 20 days' notice of the hearing must be given by the commissioner to the person filing the statement. Not less than 7 days' notice of the public hearing must be given by the person filing the statement to the insurer and to other persons as may be designated by the commissioner. The insurer shall give notice to its securityholders. The commissioner shall make a determination within 30 days after the conclusion of the hearing. At the hearing, the person filing the statement, the insurer, any person to whom notice of hearing was sent, and any other person whose interests may be affected has the right to present evidence, examine and cross-examine witnesses, and offer oral and written arguments and to conduct discovery proceedings in the same manner that is presently allowed in the district court of this state. All discovery proceedings must be concluded not later than 3 days prior to the commencement of the public hearing.

(3) All statements, amendments, or other material filed pursuant to 33-2-1104(1) through (5) and all notices of public hearings held pursuant to subsection (1) of this section must be mailed by the insurer to its shareholders within 5 business days after the insurer has received the statements, amendments, other material, or notices. The expenses of mailing must be borne by the person making the filing. As security for the payment of the expenses, the person shall file with the commissioner an acceptable bond or other deposit in an amount to be determined by the commissioner.

(4) The commissioner may retain at the expense of the acquiring or divesting party any attorneys, actuaries, accountants, and other experts not otherwise a part of the commissioner's staff as may be reasonably necessary to assist the commissioner in reviewing the proposed acquisition of control.

33-2-1106. Exemptions — violations — jurisdiction. (1) The provisions of 33-2-1104 and 33-2-1105 do not apply to an offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition that the commissioner by order exempts from those sections as:

(a) not having been made or entered into for the purpose and not having the effect of changing or influencing the control of a domestic insurer; or

(b) otherwise not comprehended within the purposes of 33-2-1104 and 33-2-1105.

(2) The following are violations of 33-2-1104 or 33-2-1105:

(a) the failure to file any statement, amendment, or other material required to be filed pursuant to 33-2-1104(1) through (5);

(b) the effectuation or any attempt to effectuate an acquisition of control of, divestiture of, or merger with a domestic insurer unless the commissioner has given approval.

(3) The courts of this state are vested with jurisdiction over every person not resident, domiciled, or authorized to do business in this state who files a statement with the commissioner under 33-2-1104 and over all actions involving the person arising out of violations of 33-2-1104 or 33-2-1105. Each person is considered to have performed acts equivalent to and constituting an appointment of the commissioner to be the person's attorney upon whom may be served all lawful process in any action, suit, or proceeding arising out of violations of this section. Copies of all lawful process must be served on the commissioner and transmitted by certified mail by the commissioner to the person at the person's last-known address.

33-2-1111. Registration of insurers — requisites — termination. (1) (a) An insurer authorized to do business in this state that is a member of an insurance holding company system shall register with the commissioner, except that a foreign insurer subject to disclosure requirements and standards adopted by statute or regulation in the jurisdiction of its domicile that are substantially similar to those contained in this section is not required to register.

(b) Any insurer subject to registration under this section shall register within 15 days after becoming subject to registration, unless the commissioner for good cause extends the time for registration.

(c) The commissioner may require any authorized insurer that is a member of a holding company system that is not subject to registration under this section to furnish a copy of the registration statement or other information filed by the insurance company with the insurance regulatory authority in the jurisdiction where the company is domiciled.

(2) An insurer subject to registration shall file with the commissioner, on or before April 30 each year, a registration statement on a form provided by the commissioner that must contain current information about:

(a) the capital structure, general financial condition, ownership, and management of the insurer and any person controlling the insurer;

(b) the identity and relationship of every member of the insurance holding company system;

(c) transactions currently outstanding or that occurred during the last calendar year between the insurer and its affiliates and the following agreements that are in force:

(i) loans, other investments, or purchases, sales, or exchanges of securities of the affiliates by the insurer or of the insurer by its affiliates;

(ii) purchases, sales, or exchanges of assets;

(iii) transactions not in the ordinary course of business;

(iv) guaranties or undertakings for the benefit of an affiliate that result in an actual contingent exposure of the insurer's assets to liability, other than insurance contracts entered into in the ordinary course of the insurer's business;

(v) management and service contracts and cost-sharing arrangements;

(vi) reinsurance agreements;

(vii) dividends and other distributions to shareholders; and

(viii) consolidated tax allocation agreements;

(d) a pledge of the insurer's stock, including stock of a subsidiary or controlling affiliate for a loan made to a member of the insurance holding company system;

(e) if requested by the commissioner, financial statements of or within an insurance holding company system, including all affiliates, which may include annual audited financial statements filed with the U.S. securities and exchange commission pursuant to the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or the most recently filed parent corporation financial statements filed with the U.S. securities and exchange commission;

(f) statements that the insurer's board of directors is responsible for and oversees corporate governance and internal controls and that the insurer's officers or senior management have approved, have implemented, and continue to maintain and monitor corporate governance and internal control procedures;

(g) all matters concerning transactions between registered insurers and any affiliates as may be included from time to time in registration forms adopted or approved by the commissioner; and

(h) any other information required by the commissioner by rule.

(3) A registration statement must contain a summary outlining each item in the current registration statement that represents a change from the prior registration statement.

(4) Information need not be disclosed on the registration statement filed pursuant to subsection (2) if the information is not material for the purposes of this section. Unless the commissioner by rule or order provides otherwise, sales, purchases, exchanges, loans or extensions of credit, or investments involving 1/2 of 1% or less of an insurer's admitted assets as of the prior December 31 are not material for purposes of this section. The definition of materiality provided in this subsection does not apply for purposes of the group capital calculation of the liquidity stress test framework.

(5) A person within an insurance holding company system subject to registration shall provide complete and accurate information to an insurer if the information is reasonably necessary to enable the insurer to comply with Title 33, chapter 2, part 11.

(6) Each registered insurer shall keep current the information required to be disclosed in its registration statement by reporting all material changes or additions on amendment forms provided by the commissioner within 15 days after the end of the month in which the registered insurer learns of each change or addition.

(7) (a) The ultimate controlling person of every insurer subject to registration under this section shall also file an annual enterprise risk report. The report must identify the material risks within the insurance holding company system that could pose enterprise risk to the insurer to the best of the controlling person's knowledge and belief. The report must be filed with the lead state commissioner of the insurance holding company system, as determined by the procedures within the financial analysis handbook adopted by rule of the commissioner.

(b) Except as provided in this section, the ultimate controlling person of every insurer subject to registration shall concurrently file with the registration an annual group capital calculation as directed by the lead state commissioner. The report must be completed in accordance with the NAIC group capital calculation instructions, which may permit the lead state commissioner to allow a controlling person that is not the ultimate controlling person to file the group capital calculation. The report must be filed with the lead state commissioner of the insurance holding company system as determined by the commissioner in accordance with the procedures within the financial analysis handbook adopted by the NAIC. Insurance holding company systems described below are exempt from filing the group capital calculation:

(i) an insurance holding company system that has only one insurer within its holding company structure, that only writes business and is only licensed in its domestic state, and assumes no business from any other insurer;

(ii) an insurance holding company system that is required to perform a group capital calculation specified by the United States federal reserve board. The lead state commissioner shall request the calculation from the federal reserve board under the terms of information-sharing agreements in effect. If the federal reserve board cannot share the calculation with the lead state commissioner, the insurance holding company system is not exempt from the group capital calculation filing.

(iii) an insurance holding company system whose non-U.S. groupwide supervisor is located within a reciprocal jurisdiction as described in 33-2-1216 that recognizes the U.S. state regulatory approach to group supervision and group capital;

(iv) an insurance holding company system:

(A) that provides information to the lead state that meets the requirements for accreditation under the NAIC financial standards and accreditation program, either directly or indirectly through the groupwide supervisor, who has determined such information is satisfactory to allow the lead state to comply with the NAIC group supervision approach, as detailed in the NAIC financial analysis handbook; and

(B) whose non-U.S. groupwide supervisor that is not in a reciprocal jurisdiction recognizes and accepts, as specified by the commissioner in regulation, the group capital calculation as the worldwide group capital assessment for U.S. insurance groups who operate in that jurisdiction;

(v) notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (7)(b)(iii) and (7)(b)(iv), a lead state commissioner shall require the group capital calculation for U.S. operations of any non-U.S. based insurance holding company system where, after any necessary consultation with other supervisors or officials, it is deemed appropriate by the lead state commissioner for prudential oversight and solvency monitoring purposes or for ensuring the competitiveness of the insurance marketplace;

(vi) notwithstanding the exemptions from filing the group capital calculation stated in subsections (7)(b)(i) through (7)(b)(iv), the lead state commissioner has the discretion to exempt the ultimate controlling person from filing the annual group capital calculation or to accept a limited group capital filing or report in accordance with criteria as specified by the commissioner in regulation;

(vii) if the lead state commissioner determines that an insurance holding company system no longer meets one or more of the requirements for an exemption from filing the group capital calculation under this section, the insurance holding company system shall file the group capital calculation at the next annual filing date unless given an extension by the lead state commissioner based on reasonable grounds shown;

(c) The ultimate controlling person of every insurer subject to registration and also scoped into the NAIC liquidity stress test framework shall file the results of a specific year's liquidity stress test. The filing must be made to the lead state insurance commissioner of the insurance holding company system as determined by the procedures within the financial analysis handbook adopted by the NAIC:

(i) The NAIC liquidity stress test framework includes scope criteria applicable to a specific data year. These scope criteria are reviewed at least annually by the financial stability task force or its successor. Any change to the NAIC liquidity stress test framework or to the data year for which the scope criteria are to be measured are effective on January 1 of the year following the calendar year when such changes are adopted. Insurers meeting at least one threshold of the scope criteria are considered scoped into the NAIC liquidity stress test framework for the specified data year unless the lead state insurance commissioner, in consultation with the NAIC financial stability task force or its successor, determines the insurer should not be scoped into the framework for that data year. Similarly, insurers that do not trigger at least one threshold of the scope criteria are considered scoped out of the NAIC liquidity stress test framework for the specified data year, unless the lead state insurance commissioner, in consultation with the NAIC financial stability task force or its successor, determines the insurer should be scoped into the framework for that data year.

(ii) Regulators wish to avoid having insurers scoped in and out of the NAIC liquidity stress test framework on a frequent basis. The lead state insurance commissioner, in consultation with the financial stability task force or its successor, will assess this concern as part of the determination for an insurer.

(iii) The performance of, and filing of the results from, a specific year's liquidity stress test must comply with the NAIC liquidity stress test framework's instructions and reporting templates for that year and any lead state insurance commissioner determinations, in conjunction with the financial stability task force or its successor, provided within the framework.

(8) The commissioner shall terminate the registration of any insurer that demonstrates that the insurer no longer is a member of an insurance holding company system.

(9) The commissioner may require or allow two or more affiliated insurers subject to registration under this section to file a consolidated registration statement or consolidated reports amending their consolidated registration statement or their individual registration statements.

(10) The commissioner may allow an insurer that is authorized to do business in this state and that is part of an insurance holding company system to register on behalf of any affiliated insurer which is required to register under subsection (1) and to file all information and material required to be filed under this section.

33-2-1112. Exemptions — disclaimer — violations. (1) The provisions of 33-2-1111 and this section do not apply to any insurer, information, or transaction to the extent that the commissioner by rule or order has exempted that insurer, information, or transaction from the provisions of 33-2-1111 and this section.

(2) (a) Any person may file with the commissioner a disclaimer of affiliation with any authorized insurer, or a disclaimer may be filed by an insurer or any member of an insurance holding company system. The disclaimer must fully disclose all material relationships and bases for affiliation between the person and the insurer that is the object of the disclaimer as well as the basis for disclaiming the affiliation.

(b) The commissioner shall approve or deny a disclaimer within 30 days of filing. If the commissioner denies a disclaimer under this section, the disclaiming party may request a hearing, which must be granted. The disclaiming party is not required to register under this section if the commissioner approves the disclaimer.

(3) The failure to file a registration statement, any summary of the registration statement, an enterprise risk report, or any amendment to the registration statement or enterprise risk report, as required by 33-2-1111 and this section, within the time specified for filing is a violation of 33-2-1111 and this section.

33-2-1113. Transactions with affiliates — standards. (1) Material transactions by registered insurers with their affiliates are subject to the following standards:

(a) The terms must be fair and reasonable.

(b) Charges or fees for services performed must be reasonable.

(c) Expenses incurred and payments received must be allocated to the insurer in conformity with customary insurance accounting practices consistently applied.

(d) The books, accounts, and records of each party must clearly and accurately disclose the precise nature and details of the transactions, including any accounting information necessary to support the reasonableness of the charges or fees to the respective parties.

(e) The insurer's surplus as regards policyholders following any dividends or distributions to shareholder affiliates must be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

(2) (a) The following transactions involving a domestic insurer and a person in its holding company system, including amendments or modifications to affiliate agreements previously filed under this section, may not be entered into unless the insurer has notified the commissioner in writing of its intention to enter into a transaction within at least 30 days prior to the transaction, or a shorter period as the commissioner may permit, and the commissioner does not disapprove the transaction:

(i) sales, purchases, exchanges, loans or extensions of credit, guaranties, or investments if, as of the prior December 31, the transactions are equal to or exceed:

(A) with respect to insurers other than life insurers, the lesser of 3% of the insurer's admitted assets or 25% of its surplus as regards policyholders; and

(B) with respect to life insurers, 3% of the insurer's admitted assets;

(ii) loans or extensions of credit to a person who is not an affiliate if the insurer makes the loans or extensions of credit with the agreement or understanding that the proceeds of the transactions, in whole or in substantial part, are to be used to make loans or extensions of credit to, to purchase assets of, or to make investments in an affiliate of the insurer making the loans or extensions of credit if the transactions, as of the prior December 31, are equal to or exceed:

(A) with respect to insurers other than life insurers, the lesser of 3% of the insurer's admitted assets or 25% of its surplus as regards policyholders;

(B) with respect to life insurers, 3% of the insurer's admitted assets;

(iii) reinsurance agreements or modifications to reinsurance agreements, including:

(A) reinsurance pooling agreements;

(B) agreements in which the reinsurance premium or a change in the insurer's liabilities, or the projected reinsurance premium or a change in the insurer's liabilities in any of the next 3 years, equals or exceeds 5% of the insurer's surplus regarding policyholders as of the prior December 31; and

(C) those agreements that may require as consideration the transfer of assets from an insurer to a nonaffiliate if an agreement or understanding exists between the insurer and nonaffiliate that a portion of the assets will be transferred to one or more affiliates of the insurer;

(iv) all management agreements, service contracts, tax allocation agreements, guarantees, and cost-sharing arrangements;

(v) direct or indirect acquisitions or investments in a person that controls the insurer or in an affiliate of the insurer in an amount that, together with its present holdings in such investments, exceeds 2.5% of the insurer's surplus to policyholders; and

(vi) any material transactions, specified by rule, that the commissioner determines may adversely affect the interests of the insurer's policyholders.

(b) Nothing in this subsection (2) is considered to authorize or permit a transaction that, in the case of an insurer that is not a member of the same holding company system, would otherwise be contrary to law.

(3) A domestic insurer may not enter into a transaction that is part of a plan or series of like transactions with a person within the holding company system if the purpose of those separate transactions is to avoid the statutory threshold amount review. If the commissioner determines that the separate transactions were entered into over a 12-month period for the purpose of evading review, the commissioner may exercise authority under 33-2-1120.

(4) The commissioner, in reviewing a transaction pursuant to subsection (2), shall consider whether the transaction complies with the standards set forth in subsection (1) and whether the transaction may adversely affect the interests of a policyholder.

(5) The commissioner must be notified within 30 days of an investment by a domestic insurer in a corporation if the total investment in the corporation by the insurance holding company system exceeds 10% of the corporation's voting securities.

(6) For purposes of this section, in determining whether an insurer's surplus as regards policyholders is reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to the insurer's financial needs, the following factors, among others, must be considered:

(a) the size of the insurer as measured by its assets, capital and surplus, reserves, premium writings, insurance in force, and other appropriate criteria;

(b) the extent to which the insurer's business is diversified among the several lines of insurance;

(c) the number and size of risks insured in each line of business;

(d) the extent of the geographical dispersion of the insurer's insured risks;

(e) the nature and extent of the insurer's reinsurance program;

(f) the quality, diversification, and liquidity of the insurer's investment portfolio;

(g) the recent past and projected future trend in the size of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders;

(h) the surplus as regards policyholders maintained by other comparable insurers;

(i) the adequacy of the insurer's reserves;

(j) the quality and liquidity of investments in affiliates made pursuant to 33-2-1104 and 33-2-1105. The commissioner may treat any investment as a disallowed asset for purposes of determining the adequacy of surplus as regards policyholders whenever in the commissioner's judgment the investment so warrants.

33-2-1114. Dividends and other distributions — commissioner approval. (1) An insurer subject to registration under 33-2-1111 and 33-2-1112 may not pay any extraordinary dividend or make any other extraordinary distribution to its shareholders until 30 days after the commissioner has received notice of the declaration of the dividend or distribution and has not within the period disapproved the payment or the commissioner has approved payment within the 30-day period.

(2) For purposes of this section, an extraordinary dividend or distribution includes any dividend or distribution of cash or other property whose fair market value together with that of other dividends or distributions made within the preceding 12 months exceeds 10% of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders as of December 31 next preceding, but may not include pro rata distributions of any class of the insurer's own securities.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an insurer may declare an extraordinary dividend or distribution which is conditional upon the commissioner's approval, and the declaration may not confer rights upon shareholders until the commissioner has approved the payment of the dividend or distribution or the commissioner has not disapproved the payment within the 30-day period referred to in subsection (1).

(4) An insurer subject to subsection (1) may not pay any other dividend or make any other distribution to its shareholders unless the insurer has notified the commissioner of the payment 15 days prior to the payment date. The notice must be kept confidential until the payment date of the dividend. The commissioner may order that a dividend not be paid if the commissioner finds that the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, following the payment to shareholders, would be inadequate or could lead the insurer to a hazardous financial condition.

33-2-1115. Examination. (1) (a) In addition to the powers under Title 33, chapter 1, part 4, relating to the examination of insurers, the commissioner also has the power to order any insurer registered under 33-2-1111 to produce the records, books, or other information papers in the possession of the insurer or its affiliates that the commissioner determines are necessary to ascertain the financial condition or legality of conduct of the insurer.

(b) The information that the commissioner may request under subsection (1)(a) includes information necessary to ascertain the enterprise risk to the insurer by the ultimate controlling party or by any entity or combination of entities within the insurance holding company system or by the insurance holding company system on a consolidated basis.

(c) If the insurer fails to comply with the order, the commissioner may examine the affiliates to obtain the information.

(2) The commissioner may retain at the registered insurer's expense attorneys, actuaries, accountants, and other experts not otherwise a part of the commissioner's staff that may be reasonably necessary to assist in the conduct of the examination under subsection (1). Any persons retained are under the direction and control of the commissioner and are retained to act in a purely advisory capacity.

(3) Each registered insurer producing for examination records, books, and papers pursuant to subsection (1) is liable for and shall pay the expense of the examination.

(4) In the event the insurer fails to comply with an order, the commissioner may examine the affiliates to obtain the information.

(5) Nothing in this section limits the authority of the commissioner under 33-1-315 through 33-1-318 to issue subpoenas, administer oaths, examine under oath any person, compel testimony, issue penalties, or seek injunctions or other remedies to determine and ensure compliance with this section.

33-2-1116. Confidentiality of information. (1) (a) Documents, materials, and other information in the possession or control of the commissioner that are obtained by or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person in the course of an examination or investigation made pursuant to 33-2-1115 and all other information provided to the department of insurance pursuant to 33-2-1104(3)(l), 33-2-1104(3)(m), 33-2-1111, and 33-2-1113 are confidential information as provided in 2-6-1002 and Title 2, chapter 6, part 10, are recognized by this state as being proprietary and contain trade secrets, and are confidential by law and privileged, are not subject to subpoena or discovery, and are not admissible in evidence in any private civil action. The commissioner is authorized to use the documents, materials, and other information to further any regulatory or legal action brought as a part of the commissioner's official duties. The commissioner may not otherwise make the documents, materials, or other information public without the prior written consent of the insurer to which the documents, materials, or other information pertains unless the commissioner, after giving notice and an opportunity to be heard to the insurer and the insurer's affiliates who would be affected, determines that the interest of policyholders, shareholders, or the public would be served by the publication. On a determination that the interest of policyholders, shareholders, or the public would be served, the commissioner may publish all or any part of the documents, materials, or other information in a manner that the commissioner considers appropriate.

(b) For purposes of the information reported and provided to the department of insurance pursuant to 33-2-1111(7)(b), the commissioner shall maintain the confidentiality of the group capital calculation and group capital ratio produced within the calculation and any group capital information received from an insurance holding company supervised by the federal reserve board or any U.S. groupwide supervisor.

(c) For purposes of the information reported and provided to the department pursuant to 33-2-1111(7)(c), the commissioner shall maintain the confidentiality of the liquidity stress test results and supporting disclosures and any liquidity stress test information received from an insurance holding company supervised by the federal reserve board and non-U.S. groupwide supervisors.

(2) Neither the commissioner nor any person who receives documents, materials, or other information while acting under the authority of the commissioner, or with whom the documents, materials, or other information is shared under Title 33, chapter 2, part 4, and this section, may be required or permitted to testify in a private civil action concerning any confidential documents, materials, or information subject to subsection (1).

(3) To assist in the performance of the commissioner's duties, the commissioner:

(a) may, subject to subsection (3)(b), share documents, materials, or other information, including the confidential and privileged documents, materials, or information subject to subsection (1), including proprietary and trade secret documents and materials, with other state, federal, and international regulatory agencies, with the NAIC, with any third-party consultants designated by the commissioner, and with state, federal, and international law enforcement authorities, including members of a supervisory college. To receive the shared documents, materials, or other information, the recipient shall verify in writing that the recipient has the legal authority to maintain confidentiality and agree in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the documents, materials, or other information.

(b) may share confidential and privileged documents, materials, or other information reported pursuant to 33-2-1111(7) only with insurance regulators of states having statutes or regulations substantially similar to subsection (1) and only if the respective insurance regulators have agreed in writing not to disclose the documents, materials, or other information;

(c) may receive documents, materials, or other information, including otherwise confidential and privileged documents, materials, or other information, including proprietary and trade secret information, from the NAIC and its affiliates and subsidiaries and from regulatory and law enforcement officials of other foreign or domestic jurisdictions; and

(d) shall maintain as confidential or privileged any document, materials, or other information received under subsection (3)(c) with notice or the understanding that the document, materials, or other information is confidential or privileged under the laws of the jurisdiction that is the source of the document, materials, or information.

(4) (a) The commissioner shall enter into written agreements with the NAIC and any third-party consultant designated by the commissioner governing the sharing and use of information provided pursuant to Title 33, chapter 2, part 4, and this section.

(b) An agreement with the NAIC under this subsection (4) must:

(i) specify procedures and protocols regarding the confidentiality and security of information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner pursuant to Title 33, chapter 2, part 4, and this section, including procedures and protocols for sharing by the NAIC with other state, federal, or international regulators. The agreement must provide that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the documents, materials, or other information and has verified in writing the legal authority to maintain confidentiality;

(ii) specify that ownership information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to Title 33, chapter 2, part 4, and this section remains with the commissioner and that the NAIC's or a third-party consultant's, as designated by the commissioner, use of the information is subject to the direction of the commissioner;

(iii) excluding documents, material, or information reported pursuant to 33-2-1111, prohibit the NAIC or third-party consultant designated by the commissioner from storing the information shared pursuant to this chapter in a permanent database after the underlying analysis is completed;

(iv) require prompt notice to be given to an insurer whose confidential information in the possession of the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner pursuant to Title 33, chapter 2, part 4, and this section is subject to a request or a subpoena to the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner for disclosure or production;

(v) require the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner to consent to intervention by an insurer in any judicial or administrative action in which the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner may be required to disclose confidential information about the insurer that has been shared with the NAIC and its affiliates and subsidiaries pursuant to Title 33, chapter 2, part 4, and this section; and

(vi) for documents, material, or information reporting pursuant to 33-2-1111(7)(c) in the case of an agreement involving a third-party consultant, provide for notification of the identity of the consultant to the applicable insurers.

(5) The sharing of information by the commissioner pursuant to Title 33, chapter 2, part 4, and this section does not constitute a delegation of regulatory authority or rulemaking. The commissioner is solely responsible for the administration, execution, and enforcement of the provisions of Title 33, chapter 2, part 4, and this section.

(6) Disclosure to the commissioner of information under this section or as a result of sharing of confidential information authorized under subsections (3) and (4) does not constitute a waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality related to the information obtained under Title 33, chapter 2, part 4, and this section.

(7) Documents, materials, and other information in the possession or control of the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner pursuant to Title 33, chapter 2, part 4, and this section are confidential information as provided in 2-6-1002 and privileged, are not admissible in evidence in a private civil action, and are not subject to subpoena or discovery.

(8) The group capital calculation and resulting group capital ratio required under 33-2-1111 and the liquidity stress test along with its results and supporting disclosures required under 33-2-1111 are regulatory tools for assessing group risks and capital adequacy and group liquidity risks, respectively, and are not intended as a means to rank insurers or insurance holding company systems generally. Therefore, except as otherwise may be required under the provisions of this title, the making, publishing, disseminating, circulating, or placing before the public, or causing directly or indirectly to be made, published, disseminated, circulated, or placed before the public in a newspaper, magazine, or other publication, or in the form of a notice, circular, pamphlet, letter, or poster, or over any radio or television station or any electronic means of communication available to the public, or in any other way as an advertisement, announcement, or statement containing a representation or statement with regard to the group capital calculation, group capital ratio, the liquidity stress test results, or supporting disclosures for the liquidity stress test of any insurer or any insurer group, or of any component derived in the calculation by any insurer, broker, or other person engaged in any manner in the insurance business would be misleading and is therefore prohibited. However, if any materially false statement with respect to the group capital calculation, resulting group capital ratio, an inappropriate comparison of any amount to an insurer's or insurance group's group capital calculation or resulting group capital ratio, liquidity stress test result, supporting disclosures for the liquidity stress test, or an inappropriate comparison of any amount to an insurer's or insurance group's liquidity stress test result or supporting disclosures is published in any written publication and the insurer is able to demonstrate to the commissioner with substantial proof the falsity of such statement or the inappropriateness, as the case may be, then the insurer may publish announcements in a written publication if the sole purpose of the announcement is to rebut the materially false statement.

33-2-1119. Voting of securities — prohibition — injunction — sequestration. (1) No security which is the subject of any agreement or arrangement regarding acquisition or which is acquired or to be acquired in contravention of the provisions of this part or of any rule or order issued by the commissioner hereunder may be voted at any shareholders' meeting or may be counted for quorum purposes, and any action of shareholders requiring the affirmative vote of a percentage of shares may be taken as though such securities were not issued and outstanding; but no action taken at any such meeting shall be invalidated by the voting of such securities unless the action would materially affect control of the insurer or unless the courts of this state have so ordered.

(2) If an insurer or the commissioner has reason to believe that any security of the insurer has been or is about to be acquired in contravention of the provisions of this part or of any rule or order issued by the commissioner hereunder, the insurer or the commissioner may apply to the district court for Lewis and Clark County or to the district court for the county in which the insurer has its principal place of business to enjoin any offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition made in contravention of 33-2-1113 or any rule or order issued by the commissioner thereunder to enjoin the voting of any security so acquired, to void any vote of such security already cast at any meeting of shareholders, and for such other equitable relief as the nature of the case and the interests of the insurer's policyholders, creditors, and shareholders or the public may require.

(3) In any case where a person has acquired or is proposing to acquire any voting securities in violation of this part or any rule or order issued by the commissioner hereunder, the district court for Lewis and Clark County or the district court for the county in which the insurer has its principal place of business may, on such notice as the court deems appropriate, upon the application of the insurer or the commissioner seize or sequester any voting securities of the insurer owned directly or indirectly by such person and issue such orders with respect thereto as may be appropriate to effectuate the provisions of this part. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, for the purposes of this part the situs of the ownership of the securities of domestic insurers shall be deemed to be in this state.

33-2-1120. Registration, transaction, and reporting requirements — administrative or civil penalties. (1) An insurer failing without just cause to file a registration statement as required in 33-2-1111 shall, after notice and hearing, pay a penalty of $100 for each day of delinquency. The maximum penalty under this subsection is $25,000. The commissioner may reduce the penalty if the insurer demonstrates to the commissioner that the imposition of the penalty would constitute a financial hardship to the insurer.

(2) A director or an officer of an insurance holding company system who knowingly violates, participates in, or assents to a transaction or who knowingly permits an officer or insurance producer of the insurer to engage in a transaction or make an investment that has not been properly reported or submitted pursuant to 33-2-1111 or 33-2-1113 or that violates any other provision of Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, shall, after notice and hearing, pay, in the director's or officer's individual capacity, a fine of not more than $5,000 for each violation. To determine the amount of the fine, the commissioner shall consider the appropriateness of the fine with respect to the gravity of the violation, the history of previous violations, and other matters that justice may require.

(3) If the commissioner determines that an insurer subject to Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, or a director, officer, employee, or insurance producer of the insurer has engaged in a transaction or entered into a contract that is subject to 33-2-1113 and that would not have been approved had approval been requested, the commissioner may order the insurer to cease and desist immediately any further activity under that transaction or contract. After notice and hearing, the commissioner may also order the insurer to void the contract and restore the status quo if that action is in the best interest of policyholders, creditors, or the public.

(4) Withholding of information required under 33-2-1104, if lack of that information prevents a full understanding of the enterprise risk to the insurer by affiliates or by the insurance holding company system, is a violation of 33-2-1104 and may serve as an independent basis for:

(a) disapproving dividends or distributions; or

(b) placing the insurer under supervision as provided in 33-2-1321.

(5) Any insurer that willfully violates this part may be fined not more than $25,000.

(1) Any person aggrieved by any act, determination, rule, or order or any other action of the commissioner pursuant to this part may appeal therefrom to the district court for Lewis and Clark County. The court shall conduct its review without a jury and by trial de novo, except that if all parties, including the commissioner, so stipulate, the review shall be confined to the record. Portions of the record may be introduced by stipulation into evidence in a trial de novo as to those parties so stipulating.

(2) The filing of an appeal pursuant to this section shall stay the application of any such rule, order, or other action of the commissioner to the appealing party unless the court, after giving such party notice and an opportunity to be heard, determines that such a stay would be detrimental to the interests of policyholders, shareholders, creditors, or the public.

(3) Any person aggrieved by any failure of the commissioner to act or make a determination required by this part may petition the district court for Lewis and Clark County for a writ in the nature of a mandamus or a peremptory mandamus directing the commissioner to act or make such determination forthwith.

33-2-1125. Recovery of dividends. (1) If an order for liquidation or rehabilitation of an insurer domiciled in this state has been entered, the receiver appointed under the order has a right to recover on behalf of the insurer:

(a) from any parent corporation or holding company or person or affiliate who otherwise controlled the insurer, the amount of distributions, other than distributions of shares of the same class of stock, paid by the insurer on its capital stock; or

(b) any payment in the form of a bonus, termination settlement, or extraordinary lump-sum salary adjustment made by the insurer or its subsidiary to a director, officer, or employee, when the distribution or payment pursuant to subsection (1)(a) or this subsection is made at any time during the year preceding the petition for liquidation, conservation, or rehabilitation, as the case may be, subject to the limitations of subsections (2) through (4).

(2) A distribution is not recoverable if the parent or affiliate shows that when paid the distribution was lawful and reasonable and that the insurer did not know and could not reasonably have known that the distribution might adversely affect the ability of the insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations.

(3) Any person who was a parent corporation or holding company or a person who otherwise controlled the insurer or affiliate at the time that the distributions were paid is liable up to the amount of distributions or payments that the person received. Any person who otherwise controlled the insurer at the time that the distributions were declared is liable up to the amount of distributions the person would have received if the person had been paid immediately. If two or more persons are liable with respect to the same distributions, they are jointly and severally liable.

(4) The maximum amount recoverable under this section is the amount needed in excess of all other available assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer to pay the contractual obligations of the impaired or insolvent insurer and to reimburse any guaranty funds.

(5) To the extent that any person liable under subsection (3) is insolvent or otherwise fails to pay claims due from it, its parent corporation or holding company or person who otherwise controlled it at the time the distribution was paid is jointly and severally liable for any resulting deficiency in the amount recovered from the parent corporation or holding company or person who otherwise controlled it.

33-2-1130. Short title. Sections 33-2-1130 through 33-2-1138 may be cited as the "Own Risk and Solvency Assessment Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 370, L. 2015.

33-2-1131. Purpose. The purpose of sections 33-2-1130 through 33-2-1138 is to provide:

(1) requirements for maintaining a risk management framework and completing an own risk and solvency assessment; and

(2) guidance and instructions for filing an ORSA summary report with the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 370, L. 2015.

33-2-1132. Definitions. For the purposes of 33-2-1130 through 33-2-1138, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Insurance group" means those insurers and affiliates included within an insurance holding company system as defined in 33-2-1101.

(2) "NAIC" means the national association of insurance commissioners.

(3) "ORSA guidance manual" means the current version of the own risk and solvency assessment guidance manual developed and adopted by the NAIC as of April 30, 2015, or as subsequently adopted by rule by the commissioner. A change to the ORSA guidance manual is effective on January 1 following the calendar year in which the commissioner adopts the changed manual by rule.

(4) "ORSA summary report" means a confidential, high-level summary of an insurer's or insurance group's ORSA.

(5) "Own risk and solvency assessment" or "ORSA" means a confidential, internal assessment, appropriate to the nature, scale, and complexity of an insurer or insurance group, conducted by an insurer or insurance group, of the material and relevant risks associated with the insurer or the insurance group's current business plan and of the sufficiency of the insurer's or insurance group's capital resources to support those risks.

(6) "Risk management framework" means a study of the elements used to assist an insurer or insurance group to identify, assess, monitor, manage, and report on material and relevant risk of the insurer or the insurance group.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 370, L. 2015.

33-2-1133. Risk management framework required. All Montana insurers and insurance groups shall maintain a risk management framework. This requirement is satisfied if the insurance group of which the insurer is a member maintains a risk management framework applicable to the operations of the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 370, L. 2015.

33-2-1134. Own risk and solvency assessment required. Subject to the exemptions in 33-2-1136, an insurer or an insurance group of which the insurer is a member shall conduct an own risk and solvency assessment consistent with a process comparable to the ORSA guidance manual. The own risk and solvency assessment must be conducted no less than annually and at any time when there are significant changes to the risk profile of the insurer or the insurance group of which the insurer is a member.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 370, L. 2015.

33-2-1135. ORSA summary report. (1) No more than once a year, the commissioner may request and an insurer or its insurance group shall provide to the commissioner, as provided in subsection (2), an ORSA summary report or any combination of reports that together contain the information described in the ORSA guidance manual as applicable to the insurer and the insurance group of which the insurer is a member.

(2) (a) If the insurer is a member of an insurance group, the insurer shall submit any report required under this section to the commissioner when the commissioner is the lead state regulator for that insurance group.

(b) If the insurer is not a member of an insurance group, the insurer shall submit any report required under this section to the commissioner.

(c) An insurer that is a member of an insurance group may voluntarily submit the report to a requesting insurance regulator who is not the lead state regulator for the insurer's insurance group.

(3) (a) The report must be prepared consistent with the ORSA guidance manual and subsection (3)(b). Documentation and supporting information must be maintained and made available for an examination on request of the commissioner.

(b) The review of the ORSA summary report and any additional requests for information must be made using similar procedures currently used in the analysis and examination of multistate or global insurers and insurance groups.

(4) (a) The report must include the signature of the chief risk officer of the insurer or insurance group or of another executive charged with overseeing the enterprise risk management process for the insurer or the insurance group.

(b) The signature of the chief risk officer or other executive charged with overseeing the enterprise risk management is an attestation that to the best of the officer's or executive's knowledge the insurer or insurance group applies the enterprise risk management process described in the ORSA summary report and that a copy of the report has been provided to the board of directors of the insurer or the insurance group or to the appropriate committee of the board of directors.

(5) An insurer may comply with this section by providing the most recent and substantially similar report provided by the insurer or another member of an insurance group of which the insurer is a member to the insurance regulator of another state or to a supervisor or regulator of a foreign jurisdiction, if that report provides information that is comparable to the information described in the ORSA guidance manual. A report in a language other than English must be accompanied by a translation of the report into English.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 370, L. 2015.

33-2-1136. ORSA exemptions — conditions — waiver — override. (1) Except as provided in subsection (5), an insurer is exempt from the requirements of 33-2-1130 through 33-2-1138 if:

(a) (i) the insurer has an annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium of less than $500 million. This total includes international direct and assumed premiums. The total excludes premiums reinsured through the federal crop insurance corporation and the federal flood program.

(ii) the insurer's insurance group has annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premiums of less than $1 billion. This total includes international direct and assumed premiums. The total excludes premiums reinsured through the federal crop insurance corporation and the federal flood program.

(b) the insurer provides the most recent and similar report provided by the insurer or another group member of an insurance group of which the insurer is a member to the insurance regulator of another state or to an insurance supervisor or insurance regulator of a foreign jurisdiction.

(2) If an insurer qualifies for exemption pursuant to subsection (1)(a)(i) but the insurance group of which the insurer is a member does not qualify for exemption pursuant to subsection (1)(a)(ii), the ORSA summary report must include every insurer within the insurance group. This requirement may be satisfied by the submission of more than one ORSA summary report for any combination of insurers as long as each combination of reports includes every insurer within the insurance group.

(3) If an insurer does not qualify for exemption pursuant to (1)(a)(i) but the insurance group of which the insurer is a member qualifies for exemption pursuant to subsection (1)(a)(ii), the only required ORSA summary report is the report applicable to that insurer.

(4) (a) An insurer that does not qualify for exemption under this section may apply to the commissioner for a waiver from the requirements of 33-2-1130 through 33-2-1138 based on unique circumstances.

(b) In deciding whether to grant an insurer's request for a waiver, the commissioner may consider the type and volume of business written, ownership, organizational structure, and any other factor the commissioner considers relevant to the insurer or to the insurance group of which the insurer is a member.

(c) If the insurer is part of an insurance group with insurers domiciled in more than one state, the commissioner may coordinate with the lead state regulator and with the other domiciliary insurance regulators in considering whether to grant the insurer's request for a waiver.

(5) (a) The commissioner may override the exemptions provided under this section:

(i) based on unique circumstances, which may include the type and volume of business written, ownership, organizational structure, federal agency requests, or international supervisor requests;

(ii) if the insurer has risk-based capital that meets a company action level event as provided in 33-2-1904;

(iii) if the insurer is in hazardous financial condition as described in 33-2-1321; or

(iv) if the insurer exhibits the qualities of a troubled insurer as determined by the commissioner.

(b) If the commissioner determines that an override of the exemptions as provided in subsection (5)(a) is necessary, the commissioner may require an insurer to maintain a risk management framework, conduct an own risk and solvency assessment, and file an ORSA summary report.

(6) If an insurer qualifies for an exemption pursuant to subsection (1) but subsequently no longer qualifies for that exemption because of changes in premium as reflected in the insurer's most recent annual statement or in the most recent annual statements of the insurers within the insurance group of which the insurer is a member, the insurer has 1 year following the year in which the threshold was exceeded to comply with the requirements of 33-2-1130 through 33-2-1138.

33-2-1137. Confidentiality. (1) Information provided or developed under 33-2-1130 through 33-2-1138 for an own risk and solvency assessment or ORSA summary report and in the possession of or control of the commissioner or any other person under 33-2-1130 through 33-2-1138 is recognized as proprietary and containing trade secrets. The information is confidential information as provided in 2-6-1002 and privileged, is not admissible in evidence in any civil action, and is not subject to subpoena, discovery, or the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552.

(2) The commissioner may use information in an ORSA summary report in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as a part of the commissioner's official duties.

(3) The commissioner and any person who receives ORSA-related information while operating under the authority of the commissioner or with whom information is shared pursuant to an own risk and solvency assessment may not testify in any private civil action concerning the ORSA-developed information.

(4) To assist in the commissioner's regulatory duties, the commissioner:

(a) may, on request, share ORSA-related information, including proprietary and trade secret documents and materials, with other state, federal, and international financial regulatory agencies, including with members of any supervisory college, the NAIC, or third-party consultants designated by the commissioner. A person with whom the ORSA-related information is shared shall agree in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the ORSA-related information and shall verify in writing that the recipient has legal authority to maintain confidentiality.

(b) may receive ORSA-related information, including otherwise confidential and privileged documents, materials, or other information that may include proprietary and trade secret information or documents, from regulatory officials of other foreign or domestic jurisdictions, supervisory college members, and the NAIC. Received information is confidential as provided in this section.

(c) shall enter into a written agreement with the NAIC or a third-party consultant governing sharing and use of the information provided pursuant to an ORSA, consistent with this subsection (4).

(5) The written agreement required under subsection (4)(c) must:

(a) specify procedures and protocols regarding the confidentiality of the information, including procedures and protocols for sharing by the NAIC with other state regulators from states in which the insurance group has domiciled insurers;

(b) provide that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the information and that the recipient has verified the legal authority to maintain confidentiality;

(c) specify that ownership of shared information remains with the commissioner. Use of the information by the NAIC or a third-party consultant is subject to the direction of the commissioner.

(d) prohibit the recipient from storing the shared information in a permanent database after any underlying analysis is completed;

(e) require prompt notice to be given to an insurer whose information in the possession of the recipient is subject to a request or subpoena to the recipient for disclosure or production;

(f) require the recipient to consent to intervention by an insurer in any judicial or administrative action in which the recipient may be required to disclose confidential information about the insurer that is received under an ORSA; and

(g) require the insurer's consent when entering into an agreement with a third-party consultant.

(6) The sharing of information pursuant to 33-2-1130 through 33-2-1138 does not constitute a delegation of regulatory authority or rulemaking, and the commissioner remains solely responsible for the administration, execution, and enforcement of the provisions of 33-2-1130 through 33-2-1138.

(7) Disclosure of information under this section to or from the commissioner does not constitute a waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality related to the information obtained under 33-2-1130 through 33-2-1138.

(8) Information in the possession of or control of the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to 33-2-1130 through 33-2-1138 is confidential information as provided in 2-6-1002 and privileged, is not admissible in evidence in any private civil action, and is not subject to subpoena or discovery.

(9) For the purposes of this section, "information" means documents, materials, or other ORSA-related information, including the ORSA summary report, that is in the possession of or control of the commissioner or any other person under 33-2-1130 through 33-2-1138.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 370, L. 2015; amd. Secs. 67, 68, Ch. 348, L. 2015.

33-2-1138. Penalty. (1) Any insurer failing to timely file the ORSA summary report shall be fined no more than $500 for each day's delay, up to a maximum penalty of $25,000.

(2) The commissioner shall collect the fine and deposit the money in the state general fund.

33-2-1139 reserved.

33-2-1140. Groupwide supervision of internationally active insurance groups. (1) (a) The commissioner is authorized to act as the groupwide supervisor for any internationally active insurance group in accordance with the provisions of this section. However, the commissioner may otherwise acknowledge another regulatory official as the groupwide supervisor where the internationally active insurance group:

(i) does not have substantial insurance operations in the United States;

(ii) has substantial insurance operations in the United States, but not in this state; or

(iii) has substantial insurance operations in the United States and this state, but the commissioner has determined pursuant to the factors set forth in subsections (2) and (6) that the other regulatory official is the appropriate groupwide supervisor.

(b) An insurance holding company system that does not otherwise qualify as an internationally active insurance group may request that the commissioner make a determination or acknowledgment as to a groupwide supervisor pursuant to this section.

(2) (a) In cooperation with other state, federal, and international regulatory agencies, the commissioner will identify a single groupwide supervisor for an internationally active insurance group. The commissioner may determine that the commissioner is the appropriate groupwide supervisor for an internationally active insurance group that conducts substantial insurance operations concentrated in this state. However, the commissioner may acknowledge that a regulatory official from another jurisdiction is the appropriate groupwide supervisor for the internationally active insurance group. The commissioner shall consider the following factors when making a determination or acknowledgment under this subsection (2):

(i) the place of domicile of the insurers within the internationally active insurance group that hold the largest share of the group's written premiums, assets, or liabilities;

(ii) the place of domicile of the top-tiered insurers in the insurance holding company system of the internationally active insurance group;

(iii) the location of the executive offices or largest operational offices of the internationally active insurance group;

(iv) whether another regulatory official is acting or is seeking to act as the groupwide supervisor under a regulatory system that the commissioner determines to be substantially similar to the system of regulation provided under the laws of this state, or otherwise sufficient in terms of providing for groupwide supervision, enterprise risk analysis, and cooperation with other regulatory officials; and

(v) whether another regulatory official acting or seeking to act as the groupwide supervisor provides the commissioner with reasonably reciprocal recognition and cooperation.

(b) However, a commissioner identified under this section as the groupwide supervisor may determine that it is appropriate to acknowledge another supervisor to serve as the groupwide supervisor. The acknowledgment of the groupwide supervisor shall be made after consideration of the factors listed in subsections (2)(a)(i) through (2)(a)(v) and shall be made in cooperation with and subject to the acknowledgment of other regulatory officials involved with supervision of members of the internationally active insurance group and in consultation with the internationally active insurance group.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, when another regulatory official is acting as the groupwide supervisor of an internationally active insurance group, the commissioner shall acknowledge that regulatory official as the groupwide supervisor. However, in the event of a material change in the internationally active insurance group that results in the internationally active insurance group's insurers domiciled in this state holding the largest share of the group's premiums, assets or liabilities or this state being the place of domicile of the top-tiered insurers in the insurance holding company system of the internationally active insurance group, the commissioner shall make a determination or acknowledgment as to the appropriate groupwide supervisor for such an internationally active insurance group pursuant to subsection (2).

(4) Pursuant to 33-2-1115, the commissioner is authorized to collect from any insurer registered pursuant to 33-2-1111 all information necessary to determine whether the commissioner may act as the groupwide supervisor of an internationally active insurance group or if the commissioner may acknowledge another regulatory official to act as the groupwide supervisor. Prior to issuing a determination that an internationally active insurance group is subject to groupwide supervision by the commissioner, the commissioner shall notify the insurer registered pursuant to this section and the ultimate controlling person within the internationally active insurance group. The internationally active insurance group has not less than 30 days to provide the commissioner with additional information pertinent to the pending determination. The commissioner shall publish in the Montana administrative register and on its internet website the identity of internationally active insurance groups that the commissioner has determined are subject to groupwide supervision by the commissioner.

(5) If the commissioner is the groupwide supervisor for an internationally active insurance group, the commissioner is authorized to engage in any of the following groupwide supervision activities:

(a) assess the enterprise risks within the internationally active insurance group to ensure that:

(i) the material financial condition and liquidity risks to the members of the internationally active insurance group that are engaged in the business of insurance are identified by management; and

(ii) reasonable and effective mitigation measures are in place;

(b) request, from any member of an internationally active insurance group subject to the commissioner's supervision, information necessary and appropriate to assess enterprise risk, including but not limited to information about the members of the internationally active insurance group regarding:

(i) governance, risk assessment, and management;

(ii) capital adequacy; and

(iii) material intercompany transactions;

(c) coordinate and, through the authority of the regulatory officials of the jurisdictions where members of the internationally active insurance group are domiciled, compel development and implementation of reasonable measures designed to ensure that the internationally active insurance group is able to timely recognize and mitigate enterprise risks to members of such internationally active insurance group that are engaged in the business of insurance;

(d) communicate with other state, federal, and international regulatory agencies for members within the internationally active insurance group and share relevant information, subject to the confidentiality provisions of 33-2-1116, through supervisory colleges as provided for in Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, or otherwise;

(e) enter into agreements with or obtain documentation from any insurer registered under 33-2-1111, any member of the internationally active insurance group, and any other state, federal and international regulatory agencies for members of the internationally active insurance group, providing the basis for or otherwise clarifying the commissioner's role as groupwide supervisor, including provisions for resolving disputes with other regulatory officials. Such agreements or documentation may not serve as evidence in any proceeding that any insurer or person within an insurance holding company system not domiciled or incorporated in this state is doing business in this state or is otherwise subject to jurisdiction in this state; and

(f) other groupwide supervision activities, consistent with the authorities and purposes enumerated above, as considered necessary by the commissioner.

(6) If the commissioner acknowledges that another regulatory official from a jurisdiction that is not accredited by the NAIC is the groupwide supervisor, the commissioner is authorized to reasonably cooperate, through supervisory colleges or otherwise, with groupwide supervision undertaken by the groupwide supervisor, provided that:

(a) the commissioner's cooperation is in compliance with the laws of this state; and

(b) the regulatory official acknowledged as the groupwide supervisor also recognizes and cooperates with the commissioner's activities as a groupwide supervisor for other internationally active insurance groups where applicable. When such recognition and cooperation is not reasonably reciprocal, the commissioner is authorized to refuse recognition and cooperation.

(7) The commissioner is authorized to enter into agreements with or obtain documentation from any insurer registered under 33-2-1111, any affiliate of the insurer, and other state, federal, and international regulatory agencies for members of the internationally active insurance group that provide the basis for or otherwise clarify a regulatory official's role as groupwide supervisor.

(8) The commissioner may promulgate rules necessary for the administration of this section.

(9) A registered insurer subject to this section is liable for and shall pay the reasonable expenses of the commissioner's participation in the administration of this section, including the engagement of attorneys, actuaries, and any other professionals and all reasonable travel expenses.

Part 12
Limit of Risk — Reinsurance

33-2-1201. Limit of risk. (1) An insurer may not retain any risk on any one subject of insurance, whether located or to be performed in this state or elsewhere, in an amount exceeding 10% of its surplus to policyholders.

(2) A "subject of insurance" for the purposes of this section, as to insurance against fire and hazards other than windstorm, earthquake, or other catastrophe hazards, includes all properties insured by the same insurer which are customarily considered by underwriters to be subject to loss or damage from the same fire or the same occurrence of the other hazard insured against.

(3) Reinsurance ceded as authorized by this part must be deducted in determining risk retained. As to surety risks, deduction must also be made of the amount assumed by any established incorporated cosurety and the value of any security deposited, pledged, or held subject to the surety's consent and for the surety's protection.

(4) As to alien insurers, this section only relates to risks and surplus to policyholders of the insurer's United States branch.

(5) "Surplus to policyholders" for the purposes of this section, in addition to the insurer's capital and surplus, is considered to include any voluntary reserves which are not required pursuant to law and are determined from the last sworn statement of the insurer on file with the commissioner or by the last report of examination of the insurer, whichever is the more recent at time of assumption of risk.

(6) This section does not apply to life or disability insurance, title insurance, insurance of wet marine and transportation risks, workers' compensation insurance, employer's liability coverages, or any policy or type of coverage as to which the maximum possible loss to the insurer is not readily ascertainable on issuance of the policy.

33-2-1206. Bulk reinsurance — foreign or alien insurers. (1) A foreign or alien insurer may reinsure all or substantially all of its insurance in force in Montana or a major class of insurance with an agreement of bulk reinsurance, but the agreement may not become effective unless filed with the commissioner and approved by the commissioner in writing. The commissioner may hold a hearing before approving or disapproving an agreement of bulk reinsurance. Factors to be considered on bulk reinsurance agreements include but are not limited to:

(a) whether the agreement would be inequitable to Montana policyholders;

(b) whether the agreement would substantially reduce security of Montana policyholders; and

(c) whether the agreement would substantially reduce the service to be rendered to Montana policyholders.

(2) The commissioner shall approve or disapprove the agreement within a reasonable time after filing the proposed agreement or, when applicable, after a hearing.

(3) The commissioner may require a foreign or alien insurer to establish a trust account in this state, not to exceed the aggregate reserves of the policies contained in the bulk reinsurance agreement, prior to granting approval.

33-2-1208 through 33-2-1210 reserved.

33-2-1211. Bulk reinsurance — stock insurers. (1) A domestic stock insurer may reinsure all or substantially all of its insurance in force or a major class of insurance with another insurer by an agreement of bulk reinsurance, but the agreement may not become effective unless filed with the commissioner and approved by the commissioner in writing after a hearing on the agreement.

(2) The commissioner shall approve an agreement within a reasonable time after filing unless the commissioner finds that it is inequitable to the stockholders of the domestic insurer or would substantially reduce the protection or service to its policyholders. If the commissioner does not approve the agreement, the commissioner shall notify the insurer in writing specifying the reasons for disapproval.

History: En. Sec. 464, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4747; amd. Sec. 1096, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-1212. Bulk reinsurance — mutual insurers. (1) A domestic mutual insurer may reinsure all or substantially all its business in force, or all or substantially all of a major class of its business, with another insurer, stock or mutual, by an agreement of bulk reinsurance after compliance with this section. An agreement may not become effective unless filed with the commissioner and approved by the commissioner in writing after a hearing on the agreement.

(2) The commissioner shall approve an agreement within a reasonable time after filing if the commissioner finds it to be fair and equitable to each domestic insurer involved and that the reinsurance if effectuated would not substantially reduce the protection or service to its policyholders. If the commissioner does not approve the agreement, the commissioner shall notify each insurer involved in writing specifying the reasons for disapproval.

(3) The plan and agreement for reinsurance must be approved by vote of not less than two-thirds of each domestic mutual insurer's members voting on the plan and agreement at meetings of members called for the purpose, pursuant to reasonable notice and procedure that the commissioner may approve. If the insurer is a life insurer, the right to vote may be limited to members whose policies are other than term or group policies and have been in effect for more than 1 year.

(4) If the agreement is for reinsurance of a mutual insurer in a stock insurer, the agreement must provide for payment in cash to each member of the insurer entitled to a payment upon conversion of the insurer, pursuant to 33-3-216, of the member's equity in the business reinsured as determined under a fair formula approved by the commissioner. The equity must be based upon the member's equity in the reserves, assets, whether or not "admitted" assets, and surplus, if any, of the mutual insurer to be taken over by the stock insurer.

33-2-1216. Credit allowed domestic ceding insurer — rulemaking. (1) Credit for reinsurance is allowed to a domestic ceding insurer as either an asset or a reduction from liability on account of reinsurance ceded only when the reinsurer meets the requirements of subsection (2), (3), (4), (5), (6), (7), or (8). Credit must be allowed under subsection (2), (3), or (4) only in respect to cessions of those kinds or classes of business that the assuming insurer is licensed or otherwise permitted to write or assume in its state of domicile or, in the case of a United States branch of an alien assuming insurer, in the state through which the branch of the alien assuming insurer entered and is licensed to transact insurance or reinsurance. If the requirements of subsection (4) or (5) are met, the requirements of subsection (9) must also be met.

(2) Credit must be allowed when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer that is licensed to transact insurance or reinsurance in this state.

(3) Credit must be allowed when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer that is accredited by the commissioner as a reinsurer in this state. Credit may not be allowed a domestic ceding insurer if the assuming insurer's accreditation has been revoked by the commissioner after notice and hearing. An accredited reinsurer is one that:

(a) files with the commissioner evidence of its submission to this state's jurisdiction;

(b) submits to this state's authority to examine its books and records;

(c) is licensed to transact insurance or reinsurance in at least one state or, in the case of a United States branch of an alien assuming insurer, is entered through and licensed to transact insurance or reinsurance in at least one state;

(d) files annually with the commissioner a copy of its annual statement filed with the insurance department of its state of domicile and a copy of its most recent audited financial statement; and

(e) demonstrates to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the accredited reinsurer has adequate financial capacity to meet its reinsurance obligations and is otherwise qualified to assume reinsurance from domestic insurers. An assuming insurer meets this requirement as of the time of its application if:

(i) the assuming accredited reinsurer maintains a surplus with regard to policyholders in an amount not less than $20 million; and

(ii) the commissioner approves its accreditation within 90 days after the date that the accredited reinsurer submits its application.

(4) (a) Subject to subsection (4)(b), credit must be allowed when:

(i) the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer that is domiciled and licensed in or, in the case of a United States branch of an alien assuming insurer, is entered through a state that employs standards regarding credit for reinsurance substantially similar to those applicable under this statute; and

(ii) the assuming insurer or the United States branch of an alien assuming insurer:

(A) maintains a surplus with regard to policyholders in an amount not less than $20 million; and

(B) submits to the authority of this state to examine its books and records.

(b) The requirement of subsection (4)(a)(i) does not apply to reinsurance ceded and assumed pursuant to pooling arrangements among insurers in the same holding company system.

(5) (a) Credit must be allowed when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer that maintains a trust fund in a qualified United States financial institution for the payment of the valid claims of its United States policyholders and ceding insurers and their assigns and successors in interest. The assuming insurer shall report annually to the commissioner information substantially the same as that required to be reported on the NAIC annual statement form by licensed insurers to enable the commissioner to determine the sufficiency of the trust fund. The assuming insurer shall submit to examination of its books and records by the commissioner and shall bear the expense of examination.

(b) (i) In the case of a single assuming insurer, the trust must consist of a trusteed account representing the assuming insurer's liabilities attributable to business written in the United States, and in addition, the assuming insurer shall maintain a surplus with the trustee of not less than $20 million, except as provided in subsection (5)(b)(ii).

(ii) At any time after the assuming insurer has permanently discontinued underwriting new business secured by the trust for at least 3 full years, the insurance regulator with principal regulatory oversight of the trust may authorize a reduction in the required trusteed surplus after a finding that the new required surplus level is adequate for the protection of United States ceding insurers, policyholders, and claimants in light of reasonably foreseeable adverse loss development. The risk assessment may involve an actuarial review, including an independent analysis of reserves and cash flows. The risk assessment must consider all material risk factors, including, when applicable, the lines of business involved, the stability of the incurred loss estimates, and the effect of the surplus requirements on the assuming insurer's liquidity or solvency. The minimum required trusteed surplus may not be reduced to an amount less than 30% of the assuming insurer's liabilities attributable to reinsurance ceded by United States ceding insurers covered by the trust.

(iii) In the case of a group, including incorporated and individual unincorporated underwriters, the trust must consist of a trusteed account representing the respective underwriters' liabilities attributable to business written in the United States to any underwriter of the group. Additionally, the group shall maintain a surplus with the trustee of which $100 million must be held jointly for the benefit of United States ceding insurers of any member of the group. The incorporated members of the group, as group members, may not be engaged in a business other than underwriting as members of the group and are subject to the same level of solvency regulation and control by the insurance regulator as the unincorporated members. Within 90 days after its financial statements are due to be filed with the group's domiciliary regulator, the group shall provide to the commissioner an annual certification of the solvency of each underwriter by the insurance regulator and the independent public accountants in the jurisdiction where the underwriter is domiciled.

(iv) In the case of a group of incorporated insurers under common administration:

(A) the provisions of subsection (5)(b)(iv)(B) apply to the group that:

(I) complies with the reporting requirements contained in subsection (5)(a);

(II) has continuously transacted an insurance business outside the United States for at least 3 years immediately prior to making application for accreditation;

(III) submits to this state's authority to examine its books and records and bears the expense of the examination; and

(IV) has aggregate policyholders' surplus of $10 billion;

(B) (I) the trust must be in an amount equal to the group's several liabilities attributable to business ceded by United States ceding insurers to any member of the group pursuant to reinsurance contracts issued in the name of the group;

(II) the group shall maintain a joint surplus with a trustee of which $100 million is held jointly for the benefit of United States ceding insurers of any member of the group as additional security for any liabilities; and

(III) within 90 days after its financial statements are due to be filed with the group's domiciliary regulator, each member of the group shall provide to the commissioner an annual certification of the member's solvency by the insurance regulator and the independent public accountants in the jurisdiction where the underwriter is domiciled.

(c) The trust must be established in a form approved by the commissioner. The trust instrument must provide that contested claims are valid and enforceable upon the final order of any court of competent jurisdiction in the United States. The trust must vest legal title to its assets in the trustees of the trust for its United States policyholders and ceding insurers and their assigns and successors in interest. The trust and the assuming insurer are subject to examination as determined by the commissioner. The trust described in this subsection (5)(c) must remain in effect for as long as the assuming insurer has outstanding obligations due under the reinsurance agreements subject to the trust.

(d) No later than February 28 of each year, the trustees of the trust shall report to the commissioner in writing setting forth the balance of the trust and listing the trust's investments at the end of the preceding year. The trustees shall certify the date of termination of the trust, if planned, or certify that the trust may not expire prior to the following December 31.

(6) (a) The commissioner shall allow credit when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer that the commissioner has certified as a reinsurer in this state and secures its obligation in accordance with the requirements of this subsection (6).

(b) To be eligible for certification under this subsection (6), an assuming insurer must be domiciled and licensed to transact insurance or reinsurance in a qualified jurisdiction as determined by the commissioner pursuant to subsection (6)(d) and shall:

(i) maintain minimum capital and surplus or its equivalent as promulgated by the commissioner by rule;

(ii) maintain financial strength ratings from two or more rating agencies, as determined by the commissioner;

(iii) agree to the jurisdiction of this state;

(iv) appoint a registered agent for service of process in this state as required by 33-1-605;

(v) agree to provide security for 100% of the assuming insurer's liabilities attributable to reinsurance ceded by United States ceding insurers if the assuming insurer resists enforcement of a final judgment from within the United States;

(vi) agree to meet applicable information filing requirements as determined by the commissioner; and

(vii) satisfy any other requirements for certification considered relevant by the commissioner.

(c) An association, including incorporated and individual unincorporated underwriters, may be a certified reinsurer. The incorporated members of the association may not engage in any business other than underwriting as a member of the association. The incorporated members are subject to the same level of regulation and solvency control by the association's domiciliary regulator as are the unincorporated members. In order to be eligible for certification under this subsection (6)(c), the association shall satisfy the requirements of this subsection (6)(c) and shall:

(i) satisfy its minimum capital and surplus requirements through the capital and surplus equivalents as a net of liabilities of the association and its members. This provision must include use of a joint central fund that may be applied to any unsatisfied obligation of the association or any of its members in an amount that provides adequate protection as determined by the commissioner.

(ii) provide to the commissioner, within 90 days of the date its financial statements are due to be filed with the association's domiciliary regulator, an annual certification by the association's domiciliary regulator of the solvency of each underwriter member. If a certification is unavailable, the association may provide a financial statement prepared by independent public accountants of each underwriter member.

(d) The commissioner shall create, maintain, and publish a list of qualified jurisdictions under which an assuming insurer licensed and domiciled in a qualified jurisdiction is eligible to be considered for certification as a certified reinsurer. The commissioner shall certify all United States jurisdictions as long as those jurisdictions are accredited under the NAIC financial standards and accreditation program. For jurisdictions not in the United States, the commissioner may defer to a list of qualified jurisdictions published by the NAIC or, if the commissioner does not defer to the NAIC list, shall develop a list of qualified jurisdictions by considering:

(i) the reinsurance supervisory system of the jurisdiction;

(ii) the rights, benefits, and extent of reciprocal recognition afforded by the jurisdiction to reinsurers licensed and domiciled within the United States;

(iii) whether an NAIC-accredited jurisdiction has certified the reinsurer; and

(iv) any additional factors the commissioner considers relevant.

(e) If the commissioner approves a jurisdiction as qualified that does not appear on the list of qualified jurisdictions published by the NAIC, the commissioner shall provide thoroughly documented justification in accordance with the criteria listed under subsection (6)(d).

(f) Qualified jurisdictions under subsection (6)(d) shall agree to share information and cooperate with the commissioner with respect to all certified reinsurers domiciled within that jurisdiction.

(g) The commissioner may not approve a jurisdiction not in the United States if the commissioner determines that the jurisdiction does not adequately and promptly enforce final United States judgments and arbitration awards.

(h) If a certified reinsurer's domiciliary jurisdiction ceases to be a qualified jurisdiction, the commissioner may either suspend the reinsurer's certification indefinitely or revoke the certification entirely.

(i) The commissioner shall assign a rating to each certified reinsurer. In assigning a rating, the commissioner shall consider the financial strength ratings assigned by agencies approved by the commissioner. The commissioner shall publish a list of all certified reinsurers and their ratings. The commissioner may defer to a rating assigned by a jurisdiction accredited by the NAIC.

(j) A certified reinsurer shall secure obligations assumed from United States ceding insurers under this subsection (6)(j) at a level consistent with the certified reinsurer's rating. A domestic ceding insurer qualifies for full financial statement credit for reinsurance ceded to a certified reinsurer if the certified reinsurer:

(i) maintains security in a form acceptable to the commissioner and in accord with the provisions of this section; or

(ii) forms a multibeneficiary trust in accord with subsections (5)(a) through (5)(d), except that minimum trusteed surplus requirements as provided in subsection (5)(b) do not apply with respect to a multibeneficiary trust account maintained by a certified reinsurer for the purpose of securing obligations incurred under this subsection (6)(j). A multibeneficiary trust under this subsection (6)(j)(ii) must be maintained with a minimum trusteed surplus of $10 million.

(k) A certified reinsurer operating under subsection (6)(j)(ii) shall maintain separate trust accounts for its obligations incurred under reinsurance agreements issued or renewed as a certified reinsurer with reduced security as permitted by this subsection (6) or comparable laws of other United States jurisdictions.

(l) If obligations incurred by a certified reinsurer under this subsection (6) lack sufficient security, the commissioner shall reduce the allowable credit by an amount proportionate to the deficiency. The commissioner may impose further reductions in allowable credit upon finding that there is a material risk that the certified reinsurer's obligations will not be paid in full when due.

(m) For the purposes of this subsection (6), a certified reinsurer whose certification has been terminated for any reason must be treated as a certified reinsurer required to secure 100% of its obligations. If the commissioner assigns a higher rating to a certified reinsurer on inactive status pursuant to this subsection (6)(m), this subsection (6)(m) does not apply. As used in this subsection (6)(m), "terminated" refers to a reinsurer whose certificate of authority has been revoked, suspended, voluntarily surrendered, or put on inactive status.

(n) A certified reinsurer that ceases to assume new business in this state may request to maintain its certification in inactive status in order to continue to qualify for a reduction in security for its in-force business. An inactive certified reinsurer shall continue to comply with all applicable requirements of this subsection (6), and the commissioner shall assign a rating that takes into account, if relevant, the reasons the reinsurer is not assuming new business.

(7) (a) Credit must be allowed when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer meeting each of the conditions set forth below:

(i) The assuming insurer must have its head office or be domiciled in, as applicable, and be licensed in a reciprocal jurisdiction. A "reciprocal jurisdiction" is a jurisdiction that meets one of the following criteria:

(A) a non-U.S. jurisdiction that is subject to an in-force covered agreement with the United States, each within its legal authority, or, in the case of a covered agreement between the United States and European Union, is a member state of the European Union. For purposes of this subsection (7), a "covered agreement" is an agreement entered into pursuant to Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, 31 U.S.C. 313 and 314, that is currently in effect or in a period of provisional application and addresses the elimination, under specified conditions, of collateral requirements as a condition for entering into any reinsurance agreement with a ceding insurer domiciled in Montana or for allowing the ceding insurer to recognize credit for reinsurance.

(B) a U.S. jurisdiction that meets the requirements for accreditation under the NAIC financial standards and accreditation program; or

(C) a qualified jurisdiction as determined by the commissioner pursuant to subsection (6)(d), which is not otherwise described in subsection (7)(a)(i)(A) or (7)(a)(i)(B) above and which meets certain additional requirements, consistent with the terms and conditions of in-force covered agreements, as specified by the commissioner in rule.

(ii) The assuming insurer must have and maintain, on an ongoing basis, minimum capital and surplus, or its equivalent, calculated according to the methodology of its domiciliary jurisdiction, in an amount to be set forth in rule. If the assuming insurer is an association, including incorporated and individual unincorporated underwriters, it must have and maintain, on an ongoing basis, minimum capital and surplus equivalents (net of liabilities), calculated according to the methodology applicable in its domiciliary jurisdiction, and a central fund containing a balance in amounts to be set forth in rule.

(iii) The assuming insurer must have and maintain, on an ongoing basis, a minimum solvency or capital ratio, as applicable, provided in rule. If the assuming insurer is an association, including incorporated and individual unincorporated underwriters, it must have and maintain, on an ongoing basis, a minimum solvency or capital ratio in the reciprocal jurisdiction where the assuming insurer has its head office or is domiciled, as applicable, and is also licensed.

(iv) The assuming insurer shall agree and provide adequate assurance to the commissioner, in a form specified by the commissioner pursuant to rules, as follows:

(A) The assuming insurer shall provide prompt written notice and explanation to the commissioner if it falls below the minimum requirements in subsection (7)(a)(ii) or (7)(a)(iii), or if any regulatory action is taken against it for serious noncompliance with applicable law.

(B) The assuming insurer shall consent in writing to the jurisdiction of the Montana courts and to appoint a registered agent for service of process in Montana as required by 33-1-605. The commissioner may require that consent for service of process be provided to the commissioner and included in each reinsurance agreement. Nothing in this provision shall limit or in any way alter the capacity of parties to a reinsurance agreement to agree to alternative dispute resolution mechanisms, except to the extent the agreements are unenforceable under applicable insolvency or delinquency law.

(C) The assuming insurer shall consent in writing to pay all final judgments, wherever enforcement is sought, obtained by a ceding insurer or its legal successor, that have been declared enforceable in the jurisdiction where the judgment was obtained.

(D) Each reinsurance agreement must include a provision requiring the assuming insurer to provide security in an amount equal to 100% of the assuming insurer's liabilities attributable to reinsurance ceded pursuant to the agreement if the assuming insurer resists enforcement of a final judgment that is enforceable under the law of the jurisdiction in which it was obtained or a properly enforceable arbitration award, whether obtained by the ceding insurer or by its legal successor on behalf of its resolution estate.

(E) The assuming insurer shall confirm that it is not presently participating in any solvent scheme of arrangement which involves Montana's ceding insurers and agree to notify the ceding insurer and the commissioner and to provide security in an amount equal to 100% of the assuming insurer's liabilities to the ceding insurer, should the assuming insurer enter into such a solvent scheme of arrangement. The security must be in a form consistent with the provisions of 33-2-1217 and subsection (7) of this section and as specified by the commissioner through rule.

(v) The assuming insurer or its legal successor shall provide, if requested by the commissioner, on behalf of itself and any legal successors, certain documentation to the commissioner, as specified by the commissioner through rule.

(vi) The assuming insurer shall maintain a practice of prompt payment of claims under reinsurance agreements, pursuant to criteria set forth through rule.

(vii) The assuming insurer's supervisory authority shall confirm to the commissioner on an annual basis, as of the preceding December 31 or at the annual date otherwise statutorily reported to the reciprocal jurisdiction, that the assuming insurer complies with the requirements in subsections (7)(a)(ii) and(7)(a)(iii).

(viii) Nothing in this section precludes an assuming insurer from providing the commissioner with information on a voluntary basis.

(b) The commissioner shall create and publish a timely list of reciprocal jurisdictions.

(i) A list of reciprocal jurisdictions is published through the NAIC committee process. The commissioner's list must include any reciprocal jurisdiction as defined under subsections (7)(a)(i)(A) and (7)(a)(i)(B) and must consider any other reciprocal jurisdiction included on the NAIC list. The commissioner may approve a jurisdiction that does not appear on the NAIC list of reciprocal jurisdictions in accordance with criteria established by the commissioner through rule.

(ii) The commissioner may remove a jurisdiction from the list of reciprocal jurisdictions upon a determination that the jurisdiction no longer meets the requirements of a reciprocal jurisdiction, in accordance with a process set forth by the commissioner through rule, except that the commissioner may not remove from the list a reciprocal jurisdiction as defined under subsections (7)(a)(i)(A) and (7)(a)(i)(B). Upon removal of a reciprocal jurisdiction from this list, credit for reinsurance ceded to an assuming insurer which has its home office or is domiciled in that jurisdiction must be allowed, if otherwise allowed pursuant to this section.

(c) The commissioner shall create and publish a timely list of assuming insurers that have satisfied the conditions set forth in this subsection (7) and to which cessions must be granted credit in accordance with this subsection (7). The commissioner may add an assuming insurer to the list if an NAIC accredited jurisdiction has added the assuming insurer to a list of the assuming insurers or if, upon initial eligibility, the assuming insurer submits the information to the commissioner as required under subsection (7)(a)(iv) and complies with any additional requirements that the commissioner may impose through rule, except to the extent that they conflict with an applicable covered agreement.

(d) If the commissioner determines that an assuming insurer no longer meets one or more of the requirements under this subsection (7), the commissioner may revoke or suspend the eligibility of the assuming insurer for recognition under this subsection (7) in accordance with procedures set forth in rule.

(i) While an assuming insurer's eligibility is suspended, no reinsurance agreement issued, amended or renewed after the effective date of the suspension qualifies for credit except to the extent that the assuming insurer's obligations under the contract are secured in accordance with 33-2-1217.

(ii) If an assuming insurer's eligibility is revoked, no credit for reinsurance may be granted after the effective date of the revocation with respect to any reinsurance agreements entered into by the assuming insurer, including reinsurance agreements entered into prior to the date of revocation, except to the extent that the assuming insurer's obligations under the contract are secured in a form acceptable to the commissioner and consistent with the provisions of 33-2-1217.

(e) If subject to a legal process of rehabilitation, liquidation, or conservation, as applicable, the ceding insurer, or its representative, may seek and, if determined appropriate by the court in which the proceedings are pending, may obtain an order requiring that the assuming insurer post security for all outstanding ceded liabilities.

(f) Nothing in this subsection (7) shall limit or in any way alter the capacity of parties to a reinsurance agreement to agree on requirements for security or other terms in that reinsurance agreement, except as expressly prohibited by this section or other applicable law or regulation.

(g) (i) Credit may be taken under this subsection (7) only for reinsurance agreements entered into, amended, or renewed on or after March 23, 2021, adding this subsection, and only with respect to losses incurred and reserves reported on or after the later of:

(A) the date on which the assuming insurer has met all eligibility requirements pursuant to this subsection (7) herein; and

(B) the effective date of the new reinsurance agreement, amendment, or renewal.

(ii) This subsection (7) does not alter or impair a ceding insurer's right to take credit for reinsurance, to the extent that credit is not available under this subsection (7), as long as the reinsurance qualifies for credit under any other applicable provision of this section.

(iii) Nothing in this subsection (7):

(A) authorizes an assuming insurer to withdraw or reduce the security provided under any reinsurance agreement except as permitted by the terms of the agreement; and

(B) limits, or in any way alters, the capacity of parties to any reinsurance agreement to renegotiate the agreement.

(8) Credit must be allowed when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer that does not meet the requirements of subsection (2), (3), (4), (5), (6), (7), or (8), but only with respect to the insurance of risks located in a jurisdiction in which the reinsurance is required by applicable law or regulation of that jurisdiction.

(9) (a) If the assuming insurer is not licensed, accredited, or certified to transact insurance or reinsurance in this state, the credit permitted by subsections (4), (5), (6), and (7) may not be allowed unless the assuming insurer agrees in the reinsurance agreements to the following provisions:

(i) upon the failure of the assuming insurer to perform its obligations under the terms of the reinsurance agreement, the assuming insurer, at the request of the ceding insurer, shall:

(A) submit to the jurisdiction of any court of competent jurisdiction in any state of the United States;

(B) comply with all requirements necessary to give the court jurisdiction; and

(C) abide by the final decision of the court or of any appellate court in the event of an appeal; and

(ii) the assuming insurer shall designate the commissioner or a designated attorney as its attorney upon whom may be served any lawful process in any action, suit, or proceeding instituted by or on behalf of the ceding insurer.

(b) Subsection (9)(a)(i) is not intended to conflict with or override the obligation of the parties to a reinsurance agreement to arbitrate their disputes if an obligation is created in the agreement.

(10) (a) If the assuming insurer does not meet the requirements of subsection (1), (2), or (3), the credit permitted by subsection (4), (5), (6), or (7) may not be allowed unless the assuming insurer agrees in the trust agreements to the conditions under subsections (10)(b) through (10)(d).

(b) Regardless of any other provisions in the trust instrument, the trustee shall comply with an order of the commissioner or with an order of a court of competent jurisdiction directing the trustee to transfer to the commissioner all assets of the trust fund if:

(i) the trust fund is inadequate because the trust fund contains an amount less than the required amount; or

(ii) the grantor of the trust has been declared insolvent or placed into receivership, rehabilitation, liquidation, or similar proceedings.

(c) The assets transferred under subsection (10)(a) must be distributed by the commissioner. Claims must be filed with and valued by the commissioner in accordance with the laws of the state in which the trust is domiciled and that apply to the liquidation of domestic insurers.

(d) The commissioner may determine that the assets of the trust fund or any part of the trust fund assets are not necessary to satisfy the claims of the United States ceding insurers of the grantor of the trust. If the commissioner makes this determination, the commissioner shall return the assets or part of the assets to the trustee for distribution in accordance with the trust agreement.

(11) (a) The commissioner may suspend or revoke a reinsurer's accreditation or certification if the reinsurer ceases to meet the requirements of this section. The commissioner shall give the reinsurer notice and opportunity for a hearing. The suspension or revocation may not take effect until after the commissioner's order on hearing unless:

(i) the reinsurer waives its right to a hearing;

(ii) the commissioner's order is based on:

(A) regulatory action by the reinsurer's domiciliary jurisdiction; or

(B) the voluntary surrender or termination of the reinsurer's eligibility to transact insurance or reinsurance business in its domiciliary jurisdiction; or

(iii) the commissioner finds that an emergency requires immediate action.

(b) While a reinsurer's accreditation or certification is suspended, no reinsurance contract issued or renewed after the effective date of the suspension qualifies for credit under this section except to the extent that the reinsurer's obligations under the contract are secured in accordance with this section. If a reinsurer's accreditation or certification is revoked, no credit for reinsurance may be granted after the effective date of the revocation except to the extent that the reinsurer's obligations under the contract are secured in accordance with 33-2-1217 and subsection (6)(j) of this section.

(12) (a) A ceding insurer shall take steps:

(i) to manage the reinsurance recoverables proportionate to the ceding insurer's own book of business. A domestic ceding insurer shall provide notice to the commissioner within 30 days after:

(A) the reinsurance recoverables from any single assuming insurer or group of affiliated assuming insurers exceeds 50% of the domestic ceding insurer's last reported surplus to policyholders; or

(B) a determination that the reinsurance recoverables from any single assuming insurer or group of affiliated assuming insurers is likely to exceed the limit in subsection (12)(a)(i)(A).

(ii) to diversify its reinsurance program. A domestic ceding insurer shall notify the commissioner within 30 days after ceding to any single assuming insurer or group of affiliated assuming insurers more than 20% of the ceding insurer's gross written premium in the prior calendar year or after the domestic ceding insurer has determined that the reinsurance ceded to any single assuming insurer or group of affiliated assuming insurers is likely to exceed the 20% limit.

(b) The notifications made pursuant to this subsection (12) must demonstrate that the exposure is safely managed by the domestic ceding insurer.

(13) A reinsurance contract issued or renewed after the effective date of a suspension or revocation does not qualify for credit except to the extent that the reinsurer's obligations under the contract are secured in accordance with this section.

33-2-1217. Reduction of liability for reinsurance ceded by domestic insurer to assuming insurer — definition. A reduction from liability for the reinsurance ceded by a domestic insurer to an assuming insurer not meeting the requirements of 33-2-1216 must be allowed in an amount not exceeding the liabilities carried by the ceding insurer. The reduction must be in the amount of funds held by or on behalf of the ceding insurer, including funds held in trust for the ceding insurer:

(1) under a reinsurance contract with the assuming insurer as security for the payment of obligations under the contract if the security is held in the United States subject to withdrawal solely by and under the exclusive control of the ceding insurer; or

(2) in the case of a trust, in a qualified United States financial institution. This security may be in the form of:

(a) cash;

(b) securities listed by the securities valuation office of the NAIC, including those exempt from filing as defined in the purposes and procedures manual of the securities valuation office, and qualifying as admitted assets;

(c) clean, irrevocable, unconditional letters of credit that are issued or confirmed by a qualified United States financial institution no later than December 31 of the year for which filing is being made and that are in the possession of the ceding insurer on or before the filing date of the insurer's annual statement. Letters of credit meeting applicable standards of issuer acceptability as of the dates of their issuance or confirmation must, notwithstanding the issuing or confirming institution's subsequent failure to meet applicable standards of issuer acceptability, continue to be acceptable as security until their expiration, extension, renewal, modification, or amendment, whichever occurs first.

(d) any other form of security acceptable to the commissioner.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2)(c), a "qualified United States financial institution" means an institution that:

(a) is organized or, in the case of a United States office of a foreign banking organization, licensed under the laws of the United States or any of its states;

(b) is regulated, supervised, and examined by United States federal or state authorities with regulatory authority over banks and trust companies; and

(c) has been determined by either the commissioner or the securities valuation office of the national association of insurance commissioners to meet the standards of financial condition and standing that are considered necessary and appropriate to regulate the quality of financial institutions whose letters of credit will be acceptable to the commissioner.

(4) For the purposes of this part, except for subsection (2)(c), "qualified United States financial institution" means, with respect to institutions eligible to act as a fiduciary of a trust, an institution that:

(a) is organized or, in the case of a United States branch or agency office of a foreign banking corporation, licensed under the laws of the United States or any of its states and that has been granted authority to operate with fiduciary powers; and

(b) is regulated, supervised, and examined by federal or state authorities having regulatory authority over banks and trust companies.

(5) The commissioner may adopt rules implementing:

(a) the provisions of 33-2-307, 33-2-708, and chapter 12; and

(b) reinsurance arrangements provided under this section provided that:

(i) a rule adopted pursuant to this subsection (5)(b) may apply only to reinsurance relating to:

(A) life insurance policies with guaranteed nonlevel gross premiums or guaranteed nonlevel benefits;

(B) universal life insurance policies with provisions resulting in the ability of a policyholder to keep a policy in force over a secondary guarantee period;

(C) variable annuities with guaranteed death or living benefits;

(D) long-term care insurance policies; or

(E) such other life and health insurance and annuity products as to which NAIC adopts model regulatory requirements with respect to credit for reinsurance;

(ii) a rule adopted pursuant to subsection (5)(b)(i)(A) or (5)(b)(i)(B) may apply to any treaty containing:

(A) policies issued on or after January 1, 2015; or

(B) policies issued prior to January 1, 2015, if risk pertaining to policies is ceded in connection with the treaty, in whole or in part, on or after January 1, 2015.

Part 13
Supervision, Rehabilitation, and Liquidation

Part Cross-References

Notice to Attorney General — court action by state agency, 25-1-501.

33-2-1301. Short title. This part shall be cited as the "Insurers Supervision, Rehabilitation, and Liquidation Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1302. Construction and purpose. (1) This part may not be interpreted to limit the powers granted the commissioner by other provisions of the law.

(2) This part shall be liberally construed to effect the purpose stated in subsection (3).

(3) The purpose of this part is the protection of the interests of insureds, claimants, creditors, and the public generally, with minimum interference with the normal prerogatives of the owners and managers of insurers, through:

(a) early detection of any potentially dangerous condition in an insurer and prompt application of appropriate corrective measures;

(b) improved methods for rehabilitating insurers, involving the cooperation and management expertise of the insurance industry;

(c) enhanced efficiency and economy of liquidation, through clarification of the law, to minimize legal uncertainty and litigation;

(d) equitable apportionment of any unavoidable loss;

(e) lessening the problems of interstate rehabilitation and liquidation by facilitating cooperation between states in the liquidation process and by extending the scope of personal jurisdiction over debtors of the insurer outside this state; and

(f) regulation of the insurance business by the impact of the law relating to delinquency procedures and substantive rules on the entire insurance business.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1303. Definitions. For the purposes of this part the following definitions apply:

(1) "Ancillary state" means any state other than a domiciliary state.

(2) "Commissioner" means the commissioner of insurance of this state.

(3) "Creditor" is a person having any claim, whether matured or unmatured, liquidated or unliquidated, secured or unsecured, absolute, fixed, or contingent.

(4) "Delinquency proceeding" means any proceeding instituted against an insurer for the purpose of liquidating, rehabilitating, reorganizing, or conserving the insurer and any summary proceeding under 33-2-1321 or 33-2-1322. "Formal delinquency proceeding" means any liquidation or rehabilitation proceeding.

(5) "Doing business" includes any of the following acts, whether effected by mail or otherwise:

(a) the issuance or delivery of contracts of insurance to persons resident in this state;

(b) the solicitation of applications for contracts of insurance or other negotiations preliminary to the execution of the contracts;

(c) the collection of premiums, membership fees, assessments, or other consideration for contracts of insurance;

(d) the transaction of matters subsequent to execution of contracts of insurance and arising out of them; or

(e) operating as an insurer under a license or certificate of authority issued by the commissioner.

(6) "Domiciliary state" means the state in which an insurer is incorporated or organized or, in the case of an alien insurer, its state of entry.

(7) "Fair consideration" is given for property or an obligation:

(a) when in exchange for the property or obligation, as a fair equivalent for the property or obligation and in good faith, property is conveyed or services are rendered or an obligation is incurred or an antecedent debt is satisfied; or

(b) when the property or obligation is received in good faith to secure a present advance or antecedent debt in an amount not disproportionately small as compared to the value of the property or obligation obtained.

(8) "Foreign country" means any jurisdiction not in any state.

(9) "General assets" means all property, real, personal, or otherwise, not specifically mortgaged, pledged, deposited, or otherwise encumbered for the security or benefit of specified persons or classes of persons. As to specifically encumbered property, "general assets" includes all such property or its proceeds in excess of the amount necessary to discharge the sum or sums secured thereby. Assets held in trust and on deposit for the security or benefit of all policyholders or all policyholders and creditors, in more than a single state, must be treated as general assets.

(10) "Guaranty association" means the Montana insurance guaranty association, the workers' compensation security fund, the Montana life and health insurance guaranty association, and any other similar entity created by the legislature of this state for the payment of claims of insolvent insurers. "Foreign guaranty association" means any similar entities created by the legislature of any other state.

(11) (a) "Insolvency" or "insolvent" means:

(i) for an insurer issuing only assessable fire insurance policies, the inability to pay any obligation within 30 days after it becomes payable; or

(ii) for any other insurer, the inability to pay its obligations when they are due or when its admitted assets do not exceed its liabilities plus the greater of:

(A) any capital and surplus required by law for its organization; or

(B) the total par or stated value of its authorized and issued capital stock.

(b) For purposes of this subsection (11), "liabilities" include but are not limited to reserves required by statute or by the commissioner upon a subject company at the time of admission or subsequent to the time of admission.

(12) "Insurer" means any person who has done, purports to do, is doing, or is licensed to do insurance business and is or has been subject to the authority of or to liquidation, rehabilitation, reorganization, supervision, or conservation by any insurance commissioner. Any other persons included under 33-2-1304 are considered to be insurers.

(13) "Preferred claim" means any claim with respect to which the terms of this part accord priority of payment from the general assets of the insurer.

(14) "Receiver" means a receiver, liquidator, rehabilitator, or conservator as the context requires.

(15) "Reciprocal state" means any state other than this state in which in substance and effect 33-2-1342(1), 33-2-1381, 33-2-1382, and 33-2-1384 through 33-2-1386 are in force and in which provisions are in force requiring that the commissioner or equivalent official be the receiver of a delinquent insurer and in which some provision exists for the avoidance of fraudulent conveyances and preferential transfers.

(16) "Secured claim" means any claim secured by mortgage, trust deed, pledge, deposit as security, escrow, or otherwise, but not including special deposit claims or claims against general assets. The term also includes claims that have become liens upon specific assets by reason of judicial process.

(17) "Special deposit claim" means any claim secured by a deposit made pursuant to statute for the security or benefit of a limited class of persons, but not including any claim secured by general assets.

(18) "State" means any state, district, or territory of the United States.

(19) "Transfer" includes the sale and every other mode, direct or indirect, of disposing of or parting with property or with an interest in the property or with the possession of the property or fixing a lien upon property or upon an interest in the property, absolutely or conditionally, voluntarily, by or without judicial proceedings. The retention of a security title to property delivered to a debtor is considered a transfer suffered by the debtor.

33-2-1305. Who may bring action — procedure exclusive. (1) No delinquency proceeding may be commenced under this part by anyone other than the commissioner, and no court shall have jurisdiction to entertain, hear, or determine any proceeding commenced by any other person.

(2) No court of this state has jurisdiction to entertain, hear, or determine any complaint praying for the dissolution, liquidation, rehabilitation, sequestration, conservation, or receivership of any insurer or praying for an injunction or restraining order or other relief preliminary to, incidental to, or relating to such proceedings other than in accordance with this part.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1306. Personal jurisdiction. In addition to other grounds for jurisdiction provided by the law of this state, a court of this state having jurisdiction of the subject matter has jurisdiction over a person served pursuant to the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure or other applicable provisions of law in an action brought by the receiver of a domestic insurer or an alien insurer domiciled in this state:

(1) if the person served is obligated to the insurer in any way as an incident to any agency or brokerage arrangement that may exist or has existed between the insurer and the insurance producer or broker in any action on or incident to the obligation;

(2) if the person served is a reinsurer who has at any time written a policy of reinsurance for an insurer against which a rehabilitation or liquidation order is in effect when the action is commenced or is an insurance producer or broker of or for the reinsurer in any action on or incident to the reinsurance contract; or

(3) if the person served is or has been an officer, manager, trustee, organizer, promoter, or person in a position of comparable authority or influence in an insurer against which a rehabilitation or liquidation order is in effect when the action is commenced in any action resulting from such a relationship with the insurer.

(a) the transaction of further business;

(b) the transfer of property;

(c) interference with the receiver or with a proceeding under this part;

(d) waste of the insurer's assets;

(e) dissipation and transfer of bank accounts;

(f) the institution or further prosecution of any actions or proceedings;

(g) the obtaining of preferences, judgments, attachments, garnishments, or liens against the insurer, its assets, or its policyholders;

(h) the levying of execution against the insurer, its assets, or its policyholders;

(i) the making of any sale or deed for nonpayment of taxes or assessments that would lessen the value of the assets of the insurer;

(j) the withholding from the receiver of books, accounts, documents, or other records relating to the business of the insurer; or

(k) any other threatened or contemplated action that might lessen the value of the insurer's assets or prejudice the rights of policyholders, creditors, or shareholders or the administration of any proceeding under this part.

(2) The receiver may apply to any court outside of the state for the relief described in subsection (1).

33-2-1310. Cooperation of officers, owners, and employees. (1) An officer, manager, director, trustee, owner, employee, or insurance producer of any insurer or any other persons with authority over or in charge of any segment of the insurer's affairs shall cooperate with the commissioner in any proceeding under this part or any investigation preliminary to the proceeding.

(2) (a) The term "person" as used in this section includes any person who exercises control directly or indirectly over activities of an insurer through any holding company or other affiliate of the insurer.

(b) "To cooperate" includes but is not limited to the following:

(i) replying promptly in writing to any inquiry from the commissioner requesting a reply; and

(ii) making available to the commissioner any books, accounts, documents, or other records or information or property of or pertaining to the insurer and in the insurer's possession, custody, or control.

(3) A person may not obstruct or interfere with the commissioner in the conduct of any delinquency proceeding or any investigation preliminary or incidental to the proceeding.

(4) This section may not be construed to abridge otherwise existing legal rights, including the right to resist a petition for liquidation or other delinquency proceedings or other orders.

(5) Any person included within subsection (1) who fails to cooperate with the commissioner or any person who obstructs or interferes with the commissioner in the conduct of any delinquency proceeding or any investigation preliminary or incidental to the proceeding or who violates any order the commissioner issued validly under this part may, after a hearing, be subject to the imposition by the commissioner of a civil penalty not to exceed $10,000 and to the revocation or suspension of any insurance licenses issued by the commissioner.

33-2-1321. Commissioner's summary orders and supervision proceedings. (1) If the commissioner determines, after a hearing held under subsection (5), that any domestic insurer has committed or engaged in or is about to commit or engage in any act, practice, or transaction that would subject it to delinquency proceedings under this part, the commissioner may make and serve upon the insurer and any other persons involved orders that are reasonably necessary to correct or eliminate the conduct.

(2) If upon examination or at any other time the commissioner determines that any domestic insurer is in a condition that renders the continuance of its business hazardous to the public or to holders of its policies or certificates of insurance or if the domestic insurer gives its consent, then the commissioner shall notify the insurer of the commissioner's determination and furnish to the insurer a written list of the commissioner's requirements to abate the determination.

(3) If the commissioner makes a determination to supervise an insurer subject to an order under subsection (1) or (2), the commissioner shall notify the insurer that it is under the supervision of the commissioner. During the period of supervision, the commissioner may appoint a supervisor to supervise the insurer. The order appointing a supervisor shall direct the supervisor to enforce orders issued under subsections (1) and (2) and may also require that the insurer may not do any of the following things during the period of supervision without the prior approval of the commissioner or the supervisor:

(a) dispose of, convey, or encumber any of its assets or its business in force;

(b) withdraw from any of its bank accounts;

(c) lend any of its funds;

(d) invest any of its funds;

(e) incur any debt, obligation, or liability;

(f) merge or consolidate with another company; or

(g) enter into any new reinsurance contract or treaty.

(4) Any insurer subject to an order under this section shall comply with the lawful requirements of the commissioner and, if placed under supervision, has 60 days from the date the supervision order is served within which to comply with the requirements of the commissioner. If the insurer fails to comply within that time, the commissioner may institute proceedings under 33-2-1331 or 33-2-1341 to have a rehabilitator or liquidator appointed or extend the period of supervision.

(5) The notice of hearing under subsection (1) and any order issued pursuant to subsection (1) must be served upon the insurer pursuant to the applicable rules of civil or administrative procedure. The notice of hearing must state the time and place of hearing and the conduct, condition, or ground upon which the commissioner would base an order. Unless mutually agreed between the commissioner and the insurer, the hearing must occur not less than 10 days or more than 30 days after notice is served and must be either in Lewis and Clark County or in some other place convenient to the parties to be designated by the commissioner. The commissioner shall hold all hearings under subsection (1) privately unless the insurer requests a public hearing, in which case the hearing must be public.

(6) (a) Any insurer subject to an order under subsection (2) may request a hearing to review that order. The hearing must be held as provided in subsection (5), but the request for a hearing may not stay the effect of the order.

(b) If the commissioner issues an order under subsection (2), the insurer may, at any time, waive a commissioner's hearing and apply for immediate judicial relief by means of any remedy afforded by law without first exhausting administrative remedies. Subsequent to a hearing, any party to the proceedings whose interests are substantially affected is entitled to judicial review of any order issued by the commissioner.

(7) During the period of supervision the insurer may request the commissioner to review an action taken or proposed to be taken by the supervisor, specifying the reason why the action complained of is believed not to be in the best interest of the insurer.

(8) If any person has violated any supervision order issued under this section that was still in effect for that person, the person is subject to a civil penalty imposed by the district court not to exceed $10,000.

(9) The commissioner may apply for and any court of general jurisdiction may grant restraining orders, preliminary and permanent injunctions, and other orders that may be necessary to enforce a supervision order.

(10) If any person subject to the provisions of this part, including any person described in 33-2-1310(1), knowingly violates any valid order of the commissioner issued under the provisions of this section and, as a result of the violation, the net worth of the insurer is reduced or the insurer suffers loss it would not otherwise have suffered, the person is personally liable to the insurer for the amount of any reduction or loss. The commissioner or supervisor is authorized to bring an action on behalf of the insurer in the district court to recover the amount of the reduction or loss together with any costs.

33-2-1322. Court's seizure order. (1) The commissioner may file in a district court of this state a petition alleging, with respect to a domestic insurer:

(a) that there exist grounds that would justify a court order for a formal delinquency proceeding against an insurer under this part;

(b) that the interests of policyholders, creditors, or the public will be endangered by delay; and

(c) the contents of an order considered necessary by the commissioner.

(2) Upon a filing under subsection (1), the court may issue forthwith, ex parte and without a hearing, the requested order which shall direct the commissioner to take possession and control of all or a part of the property, books, accounts, documents, and other records of an insurer and of the premises occupied by it for transaction of its business and until further order of the court enjoin the insurer and its officers, managers, insurance producers, and employees from disposition of its property and from transaction of its business except with the written consent of the commissioner.

(3) The court shall specify in the order what its duration shall be, which shall be such time as the court considers necessary for the commissioner to ascertain the condition of the insurer. On motion of either party or on its own motion, the court may from time to time hold such hearings as it considers desirable after such notice as it considers appropriate and may extend, shorten, or modify the terms of the seizure order. The court shall vacate the seizure order if the commissioner fails to commence a formal proceeding under this part after having had a reasonable opportunity to do so. An order of the court pursuant to a formal proceeding under this part shall ipso facto vacate the seizure order.

(4) Entry of a seizure order under this section shall not constitute an anticipatory breach of any contract of the insurer.

(5) An insurer subject to an ex parte order under this section may petition the court at any time after the issuance of such order for a hearing and review of the order. The court shall hold such a hearing and review not more than 15 days after the request. A hearing under this subsection may be held privately in chambers, and it shall be so held if the insurer proceeded against so requests.

(6) If, at any time after the issuance of such an order, it appears to the court that any person whose interest is or will be substantially affected by the order did not appear at the hearing and has not been served, the court may order that notice be given. An order that notice be given shall not stay the effect of any order previously issued by the court.

33-2-1323. Confidentiality of proceedings. In all proceedings and judicial reviews under 33-2-1321 and 33-2-1322, all records of the insurer, all other documents, and all files and court records and papers of the commissioner, as far as they pertain to or are a part of the record of the proceedings, remain confidential except as necessary to obtain compliance with the proceedings unless the district court, after hearing arguments from the parties in chambers, orders otherwise or unless the insurer requests that the matter be made public. Until the court order, all papers filed with the clerk of the district court must be held in a confidential file.

33-2-1331. Grounds for rehabilitation. The commissioner may apply by petition to a district court for an order authorizing the commissioner to rehabilitate a domestic insurer or an alien insurer domiciled in this state on any one or more of the following grounds:

(1) The insurer is in such condition that the further transaction of business would be financially hazardous to its policyholders, creditors, or the public.

(2) There is reasonable cause to believe that there has been embezzlement from the insurer, wrongful sequestration or diversion of the insurer's assets, forgery or fraud affecting the insurer, or other illegal conduct in, by, or with respect to the insurer that if established would endanger assets in an amount threatening the solvency of the insurer.

(3) The insurer has failed to remove any person who in fact has executive authority in the insurer, whether an officer, manager, general insurance producer, employee, or other person, if the person has been found after notice and hearing by the commissioner to be dishonest or untrustworthy in a way affecting the insurer's business.

(4) Control of the insurer, whether by stock ownership or otherwise and whether direct or indirect, is in a person found after notice and hearing to be untrustworthy.

(5) Any person who in fact has executive authority in the insurer, whether an officer, manager, general insurance producer, director or trustee, employee, or other person, has refused to be examined under oath by the commissioner concerning its affairs, whether in this state or elsewhere, and after reasonable notice of the fact the insurer has failed promptly and effectively to terminate the employment and status of the person and the person's influence on management.

(6) After demand by the commissioner under 33-1-408 or under this part, the insurer has failed to promptly make available for examination any of its own property, books, accounts, documents, or other records or those of any subsidiary or related company within the control of the insurer or those of any person having executive authority in the insurer so far as they pertain to the insurer.

(7) Without first obtaining the written consent of the commissioner, the insurer has transferred or attempted to transfer, in a manner contrary to chapter 2, part 11, or chapter 2, part 12, of Title 33, substantially its entire property or business or has entered into any transaction the effect of which is to merge, consolidate, or reinsure substantially its entire property or business in or with the property or business of any other person.

(8) The insurer or its property has been or is the subject of an application for the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian, conservator, or sequestrator or similar fiduciary of the insurer or its property otherwise than as authorized under the insurance laws of this state, and the appointment has been made or is imminent, and the appointment might oust the courts of this state of jurisdiction or might prejudice orderly delinquency proceedings under this part.

(9) Within the previous 4 years the insurer has willfully violated its charter or articles of incorporation, its bylaws, any insurance law of this state, or any valid order of the commissioner under 33-2-1321.

(10) The insurer has failed to pay within 60 days after the due date any obligation to any state or any subdivision of the state or any judgment entered in any state, if the court in which the judgment was entered had jurisdiction over the subject matter, except that nonpayment may not be a ground until 60 days after any good faith effort by the insurer to contest the obligation has been terminated, whether it is before the commissioner or in the courts, or the insurer has systematically attempted to compromise or renegotiate previously agreed settlements with its creditors on the ground that it is financially unable to pay its obligations in full.

(11) The insurer has failed to file its annual report or other financial report required by statute within the time allowed by law and, after written demand by the commissioner, has failed to give an adequate explanation immediately.

(12) The board of directors or the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote request or consent to rehabilitation under this part.

33-2-1332. Rehabilitation orders. (1) An order to rehabilitate the business of a domestic insurer or an alien insurer domiciled in this state shall appoint the commissioner the rehabilitator and shall direct the rehabilitator forthwith to take possession of the assets of the insurer and to administer them under the general supervision of the court. The filing or recording of the order with the clerk of the district court or clerk and recorder of the county in which the principal business of the company is conducted or the county in which its principal office or place of business is located shall impart the same notice as a deed, bill of sale, or other evidence of title duly filed or recorded with the county clerk and recorder would have imparted. The order to rehabilitate the insurer shall by operation of law vest title to all assets of the insurer in the rehabilitator.

(2) Any order issued under this section shall require accounting to the court by the rehabilitator. Accountings shall be at such intervals as the court specifies in its order.

(3) Entry of an order of rehabilitation does not constitute an anticipatory breach of any contracts of the insurer.

33-2-1333. Powers and duties of the rehabilitator. (1) The commissioner as rehabilitator may appoint one or more special deputies, who have all the powers and responsibilities of the rehabilitator granted under this section, and the commissioner may employ counsel, clerks, and assistants. The compensation of the special deputy, counsel, clerks, and assistants and all expenses of taking possession of the insurer and of conducting the proceedings must be fixed by the commissioner with the approval of the court and must be paid out of the funds or assets of the insurer. The persons appointed under this section shall serve at the pleasure of the commissioner. If the property of the insurer does not contain sufficient cash or liquid assets to defray the costs incurred, the commissioner may advance the costs incurred out of any appropriation for the maintenance of the commissioner's office. Any amounts advanced for expenses of administration must be repaid to the commissioner for the use of the commissioner's office out of the first available money of the insurer.

(2) The rehabilitator may take action as necessary to reform and revitalize the insurer. The rehabilitator shall have all the powers of the directors, officers, and managers, whose authority must be suspended, except as they are redelegated by the rehabilitator. The rehabilitator has full power to direct and manage, to hire and discharge employees subject to any contract rights they may have, and to deal with the property and business of the insurer.

(3) If it appears to the rehabilitator that there has been criminal or tortious conduct or breach of any contractual or fiduciary obligation detrimental to the insurer by any officer, manager, insurance producer, broker, employee, or other person, the rehabilitator may pursue all appropriate legal remedies on behalf of the insurer.

(4) If the rehabilitator determines that reorganization, consolidation, conversion, reinsurance, merger, or other transformation of the insurer is appropriate, the rehabilitator shall prepare a plan to effect the changes. Upon application of the rehabilitator for approval of the plan and after notice and hearings that the court may prescribe, the court may either approve or disapprove the plan proposed or may modify it and approve it as modified. Any plan approved under this section must be, in the judgment of the court, fair and equitable to all parties concerned. If the plan is approved, the rehabilitator shall carry out the plan. In the case of a life insurer, the plan proposed may include the imposition of liens upon the policies of the company if all rights of shareholders are first relinquished. A plan for a life insurer may also propose imposition of a moratorium upon loan and cash surrender rights under policies for the period and to the extent as may be necessary.

(5) The rehabilitator has the power under 33-2-1351 and 33-2-1352 to avoid fraudulent transfers.

33-2-1334. Effect of proceedings on pending and potential litigation. (1) Any court in this state before which any action or proceeding in which the insurer is a party or is obligated to defend a party is pending when a rehabilitation order against the insurer is entered shall stay the action or proceeding for 90 days and an additional time that is necessary for the rehabilitator to obtain proper representation and prepare for further proceedings. The rehabilitator shall take action respecting the pending litigation that the rehabilitator considers necessary in the interests of justice and for the protection of creditors, policyholders, and the public. The rehabilitator shall immediately consider all litigation pending outside this state and shall petition the courts having jurisdiction over that litigation for stays whenever necessary to protect the estate of the insurer.

(2) A statute of limitations or defense of laches may not run with respect to any action by or against an insurer between the filing of a petition for appointment of a rehabilitator for that insurer and the order granting or denying that petition. Any action by or against the insurer that might have been commenced when the petition was filed may be commenced for at least 60 days after the order of rehabilitation is entered or the petition is denied.

33-2-1336. Termination of rehabilitation. (1) Whenever the commissioner believes further attempts to rehabilitate an insurer would substantially increase the risk of loss to creditors, policyholders, or the public or would be futile, the commissioner may petition the district court for an order of liquidation. A petition under this subsection shall have the same effect as a petition under 33-2-1341. The district court shall permit the directors of the insurer to take such actions as are reasonably necessary to defend against the petition and may order payment from the estate of the insurer of such costs and other expenses of defense as justice may require.

(2) The rehabilitator may at any time petition the district court for an order terminating rehabilitation of an insurer. The court shall also permit the directors of the insurer to petition the court for an order terminating rehabilitation of the insurer and may order payment from the estate of the insurer of such costs and other expenses of such petition as justice may require. If the court finds that rehabilitation has been accomplished and that grounds for rehabilitation under 33-2-1331 no longer exist, it shall order that the insurer be restored to possession of its property and the control of the business. The district court may also make that finding and issue that order at any time upon its own motion.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1337 through 33-2-1340 reserved.

33-2-1341. Grounds for liquidation. The commissioner may petition the district court for an order directing the commissioner to liquidate a domestic insurer or an alien insurer domiciled in this state on the basis:

(1) of any ground for an order of rehabilitation as specified in 33-2-1331, whether or not there has been a prior order directing the rehabilitation of the insurer;

(2) that the insurer is insolvent; or

(3) that the insurer is in a condition that the further transaction of business would be hazardous, financially or otherwise, to its policyholders, its creditors, or the public.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1103, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-1342. Liquidation orders. (1) An order to liquidate the business of a domestic insurer must appoint the commissioner and the commissioner's successors in office liquidator and shall direct the liquidator to take possession of the assets of the insurer and to administer them under the general supervision of the court. The liquidator shall be vested by operation of law with the title to all of the property, contracts, and rights of action and all of the books and records of the insurer ordered liquidated, wherever located, as of the entry of the final order of liquidation. The filing or recording of the order with the clerk of the district court and the clerk and recorder of the county in which its principal office or place of business is located or, in the case of real estate, with the clerk and recorder of the county where the property is located shall impart the same notice as a deed, bill of sale, or other evidence of title duly filed or recorded with that clerk and recorder would have imparted.

(2) Upon issuance of the order, the rights and liabilities of any insurer and of its creditors, policyholders, shareholders, members, and all other persons interested in its estate become fixed as of the date of entry of the order of liquidation, except as provided in 33-2-1343 and 33-2-1366.

(3) An order to liquidate the business of an alien insurer domiciled in this state must be in the same terms and have the same legal effect as an order to liquidate a domestic insurer, except that the assets and the business in the United States are the only assets and business included in the order.

(4) At the time of petitioning for an order of liquidation or at any time after petitioning, the commissioner, after making appropriate findings of an insurer's insolvency, may petition the court for a judicial declaration of insolvency. After providing notice and hearing as it considers proper, the court may make the declaration.

(5) Any order issued under this section must require accounting to the court by the liquidator. Accountings must be at intervals as the court specifies in its order.

(6) (a) Within 5 days after the initiation of an appeal of an order of liquidation that has not been stayed, the commissioner shall present for the court's approval a plan for the continued performance of the defendant company's policy claims obligations, including the duty to defend insureds under liability insurance policies, during the pendency of an appeal. The plan must provide for the continued performance and payment of policy claims obligations in the normal course of events, notwithstanding the grounds alleged in support of the order of liquidation, including the ground of insolvency. In the event that the defendant company's financial condition will not, in the judgment of the commissioner, support the full performance of all policy claims obligations during the appeal pendency period, the plan may prefer the claims of certain policyholders and claimants over creditors and interested parties, as well as other policyholders and claimants, as the commissioner finds to be fair and equitable, considering the relative circumstances of the policyholders and claimants. The court shall examine the plan submitted by the commissioner, and if it finds the plan to be in the best interests of the parties, the court shall approve the plan. An action does not lie against the commissioner or any of the commissioner's deputies, agents, clerks, assistants, or attorneys by any party based on preference in an appeal pendency plan approved by the court.

(b) The appeal pendency plan may not supersede or affect the obligations of any insurance guaranty association.

(c) A plan must provide for equitable adjustments to be made by the liquidator to any distributions of assets to guaranty associations, in the event that the liquidator pays claims from assets of the estate, which would otherwise be the obligations of any particular guaranty association but for the appeal of the order of liquidation, so that all guaranty associations equally benefit on a pro rata basis from the assets of the estate. If an order of liquidation is set aside upon any appeal, the company may not be released from delinquency proceedings unless all funds advanced by any guaranty association, including reasonable administrative expenses that relate to obligations of the company, have been repaid in full, together with interest at the judgment rate of interest, or unless an arrangement for repayment has been made with the consent of all applicable guaranty associations.

33-2-1343. Continuance of policy coverage. (1) All policies, other than life or health insurance or annuities, in effect at the time of issuance of an order of liquidation shall continue in force only for the lesser of:

(a) a period of 30 days from the date of entry of the liquidation orders;

(b) the expiration of the policy coverage;

(c) the date when the insured has replaced the insurance coverage with equivalent insurance in another insurer or otherwise terminated the policy; or

(d) the liquidator has effected a transfer of the policy obligation pursuant to 33-2-1345(1)(h).

(2) An order of liquidation under 33-2-1342 terminates coverages at the time specified in subsection (1) for purposes of any other statute.

(3) Policies of life or health insurance or annuities continue in force for such period and under such terms as provided by any applicable guaranty association or foreign guaranty association.

(4) Policies of life or health insurance or annuities or any period or coverage of such policies not covered by a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association shall terminate under subsections (1) and (2).

33-2-1344. Dissolution of insurer. The commissioner may petition for an order dissolving the corporate existence of a domestic insurer or the United States branch of an alien insurer domiciled in this state at the time the commissioner applies for a liquidation order. The court shall order dissolution of the corporation upon petition by the commissioner upon or after the granting of a liquidation order. If the dissolution has not previously been ordered, it must be effected by operation of law upon the discharge of the liquidator if the insurer is insolvent but may be ordered by the court upon the discharge of the liquidator if the insurer is under a liquidation order for some other reason.

33-2-1345. Powers of liquidator. (1) The liquidator may:

(a) appoint a special deputy to act for the liquidator under this part and determine the deputy's reasonable compensation. The special deputy has all powers of the liquidator granted by this section. The special deputy serves at the pleasure of the liquidator.

(b) employ insurance producers, legal counsel, actuaries, accountants, appraisers, consultants, and other personnel necessary to assist in the liquidation;

(c) fix the reasonable compensation of employees and insurance producers, legal counsel, actuaries, accountants, appraisers, and consultants with the approval of the court;

(d) pay reasonable compensation to persons appointed and defray from the funds or assets of the insurer all expenses of taking possession of, conserving, conducting, liquidating, disposing of, or otherwise dealing with the business and property of the insurer. If the property of the insurer does not contain sufficient cash or liquid assets to defray the costs incurred, the commissioner may advance the costs incurred out of any appropriation for the maintenance of the commissioner's office. Any amounts advanced for expenses of administration must be repaid to the commissioner for the use of the commissioner's office out of the first available money of the insurer.

(e) hold hearings, subpoena witnesses to compel their attendance, administer oaths, examine any person under oath, and compel any person to subscribe to the person's testimony after it has been correctly reduced to writing and in connection with the hearings require the production of any books, papers, records, or other documents that the liquidator considers relevant to the inquiry;

(f) collect all debts and money due and claims belonging to the insurer, wherever located, and for this purpose:

(i) institute timely action in other jurisdictions in order to forestall garnishment and attachment proceedings against the debts;

(ii) do other acts that are necessary to collect, conserve, or protect its assets or property, including selling, compounding, compromising, or assigning debts for collection purposes on terms and conditions that the liquidator considers best; and

(iii) pursue any creditor's remedies available to enforce the liquidator's claims;

(g) conduct public and private sales of the property of the insurer;

(h) use assets of the estate of an insurer under a liquidation order to transfer policy obligations to a solvent assuming insurer if the transfer can be arranged without prejudice to applicable priorities under 33-2-1371;

(i) acquire, encumber, lease, improve, sell, or transfer any property of the insurer at its market value or upon terms and conditions that are fair and reasonable. The liquidator also has the power to execute, acknowledge, and deliver any and all deeds, assignments, releases, and other instruments necessary or proper to effectuate any sale of property or other transaction in connection with the liquidation.

(j) borrow money on the security of the insurer's assets or without security and execute and deliver all documents necessary to that transaction for the purpose of facilitating the liquidation;

(k) enter into contracts that are necessary to carry out the order to liquidate and affirm or disavow any contracts to which the insurer is a party;

(l) continue to prosecute and institute in the name of the insurer or in the liquidator's own name any and all suits and other legal proceedings, in this state or elsewhere, and abandon the prosecution of claims that the liquidator considers unprofitable to pursue further. If the insurer is dissolved under 33-2-1344, the liquidator has the power to apply to any court in this state or elsewhere for leave to substitute for the insurer as plaintiff.

(m) prosecute any action that may exist in behalf of the creditors, members, policyholders, or shareholders of the insurer against any officer of the insurer or any other person;

(n) remove any or all records and property of the insurer to the offices of the commissioner or to another place that may be convenient for the purposes of efficient and orderly execution of the liquidation. Guaranty associations and foreign guaranty associations must have reasonable access to the records of the insurer that is necessary for them to carry out their statutory obligations.

(o) deposit in one or more banks in this state sums that are required for meeting current administration expenses and dividend distributions;

(p) invest all sums not currently needed, unless the court orders otherwise;

(q) file any necessary documents for record in the office of any county clerk and recorder in this state or elsewhere where property of the insurer is located;

(r) assert all defenses available to the insurer as against third persons, including statutes of limitation, statutes of frauds, and the defense of usury. A waiver of any defense by the insurer after a petition in liquidation has been filed may not bind the liquidator. Whenever a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association has an obligation to defend any suit, the liquidator shall give precedence to the obligation and may defend only in the absence of a defense by the guaranty associations.

(s) exercise and enforce all the rights, remedies, and powers of any creditor, shareholder, policyholder, or member, including any power to avoid any transfer or lien that may be given by the general law and that is not included with 33-2-1351 through 33-2-1357;

(t) intervene in any proceeding wherever instituted that might lead to the appointment of a receiver or trustee and act as the receiver or trustee whenever the appointment is offered;

(u) enter into agreements with any receiver or commissioner of any other state relating to the rehabilitation, liquidation, conservation, or dissolution of an insurer doing business in both states;

(v) exercise all powers now held or conferred upon receivers by the laws of this state not inconsistent with the provisions of this part.

(2) The enumeration in this section of the powers and authority of the liquidator may not be construed as a limitation upon the liquidator or exclude in any manner the right to do other acts not specifically enumerated or otherwise provided for that may be necessary for the accomplishment of or in aid of the purpose of liquidation.

33-2-1346. Notice to creditors and others. (1) Unless the court otherwise directs, the liquidator shall give or cause to be given notice of the liquidation order as soon as possible:

(a) by first-class mail and either by telegram or telephone to the insurance commissioner of each jurisdiction in which the insurer is doing business;

(b) by first-class mail to any guaranty association or foreign guaranty association which is or may become obligated as a result of the liquidation;

(c) by first-class mail to all insurance producers of the insurer;

(d) by first-class mail to all persons known or reasonably expected to have claims against the insurer, including all policyholders, at their last-known address as indicated by the records of the insurer; and

(e) by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the insurer has its principal place of business and in other locations that the liquidator considers appropriate.

(2) Notice to potential claimants under subsection (1) requires claimants to file with the liquidator their claims together with proper proofs of the claims under 33-2-1365, on or before a date the liquidator specifies in the notice. The liquidator need not require persons claiming cash surrender values or other investment values in life insurance and annuities to file a claim. All claimants have a duty to keep the liquidator informed of any changes of address.

(3) (a) Notice under subsection (1) to insurance producers of the insurer and to potential claimants who are policyholders must include, when applicable, notice that coverage by state guaranty associations may be available for all or part of policy benefits in accordance with applicable state guaranty laws.

(b) The liquidator shall promptly provide to the guaranty associations information concerning the identities and addresses of the policyholders and their policy coverages as is within the liquidator's possession or control and shall otherwise cooperate with guaranty associations to assist them in providing to the policyholders timely notice of the guaranty associations' coverage of policy benefits, including coverage of claims and continuation or termination of coverages.

(4) If notice is given in accordance with this section, the distribution of assets of the insurer under this part is conclusive with respect to all claimants, whether or not they received notice.

33-2-1347. Duty of insurance producers to give notice. (1) Every person who receives notice in the form prescribed in 33-2-1346 that an insurer that the person represents as an insurance producer is the subject of a liquidation order shall within 15 days of the notice give notice of the liquidation order. The notice must be sent by first-class mail to the last address contained in the insurance producer's records to each policyholder or other person named in any policy issued through the insurance producer by the insurer if the producer has a record of the address of the policyholder or other person. A policy must be considered issued through an insurance producer if the insurance producer has a property interest in the expiration of the policy or if the insurance producer has had in the producer's possession a copy of the declarations of the policy at any time during the life of the policy, except where the ownership of the expiration of the policy has been transferred to another. The written notice must include the name and address of the insurer, the name and address of the insurance producer, identification of the policy impaired, and the nature of the impairment, including termination of coverage as described in 33-2-1343. Notice by a general insurance producer satisfies the notice requirement for any insurance producers under contract to the producer. Each insurance producer obligated to give notice under this section shall file a report of compliance with the liquidator.

(2) Any insurance producer failing to give notice or file a report of compliance as required in subsection (1) may be subject to payment of a penalty of not more than $1,000 and may have the producer's license suspended after a hearing held by the commissioner.

(3) The liquidator may waive the duties imposed by this section if the liquidator determines that other notice to the policyholders of the insurer under liquidation is adequate.

33-2-1348. Effect of proceedings on pending and potential litigation — actions by liquidator. (1) Upon issuance of an order appointing a liquidator of a domestic insurer or of an alien insurer domiciled in this state, an action at law or equity may not be brought against the insurer or liquidator, whether in this state or elsewhere. Any existing actions may not be maintained or further presented after issuance of the order. The courts of this state shall give full faith and credit to injunctions against the liquidator or the company or the continuation of existing actions against the liquidator or the company when the injunctions are included in an order to liquidate an insurer issued pursuant to corresponding provisions in other states. Whenever in the liquidator's judgment protection of the estate of the insurer necessitates intervention in an action against the insurer that is pending outside this state, the liquidator may intervene in the action. The liquidator may defend any action in which the liquidator intervenes under this section at the expense of the estate of the insurer.

(2) The liquidator may, upon or after an order for liquidation, within 2 years or a time in addition to 2 years that applicable law may permit, institute an action or proceeding on behalf of the estate of the insurer upon any cause of action against which the period of limitation fixed by applicable law has not expired at the time of the filing of the petition upon which the order is entered. When, by any agreement, a period of limitation is fixed for instituting a suit or proceeding upon any claim or for filing any claim, proof of claim, proof of loss, demand, notice, or the like or when in any proceeding, judicial or otherwise, a period of limitation is fixed, either in the proceeding or by applicable law, for taking any action, filing any claim or pleading, or doing any act and when in any case the period had not expired at the date of the filing of the petition, the liquidator may, for the benefit of the estate, take any action or do any act required of or permitted to the insurer within a period of 180 days subsequent to the entry of an order for liquidation or within a further period that is shown to the satisfaction of the court not to be unfairly prejudicial to the other party.

(3) A statute of limitations or defense of laches may not run with respect to any action against an insurer between the filing of a petition for liquidation against an insurer and the denial of the petition. Any action against the insurer that might have been commenced when the petition was filed may be commenced for at least 60 days after the petition is denied.

(1) As soon as practicable after the liquidation order but not later than 120 days thereafter, the liquidator shall prepare in duplicate a list of the insurer's assets. The list shall be amended or supplemented from time to time as the liquidator may determine. One copy shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court, and one copy shall be retained for the liquidator's files. All amendments and supplements shall be similarly filed.

(2) The liquidator shall reduce the assets to a degree of liquidity that is consistent with the effective execution of the liquidation.

(3) A submission to the court for disbursement of assets in accordance with 33-2-1363 fulfills the requirements of subsection (1) of this section.

History: En. Sec. 25, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1351. Fraudulent transfers prior to petition. (1) Every transfer made or suffered and every obligation incurred by an insurer within 1 year prior to the filing of a successful petition for rehabilitation or liquidation under this part is fraudulent as to then existing and future creditors if made or incurred without fair consideration or with actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud either existing or future creditors. A transfer made or an obligation incurred by an insurer ordered to be rehabilitated or liquidated under this part which is fraudulent under this section may be avoided by the receiver, except as to a person who in good faith is a purchaser, lienor, or obligee for a present fair equivalent value, and except that any purchaser, lienor, or obligee who in good faith has given a consideration less than fair for such transfer, lien, or obligation may retain the property, lien, or obligation as security for repayment. The court may, on due notice, order any such transfer or obligation to be preserved for the benefit of the estate, and in that event, the receiver succeeds to and may enforce the rights of the purchaser, lienor, or obligee.

(2) (a) A transfer of property other than real property is considered to be made or suffered when it becomes so far perfected that no subsequent lien obtainable by legal or equitable proceedings on a simple contract could become superior to the rights of the transferee under 33-2-1353(3).

(b) A transfer of real property is considered to be made or suffered when it becomes so far perfected that no subsequent bona fide purchaser from the insurer could obtain rights superior to the rights of the transferee.

(c) A transfer which creates an equitable lien is not considered to be perfected if there are available means by which a legal lien could be created.

(d) Any transfer not perfected prior to the filing of a petition for liquidation is considered to be made immediately before the filing of the successful petition.

(e) The provisions of this subsection apply whether or not there are or were creditors who might have obtained any liens or persons who might have become bona fide purchasers.

(3) Any transaction of the insurer with a reinsurer is considered fraudulent and may be avoided by the receiver under subsection (1) if:

(a) the transaction consists of the termination, adjustment, or settlement of a reinsurance contract in which the reinsurer is released from any part of its duty to pay the originally specified share of losses that had occurred prior to the time of the transaction, unless the reinsurer gives a present fair equivalent value for the release; and

(b) any part of the transaction took place within 1 year prior to the date of filing of the petition through which the receivership was commenced.

33-2-1352. Fraudulent transfer after petition. (1) After a petition for rehabilitation or liquidation has been filed, a transfer of any of the real property of the insurer made to a person acting in good faith is valid against the receiver if made for a present fair equivalent value or, if not made for a present fair equivalent value, then to the extent of the present consideration actually paid, for which amount the transferee must have a lien on the property transferred. The commencement of a proceeding in rehabilitation or liquidation is constructive notice upon the recording of a copy of the petition for or order of rehabilitation or liquidation with the county clerk and recorder in the county where any real property in question is located. The exercise by a court of the United States or any state or jurisdiction to authorize or effect a judicial sale of real property of the insurer within any county in any state may not be impaired by the pendency of a rehabilitation or liquidation proceeding unless the copy is recorded in the county prior to the consummation of the judicial sale.

(2) After a petition for rehabilitation or liquidation has been filed and before either the receiver takes possession of the property of the insurer or an order of rehabilitation or liquidation is granted:

(a) a transfer of any of the property of the insurer, other than real property, made to a person acting in good faith is valid against the receiver if made for a present fair equivalent value or, if not made for a present fair equivalent value, then to the extent of the present consideration actually paid, for which amount the transferee must have a lien on the property transferred;

(b) a person indebted to the insurer or holding property of the insurer may, if acting in good faith, pay the indebtedness or deliver the property or any part of the property to the insurer or upon the person's order, with the same effect as if the petition were not pending;

(c) a person having actual knowledge of the pending rehabilitation or liquidation is considered not acting in good faith;

(d) a person asserting the validity of a transfer under this section has the burden of proof. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a transfer by or on behalf of the insurer after the date of the petition for liquidation by any person other than the liquidator is not valid against the liquidator.

(3) This part does not impair the negotiability of currency or negotiable instruments.

33-2-1353. Voidable preferences and liens. (1) (a) A preference is a transfer of any of the property of an insurer to or for the benefit of a creditor, for or on account of an antecedent debt, made or suffered by the insurer within 1 year before the filing of a successful petition for liquidation under this part, the effect of which transfer may be to enable the creditor to obtain a greater percentage of this debt than another creditor of the same class would receive. If a liquidation order is entered while the insurer is already subject to a rehabilitation order, then the transfers must be considered preferences if made or allowed within 1 year before the filing of the successful petition for rehabilitation or within 2 years before the filing of the successful petition for liquidation, whichever time is shorter.

(b) Any preference may be avoided by the liquidator if:

(i) the insurer was insolvent at the time of the transfer;

(ii) the transfer was made within 4 months before the filing of the petition;

(iii) the creditor receiving it or to be benefited by it or the creditor's agent acting with reference to the transfer had, at the time when the transfer was made, reasonable cause to believe that the insurer was insolvent or was about to become insolvent; or

(iv) the creditor receiving it was an officer or any employee or attorney or other person who was in fact in a position of comparable influence in the insurer to an officer, whether or not the creditor held the position, or any shareholder holding directly or indirectly more than 5%

of any class of any equity security issued by the insurer or any other person, firm, corporation, association, or aggregation of persons with whom the insurer did not deal at arm's length.

(c) When the preference is voidable, the liquidator may recover the property or, if it has been converted, its value from any person who has received or converted the property, except when a bona fide purchaser or lienor has given less than fair equivalent value, the purchaser or lienor has a lien upon the property to the extent of the consideration actually given by the purchaser or lienor. When a preference by way of lien or security title is voidable, the court may on due notice order the lien or title to be preserved for the benefit of the estate, in which event the lien or title passes to the liquidator.

(2) (a) A transfer of property other than real property is considered to be made or allowed when it becomes so far perfected that a subsequent lien is not obtainable by legal or equitable proceedings on a simple contract that could become superior to the rights of the transferee.

(b) A transfer of real property is considered to be made or allowed when it becomes so far perfected that a subsequent bona fide purchaser from the insurer could not obtain rights superior to the rights of the transferee.

(c) A transfer that creates an equitable lien is not considered to be perfected if there are available means by which a legal lien could be created.

(d) A transfer not perfected prior to the filing of a petition for liquidation is considered to be made immediately before the filing of the successful petition.

(e) The provisions of this subsection apply whether or not there are or were creditors who might have obtained liens or persons who might have become bona fide purchasers.

(3) (a) A lien obtainable by legal or equitable proceedings upon a simple contract is one arising in the ordinary course of the proceedings upon the entry or docketing of a judgment or decree or upon attachment, garnishment, execution, or like process, whether before, upon, or after judgment or decree and whether before or upon levy. It does not include liens that under applicable law are given a special priority over other liens that are prior in time.

(b) A lien obtainable by legal or equitable proceedings could become superior to the rights of a transferee or a purchaser could obtain rights superior to the rights of a transferee, within the meaning of subsection (2), if the consequences would follow only from the lien or purchase itself or from the lien or purchase followed by any step wholly within the control of the respective lienholder or purchaser, with or without the aid of ministerial action by public officials. However, a lien could not become superior and a purchase could not create superior rights for the purpose of subsection (2) through any acts subsequent to the obtaining of a lien or subsequent to a purchase that require the agreement or concurrence of any third party or that require any further judicial action or ruling.

(4) A transfer of property for or on account of a new and contemporaneous consideration that is considered under subsection (2) to be made or suffered after the transfer because of delay in perfecting it does not become a transfer for or on account of an antecedent debt if any acts required by the applicable law to be performed in order to perfect the transfer as against liens or bona fide purchasers' rights are performed within 21 days or any period expressly allowed by the law, whichever is less. A transfer to secure a future loan, if a loan is actually made, or a transfer that becomes security for a future loan must have the same effect as a transfer for or on account of a new and contemporaneous consideration.

(5) If any lien considered voidable under subsection (1)(b) has been dissolved by the furnishing of a bond or other obligation, the surety on which has been indemnified directly or indirectly by the transfer of or the creation of a lien upon any property of an insurer before the filing of a petition under this part that results in a liquidation order, the indemnifying transfer or lien must also be considered voidable.

(6) The property affected by any lien considered voidable under subsections (1) and (5) must be discharged from the lien, and that property and any of the indemnifying property transferred to or for the benefit of a surety must pass to the liquidator, except that the court may on due notice order any lien to be preserved for the benefit of the estate and the court may direct that the conveyance be executed as may be proper or adequate to evidence the title of the liquidator.

33-2-1354. Procedure for voiding preferences and liens. (1) The district court has summary jurisdiction of any proceeding by the liquidator to hear and determine the rights of any parties under 33-2-1353 through 33-2-1357. Reasonable notice of any hearing in the proceeding shall be given to all parties in interest, including the obligee of a releasing bond or other like obligation. When an order is entered for the recovery of indemnifying property in kind or for the avoidance of an indemnifying lien, the court, upon application of any party in interest, shall in the same proceeding ascertain the value of the property or lien and, if the value is less than the amount for which the property is indemnity or less than the amount of the lien, the transferee or lienholder may elect to retain the property or lien upon payment of its value, as ascertained by the court, to the liquidator within such reasonable times as the court shall fix.

(2) The liability of a surety under a releasing bond or other like obligation is discharged to the extent of the value of the indemnifying property recovered or the indemnifying lien nullified and avoided by the liquidator or, when the property is retained under subsection (1), to the extent of the amount paid to the liquidator.

33-2-1355. Set off for further credit given in good faith. If a creditor has been preferred and afterward in good faith gives the insurer further credit without security of any kind for property that becomes a part of the insurer's estate, the amount of the new credit remaining unpaid at the time of the petition may be set off against the preference that would otherwise be recoverable from the insurer.

33-2-1356. Transactions to pay for attorneys' services. If an insurer, directly or indirectly, within 4 months before the filing of a successful petition for liquidation under this part or at any time in contemplation of a proceeding to liquidate it, pays money or transfers property to an attorney at law for services rendered or to be rendered, the transaction may be examined by the court on its own motion or shall be examined by the court on petition of the liquidator and shall be held valid only to the extent of a reasonable amount to be determined by the court and the excess may be recovered by the liquidator for the benefit of the estate, provided that where the attorney is in a position of influence in the insurer or an affiliate thereof, payment of any money or the transfer of any property to the attorney at law for services rendered or to be rendered shall be governed by the provision of 33-2-1353(1)(b)(iv).

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1357. Personal liability. (1) Every officer, manager, employee, shareholder, member, subscriber, attorney, or any other person acting on behalf of the insurer who knowingly participates in giving any preference when the individual has reasonable cause to believe the insurer is or is about to become insolvent at the time of the preference is personally liable to the liquidator for the amount of the preference. It is permissible to infer that there is reasonable cause to so believe if the transfer was made within 4 months before the date of filing of a successful petition for liquidation.

(2) Every person receiving any property from the insurer or the benefit of the property as a preference voidable under 33-2-1353(1) is personally liable and is bound to account to the liquidator.

(3) This section does not prejudice any other claim by the liquidator against any person.

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1111, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-1358. Claims of holders of void or voidable rights. (1) The claims of a creditor who has received or acquired a preference, lien, conveyance, transfer, assignment, or encumbrance voidable under this part may not be allowed unless the creditor surrenders the preference, lien, conveyance, transfer, assignment, or encumbrance. If the avoidance is effected by a proceeding in which a final judgment has been entered, the claim may not be allowed unless the money is paid or the property is delivered to the liquidator within 30 days from the date of the entering of the final judgment, except that the court having jurisdiction over the liquidation may allow further time if there is an appeal or other continuation of the proceeding.

(2) A claim allowable under subsection (1) by reason of the avoidance, whether voluntary or involuntary, or a preference, lien, conveyance, transfer, assignment, or encumbrance may be filed as an excused late filing under 33-2-1364 if filed within 30 days from the date of the avoidance or within the further time allowed by the court under subsection (1).

History: En. Sec. 29, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1112, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-1359. Setoffs. (1) Mutual debts or mutual credits between the insurer and another person in connection with any action or proceeding under this part must be set off and the balance only allowed or paid, except as provided in 33-2-1362 and subsection (2) of this section.

(2) A setoff may not be allowed in favor of any person when:

(a) the obligation of the insurer to the person would not at the date of the filing of a petition for liquidation entitle the person to share as a claimant in the assets of the insurer;

(b) the obligation of the insurer to the person was purchased by or transferred to the person with a view to its being used as a setoff; or

(c) the obligation of the person is to pay an assessment levied against the members or subscribers of the insurer or is to pay a balance upon a subscription to the capital stock of the insurer or is in any other way in the nature of a capital contribution.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 531, L. 1997.

33-2-1360. Assessments against members of insurer. (1) As soon as practicable but not more than 2 years from the date of an order of liquidation under 33-2-1342 of an insurer issuing assessable policies, the liquidator shall make a report to the court setting forth:

(a) the reasonable value of the assets of the insurer;

(b) the insurer's probable total liabilities;

(c) the probable aggregate amount of the assessment necessary to pay all claims of creditors and expenses in full, including expenses of administration and costs of collecting the assessment; and

(d) a recommendation as to whether or not an assessment should be made and in what amount.

(2) (a) Upon the basis of the report provided for in subsection (1), including any supplements and amendments, the district court may levy one or more assessments against all members of the insurer who are subject to assessment.

(b) Subject to any applicable legal limits on assessability, the aggregate assessment must be for the amount that the sum of the probable liabilities, the expenses of administration, and the estimated cost of collection of the assessment exceeds the value of existing assets, with due regard being given to assessments that cannot be collected economically.

(3) After levy of assessment under subsection (2), the liquidator shall issue an order directing each member who has not paid the assessment pursuant to the order to show cause why the liquidator should not pursue a judgment for the assessment.

(4) The liquidator shall give notice of the order to show cause by publication and by first-class mail to each member liable for the assessment mailed to the member's last-known address as it appears on the insurer's records at least 20 days before the return day of the order to show cause.

(5) (a) If a member does not appear and serve duly verified objections upon the liquidator on or before the return day of the order to show cause under subsection (3), the court shall make an order adjudging the member liable for the amount of the assessment against the member, pursuant to subsection (3), together with costs, and the liquidator has a judgment against the member for that amount.

(b) If on or before the return day the member appears and serves duly verified objections upon the liquidator, the commissioner may hear and determine the matter or may appoint a referee to hear it and make an order that the facts warrant. If the commissioner determines that the objections do not warrant relief from assessment, the member may request the court to review the matter and vacate the order to show cause.

(6) The liquidator may enforce any order or collect any judgment under subsection (5) by any lawful means.

History: En. Sec. 31, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1113, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-1361. Reinsurer's liability. The amount recoverable by the liquidator from reinsurers may not be reduced as a result of delinquency proceedings, regardless of any provision in the reinsurance contract or other agreement. Payment made directly to an insured or other creditor may not diminish the reinsurer's obligation to the insurer's estate except when the reinsurance contract provided for direct coverage of a named insured and the payment was made in discharge of that obligation.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1362. Recovery of premiums owed. (1) (a) An insurance producer or any other person responsible for the payment of a premium, other than the insured, is obligated to pay any unpaid premium for the full policy term due the insurer at the time of the declaration of insolvency, whether earned or unearned, as shown on the records of the insurer. The liquidator may recover from the person any part of an unearned premium that represents a commission of the person. Credits or setoffs or both may not be allowed to an insurance producer for any amounts advanced to the insurer by the insurance producer on behalf of but in the absence of a payment by the insured.

(b) An insured shall pay any unpaid earned premium due the insurer at the time of the declaration of insolvency, as shown on the records of the insurer.

(2) Upon satisfactory evidence of a violation of this section, the commissioner may pursue either one or both of the following courses of action:

(a) suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew the licenses of any offending party;

(b) impose a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each act in violation of this section by the party.

(3) Before the commissioner may take any action as set forth in subsection (2), the commissioner shall give written notice to the person, company, association, or exchange accused of violating the law, stating specifically the nature of the alleged violation and fixing a time and place, at least 10 days after the notice, when a hearing on the matter will be held. After the hearing or upon failure of the accused to appear at the hearing, the commissioner, if a violation is found, shall impose penalties under subsection (2) that the commissioner considers advisable.

(4) When the commissioner takes action in any of the ways set out in subsection (2), the party aggrieved may appeal from the action to the district court.

33-2-1363. Domiciliary liquidator's proposal to distribute assets. (1) Within 120 days of a final determination of insolvency of an insurer by a court of competent jurisdiction of this state, the liquidator shall make application to the court for approval of a proposal to disburse assets out of marshalled assets, from time to time as assets become available, to a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association having obligations because of the insolvency. If the liquidator determines that there are insufficient assets to disburse, the application required by this section must be considered satisfied by a filing by the liquidator stating the reasons for this determination.

(2) The proposal must at least include provisions for:

(a) reserving amounts for the payment of expenses of administration and the payment of claims of secured creditors, to the extent of the value of the security held, and claims falling within the priorities established in 33-2-1371, class 1;

(b) disbursement of the assets marshalled to date and subsequent disbursement of assets as they become available;

(c) equitable allocation of disbursements to each of the guaranty associations and foreign guaranty associations entitled to a disbursement;

(d) the securing by the liquidator from each of the associations entitled to disbursements pursuant to this section of an agreement to return to the liquidator assets, together with income earned on assets previously disbursed, as may be required to pay claims of secured creditors and claims falling within the priorities established in 33-2-1371 in accordance with the priorities. A bond may not be required of the association.

(e) a full report to be made by each association to the liquidator accounting for all assets disbursed to the association, all disbursements made from the assets, any interest earned by the association on the assets, and any other matter that the court may direct;

(f) compliance with Title 33, chapter 3, part 6, if the insurer being liquidated is a domestic stock insurer or a domestic mutual insurer.

(3) The liquidator's proposal must provide for disbursements to the associations in amounts estimated at least equal to the claim payments made or to be made by the associations for which the associations could assert a claim against the liquidator and must provide that if the assets available for disbursement from time to time do not equal or exceed the amount of claim payments made or to be made by the association, then disbursements must be in the amount of available assets.

(4) The liquidator's proposal must, with respect to an insolvent insurer writing life or health insurance or annuities, provide for disbursements of assets to any guaranty association or any foreign guaranty association covering life or health insurance or annuities or to any other entity or organization reinsuring, assuming, or guaranteeing policies or contracts of insurance under the acts creating the associations.

(5) Notice of the application must be given to the association in each of the states and to the commissioners of insurance of each of the states. Any notice must be considered to have been given when deposited in the United States certified mail, first-class postage prepaid, at least 30 days prior to submission of the application to the court. Action on the application may be taken by the court if the required notice has been given and if the liquidator's proposal complies with subsections (2)(a) and (2)(b).

33-2-1364. Filing of claims. (1) Proof of all claims must be filed with the liquidator in the form required by 33-2-1365 on or before the last day for filing specified in the notice required under 33-2-1346, except that proof of claims for cash surrender values or other investment values in life insurance and annuities is not required to be filed unless the liquidator requires.

(2) The liquidator may permit a claimant making a late filing to share in distributions, whether past or future, as if the claimant were not late, to the extent that any payment will not prejudice the orderly administration of the liquidation, under the following circumstances:

(a) the existence of the claim was not known to the claimant, and the claim was filed as promptly after learning of it as reasonably possible;

(b) a transfer to a creditor was avoided under 33-2-1351 through 33-2-1357 or was voluntarily surrendered under 33-2-1358, and the filing satisfies the conditions of 33-2-1358; and

(c) the valuation under 33-2-1370 of security held by a secured creditor shows a deficiency, which is filed within 30 days after the valuation.

(3) The liquidator shall permit late filing claims to share in distributions, whether past or future, as if they were not late if the claims are claims of a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association for reimbursement of covered claims paid or expenses incurred, or both, subsequent to the last day for filing where the payments were made and expenses incurred as provided by law.

(4) The liquidator may consider any claim filed late that is not covered by subsection (2) and permit it to receive distributions that are subsequently declared on any claims of the same or lower priority if the payment does not prejudice the orderly administration of the liquidation. The late-filing claimant must receive, at each distribution, the same percentage of the amount allowed on that claim that is being paid to claimants of any lower priority. This distribution must continue until the claim has been paid in full.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1115, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-1365. Proof of claim. (1) Proof of claim consists of a statement signed by the claimant that includes all of the following that are applicable:

(a) the particulars of the claim, including the consideration given for it;

(b) the identity and amount of the security on the claim;

(c) the payments made on the debt, if any;

(d) that the sum claimed is justly owing and that there is no setoff, counterclaim, or defense to the claim;

(e) any right of priority of payment or other specific right asserted by the claimants;

(f) a copy of the written instrument that is the foundation of the claim;

(g) the name and address of the claimant and the attorney who represents the claimant, if any.

(2) A claim is not required to be considered or allowed if it does not contain all the information in subsection (1) that may be applicable. The liquidator may require that a prescribed form be used and may require that other information and documents be included.

(3) At any time, the liquidator may request the claimant to present information or evidence supplementary to that required under subsection (1) and may take testimony under oath, require production of affidavits or depositions, or otherwise obtain additional information or evidence.

(4) A judgment or order against an insured or the insurer entered after the date of filing of a successful petition for liquidation and a judgment or order against an insured or the insurer entered at any time by default or by collusion are not required to be considered as evidence of liability or of quantum of damages. A judgment or order against an insured or the insurer entered within 4 months before the filing of the petition is not required to be considered as evidence of liability or of the quantum of damages.

(5) All claims of a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association must be in the form and contain the substantiation that may be agreed to by the association and the liquidator.

History: En. Sec. 36, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1116, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-1366. Special claims. (1) The claim of a third party that is contingent on the third party first obtaining a judgment against the insured must be considered and allowed as if there were no contingency.

(2) A claim may be allowed, even if contingent, if it is filed in accordance with 33-2-1364. It may be allowed and may participate in all distributions declared after it is filed to the extent that it does not prejudice the orderly administration of the liquidation.

(3) Claims that are due except for the passage of time must be treated as absolute claims are treated, except that the claims may be discounted at the legal rate of interest.

(4) Claims made under employment contracts by directors, principal officers, or persons in fact performing similar functions or having similar powers are limited to payment for services rendered prior to the issuance of any order of rehabilitation or liquidation under 33-2-1332 or 33-2-1342.

33-2-1367. Claims of insureds or claimants against insureds. (1) Whenever any third party asserts a cause of action against an insured of an insurer in liquidation, the third party may file a claim with the liquidator.

(2) Whether or not the third party files a claim, the insured may file a claim on the insured's own behalf in the liquidation. If the insured fails to file a claim by the date for filing claims specified in the order of liquidation or within 60 days after mailing of the notice required by 33-2-1346, whichever is later, the insured is an unexcused late filer.

(3) The liquidator shall make recommendations to the court under 33-2-1371 for the allowance of an insured's claim under subsection (2) after consideration of the probable outcome of any pending action against the insured on which the claim is based, the probable damages recoverable in the action, and the probable costs and expenses of defense. After allowance by the court, the liquidator shall withhold any dividends payable on the claim, pending the outcome of litigation and negotiation with the insured. Whenever it seems appropriate, the liquidator shall reconsider the claim on the bases of additional information and amend the recommendations to the court. The insured must be afforded the same notice and opportunity to be heard on all changes in the recommendation as in its initial determination. The court may amend its allowance as it determines appropriate. As claims against the insured are settled or barred, the insured must be paid, from the amount withheld, the same percentage dividend as was paid on other claims of similar property, based on the lesser of the amount actually recovered from the insured by action or paid by agreement, plus the reasonable costs and expenses of defense, or the amount allowed on the claims by the court. After all claims are settled or barred, any sum remaining from the amount withheld must revert to the undistributed assets of the insurer. Delay in final payment under this subsection may not be a reason for unreasonable delay of final distribution and discharge of the liquidator.

(4) If several claims founded upon one policy are filed, whether by third parties or as claims by the insured under this section and the aggregate allowed amount of the claims to which the same limit of liability in the policy is applicable exceeds that limit, each claim as allowed must be reduced in the same proportion so that the total equals the policy limit. Claims by the insured must be evaluated as provided in subsection (3). If any insured's claim is subsequently reduced under subsection (3), the amount freed must be apportioned ratably among the claims that have been reduced under this subsection.

(5) A claim may not be presented under this section if it is or may be covered by any guaranty association or foreign guaranty association.

33-2-1368. Disputed claims. (1) When a claim is denied in whole or in part by the liquidator, written notice of the determination must be given to the claimant or the claimant's attorney by first-class mail at the address shown in the proof of claim. Within 60 days from the mailing of the notice, the claimant may file objections with the liquidator. If a filing is not made, the claimant may not further object to the determination.

(2) Whenever objections are filed with the liquidator and the liquidator does not alter the denial of the claim as a result of the objections, the liquidator shall ask the court for a hearing as soon as practicable and give notice of the hearing by first-class mail to the claimant or the claimant's attorney and to any other persons directly affected not less than 10 or more than 30 days before the date of the hearing. The matter may be heard by the court or by a court-appointed referee who shall submit findings of fact along with a recommendation.

33-2-1369. Claims of sureties. (1) Whenever a creditor whose claim against an insurer is secured, in whole or in part, by the undertaking of another person fails to prove and file that claim, the other person may do so in the creditor's name and must be subrogated to the rights of the creditor, whether the claim has been filed by the creditor or by the other person in the creditor's name, to the extent that the other person discharges the undertaking. However, in the absence of an agreement with the creditor to the contrary, the other person is not entitled to any distribution until the amount paid to the creditor on the undertaking plus the distributions paid on the claim from the insurer's estate to the creditor equals the amount of the entire claim of the creditor. Any excess received by the creditor must be held by the creditor in trust for the other person.

(2) The term "other person", as used in this section, is not intended to apply to a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association.

(a) by converting the security into money according to the terms of the agreement pursuant to which the security was delivered to the creditors; or

(b) by agreement, arbitration, compromise, or litigation between the creditor and the liquidator.

(2) The determination must be under the supervision and control of the court with due regard for the recommendation of the liquidator. The amount determined must be credited upon the secured claim, and any deficiency must be treated as an unsecured claim. If the claimant surrenders the claimant's security to the liquidator, the entire claim must be allowed as if unsecured.

History: En. Sec. 41, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1121, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-1371. Priority of distribution. The priority of distribution of claims from the insurer's estate is in accordance with the order in which each class of claims is set forth in this section. Every claim in each class must be paid in full or adequate funds retained for the payment before the members of the next class receive any payment. Subclasses may not be established within any class. The order of distribution of claims is as follows:

(1) Class 1—the costs and expenses of administration, including but not limited to the following:

(a) the actual and necessary costs of preserving or recovering the assets of the insurer;

(b) compensation for all services rendered in the liquidation;

(c) any necessary filing fees;

(d) the fees and mileage payable to witnesses;

(e) reasonable attorney fees;

(f) the reasonable expenses of a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association in handling claims.

(2) Class 2—all claims under policies for losses incurred, including third-party claims, all claims against the insurer for liability for bodily injury or for injury to or destruction of tangible property that are not under policies, and all claims of a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association for payment of covered claims or covered obligations of the insurer. All claims under life and health insurance and annuity policies, whether for death proceeds, health benefits, annuity proceeds, or investment values, must be treated as loss claims. The portion of any loss, indemnification that is provided by other benefits, or advantages recovered by the claimant may not be included in this class, other than benefits or advantages recovered or recoverable in discharge of familial obligations of support or by way of succession at death or as proceeds of life insurance or as gratuities. A payment by an employer to an employee may not be treated as a gratuity.

(3) Class 3—claims of the federal government.

(4) Class 4—debts due to employees for services performed to the extent that they do not exceed $1,000 and represent payment for services performed within 1 year before the filing of the complaint for liquidation. Officers and directors may not be entitled to the benefit of this priority. The priority must be in lieu of any other similar priority that may be authorized by law as to wages or compensation of employees.

(5) Class 5—claims of general creditors.

(6) Class 6—claims of any state or local government. Claims, including those of any state or local government for a penalty or forfeiture, may be allowed in this class only to the extent of the pecuniary loss sustained from the act, transaction, or proceeding out of which the penalty or forfeiture arose, along with reasonable and actual costs. The remainder of the claims must be postponed to the class of claims under subsection (9).

(7) Class 7—claims filed late or any other claims other than claims under subsections (8) and (9).

(8) Class 8—surplus or contribution notes or similar obligations and premium refunds on assessable policies. Payments to members of domestic mutual insurance companies are limited in accordance with law.

(9) Class 9—the claims of shareholders or other owners.

History: En. Sec. 42, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 27, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-2-1372. Liquidator's recommendations to the court concerning claims. (1) The liquidator shall review all claims duly filed in the liquidation and make further investigation that the liquidator considers necessary. The liquidator may compound, compromise, or in any other manner negotiate the amount for which claims will be recommended to the court except when the liquidator is required by law to accept claims as settled by any person or organization, including any guaranty association or foreign guaranty association. Unresolved disputes must be determined under 33-2-1368. As soon as practicable, the liquidator shall present to the court a report of the claims against the insurer with the liquidator's recommendations. The report must include the name and address of each claimant and the amount of the claim finally recommended, if any. If the insurer has issued annuities or life insurance policies, the liquidator shall report the persons to whom, according to the records of the insurer, amounts are owed as cash surrender values or other investment value and the amounts owed.

(2) The court may approve, disapprove, or modify the report on claims by the liquidator. Reports not modified by the court within a period of 60 days following submission by the liquidator must be treated by the liquidator as allowed claims, subject to later modification or to rulings made by the court pursuant to 33-2-1368. A claim under a policy of insurance may not be allowed for an amount in excess of the applicable policy limits.

History: En. Sec. 43, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1122, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-1373. Distribution of assets. Under the direction of the court, the liquidator shall pay distributions in a manner that will assure the proper recognition of priorities and a reasonable balance between the expeditious completion of the liquidation and the protection of unliquidated and undetermined claims, including third-party claims. Distribution of assets in kind may be made at valuations set by agreement between the liquidator and the creditor and approved by the court.

History: En. Sec. 44, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1374. Unclaimed and withheld funds. (1) All unclaimed funds subject to distribution remaining in the liquidator's hands when the liquidator is ready to apply to the court for discharge, including the amount distributable to any creditor, shareholder, member, or other person who is unknown or cannot be found, must be deposited with the state treasurer and must be paid without interest except in accordance with 33-2-1371 to the person entitled to the funds or the person's legal representative upon proof satisfactory to the state treasurer of the person's right to the funds. Any amount on deposit not claimed within 6 years from the discharge of the liquidator must be considered to have been abandoned and must be escheated without formal escheat proceedings and be deposited in the general fund.

(2) All funds withheld under 33-2-1366 and not distributed must upon discharge of the liquidator be deposited with the state treasurer and paid in accordance with 33-2-1371. Any sums remaining that under 33-2-1371 would revert to the undistributed assets of the insurer must be transferred to the state treasurer and become the property of the state under subsection (1) unless the commissioner petitions the court to reopen the liquidation under 33-2-1376.

33-2-1375. Termination of liquidation proceedings. (1) When all assets justifying the expense of collection and distribution have been collected and distributed under this part, the liquidator shall apply to the court for discharge. The court may grant the discharge and make any other orders, including an order to transfer any remaining funds that are uneconomic to distribute, as may be considered appropriate.

(2) Any other person may apply to the court at any time for an order under subsection (1). If the application is denied, the applicant shall pay the costs and expenses of the liquidator in resisting the application, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

History: En. Sec. 46, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1376. Reopening liquidation. After the liquidation proceeding has been terminated and the liquidator discharged, the commissioner or other interested party may at any time petition the district court to reopen the proceedings for good cause, including the discovery of additional assets. If the court is satisfied that there is justification for reopening, it shall so order.

History: En. Sec. 47, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1377. Disposition of records during and after liquidation. When it appears to the commissioner that the records of any insurer in the process of liquidation or completely liquidated are no longer useful, the commissioner may recommend to the court and the court shall direct which records should be retained for future reference and which should be destroyed.

33-2-1378. Audit of the receiver's books. The district court may, as it considers desirable, cause audits to be made of the books of the commissioner relating to any receivership established under this part, and a report of each audit shall be filed with the commissioner and with the court. The books, records, and other documents of the receivership shall be made available to the auditor at any time without notice. The expense of each audit shall be considered a cost of administration of the receivership.

History: En. Sec. 49, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1379. Conservation of property of foreign or alien insurers. (1) If a domiciliary liquidator has not been appointed, the commissioner may apply to the district court by verified petition for an order directing the commissioner to act as conservator to conserve the property of an alien insurer not domiciled in this state or a foreign insurer on any one or more of the following grounds:

(a) any of the grounds in 33-2-1331;

(b) that any of its property has been sequestered by official action in its domiciliary state or in any other state;

(c) that enough of its property has been sequestered in a foreign country to give reasonable cause to fear that the insurer is or may become insolvent;

(d) that its certificate of authority to do business in this state has been revoked or that none was ever issued;

(e) that there are residents of this state with outstanding claims or outstanding policies.

(2) When an order is sought under subsection (1), the court shall cause the insurer to be given notice and a time to respond that is reasonable under the circumstances.

(3) The court may issue the order in whatever terms it considers appropriate. The filing or recording of the order with the clerk of the district court or the clerk and recorder of the county in which the principal business of the company is located or the county in which its principal office or place of business is located must impart the same notice as a deed, bill of sale, or other evidence of title filed or recorded with that clerk and recorder would have imparted.

(4) The conservator may at any time petition for and the court may grant an order under 33-2-1380 to liquidate assets of a foreign or alien insurer under conservation or, if appropriate, for an order under 33-2-1382 to be appointed ancillary receiver.

(5) The conservator may at any time petition the court for an order terminating conservation of an insurer. If the court finds that the conservation is no longer necessary, it shall order the insurer to be restored to possession of its property and the control of its business. The court may also make a finding and issue an order at any time upon motion of any interested party, but if the motion is denied, all costs must be assessed against the party.

33-2-1380. Liquidation of assets of foreign or alien insurers. (1) If a domiciliary receiver has not been appointed, the commissioner may apply to the district court by verified petition for an order directing the commissioner to liquidate the assets found in this state of a foreign insurer or an alien insurer not domiciled in this state on any of the following grounds:

(a) any of the grounds in 33-2-1331 or 33-2-1341; or

(b) any of the grounds specified in 33-2-1379(1)(b) through (1)(d).

(2) When an order is sought under subsection (1), the court shall cause the insurer to be given notice and time to respond that is reasonable under the circumstances.

(3) If it appears to the court that the best interests of creditors, policyholders, and the public require, the court may issue an order to liquidate in whatever terms it considers appropriate. The filing or recording of the order with the clerk of the district court or the clerk and recorder of the county in which the principal business of the company is located or the county in which its principal office or place of business is located shall impart the same notice as a deed, bill of sale, or other evidence of title duly filed or recorded with that clerk and recorder would have imparted.

(4) If a domiciliary liquidator is appointed in a reciprocal state while a liquidation is proceeding under this section, the liquidator under this section shall act as ancillary receiver under 33-2-1382. If a domiciliary liquidator is appointed in a nonreciprocal state while a liquidation is proceeding under this section, the liquidator under this section may petition the court for permission to act as ancillary receiver under 33-2-1382.

(5) On the same grounds as specified in subsection (1), the commissioner may petition any appropriate federal district court to be appointed receiver to liquidate that portion of the insurer's assets and business over which the court will exercise jurisdiction or any lesser part of the assets and business that the commissioner considers desirable for the protection of the policyholders and creditors in this state.

(6) The court may order the commissioner, when the commissioner has liquidated the assets of a foreign or alien insurer under this section, to pay claims of residents of this state against the insurer under rules that relate to the liquidation of insurers under this part and that are otherwise compatible with the provisions of this section.

History: En. Sec. 51, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1126, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-1381. Domiciliary liquidators in other states. (1) The domiciliary liquidator of an insurer domiciled in a reciprocal state is, except as to special deposits and security on secured claims under 33-2-1382(3), vested by operation of law with the title to all of the assets, property, contracts, and rights of action, insurance producers' balances, and all of the books, accounts, and other records of the insurer located in this state. The date of vesting must be the date of the filing of the petition if that date is specified by the domiciliary law for the vesting of property in the domiciliary state. Otherwise, the date of vesting is the date of entry of the order directing possession to be taken. The domiciliary liquidator has the immediate right to recover balances due from insurance producers and to obtain possession of the books, accounts, and other records of the insurer located in this state. The domiciliary liquidator also has the right to recover all other assets of the insurer located in this state, subject to 33-2-1382.

(2) If a domiciliary liquidator is appointed for an insurer not domiciled in a reciprocal state, the commissioner of this state is vested by operation of law with the title to all of the property, contracts, and rights of action and all of the books, accounts, and other records of the insurer located in this state, at the same time that the domiciliary liquidator is vested with title in the domicile. The commissioner of this state may petition for a conservation or liquidation order under 33-2-1379 or 33-2-1380 or for an ancillary receivership under 33-2-1382 or, after approval by the district court, may transfer title to the domiciliary liquidator that the interests of justice and the equitable distribution of the assets require.

(3) Claimants residing in this state may file claims with the liquidator or ancillary receiver, if any, in this state or with the domiciliary liquidator if the domiciliary law permits. The claims must be filed on or before the last date fixed for the filing of claims in the domiciliary liquidation proceedings.

History: En. Sec. 52, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 1127, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-1382. Ancillary formal proceedings. (1) If a domiciliary liquidator has been appointed for an insurer not domiciled in this state, the commissioner may file a petition with the district court requesting appointment as ancillary receiver in this state:

(a) if the commissioner finds that there are sufficient assets of the insurer located in this state to justify the appointment of an ancillary receiver;

(b) if the protection of creditors or policyholders in this state requires.

(2) The court may issue an order appointing an ancillary receiver in whatever terms it considers appropriate. The filing or recording of the order with the county clerk and recorder imparts the same notice as a deed, bill of sale, or other evidence of title duly filed or recorded.

(3) When a domiciliary liquidator has been appointed in a reciprocal state, then the ancillary receiver appointed in this state may, whenever necessary, aid and assist the domiciliary liquidator in recovering assets of the insurer located in this state. The ancillary receiver shall, as soon as practicable, liquidate from respective securities those special deposit claims and secured claims that are proved and allowed in the ancillary proceedings in this state and shall pay the necessary expenses of the proceedings. The ancillary receiver shall promptly transfer all remaining assets, books, accounts, and records to the domiciliary liquidator. Subject to this section, the ancillary receiver and the ancillary receiver's deputies have the same powers and are subject to the same duties with respect to the administration of assets as a liquidator of an insurer domiciled in this state.

(4) When a domiciliary liquidator has been appointed in this state, ancillary receivers appointed in reciprocal states have, as to assets and books, accounts, and other records in their respective states, corresponding rights, duties, and powers to those provided in subsection (3) for ancillary receivers appointed in this state.

33-2-1383. Ancillary summary proceedings. The commissioner may institute proceedings under 33-2-1321 through 33-2-1323 at the request of the commissioner or other appropriate insurance official of the domiciliary state of any foreign or alien insurer having property located in this state.

History: En. Sec. 54, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1129, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-1384. Claims of nonresidents against insurers domiciled in this state. (1) In a liquidation proceeding begun in this state against an insurer domiciled in this state, claimants residing in foreign countries or in states not reciprocal states must file claims in this state, and claimants residing in reciprocal states may file claims either with the ancillary receivers, if any, in their respective states or with the domiciliary liquidator. Claims must be filed on or before the last date fixed for the filing of claims in the domiciliary liquidation proceeding.

(2) Claims belonging to claimants residing in reciprocal states may be proved either in the liquidation proceeding in this state as provided in this part or in ancillary proceedings, if any, in the reciprocal states. If notice of the claims and opportunity to appear and be heard is afforded the domiciliary liquidator of this state as provided in 33-2-1385(2) with respect to ancillary proceedings, the final allowance of claims by the courts in ancillary proceedings in reciprocal states is conclusive as to amount and as to priority against special deposits or other security located in such ancillary states but is not conclusive with respect to priorities against general assets under 33-2-1371.

History: En. Sec. 55, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1385. Claims of residents against insurers domiciled in reciprocal states. (1) In a liquidation proceeding in a reciprocal state against an insurer domiciled in that state, claimants against the insurer who reside within this state may file claims either with the ancillary receiver, if any, in this state or with the domiciliary liquidator. Claims must be filed on or before the last dates fixed for the filing of claims in the domiciliary liquidation proceeding.

(2) Claims belonging to claimants residing in this state may be proved either in the domiciliary state under the law of that state or in ancillary proceedings, if any, in this state. If a claimant elects to prove a claim in this state, the claimant shall file the claim with the liquidator in the manner provided in 33-2-1364 and 33-2-1365. The ancillary receiver shall make a recommendation to the court in the same manner provided in 33-2-1372. The ancillary receiver shall also arrange a date for hearing, if necessary, under 33-2-1368 and shall give notice to the liquidator in the domiciliary state, either by certified mail or by personal service, at least 40 days prior to the date set for hearing. If the domiciliary liquidator, within 30 days after the giving of the notice, gives notice in writing to the ancillary receiver and to the claimant, either by certified mail or by personal service, of the ancillary receiver's intention to contest the claim, the ancillary receiver is entitled to appear or to be represented in any proceeding in this state involving the adjudication of the claim.

(3) The final allowance of the claim by the courts of this state must be accepted as conclusive as to amount and as to priority against special deposits or other security located in this state.

33-2-1386. Exemption from legal process during pendency of liquidation. During the pendency in this or any other state of a liquidation proceeding, whether called by that name or not, no action or proceeding in the nature of an attachment, garnishment, or levy of execution may be commenced or maintained in this state against the delinquent insurer or its assets.

History: En. Sec. 57, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1387. Interstate priorities. (1) In a liquidation proceeding in this state involving one or more reciprocal states, the order of distribution of the domiciliary state must control as to all claims of residents of this and reciprocal states. All claims of residents of reciprocal states must be given equal priority of payment from general assets regardless of where the assets are located.

(2) The owners of special deposit claims against an insurer for which a liquidator is appointed in this or any other state is given priority against the special deposits in accordance with the statutes governing the creation and maintenance of the deposits. If there is a deficiency in any deposit so that the claims secured by it are not fully discharged from it, the claimants may share in the general assets, but the sharing must be deferred until general creditors, and also claimants against other special deposits who have received smaller percentages from their respective special deposits, have been paid percentages of their claims equal to the percentage paid from the special deposit.

(3) The owner of a secured claim against an insurer for which a liquidator has been appointed in this or any other state may surrender the security and file the claim as a general creditor, or the claim may be discharged by resort to the security in accordance with 33-2-1370, in which case the deficiency, if any, must be treated as a claim against the general assets of the insurer on the same basis as claims of unsecured creditors.

History: En. Sec. 58, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1131, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-2-1388. Subordination of claims for noncooperation of ancillary receiver. If an ancillary receiver in another state or foreign country, whether called by that name or not, fails to transfer to the domiciliary liquidator in this state any assets within the ancillary receiver's control, other than special deposits, diminished only by the expenses of the ancillary receivership, if any, the claims filed in the ancillary receivership, other than special deposit claims or secured claims, must be placed in the class of claims under 33-2-1371(8).

History: En. Sec. 59, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 28, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-2-1389 and 33-2-1390 reserved.

33-2-1391. Condition on release from delinquency proceedings. An insurer that is subject to any delinquency proceeding, whether formal, informal, administrative, or judicial, may not:

(1) be released from the proceeding, unless the proceeding is converted to a judicial rehabilitation or liquidation proceeding;

(2) be permitted to solicit or accept new business or request or accept the restoration of any suspended or revoked license or certificate of authority;

(3) be returned to the control of its shareholders or private management; or

(4) have any of its assets returned to the control of its shareholders or private management until all payments of or on account of the insurer's contractual obligations by all guaranty associations, along with all expenses of the guaranty associations and interest on all payments and expenses, have been repaid to the guaranty associations or a plan of repayment by the insurer has been approved by the guaranty association.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1392. Indemnification of rehabilitator, liquidator, and employees — persons covered. (1) The persons entitled to protection under 33-2-1393 and 33-2-1394 are:

(a) all rehabilitators and liquidators responsible for the conduct of a delinquency proceeding under Title 33, chapter 2, including present and former rehabilitators and liquidators; and

(b) the employees of the rehabilitators and liquidators, including all present and former special deputies and assistant special deputies appointed by the commissioner, and all persons whom the commissioner, special deputies, or assistant special deputies have employed to assist in a delinquency proceeding under Title 33, chapter 2.

(2) Attorneys, accountants, auditors, and other professional persons or firms, who are retained by the rehabilitator or liquidator as independent contractors, and their employees are not considered employees of the rehabilitator or liquidator for purposes of any cause of action initiated by the rehabilitator or liquidator against the independent contractor in the name of the rehabilitation or liquidation estate.

History: En. Sec. 36, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1393. Indemnification of rehabilitator, liquidator, and employees. (1) If any legal action is commenced against the rehabilitator or liquidator or any employee of the rehabilitator or liquidator, whether against the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee personally or in an official capacity, alleging property damage, property loss, personal injury, or other civil liability caused by or resulting from any alleged act, error, or omission of the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee arising out of or by reason of duties or employment, the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee is indemnified from the assets of the insurer for all expenses, attorney fees, judgments, settlements, decrees, surety bond premiums, or amounts due and owing or paid in satisfaction of or incurred in the defense of the legal action unless it is determined upon a final adjudication on the merits that the alleged act, error, or omission of the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee that gave rise to the claim did not arise out of or by reason of the rehabilitator's, liquidator's, or employee's duties or employment or was caused by intentional or willful and wanton misconduct.

(2) Attorney fees and related expenses incurred in defending a legal action for which indemnity is available under this section must be paid from the assets of the insurer, as the expenses are incurred and in advance of the final disposition of the action, upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee to repay the attorney fees and expenses. If, upon a final adjudication on the merits, it is determined that the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee is not entitled to indemnity under this section, the payment must be made from the undertaking.

(3) An indemnification for expenses, attorney fees, judgments, settlements, decrees, surety bond premiums, or other amounts paid or to be paid from the insurer's assets pursuant to this section are an administrative expense of the insurer.

(4) If actual or threatened litigation against a rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee for which indemnity may be available under this section occurs, a reasonable amount of funds that in the judgment of the commissioner may be needed to provide indemnity must be segregated and reserved from the assets of the insurer as security for the payment of indemnity until all applicable statutes of limitation have run, all actual or threatened actions against the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee have been completely and finally resolved, and all obligations of the insurer and the commissioner under this section have been satisfied.

(5) In lieu of segregation and reservation of funds, the commissioner may obtain a surety bond or make other arrangements that will enable the commissioner to fully secure the payment of all obligations under this section.

History: En. Sec. 37, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1394. Settlement of actions against rehabilitator, liquidator, and employees — court approval — applicability. (1) If any legal action against an employee for which indemnity may be available under this section is settled prior to final adjudication on the merits, the insurer shall pay the settlement amount on behalf of the employee or indemnify the employee for the settlement amount unless the commissioner determines:

(a) that the claim did not arise out of or by reason of the employee's duties or employment; or

(b) that the claim was caused by the intentional or willful and wanton misconduct of the employee.

(2) In a legal action in which the rehabilitator or liquidator is a defendant, that portion of any settlement relating to the alleged act, error, or omission of the rehabilitator or liquidator is subject to the approval of the court before which the delinquency proceeding is pending. The court may not approve that portion of the settlement if it determines:

(a) that the claim did not arise out of or by reason of the rehabilitator's or liquidator's duties or employment; or

(b) that the claim was caused by the intentional or willful and wanton misconduct of the rehabilitator or liquidator.

(3) This section may not be construed to deprive the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee of immunity, indemnity, benefit of law, right, or defense available under any provision of law, including, without limitation, the provisions of Title 2, chapter 9.

(4) (a) Except as otherwise provided, a legal action by a third party does not lie against the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee based in whole or in part on any alleged act, error, or omission that took place prior to October 1, 1993, unless suit is filed and valid service of process is obtained by October 1, 1994. A legal action that is pending on or filed after September 30, 1993, by a liquidator or a liquidation estate will lie against a former special deputy liquidator or any employee, agent, or independent contractor retained by a special deputy liquidator without regard to when the alleged act, error, or omission occurred.

(b) Subsections (1) through (3) apply to any suit that is pending on or filed after October 1, 1993, without regard to when the alleged act, error, or omission took place.

Part 14
Certificates of Insurance Model Act

33-2-1401. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Certificates of Insurance Model Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 303, L. 2013.

33-2-1402. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Certificate of insurance" means a document or instrument, regardless of how titled or described, that is prepared or issued by an insurer or insurance producer as evidence of property or casualty insurance coverage. The term does not include a policy of insurance, insurance binder, policy endorsement, or automobile insurance identification or information card.

(2) "Insurance producer" means a person required to be licensed under the laws of this state to sell, solicit, or negotiate property or casualty insurance.

(3) "Insurer" means an organization that issues property or casualty insurance.

(4) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other legal entity, including any government or governmental subdivision or agency.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 303, L. 2013.

33-2-1403. Certificate forms. (1) Except as provided in subsection (3), a person may not prepare, issue, request, or require the issuance of a certificate of insurance on property, operations, or risks located in this state unless the certificate of insurance form has been filed with the commissioner by or on behalf of an insurer.

(2) The commissioner shall prohibit the use of a certificate of insurance form if the form is unfair, misleading, or deceptive or violates public policy or law, including rules adopted by the commissioner.

(3) Insurers are not required to file the current standard certificate of insurance forms promulgated and filed with the commissioner by the association for cooperative operations research and development, the American association of insurance services, or the insurance services office, inc., or certificate of insurance forms whose specific content and wording are established by federal law or regulation or by any law or rule of this state.

(4) A certificate of insurance is not a policy of insurance and does not affirmatively or negatively amend, extend, or alter the coverage afforded by the policy to which the certificate of insurance makes reference. A certificate of insurance may not confer to any person new or additional rights beyond what the referenced policy of insurance expressly provides.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 303, L. 2013.

33-2-1404. Limitations on use. (1) A person may not:

(a) alter or modify a certificate of insurance form filed with the commissioner;

(b) prepare, issue, request, or require the issuance of a certificate of insurance that contains any false or misleading information concerning the policy of insurance to which the certificate of insurance makes reference; or

(c) prepare, issue, request, or require the issuance of a certificate of insurance that purports to affirmatively or negatively alter, amend, or extend the coverage provided by the policy of insurance to which the certificate of insurance makes reference.

(2) A certificate of insurance may not warrant that the policy of insurance referenced in the certificate complies with the insurance or indemnification requirements of a contract, and the inclusion of a contract number or description in the certificate of insurance may not be interpreted as warranting compliance with the insurance or indemnification requirements of a contract.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 303, L. 2013.

33-2-1405. Notice requirements. A person is entitled to notice of cancellation, nonrenewal, or other material change concerning a policy of insurance only if the person has notice rights under the terms of the policy of insurance or any endorsement to the policy. The terms and conditions of the notice are governed by the policy of insurance or endorsement and may not be altered by a certificate of insurance.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 303, L. 2013.

33-2-1406. Scope — voidness. (1) The provisions of this part apply to all certificates of insurance issued in connection with property, operations, or risks located in this state, regardless of where the policyholder, insurer, insurance producer, or person requesting or requiring the issuance of the certificate of insurance is located.

(2) A certificate of insurance or any other document or correspondence prepared, issued, requested, or required in violation of this part is void.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 303, L. 2013.

33-2-1407. Enforcement and penalties — rulemaking. (1) The commissioner may examine and investigate the activities of any person that the commissioner reasonably believes has been or is engaged in an act or practice prohibited by this part.

(2) The commissioner may enforce the provisions of this part by issuing cease and desist orders and by imposing a fine not to exceed $1,000 for each violation.

(3) The commissioner may adopt rules to implement the provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 303, L. 2013.

Part 15
Regulation of Controlled Insurers and Controlling Producers

33-2-1501. Definitions. As used in parts 15 through 17 of this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Accredited state" means a state in which the department of insurance or regulatory agency has qualified as meeting the minimum financial regulatory standards promulgated and established from time to time by the national association of insurance commissioners.

(2) "Actuary" means a person who is a member in good standing of the American academy of actuaries.

(3) "Captive insurer" means:

(a) an insurer that is owned by another entity and whose exclusive purpose is to insure risks of the parent entity and its affiliates; or

(b) in the case of a group or association, an insurer that is owned by the member insureds and whose exclusive purpose is to insure risks to member insureds and their affiliates.

(4) "Control" or "controlled" has the meaning defined in 33-2-1101.

(5) "Controlled insurer" means an authorized insurer that is controlled, directly or indirectly, by a producer.

(6) "Controlling person" means a person, firm, association, or corporation that has the power to direct or cause to be directed the management, control, or activities of a reinsurance intermediary.

(7) "Controlling producer" means a producer who, directly or indirectly, controls an insurer.

(8) (a) "Insurer" means any person, firm, association, or corporation authorized, under Title 33, chapter 2, part 1, to transact insurance business in this state.

(b) The term does not mean:

(i) residual market pools and joint underwriting authorities or associations; or

(ii) captive insurers, other than captive risk retention groups as defined in 33-28-101.

(9) "Licensed producer" means a producer or reinsurance intermediary licensed pursuant to this title.

(10) (a) "Managing general agent" means a person who:

(i) manages all or part of the insurance business of an insurer and acts as an agent for the insurer;

(ii) either separately or together with affiliates, produces, directly or indirectly, and underwrites an amount of gross written premiums equal to or more than 5% of the policyholder surplus in any quarter or year; and

(iii) engages in one or more of the following activities on the business produced:

(A) adjustment or payment of claims in excess of an amount determined by the commissioner; or

(B) negotiation of reinsurance on behalf of the insurer.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) an employee of the insurer;

(ii) a manager of the United States branch of an alien insurer;

(iii) an underwriting manager who, pursuant to contract, manages all or part of the insurance operations of the insurer, is under common control with the insurer, is subject to Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, and whose compensation is not based solely on the value of premiums written;

(iv) the attorney-in-fact authorized by and acting for the subscribers of a reciprocal insurer or an interinsurance exchange under powers of attorney;

(v) a person managing the property and liability business of a resident domestic farm mutual insurer who has been granted a managing general agent waiver under 33-4-320; or

(vi) a director of a resident domestic farm mutual insurer who adjusts claims and participates in the underwriting process.

(11) "NAIC" means the national association of insurance commissioners.

(12) "Producer" means an insurance producer or reinsurance intermediary authorized or licensed pursuant to this title.

(13) (a) "Qualified United States financial institution" means a financial institution that:

(i) is organized or licensed under the laws of the United States or any state;

(ii) is regulated, supervised, and examined by federal or state authorities having regulatory authority over banks and trust companies and that either:

(A) is determined by the commissioner to meet the standards of financial condition and standing considered necessary and appropriate to regulate the quality of financial institutions whose letters of credit are acceptable to the commissioner; or

(B) is eligible to act as a fiduciary of a trust or has been granted authority to operate with fiduciary powers.

(b) For purposes of this definition, the commissioner may by rule adopt standards of financial condition and standing that may be developed from time to time by the securities valuation office of the NAIC.

(14) "Reinsurance intermediary" means a reinsurance intermediary-broker or a reinsurance intermediary-manager.

(15) "Reinsurance intermediary-broker" means a person, other than an officer or employee of the ceding insurer, who solicits, negotiates, or places reinsurance cessions or retrocessions on behalf of a ceding insurer without the authority or power to bind reinsurance on behalf of the insurer.

(16) (a) "Reinsurance intermediary-manager" means a person who:

(i) has authority to bind or who manages all or part of the assumed reinsurance business of a reinsurer, including the management of a separate division, department, or underwriting office; and

(ii) acts as an agent for the reinsurer, whether known as a reinsurance intermediary-manager, manager, or other similar term.

(b) The following persons are not considered reinsurance intermediary-managers with respect to the reinsurer:

(i) an employee of the reinsurer;

(ii) a manager of the United States branch of an alien reinsurer;

(iii) an underwriting manager who, pursuant to contract, manages all of the reinsurance operations of the reinsurer, is under common control with the reinsurer, is subject to Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, and whose compensation is not based on the volume of premiums written; or

(iv) a person who manages groups, associations, pools, or organizations of insurers that engage in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance and that are subject to examination by the insurance commissioner of the state in which the manager's principal business office is located.

(17) "Reinsurer" means a person, firm, association, or corporation licensed in this state under this title as an insurer with authority to assume reinsurance.

(18) "Underwrite" means the authority to accept or reject risk on behalf of the insurer.

33-2-1502. Filing requirements. (1) Each domestic, foreign, and alien insurer authorized to transact insurance in this state shall, on or before March 1 of each year, file with the NAIC a copy of its annual statement convention form, along with any additional filings for the preceding year as prescribed by the commissioner. The information filed with the NAIC must be in the same format and scope as that required by the commissioner and must include the signed jurat page and the actuarial certification. Amendments to the annual statement filing that are subsequently filed with the commissioner must also be filed with the NAIC.

(2) Foreign insurers domiciled in a state that has a law substantially similar to this section are considered to be in compliance with this section.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1503. Immunity of NAIC. In the absence of actual malice, members of the NAIC; their authorized committees, subcommittees, task forces, delegates, and employees; and all others charged with the responsibility of collecting and processing the information developed from the filing of the annual statement convention forms are considered to act under the authority of 33-2-1502 through 33-2-1504. They are not subject to civil liability for libel, slander, or any other cause of action arising from their collection, review, analysis, or dissemination of information collected from the filings required by 33-1-408 through 33-1-410, 33-2-1216 through 33-2-1218, 33-2-1391 through 33-2-1394, Title 33, chapter 2, parts 15 through 17, and 33-11-110.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1504. Confidentiality. All financial analysis ratios and examination synopses concerning insurance companies that are submitted to the department by the NAIC insurance regulatory information systems are confidential and may not be disclosed by the department.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1505 through 33-2-1508 reserved.

33-2-1509. Applicability of minimum standards. (1) The provisions of 33-2-1510 apply if, in any calendar year, the aggregate amount of gross written premiums on business placed with a controlled insurer by a controlling producer is equal to or greater than 5% of the admitted assets of the controlled insurer, as reported in the controlled insurer's quarterly statement filed as of September 30 of the prior year.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1), the provisions of 33-2-1510 do not apply if:

(a) the controlling producer:

(i) does not receive compensation based upon the amount of premiums written in connection with the insurance and places insurance only with:

(A) the controlled insurer; or

(B) the controlled insurer and a member or members of the controlled insurer's holding company system or the controlled insurer's parent, affiliate, or subsidiary; and

(ii) accepts insurance placements only from nonaffiliated subproducers and not directly from insureds; and

(b) except for insurance business written through a residual market facility, the controlled insurer accepts insurance business only from a controlling producer, a producer controlled by the controlled insurer, or a producer that is a subsidiary of the controlled insurer.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1510. Minimum standards. Unless there is a written contract between a controlling producer and a controlled insurer specifying the responsibilities of each party, the controlled insurer may not accept business from the controlling producer and the controlling producer may not place business with the controlled insurer. The contract must be approved by the board of directors of the controlled insurer and must contain the following minimum provisions:

(1) The controlled insurer may terminate the contract for cause, upon written notice to the controlling producer. The controlled insurer shall suspend the authority of the controlling producer to write business during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause for the termination.

(2) The controlling producer shall render to the controlled insurer accounts detailing all material transactions, including information necessary to support all commissions, charges, and other fees received by or owing to the controlling producer.

(3) On at least a monthly basis, the controlling producer shall remit to the controlled insurer all funds due under the terms of the contract. The due date must be fixed so that premiums or installments of premiums collected must be remitted no later than 90 days after the effective date of any policy placed with the controlled insurer under the contract.

(4) In accordance with the provisions of this title, all funds collected for the controlled insurer's account must be held by the controlling producer in a fiduciary capacity, in one or more appropriately identified bank accounts in banks that are members of the federal reserve system. However, funds of a controlling producer not required to be licensed in this state must be maintained in compliance with the requirements of the jurisdiction in which the controlling producer is domiciled.

(5) The controlling producer shall maintain separately identifiable records of business written for the controlled insurer.

(6) The contract may not be assigned in whole or in part by the controlling producer.

(7) The controlled insurer shall provide the controlling producer with its underwriting standards, rules, procedures, manuals setting forth the rates to be charged, and the conditions for the acceptance or rejection of risks. The controlling producer shall adhere to the standards, rules, procedures, rates, and conditions. The standards, rules, procedures, rates, and conditions must be the same as those applicable to comparable business placed with the controlled insurer by a producer other than the controlling producer.

(8) The rates and terms of the controlling producer's commissions, charges, or other fees and the purposes of those commissions, charges, or fees must be contained in the contract. The rates of the controlling producer's commissions, charges, and other fees may not be greater than those applicable to comparable business placed with the controlled insurer by producers other than controlling producers. For purposes of subsection (7) and this subsection, examples of "comparable business" include the same lines of insurance, same kinds of insurance, same kinds of risks, similar policy limits, and similar quality of business.

(9) If the contract provides that on insurance business placed with the controlled insurer, the controlling producer is to be compensated contingent upon the controlled insurer's profits on that business, then the compensation may not be determined and paid until at least 5 years after the premiums on liability insurance are earned and at least 1 year after the premiums are earned on any other insurance. The commissions may not be paid until the adequacy of the controlled insurer's reserves on remaining claims has been independently verified pursuant to 33-2-1512.

(10) A limit on the controlling producer's writings in relation to the controlled insurer's surplus and total writings must be contained in the contract. The controlled insurer may establish a different limit for each line or subline of business. The controlled insurer shall notify the controlling producer when the applicable limit is approached and may not accept business from the controlling producer if the limit is reached. The controlling producer may not place business with the controlled insurer if it has been notified by the controlled insurer that the limit has been reached.

(11) The controlling producer may negotiate but may not bind reinsurance on behalf of the controlled insurer on business that the controlling producer places with the controlled insurer, except that the controlling producer may bind facultative reinsurance contracts pursuant to obligatory facultative agreements if the contract with the controlled insurer contains underwriting guidelines. For reinsurance assumed and ceded, the guidelines must include a list of reinsurers with which the automatic agreements are in effect, the coverages and amounts or percentages that may be reinsured, and commission schedules.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 32, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1511. Audit committee. Each controlled insurer shall have an audit committee of the board of directors composed of independent directors. The audit committee shall annually review the adequacy of the controlled insurer's loss reserves and meet with management, the controlled insurer's independent certified public accountants, and an independent casualty actuary or other independent loss reserve specialist acceptable to the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1512. Annual report by independent actuary. In addition to any other required loss reserve certification, the controlled insurer shall, on April 1 of each year, file with the commissioner an opinion of an independent casualty actuary or other independent loss reserve specialist acceptable to the commissioner. The opinion must report the loss ratios for each line of business written and must attest to the adequacy of loss reserves established for losses incurred and outstanding as of the yearend, including losses incurred but not reported, on business placed by the producer.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1513. Annual report to commissioner. The controlled insurer shall annually report to the commissioner:

(1) the amount of commissions paid to the producer;

(2) the percentage the amount represents of the net premiums written; and

(3) comparable amounts and the percentage paid to noncontrolling producers for placements of the same kinds of insurance.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1514. Disclosure. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), the producer, prior to the effective date of the policy, shall deliver written notice to the prospective insured, disclosing the relationship between the producer and the controlled insurer.

(2) If the business is placed through a subproducer who is not a controlling producer, the controlling producer shall retain in the controlling producer's records a signed commitment from the subproducer that the subproducer is aware of the relationship between the controlled insurer and the producer and that the subproducer has notified or will notify the insured.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1515. Penalties. (1) (a) If the commissioner believes that a controlling producer or any other person has not materially complied with 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514 or any regulation or order promulgated under 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514, the commissioner, after notice and opportunity to be heard, may order the controlling producer to cease placing business with the controlled insurer.

(b) If it is found that because of the material noncompliance with 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514, the controlled insurer or any policyholder of the controlled insurer has suffered any loss or damage, the commissioner may maintain a civil action or intervene in an action brought by or on behalf of the controlled insurer or policyholder for recovery of compensatory damages for the benefit of the controlled insurer or policyholder or other appropriate relief.

(2) The receiver may maintain a civil action for recovery of damages or other appropriate sanctions for the benefit of the insurer if:

(a) an order for liquidation or rehabilitation of the controlled insurer has been entered pursuant to Title 33, chapter 2, part 13;

(b) the receiver appointed under that order believes that the controlling producer or any other person has not materially complied with 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514 or any regulation or order promulgated under 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514; and

(c) the controlled insurer suffered any loss or damage from the noncompliance.

(3) This section does not affect the right of the commissioner to impose any other penalties provided for in this title.

(4) This section may not be construed to alter or affect the rights of policyholders, claimants, creditors, or other third parties.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1516. Compliance — applicability. (1) Controlled insurers and controlling producers who are not in compliance with 33-2-1510 on October 1, 1993, have 60 days to come into compliance and shall comply with 33-2-1514 in all policies written or renewed on or after December 1, 1993.

(2) Sections 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514 apply to insurers that are domiciled in this state or domiciled in a state that is not an accredited state that has in effect a substantially similar law.

(3) The provisions of Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, to the extent they are not superseded by 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514, continue to apply to all entities within holding company systems subject to 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514.

(4) An insurer may not continue to use the services of a managing general agent after December 1, 1993, unless the use complies with part 16 of this chapter.

(5) An insurer or reinsurer may not continue to use the services of a reinsurance intermediary after December 1, 1993, unless the use complies with part 17 of this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1517. Rulemaking authority. (1) The commissioner may adopt rules implementing the provisions of 33-1-408 through 33-1-410, 33-2-1216 through 33-2-1218, 33-2-1391 through 33-2-1394, Title 33, chapter 2, parts 15 through 17, and 33-11-110.

(2) The authority of the commissioner to adopt rules is specifically extended, without limitation, to establish standards for companies considered to be in hazardous financial condition, to require annual audited financial reports, to regulate life and health reinsurance agreements, to provide for reports to the commissioner by holding company systems, and to establish accounting practices and procedures to be used by insurers in their annual statements.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

Part 16
Regulation of Managing General Agents

Part Cross-References

Agency, Title 28, ch. 10.

33-2-1601. Licensure of managing general agent. (1) A person, firm, association, or corporation may not act in the capacity of a managing general agent with respect to risks located in this state for an insurer licensed in this state unless the person is a licensed producer in this state.

(2) A person, firm, association, or corporation may not act in the capacity of a managing general agent representing an insurer domiciled in this state with respect to risks located outside this state unless the person is licensed as a resident or nonresident producer in this state pursuant to the provisions of this part.

(3) The commissioner may require a bond in an amount acceptable to the commissioner for the protection of the insurer.

(4) The commissioner may require the managing general agent to maintain a policy on errors and omissions.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1602. Managing general agent — required contract provisions. A person acting in the capacity of a managing general agent may not place business with an insurer unless there is in force a written contract between the parties that sets forth the responsibilities of each party. Whenever both parties share responsibility for a particular function, the written contract must specify the division of responsibilities. The contract must provide at least the following:

(1) The insurer may terminate the contract for cause upon written notice to the managing general agent. The insurer may suspend the underwriting authority of the managing general agent during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause for termination.

(2) The managing general agent shall render accounts to the insurer, detailing all transactions, and shall remit all funds due under the contract to the insurer on not less than a monthly basis.

(3) All funds collected for the account of an insurer must be held by the managing general agent in a fiduciary capacity in a bank that is a member of the federal reserve system. This account must be used for all payments on behalf of the insurer. The managing general agent may not retain more than 3 months' estimated claims payments and allocated loss adjustment expenses.

(4) Separate records of business written by the managing general agent must be maintained. The insurer has access to and may copy all accounts and records that are related to its business, in a form usable by the insurer. The commissioner has access to all books, bank accounts, and records of the managing general agent in a form usable to the commissioner. The records must be retained pursuant to 33-3-401.

(5) The contract may not be assigned in whole or in part by the managing general agent.

(6) The contract must contain appropriate underwriting guidelines, including:

(a) the maximum annual premium volume;

(b) the basis of the rates to be charged;

(c) the types of risks that may be written;

(d) maximum limits of liability;

(e) any applicable exclusions;

(f) the territorial limitations;

(g) policy cancellation provisions; and

(h) the maximum policy period.

(7) The insurer may cancel or decline to renew any policy of insurance, as provided by law.

(8) If the contract permits the managing general agent to settle claims on behalf of the insurer:

(a) all claims must be reported to the company in a timely manner;

(b) a copy of the claims file must be sent to the insurer at its request or as soon as it becomes known that the claim:

(i) has the potential to exceed an amount determined by the commissioner or actually exceeds the limit set by the company, whichever is less;

(ii) involves a coverage dispute;

(iii) may exceed the managing general agent's claims settlement authority;

(iv) is open for more than 6 months; or

(v) is closed by payment of an amount set by the commissioner or an amount set by the company, whichever is less;

(c) all claims files are the joint property of the insurer and managing general agent. However, upon an order of liquidation of the insurer, the files become the sole property of the insurer or its estate. The managing general agent has reasonable access to and may copy the files on a timely basis.

(d) any settlement authority granted to the managing general agent may be terminated for cause upon the insurer's written notice to the managing general agent or upon the termination of the contract. The insurer may suspend the settlement authority during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause for termination.

(9) When electronic claims files are in existence, the contract must address the timely transmission of the data.

(10) If the contract provides for a sharing of interim profits by the managing general agent and the managing general agent has the authority to determine the amount of the interim profits, whether by establishing loss reserves or controlling claim payments or in any other manner, interim profits may not be paid to the managing general agent until:

(a) 1 year after they are earned for property insurance business;

(b) 5 years after they are earned on casualty business; and

(c) the profits have been verified.

(11) The managing general agent may not:

(a) bind reinsurance or retrocessions on behalf of the insurer, except that the managing general agent may bind facultative reinsurance contracts pursuant to obligatory facultative agreements if the contract with the insurer contains reinsurance underwriting guidelines, including for reinsurance assumed and ceded:

(i) a list of reinsurers with which automatic agreements are in effect;

(ii) the coverages and amounts or percentages that may be reinsured; and

(iii) commission schedules;

(b) commit the insurer to participate in insurance or reinsurance syndicates;

(c) appoint any producer without ensuring that the producer is lawfully licensed to transact the type of insurance for which the producer is appointed;

(d) without prior approval of the insurer, pay or commit the insurer to pay a claim over a specified amount, net of reinsurance, which may not exceed 1% of the insurer's policyholder's surplus as of December 31 of the last-completed calendar year;

(e) collect any payment from a reinsurer or commit the insurer to any claim settlement with a reinsurer without the prior approval of the insurer. If prior approval is given, a report must be promptly forwarded to the insurer.

(f) permit its subproducer to serve on the insurer's board of directors;

(g) jointly employ an individual who is employed with the insurer; or

(h) appoint a submanaging general agent.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1603. Duties of insurers. (1) The insurer must have on file an independent financial examination, in a form acceptable to the commissioner, of each managing general agent with which it has done business.

(2) If a managing general agent establishes loss reserves, the insurer shall annually obtain the opinion of an actuary attesting to the adequacy of loss reserves established for losses incurred and outstanding on business produced by the managing general agent. This is in addition to any other required loss reserve certification.

(3) At least semiannually, the insurer shall conduct an onsite review of the underwriting and claims processing operations of the managing general agent.

(4) Binding authority for all reinsurance contracts or participation in insurance or reinsurance syndicates rests with an officer of the insurer who is not affiliated with the managing general agent.

(5) Within 30 days of entering into or termination of a contract with a managing general agent, the insurer shall provide the commissioner with written notification of the appointment or termination. Notices of appointment of a managing general agent must include a statement of duties that the applicant is expected to perform on behalf of the insurer, the lines of insurance for which the applicant is to be authorized to act, and any other information the commissioner may request.

(6) An insurer shall review its books and records each quarter to determine if any producer has become a managing general agent. If the insurer determines that a producer has become a managing general agent, the insurer shall promptly notify the producer and the commissioner of the determination and the insurer and the producer shall comply with this part within 30 days.

(7) An insurer may not appoint to its board of directors an officer, director, employee, subproducer, or controlling shareholder of its managing general agent. This subsection does not apply to relationships governed by Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, or 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1604. Examination authority. The acts of the managing general agent are considered to be the acts of the insurer on whose behalf it is acting. A managing general agent may be examined as if it were the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1605. Penalties and liabilities. (1) If, after a hearing conducted in accordance with Title 33, chapter 1, part 7, the commissioner finds that a person has violated any provision of this part, the commissioner may order:

(a) a penalty in an amount of $5,000 for each separate violation;

(b) revocation or suspension of the producer's license; and

(c) the managing general agent to reimburse the insurer, the rehabilitator, or a liquidator of the insurer for any losses incurred by the insurer caused by a violation of this part committed by the managing general agent.

(2) An order of the commissioner pursuant to subsection (1) is subject to judicial review pursuant to 33-1-711.

(3) This section does not limit the power of the commissioner to impose any other penalty provided in this title.

(4) This part does not limit the rights of policyholders, claimants, or creditors.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 33, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

Part 17
Regulation of Reinsurance Intermediaries

33-2-1701. Licensure of reinsurance intermediaries. (1) A person, firm, association, or corporation may not act as a reinsurance intermediary-broker in this state if the reinsurance intermediary-broker maintains an office directly, as a member or employee of a firm or association, or as an officer, director, or employee of a corporation:

(a) in this state, unless the reinsurance intermediary-broker is a licensed producer in this state; or

(b) in another state, unless the reinsurance intermediary-broker is a licensed producer in this state or another state that has a law substantially similar to this law or unless the reinsurance intermediary-broker is licensed in this state as a nonresident reinsurance intermediary.

(2) A person, firm, association, or corporation may not act as a reinsurance intermediary-manager:

(a) for a reinsurer domiciled in this state, unless the reinsurance intermediary-manager is a licensed producer in this state;

(b) in this state, if the reinsurance intermediary-manager maintains an office either directly or as a member or employee of a firm or association or as an officer, director, or employee of a corporation in this state, unless the reinsurance intermediary-manager is a licensed producer in this state; or

(c) in another state for a nondomestic insurer, unless the reinsurance intermediary-manager is a licensed producer in this state or another state that has a law substantially similar to this law or unless the person is licensed in this state as a nonresident insurance intermediary.

(3) Subject to subsection (2), the commissioner may require a reinsurance intermediary-manager to:

(a) file a bond in an amount from an insurer acceptable to the commissioner for the protection of the reinsurer; and

(b) maintain a policy on errors and omissions in an amount acceptable to the commissioner.

(4) (a) The commissioner may issue a reinsurance intermediary license to any person, firm, association, or corporation that has complied with the requirements of this part. A license issued to a firm or association authorizes all the members of the firm or association and any designated employees to act as reinsurance intermediaries under the license. All authorized persons must be named in the application and in any supplements to the application. A license issued to a corporation must authorize all of the officers and any designated employees and directors to act as reinsurance intermediaries on behalf of the corporation. All authorized persons must be named in the application and in any supplements to the application.

(b) If the applicant for a reinsurance intermediary license is a nonresident, the applicant, as a condition precedent to receiving or holding a license, shall appoint an agent for service of process in the manner provided for by 33-1-605. The licensee shall promptly notify the commissioner in writing of each change in its appointed agent for service of process, and the change may not become effective until acknowledged by the commissioner.

(5) (a) The commissioner may refuse to issue a reinsurance intermediary license if, in the commissioner's judgment:

(i) the applicant, a person named on the application, or a member, principal, officer, or director of the applicant is not trustworthy;

(ii) a controlling person of the applicant is not trustworthy to act as a reinsurance intermediary; or

(iii) any of the persons listed in subsection (5)(a)(i) or (5)(a)(ii) has given cause for revocation or suspension of the license or has failed to comply with any prerequisite for the issuance of the license.

(b) Upon written request, the commissioner shall furnish a summary of the basis for refusal to issue a license.

(6) Licensed attorneys of this state, when acting in their professional capacity, are exempt from this section.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 416, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 60, L. 2019.

33-2-1702. Required contract provisions — reinsurance intermediary-brokers. Transactions between a reinsurance intermediary-broker and the insurer it represents must be entered into pursuant to a written authorization, specifying the responsibilities of each party. The authorization must, at a minimum, contain the following provisions:

(1) The insurer may terminate the reinsurance intermediary-broker's authority at any time.

(2) The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall render to the insurer accounts accurately detailing all material transactions, including information necessary to support all commissions, charges, and other fees received by or owing to the reinsurance intermediary-broker. The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall remit all funds due to the insurer within 30 days of receipt.

(3) All funds collected for the insurer's account must be held by the reinsurance intermediary-broker in a fiduciary capacity in a bank that is a qualified United States financial institution.

(4) The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall comply with the requirements of 33-2-1703.

(5) The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall comply with the written standards established by the insurer for the cession or retrocession of all risks.

(6) The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall disclose to the insurer any relationship with any reinsurer to which business will be ceded or retroceded.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1703. Books and records — reinsurance intermediary-brokers. (1) For at least 10 years after expiration of each contract of reinsurance transacted by the reinsurance intermediary-broker, the reinsurance intermediary-broker shall keep a complete record for each transaction, showing:

(a) the type of contract, limits, underwriting restrictions, classes or risks, and territory;

(b) the period of coverage, including the effective and expiration dates, cancellation provisions, and notice required for cancellation;

(c) the reporting and settlement requirements of balances;

(d) the rate used to compute the reinsurance premium;

(e) the names and addresses of assuming reinsurers;

(f) the rates of all reinsurance commissions, including the commissions on any retrocessions handled by the reinsurance intermediary-broker;

(g) any related correspondence and memorandums;

(h) the proof of placement;

(i) the details regarding retrocessions handled by the reinsurance intermediary-broker, including the identity of the party making the retrocession and the percentage of each contract assumed or ceded;

(j) the financial records, including but not limited to premium and loss accounts; and

(k) when the reinsurance intermediary-broker procures a reinsurance contract on behalf of a licensed ceding insurer:

(i) directly from any assuming reinsurer, written evidence that the assuming reinsurer has agreed to assume the risk; or

(ii) if placed through a representative of the assuming reinsurer, other than an employee, written evidence that the reinsurer has delegated binding authority to the representative.

(2) The insurer has access to and may copy and audit all accounts and records maintained by the reinsurance intermediary-broker that are related to the insurer's business, in a form usable by the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1704. Duties of insurers utilizing the services of a reinsurance intermediary-broker. (1) An insurer may not engage the services of any person, firm, association, or corporation to act as a reinsurance intermediary-broker on its behalf unless the person is licensed as required by 33-2-1701.

(2) An insurer may not employ an individual who is employed by a reinsurance intermediary-broker with which it transacts business unless the reinsurance intermediary-broker is under common control with the insurer and is subject to the provisions of Title 33, chapter 2, part 11.

(3) The insurer shall annually obtain a copy of statements of the financial condition of each reinsurance intermediary-broker with which it transacts business.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1705. Required contract provisions — reinsurance intermediary-managers. Transactions between a reinsurance intermediary-manager and the reinsurer it represents in that capacity may only be entered into pursuant to a written contract specifying the responsibilities of each party. The contract must be approved by the reinsurer's board of directors. At least 30 days before the reinsurer assumes or cedes business through a producer, a true copy of the approved contract must be filed with the commissioner for approval. The contract must, at a minimum, include the following provisions:

(1) The reinsurer may terminate the contract for cause upon written notice to the reinsurance intermediary-manager. The reinsurer may immediately suspend the authority of the reinsurance intermediary-manager to assume or cede business during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause for termination.

(2) The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall render accounts to the reinsurer accurately detailing all material transactions, including information necessary to support all commissions, charges, and other fees received by or owed to the reinsurance intermediary-manager, and shall remit all funds due under the contract to the reinsurer on not less than a monthly basis.

(3) All funds collected for the reinsurer's account will be held by the reinsurance intermediary-manager in a fiduciary capacity in a bank that is a qualified United States financial institution. The reinsurance intermediary-manager may not retain more than 3 months' estimated claims payments and allocated loss adjustment expenses. The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall maintain a separate bank account for each reinsurer that it represents.

(4) For at least 10 years after expiration of each contract of reinsurance transacted by the reinsurance intermediary-manager, the reinsurance intermediary-manager shall keep a complete record for each transaction showing:

(a) the type of contract, limits, underwriting restrictions, classes or risks, and territory;

(b) the period of coverage, including effective and expiration dates, cancellation provisions, notice required for cancellation, and disposition of outstanding reserves on covered risks;

(c) the reporting and settlement requirements of balances;

(d) the rate used to compute the reinsurance premium;

(e) the names and addresses of reinsurers;

(f) the rates of all reinsurance commissions, including the commissions on any retrocessions handled by the reinsurance intermediary-manager;

(g) related correspondence and memorandums;

(h) proof of placement;

(i) details regarding retrocessions handled by the reinsurance intermediary-manager, as permitted by 33-2-1707, including the identity of persons making the retrocessions and the percentage of each contract assumed or ceded;

(j) financial records, including but not limited to premium and loss accounts; and

(k) when the reinsurance intermediary-manager places a reinsurance contract on behalf of a ceding insurer:

(i) directly from any assuming reinsurer, written evidence that the assuming reinsurer has agreed to assume the risk; or

(ii) if placed through a representative of the assuming reinsurer, other than an employee, written evidence that the assuming reinsurer has delegated binding authority to the representative.

(5) The reinsurer will have access to and the right to copy all accounts and records maintained by the reinsurance intermediary-manager related to its business in a form usable by the reinsurer.

(6) The contract may not be assigned in whole or in part by the reinsurance intermediary-manager.

(7) The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall comply with the written underwriting and rating standards established by the insurer for the acceptance, rejection, or cession of all risks.

(8) The rates, terms, and purposes of commissions, charges, and other fees that the reinsurance intermediary-manager may levy against the reinsurer must be set forth.

(9) If the contract permits the reinsurance intermediary-manager to settle claims on behalf of the reinsurer:

(a) all claims must be reported to the reinsurer in a timely manner;

(b) a copy of the claim file must be sent to the reinsurer at its request or as soon as it becomes known that the claim:

(i) has the potential to exceed the lesser of an amount determined by the commissioner or the limit set by the reinsurer;

(ii) involves a coverage dispute;

(iii) may exceed the reinsurance intermediary-manager's claims settlement authority;

(iv) is open for more than 6 months; or

(v) is closed by payment of the lesser of an amount set by the commissioner or an amount set by the reinsurer;

(c) all claim files must be the joint property of the reinsurer and the reinsurance intermediary-manager. However, upon an order of liquidation of the reinsurer, the files become the sole property of the reinsurer or its estate. The reinsurance intermediary-manager must have reasonable access to and the right to copy the files on a timely basis.

(d) any settlement authority granted to the reinsurance intermediary-manager may be terminated for cause upon the reinsurer's written notice to the reinsurance intermediary-manager or upon the termination of the contract. The reinsurer may suspend the settlement authority during the pendency of the dispute regarding the cause of termination.

(10) If the contract provides for a sharing of interim profits by the reinsurance intermediary-manager, the interim profits may not be paid until:

(a) 1 year after the end of each underwriting period for property business;

(b) 5 years after the end of each underwriting period for casualty business;

(c) a later period set by the commissioner for specified lines of insurance; and

(d) the adequacy of reserves on remaining claims has been verified pursuant to 33-2-1707.

(11) The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall annually provide the reinsurer with a statement of its financial condition prepared by an independent certified accountant.

(12) The reinsurer shall, at least semiannually, conduct an onsite review of the underwriting and claims processing operations of the reinsurance intermediary-manager.

(13) The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall disclose to the reinsurer any relationship it has with any insurer prior to ceding or assuming any business with the insurer pursuant to the contract.

(14) Within the scope of its actual or apparent authority, the acts of the reinsurance intermediary-manager are considered to be the acts of the reinsurer on whose behalf it is acting.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1706. Prohibited acts. A reinsurance intermediary-manager may not:

(1) bind retrocessions on behalf of the reinsurer, except that the reinsurance intermediary-manager may bind facultative retrocessions pursuant to obligatory facultative agreements if the contract with the reinsurer contains reinsurance underwriting guidelines for retrocessions. The guidelines must include a list of reinsurers with which automatic agreements are in effect and, for each reinsurer, must include the coverages, amounts of percentages that may be reinsured, and commission schedules.

(2) commit the reinsurer to participate in reinsurance syndicates;

(3) appoint any producer without ensuring that the producer is licensed to transact the type of reinsurance for which the producer is appointed;

(4) without prior approval of the reinsurer, pay or commit the reinsurer to pay a claim, net of retrocessions, that exceeds the lesser of an amount specified by the reinsurer or 1% of the reinsurer's policyholder's surplus as of December 31 of the last complete calendar year;

(5) collect any payment from a party making a retrocession, or commit the reinsurer to any claim settlement with a party making a retrocession, without prior approval of the reinsurer. If prior approval is given, a report must be promptly forwarded to the reinsurer.

(6) jointly employ an individual who is employed by the reinsurer unless the reinsurance intermediary-manager is under common control with the reinsurer subject to Title 33, chapter 2, part 11;

(7) appoint a subreinsurance intermediary-manager.

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1707. Duties of reinsurers using services of reinsurance intermediary-manager. (1) A reinsurer may not engage the services of any person, firm, association, or corporation as a reinsurance intermediary-manager on its behalf unless the person is licensed as required by 33-2-1701.

(2) The reinsurer shall annually obtain a copy of statements of the financial condition of each reinsurance intermediary-manager that the reinsurer has engaged, prepared by an independent certified accountant, in a form acceptable to the commissioner.

(3) If a reinsurance intermediary-manager establishes loss reserves, the reinsurer shall annually obtain the opinion of an actuary attesting to the adequacy of loss reserves established for losses incurred and outstanding on business produced by the reinsurance intermediary-manager. The opinion is in addition to any other required loss reserve certification.

(4) Binding authority for all retrocessional contracts or participation in reinsurance syndicates must rest with an officer of the reinsurer who may not be affiliated with the reinsurance intermediary-manager.

(5) Within 30 days of termination of a contract with a reinsurance intermediary-manager, the reinsurer shall provide written notification of the termination to the commissioner.

(6) A reinsurer may not appoint to its board of directors any officer, director, employee, controlling shareholder, or subproducer of its reinsurance intermediary-manager. This subsection does not apply to relationships governed by Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, or, if applicable, 33-2-1701 through 33-2-1705.

History: En. Sec. 25, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1708. Examination authority. (1) A reinsurance intermediary is subject to examination by the commissioner. The commissioner must have access to all books, bank accounts, and records of the reinsurance intermediary in a form usable to the commissioner.

(2) A reinsurance intermediary-manager may be examined as if it were the reinsurer.

History: En. Sec. 26, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1709. Penalties and liabilities. (1) (a) A reinsurance intermediary, insurer, or reinsurer found by the commissioner, after a hearing conducted in accordance with Title 33, chapter 1, part 7, to be in violation of any provision of 33-2-1701 through 33-2-1708:

(i) shall, for each separate violation, pay a penalty in an amount not to exceed $5,000; and

(ii) is subject to revocation or suspension of its license.

(b) If a violation was committed by the reinsurance intermediary, the reinsurance intermediary shall make restitution to the insurer, reinsurer, rehabilitator, or liquidator of the insurer or reinsurer for the net losses incurred by the insurer or reinsurer attributable to the violation.

(2) The order of the commissioner pursuant to subsection (1) is subject to judicial review pursuant to Title 33, chapter 1, part 7.

(3) This section does not limit the authority of the commissioner to impose any other penalties provided in the insurance law.

(4) Sections 33-2-1701 through 33-2-1708 do not limit or restrict the rights of policyholders, claimants, creditors, or other third parties or confer any rights upon those persons.

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

Part 18 reserved

Part 19
Risk-Based Capital for Insurers

33-2-1901. Short title. This part constitutes and may be referred to as "The Risk-Based Capital for Insurers Act".

History: En. Sec. 82, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1902. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Adjusted RBC report" means an RBC report that has been adjusted by the commissioner in accordance with 33-2-1903(6).

(2) "Corrective order" means an order issued by the commissioner specifying corrective actions that the commissioner has determined are required.

(3) "Domestic insurer" means any insurance company or health organization domiciled in this state.

(4) "Foreign insurer" means any insurance company licensed to do business in this state under 33-2-116 but not domiciled in this state, or a health organization licensed to do business in this state under Title 33, chapter 31, but not domiciled in this state.

(5) "Health organization" means a health maintenance organization or other managed care organization licensed under Title 33, chapter 31. The term does not include an organization licensed as either a life or disability insurer or a property and casualty insurer, or that is otherwise subject to either the life and health or the property and casualty RBC requirements.

(6) "Insurer" includes life or other disability insurers, property and casualty insurers, and health organizations.

(7) "Life or disability insurer" means:

(a) any insurance company licensed under 33-2-116 and engaged in the business of entering into contracts of disability insurance, as described in 33-1-207, or life insurance, as described in 33-1-208;

(b) a licensed property and casualty insurer writing only disability insurance;

(c) any insurer engaged solely in the business of reinsurance of life or disability contracts;

(d) a fraternal benefit society formed under Title 33, chapter 7; or

(e) a health service corporation formed under Title 33, chapter 30.

(8) "NAIC" means the national association of insurance commissioners.

(9) "Negative trend" means, with respect to a life or health insurer, a negative trend over a period of time, as determined in accordance with the trend test calculation included in the RBC instructions.

(10) (a) "Property and casualty insurer" means:

(i) any insurance company licensed under 33-2-116 and engaged in the business of entering into contracts of property insurance, as described in 33-1-210, or casualty insurance, as described in 33-1-206;

(ii) any insurance company engaged solely in the business of reinsurance of property and casualty contracts; or

(iii) any insurance company engaged in the business of surety and marine insurance.

(b) The term does not include monoline mortgage guaranty insurers, financial guaranty insurers, and title insurers.

(11) "RBC instructions" means the RBC report, including risk-based capital instructions adopted by the NAIC, as the RBC instructions may be amended by the NAIC from time to time in accordance with the procedures adopted by the NAIC.

(12) "RBC level" means an insurer's authorized control level RBC, company action level RBC, mandatory control level RBC, or regulatory action level RBC, in which:

(a) "authorized control level RBC" means the number determined under the risk-based capital formula in accordance with the RBC instructions;

(b) (i) "company action level RBC" means, with respect to any insurer except the state fund as provided in subsection (12)(b)(ii), the product of 2 and its authorized control level RBC;

(ii) "company action level RBC" for the state fund is the product of 4 and its authorized control level RBC;

(c) "mandatory control level RBC" means the product of 0.70 and the authorized control level RBC; and

(d) (i) "regulatory action level RBC" means, except for the state fund as provided in subsection (12)(d)(ii), the product of 1.5 and its authorized control level RBC;

(ii) "regulatory action level RBC" for the state fund is the product of 3 and its authorized control level RBC.

(13) "RBC plan" means a comprehensive financial plan containing the elements specified in 33-2-1904(2). If the commissioner rejects the RBC plan and it is revised by the insurer, with or without the commissioner's recommendation, the plan must be called a revised RBC plan.

(14) "RBC report" means the report required in 33-2-1903.

(15) "Total adjusted capital" means the sum of:

(a) an insurer's statutory capital and surplus; and

(b) other items, if any, as the RBC instructions may provide.

History: En. Sec. 83, Ch. 379, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 531, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 63, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 320, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 17, Ch. 9, L. 2017.

33-2-1903. RBC reports. (1) Each domestic insurer shall, on or before each March 1 filing date, prepare and submit to the commissioner a report of its RBC levels as of the end of the previous calendar year in a form and containing information as required by the RBC instructions. In addition, each domestic insurer shall file its RBC report:

(a) with the NAIC in accordance with the RBC instructions; and

(b) with the insurance commissioner in any state in which the insurer is authorized to do business if that insurance commissioner has notified the insurer of the request in writing, in which case the insurer shall file its RBC report not later than the later of:

(i) 15 days from the receipt of notice to file its RBC report with that state; or

(ii) the March 1 filing date.

(2) A life and disability insurer's RBC must be determined in accordance with the formula set forth in the RBC instructions. The formula must take into account and may adjust for the covariance between:

(a) the risk with respect to the insurer's assets;

(b) the risk of adverse insurance experience with respect to the insurer's liabilities and obligations;

(c) the interest rate risk with respect to the insurer's business; and

(d) all other business risks and other relevant risks as are set forth in the RBC instructions and determined in each case by applying the factors in the manner set forth in the RBC instructions.

(3) A property and casualty insurer's RBC must be determined in accordance with the formula set forth in the RBC instructions. The formula must take into account and may be adjusted for the covariance between:

(a) asset risk;

(b) credit risk;

(c) underwriting risk; and

(d) all other business risks and other relevant risks set forth in the RBC instructions and determined in each case by applying the factors in the manner set forth in the RBC instructions.

(4) A health organization's RBC must be determined in accordance with the formula set forth in the RBC instructions. The formula must take into account and may be adjusted for the covariance between:

(a) asset risk;

(b) credit risk;

(c) underwriting risk; and

(d) all other business risks and other relevant risks set forth in the RBC instructions and determined in each case by applying the factors in the manner set forth in the RBC instructions.

(5) An excess of capital over the amount produced by the risk-based capital requirements contained in this part and the formulas, schedules, and instructions referenced in 33-2-1906 through 33-2-1913 is desirable in the business of insurance. Accordingly, insurers should seek to maintain capital above the RBC levels required by this part. Additional capital is used and useful in the insurance business and helps to secure an insurer against various risks inherent in or affecting the business of insurance and not accounted for or only partially measured by the risk-based capital requirements contained in this part.

(6) If a domestic insurer files an RBC report that in the judgment of the commissioner is inaccurate, the commissioner shall adjust the RBC report to correct the inaccuracy and shall notify the insurer of the adjustment. The notice must contain a statement of the reason for the adjustment. An RBC report adjusted as provided in this subsection is referred to as an adjusted RBC report.

History: En. Sec. 84, Ch. 379, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 28, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 227, L. 2011; amd. Sec. 18, Ch. 9, L. 2017.

33-2-1904. Company action level event. (1) "Company action level event" means any of the following events:

(a) the filing of an RBC report by an insurer indicating that:

(i) the insurer's total adjusted capital is greater than or equal to its regulatory action level RBC but less than its company action level RBC;

(ii) for a life or disability insurer, the insurer has total adjusted capital that:

(A) is greater than or equal to its company action level RBC but less than its authorized control level RBC multiplied by 3; and

(B) has a negative trend;

(iii) for a property and casualty insurer, the insurer has total adjusted capital that:

(A) is greater than or equal to its company action level RBC but less than its authorized control level RBC multiplied by 3; and

(B) triggers the trend test determined in accordance with the trend test calculation included in the RBC instructions; or

(iv) for a health organization, the insurer has total adjusted capital that:

(A) is greater than or equal to its company action level RBC but less than its authorized control level RBC multiplied by 3; and

(B) triggers the trend test determined in accordance with the trend test calculation included in the health RBC instructions;

(b) the notification by the commissioner to the insurer of an adjusted RBC report that indicates an event in subsection (1)(a) if the insurer does not challenge the adjusted RBC report under 33-2-1908 or if the commissioner has rejected the insurer's challenge.

(2) In the event of a company action level event, the insurer shall prepare and submit to the commissioner an RBC plan that must:

(a) identify the conditions that contribute to the company action level event;

(b) contain proposals of corrective actions that the insurer intends to take and that would be expected to result in the elimination of the company action level event;

(c) provide projections of the insurer's financial results in the current year and at least the next 4 years, both in the absence of proposed corrective actions and giving effect to the proposed corrective actions, including projections of statutory operating income, net income, capital, and surplus. The projections for both new and renewal business may include separate projections for each major line of business and separately identify each significant income, expense, and benefit component.

(d) identify the key assumptions impacting the insurer's projections and the sensitivity of the projections to the assumptions; and

(e) identify the quality of and problems associated with the insurer's business, including but not limited to its assets, anticipated business growth and associated surplus strain, extraordinary exposure to risk, mix of business, and use of reinsurance, if any, in each case.

(3) The RBC plan must be submitted:

(a) within 45 days of the company action level event; or

(b) if the insurer challenges an adjusted RBC report pursuant to 33-2-1908, within 45 days after notification to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge.

(4) Within 60 days after an insurer submits an RBC plan to the commissioner, the commissioner shall notify the insurer as to whether the RBC plan may be implemented or is unsatisfactory in the judgment of the commissioner. If the commissioner determines that the RBC plan is unsatisfactory, the notification to the insurer must set forth the reasons for the determination and may propose revisions intended to render the RBC plan satisfactory in the judgment of the commissioner. Upon notification from the commissioner, the insurer shall prepare a revised RBC plan, which may incorporate by reference any revisions proposed by the commissioner, and shall submit the revised RBC plan to the commissioner:

(a) within 45 days after the notification from the commissioner; or

(b) if the insurer challenges the notification from the commissioner under 33-2-1908, within 45 days after a notification to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge.

(5) If the commissioner notifies an insurer that the insurer's RBC plan or revised RBC plan is unsatisfactory, the commissioner may, at the commissioner's discretion, subject to the insurer's right to a hearing under 33-2-1908, specify in the notification that the notification constitutes a regulatory action level event.

(6) Each domestic insurer that files an RBC plan or revised RBC plan with the commissioner shall file a copy of the RBC plan or revised RBC plan with the insurance commissioner in any state in which the insurer is authorized to do business if:

(a) the state has an RBC provision substantially similar to 33-2-1909(1); and

(b) the insurance commissioner of that state has notified the insurer in writing of its request for the filing, in which case the insurer shall file a copy of the RBC plan or revised RBC plan in that state by the later of:

(i) 15 days after the receipt of notice to file a copy of its RBC plan or revised RBC plan with that state; or

(ii) the date on which the RBC plan or revised RBC plan is filed under subsections (3) and (4).

History: En. Sec. 85, Ch. 379, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 227, L. 2011; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 63, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 19, Ch. 9, L. 2017.

33-2-1905. Regulatory action level event. (1) "Regulatory action level event" means, with respect to any insurer, any of the following events:

(a) the filing of an RBC report by the insurer that indicates that the insurer's total adjusted capital is greater than or equal to its authorized control level RBC but less than its regulatory action level RBC;

(b) the notification by the commissioner to an insurer of an adjusted RBC report that indicates the event in subsection (1)(a) if the insurer does not challenge the adjusted RBC report under 33-2-1908 or the commissioner rejects the insurer's challenge;

(c) the failure of the insurer to file an RBC report by the filing date, unless the insurer has provided an explanation for the failure that is satisfactory to the commissioner and has cured the failure within 10 days after the filing date;

(d) the failure of the insurer to submit an RBC plan to the commissioner within the time period set forth in 33-2-1904(3);

(e) notification by the commissioner to the insurer that:

(i) the RBC plan or revised RBC plan submitted by the insurer is unsatisfactory in the judgment of the commissioner; and

(ii) the notification constitutes a regulatory action level event with respect to the insurer if the insurer has not challenged the determination under 33-2-1908;

(f) if, pursuant to 33-2-1908, the insurer challenges a determination by the commissioner, the notification by the commissioner to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the challenge;

(g) notification by the commissioner to the insurer that the insurer has failed to adhere to its RBC plan or revised RBC plan, but only if the failure has a substantial adverse effect on the ability of the insurer to eliminate the company action level event in accordance with its RBC plan or revised RBC plan and the commissioner has so stated in the notification and if the insurer has not challenged the determination under 33-2-1908 or the commissioner has not rejected the insurer's challenge.

(2) In the event of a regulatory action level event, the commissioner shall:

(a) require the insurer to prepare and submit an RBC plan or, if applicable, a revised RBC plan;

(b) perform an examination or analysis as the commissioner considers necessary of the assets, liabilities, and operations of the insurer including a review of its RBC plan or revised RBC plan; and

(c) subsequent to the examination or analysis, issue a corrective order specifying corrective actions that the commissioner determines are required.

(3) In determining corrective actions, the commissioner may take into account factors considered relevant with respect to the insurer based upon the commissioner's examination or analysis of the assets, liabilities, and operations of the insurer, including but not limited to the results of any sensitivity tests undertaken pursuant to the RBC instructions. The RBC plan or revised RBC plan must be submitted:

(a) within 45 days after the occurrence of the regulatory action level event;

(b) if the insurer challenges an adjusted RBC report pursuant to 33-2-1908 and the challenge is not frivolous in the judgment of the commissioner, within 45 days after the notification to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge; or

(c) if the insurer challenges a revised RBC plan pursuant to 33-2-1908 and the challenge is not frivolous in the judgment of the commissioner, within 45 days after the notification to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge.

(4) The commissioner may retain actuaries and investment experts and other consultants that may be necessary in the judgment of the commissioner to review the insurer's RBC plan or revised RBC plan, to examine or analyze the assets, liabilities, and operations of the insurer, and to formulate the corrective order with respect to the insurer. The fees, costs, and expenses relating to consultants must be borne by the affected insurer or such other party as directed by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 86, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1906. Authorized control level event. (1) "Authorized control level event" means any of the following events:

(a) the filing of an RBC report by the insurer that indicates that the insurer's total adjusted capital is greater than or equal to its mandatory control level RBC but less than its authorized control level RBC;

(b) the notification by the commissioner to the insurer of an adjusted RBC report that indicates the event in subsection (1)(a) if the insurer does not challenge the adjusted RBC report under 33-2-1908 or the commissioner rejects the insurer's challenge;

(c) the failure of the insurer to respond, in a manner satisfactory to the commissioner, to a corrective order if the insurer has not challenged the corrective order under 33-2-1908; or

(d) if the insurer has challenged a corrective order under 33-2-1908 and the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the challenge or modified the corrective order, the failure of the insurer to respond, in a manner satisfactory to the commissioner, to the corrective order subsequent to rejection or modification by the commissioner.

(2) In the event of an authorized control level event with respect to an insurer, the commissioner shall:

(a) take the actions required under 33-2-1905 regarding an insurer with respect to which a regulatory action level event has occurred; or

(b) if the commissioner considers it to be in the best interests of the policyholders and creditors of the insurer and of the public, take the actions necessary to cause the insurer to be placed under regulatory control under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13. In the event that the commissioner places the insurer under regulatory control, the authorized control level event must be considered sufficient grounds for the commissioner to take action under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13, and the commissioner shall have the rights, powers, and duties with respect to the insurer as are set forth in Title 33, chapter 2, part 13. In the event that the commissioner takes an action under this subsection pursuant to an adjusted RBC report, the insurer is entitled to the protections afforded to insurers under the provisions of 33-2-1321 through 33-2-1323 pertaining to summary proceedings.

History: En. Sec. 87, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1907. Mandatory control level event. (1) "Mandatory control level event" means any of the following events:

(a) the filing of an RBC report that indicates that the insurer's total adjusted capital is less than its mandatory control level RBC;

(b) notification by the commissioner to the insurer of an adjusted RBC report that indicates the event in subsection (1)(a) if the insurer does not challenge the adjusted RBC report under 33-2-1908 or the commissioner rejects the insurer's challenge.

(2) In the event of a mandatory control level event:

(a) with respect to a life or disability insurer or a health organization, the commissioner shall take the actions that are necessary to place the insurer under regulatory control under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13. In that event, the mandatory control level event must be considered sufficient grounds for the commissioner to take action under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13, and the commissioner shall have the rights, powers, and duties with respect to the insurer as are set forth in Title 33, chapter 2, part 13. If the commissioner takes an action pursuant to an adjusted RBC report, the insurer is entitled to the protections of 33-2-1321 through 33-2-1323 pertaining to summary proceedings. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the commissioner may forego action for up to 90 days after the mandatory control level event if the commissioner finds that there is a reasonable expectation that the mandatory control level event may be eliminated within the 90-day period.

(b) with respect to a property and casualty insurer, the commissioner shall take the actions necessary to place the insurer under regulatory control under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13, or, in the case of an insurer that is not writing business and that is running-off its existing business, may allow the insurer to continue its runoff under the supervision of the commissioner. In either event, the mandatory control level event must be considered sufficient grounds for the commissioner to take action under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13, and the commissioner shall have the rights, powers, and duties with respect to the insurer as are set forth in Title 33, chapter 2, part 13. If the commissioner takes an action pursuant to an adjusted RBC report, the insurer is entitled to the protections of 33-2-1321 through 33-2-1323 pertaining to summary proceedings. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the commissioner may forego action for up to 90 days after the mandatory control level event if the commissioner finds there is a reasonable expectation that the mandatory control level event may be eliminated within the 90-day period.

History: En. Sec. 88, Ch. 379, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 20, Ch. 9, L. 2017.

33-2-1908. Notification and hearing. (1) An insurer has the right to a hearing before the department upon notification by the commissioner:

(a) of an adjusted RBC report or unsatisfactory RBC plan or revised RBC plan that constitutes a regulatory action level event with respect to the insurer;

(b) that the insurer has failed to adhere to its RBC plan or revised RBC plan and that the failure has a substantial adverse effect on the ability of the insurer to eliminate the company action level event with respect to the insurer in accordance with its RBC plan or revised RBC plan; or

(c) of a corrective order with respect to the insurer.

(2) The insurer shall notify the commissioner of its request for a hearing within 5 days after the notification by the commissioner under subsection (1). Upon receipt of the insurer's request for a hearing, the commissioner shall set a date for the hearing, which may not be less than 10 or more than 30 days after the date of the insurer's request.

History: En. Sec. 89, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1909. Confidentiality — prohibition on announcements — prohibition on use in ratemaking. (1) With respect to a domestic insurer or a foreign insurer, all RBC reports, to the extent the information in the reports is not required to be set forth in a publicly available annual statement schedule, and all RBC plans, including the results or report of any examination or analysis of an insurer performed pursuant to this part and any corrective order issued by the commissioner pursuant to the examination or analysis, that are filed with the commissioner constitute information that might be damaging to the insurer if made available to its competitors and must be kept confidential by the commissioner. This information may not be made public and is not subject to subpoena other than by the commissioner and then only for the purpose of enforcement actions taken by the commissioner pursuant to this part or any other provision of the insurance laws of this state.

(2) It is the intent of the legislature that the comparison of an insurer's total adjusted capital to any of its RBC levels is a regulatory tool that may indicate the need for possible corrective action with respect to the insurer and that it is not intended as a means to rank insurers generally. Except as otherwise required under the provisions of 33-2-1911 through 33-2-1913, the making, publishing, disseminating, circulating, or placing before the public or causing, directly or indirectly to be made, published, disseminated, circulated, or placed before the public, in a newspaper, magazine, or other publication, in the form of a notice, circular, pamphlet, letter, or poster, over any radio or television station, or in any other way, an advertisement, announcement, or statement containing an assertion, representation, or statement with regard to the RBC levels of any insurer or of any component derived in the calculation that is by any insurer, producer, or other person engaged in any manner in the insurance business would be misleading and is prohibited. However, if any materially false statement with respect to the comparison regarding an insurer's total adjusted capital to its RBC levels or an inappropriate comparison of any other amount to the insurer's RBC levels is published in any written publication and the insurer is able to demonstrate to the commissioner, with substantial proof, the falsity of the statement or the inappropriateness, as the case may be, the insurer may publish an announcement in a written publication if the sole purpose of the announcement is to rebut the materially false statement.

(3) It is the further intent of the legislature that the RBC instructions, RBC reports, adjusted RBC reports, RBC plans, and revised RBC plans are intended solely for use by the commissioner in monitoring the solvency of insurers and the need for possible corrective action with respect to insurers and may not be used by the commissioner for ratemaking or considered or introduced as evidence in any rate proceeding or used by the commissioner to calculate or derive any elements of an appropriate premium level or rate of return for any line of insurance that an insurer or any affiliate is authorized to write.

History: En. Sec. 90, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1910. Supplemental provisions — rules — exemption. (1) The provisions of this part are supplemental to any other provisions of the laws of this state and do not preclude or limit any other powers or duties of the commissioner under the law, including but not limited to Title 33, chapter 2, part 13.

(2) The commissioner may adopt reasonable rules necessary for the implementation of this part.

(3) The commissioner may exempt from the application of this part any domestic property and casualty insurer that:

(a) writes direct business only in this state;

(b) writes direct annual premiums of $2 million or less; and

(c) does not assume reinsurance in excess of 5% of direct premium written.

(4) The commissioner may exempt from the application of this part any domestic health organization that:

(a) writes direct business only in this state;

(b) assumes no reinsurance in excess of 5% of direct premium written;

(c) writes direct annual premiums for comprehensive medical business of $1 million or less; and

(d) is a limited health service organization that covers fewer than 1,000 lives.

33-2-1911. Foreign insurers. (1) A foreign insurer shall, upon the written request of the commissioner, submit to the commissioner an RBC report for the previous calendar year on the later of:

(a) the date that an RBC report would be required to be filed by a domestic insurer under 33-2-1903; or

(b) 15 days after the request is received by the foreign insurer.

(2) A foreign insurer shall, at the written request of the commissioner, promptly submit to the commissioner a copy of any RBC plan that is filed with the insurance commissioner of any other state.

(3) In the event of a company action level event, regulatory action level event, or authorized control level event, with respect to any foreign insurer as determined under the RBC statute applicable in the state of domicile of the insurer or, if an RBC statute is not in force in that state, under the provisions of this part, if the insurance commissioner of the state of domicile of the foreign insurer fails to require the foreign insurer to file an RBC plan in the manner specified under that state's RBC statute or, if an RBC statute is not in force in that state, under 33-2-1904, the commissioner may require the foreign insurer to file an RBC plan with the commissioner.

In that event, the failure of the foreign insurer to file an RBC plan with the commissioner is grounds to order the insurer to cease and desist from writing new insurance business in this state.

(4) In the event of a mandatory control level event with respect to any foreign insurer, if a domiciliary receiver has not been appointed with respect to the foreign insurer under the rehabilitation and liquidation statute applicable in the state of domicile of the foreign insurer, the commissioner may make application to a district court of this state permitted under 33-2-1380 with respect to the liquidation of property of foreign insurers found in this state, and the occurrence of the mandatory control level event must be considered adequate grounds for the application.

Pharmacy Audit Integrity Act

33-2-2001. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Pharmacy Audit Integrity Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 114, L. 2013.

33-2-2002. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Audit" means a review of the records of a pharmacy by or on behalf of an entity that finances or reimburses the cost of health care services or pharmaceutical products.

(2) "Entity" includes:

(a) a pharmacy benefits manager;

(b) a health benefit plan;

(c) a third-party administrator; and

(d) a company, group, or agent that represents or is engaged by one of the entities described in this subsection (2).

(3) "Fraud" means an intentional act of deception, misrepresentation, or concealment in order to gain something of value.

(4) "Health benefit plan" means a policy or certificate that provides health care insurance or major medical expense insurance or that is offered as a substitute for hospital or medical expense insurance. The term does not include a policy or certificate that provides benefits solely for accident, dental, vision, income replacement, long-term care, a medicare supplement, a specified disease, or a short-term limited duration or that is offered and marketed as supplemental health insurance.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 114, L. 2013.

33-2-2003. Applicability. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), this part applies to an audit of the records of a pharmacy licensed under Title 37, chapter 7.

(2) This part does not apply to an audit of pharmacy records when fraud or other intentional and willful misrepresentation is evidenced by the review of claims data, statements, physical review, or other investigative methods.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 114, L. 2013.

33-2-2004. Audit of pharmacy records. (1) An entity conducting an audit of pharmacy records shall audit a pharmacy using the same standards and parameters as used by the entity in auditing other pharmacies on behalf of the same audit client.

(2) An audit that involves clinical or professional judgment must be conducted by or in consultation with a licensed pharmacist who is employed by or working with the entity conducting the audit.

(3) If an audit is conducted onsite at a pharmacy, the entity conducting the audit:

(a) shall give the pharmacy 10 days' advance written notice of the audit, along with the range of prescription numbers or a date range that will be included in the audit; and

(b) may not audit the pharmacy during the first 5 business days of the month unless the pharmacy agrees to the timing of the audit.

(4) An entity may not audit prescription records that exceed 275 selected prescriptions. The period covered by the audit may not exceed 24 months from the date that the prescription was submitted to or adjudicated by the entity unless a longer period is required under state or federal law.

(5) Except as required by state or federal law, an entity conducting an audit may have access to a pharmacy's previous audit report only if the previous report was prepared by that entity.

(6) To validate a pharmacy record, a pharmacy may use documented statements of records in the pharmacy or pharmacy system, including medication administration records of a nursing home, assisted living facility, hospital, physician, surgeon, or other prescriber authorized by the laws of this state.

(7) If an audit results in the dispute or denial of a claim, the entity conducting the audit shall allow the pharmacy to produce additional claims documentation using any commercially reasonable method, including fax, mail, or e-mail.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 114, L. 2013.

33-2-2005. (Temporary) Prohibitions — recoupment — payment — interest. An entity conducting an audit may not:

(1) include dispensing fees unless a prescription was not actually dispensed, the prescriber denied authorization, the prescription dispensed was a dispensing error by the pharmacy, or the identified overpayment is based solely on an extra dispensing fee;

(2) recoup funds for prescription clerical or recordkeeping errors, including typographical errors, scrivener's errors, and computer errors, in a required document or record unless the error results in actual financial harm to the entity or to a consumer;

(3) collect any funds, charge-backs, or penalties until the audit and all appeals are final unless the entity is alleging fraud or other intentional or willful misrepresentation that is evidenced by the review of claims data, statements, physical review, or other investigative methods;

(4) use extrapolation or other statistical expansion techniques in calculating the amount of any recoupment or penalty;

(5) pay the agent or employee who conducted the audit based on a percentage of the amount recovered;

(6) charge interest during the audit period; or

(7) recoup funds on the basis of the timing of purchases of dispensed medication but instead shall permit a pharmacy to use drug purchase records without limitation of date or source to validate the dispensing of legend or narcotic drugs so long as the purchase of the drug was done in accordance with state or federal law. (Terminates June 30, 2029—sec. 8, Ch. 474, L. 2025.)

33-2-2005. (Effective July 1, 2029) Prohibitions — recoupment — payment — interest. An entity conducting an audit may not:

(1) include dispensing fees unless a prescription was not actually dispensed, the prescriber denied authorization, the prescription dispensed was a dispensing error by the pharmacy, or the identified overpayment is based solely on an extra dispensing fee;

(2) recoup funds for prescription clerical or recordkeeping errors, including typographical errors, scrivener's errors, and computer errors, in a required document or record unless the error results in actual financial harm to the entity or to a consumer;

(3) collect any funds, charge-backs, or penalties until the audit and all appeals are final unless the entity is alleging fraud or other intentional or willful misrepresentation that is evidenced by the review of claims data, statements, physical review, or other investigative methods;

(4) use extrapolation or other statistical expansion techniques in calculating the amount of any recoupment or penalty;

(5) pay the agent or employee who conducted the audit based on a percentage of the amount recovered; or

(6) charge interest during the audit period.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 114, L. 2013; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 474, L. 2025.

Compiler's Comments

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 1, Ch. 474, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025, and terminates June 30, 2029.

Applicability: Section 7, Ch. 474, L. 2025, provided: "[This act] applies to conduct occurring on or after October 1, 2025."

33-2-2006. Onsite audits — preliminary and final reports — appeals. For audits conducted onsite, the following provisions apply:

(1) An entity that audits a pharmacy shall provide the pharmacy with a preliminary audit report, delivered to the pharmacy or its corporate office of record within 60 days after completion of the audit.

(2) A pharmacy has 30 days following receipt of the preliminary audit report to respond to questions, provide additional documentation, and comment on and clarify findings of the audit. The date of receipt of the report must be determined by the postmark date or the date of the electronic transmission if transferred electronically.

(3) If an audit results in the dispute or denial of a claim, the entity conducting the audit shall allow the pharmacy, for 30 days following receipt of the preliminary audit report, to produce additional claims documentation using any commercially reasonable method, including fax, mail, or e-mail.

(4) (a) Within 120 days after the completion of the appeals process under subsection (5), a final audit report must be delivered to the pharmacy or its corporate office of record.

(b) The final audit report must include a disclosure of any money recovered by the entity that conducted the audit.

(5) An entity that audits a pharmacy shall establish a written policy for a pharmacy to appeal a final audit report. If no remedies are specified by contract or in the pharmacy services manual, the pharmacy may seek to resolve the dispute through mediation.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 114, L. 2013.

Part 21
Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure

33-2-2101. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 9, L. 2017.

33-2-2102. Purpose — scope. (1) The purpose of this part is to:

(a) provide to the insurance commissioner a summary of an insurer or insurance group's corporate governance structure, policies, and practices to permit the commissioner to gain and maintain an understanding of the insurer's corporate governance framework;

(b) outline the requirements for completing a corporate governance annual disclosure with the insurance commissioner; and

(c) provide for the confidential treatment of the corporate governance annual disclosure and related information that will contain confidential and sensitive information related to an insurer or insurance group's internal operations and proprietary and trade secret information and that, if made public, could potentially cause the insurer or insurance group competitive harm or disadvantage.

(2) (a) Nothing in this part may be construed to prescribe or impose corporate governance standards and internal procedures beyond that which is required under applicable state corporate law.

(b) Notwithstanding subsection (2)(a), nothing in this part may be construed to limit the commissioner's authority or the rights or obligations of third parties under Title 33.

(3) The requirements of this part apply to all insurers domiciled in the state.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 9, L. 2017.

33-2-2103. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "CGAD" means a corporate governance annual disclosure, a confidential report filed by the insurer or insurance group made in accordance with the requirements of this part.

(2) "Commissioner" means the insurance commissioner of the state of Montana.

(3) "Insurance group" means those insurers and affiliates included within an insurance holding company system as defined in 33-2-1101.

(4) "Insurer" has the meaning provided in 33-1-201, except that it may not include agencies, authorities, or instrumentalities of the United States, its possessions and territories, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, or a state or political subdivision of a state.

(5) "NAIC" means the national association of insurance commissioners.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 9, L. 2017.

33-2-2104. Disclosure requirement. (1) An insurer or the insurance group of which the insurer is a member shall, no later than June 1 of each calendar year, submit to the commissioner a CGAD that contains the information described in 33-2-2106. Notwithstanding any request from the commissioner made pursuant to subsection (3), if the insurer is a member of an insurance group, the insurer shall submit the report required by this section to the commissioner of the lead state for the insurance group, in accordance with the laws of the lead state, as determined by the procedures outlined in the financial analysis handbook adopted by rule by the commissioner.

(2) The CGAD must include a signature of the insurer or insurance group's chief executive officer or corporate secretary attesting to the best of that individual's belief and knowledge that the insurer has implemented the corporate governance practices and that a copy of the disclosure has been provided to the insurer's board of directors or the appropriate committee of the board of directors.

(3) An insurer not required to submit a CGAD under this section shall do so upon the commissioner's request.

(4) For purposes of completing the CGAD, the insurer or insurance group may provide information regarding corporate governance at the ultimate controlling parent level, an intermediate holding company level, or the individual legal entity level, depending on how the insurer or insurance group has structured its system of corporate governance. The insurer or insurance group is encouraged to make the CGAD disclosures at the level at which the insurer's or insurance group's risk appetite is determined, or at which the earnings, capital, liquidity, operations, and reputation of the insurer are overseen collectively and at which the supervision of those factors are coordinated and exercised, or the level at which legal liability for failure of general corporate governance duties would be placed. If the insurer or insurance group determines the level of reporting based on these criteria, it shall indicate which of the three criteria was used to determine the level of reporting and explain any subsequent changes in the level of reporting.

(5) The review of the CGAD and any additional requests for information must be made through the lead state as determined by the procedures within the financial analysis handbook referenced in subsection (1).

(6) Insurers providing information substantially similar to the information required by this part in other documents provided to the commissioner, including a proxy statement filed in conjunction with form B requirements, or other state or federal filings provided to the commissioner may not be required to duplicate that information in the CGAD but may only be required to cross-reference the document in which the information is included.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 9, L. 2017.

33-2-2105. Rulemaking authority. The commissioner may, upon notice and opportunity for all interested persons to be heard, issue rules and orders necessary to carry out the provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 9, L. 2017.

33-2-2106. Contents of corporate governance annual disclosure. (1) The insurer or insurance group has discretion over the responses to the CGAD inquiries provided that the CGAD contains the material information necessary to permit the commissioner to gain an understanding of the insurer's or group's corporate governance structure, policies, and practices. The commissioner may request additional information that the commissioner deems material and necessary to provide a clear understanding of the corporate governance policies, the reporting or information system, or controls implementing those policies.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), the CGAD must be prepared consistent with any rules adopted by the commissioner. Documentation and supporting information must be maintained and made available upon examination or upon request of the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 9, L. 2017.

33-2-2107. Confidentiality. (1) Documents, materials, or other information, including the CGAD, in the possession or control of the department of insurance that are obtained by, created by, or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person under this part are recognized by the state as being proprietary and to contain trade secrets. These documents, materials, and other information are confidential by law and privileged, may not be subject to Title 2, chapter 6, part 10, may not be subject to subpoena, and may not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action. However, the commissioner is authorized to use the documents, materials, or other information in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as a part of the commissioner's official duties. The commissioner may not otherwise make the documents, materials, or other information public without the prior written consent of the insurer. Nothing in this section may be construed to require written consent of the insurer before the commissioner may share or receive confidential documents, materials, or other CGAD-related information pursuant to subsection (3) to assist in the performance of the commissioner's regular duties.

(2) Neither the commissioner nor any person who receives documents, materials, or other CGAD-related information, through examination or otherwise, while acting under the authority of the commissioner or with whom the documents, materials, or other information are shared pursuant to this part may be permitted or required to testify in any private civil action concerning any confidential documents, materials, or other information subject to subsection (1).

(3) In order to assist in the performance of the commissioner's regular duties, the commissioner may:

(a) upon request, share documents, materials, or other CGAD-related information, including the confidential and privileged documents, materials, or information subject to subsection (1), including proprietary and trade secret documents and materials with other state, federal, and international financial regulatory agencies, including members of any supervisory college as provided in Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, with the NAIC and with third-party consultants pursuant to 33-2-2108, provided that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the CGAD-related documents, material, or other information and has verified in writing the legal authority to maintain confidentiality; and

(b) receive documents, materials, or other CGAD-related information, including otherwise confidential and privileged documents, materials, or information, including proprietary and trade secret information or documents, from regulatory officials of other state, federal, and international financial regulatory agencies, including members of any supervisory college as provided in Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, and from the NAIC, and shall maintain as confidential or privileged any document, material, or information received with notice or the understanding that it is confidential or privileged under the laws of the jurisdiction that is the source of the document, material, or information.

(4) The sharing of information and documents by the commissioner pursuant to this part does not constitute a delegation of regulatory authority or rulemaking, and the commissioner is solely responsible for the administration, execution, and enforcement of the provisions of this part.

(5) A waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality in the documents, proprietary and trade secret materials, or other CGAD-related information may not occur as a result of disclosure of such CGAD-related information or documents to the commissioner under this section or as a result of sharing as authorized in this part.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 9, L. 2017.

33-2-2108. NAIC and third-party consultants. (1) The commissioner may retain, at the insurer's expense, third-party consultants, including attorneys, actuaries, accountants, and other experts not otherwise a part of the commissioner's staff, as may be reasonably necessary to assist the commissioner in reviewing the CGAD and related information or the insurer's compliance with this part.

(2) Any persons retained under subsection (1) must be under the direction and control of the commissioner and shall act in a purely advisory capacity.

(3) The NAIC and third-party consultants must be subject to the same confidentiality standards and requirements as the commissioner.

(4) As part of the retention process, a third-party consultant shall verify to the commissioner, with notice to the insurer, that it is free of a conflict of interest and that it has internal procedures in place to monitor compliance with the conflict and to comply with the confidentiality standards and requirements of this part.

(5) A written agreement with the NAIC or a third-party consultant governing sharing and use of information provided pursuant to this part must contain the following provisions and expressly require the written consent of the insurer prior to making public any information provided under this part:

(a) specific procedures and protocols for maintaining the confidentiality and security of CGAD-related information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to this part;

(b) procedures and protocols for sharing by the NAIC only with other state regulators from states in which the insurance group has domiciled insurers. The agreement must provide that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the CGAD-related documents, materials, or other information and has verified in writing the legal authority to maintain confidentiality.

(c) a provision specifying that ownership of the CGAD-related information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant remains with the department of insurance and that the NAIC's or third-party consultant's use of the information is subject to the direction of the commissioner;

(d) a provision that prohibits the NAIC or a third-party consultant from storing the information shared pursuant to this part in a permanent database after the underlying analysis is completed;

(e) a provision requiring the NAIC or a third-party consultant to provide prompt notice to the commissioner and to the insurer or insurance group regarding any subpoena, request for disclosure, or request for production of the insurer's CGAD-related information; and

(f) a requirement that the NAIC or a third-party consultant consent to intervention by an insurer in any judicial or administrative action in which the NAIC or the third-party consultant may be required to disclose confidential information about the insurer shared with the NAIC or the third-party consultant pursuant to this part.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 9, L. 2017.

33-2-2109. Sanctions — penalties. Any insurer failing, without just cause, to timely file the CGAD as required in this part shall, after notice and hearing, pay a penalty of $100 for each day's delay to the commissioner. The penalty must be collected by the commissioner in the name of the state of Montana and deposited in the general fund. The maximum penalty under this section is $1 million. The commissioner may reduce the penalty if the insurer demonstrates to the commissioner that the imposition of the penalty would constitute a financial hardship to the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 9, L. 2017.

Part 22
Private Air Ambulance Services

33-2-2201. Certificate of authority required. (1) A private air ambulance service subject to this part shall obtain a certificate of authority from the commissioner prior to selling, soliciting, or negotiating a membership agreement in Montana.

(2) A private air ambulance service applying for a certificate of authority shall submit an application on a form prescribed by the commissioner.

(3) The commissioner may issue a certificate of authority if the private air ambulance service has complied with the applicable provisions of Title 50 and this title unless the commissioner finds that issuance of the certificate of authority is contrary to the public interest.

(4) A private air ambulance service may renew its certificate of authority upon payment of the annual fee specified in 33-2-2202 on or before March 1 of each year and upon continued compliance with the applicable provisions of Title 50 and this title.

(5) The requirements of this section are in addition to any other licensing or registration requirements that apply to the private air ambulance service.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 210, L. 2017.

33-2-2202. Fees. A private air ambulance service subject to this part shall pay the following fees to the commissioner for services rendered:

(1) issuance of a certificate of authority, $300;

(2) annual renewal fee, $300; and

(3) filing of a membership agreement or other forms, $50.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 210, L. 2017.

33-2-2203. Suspension or revocation. (1) The commissioner may suspend or revoke a private air ambulance service certificate of authority if the private air ambulance service:

(a) no longer meets the requirements for the certificate of authority;

(b) materially fails to comply with a membership agreement issued to residents of Montana;

(c) is in unsound fiscal condition or is demonstrated to be using methods or practices in the conduct of its business that render its further transaction of insurance in this state injurious or hazardous to its members or to the public; or

(d) violates an applicable provision of law.

(2) Unless otherwise provided in the order of suspension or revocation, the private air ambulance service shall continue to honor membership agreements that are in force at the time of revocation or suspension.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 210, L. 2017.

33-2-2204 and 33-2-2205 reserved.

33-2-2206. Membership agreement — contents. A membership agreement issued under this part must contain:

(1) the effective dates of the membership agreement;

(2) a grace period of 30 days for payment of a renewal membership fee;

(3) a description of what constitutes acceptable insurance coverage if eligibility for the membership agreement is conditioned on the member's current and continuing health insurance coverage;

(4) a statement that, except for decisions made as provided in 33-1-102(6), individuals enrolled in medicare, medicaid, or the healthy Montana kids plan under Title 53, chapter 4, part 11, are not subject to charges billed by a private air ambulance service in excess of applicable deductibles, coinsurance, and copayments;

(5) a statement that the membership agreement is an insurance contract;

(6) a description and graphic illustration of the base locations and effective coverage area of the private air ambulance service;

(7) a list of other private air ambulance services with which reciprocity exists under 50-6-320;

(8) a statement that:

(a) participation in a membership program does not guarantee that in the event of a transport, the private air ambulance service will provide the transport; and

(b) unless reciprocity exists under 50-6-320, if another private air ambulance service provides the transport, the individual will not receive the benefits provided under the membership agreement; and

(9) a definition of "medical necessity" if membership coverage of a transport is conditioned on a finding of medical necessity.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 210, L. 2017.

33-2-2207. Filings. (1) Pursuant to Title 33, chapter 1, part 5, a private air ambulance service subject to this part shall file for approval any membership agreement, including any rider or endorsement.

(2) A filing under subsection (1) must include all fee schedules associated with the membership agreement.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 210, L. 2017.

33-2-2208. Trade practices. (1) A private air ambulance service subject to this part may not use health status as a reason to:

(a) refuse to issue or renew a membership agreement;

(b) assess a differing rate or charge for the membership agreement; or

(c) exclude a specific individual for a membership agreement issued for a household or other group of individuals.

(2) A private air ambulance service subject to this part may not sell, solicit, negotiate, or advertise a membership program in a geographic area for which the private air ambulance does not routinely provide service.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (4)(b), if membership coverage of a transport is conditioned on a finding of medical necessity, a qualified medical professional shall render the determination.

(4) A membership agreement requirement of medical necessity is satisfied if:

(a) the treating physician requesting the transport certifies that the transport is medically necessary; or

(b) the member's insurer determines that the transport is medically necessary.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 210, L. 2017.

33-2-2209 and 33-2-2210 reserved.

33-2-2211. Recordkeeping requirements. (1) A private air ambulance service subject to this part shall keep records of:

(a) all insurance transactions conducted in Montana; and

(b) all transports provided to individuals entering into membership agreements.

(2) A private air ambulance service subject to this section shall make the records under subsection (1) available to the commissioner on request.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 210, L. 2017.

33-2-2212. Relationship to other laws. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), the chapters and provisions of this title do not apply to a private air ambulance service.

(2) Title 33, chapter 1, parts 3, 4, 5, 12, and 13, chapter 18, parts 2 and 10, and chapter 19 as well as this part apply to a private air ambulance service that offers a membership program covering out-of-pocket expenses in excess of deductibles, copays, and coinsurance incurred for out-of-network services using the private air ambulance service or to private air ambulance services that are out-of-network and with which the membership program has reciprocity.

(3) A membership program of the type described in subsection (2) is insurance as defined in 33-1-201.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 210, L. 2017.

33-2-2213. Rulemaking authority. The department shall adopt rules necessary to implement this part.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 210, L. 2017.

Part 23
Air Ambulance Providers and Insurers

33-2-2301. Legislative findings and purpose. (1) The legislature finds that:

(a) air ambulance services provide a necessary, and sometimes lifesaving, means of transporting Montanans experiencing health emergencies;

(b) Montanans desire adequate access to air ambulance services;

(c) in many cases the high charges assessed by out-of-network air ambulance services and limited insurer and health plan reimbursements have resulted in Montanans incurring excessive out-of-pocket expenses; and

(d) the federal Airline Deregulation Act preempts states from enacting any law related to a price, route, or service of an air carrier, which is interpreted as applying to air ambulance services.

(2) The purpose of this part is to prevent Montanans from incurring excessive out-of-pocket expenses in out-of-network air ambulance situations in a manner that is not preempted by the Airline Deregulation Act.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 231, L. 2017.

33-2-2302. Hold harmless. (1) If a covered person receives services from a non-Montana hospital-controlled out-of-network air ambulance service for an emergency medical condition, an insurer or health plan shall assume the covered person's responsibility, if any, for amounts charged in excess of allowed amounts for covered services and supplies, applicable copayments, coinsurance, and deductibles.

(2) An insurer or health plan that assumes a responsibility pursuant to subsection (1) shall notify the air ambulance service of that assumption no later than the date the insurer or health plan issues payment under subsection (4).

(3) If an air ambulance service receives notice pursuant to subsection (2), with the exception of amounts owed for applicable copayments, coinsurance, and deductibles, the air ambulance service may not:

(a) bill, collect, or attempt to collect from the covered person for the responsibility assumed under subsection (1);

(b) report to a consumer reporting agency that the covered person is delinquent on the responsibility assumed under subsection (1); or

(c) obtain a lien on the covered person's property in connection with the responsibility assumed under subsection (1).

(4) (a) An insurer or health plan is responsible for payment or denial of a claim within 30 days after receipt of a proof of loss, except as provided in 33-18-232(1). Within the timeframe provided in this subsection (4)(a), the insurer or health plan shall notify the covered person of the amount of deductible, coinsurance, or copayment that is the covered person's responsibility to pay.

(b) The insurer or health plan responsible under subsection (1) shall make payment based on:

(i) the billed charges of the air ambulance service;

(ii) another amount negotiated with the air ambulance service; or

(iii) the median amount the insurer or health plan would pay to an in-network air ambulance service for the services performed.

(5) If after payment is made under subsection (4) the insurer or health plan and air ambulance service dispute whether any further payment obligation exists, the insurer or health plan and air ambulance service shall enter into the dispute resolution process set forth in 33-2-2304 through 33-2-2306. After the independent dispute resolution process is exhausted, the aggrieved party may pursue any available remedies in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(6) For the purposes of this section:

(a) "emergency medical condition" means a medical condition manifesting itself by acute symptoms of sufficient severity, including severe pain, so that a person who possesses knowledge of health and medicine could reasonably expect the absence of immediate medical attention to result in:

(i) placing the health of the individual or, with respect to a pregnant woman, the health of the woman or her unborn child in serious jeopardy;

(ii) serious impairment to bodily functions; or

(iii) serious dysfunction of any bodily organ or part; and

(b) "insurer" means a health insurance issuer as defined in 33-22-140 and includes issuers of health insurance under Titles 2 and 20.

(7) This part does not apply if a covered person used an air ambulance membership subscription, as provided in 50-6-320, for the services provided by the air ambulance service.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 231, L. 2017.

33-2-2303. Disclosures by air ambulance service. An out-of-network nonhospital-controlled air ambulance service must disclose by July 1 of each year any relationships or financial arrangements with health care providers, insurers, or health plans. This includes but is not limited to employment arrangements, ownership interests, first call agreements, and board memberships. This information must be filed with the department of public health and human services and also posted prominently on the commissioner of insurance's website. The air ambulance service must ensure the continued accuracy of this information throughout the year by submitting written updates within 5 days of any changes to the information.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 231, L. 2017.

33-2-2304. Independent dispute resolution. (1) If an insurer or health plan and air ambulance service enter into dispute resolution, the procedure in 33-2-2305 is to be used to determine the fair market price of the services that are the subject of the claim.

(2) Payment of the fair market price calculated pursuant to 33-2-2305 constitutes payment in full of the claim.

(3) A determination under this section is not binding on the insurer or health plan and the air ambulance service.

(4) Unless otherwise agreed to by the parties, each party shall:

(a) bear its own attorney fees and costs incurred under the procedure provided in 33-2-2305; and

(b) equally bear all fees and costs of the independent reviewer.

(5) As used in this section, "fair market price" means the value of the services provided as determined by the independent reviewer based on the factors provided in 33-2-2305(6).

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 231, L. 2017.

33-2-2305. Independent dispute resolution procedure — exemptions. (1) To initiate a dispute resolution procedure under this part, the parties shall file a written notice of dispute with the insurance commissioner.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3), within 30 days after the date of receipt of the notice of dispute, and if no independent reviewer is mutually agreed to by the insurer or health plan and air ambulance service under subsection (3), the insurance commissioner shall appoint an independent reviewer having the qualifications listed in 33-2-2306. The insurance commissioner shall select an independent reviewer randomly from a list established under 33-2-2306.

(3) The insurer or health plan and air ambulance provider may by mutual agreement select an independent reviewer. The parties shall notify the insurance commissioner of the mutually agreed independent reviewer prior to the appointment of an independent reviewer under subsection (2).

(4) An independent reviewer's sole substantive determination under this part is the fair market price of the services that are the subject of the claim.

(5) The independent reviewer may make procedural rulings necessary to regulate the proceedings.

(6) The factors to be used in the independent reviewer's determination are:

(a) the training, qualifications, and composition of the air ambulance service personnel;

(b) the fees for rotor wing or fixed wing services originating or provided entirely within the state of Montana that are:

(i) usually charged by the air ambulance service in Montana;

(ii) usually accepted as payment in full by the air ambulance service in Montana;

(iii) usually charged by other air ambulance services doing business in Montana;

(iv) usually accepted as payment in full by other air ambulance services doing business in Montana; and

(v) usually paid by the insurer or health plan for the service provided in Montana;

(c) whether the air ambulance service was provided in a rural or urban context;

(d) the applicable medicare rate of payment for the services that are the subject of the claim; and

(e) any other factors the independent reviewer determines to be relevant in determining fair market price in accordance with established precedent.

(7) Participation in a dispute resolution procedure under 33-2-2304 through 33-2-2306 exempts an insurer from 33-18-201(6) and (8) and 33-18-232(2).

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 231, L. 2017.

33-2-2306. Insurance commissioner duties — independent reviewer qualifications. (1) The insurance commissioner shall:

(a) approve any independent reviewer that is eligible to adjudicate disputes under this part;

(b) maintain a list of independent reviewers eligible to adjudicate disputes under this part;

(c) terminate approval of an independent reviewer and remove the independent reviewer from the list of approved independent reviewers upon determining that an independent reviewer no longer meets the requirements to adjudicate disputes; and

(d) adopt rules necessary to implement this part, including rules regarding discovery and other procedures regarding the dispute resolution process and eligibility of an independent reviewer.

(2) An individual is eligible to be an independent reviewer under this part if the individual is knowledgeable and experienced in applicable principles of contract and insurance law.

(3) In approving an individual as an independent reviewer, the insurance commissioner shall ensure that the individual does not have a conflict of interest that would adversely impact the individual's independence and impartiality in rendering a decision in an independent dispute resolution procedure under 33-2-2304 and 33-2-2305. A conflict of interest includes but is not limited to an ownership or direct familial interest in an insurer, a health care provider, or an air ambulance service that may be involved in an independent dispute resolution procedure under 33-2-2304 and 33-2-2305.

(4) In approving an individual as an independent reviewer, the insurance commissioner may not approve an individual who is currently serving in any matter as a hearing officer for the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 231, L. 2017.

Part 24
Pharmacy Benefit Manager Oversight

33-2-2401. Short title — purpose. (1) This part may be cited as the "Montana Pharmacy Benefit Manager Oversight Act".

(2) This part establishes the standards and criteria for the licensure and regulation of pharmacy benefit managers that provide claims processing services or other prescription drug or device services for health benefit plans and workers' compensation insurance carriers.

(3) The purpose of this part is to:

(a) promote, preserve, and protect the public health, safety, and welfare through regulation and licensure of pharmacy benefit managers;

(b) provide for powers and duties of the commissioner in licensing and regulating pharmacy benefit managers; and

(c) provide penalties for violations of this part.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 501, L. 2021.

33-2-2402. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Claims processing services" means the administrative services performed in connection with the processing and adjudicating of claims relating to pharmacist services that include either or both of the following:

(a) receiving payments for pharmacist services; and

(b) making payments to pharmacists or pharmacies.

(2) "Enrollee" means a member, policyholder, subscriber, covered person, beneficiary, dependent, or other individual participating in a health benefit plan.

(3) "Federally certified health entity" means a 340B covered entity as described in 42 U.S.C. 256b(a)(4).

(4) "Health benefit plan" means a policy, contract, certificate, or agreement entered into, offered, or issued by a health carrier to provide, deliver, arrange for, pay for, or reimburse any of the costs of health care services.

(5) (a) "Health carrier" means an entity that is subject to the insurance laws and regulations of this state or to the jurisdiction of the commissioner and that contracts or offers to contract or enters into an agreement to provide, deliver, arrange for, pay for, or reimburse any of the costs of health care services.

(b) The term includes:

(i) self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements as defined in 33-35-103; and

(ii) any other entity providing a plan of health insurance, health benefits, or health care services.

(6) "Manufacturer" has the meaning provided in 37-7-602.

(7) "Other prescription drug or device services" means services other than claims processing services that are provided directly or indirectly, whether in connection with or separate from claims processing services, including but not limited to:

(a) negotiating rebates, discounts, or other financial incentives and arrangements with manufacturers, wholesale distributors, or other third parties;

(b) disbursing or distributing rebates;

(c) managing or participating in incentive programs or arrangements for pharmacist services;

(d) negotiating or entering into contractual arrangements with pharmacists, pharmacies, or both;

(e) developing and maintaining formularies;

(f) designing prescription drug benefit programs;

(g) advertising or promoting services; or

(h) administering prior authorization, step therapy, case management, or other utilization review programs.

(8) "Pharmacist" has the meaning provided in 33-22-170.

(9) "Pharmacist services" means products, goods, and services or any combination of products, goods, and services provided as part of the practice of pharmacy.

(10) "Pharmacy" means an established location, either physical or electronic, that is licensed by the board of pharmacy pursuant to Title 37, chapter 7.

(11) (a) "Pharmacy benefit manager" means a person, including a wholly or partially owned or controlled subsidiary of a pharmacy benefit manager, that provides claims processing services or other prescription drug or device services, or both, to:

(i) enrollees who are residents of this state, for health benefit plans; or

(ii) injured workers of workers' compensation insurance carriers.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) a health care facility as defined in 50-5-101 that is licensed in this state;

(ii) a health care professional licensed under Title 37;

(iii) a consultant who provides advice only as to the selection or performance of a pharmacy benefit manager; or

(iv) a health carrier or workers' compensation insurance carrier to the extent that the carrier performs any claims processing and other prescription drug or device services exclusively for its enrollees or injured workers.

(12) "Pharmacy services administrative organization" means an entity that acts as a contracting agent or provides contracting and other administrative services to pharmacies to assist them in their interactions with third-party payers and pharmacy benefit managers.

(13) "Plan sponsor" has the meaning provided in 33-10-202.

(14) (a) "Rebates" means all price concessions, however characterized, paid by a manufacturer to a pharmacy benefit manager, including discounts and other remuneration or price concessions, that are based on the actual or estimated utilization of a prescription drug.

(b) The term includes price concessions based on the effectiveness of a prescription drug as in a value-based or performance-based contract.

(15) "Wholesale acquisition cost" has the meaning provided in 42 U.S.C. 1395w-3a.

(16) "Wholesale distributor" or "distributor" has the meaning provided in 37-7-602.

(17) "Workers' compensation insurance carrier" means:
(a) an insurance company transacting business under compensation plan No. 2; or
(b) the state fund compensation plan No. 3 under Title 39, chapter 71.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 501, L. 2021; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-2-2403. Licensing required. (1) A person may not perform an act or do business in this state as a pharmacy benefit manager without a valid license issued under this part by the commissioner.

(2) A license issued under this part is nontransferable.

(3) A pharmacy benefit manager shall apply to the commissioner on a form prescribed by the commissioner. At a minimum, the application form must include the following information:

(a) the name, business address, and telephone number of the pharmacy benefit manager and the name, address, and contact information for the principal contact person of the pharmacy benefit manager for communications with the commissioner on licensure-related matters;

(b) the name and address of:

(i) all members of the pharmacy benefit manager's board of directors, board of trustees, executive committee, or other governing board of committee;

(ii) the principal officers in the case of a corporation; or

(iii) the partners or members in the case of a partnership or association;

(c) proof of registration with the Montana secretary of state;

(d) a copy of the most recent fiscal yearend audited financial statement of the pharmacy benefit manager;

(e) a list of all health carrier, plan sponsor, and workers' compensation insurance carrier clients in this state;

(f) a description of the projected number of enrollees and injured workers to be administered by the pharmacy benefit manager in this state on an annual basis for each health carrier client, plan sponsor client, and workers' compensation insurance carrier client;

(g) a copy of the policies and procedures that demonstrate the pharmacy benefit manager has established processes to comply with the requirements of 33-22-170 through 33-22-177 and 33-22-180 concerning maximum allowable costs lists, including the appeals process required under 33-22-173;

(h) a description of the pharmacy benefit manager's network service areas and pharmacy accessibility in this state;

(i) disclosure of any ownership interest, either directly or indirectly or through an affiliate, holding company, or subsidiary in a pharmacy or mail-order pharmacy that is part of the pharmacy benefit manager's network; and

(j) disclosure of any ownership interest, either directly or indirectly or through an affiliate, holding company, or subsidiary by a health carrier or workers' compensation insurance carrier in the pharmacy benefit manager or by the pharmacy benefit manager in a health carrier or workers' compensation insurance carrier.

(4) Each application for licensure must be accompanied by a nonrefundable fee of $1,000.

(5) The commissioner may require additional information for submission from an applicant and may obtain any document or information reasonably necessary to verify the information contained in an application.

(6) The commissioner may refuse to issue or renew a license if the commissioner finds that the applicant:

(a) is not competent, trustworthy, or financially responsible;

(b) has violated the insurance laws of this state, including violation of 33-22-170 through 33-22-177 and 33-22-180, or any other state; or

(c) has had an insurance or other certificate of authority or license denied or revoked for cause by any jurisdiction.

(7) The commissioner shall grant or deny an initial application for a license within 60 days from the date that a completed application and license fee is received.

(8) (a) Unless surrendered, suspended, or revoked by the commissioner, a license issued under this section is valid as long as the pharmacy benefit manager:

(i) continues to do business in this state;

(ii) remains in compliance with the provisions of this part;

(iii) completes a renewal application on a form prescribed by the commissioner; and

(iv) pays an annual license renewal fee of $500.

(b) The renewal fee and application must be received by the commissioner at least 30 days before the anniversary of the effective date of the pharmacy benefit manager's initial or most recent license.

(9) Denial of an application for initial licensure or renewal of licensure is considered a contested case under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

(10) In lieu of denying an application for initial licensure or renewal of licensure, the commissioner may allow the pharmacy benefit manager to submit a corrective action plan to cure or correct the deficiencies identified in review of the application.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 501, L. 2021.

33-2-2404. Pharmacy benefit manager prohibited practices. (1) In any participation contracts between a pharmacy benefit manager and pharmacies, pharmacists, or pharmacy services administrative organizations, a pharmacy or pharmacist may not be prohibited, restricted, or penalized in any way from disclosing to any enrollee or injured worker any information the pharmacy or pharmacist considers appropriate regarding:

(a) the decision of utilization reviewers or similar persons to authorize or deny drug coverage or benefits; and

(b) the process that is used to authorize or deny drug coverage or benefits.

(2) (a) A pharmacy benefit manager contract with a participating pharmacy, pharmacist, or a pharmacy services administrative organization in this state may not prohibit, restrict, or limit disclosure of information to the commissioner when the commissioner is investigating or examining a complaint or conducting a review of a pharmacy benefit manager's compliance with the requirements of this part.

(b) A pharmacy benefit manager may not terminate the contract of or penalize a pharmacy, pharmacist, or a pharmacy services administrative organization for sharing any portion of the pharmacy benefit manager contract with the commissioner for investigation of a complaint or a question regarding whether the contract complies with this part.

(c) Any examination or review under this section must follow the examination procedures and requirements applicable to insurers under Title 33, chapter 1, part 4, including but not limited to the confidentiality provisions of 33-1-409.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 501, L. 2021; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-2-2405. Marketing and advertising. (1) A pharmacy benefit manager may not cause or knowingly permit the use of an advertisement, promotion, solicitation, representation, proposal, or offer that is untrue, deceptive, or misleading.

(2) The commissioner may not review or approve a pharmacy benefit manager's marketing or advertising documents prior to use by the pharmacy benefit manager.

(3) The commissioner shall review complaints related to pharmacy benefit manager marketing and advertising material to determine whether the materials violate the provisions of this section.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 501, L. 2021.

33-2-2406. Pharmacy benefit manager transparency to carriers and plan sponsors. (1) Beginning in the second quarter after the effective date of a contract between a pharmacy benefit manager and a health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier, the pharmacy benefit manager shall disclose, within 45 days of a request of the health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier, the following information regarding prescription drug benefits specific to the health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier:

(a) the aggregate wholesale acquisition costs from a manufacturer or wholesale distributor for each therapeutic category of prescription drugs;

(b) the aggregate wholesale acquisition costs from a manufacturer or wholesale distributor for each therapeutic category of prescription drugs available to enrollees of the health carrier or plan sponsor or injured workers of the workers' compensation insurance carrier;

(c) the aggregate amount of rebates received by the pharmacy benefit manager by therapeutic category of prescription drugs;

(d) any other fees received from a manufacturer or wholesale distributor and the reason for the fees;

(e) whether the pharmacy benefit manager has a contract, agreement, or other arrangement with a manufacturer to exclusively dispense or provide a drug to enrollees of the health carrier or plan sponsor or injured workers of the workers' compensation carrier, and the application of all consideration or economic benefits collected or received pursuant to the arrangement;

(f) prescription drug utilization information for enrollees of the health carrier or plan sponsor or injured workers of the workers' compensation carrier, including but not limited to:

(i) the top 10 prescription drugs by average total spending for each enrollee or injured worker;

(ii) the top 10 prescription drugs by average out-of-pocket spending for each enrollee or injured worker;

(iii) the top 10 therapeutic classes of prescription drugs by total spending and volume;

(iv) the total number of pharmacy transactions; and

(v) the total number of rejected pharmacy transactions, including a breakdown of the number rejected for the following reasons:

(A) nonformulary status;

(B) prior authorization requirements; and

(C) step therapy requirements;

(g) de-identified claims-level information in electronic format that allows the health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier to sort and analyze the following information for each claim:

(i) whether the claim required prior authorization;

(ii) the amount paid to the pharmacy for each prescription, net of the aggregate amount of fees or other assessments imposed on the pharmacy, including point-of-sale and retroactive charges;

(iii) any spread between the net amount paid to the pharmacy as described in subsection (1)(g)(ii) and the amount charged to the health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier;

(iv) whether the pharmacy is or is not:

(A) under common control or ownership with the pharmacy benefit manager;

(B) a preferred pharmacy for the health benefit plan or workers' compensation insurance carrier; or

(C) a mail-order pharmacy; and

(v) whether enrollees or injured workers are required by the health benefit plan or workers' compensation insurance carrier to use the pharmacy;

(h) the aggregate amount of payments made by the pharmacy benefit manager on behalf of the health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier to:

(i) pharmacies owned or controlled by the pharmacy benefit manager; and

(ii) pharmacies not owned or controlled by the pharmacy benefit manager; and

(i) the aggregate amount of the fees imposed on or collected from network pharmacies or other assessments against network pharmacies, including point-of-sale fees and retroactive charges, and the amount of fees passed on to the health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier pursuant to the contract with the health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier.

(2) A health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier may request more detailed data from the pharmacy manager for any aggregate data provided under this section, including information to verify the pharmacy benefit manager's source of and reported amounts of rebates and fees.

(3) A pharmacy benefit manager may require a health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier to agree to a nondisclosure agreement that specifies that the information reported under this section is proprietary information. A pharmacy benefit manager requiring the use of a nondisclosure agreement is not required to disclose information under this section to the health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier until the health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier has executed the nondisclosure agreement.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 501, L. 2021.

33-2-2407. Transparency report to the commissioner. (1) By July 1 each year for the immediately preceding calendar year, each pharmacy benefit manager doing business in this state shall report to the commissioner on a form prescribed by the commissioner the following information regarding prescription drug benefits provided to enrollees of each health carrier and plan sponsor and injured workers of workers' compensation insurance carriers in the state with which the pharmacy benefit manager has contracted during the previous calendar year:

(a) the aggregate prescription drug spending for all of the pharmacy benefit manager's health carrier, plan sponsor, and workers' compensation insurance carrier clients in this state;

(b) the aggregate prescription drug spending as described in subsection (1)(a) net of all rebates and other fees and payments, direct or indirect, from all sources;

(c) the aggregate dollar amount of all rebates that the pharmacy benefit manager received from all manufacturers for all health carrier, plan sponsor, and workers' compensation insurance carrier clients in this state;

(d) the aggregate dollar amount of all fees from all sources, direct or indirect, that the pharmacy benefit manager received for all of the pharmacy benefit manager's health carrier, plan sponsor, and workers' compensation insurance carrier clients in this state and the reason for the fees;

(e) the aggregate dollar amount of all retained rebates and fees, as listed in subsection (1)(d), that the pharmacy benefit manager received from all sources, direct or indirect, that were not passed through to health carrier, plan sponsor, and workers' compensation insurance carrier clients in this state;

(f) the aggregate retained rebate and fees percentage;

(g) the highest, lowest, and mean aggregate retained rebate and fees percentage for all of the pharmacy benefit manager's health carrier, plan sponsor, and workers' compensation insurance carrier clients in this state;

(h) de-identified claims-level information in electronic format that allows the commissioner to sort and analyze the following information for each claim:

(i) the drug and quantity for each prescription;

(ii) whether the claim required prior authorization;

(iii) patient cost-sharing paid on each prescription;

(iv) the amount paid to the pharmacy for each prescription, net of the aggregate amount of fees or other assessments imposed on the pharmacy by the pharmacy benefit manager, including point-of-sale and retroactive charges;

(v) any spread between the net amount paid to the pharmacy as calculated in subsection (1)(h)(iv) and the amount charged to the health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier client;

(vi) the pharmacy used for each prescription;

(vii) whether the pharmacy is or is not:

(A) under common control or ownership with the pharmacy benefit manager;

(B) a preferred pharmacy under the health benefit plan; or

(C) a mail-order pharmacy; and

(viii) whether enrollees or injured workers are required by the health benefit plan or workers' compensation insurance carrier to use the pharmacy; and

(i) the aggregate amount of rebates passed on by the pharmacy benefit manager to the enrollees of each health carrier and plan sponsor client in this state at the point of sale that reduced the enrollee's applicable deductible, copayment, coinsurance, or other cost-sharing amount.

(2) For the purposes of this section, the aggregate retained rebate and fee percentage must be calculated for each health carrier, plan sponsor, and workers' compensation insurance carrier for rebates and fees received in the previous calendar year by dividing the sum total dollar amount of rebates and fees from all manufacturers for all utilization of enrollees of a health carrier or plan sponsor and injured workers of a workers' compensation insurance carrier that was not passed through to the health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier by the sum total dollar amount of all rebates and fees received from all sources, direct or indirect, for all enrollees of a health carrier or plan sponsor and injured workers of a workers' compensation insurance carrier.

(3) The commissioner may request more detailed information from a pharmacy benefit manager for any aggregate data reported under this section, including information to verify a pharmacy benefit manager's reported amounts of rebates and fees and their allocation to a health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier.

(4) On the request of a pharmacy benefit manager, the commissioner may exempt from disclosure any part of the pharmacy benefit manager's submission that the commissioner determines to contain trade secrets as defined in 30-14-402.

(5) (a) Information provided pursuant to subsections (1)(h)(iii) through (1)(h)(v) is considered a response to an examination under Title 33, chapter 1, part 4, and is subject to the confidentiality provisions of 33-1-409. Any data, documents, materials, or other information provided pursuant to those subsections is not subject to subpoena or discovery and is not admissible in evidence in any private civil action.

(b) The commissioner may use the data, documents, materials, or other information in the furtherance of a regulatory or legal action brought as part of the commissioner's official duties.

(6) (a) By December 31 of each year, the commissioner shall publish on the commissioner's website an aggregated rebate and fee transparency report based on the information submitted by each pharmacy benefit manager.

(b) The report may not contain information considered under this section to be confidential or a trade secret.

(c) The report must be published in a manner that does not disclose:

(i) the identity of a specific health carrier, plan sponsor, or workers' compensation insurance carrier;

(ii) the prices charged for a specific prescription drug or class of drugs; or

(iii) the amount of any rebates provided for a specific prescription drug or class of drugs.

(7) The commissioner may request the information required under this section at any time if the commissioner believes the information is reasonably necessary to ensure compliance with this part.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 501, L. 2021.

33-2-2408. Pharmacy benefit manager appeals report. (1) Pharmacy benefit managers shall track, monitor, and report to the commissioner each quarter the following aggregated information related to appeals filed pursuant to 33-22-173:

(a) the number of appeals filed by pharmacies;

(b) whether the appeals were denied or upheld by the pharmacy benefit manager and, if denied, the reasons for the denials;

(c) for each denial, confirmation that the pharmacy benefit manager provided the pharmacy in writing the pricing and other information required under 33-22-173;

(d) the total amount of price adjustments made by the pharmacy benefit manager; and

(e) the average amount of days taken to make price adjustments.

(2) The report must be filed within 30 days of the close of each calendar quarter.

(3) The commissioner may request information required under this section at any time if the commissioner believes the information is reasonably necessary to ensure compliance with this part, 33-22-170 through 33-22-177, and 33-22-180.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 501, L. 2021.

33-2-2409. Network adequacy. (1) A pharmacy benefit manager shall provide an adequate and accessible pharmacy network for the provision of prescription drugs to ensure reasonable proximity of pharmacies to the businesses or personal residences of enrollees and injured workers.

(2) In determining whether a pharmacy benefit manager has complied with the requirements of this section, consideration must be given to the relative availability of physical pharmacies in a geographic area.

(3) The commissioner shall adopt rules for network adequacy.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 501, L. 2021.

33-2-2410. Federal 340B drug pricing program. A pharmacy benefit manager or health carrier may not:

(1) prohibit a federally certified health entity or a pharmacy under contract with an entity to provide pharmacy services from participating in the pharmacy benefit manager's or health carrier's provider network;

(2) reimburse a federally certified health entity or a pharmacy under contract with an entity differently than it reimburses other similarly situated pharmacies;

(3) require a claim for a drug to include a modifier to indicate that the drug is a 340B drug unless the claim is for payment, directly or indirectly, by the medicaid program provided for in Title 53, chapter 6, part 1; or

(4) create a restriction or an additional charge on a patient who chooses to receive drugs from a federally certified health entity or a pharmacy under contract with an entity, including but not limited to a patient's inability to fully pay a copayment. (Subsection (3) terminates June 1, 2029—sec. 34, Ch. 8, L. 2025.)

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 501, L. 2021.

Compiler's Comments

Extension of Termination Date: Section 34, Ch. 8, L. 2025, and sec. 36, Ch. 8, L. 2025, amended sec. 26, Ch. 501, L. 2021, and sec. 1, Ch. 259, L. 2023, by extending the termination dates imposed by those sections to June 1, 2029. Effective February 27, 2025.

33-2-2411. Enforcement — penalties. (1) The commissioner shall enforce the provisions of this part, 33-22-170 through 33-22-177, and 33-22-180 and may examine the affairs of a pharmacy benefit manager to determine compliance with the provisions.

(2) Any examination under this section must follow the examination procedures and requirements applicable to insurers under Title 33, chapter 1, part 4, including the confidentiality provisions of 33-1-409.

(3) A pharmacy benefit manager may not be regularly examined under the same time period as required of insurers under 33-1-401 but the commissioner may examine the pharmacy benefit manager at any time if the commissioner believes it is reasonably necessary to ensure compliance with this part.

(4) The commissioner may impose a fine in accordance with 33-1-317 and 33-1-318 for a violation of this part, 33-22-170 through 33-22-177, and 33-22-180.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 501, L. 2021.

33-2-2412. Rulemaking. The commissioner may adopt rules as necessary to implement the provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 501, L. 2021.

Part 25
Regulatory Waivers

33-2-2501. (Temporary) Regulatory sandbox waiver — property or casualty insurers — application — considerations by the commissioner — limitations — rulemaking. (1) The commissioner may grant a variance or waiver with respect to the requirements of an insurance law or rule if a property or casualty insurer, subject to that law or rule, demonstrates to the satisfaction of the commissioner that:

(a) the application of the law or rule would prohibit the introduction of an innovative or more efficient insurance product or service that the applicant intends to offer during the period the variance or waiver is granted;

(b) the public policy goals of the law or rule may be achieved by other means;

(c) the waiver may not substantially increase any risk to consumers;

(d) the waiver may not cause a material negative impact to the insurer in matters including but not limited to solvency; and

(e) the waiver is in the public interest.

(2) An application for a waiver must include the following information:

(a) the identity of the insurer applying for the waiver;

(b) the identity of the directors and executive officers of the insurer, any persons who are beneficial owners of 10% or more of the voting securities of the insurer, and any individuals with power to direct the management and policies of the insurer;

(c) a description of the product or service to be offered if the waiver is granted, including how the product or service functions and the manner and terms on which it must be offered;

(d) a description of the potential benefits to consumers of the product or service;

(e) a description of the potential risks, including but not limited to financial risks, to consumers posed by the product or service or approval of the proposed waiver and how the applicant proposes to mitigate the risks;

(f) a statement that the insurer has a physical presence in the state and has a certificate of authority issued by the commissioner to write insurance in the state;

(g) a filing fee of $1,000 unless the submission is complex and lengthy, in which case the commissioner may provide an estimate of the fee that is commensurate with regulatory costs for consideration of the submission. The insurer may withdraw the submission after receiving the estimate.

(h) if applicable, a request to segregate and protect from disclosure any confidential trade secrets in the application must be stated in the application with the confidential information specifically identified for the commissioner; and

(i) any additional information required by the commissioner.

(3) (a) If approved by the commissioner, an innovation waiver must be granted for an initial period of up to 3 years.

(b) Prior to the end of the waiver period, the commissioner may grant an extension for up to an additional 3 years. An extension request must be made to the commissioner at least 45 days prior to the end of the initial waiver period and must include the length of the extension period requested and specific reasons why the extension is necessary. The commissioner shall grant or deny an extension request before the end of the initial waiver period.

(4) A waiver must include any terms, conditions, or limitations considered appropriate by the commissioner, including limits on the amount of premium that may be written in relation to the underlying product or service and the number of consumers that may purchase or utilize the underlying product or service, provided that a product or service subject to an innovation waiver may not be purchased or utilized by more than 10,000 insureds. It is not an unlawful discriminatory practice by an insurer to refuse to provide a product or service subject to an innovation waiver when there is a legitimate basis to refuse to provide a product or service that is tied to the limitations or purpose supporting the waiver.

(5) A product or service offered pursuant to an innovation waiver must include the following written disclosures to consumers in clear and conspicuous form:

(a) the name and contact information for the representative of the insurer providing the product or service;

(b) that the product or service is authorized pursuant to an innovation waiver for a temporary period of time and may be discontinued at the end of the waiver period, the date of which must be specified;

(c) contact information for the commissioner, including how a consumer may file a complaint with the commissioner regarding the product or service; and

(d) any additional disclosures required by the commissioner.

(6) (a) The commissioner shall either grant or deny a waiver within 90 days of receipt of a completed request.

(b) The commissioner's decision to grant, deny, or revoke a waiver is not subject to the hearings and appeals provisions as provided in Title 33, chapter 1, part 7.

(7) The commissioner may not grant a waiver with respect to any of the following:

(a) any law, rule, or other provision that is not subject to the commissioner's jurisdiction;

(b) any law, rule, or other provision concerning the assets, deposits, investments, capital surplus, or other solvency requirements applicable to insurers;

(c) the required participation in any assigned risk plan, residual market, or guaranty fund;

(d) the provisions of Title 33 related to insurers other than property or casualty insurers;

(e) any law or rule required to maintain accreditation by the national association of insurance commissioners unless the law or rule permits variances or waivers and the effect of the waiver does not eliminate accreditation;

(f) the application of any taxes or fees; and

(g) any other law or rule considered ineligible by the commissioner.

(8) A person who receives a waiver under this section may be required to possess or obtain one or a combination of the following in an amount subject to the conditions and for the purposes as the commissioner determines necessary for the protection of consumers:

(a) a contractual liability insurance policy;

(b) a surety bond issued by an authorized surety;

(c) securities of the type eligible for deposit by authorized insurers in this state;

(d) evidence that the insurer has established an account payable to the commissioner in a federally insured financial institution in this state and has deposited money of the United States in an amount equal to the amount required by this subsection (8) that is not available for withdrawal except by direct order of the commissioner;

(e) a letter of credit issued by a qualified United States financial institution; or

(f) another form of security authorized by the commissioner.

(9) (a) If a waiver is granted pursuant to this section, the commissioner shall provide public notice of the existence of the waiver by providing the following information:

(i) the specific statute or rule to which the waiver applies;

(ii) the name of the insurer who applied for and received the waiver;

(iii) the duration and other terms, conditions, or limitations of the waiver; and

(iv) any additional information considered appropriate by the commissioner.

(b) The notice requirement of this subsection (9) may be satisfied by publication on the commissioner's website.

(10) (a) The commissioner may revoke a waiver if the insurer who obtains the waiver fails to comply with any terms, conditions, or limitations established by the commissioner or the requirements of this section or if the waiver is causing a consumer harm or causes material harm to the insurer's solvency.

(b) In addition to any other sanctions and penalties permitted by the law, the commissioner may impose a fine of not more than $1,000 on any insurer who obtains a waiver and fails to comply with the material terms, conditions, or limitations established by the commissioner or the requirements of this section.

(11) The commissioner, by rule, may adopt procedures for submissions and granting, denying, monitoring, and revoking petitions for a waiver pursuant to this section. The procedures must set forth requirements for the ongoing monitoring, examination, and supervision of and reporting by each insurer granted a waiver under this section and must permit the commissioner to attach reasonable conditions or limitations on the conduct permitted pursuant to a waiver. The procedures must provide for an expedited application process for a product or service that is substantially similar to one for which a waiver has previously been granted by the commissioner.

(12) On expiration of an innovation waiver, the insurer who obtained the waiver shall cease all activities that were permitted only as a result of the waiver and comply with all applicable laws and rules.

(13) The ability to grant a waiver under this section may not be interpreted to limit or otherwise affect the authority of the commissioner to exercise discretion to waive or enforce requirements as permitted under any other section of this title or any rules.

(14) A waiver may not be granted that extends beyond July 30, 2029. (Terminates July 30, 2029—sec. 5, Ch. 546, L. 2023.)

Part 1
General Provisions

33-3-101. Scope of chapter. This chapter shall apply only to domestic stock insurers and domestic mutual insurers transacting or proposing to transact insurance on the cash premium or legal reserve plan, except that 33-3-414(2) and 33-3-503 shall also apply to foreign and alien insurers.

History: En. Sec. 418, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4701.

33-3-102. Definitions. (1) A "domestic mutual insurer" is an incorporated insurer without capital stock, and the governing body of which is elected by the policyholders.

(2) A "domestic stock insurer" is an incorporated insurer with capital divided into shares and owned by its stockholders.

History: En. Secs. 419, 420, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4702, 40-4703.

33-3-103. Applicability of general corporation statutes. (1) The applicable laws of this state as to domestic corporations formed for profit shall apply as to domestic stock insurers and domestic mutual insurers except where in conflict with the express provisions of this code and the reasonable implications of such provisions.

(2) Except as provided in part 6 of this chapter, 35-14-1401 through 35-14-1405 apply to the voluntary dissolution of a domestic insurer.

History: En. Sec. 421, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4704; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 389, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 188, Ch. 368, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 231, Ch. 271, L. 2019.

33-3-104. Extinguishment of unused corporate charters. (1) The corporate charter of any corporation formed under the laws of this state for the purpose of becoming an insurer, and which corporation during any period of 36 consecutive months after January 1, 1961, is not actively engaged in business as a domestic insurer under a certificate of authority issued to it by the commissioner under law currently in force, is automatically hereby extinguished and nullified at the expiration of such 36-month period.

(2) The period during which any such corporation referred to in subsection (1) above is the subject of delinquency proceedings under part 13, chapter 2, of this title shall not be counted as part of any such 36-month period.

History: En. Sec. 467, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4750(2), (3); amd. Sec. 141, Ch. 575, L. 1981.

Cross-References

33-3-105. Commissioner's request of biographical information. (1) The commissioner may request from domestic insurers biographical information from officers, directors, and persons in a position to control the activity of the following entities:

(a) insurers provided for in Title 33, chapter 3;

(b) farm mutual insurers provided for in Title 33, chapter 4;

(c) reciprocal insurers provided for in Title 33, chapter 5;

(d) health service corporations provided for in Title 33, chapter 30;

(e) health maintenance organizations provided for in Title 33, chapter 31; and

(f) the state fund provided for in Title 39, chapter 71, part 23.

(2) Officers, directors, or other persons in a position to control the activity of the entities listed in subsection (1) shall submit biographical information on a form prescribed by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 227, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 62, L. 2019.

Part 2
Formation

33-3-201. Incorporation. (1) This section applies to stock and mutual insurers incorporated in this state.

(2) Five or more individuals, none of whom are less than 18 years of age, may incorporate a stock insurer. Ten or more individuals, none of whom are less than 18 years of age, may incorporate a mutual insurer. At least a majority of the incorporators must be citizens of the United States. At least a majority of the incorporators must be residents of this state.

(3) The incorporators shall execute articles of incorporation. The articles of incorporation must state the purpose for which the corporation is formed and must show:

(a) the name of the corporation. If a mutual corporation, the word "mutual" must be a part of the name. An alternative name or names may be specified for use in jurisdictions where a conflict of name with that of another insurer or organization might otherwise prevent the corporation from being authorized to transact insurance in that jurisdiction.

(b) the duration of its existence, which may be perpetual;

(c) the kinds of insurance, as defined in this code, which the corporation is formed to transact;

(d) if a stock corporation, its authorized capital stock, the number of shares of common stock, and the par value of each share. The par value must be at least $1. Shares without par value or other than one class of voting common stock are not authorized. The articles of incorporation may limit or deny present or future stockholders preemptive or preferential rights to acquire additional issues of the stock, bonds, debentures, or other obligations convertible into stock, of the corporation, subject to the laws of Montana fixing the required representation and proportion of outstanding capital stock required to be represented and voted, for specified action, at any and all corporate meetings, elections, votes, or consent proceedings.

(e) if a stock corporation, the extent, if any, to which shares of its stock are subject to assessment;

(f) if a stock corporation, the number of shares subscribed, if any, by each incorporator;

(g) if a mutual corporation, the maximum contingent liability of its members, other than as to nonassessable policies, for payment of losses and expenses incurred. Any liability must be stated in the articles of incorporation but may not be less than one or more than six times the premium for the member's policy at the annual premium rate for a term of 1 year.

(h) the minimum, not less than 5, and the maximum, not more than 21, number of directors who constitute the board of directors and conduct the affairs of the corporation, and the names, addresses, and terms of the members of the initial board of directors. The term of office of initial directors may not be for more than 1 year after the date of incorporation.

(i) the name of the county, and the city, town, or place within the county, in which its principal office or principal place of business is to be located in this state;

(j) any other provisions, not inconsistent with law, considered appropriate by the incorporators;

(k) the name and residence address of each incorporator and the citizenship of each incorporator who is not a citizen of the United States.

History: En. Sec. 422, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 423, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 18, Ch. 100, L. 1973; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4705; amd. Sec. 13, Ch. 380, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 117, L. 2019; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 8, L. 2025.

33-3-202. Articles of incorporation — approval. (1) The incorporators of a proposed domestic insurer shall deliver an electronic copy of the proposed articles of incorporation to the commissioner. The commissioner shall examine the proposed articles of incorporation. If the commissioner finds that the articles comply with this chapter and are not in conflict with the constitution and laws of the United States or of this state, the commissioner shall approve the articles. However, if the commissioner finds that the proposed insurer would not be eligible for a certificate of authority under 33-2-112, the commissioner shall refuse to approve the articles of incorporation and shall provide in writing the reasons for the refusal. The commissioner shall forward the approved articles and the applicable fees to the secretary of state.

(2) If the commissioner finds that the proposed articles of incorporation do not comply with law, the commissioner shall refuse to approve the proposed articles of incorporation and shall provide a written statement of the reasons for the refusal.

(3) The corporation has legal existence as a corporation upon the issuance of the certificate of incorporation by the secretary of state, but the corporation may not transact business as an insurer until it has qualified for and received from the commissioner a certificate of authority as provided in this title.

(4) A copy of the certificate of incorporation, certified by the secretary of state, is admissible in all the courts of this state as prima facie evidence of proper incorporation.

33-3-203. Amendment of articles of incorporation — grounds for disapproval. (1) A domestic stock insurer may amend its articles of incorporation for any lawful purpose by written authorization of the holders of a majority of the voting power of its outstanding capital stock or by affirmative vote of a majority voting at a lawful meeting of stockholders of which the notice given to stockholders included notice of the proposal to amend.

(2) A domestic mutual insurer may amend its articles of incorporation for any lawful purpose by affirmative vote of a majority of those of its members present or represented by proxy at a lawful meeting of its members of which the notice given members included notice of the proposal to amend.

(3) Upon adoption of an amendment, the insurer shall set forth the amendment and the date and manner of the amendment's adoption in articles of amendment. The articles of amendment must be executed by the insurer's president or vice president and secretary or assistant secretary and acknowledged by them before an officer authorized by law to take acknowledgments of deeds. The insurer shall deliver to the commissioner the articles of amendment. If the commissioner finds that the articles of amendment and the amendment comply with law, the amendment must be approved. The amendment is effective when it has been filed with the secretary of state.

(4) If the commissioner finds that the proposed amendment or the articles of amendment do not comply with the law, the commissioner may not approve the amendment or the articles of amendment and shall provide a written statement of reasons for nonapproval. The filing fee is not returnable.

(5) If an amendment of articles of incorporation would reduce the authorized capital stock of a stock insurer below the amount then outstanding, the commissioner may not approve the amendment if the commissioner has reason to believe that the interests of policyholders or creditors of the insurer would be materially prejudiced by the reduction. If a reduction of capital stock is realized, the insurer may require the return of the original certificates of stock held by each stockholder for exchange for new certificates for the number of shares as the stockholder is then entitled in the proportion that the reduced capital bears to the amount of capital stock outstanding as of immediately prior to the effective date of the reduction.

33-3-204. Initial qualifications — domestic mutuals. (1) When newly organized, a domestic mutual insurer may be authorized to transact any of the kinds of insurance as are permitted under 33-2-108.

(2) When applying for an original certificate of authority, the insurer must be otherwise qualified therefor under this code and must have unimpaired surplus funds in an amount not less than the amount of paid-in capital stock required of a domestic stock insurer transacting like kinds of insurance as in 33-2-109, subject further to the additional special surplus requirements of 33-2-110 applicable to such stock insurer. The minimum amount of surplus must thereafter be maintained unimpaired and placed on deposit with the commissioner. The deposit is subject to the provisions of chapter 2, part 6, of this title and 33-2-111.

History: En. Sec. 425, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4708; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 303, L. 1981.

33-3-205. Formation of mutual insurer — bond. (1) Before soliciting applications for insurance to raise surplus funds to qualify for the original certificate of authority, the incorporators of the proposed insurer shall file with the commissioner a corporate surety bond in the penalty of $50,000, in favor of the state and for the use and benefit of the state and of applicant members and creditors of the corporation. The bond shall be conditioned as follows:

(a) for the prompt return to applicant members of all premiums collected in advance;

(b) for payment of all indebtedness of the corporation; and

(c) for payment of costs incurred by the state in event of any legal proceedings for liquidation or dissolution of the corporation, all in the event the corporation fails to complete its organization and secure a certificate of authority within 1 year after the date of its certificate of incorporation.

(2) In lieu of such bond, the incorporators may deposit with the commissioner $50,000 in cash or United States government bonds, negotiable and payable to the bearer, with a market value at all times of not less than $50,000, to be held in trust upon the same conditions as required for the bond.

(3) Any such bond filed or deposit or remaining portion thereof held under this section shall be released and discharged upon settlement and termination of all liabilities against it.

History: En. Sec. 426, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4709; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 303, L. 1981.

33-3-206. Applications for insurance in formation of mutual insurer. (1) Upon receipt of the commissioner's approval of the bond or deposit as provided in 33-3-205, the directors and officers of the proposed domestic mutual insurer may commence solicitation of such requisite applications for insurance policies as they may accept and may receive deposits of premiums thereon.

(2) All such applications shall be in writing signed by the applicant, covering subjects of insurance resident, located, or to be performed in this state.

(3) All such applications shall provide that:

(a) issuance of the policy is contingent upon the insurer qualifying for and receiving a certificate of authority;

(b) no insurance is in effect unless and until the certificate of authority has been issued; and

(c) the prepaid premium or deposit and membership or policy fee, if any, shall be refunded in full to the applicant if organization is not completed and the certificate of authority is not issued and received by the insurer before a specified reasonable date, which date shall be not later than 1 year after the date of the certificate of incorporation.

(4) All qualifying premiums collected shall be in cash.

(5) Solicitation for such qualifying applicants for insurance shall be by licensed insurance producers of the corporation, and the commissioner shall, upon the corporation's application therefor, issue temporary insurance producer's licenses expiring on the date specified pursuant to subsection(3)(c) above to individuals qualified as for a resident insurance producer's license except as to the taking or passing of an examination. The commissioner may suspend or revoke any such license for any of the causes and pursuant to the same procedures as are applicable to suspension or revocation of licenses of insurance producers in general under chapter 17.

History: En. Sec. 427, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4710; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-3-207. Formation of mutuals — trust deposit of premiums — issuance of policies. (1) All sums collected by a domestic mutual corporation as premiums or fees on qualifying applications for insurance therein shall be deposited in trust in a bank or trust company in this state under a written trust agreement consistent with this section and with 33-3-206(3)(c). The corporation shall file an executed copy of such trust agreement with the commissioner.

(2) Upon issuance to the corporation of a certificate of authority as an insurer for the kind of insurance for which such applications were solicited, all funds so held in trust shall become the funds of the insurer, and the insurer shall thereafter in due course issue and deliver its policies for which premiums had been paid and accepted. The insurance provided by such policies shall be effective as of the date of the certificate of authority or thereafter as provided by the respective policies.

33-3-209 through 33-3-214 reserved.

33-3-215. Mutualization of stock insurer. (1) A stock insurer other than a title insurer may become a mutual insurer under a plan and procedure approved by the commissioner after a hearing thereon.

(2) The commissioner shall not approve any plan, procedure, or mutualization unless:

(a) it is equitable to stockholders and policyholders;

(b) it is subject to approval by the holders of not less than three-fourths of the insurer's outstanding capital stock having voting rights and by not less than two-thirds of the insurer's policyholders who vote on such plan in person, by proxy, or by mail pursuant to such notice and procedure as may be approved by the commissioner;

(c) if a life insurer, the right to vote thereon is limited to holders of policies other than term or group policies and whose policies have been in force for more than 1 year;

(d) mutualization will result in retirement of shares of the insurer's capital stock at a price not in excess of the fair market value thereof as determined by competent disinterested appraisers;

(e) the plan provides for the purchase of the shares of any nonconsenting stockholder in the same manner and subject to the same applicable conditions as provided by Title 35, chapter 14, part 13, as to rights of nonconsenting stockholders, with respect to consolidation or merger of private corporations;

(f) the plan provides for definite conditions to be fulfilled by a designated early date upon which such mutualization will be deemed effective; and

(g) the mutualization leaves the insurer with surplus funds reasonably adequate for the security of its policyholders and to enable it to continue successfully in business in the states in which it is then authorized to transact insurance and for the kinds of insurance included in its certificates of authority in such states.

(3) This section shall not apply to mutualization under order of court pursuant to rehabilitation or reorganization of an insurer under chapter 2, part 13.

33-3-216. Converting mutual insurer to stock insurer. (1) A mutual insurer may become a stock insurer under a plan and procedure as may be approved by the commissioner after a hearing.

(2) The commissioner may not approve any plan or procedure unless:

(a) it is equitable to the insurer's members;

(b) it is subject to approval by vote of not less than three-fourths of the insurer's current members voting on the plan or procedure in person, by proxy, or by mail at a meeting of members called for the purpose pursuant to reasonable notice and procedure that may be approved by the commissioner. If the insurer is a life insurer, the right to vote may be limited to members who hold policies other than term or group policies and whose policies have been in force for not less than 1 year.

(c) the equity of each policyholder in the insurer is determinable under a fair formula approved by the commissioner, which equity must be based upon not less than the insurer's entire surplus, after deducting contributed or borrowed surplus funds, plus a reasonable present equity in its reserves and in all nonadmitted assets;

(d) the policyholders entitled to participate in the purchase of stock or distribution of assets must include all current policyholders and all existing persons who had been policyholders of the insurer within 3 years prior to the date the plan was submitted to the commissioner;

(e) the plan gives to each policyholder of the insurer, as specified in subsection (2)(d), a preemptive right to acquire the policyholder's proportionate part of all of the proposed capital stock of the insurer, within a designated reasonable period, and to apply upon the purchase of the stock the amount of the policyholder's equity in the insurer as determined under subsection (2)(c);

(f) shares are offered to policyholders at a price not greater than the price to be offered to others but at not more than double the par value of the shares;

(g) the plan provides for payment to each policyholder not electing to apply the policyholder's equity in the insurer for or upon the purchase price of stock to which preemptively entitled of cash in the amount of not less than 50% of the amount of the equity not used for the purchase of stock, and which cash payment together with stock purchased, if any, constitutes full payment and discharge of the policyholder's equity as an owner of the mutual insurer; and

(h) the plan, when completed, would provide for the converted insurer paid-in capital stock in an amount not less than the minimum paid-in capital required of a domestic stock insurer transacting like kinds of insurance, together with surplus funds in amount not less than one-half of the required capital.

History: En. Sec. 461, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4744; amd. Sec. 1132, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-3-217. Mergers and consolidations of stock insurers. (1) A domestic stock insurer may merge or consolidate with one or more domestic or foreign stock corporations authorized to transact business in this state by complying with the applicable provisions of the statutes of this state governing the merger or consolidation of stock corporations formed for profit but subject to subsections (2) and (3).

(2) A merger or consolidation may not be effectuated unless in advance of the merger or consolidation the plan and agreement for the merger or consolidation have been filed with the commissioner and approved in writing by the commissioner after a hearing. The commissioner shall give approval within a reasonable time after the filing unless the commissioner finds that the plan or agreement:

(a) is contrary to law;

(b) is inequitable to the stockholders of any domestic insurer involved; or

(c) would substantially reduce the security of and service to be rendered to policyholders of the domestic insurer in this state or elsewhere.

(3) A director, officer, insurance producer, or employee of any insurer that is party to the merger or consolidation may not receive any fee, commission, compensation, or other valuable consideration for in any manner aiding, promoting, or assisting in the merger or consolidation except as set forth in the plan or agreement.

(4) If the commissioner does not approve any plan or agreement, the commissioner shall notify the insurer in writing specifying the reasons for disapproval.

(5) If any domestic insurer involved in the proposed merger or consolidation is authorized to transact insurance in other states, the commissioner may request the insurance commissioner, director of insurance, superintendent of insurance, or other similar public insurance supervisory official of the two other states in which the insurer has in force the larger amounts of insurance to participate in the hearing provided for under subsection (2), with full right to examine all witnesses and evidence and to offer to the commissioner pertinent information and suggestions that they may consider proper.

(6) Any plan or proposal through which a stock insurer proposes to acquire a controlling stock interest in another stock insurer through an exchange of stock of the first insurer, issued by the insurer for the purpose, for the controlling stock of the second insurer is considered to be a plan or proposal of merger of the second insurer into the first insurer for the purposes of this section and is subject to the applicable provisions of this section.

(7) Upon merger or consolidation of a domestic insurer with another insurer under this chapter, the corporate charter of the merged or consolidated domestic insurer must automatically be extinguished and nullified.

33-3-218. Mergers and consolidations of mutual insurers. (1) A domestic mutual insurer may not merge or consolidate with a stock insurer.

(2) A domestic mutual insurer may merge or consolidate with another mutual insurer under the applicable procedures prescribed by the statutes of this state applying to corporations formed for profit, except as provided in this section.

(3) The plan and agreement for merger or consolidation must be submitted to and approved by at least two-thirds of the members of each mutual insurer involved by voting on the issue at meetings called for the purpose pursuant to reasonable notice and procedure that has been approved by the commissioner. If the insurer is a life insurer, the right to vote may be limited to members whose policies are other than term and group policies and have been in effect for more than 1 year.

(4) A merger or consolidation may not be effectuated unless in advance of the merger or consolidation the plan and agreement for the merger or consolidation have been filed with the commissioner and approved by the commissioner after a hearing. Part 3
Management

33-3-301. Bylaws of mutual. (1) A domestic mutual insurer must have bylaws for the governing of its affairs. The initial board of directors of the insurer shall adopt original bylaws, subject to the approval of the insurer's members at the next meeting. The members have the power to make, modify, and revoke bylaws.

(2) The bylaws must provide:

(a) that each member is entitled to one vote upon each matter coming to a vote at meetings of members or to more votes in accordance with a reasonable classification of members as set forth in the bylaws and based upon the amount of insurance in force, upon the number of policies held or the amount of the premiums paid by the member, or upon other reasonable factors. A member has the right to vote in person or by written proxy. A proxy may not be irrevocable or for longer than a reasonable period of time.

(b) for election of directors by the members and the number, qualifications, terms of office, and powers of directors;

(c) the time, notice, quorum, and conduct of annual and special meetings of members and voting at the meetings. The bylaws may provide that the annual meeting must be held at a place, date, and time to be set forth in the policy and without giving other notice of the meeting.

(d) the number, designation, election, terms, and powers and duties of the respective corporate officers;

(e) for deposit, custody, disbursement, and accounting as to corporate funds;

(f) for any other reasonable provisions customary, necessary, or convenient for the management or regulation of its corporate affairs.

(3) A provision in the bylaws for determining a quorum of members at any meeting of less than a majority of all the insurer's members is not effective unless approved by the commissioner. This subsection may not affect any other provision of law requiring the vote of a larger percentage of members for a specified purpose.

(4) The insurer shall promptly file with the commissioner a copy, certified by the insurer's secretary, of its bylaws and of every modification of or addition to the bylaws. The commissioner shall disapprove any bylaw provision that the commissioner considers unlawful, unreasonable, inadequate, unfair, or detrimental to the proper interests or protection of the insurer's members or any class of members. The insurer may not, after receiving written notice of the disapproval and during the existence of the disapproval, effectuate any bylaw provision disapproved.

History: En. Sec. 432, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4715; amd. Sec. 1135, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-3-302. Bylaws of stock insurer — modification. (1) A bylaw adopted at any meeting of stockholders of a domestic insurer may not be modified or revoked except by the stockholders at a subsequent meeting unless the bylaws as adopted or amended by the stockholders grant authority to the board of directors to revoke or modify bylaw provisions. The board of directors may not revoke or modify any bylaw relating to the qualifications, election, terms, or compensation of directors or to the calling or notice of meetings of stockholders. A revocation or modification of bylaws made by the directors under this provision must be presented at the next following meeting of stockholders for the information of the stockholders.

(2) The insurer shall promptly file with the commissioner a copy, certified by the insurer's secretary, of its bylaws and amended bylaws. The commissioner may disapprove any bylaw provision considered by the commissioner to be unlawful. The insurer may not, after receiving written notice of the commissioner's disapproval, enact any disapproved bylaw provision.

History: En. Sec. 433, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4716; amd. Sec. 30, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-3-303. Meetings of stockholders or members. (1) Except with the commissioner's consent, meetings of stockholders or members of a domestic insurer must be held in the city or town of its principal office or place of business in this state.

(2) A meeting of stockholders or members may not amend the insurer's articles of incorporation unless the proposal to amend was included in the notice of the meeting.

(3) Except with the commissioner's consent, each insurer shall, during the first 6 months of each calendar year, hold the annual meeting of its stockholders or members to fill vacancies existing or occurring in the board of directors, must receive and shall consider reports of the insurer's officers as to its affairs, and shall transact other business properly brought before it. Not less than 20 days' notice must be given of the meeting in the manner provided in the bylaws, except when notice of the annual meeting of a mutual insurer is contained in its policies.

(4) Special meetings of the stockholders or members may be called at any time for any purpose by the board of directors upon not less than 10 days' notice, with notice given as provided in the bylaws. The notice must state the purpose of the meeting, and business for which notice was not given may not be transacted at the meeting.

(5) If more than 15 months elapse without an annual stockholders' or members' meeting being held, any stockholder or member may call for an annual meeting to be held. At any time, upon written request of any director or of any stockholders or members holding in the aggregate one-fifth of the voting power of all stockholders or members, it is the duty of the secretary to call a special meeting of stockholders or members to be held at the time that the secretary may fix, not less than 10 or more than 30 days after the receipt of the request. If the secretary fails to issue a call, the director, stockholders, or members making the request may do so.

(6) A stockholders' or members' meeting duly held may be organized for the transaction of business whenever a quorum is present. Except as otherwise provided by law or the articles of incorporation:

(a) the presence, in person or by proxy, of the holders of a majority of the voting power of all stockholders or of all members constitutes a quorum;

(b) the stockholders or members present at a duly organized meeting may continue to do business until adjournment, notwithstanding the withdrawal of enough stockholders or members to leave less than a quorum;

(c) if any necessary officer fails to attend a meeting, any stockholder or member present may be elected to act temporarily in lieu of the absent officer;

(d) if a meeting cannot be held because a quorum is not present, those present may adjourn the meeting to a time that they determine, but in the case of any meeting called for the election of any director, the adjournment must be to the next day and those who attend the second meeting, although less than a quorum as fixed in this section or in the articles of incorporation, constitute a quorum for the purpose of electing any director; and

(e) an annual or special meeting of stockholders or members may be adjourned to another date without new notice being given.

History: En. Sec. 434, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4717; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 531, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 31, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-3-304. Proxies — corrupt practices. (1) Every proxy of a stockholder of an insurer, unless coupled with an interest, shall be revocable at will and this provision cannot be waived. The validity of every unrevoked proxy shall cease 11 months after the date of its execution unless some other definite period of validity is expressly provided therein, but in no event shall a proxy, unless coupled with an interest, be voted on after 3 years from the date of its execution.

(2) The revocation of a proxy shall not be effective until notice thereof has been given to the secretary of the insurer.

(3) No person shall buy or sell or barter a vote or proxy, relative to any meeting of stockholders or members of an insurer, or engage in any corrupt or dishonest practice in or relative to the conduct of any such meeting.

History: En. Secs. 435, 436, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4718, 40-4719; amd. Sec. 23, Ch. 396, L. 2017.

33-3-305. Directors — number and election. (1) The affairs of every domestic insurer must be managed by the number of directors fixed in the insurer's bylaws, which may not be less than 5 or more than 21 directors.

(2) Directors must be elected by the members or stockholders of a domestic insurer, except as provided in 33-3-306, at the time and place and for the terms, not exceeding 3 years, as may be provided in the insurer's bylaws. A majority of directors must be elected from the members or stockholders of the domestic insurer.

(3) The term of a director shall extend until a successor has been elected and has qualified.

History: En. Sec. 437, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4720; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 451, L. 1993.

33-3-306. Participation of policyholders in election of directors of stock insurer. The bylaws of a domestic stock life insurer may provide a plan for its policyholders to participate with stockholders in the election of its directors.

History: En. Sec. 438, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4721.

33-3-307. Bonding of officers and employees. (1) When acting in a fiduciary capacity, officers and employees of each mutual insurer or stock insurer shall maintain a fidelity bond issued by an authorized corporate surety in favor of the insurer. The commissioner shall consider the insurer's exposure, total assets, and total income in determining the bond amount. In lieu of individual bonds, officers and employees may be covered under a blanket bond for the same respective amounts. The insurer shall file the blanket bond with the commissioner.

(2) The insurer shall pay the premium for the bond.

(3) A bond is not subject to cancellation except upon written notice to both the insurer and the commissioner, delivered not less than 30 days in advance of the effective date of the cancellation.

(4) This section may not be considered to limit the amount of bonded protection that the insurer may carry as to any officer or employee.

(5) The commissioner may adopt rules to determine the bond amount for officers and employees who are subject to the provisions of this section.

33-3-308. Prohibited pecuniary interest of officials. (1) Any officer or director or any member of any committee or an employee of a domestic insurer who is charged with the duty of investing or handling the insurer's funds may not:

(a) deposit or invest the funds except in the insurer's corporate name;

(b) borrow the funds of the insurer;

(c) be pecuniarily interested in any loan, pledge of deposit, security, investment, sale, purchase, exchange, reinsurance, or other similar transaction or property of the insurer except as a stockholder or member;

(d) take or receive to the individual's own use any fee, brokerage, commission, gift, or other consideration for or on account of any transaction made by or on behalf of the insurer.

(2) An insurer may not guarantee any financial obligation of any of its officers or directors.

(3) This section may not prohibit a director or officer or member of a committee or employee from becoming a policyholder of the insurer and enjoying the usual rights provided for its policyholders.

(4) The commissioner may, by regulations from time to time, define and permit additional exceptions to the prohibition contained in subsection (1) solely to enable payment of reasonable compensation to a director who is not otherwise an officer or employee of the insurer or to a corporation or firm in which a director is interested for necessary services performed or sales or purchases made to or for the insurer in the ordinary course of the insurer's business and in the usual private professional or business capacity of the director or the corporation or firm.

33-3-309. Management and exclusive agency contracts. (1) A domestic insurer may not make any contract under which any person is granted or is to enjoy in fact the management of the insurer to the substantial exclusion of its board of directors or to have the controlling or preemptive right to produce substantially all insurance business for the insurer unless the contract is filed with and approved by the commissioner. The contract must be considered approved unless disapproved by the commissioner within 20 days after date of filing, subject to a reasonable extension of time that the commissioner may require by notice given within 20 days. Any disapproval must be delivered to the insurer in writing, stating the grounds for disapproval.

(2) The commissioner shall disapprove any contract if the commissioner finds that it:

(a) subjects the insurer to excessive charges;

(b) is to extend for an unreasonable length of time;

(c) does not contain fair and adequate standards of performance; or

(d) contains other inequitable provision or provisions that impair the proper interests of stockholders or members of the insurer.

Part 4
Finance

33-3-401. Home office and records — administrative or civil penalty for unlawful removal of records or assets. (1) Each domestic insurer shall maintain its principal place of business and home office in this state and shall maintain at its principal place of business or home office complete records of its assets, transactions, and affairs in accordance with methods and systems customary or suitable to the kind or kinds of insurance that it transacts. Records of the insurer's operations and other financial records reasonably related to its insurance operations for the preceding 5 years must be maintained and be available to the commissioner or the commissioner's examiner.

(2) Each domestic insurer shall maintain its assets in this state, except for:

(a) real property and appurtenant personal property lawfully owned by the insurer and located outside this state; and

(b) property of the insurer that is customary, necessary, and convenient to enable and facilitate the operation of its branch offices and regional home offices located outside this state as referred to in subsection (4).

(3) Removal of all or a material part of the records or assets of a domestic insurer from this state except pursuant to a plan of merger or consolidation approved by the commissioner under this code or for reasonable purposes and periods of time as may be approved by the commissioner in writing in advance is prohibited. Upon any removal or attempted removal of records or assets or upon retention of records or assets or a material part of the records or assets outside this state beyond the period specified in the commissioner's consent under which the records were removed or upon concealment of or attempt to conceal records or assets in violation of this section, the commissioner may institute delinquency proceedings against the insurer pursuant to the provisions of chapter 2, part 13.

(4) This section does not prohibit or prevent an insurer from:

(a) establishing and maintaining branch offices or regional home offices in other states when necessary or convenient to the transaction of its business and keeping there the detailed records and assets customary and necessary for the servicing of its insurance in force and affairs in the territory served by the out-of-state office, as long as the records and assets are made readily available at that office for examination by the commissioner when requested;

(b) having, depositing, or transmitting funds and assets of the insurer in or to jurisdictions outside of this state as reasonably and customarily required in the regular course of its business;

(c) making deposits under custodial arrangements as provided by 33-2-604(2).

(5) An insurer that fails to maintain records and make them available to the commissioner's staff is subject to the penalties and procedures in 33-1-317, 33-1-318, and 33-2-119.

33-3-402. Vouchers for expenditures. (1) No insurer shall make any disbursement of $100 or more unless evidenced by a voucher correctly describing the consideration for the payment and supported by a check or receipt endorsed or signed by or on behalf of the person receiving the money.

(2) If the disbursement is for services and reimbursement, the voucher shall describe the services and expenditures.

(3) If the disbursement is in connection with any matter pending before any legislature or public body or before any public official, the voucher shall also correctly describe the nature of the matter and of the insurer's interest therein.

(4) If a voucher cannot be obtained, the expenditure referred to in subsection (1) above shall be evidenced by an affidavit in which is set forth the character and object of the expenditure and the reasons for not obtaining a voucher therefor.

History: En. Sec. 443, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4726.

33-3-403 through 33-3-410 reserved.

33-3-411. Contingent liability of mutual members. (1) Each member of a domestic mutual insurer shall, except as otherwise provided in this part with respect to nonassessable policies, have a contingent liability, pro rata and not one for another, for the discharge of its obligations. The contingent liability must be expressed in the policy and must be in a maximum amount specified in the insurer's articles of incorporation.

(2) Termination of the policy of any member may not relieve the member of contingent liability for the member's proportion, if any, of the obligations of the insurer that accrued while the policy was in force.

(3) Unrealized contingent liability of members does not constitute an asset of the insurer in any determination of its financial condition.

History: En. Sec. 446, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4729; amd. Sec. 1138, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-3-412. Levy of contingent liability. (1) If at any time the assets of a domestic mutual insurer are less than its liabilities and the minimum amount of surplus required to be maintained by it by this code for authority to transact the kinds of insurance being transacted and the deficiency is not cured from other sources, its directors shall levy an assessment only upon its members who held policies providing for contingent liability at any time within the 12 months preceding the date notice of the assessment was mailed to them, and the members are liable to the insurer for the amount assessed.

(2) The assessment must be for an amount that is required to cure the deficiency and to provide a reasonable amount of working funds in excess of the minimum amount of surplus, but the working funds provided may not exceed 5% of the insurer's liabilities as of the date that the amount of the deficiency was determined.

(3) In levying an assessment upon a policy providing for contingent liability, the assessment must be computed on the basis of the premiums earned on the policy during the period to which the assessment relates.

(4) A member may not have an offset against any assessment for which the member is liable on account of any claim for unearned premium or loss payable.

(5) As to life insurance, any part of an assessment upon a member that remains unpaid following notice of assessment, demand for payment, and lapse of a reasonable waiting period as specified in the notice may, if approved by the commissioner as being in the best interests of the insurer and its members, be secured by placing a lien upon the cash surrender values and accumulated dividends held by the insurer to the credit of the member.

History: En. Sec. 447, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4730; amd. Sec. 1139, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-3-413. Enforcement of contingent liability. (1) Any assessment made by an insurer under 33-3-412 or 33-3-433 shall be deemed to be prima facie correct. The amount of such assessment to be paid by each member as determined by the insurer shall be deemed to be likewise prima facie correct.

(2) The insurer shall notify each member of the amount of the assessment to be paid by written notice mailed to the address of the member last of record with the insurer. Failure of the member to receive the notice so mailed, within the time specified therein for the payment of the assessment or at all, shall be no defense in any action to collect the assessment.

(3) If a member fails to pay the assessment within the period specified in the notice, which period shall not be less than 20 days after mailing, the insurer may institute suit to collect the same.

History: En. Sec. 448, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4731.

33-3-414. Nonassessable policies of mutual insurers. (1) While possessing surplus funds in amount not less than the paid-in capital stock required of a domestic stock insurer transacting like kinds of insurance, a domestic mutual insurer may, upon receipt of the commissioner's order so authorizing, extinguish the contingent liability of its members as to all its policies in force and may omit provisions imposing contingent liability in all its policies currently issued.

(2) A foreign or alien mutual insurer may issue nonassessable policies to its members in this state pursuant to its articles of incorporation and the laws of its domicile.

(3) No policy of a domestic mutual insurer which, pursuant to the commissioner's order, is without contingent liability and thereby nonassessable by its terms shall be subject to assessment for any debt or liability of the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 449, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4732.

33-3-415. Insufficient reserves — nonassessable policies prohibited — revocation of authority. The commissioner shall revoke the authority of a domestic mutual insurer to issue policies without contingent liability if at any time the insurer's assets are less than the sum of its liabilities and the surplus required for such authority or if the insurer, by resolution of its board of directors approved by a majority of its members, requests that the authority be revoked. During the absence of such authority the insurer shall not issue any policy without providing therein for the contingent liability of the policyholder or renew any policy which is renewable at the option of the insurer without endorsing the same to provide for such contingent liability.

33-3-416 through 33-3-420 reserved.

33-3-421. Participating policies. (1) If provided in its articles of incorporation, a domestic stock or domestic mutual insurer may issue any or all of its policies with or without participation in profits, savings, or unabsorbed portions of premiums, may classify policies issued on a participating and nonparticipating basis, and may determine the right to participate and the extent of participation of any class or classes of policies. Any such classification or determination shall be reasonable and shall not unfairly discriminate as between policyholders within the same such classifications. A life insurer may issue both participating and nonparticipating policies only if the right or absence of right to participate is reasonably related to the premium charged. Any such domestic insurer which prior to January 1, 1961, has been issuing all or part of its policies on a participating basis without specific authorization in its articles of incorporation may continue to issue such policies on a basis not inconsistent with this section.

(2) After the third policy year no dividend otherwise earned shall be made contingent upon the payment of renewal premium on any policy.

History: En. Sec. 451, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4734.

33-3-422. Dividends to stockholders. (1) A domestic stock insurer shall not pay any cash dividend to stockholders except out of that part of its available surplus funds which is derived from realized net profits on its business.

(2) A stock dividend may be paid out of any available surplus funds in excess of the aggregate amount of surplus loaned to the insurer under 33-3-431.

(3) A dividend otherwise proper may be payable out of the insurer's earned surplus even though its total surplus is then less than the aggregate of its past contributed surplus resulting from issuance of its capital stock at a price in excess of the par value thereof.

History: En. Sec. 452, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4735.

33-3-423. Dividends to mutual policyholders. (1) The directors of a domestic mutual insurer may from time to time apportion and pay or credit to its members dividends only out of that part of its surplus funds which represents net realized savings and net realized earnings in excess of the surplus required by law to be maintained.

(2) A dividend otherwise proper may be payable out of such savings and earnings even though the insurer's total surplus is then less than the aggregate of its contributed surplus.

History: En. Sec. 453, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4736.

33-3-424. Illegal dividends — administrative or civil penalty. (1) Any director of a domestic stock or mutual insurer who votes for or concurs in declaration or payment of a dividend to stockholders or members other than as authorized under 33-3-422 or 33-3-423 shall be jointly and severally liable, together with other such directors likewise voting for or concurring, for any loss thereby sustained by the insurer.

(2) Any stockholder receiving such an illegal dividend shall be liable in the amount thereof to the insurer.

(3) The commissioner may revoke or suspend the certificate of authority of an insurer which has declared or paid such an illegal dividend.

History: En. Sec. 454, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4737; amd. Sec. 25, Ch. 396, L. 2017.

33-3-431. Borrowed surplus. (1) A domestic stock or mutual insurer may borrow money to defray the expenses of the insurer's organization, to provide the insurer with surplus funds, or for any purpose of the insurer's business upon a written agreement that the money is required to be repaid only out of the insurer's surplus in excess of that stipulated in the agreement. The agreement may provide for interest at a rate not to exceed the greater of the rate established in 25-9-205 or a rate that is 6 percentage points per year higher than the prime rate published by the federal reserve system in its statistical release H.15 Selected Interest Rates for bank prime loans dated 3 business days prior to the execution of the agreement. The agreement must specify whether the interest constitutes a liability of the insurer. A commission or promotion expense may not be paid in connection with a loan of the type described in this section.

(2) Money borrowed, together with the interest if stipulated in the agreement, does not form a part of the insurer's legal liabilities except as to the insurer's surplus in excess of the amount stipulated in the agreement or the basis of any setoff. However, until the money or interest, or both, are repaid, financial statements filed or published by the insurer must show as a footnote the amount then unpaid together with any interest accrued but unpaid.
